

I am receptive to all the wealth life offers me

I am receptive to all the wealth life offers me.

I am comfortable with the highest levels of financial wealth. I am comfortable with the idea of being the wealthiest person in the world.

The idea of great wealth feels wonderful to me. I am free of stress, anxiety, and apprehension when I imagine myself being rich. I know that financial wealth provides freedom.

I am receptive to all the opportunities in my life to generate income and wealth. My eyes are open to financial possibilities. I am able to act quickly, intelligently, and boldly when a great opportunity arises.

Wealth extends beyond money and finances. I enjoy wealth in my relationships. I am open to new ways of enhancing my current relationships.

Meeting my new best friend could happen at any moment, so I welcome new opportunities to bring new people into my life.

My health is a form of wealth too. I take advantage of medical experts and advances. I utilize healthy foods and exercise as ways of enhancing my health.

Today, I am open to all the wealth the world has to offer. I deserve to be wealthy. I am grateful for the opportunities for new riches that exist in my life.

Self-Reflection Questions:

1. What are the biggest opportunities in my life that I am failing to take full advantage of?
2. What areas of my life do I want to enhance? What parts of my life are making me unhappy or unsatisfied? What can I do to enhance these areas?
3. Am I comfortable with the idea of being successful? If not, why?