

I am worthy of wealth

I am worthy of wealth.

I deserve to have wealth and power. I use my wealth for the greater good and appreciate it. I am worthy of abundance. I am able to handle money and manage it well.

My mind avoids focusing on fear and scarcity. Instead, I focus on wealth.

I attract wealth with ease. I am a money magnet that draws wealth. It stays in my hands without being wasted.

Money is one aspect of my wealth.

I also have an abundance of love, joy, family, friendships, and health. I have many things to be grateful for today.

I climb out of scarcity into abundance.

I am worthy of financial security and peace of mind. I am worthy of a safety net for my family. I deserve to have the money to pay all my bills.

I let go of the self-limiting beliefs that hold wealth out of my reach. I get rid of the negative thoughts that prevent abundance from being a part of my existence. I push away negative mindsets about scarcity.

I am aware of how my actions and thoughts shape my wealth and financial foundation.

Today, I know I deserve wealth. I know I deserve abundance in my life. I am grateful to have these things in my world. I attract more wealth and abundance with each step I take.
