

Money flows freely and abundantly into my life

Money flows freely and abundantly into my life.

I am blessed with abundant financial resources. I am able to acquire everything I need in order to be happy and successful. I am provided with all the money I need.

I am a wealth magnet. I readily recognize opportunities to increase my net worth. I act on those opportunities intelligently and enthusiastically. I understand that taking action increases the amount of luck I experience in life. Though I am lucky, I experience greater financial abundance when I take action.

I am able to pay my bills on time. I consistently provide for my family. I avoid financial struggle and act responsibly.

Saving money is a strong habit for me. I avoid excessive spending and save a significant amount of money each month. Saving money is enjoyable because I know I am creating security for the future. My savings habit grows stronger each day. I avoid the temptation to spend money frivolously.

Whenever I require money, it seems to fall into my lap. I regularly experience financial abundance on every level. The universe provides whatever I need. I am open to receiving financial gifts from any source. I allow financial abundance to permeate my life.

Today, I am open to the prospect of more money entering my life. I appreciate the money I have and use it wisely. I choose to save more money this month than I did last month. Money flows freely and abundantly into my life.

Self-Reflection Questions:

1. How would my life be altered if I experienced significant financial abundance?
2. What are my greatest obstacles to creating more wealth?
3. How can I overcome those obstacles? How is my current mindset strengthening those obstacles?