THE NEXT FORTY YEARS

J. C. Bailey

As most readers of the Gospel Herald know, I have recently brought out a book entitled Forty Years A Canadian Preacher. Already we are nearing the half way mark in sales of this book. Brother Merritt has suggested that I write for this issue of the Gospel Herald under the above caption.

The future belongs to God. However, business men plan for the future, and prepare for expansion, or for adversity. Mistakes in the past help them to prepare for the future. Surely as members of the church we should be as wise. What should the future be?

In the main I think the future is one for optimism. If the pace of the last ten years can be maintained, and accelerated, then, if the Lord tarries, those who are entering into service today should see wonderful changes. One thing we must never forget. We must neyer overlook the opportunity of the mission meeting in small places. These are the feeders for the large city congregations. We shall soon be having city churches with two hundred members IF we continue to watch the opportunities in the country. If we say these country churches never grow, we shall concentrate our efforts in the large towns and cities, then we shall slow the work down a great deal.

Paul wrote an epistle to the church of the Thessalonians. We need to learn that we are not establishing missions of the church in the United States, or of the church in England, but we are establishing the church in Canada. Churches grow. Missions never do. We want to be in full fellowship with those that love the Lord any place in the world. Canada has come to nationhood. The church in Canada needs to come to maturity. We have something to offer to the church at large, as well as something to receive. Where would you find churches in fellowship with one another as they are in Canada? Could we borrow the confidence and the determination of the pioneers of Tennessee, or Texas, of the generation that has passed.

Churches are learning to give. Support is available where it was not available in the past. Now are we in danger of profession-

WHITE UNTO HARVEST

Roy A. Davison, Sarnia, Ontario

Harvest time is a joyful time. We rejoice when we see trees in the orchards hanging full with fruit, or when we see golden grain standing in the fields.

But this great joy of harvest times becomes sadness when we see that same grain shelling out in the field, or that same fruit rotting on the trees in the orchard. How pitiful when an abundant harvest is wasted!

So it is with the harvest of souls.

Two thousand years ago, Christ rejoiced to see a plentiful harvest; yet, He grieved that the laborers were few.

Standing by a well in Samaria as a crowd came to him, Jesus said, "Say not ye, 'there are yet four months and then cometh the harvest?' Behold, I say unto you. lift up your eyes, and look on the fields that they are white already unto harvest."

And another time. moved with compassion because the people were as scattered sheep without a shepherd. He said, "The harvest indeed is plenteous, but the laborers are few. Pray ye therefore the Lord of harvest. that he send forth laborers into his harvest.

And two thousand years ago, that prayer was answered. Within fifty years reapers had gone forth into all the world with the Gospel of Christ.

Today. in the harvest of souls. is it not much the same? Seeing mill-

A CHRISTIAN BY NURTURE: NOT BY NATURE

Jerry L. Davidson,
Lachine, Quebec

Two words that are similar in spelling and in sound are nurture and nature, but they are far from being synonyms. At the same time, men have tried to replace nurture with nature in regard to spiritual development. In doing so this becomes a matter of God's will being contradicted by the will of man. There is a timely lesson to be learned, seeing the difference between these words as to how they relate to religion.

Nurture

The apostle Paul gives the kindly admonition to fathers to " . . . provoke not your children to wrath: but nurture them in the chastening and admonition of the Lord" (Eph. 6:4). According to Webster the word nurture means, " to educate; to bring up or train." Thayer in giving the meaning of the Greek word from which the English word nurture is translated, goes a bit deeper by saying it is "the whole training and education of children (which relates to the cultivation of mind and morals, and employs for this purpose now commands and admonitions, now reproof and punishment)." He also shows that it is whatever in adults that "cultivates the soul, especially by correcting mistakes and curbing passions; hence instruction which aims at the increase of virtue: 2 Tim. 3:16" (Thayer's Greek Lexicon). This contradicts the teaching that children should be allowed to do just anything that is within the realm of natural instinct; rather, they are to be trained in Christian morals and doctrine. They are to be corrected when they do wrong. It also opposes the idea that ones religion is simply a matter of natural course. Sound spiritual development comes as a the result of teaching and proper understanding.

The type of education that the Bible upholds begins early in the home and most certainly continues in the teaching programme of the church, as well as in the years of higher education. According to statistics, the Sunday Bible School is one of the greatest contributions to a peaceful and well balanced society. (See Ecc. 12:1) A child's mind should never be underestimated, but at the earliest possible age he should be given the advantage of Bible School. Also, this writer firmly believes that the Christian College is equipped to serve as a tool in helping to "nurture" our young people in the way of the Lord.

One becomes a Christian only after he is instructed or taught from the Word of God; not because of any natural forces within him. This point is made because "naturalism" is becoming a popular trend in the denominational pulpit. The Unitarians put it this way:

"The religious man is he who, through the stimulation and help of a group and a tradition, arrives at a belief as to the nature of God and who, on the basis of this belief, adopts a definite discipline which will insure growth" (Unitarians Face a New Age, P. 202).

As opposed to mere human experience the Bible says, " . . . they shall all be TAUGHT OF GOD" (Jno. 6:45). The apostle Paul asked, " . . . do I now persuade men, or God? or do I seek to please men? for if I yet pleased men, I should not be the servant of Christ" (Gal. 1:10). Truly, " . . . the foolishness of God is wiser than men; and the weakness of God is stronger than men" (I Cor. 1:25). To please God, His word must be taught as revealed in the Scriptures. (See Tim. 3:-16, 17). Therefore, a person is able to become a Christian by nurture and not by nature.

Nurture vs. Naturalism

Naturalism is a concept that allows most anything in regard to morals and religion; a concept detrimental to society and the souls of men. Webster says it is, "(1) Action, inclination, or thoughts based on instincts alone; (2) The denial of the miraculous and supernatural in religion, and the rejection of revelation as a means of attaining truth." The evolutionists are quick to uphold this doctrine. Professor Wm. E. Ritter of the University of California declares:

"Any future evolutionary progress of mankind in philosophy, morality, or religion, is possible only on the basis of a knowledge of, and confidence in, the natural that will not have room for one jot or title of belief in the supernatural" (Evoltionism, G. C. Brewer, p. 13).

Think of what this teaching would do to our society if it were really believed! There would be no standard or norm either in morality or religion. There would be no positive approach in teaching our children to follow the right course in life. Delinquency would overrun the land. The world would be in utter chaos. In dealing with problems a man would be expected to exercise his natural instincts, rather than to apply Bible principles that appeal to the proper understanding and good judgement of a man. Which would you rather have as your next door neighbour, the man that has been raised by "nature" or the one who has been "nurtured" in the admonition of the Lord?"

After reading the false theories of men it is refreshing to pick up the Bible which is a "lamp unto our feet, and a light unto our pathway." This book, which has withstood the test of time and the criticisms of men, shows man's need for God as his Saviour and the inability of man to save himself. The prophet Jeremiah wrote: "Oh, Lord, I know that the way of man is not in himself: it is not in man that walketh to direct his steps" (Jer. 10:23). Jesus said. "I am the way, the truth, and the life: no one cometh unto the Father, but by me" Jno. 14:6).

Vacation Bible School time will soon be upon us. Send for descriptive literature and samples to the Gospel Herald, Box 94, Beamsville.

DAILY LIVING WITH CHRIST

W. F. Cox,
Stoney Creek, Ontario

"Behold, I stand at the door, and knock: if any man hear my voice, and open the door, I will come in to him, and will sup with him, and he with me" (Rev. 3:20).

Christian parents should provide for their children a daily period of Bible study. We are all conscious of the fact that we are living in a skeptical age of the world. I advise that young people, as well as older ones, should become grounded in the truth. Christians need association with Christ. This is impossible without constant and prayerful Bible study. "Study to show thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth" (2 Tim. 2:15).

It is a fact that the rising generation are lacking in the knowledge of God's message to the peoples of the world. The basic cause of this ignorance is busy fathers and mothers. They have become so busy securing dollars that many have lost their boys and girls. Satan is always anxious and waiting to take the advantage of this neglect of parents. The Bible says, "And, ye fathers, provoke not your children to wrath; but bring them up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord. (Eph. 6:4).

Why is this daily living with Christ so important? Because, in the first place, of the human make-up. Man was made in the image of God, giving him dominion over the lower creation. Unfortunately, sin was committed in Eden, marring that divine image. God wisely established Christianity to restore man's original purity. Secondly, we need the divine touch - "According as His divine power hath given unto us all things that pertain unto life and godliness,. through the knowledge of Him that hath called us to glory and virtue: Whereby are given unto us exceeding great and precious promises: that by these ye might be partakers of the divine nature, having escaped the corruption that is in the world through lust" (2 Peter 1:3, 4). Thirdly, the soul requires communion with the Divine. "I am crucified with Christ: nevertheless I live; yet not I, but Christ liveth in me: and the life which I now live in the flesh I live by the faith of the Son of God, who loved me and gave Hemself for me" (Gal. 2:20; Phil. 1:21).

Today great problems are facing the church of our Lord. One of these is indifference to the Bible study upon the part of the members. Are we all conscious of the fact that the Bible is God's Book and is a textbook of life? Not only is it a textbook of life here on earth, but it is absolutely essential to building a character worthy of heaven after this life is ended, "As newborn babes, desire the sincere milk of the word, that ye may grow thereby" (1 Pet. 2:2). The essentials of daily living with Christ are a constant and prayerful study of the Bible; learning and practicing the things therein revealed. Let us consider a warning from the apostle James, "But whoso looketh into the perfect law of liberty, and continueth therein, he being not a forgetful hearer, but a doer of the work, this man shall be blessed in his deed" (Jas. 1:25).

It is my pleasure to call your attention to the testimony of a few brainy and talented statesman:

Abraham Lincoln: "I am profitably engaged in reading the Bible. Take all of this book upon reason that ye can and the balance by faith and you will live and die a better man."

John Quincy Adams: "The first and almost the only book deserving of universal distinction is the Bible. I speak as a man of the world to the men of the world and I say unto you, 'Search the Scriptures'."

Theodore Roosevelt: "Almost every man who has by his life work added to the sum of human achievement of which the race is proud, almost exery such man has based his life largely upon the teachings of the Bible."

Wocdrow Wilson: "A man has deprived himself of the best the e is in the world who has deprived himself of a knowledge of the Bible."

Now back to the Bible again, "These were more noble than those in Thessalonica, in that they received the word with all readiness of mind, and searched the scriptures daily, whether those things were so" (Acts 17:11).

The success of every Christian is based upon daily living with Christ. At the end of his ea thly journey, Paul could sav. "I have fought a good fight. I have finished my course, I have kept the faith; henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous judge, shall give me at that day; and not to me only, but onto all them also that love His appearing" (2 Tim. 4:7, 8).

THE NEW ENGLISH BIBLE

Last year a new translation of the New Testament came off the press. It was ushered in with good press releases and had excellent sales during the first few months of its existence. Some have asked for an appraisal of this New Testament section of the NBE. It is the logical successor to the King James Version in the hands and hearts of Bible-reading people or is it just another in a long list of modern speech translations?

It should be noted, first of all, that this translation was prepared with the private reader in mind rather than the reader in public worship. Its purpose is to appeal especially to that class of persons who are not attracted to the reading of the Bible because of the archaic language in which it is usually presented.

Modern speech versions in general seek to speak to the average man in language which he finds fresh and stimulating. Sometimes this gives to words or phrases a richness of expression never before experienced. At other times, the informed reader winces at discovering that the translator(s) is acting like a commentator by choosing words arbitrarily or interpolating extra words to convey his own theological presuppositions. What is gained by the freshness of the language is often lost by the arbitrary choice of doubtful meanings in certain difficult passages.

The statement of purpose in the introduction is a commendable one. It reads as follows: "This translation of the New Testament . . . was undertaken with the object of providing English readers, whether familiar with the Bible or not, with a faithful rendering of the best available Greek text into the current speech of our own time, and a rendering which should harvest the gains of recent biblical scholarship." To the degree to which this is achieved the NBE will prove to be an asset to New Testament study.

There is, however, always a question concerning the necessity of a host of modern language testaments. F. F. Bruce in his book, The English Bible, p. 200, goes to the heart of the matter with two questions. He asks: "Is the proper inference (from the inability of normally intelligent persons to understand this or that version of Scripture) that a more idiomatic (common speech R.D.M.) translation would be more intelligible and remove difficulties? Or may the trouble not lie in a certain inability to understand some of the things the Bible deals with, no matter how up-to-date the idiom may be in which they are expressed?"

It would have thrilled this editor and many lovers of Bible truth, if the translators could have shown more courage in certain areas where scholars are in substantial agreement and less boldness where their choice of meanings is doubtful to say the least. Any novice in linguistics can soon learn from a study of lexicons that baptism in N.T. times meant immersion. Historians and commentators of major religious bodies are almost of one voice in their agreement on immersion as the original practice of Christians in the first centuries. Why must modern speech versions continue to transliterate the Greek word, rather than to translate its obvious meaning? The NBE in this does not "harvest the gains of recent biblical scholarship", but perpetuates an error for the sake of theological sanction.

One of the most glaring examples of an unhappy rendering is found in Matthew 16:18. It would be interesting to know why the translators inserted the term "the Rock" after Peter's name, when neither the noun nor the definite article are in the Greek. Furthermore, on what basis did they find authority for capitalizing the word Rock? This passage has been a battle ground for centuries in discussion between Roman and Protestant commentators. It is doubtful if this translation is a true rendering of the Greek text. To read into the verse possible Aramic backgrounds is outside their scope as translators.

In a like manner, they have failed to do justice to the perfect passive

Ideas for Mission Emphasis

4. Missionary Bulletin Boards. In a conspicuous place in the church building have a bulletin board especially devoted to missionary emphasis. It would seem to me that a colourful map of the world should find its place on this. Pictures of workers supported by the church with ribbons leading to map tacks locating their location of labour will be needed, new pictures, and statistics of progress can be used to inform the church of activities being carried on.

I believe a missionary bulletin board should be used to inform of interesting progress in world mission fields not especially supported by the local church. One country might be featured at a time.

This will educate and enlarge the church's vision. Missionary reports and pictures from religious periodicals, colourful pictures of life in other countries, miniature flags and other items can be collected and used to make attractive missionary displays. Along with these can be table displays of items from foreign countries to create interest. A file of materials could be kept for this (See request below).

All these materials should be arranged attractively and with colour where possible. The most interesting portions of letters and reports should be underlined in colour. Colourful eye-catching captions should draw attention to the various items. Change the material on the bulletin board frequently. Someone should be in charge of this. Here is something for the young people to do under interested and helpful supervision. This could cause some of our talented young people to decide to become missionaries.

5. Church Bulletins. Brief reports on the activities of men and women the church supports as well as work in other areas should appear in the church bulletin.

6. Write to Missionaries. Encourage Christians to write to workers away from home. This will encourage the worker and it will also increase your interest, enthusiasm, support, and prayer for the spread of the gospel.

7. A Missionary Barrel. There is a constant need for good used clothing of all types and sizes on the mission fields of Asia, Central and South America and Africa as well as closer to home. Food might also be needed. Place a barrel or large box some place in the church building for the deposit of such items. Have it properly labelled. Inform the members of specific needs and of what has been done. Here is something for the ladies to do. Children of the Bible School can be told. They will bring clothes and become interested in spreading the message of Christ. If you do not know of any need, write to the author or some missionaries.

8. Support A Missionary. Actually supporting a worker in some foreign field and keeping the church properly informed as to progress and needs will do much to interest and educate Christian people in mission work. You might feel that you are not large enough to support someone. If this is really so, you can partially support a missionary.

It might be easier than you think to support a worker on foreign soil. To support a native worker in Nigeria requires only about $25.00 a month. The same would likely be true in other fields. This would take only one dollar a month from each member of a congregation of twenty-five. It would only be twenty-five cents a month from each member of a congregation of one hundred. At one dollar a month, the latter could support four full-time native preachers. These men are going out into the villages to establish the cause of Christ. Most of us waste more than this on pop, candy, gum and entertainment. Let us support workers in Canada and also abroad. It will do us much good and spread the gospel.

9. Films and Recordings. One method of keeping in contact with missionaries is through movies and slides picturing buildings, new converts, needs and various activities accompanied with a tape recorded narrative by the missionary. This isn't quite as good as a message delivered in person, but it is the next thing to it and can do much to stimulate a church to respond to the great need.

We understand that Fred Casmir of George Pepperdine College has spear-headed a project to produce movie film on present day missionary activities in various parts of the world. This is available for use for the asking or a very nominal charge.

10. Prayer. What do we pray about when we meet for prayer meeting and worship? Paul prayed for his fellow workers. If the church is informed concerning the activities and needs of missionaries throughout the world those who lead in prayer will pray for them. In private and home devotions we need to pray for these self-sacrificing men and woman on the field.

Christ said, "The harvest truly is plenteous, but the labourers are few; pray ye therefore the Lord of the Harvest, that he will send forth labourers into the harvest" (Matt. 9: 37-38). May we educate the church concerning the harvest field of the Lord - the world. May we pray for the labourers. May we send labourers forth. May we go.

(Request: The author is preparing a file of materials to be used on bulletin board displays of missionany work. It is hoped that these might be used by Omagh Bible School, and churches to create enthusiasm for missionary work. Please do not throw away your Christian Chronicle, Firm Foundation, and other pamphlets and periodicals containing missionary pictures and information. Send them to H. R. Perry, 53 Tewksbury Crescent, London, Ontario, or use them yourself. Old isues would also be appreciated. We need more than one of each issue. Any information desired about any of the ideas in this article will gladly be sent to you.

CONCERNING BLOOD TRANSFUSIONS

by Elmer Whitehead
Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario

The administering of blood transfusions as a medical treatment has become a widely-discussed subject among some religious bodies. While transfusions are common, the objection to them is becoming more common. What is the reason for the objection, and what and where can the answer be found?

Since those who insist that such transfusions are sinful claim to base their objections on the scriptures, then we must go to the scriptures for the answer.

First, let us analyze the word itself and then consider two things which God said concerning the use of blood. The prefix "trans" means simply "across"; "fusion" refers to the uniting or blending together of two like objects. Hence the word "transfusion", when used in reference to the medical treatment involving blood, means simply the removal of blood from the veins of one person and fusing or blending it with the blood in the veins of another. It is a scientific fact that many human lives have been saved by means of this treatment.

It is true that several times God warned His people against eating blood. The transfusing of blood differs considerably from the consumption of it, such as some were possibly guilty of when God talked to them about it. God placed restrictions upon what man could rightfully eat when He said to Noah: "Every moving thing that liveth shall be food for you; as the green herb have I given you all. But flesh with the life thereof, which is the blood thereof, shall ye not eat" (Genesis 9:3-4). God made the restrictions plain and reasonable: Every moving thing that moved would be food for man, but not until the meat, or flesh, and the blood, or life, were separated. The blood had to be taken from the flesh before it could be eaten for food.

In talking to Moses concerning the laws which would govern the children of Israel, God spoke again concerning the purpose of blood and why it was not to be eaten, but rather to be separated from the flesh before the flesh could be used for food: "And whatsoever man there be of the house of Israel or of the strangers that sojourn among them, that eateth any manner of blood, I will set my face against that soul that eateth blood, and will cut him off from his people. For the life of the flesh is in the blood; and I have given it to you upon the altar to make atonement for your souls: for it is the blood that maketh atonement by reason of the life. Therefore I said unto the children of Israel, No soul of you shall eat blood, neither shall any stranger that sojourneth among you eat blood. And whatsoever man there be of the children of Israel, or of the strangers that sojourn among them, who taketh in hunting any beast or bird that may be eaten; he shall pour out the blood thereof, and cover it with dust.

"For as to the life of all flesh, the blood thereof is all one with the life thereof: therefore I said unto the children of Israel, Ye shall eat the blood of no manner of flesh; for the life of all flesh is the blood thereof: whosoever eateth it shall be cut off" (Lev. 17:10-14).

There are other scriptures concerning the eating of meat. Flesh was to be offered upon the altar as a burnt offering, along with the blood of the sacrifice, but the two were to be separated: the flesh to be eaten but the blood poured upon the altar (Deut. 12:27). Here we easily can see the different purposes of flesh, or meat, and blood.

The New Testament says little about the forbidding of blood except as a law to the newly-converted Gentiles (Acts 15:19-20; 28-29). The Gentiles who previously had not been under the law could have indulged in the practice. Various historians and commentators tell us that they did. The elders of the church in Jerusalem wrote to Gentile brethren in Antioch that there were "necessary things" from which they were to abstain, and among the four restrictions, as laid down in verse 29, was the eating of blood.

After consideration of these things, we note in the "Watchtower" publication, page 251, April 15, 1961, these words: "Inasmuch as the prohibition covered the drinking of animal blood, even more so did it outlaw practices such as rushing into the Roman arena to suck out the blood of vanquished gladiators, as was done in those days. And since the prohibition is of equal force in the lives of Christians today, not only does it involve such practices as drinking the blood of freshly slaughtered animals and eating blood puddings and blood sausages, but it also makes it unlawful to appropriate the lifeblood of another human to sustain one's own life."

Dear reader, we ask: do you see any possible connection between the transfusing of blood as a medical treatment with the scriptures here mentioned? Or do the scriptures here mentioned give any intimation as to its being "unlawful to appropriate the lifeblood of another human to sustain one's own life"?

The process of eating, physiologists tells us, involves the taking of the subject eaten into the alimentary system, and the digestion of the food in the parts of the body designed for that purpose. The useful parts of the food are then assimilated into the body; the other parts discharged as waste.

Does the administering of blood transfusions in any way involve the digestive process, and does it in any way minimize or change God's purpose for the use of blood?

WHITE UNTO HARVEST

ions scattered as sheep without a shepherd, the body of Christ can say, "The harvest indeed is plenteous, but the laborers are few."

White Fields Throughout the World

A man living on an island in the South Pacific read a magazine article about the church. He wrote to say that he was interested in learning more about the church of Christ, and asked if a preacher could be sent to him.

Would you have enjoyed answering that letter when it would be necessary for you to say, "I am sorry but there is no preacher on your island or on any island near you. But I will try to find someone to visit you." Then how much more would you have enjoyed answering again, after looking for someone to go for several months, and it being necessary for you to say, "I am terribly sorry, but I have not yet been able to find anyone to come to you."

You would not enjoy having to answer in this way. Neither did the brother who actually had to write such letters enjoy it. The harvest is plenteous but the laborers are few.

There are about 135 countries in the world today. This is not an overwhelming number. Yet, as far as is known, the pure gospel of Christ is being preached in less than half of these countries.

And countries are more than little red, brown and green patches on a map. Countries contain people - hundreds, thousands, and millions of people. And each of these has a soul worth more than all the world. The harvest indeed is plenteous, but the laborers are few.

White Fields in Canada

Did you know that you could be in a Canadian city of almost 100,000 people; be unable to find a church in that city; and then have to drive 400 miles to the nearest congregation in Canada? This would be true if you were in Port Arthur-Fort William: twin cities on Lake Superior. (Fortunately, a group from A.C.C. is planning to go in the spring of 1964 to begin work in these cities' Let us pray the Lord of harvest that more such workers be sent into other fields in Canada).

Throughout Canada the workers are few.

The 170,000 people of Quebec City need to hear the gospel. And where are the workers for Verdun, Qubeec, with its 80,000 people? Two other cities have more than 50,000 people, but no workers.

Even Ontario has, in addition to the Lakehead, two cities (Kitchener and Oshawa) with more than 50,000 people, but no workers.

There are several cities in the Maritimes. In the west we find the Okanagan Valley in B.C. and the Peace River District in Alberta without workers. The harvest is plenteous, but the labourers are few.

White Fields in the States

Workers are urgently needed in New York State. It has a population about the same as Canada, with just as few workers.

And even in Nashville, Tennessee with its 100 congregations, and in Abilene, Texas with it's 7,000 Christians, there is found a shortage of people who are really willing to tell others the good news of Christ. Thus, we see that no place or country has a monopoly on white fields or scarcity of workers. The harvest is plentiful, but the laborers are few.

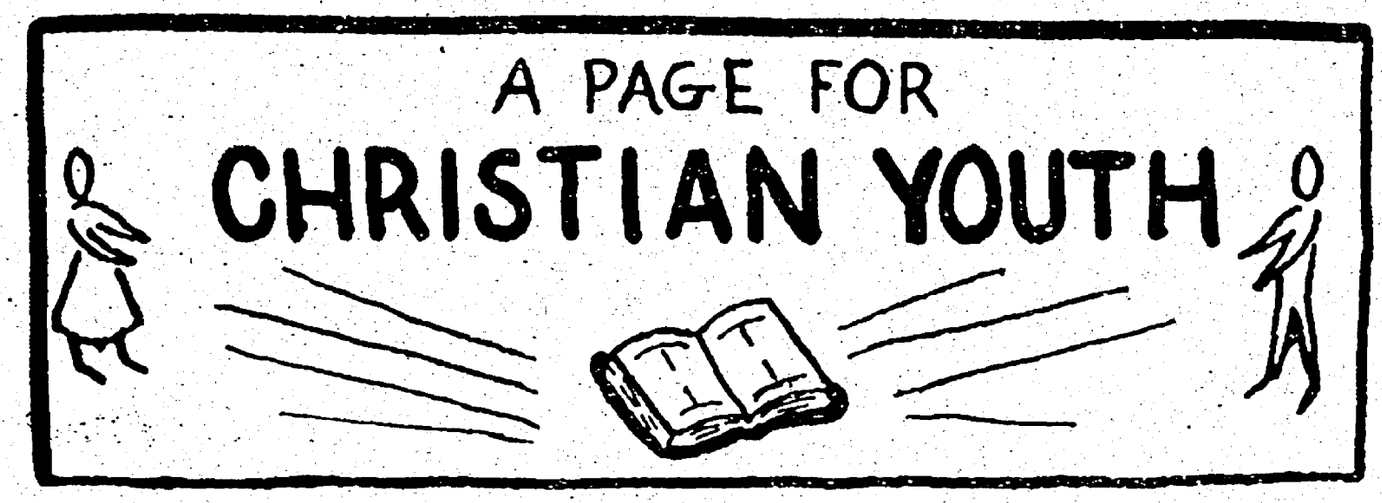
What Is Our Responsibility

We in Canada, of course, must get busy and evangelize Canada.

But some would tell us that, because we lack workers, we have no responsibility beyond our borders. If this be true, then neither do our U.S. brethren have any responsibility in Canada; for within their borders is New York State with just as great a need for workers as Canada. But we know that there are no national borders in the church. All Chrisians share collectively the responsibility to preach the gospel to all the world. Thus, we in Canada must bear our share of that responsibility.

How Much Are We Doing Now?

Did you know that Canadian churches have more workers overseas than U.S. churches? This is true on a per capita basis. Presently, nine Canadians are overseas (not counting the Bells on furlough from Rhodesia). This is one worker overseas for every 350 Christians in Canada. If this same ratio were true of the 1½ million Christians in the States, they would have 4,285 workers overseas. Therefore, let no one say that we are doing nothing! But neither let us be satisfied with what we have.



What More Can We Do?

We can more diligently build the church in Canada that more workers may sooner be sent to other fields.

We can have vision for the future, increasing, as time goes on, the number of Canadian workers in other lands. Then it will not happen here, as has happened before, that we should have a million Christians in Canada, but only 400 workers overseas.

But most of all, we can lift up our eyes and look on the fields white unto harvest, better learn the world's need for the gospel, and then fervently pray the Lord of harvest that reapers be sent into His harvest.

WHY STUDY THE BIBLE?

Sometimes it seems that all we do is study. By far the greater part of the year is spent in school, and school means study. We all must agree with Solomon, who said, "much study is a weariness of the flesh." (Ecc. 12:12). There is, therefore, a limit to the amount of studying a person can do. It always seems a shame, however, that we often become so wrapped up in our studies and activities at school that no time is left for the study of God's Word. For this reason, we would like to discuss the question, "Why study the Bible?"

As a rule, people today are all too little aware of the sacrifices that had to be made by men and women of the past, to make it possible for you and I to possess a Bible. Did you know that for centuries all of the Bibles in the world were copied by hand? Did you know that many men and women were tortured and put to death because they refused to surrender their copy of the Bible to those who wanted to destroy it? Were you aware that there were men, such as Tyndale, who were burned at the stake for translating the Bible into a language that the people could read? Only our Father in heaven knows how many people willingly gave up their lives to help preserve the Word of God down through the ages.

The fact that many died to make it possible for you and I to have our own copies of the Bible is by no means the only reason we should want to study it. Suppose you had a personal letter from Winston Churchill, would you read it? Many of you are hockey fans. Just suppose that Rocket Richard or Gordie Howe sent you a personal letter telling their sure fire secrets of hockey success, would you study and follow it? The answer is obvious. Have you ever stopped to think that the Bible is God's letter to you and me? Think of it, a letter from Almightly God, and sadly enough we are usually so busy that we just can't seem to find time to read it. Let us all make an effort to read the letter that God has written to us.

In order to be approved of God, we must know the will of God. Paul told the young man Timothy, "Study to show thyself approved unto God . . ." (II Tim. 2:15). Paul also told Timothy that the holy scriptures are "able to make thee wise unto salvation" (II Tim. 3:15), and exhorted him to "Take heed unto thyself, and unto the doctrine; continue in them: for in doing this thou shalt both save thyself, and them that hear thee." (I Tim. 4:16). David said, "Thy word is a lamp unto my feet, and a light unto my path" (Psa. 109:105). The Bible, then, is our guide to lead us from the darkness of this world to the eternal glory of the world which is to come.

We certainly do not want to discourage anyone from studying their school lessons, on the contrary; what we do want to do however, is to encourage all of us to have more respect for the Word of God, and to study it diligently.

BIBLE WINNER

We are happy to announce that Miss Susan Barnard, of Sarnia, Ontario is the winner of the Bible offered in last months issue to the first persons to send in material for our page. Susan sent in four good poems, one of which is found in this issue. We will be happy to include the others on our page sometime in the future. Her contribution to this issue is entitled,

A MELODY RECIPE

"A Melody Recipe".
"Said a little black note on a musical staff,
I am lonesome and sad as can be,
I can't make a melody all by myself,
Now, what is the matter with me?
Now the truth of the matter, this little black note
Was surely impatient and cross,
Whenever he played with the rest of the notes,
He thought he had to be boss.
Then one day, grandmother note said to him,
I think I can tell you what is wrong.
If you improve on your manners, my child,
You can soon harmonize in a song.
So he laughed and laughed, forgot how to fuss,
And soon other notes came around,
Then the music they made as they ran up the scale
Made a very melodious sound.
By playing together, as good children should,
Each added his own little tone,
And found it much better to join in song,
Than try to make music alone."

A BIBLE QUESTION

Who am I? I am found in the New Testament, and am known because I was a close follower of Christ. I wrote part of the New Testament, and people say I wrote a great deal about love. I said, "Even so, come, Lord Jesus." (answer next month)

WEDDINGS

WALKER - SALMOND

On the afternoon of December 30th, it was our privilege to unite in marriage Bro. Harold Walker and Sis. Isabella Salmond. The wedding took place at the home of her daughter, Sis. Isabel Taylor, in Mount Hamilton. Brother and Sister Walker have long been faithful members at Sanford Ave. and Bro. Walker has taken his share of the responsibility for many years, especially in the song service. Together with their many friends we join in wishing them many years of joy and service.

Book Reviews

Books to be reviewed in this column should be sent to Keith T. Thompson, Box 403 Beamsville, Ont., Canada.

Monser's Topical Index and Digest of the Bible, Harold E. Monser, Editor-in-Chief. Baker Book House. Grand Rapids, Michigan. 681 pp. $5.95.

This valuable book contains the topical analyses found in the famous Monser's Cross-Reference Bible. Here is how the book works. If one looks up the word "Baptism" he finds (1) BAPTISM, JOHN'S — A PREPARATION: Where administered — Mt. 3:6, 13, 16; Mk. 1:5, 9, 10; John 1:28; 3:23. Its Character (each statement is followed by a series of references as following "where administered"). Its Reception. Jesus sets the example.

(2) BAPTISM - HOLY SPIRIT - POWER: To whom promised. How administered. Its Phenomena.

(3) BAPTISM - WATER - IN THE NAME OF THE TRINITY. Commanded. To whom administered. Its character.

(4) BAPTISM - SUFFERING. Proof of patience.

(5) BAPTISM - FIRE: To whom promised.

Be sure to notice that each of these statements is followed by the Scripture references. We have left them out due to lack of space.

140 pages in the book are devoted to "Outline Studies in the Books of the Bible." This gives the reader a clear bird's eye view of the entire Bible.

The Truth Defined

". . . . the church of the living God, the pillar and ground of the truth." - 1 Tim. 3:15.

The truth defined: (1) BY EXCLUSION. What truth is referred to by the apostle? What truth is supported by the church?

(a) It is not a POLITICAL truth. The church should have no political connections. Church and state should forever remain separate and apart from each other, Matt. 22:21. Most certainly the church is not the pillar and ground of ever-shifting political theories.

(b) It is not PHILOSOPHY. Philosophy has been defined as "the search of a blind man in a dark cellar for a black cat that isn't there." Philosophy is shifting; it has no fixed values. What may be good philosophy today may be considered bad philosophy tomorrow.

HERE AND THERE

by Eugene C. Perry

An excellent lectureship is now in progress at Great Lakes Christian College with very good attendance, and exceptionally fine spirit of fellowship and informative and inspiring lectures and discussions.

HERE AND THERE

Halifax, N.S.: "The year 1961 saw much activity for the church in Nova Scotia. The Mill Village church has had two gospel meetings, teacher training classes, and a vacation Bible school, besides the regular services and classes of the church. The Halifax church has had, in addition to regular activities, three gospel meetings, teacher training classes, a vacation Bible school, and singing classes.

The membership of the Halifax church now stands at sixteen, and there are around eighteen members at Mill Village . . . We continue to have a good number of Bible correspondence students.

Although land in the area is very rugged, our building will be wood frame, and so designed that the cost of blasting or fill will be kept to a minimum. It will contain six classrooms, two restrooms, and a furnace room on the lower floor; and on the upper floor there will be an auditorium to seat about 150, with baptistry, mothers' room, coat room and study. Planning is such that the auditorium can be easily expanded by future construction to twice the presently planned size, and a classroom addition may be easily added to the other end of the building in the future.

You may help by purchasing church bonds. See advertisement on the back page. An individual in Texas has promised $5 per month leaving brother Hart only $10 per month short of the needed amount.

HERE AND THERE

Montreal, Que.: 1961 was a banner year for the church in Montreal. The congregation was able to move their meetings from the Y.M.C.A. building to their own modest meeting house in the excellent suburb of Lachine. This has brought many new opportunities to the work . . . Two precious souls were baptized into Christ, and four members moved into the area, to begin worshipping with us.

The Lakwire congregation in Lakeland, Florida, recently advised us that they would no longer be able to continue their $100.00 per month support, due to local building expansion. We hope that another church will be able to assume this.

January 3: "The church in Montreal has gotten off to an encouraging start into the New Year with a young man being baptized, and another from St. Catharines, Ontario placing membership. A family of five is expected to move here from Trenton, Ontario within two weeks. With these new workers we thank God and take courage. A preaching campaign is being planned for the summer.

HERE AND THERE

Encouraging facts: Twenty years ago there were only two congregations north and west from Meaford and Toronto. Today we have eight congregations dotted throughout this area. At that time there would not be more than ninety members throughout this area. Presently, there are approximately two hundred and sixty. Considering the vastness of the area we certainly cannot rest on past accomplishments. But it does signify that the church is on the move. What will we do in the next twenty years? . . . We are better equipped to grow now than we were at the beginning of the past twenty years." — B. Bailey

Kingston, Ont. and Massena, N.Y.: Kingston brenthren are taking turns every two weeks in preaching for the church in Massena, N.Y. until someone is found to replace Jamie Hemphill who has moved to Texas.

Toronto, Bayview Ave., Dec. 10: "Last Lord's day morning Mrs. J. Raymer responded to Jesus Christ's invitation, confessed Him before men, and was buried with Him in baptism. Dec. 24: "Last Lord's day morning, we were happy and inspired to see Mr. Ian Cuthbertson come forward during the last hymn in answer to Christ's Gospel call to confess His name and to be immersed into Him."

"Brother F. Smart, who has served this congregation as a bishop forsome twelve years, read his resignation to the church last Sunday." He felt this is order since he is now living in Beamsville, 60 miles away. A tea was held in honour of the Smarts.

St. Catharines, Ont.: "The church in St. Catharines has scheduled a gospel meeting for next spring. We are fortunate to secure the services of Bro. Arnold Watson, of Memphis, Tennessee. He is quite well known in these parts. The meeting will continue from May 7th through the 17th.

Our services are being well attended, and the year 1961 has seen progress in more than one way. One married woman was baptized on Dec. 17th, and since then there has been a confession of wrong, and we look for more additions in the near future. While no lot has been purchased for our new building, it is under consideration, and we hope to be able to announce something shortly."

Beamsville, Ont.: Dan Wieb, President of Western Christian College, Weyburn, Sask., visited the area and spoke to churches in Beamsville, Hamilton and Toronto. The Beamsville church donated another $500 to help with the building planned at Niagara Falls, bringing to $1,000 the total amount given for this purpose.

Niagara Falls, Ont.: "Received for Building fund — a cheque for $3,500 from the East Main St. congregation in Murfreesboro, Tenn. This is the result of a special collection taken for the purpose on Dec. 10. Another special collection taken for the same purpose by the North Blvd. church in the same city is reported to be approximately $2,200.

Tintern, Ont.: Partitions have been installed to make three more classrooms and the teaching program of the church is being increased by the addition of more classes both on Lord's days and on Wednes-

GLEANINGS FROM FOREIGN FIELDS

JAPAN

The coming of winter usually marks the end of the gospel meeting season in Japan, due largely to the lack of heating in public buildings. But this year the Tsuchiura church decided to try to hold a meeting in December. Attendance was better than usual with as many as 22 non-Christians present for one meeting. Six were baptized into Christ four of them adult men, a significant blessing in that very few adult men are baptized in Japan.

The native church in Hachinohe, a city of 200,000 on the northern tip of Honshu Island, has moved the past month into a new house of worship, made possible for them by the American church in Misawa.

THAILAND

Brother and Sister Dorsey Traw left the United States by air December 14 and are now at work in Thailand. They will be joined as soon as possible by Bro. Harrison Slaughter, now preaching in Buffalo, New York. The Traws are being supported in their work by the Mayfair church in Huntsville, Alabama.

HUNGARY

Two American couples now working in Vienna, Austria, were allowed a six-day visit with New Testament Christians in Budapest early in November. They report that the Communist government has recently greatly intensified its efforts to suppress religious life in Hungary. Religious bodies in the country are passing through a critical period. The former head of the government agency which controls all churches has been replaced by a secretary of the Communist party, who has been given much wider authority than the former director held.

The government forbids any congregation with fewer than 200 members to have a preacher. There are about 300 members of the group visited by the brethren from Austria, but they make up several different congregations. Teaching in their assemblies is done by the elders who also must have a permit from the government before they are allowed to speak. Permission to meet in a Baptist building to baptize a person had recently been denied the church (by the government(not the denomination), the first time this had happened. Permission to meet with other brethren in another city to discuss their work was also denied the elders of the Budapest assemblies.

Despite the oppression, the Hungarian brethren are not discouraged and continue working in every way that they can.

GREECE

Although there are no churches of Christ after the New Testament order in Greece today, or at least none known to brethren outside the country, there is a growing list of persons living in Greece who have had contact with Christians in other lands, and who are interested in the church.

Three young Greek students are studying in Wurzburg, Germany, and attend worship services of the German church there.

One young man from Salonika was baptized several years ago while attending university in Berlin, and is now back in Greece after having obtained his Doctor's degree in Germany. He is presently serving 30 months, in the army, compulsory training which was postponed until he finished his university work. He expects to be living in Athens and teaching at the Technical University when his required military service is completed.

One of his brothers, still studying in Germany, has also become a Christian. Their father is a member of a protestant group in Salonika.

Still two other young Greeks are studying at Harding College in Searcy, Arkansas.

Brother Richard Walker who preaches in Berlin is getting together a list of contacts preparatory to trying to restore New Testament Christianity in this country where it was first taken by the Apostle Paul. Anyone with any contacts there are asked to send them to:

Richard Walker,
Berlin-Lichter-feld Ost,
Silzer Weg 29,
Germany.

ETHIOPIA

A marvelous opportunity has opened for the newly-established church in Ethiopia. The missionaries there, Brethren Bobb Gowen and Carl Thompson, were asked if they could organize a school for the deaf, a personal project of the Emperor since there are at present no such schools in the country.

Brother Gary Blake of Faribault, Minnesota, has answered the call and is preparing to go to work in Ghana - both to establish the school and preach the gospel. Brother Blake is extremely well-qualified on both accounts - he has his university degrees in education for the deaf and has been teaching in the Minnesota State School, and also preaches for the deaf church.

The Blakes still need financial support before they can go. Information can be had by writing the Ethiopian Mission Fund, Box 62, El Segundo, California.

LEBANON

Brother Carl P. Matheny, sent by the Lynn Street Church of Christ in Parkersburg, West Virginia, is now at work preaching the gospel in the city of Beirut, Lebanon. His is the only family of New Testament Christians known to be in the city, and his work will necesarily be with the English speaking people only until he has learned the Arabic language and is able to work with native population. He has enrolled in the American University of Beirut to study Arabic.

(Editor's Note: Many of our reports from mission fields are obtained through the "Christian Chronicle," a very fine newspaper dedicated to the publication of news from churches of Christ throughout the world. Other reports are sent to us first-hand. We would appreciate being added to the mailing list of foreign misionaries where possible.)

Glasgow, Scotland: "The new efforts in England have caused an unsurge in enthusiasm all round, and I believe that there is a great interest today in finding the best methods to use in the spread of the Lord's Kingdom in this country. —A. Gardiner

BETTY BAILEY TO ACCOMPANY BELLS TO AFRICA

Dear Brethren:

Our bookings from Montreal to Cape Town (via England) are definite now. On the 19th of Dec. we made the deposit necessary to hold these bookings.

We are scheduled to leave Montreal on the 6th of July aboard the 'Invernia" of the Cunard Line. On the second of Aug. we should get into Cape Town. From there it is about four days journey by train to Northern Rhodesia.

The way in which the brethren have built up our Travel Fund has made us very thankful. Travelling with this size of a family requires quite a bit beyond the actual boat and train fare. We'll need help in getting started housekeeping again in Rhodesia and also hope that we'll have some left over for a used car or truck, when we arrive back at Livingstone, N. Rhodesia.

Our promised monthly support is only $145.00 so far. Of this, $135.00 per month is promised by churches and individual brethren in Canada. The other $10.00 per month is promised by two Christians from the United States.

Having this much support promised has encouraged us, but we do need a good deal more. If we had $350.00 per month, I think that we could manage fairly well. The minimum on which we could get along, for a period of time, would seem to be about $300.00 per month. We have a family of five, and food and clothing seem to cost about the same in Rhodesia as here. If any church or individual feels able to help with our support, it would certainly be encouraging to hear from you. Helping to support the of the Gospel in Africa is a good way of investing the Lord's money, I believe.

Sis. Betty Bailey (daughter of Bro. and Sis. Cecil Bailey of Yellow Grass, Sask.) has decided to come over to Africa with us in July. There is a real need for dedicated Christians (who are also teachers) to help in the work at Namwianga, and Betty has answered the call. From what we know of Betty, she would seem to be exactly the type of person needed just now in the work there. Edna and I were very glad, when we heard of her decision. Her work would be teaching Bible and secular subjects. As well as children, she would probably be teaching Bible classes to some of the African women. Sis. Shewmaker wrote to say how the news of Betty's plans had encouraged the workers at Namwianga.

We understand that the church in Weyburn, Sask. is planning on sponsoring Betty. We surely hope that they do.

As yet, we (the Bell family) have no sponsoring church. Last time, the church at Moose Jaw sponsored us. Part of our support was forwarded to us by them. When it was time for us to come home from Rhodesia, the brethren at Moose Jaw saw about raising the fund, and then made the arrangements for our return. But the church at Moose Jaw is planning and saving for a new meeting house now, and will not be able to give us any financial assistance themselves. For this reason, they felt it better that some other church sponsor us this time. We certainly do appreciate the help that the church at Moose Jaw gave us. Even though they are not sponsoring us this time, they have given us help with our preparations.

We realize that sponsoring missionaries means a lot of extra work for the brethren who take on the job.. I haven't had nerve enough to put any other congregation on the spot. If any of the churches who will be helping to support us, would like to assume this responsibility, we would be very thankful.

Conditions in N. Rhodesia seem fairly settled as yet. We ask for your prayers for the work and workers over there.

Hamilton, Ont.: Al Hartwigsen of Niagara Falls, N.Y. is scheduled to hold a meeting at Fennell Ave., April 8-15. Another meeting is planned by the church for October. The work which grew into this church was begun 10 years ago this month.

A REPORT FROM EDINBURGH

The work in Edinburgh began in 1956 when the church in La Marque, Texas sent Bro. C. P. Findlay (now of Waco) to Scotland to establish a congregation in the capital city. Bro. Findlay returned to U.S.A. in 1958. During the two years he was here, six were baptized, a fine church building was erected and Bible classes were organized on a large scale for children. In 1959, Bro. Earle McMillan from Austin, Texas, was sent by the La Marque church to work with this congregation while completing his education at New College, Edinburgh. Since the spring of 1957 Andrew Gardiner, a Scottish evangelist, has been devoting the major part of his time to the work of this congregation. He is supported by the Edgefield church in Dallas, Texas. Two outstanding Scottish brethren who have been associated with this work throughout its growth are Will Steele and Robert Strang. Bro. Steele is a mining executive with the government owned coal industry, and Bro. Strang is manager of one of the largest laundries in the city. These brethren both come from families which have been associated with the Lord's church in Scotland through several generations.

Since the beginning of the work here, 39 have been baptized. 12 of these were baptized during 1961. In addition one has been restored and five have placed membership during this year. The Kirknewton U.S.A.F. Base is about 10 miles out of the city of Edinburgh, and this congregation has been 'home' to about 12 members of U.S.A.F. during their service in Scotland. The present membership of the congregation is about 43.

Among the many activities of the church, the outstanding feature has been its work among young people. In classes on Sunday morning an average of about 100 children from non-Christian homes are being taught the Bible. In addition classes are conducted on Thursday evening for children of all ages, and at a later hour for young teenagers. Attendances at these classes have been averaging about 80 at the first and about 16 at the second. Through the past year, four of the members of this teenage class have obeyed the Gospel.

The brethren here have been much encouraged by visits from brethren from other countries who have been touring in Europe and Great Britain. Edinburgh is a great tourist centre, and is very well known for its historical and literary associations. Brethren on tour who visit Edinburgh and desire to worship with the congregation here should contact: Andrew Gardiner, 20 Hyvet Grove, Edinburgh 9, Scotland. Telephone number LIBerton 3740.

alism? We have seen the folly of Mutual Edification. Are we losing mutual edification? Churches of Christ are not bound to a system but to a person. If thou believest thou mayest.

In the past forty years we have seen churches starve to death because they were being taught by men that had no capabilities along that line. Shall, we now go to the other extreme and find ourselves incapable of carrying on our own work when we send our evangelist out into the field to harvest the fields white unto harvest. We cannot set down any hard and fast rules for any congregations as talents within each congregation differ, but we need to "steer a straight course through the word of truth." Truth lies between extremes as a rule.

As formal education increases we shall lose some who make education a god instead of a servant but we must be able to meet all the arguments of the sciences falsely so-called. Hobbies will be largely forgotten in the years that are ahead, but will they give place to a tolerance that is broader than the New Testament permits?

Opposition to Christian schools will almost entirely disappear in the years ahead. It will become apparent to people that the private school, where the word of God is taught, was the kind of a school that existed when Christ was on earth. Whatever schooling the apostles had was in such a school. (Paul had considerable). State schools are a rather modern innovation and there is not one syllable of proof in all the New Testament for the idea that it is preferrable to turn the educaion of our children over to the state. Members of the church will be sensible enough to know, as industry already knows, that the private school turns out a superior product to the large state school.

Will this lack of serious opposition be altogether a blessing? Shall the schools forget their place? Will they be Christian Schools or will they be Christian schools? Will they seek to be supported by the churches? Would not the next legitimate step be to usurp some of the work of the church? As they excel the state school in their morality and spirituality will they think that a certain form of government is the only government that is compatible with Christianity.

There are two other possibilities in the next forty years. In that time Christ may come and the door of service will be forever closed. Christians are urged to be ever ready for this event. We must make every plan with this possibility in mind.

There is also this possibility that the civilization that we know will disappear. A few well placed atomic bombs and for a generation those that survive would go back to the primitive state of a hundred years ago. The large cities will lie in rubble. Just a part of the rural population will remain. Denominational machinery would be no more. What an opportunity it would be for New Testament Christianity with its simplicity. What would we do with it? Would we walk? Would we ride horseback? Would we go? Are we well enough posted to carry on? For years the religious press would all but have disappeared. How we would need to preserve the Bibles that we had. We would treasure our few hymn books, and people would again, in the main, have to learn the hymn by memory or make a handwritten copy. Even this might be hard as paper making would not be possible for years to come.

Christianity, said Paul, is all things to all men. How well are we imbibing it that whatever the future holds we can demonstrate the wisdom of the way of God? Men cut off from their denominational headquarters could spout new and fantastic ideas religiously. Would we be so versed in the Word of God that we could meet and overcome this new opposition?

Forty years ago the church had expired in New Brunswick, it was breathing its last in Nova Scotia. There were only two churches in Manitoba and no work on any more. There were five or six small churches in Saskatchewan. There was one church in Alberta and no prospects for any more. There were two churches in British Columbia and little prospect for anything different. Several hobbies beset the church in Canada to sap what life blood there was. Space forbids to speak of these things severally.

Today hobbies have largely disappeared. New congregations are springing up every year. The number of disciples is growing. We can face the future with prayerful optimism.

Brave soldiers of the cross have fought long and well. We cannot feel right without mentioning the old pioneer, of all that remains, Brother W F Cox. As he looks back

OUR DEPARTED

CARL FREDERICK JOSEPHSON

Brother C. F. Josephson was born on August 19, 1877 in Sweden. He was married there on December 26, 1899. He came to the United States with his wife and two children in 1902. While living in South Dakota, two more children were born.

The family moved to Saskatchewan in 1906. Brother Josephson homesteaded north of what is now the town of Radville. In 1917 they settled in the Brooking district and there Brother and Sister Josephson obeyed the gospel under the preaching of Brother H. A. Rogers in 1927.

Sister Josephson was called to her reward in 1943. Brother Josephson followed her on January 10th, 1962. Both of them were faithful unto death.

The funeral service was conducted from the church building in Radville. It was a stormy day but the building was filled with relatives and friends. To his children and children's children we can commend his faith and love for truth. He will long be missed in the assembly of the saints.

He leaves to mourn his departure three sons, Evert, Bertil and Algot. There are also 13 grandchildren and 22 great-grandchildren.

God's blessing rests on those who die in the Lord.

MERRITT

On Christmas day, 1961, the spirit of the late Mary D. Merritt, passed to the great unseen. While in her 94th year, she enjoyed good health until a short time before her death, when she was taken to the St. Catharines General Hospital, where she passed away after a brief illness.

She was born in Wainfleet Township, and was baptized at Smithville, long before the turn of the century. In 1891 she was married to Jason Merritt who predeceased her in 1940. Today she leaves to mourn her departure, two sons: Rolland and Spencer of Grimsby, and one daughter, Mrs. Nellie Johnson, Ridgville.

The funeral service was conducted from the Merritt Funeral Home, Smithville. The Merritt cousins sang "The Sands of Time Are Falling". Burial was in the Merritt Cemetery.

RACHEL WRIGHT

In the early hours of Dec 8th, the spirit of Sis. Rachel Wright left its frail habitation of clay to be with God.

The years of her pilgrimage were more than four score. For many of these years she was a faithful member of the Ice Lake congregation. A loving wife for more than sixty years, she will surely be missed by her husband and children.

The floral display, and the number that gathered to show their respect speaks well of her standing in the community in which she lived for so many years.

The funeral was held in the Ice Lake church building. From there her frail remains were taken to the Gordon Cemetery, and the body was laid to rest.

The writer endeavoured to speak words of comfort, but at the same time point out that, 'this is not our abiding place.'

OTTAWA REPORT

This year has begun with great promise of success. Since the first of the year there have been three baptisms. One of these saw a son of two of our members render obedience on the first Lord's Day of the new year. The following Wednesday a fine couple were baptized after the mid-week service. This fine couple have four children in our Bible School and are likely to be permanent residents of the city.

Since then a young man who had been unfaithful because of opposition from his Roman Catholic family has been restored to faithfulness. He has admitted that he made a mistake in letting his family deter him from true worship and fellowship.

A young lady has moved to the city from the west to seek employment with the Civil Service. If she is successful in locating here our membership will stand at 25. We need such active Christians to help sound out the Gospel in this important city.

TAIWAN MEETING

The church in Taipei, Taiwan, has just completed its first city-wide evangelistic meeting. Brother Willard Collins of Nashville, Tennesee, did the preaching. The meeting lasted three nights, December 9, 10, 11. The attendance was 400, 418, 333 respectively. The meeting was held in the International House Auditorium which is located very near the two Chinese and one American congregations of the city. These three congregations co-operated together in the meeting.

The messages were designed to reach both believers and non-believers and were presented in a very ofrceful manner. The interpreting was by Brother Frank Hsu of the 9ntung Street Church and Jimmy Tou of the Hsin Yi Lu Church. The songs were led by E. B. Thweatt, Jr., of the Antung Street congregation. The members of the Hsin Yi Road congregation served as ushers.

Many new contacts were made and several old ones were re-established and the Lord's name was put before the public. Over 8,000 small handbills and 2,000 large posters were used plus newspaper ads on the front pages of the leading Chinese and English language newspapers.

There were many kind remarks made about the meeting but one of the most significant was made by a man who had attended for the first time. He said, "I like this church because you never asked us for money."

There was a total of 176 persons signing slips to show their interest in learning about Christianity, the New Testament Church, or becoming a Christian. Sixty-five persons also registered for a Bible correspondence course in Chinese, which was offered to the public for the first time by Roy Munninax, of the Hsin Yi Road congregation.

The world wide mission and scope of the Church of Christ was emphasized by the prescence of foreign workers from many lands who were present in Taipei for the Southeast Asia Workshop. Thos attending the meeting were brethren Ira and Vada Rice, Kuola Lumpur, Malaya; Kenneth Rideout and his mother, Mabel Rideout, Ching Mai, Thailand; Gordon Hogan, Lahore, West Pakistan; Haskell Chesshir, Seoul, Korea; Melvin and Ruth Harbison, Hong Kong; Elizabeth Bernaard, Hong Kong.

In addition two families from Taichung, Taiwan spent three days in Taipei and helped in the meeting. These families were the Ralph Keetons and the Jerry Jensons.

The harvest of the seed planted during this meeting will not be seen immediately but much good has been accomplished in the strengthening of the members of the church in Taipei. They were shown a good example by the work of the visiting evangelists, who took a very active part in the meeting by going out on the streets and inviting people to come in and hear the Gospel. In Taiwan it is easy to do this since every street is a constant stream of people, walking and riding bicycles and most do not have any definite place to go. After aech night's meeting many people stayed to talk with the members and American visitors.

Another opportunity to sow the seed of the Gospel was realized by having all the Chinese language tracts available in the rear of the auditorium. Several hundreds of these tracts wer given out in the three nights.

The congregation of American servicemen in Taipei paid the fare for Brother and Sister Collins from Hong Kong to Taipei.

THE NEW ENGLISH BIBLE

participles in the next verse. J. B. Phillips, translator of the New Testament in Modern English, has summed up the significance of the perfect particples in this verse, in a note at the back of his translation. He writes: "There is a very curious Greek construction here, viz. a simple future followed by a perfect participle passive. If Jesus had meant to say quite simply. 'Whatever you forbid on earth will be forbidden in Heaven', can anyone explain why the simple future passive is not used. It seems to me that if the words of Jesus are accurately reported here, and I have no reason to doubt it, then the force of these sayings is that Jesus' true disciples will be so led by the Spirit that they will be following the heavenly pattern. In other words what they 'forbid' or 'permit' on earth will be consonant with the Divine rules."

It is not our intention to deal at this time with other passages where we find that liberties have been taken in an unhealthy manner. Perhaps we shall return to this subject in the near future if interest seems to warrant such an effort.

In summary, it can be said that the translators have produced a book of uneven value. It rises to heights of fine scholarship and language in many places. In a considerable number of instances, it seems to sacrifice scholarship for euphony or for theological compromise. It would make a valuable brief commentary to be read with the King James Version or the American Standard Version. Since individual verses are not numbered, it would make a difficult text from which to memorize proof texts for later usage.

It is easier to criticize translators than to translate. Time and usage will prove whether this new translation will make God's Word burn in the hearts of the multitude.

over the years he must feel a certain joy in the work as it now stands as compared to the days that are past. As older men go on, may there be dedicated young men stand up to take each of their places.

Truth is divine. We must realize that the Bible came from God and that the more we learn, the more here is to learn. We shall grow if we labour for the truth. We must put aside the sectarian spirit entirely. If we are secarians we have no right to exist. There are far too many sects already.

Christianity works whenever it is used. It is truth. It fails whenever it is mixed with error. How well will we succeed in the next forty years? How prayerful will we be? How well will we learn the truth? How well will we teach the truth?

FREDERICTON BUILDING PLANS

The new year brings to us a greater challenge than ever before. Yesterday we received a letter from a lady who has completed half the Bible Course by mail. This lady lives on Grand Manan Island off the southern shore of New Brunswick. This lady sent in the names of five young ladies, all over 17 years of age requesting that we send them the Bible course. One of these young ladies attends Teacher's College in Fredericton. We consider this a great opportunity, and typical of other opportunities we have for teaching people. This congregation is becoming known throughout the province. We received a letter lately addressed to Church of Christ, New Brunswick.

We are very grateful to those who have responded to the announcement for a building fund for Fredericton. This need becomes more urgent each day, and we have confidence in this work, and in our brethren that we are willing to make this suggestion. Perhaps it has never been tried in Canada! Fredericton could have a building if thirty congregations could budget for $1,000.00 over a period of three years. Starting with a down payment of $300.00 the first year, $400.00 the second and $300.00 the third year. This would permit construction plans to begin at an early date, which is important while lots are available, and before other groups get ahead of us. We do not wish to dictate for others, yet we believe it is a plan that is not unreasonable but workable, scriptural and possible. This congregation is small, but the Lord willing, we will promise to raise at least $1,000 ourselves in the same manner. This will be over and above the present amount of $2,100.00 in the building fund. We feel that we ought to do at least what we suggest can be done. We will be grateful to hear from individuals and congregations. Pray for this work. This link must be strengthened as soon as possible.

Philosophy is largely guess work; it is always changing. Truth, on the contrary, is fixed; it is the same yesterday, today and forever.

(c) It is not SCIENCE, though one might be led to think so judging from the utterances of the modern pulpit. Surely the church was never intended to be a scientific assembly. It is not an institution for the development of sociology, biology, physiology, psychology, or any other "ology." Though the Bible has always anticipated the latest science, it does not pretend to be a text-book on science. Science is just as shifting and uncertain as philosophy; it changes with every decade. Therefore the church is not the pillar and ground of scientific truth, nor is the church obligated in any way to listen to the wild theories of so-called scientists.

(d) It is not THEOLOGY. Theology is at best nothing more than the Word of God diluted by human opinion; divine truth strained through the porous substance of man's intelligence. Theology is "skimmed milk." Theology has cursed the church for many centuries; it has divided Christendom into warring sects. It sent the true church into the wilderness and in her place established the apostate church upon the seven-hilled city. It has always engendered creed-making, speculation and sectarianism.

(2) BY INCLUSION. What then, is the truth, or system of truth, supported by the church?

(a) It is the WORD OF CHRIST as epitomized in the FACTS, COMMANDS and PROMISES of the gospel. The gospel is the POWER of God unto salvation because it is the revelation of the TRUTH of God.

(b) The gospel has THREE FACTS: the death, burial and resurrection of Christ. 1 Cor. 15:1-4. It has three COMMANDS: believe, repent, and be baptized, 2 Thess. 1:8, Acts 16:31, 2: 38. It has three PROMISES: remission of sins, the indwelling of the Holy Spirit. and eternal life, Acts 2:38; 1 Cor. 6:19; Rom. 6:23.

(c) The gospel has one supreme TRUTH, that "Jesus is the Christ, the Son of the living God," Matt. 16:16, which rests upon the supreme FACT that he rose from the dead, 1 Cor. 15:20. It has one supreme COMMAND, "Hear ye Him," Matt. 17:5. It has one supreme REWARD, eternal life, John 3:16.

THE SAFE, SURE WAY

By Ed Bryant, Toronto, Ontario

Most of us recognize the need for caution in our every-day pursuits. When we pay a bill we insist upon a receipt, because it is just good business. We wouldn't think of buying a farm or a home without demanding an abstract deed. Thus do we seek to make secure our secular affairs. However, where spiritual matters are concerned, many are perfectly content to rely upon the silliest of half-measures.

It is not at all uncommon to hear those about us excuse their religious stand with the words, "We're all headed for the same place, only by different roads." This utter indifference over the eternal destiny of the soul does not make sense, in the light of the extreme care we lavish upon temporal matters.

It is not enough to rely upon our feelings to direct our religious thinking and shape our obedience. Worse than that, it is dangerously foolish. We would not trust a grocer who merely dropped a few potatoes into a bag and handed them to us, saying, "That's ten pounds!" We would inquire of him how he KNOWS it is ten pounds: If he then placed his hand over his heart and said, "I know it is because I FEEL it - right here!" we would walk out without buying from him. Yet many people in this enlightened age are found practicing this method to guide them in their religion.

It is not necessary to depend upon such foolish methods when there is a safe, sure way, the guide to which is found in the holy Bible, the word of God. The Psalmist wrote, "The law of the Lord is perfect, converting the soul: the testimony of the Lord is sure, making wise the simple." (Psalm 19:7).

Since the law of the Lord is perfect, what need have we of any other guide to a safe haven? Away, then, with creeds, manuals, disciplines and other man-made additions to what God has already said. Paul recognized the sufficiency of the Scriptures when he wrote, in 2 Timothy 3:16,17: "All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness: that the man of God may be perfect, thoroughly furnished unto all good works." Then Peter lends the

THE ROMAN LETTER

(First in a series on the main lessons of Romans by E. D. Wieb, Weyburn, Sask. We welcome this series on a most important N.T. Epistle by the president of Western Christian College. RDM)

For several years, it has been the desire of the writer to reach deep into the heart of Romans and bring out the great themes expressed by Paul therein. It was the letter to Rome that stirred the heart of Martin Luther and prompted the Protestant Reformation. It is fair to say that Protestantism finds the source of its strength in the powerful epistle to Rome. No other book of the New Testament deals so thoroughly with the great themes of Christianity as does this. God, Christ and man are its themes. The nature of sin and the announcement of redemption are its message. The gospel is in the heart of Paul and Paul puts the gospel into the heart of Romans.

Rome - "The Eternal City" - the Capital of the World, centre of apostacy, murderer of Christians, stronghold of Paganism, Rome is the recipient of this letter. The church in Rome could not meet publicly for Christianity was not yet accepted as a religious faith. The Christians in Rome were isolated and it is likely that the church in the city of Rome had not been established by an apostle or even by one of the great evangelists of the time. It is likely that the congregations in Rome were the product of the Dispersions. Thus, the Chris-

Is It Scriptural To Use Instrumental Music In Worship?

J. C. Bailey

In the last one hundred years much has been written on this subject. However, there are many members of the church who only became members in recent years. Children are growing up that are not aquainted with the discussions of yesteryear. Our minds dim with the passing of time. It is right to stir up your sincere minds by way of remembrance.

Some would dismiss the subject as relatively unimportant. I suppose Cain thought it was relatively unimportant what kind of sacrifice he brought to God: God thought otherwise. Nabab and Abihu thought it was unimportant what kind of fire they used but God thought otherwise. We could multiply such examples. If the use of instrumental music is Scriptural, then it is very important that we follow the Scriptures. There is a curse upon those who take from the things written in this book of God (Revelation 22:18; II John 9).

What can we think of a man that will say the use of the instrument is Scriptural, but I will not say anything about it? What would you think of the preacher that would say, "I believe that Jesus Christ is the Son of God" but as you people, do not believe that, I will just refrain from saying anything about it? When we reject the word of Christ, we reject Christ. Jesus said: "He that rejecteth me, and receiveth not my sayings, hath one that judgeth him: the word that I spake, the same shall judge him in the last day" (John 12:48). If the use of instrumental music in worship is Scriptural, then those who do not use it, and refuse to use it, are sinning. No man should agree to hold his tongue if he believes it is Scriptural to use instrumental music.

Many times sincere people have asked me why I think instrumental music is wrong. I do not think instrumental music is wrong. An instrument is an inanimate thing. In itself it is not capable of being right or wrong. Let me illustrate: I do not think there is anything wrong with beefsteak. In fact I would enjoy beefsteak if I could afford to buy it. If it were placed on the Lord's table together with the bread and the fruit of the vine then I would believe its use would be sinful. Instrumental music is not wrong, but its use in the worship of God is wrong unless it is authorized by God.

Jesus said: ". . . the true worshippers shall worship the Father in spirit and in truth: for such doth the Father seek to be his worshippers" (John 4:23). The Holy Spirit said: "What is it then? I will pray with the spirit, and I will pray with the understanding also: I will sing with the spirit, and I will sing with the understanding also" (I Corinthians 14:15). God seeks those who worship in spirit and in truth to be His worshippers. By faith I can pray in the spirit. By faith I can sing in the spirit, but where does it say that we PLAY AN INSTRUMENT IN THE SPIRIT? Echo answers where?

Jesus said that the true worshippers shall worship in truth. What is truth? Jesus said: ". . . thy word is truth" (John 17:17). Where does it say that any church of Christ under divine command used a mechanical instrument in worship to God? Even those who have but a smattering knowledge of the New Testament know that the New Testament is as silent as the grave about instrumental music in worship of God. Jesus said that God seeks as worshippers those that worship in spirit and in truth. The use of instrumental music is not in spirit and it is not in truth.

When Is An Act Scriptural

Anything is scriptural for which there is a direct command. The Lord's Supper is Scriptural because Jesus said: "this do" (I Corinthians 11:23,24). We have a direct command. A thing may be scriptural because we have an inspired example. We meet upon the first day of the week (Acts 20.7). Not only was an inspired apostle present, but the Holy Spirit recorded the event. We may conclude that a thing is Scriptural if there is a necessary inference. The use of instrumental music in worship is not commanded. We have no approved example of its use. There is no necessary inference that it was used in New Testament times. Even those who use it today freely admit that it was not used in he New Testament church.

What About Psallo?

There are those who contend that the use of this word in the New Testament makes instrumental music Scriptural. If the word means to play an instrument, why is it not so translated in the King James Version, the American Revised Version, Revised Version and many others? If the word "psallo" means to play an instrument, why did not the churches in New Testament times use an instrument? Can you conceive that the churches lived, as far as the record shows, in absolute disobedience to this command and were not reproved?

As I write, I have the Greek-English lexicon of Henry Thayer before me. He describes this word: (a) "to pluck off, pull out." Now this is the first meaning, and would those who contend that this word justifies the use of the instrument suggest that it would be Scriptural to pluck out the hair or beard? (b) "to cause to vibrate by touching, to touch or strike the chord, to twang the strings of a musical instrument so that they gently vibrate; to sing to the music of the harp." Look at this carefully. How would all this justify the use of an organ or a piano? But we are not through with Mr. Thayer, listen: "In the N.T. to sing a hymn, to celebrate the praises of God in song." Shall we take the classical meaning of this word or the New Testament meaning of the word?

I think we would be unjust to this study if we did not introduce one more witness at this point. Sophocles was a native Greek and for 38 years, Professor of the Greek language in Harvard University. He has this to say: "to chant, sing religious hymns." After he had examined, by actual count, 146 secular and 77 ecclesiastical authors of the Roman period, and 109 secular and 262 ecclesiastical authors of the Byzantine period (this covers 1200 years from 146 B.C. to 1100 A.D.) he says that there is not a single example of psallo implying or involving the use of the instrument. I want to rewrite that for emphasis. From 146 B.C. until 1100 A.D. there is not one scholar that defines the word "psallo" as other than to sing, to chant. No, you cannot make mechanical instruments Scriptural by the use of the "psallo". Such evidence is by no means isolated. Psallo, as used in the New Testament, does not mean to play an instrument.

INSTRUMENTAL MUSIC

I want to interject here the statement made by John W. McGarvey, one of the best Greek scholars of the past generation. Listen to Brother McGarvey: "It is manifest that we cannot adopt the practice (referring to instrumental music in worship) without abandoning the obvious and only ground on which a restoration of Primitive Christianity can be accomplished, or on which plea it can be maintained." Let me say I believe this with all my heart. So universal is the scholarship of the world on this point that this illustrious scholar says further: "It is universally admitted by those competent to judge that there is not the slightest indication in the New Testament of divine authority for the use of instrumental music in Christian worship."

The Psalms Are Not The Law?

It is contended that instrumental music is scriptural because it is mentioned in the Psalms. Those who so contend admit that the law was done away at the Cross, but, so they claim, the Psalms were not part of the law, and therefore we are authorized to use the instruments mentioned there. If this be true then we are free to do as CHRISTIANS all the things that are mentioned there. David said: "Purify me with hyssop and I shall be clean: Wash me and I shall be whiter than snow" Psalms 51:7. Is the use of hyssop scriptural under the New Testament?

Let us make a more extended reading from the 149th Psalm: "Let the saints exalt in glory:
Let them sing for joy upon their beds.
Let the high praises of God be in their mouth.
And a two edged sword in their hand:
To execute vengeance upon the nations,
And punishments upon the peoples;
To bind their kings with chains,
And their nobles with fetters of iron;
To execute upon them judgment written;
This honor has all his saints.
Praise ye Jehovah" (5:9).

Jesus said that his kingdom was not of this world. If it had been of this world then his servants would fight (John 18:36). Jesus said the Psalms were part of the law. "Jesus answered them, Is it not written in your law, I said, Ye are gods" (John 10:34). This is a quotation from Psalms 82:6. Jesus said the Psalms were part of the law of the Jews. "We became dead to law through the body of Christ" (Romans 7:4).

To try to justify the use of the mechanical instruments by the law is a rather serious thing, for the Holy Spirit said: "Ye are severed from Christ, ye who would be justified by the law; ye are fallen away from grace" (Galatians 5:4). Jesus said the Psalms were the law.

Once more we let Jesus testify as to whether the law included the Psalms: "But this is come to pass, that the word may be fulfilled that is written in their law, They hated me without a cause" (John 15:25). This is a quotation from Psalms 35:19. The use of instrumental music, because it is contained in the Psalms, means that we have severed ourselves from Christ just as surely a Paul spoke by inspiration.

Is Singing Part of The Worship?

A friend with whom I have contended over the issue of instrumental music, as well as other things on and off through the years, claims that the whole thing is a matter of option whether we sing or not. The use of the instrument can accompany the singing as it is not necessary anyway.

Let us look carefully at this. Jesus said true worship was "in spirit". The Holy Spirit said that "I will sing with the spirit". The very thing that God requires is present in singing. Nothing then can be more essentially a part of worship than singing. WHERE DO WE SING? " . . . I will declare thy name unto my brethren; in the midst of the congregation will I sing thy praises" (Hebrews 2:12).

One reason that I believe the Bible to be the inspired word of God is the fact that I have never found a doctrine advanced by man that was not answered in the word of God. So God in His divine wisdom showed that both these premises were false long before they were ever advocated by men who wanted to justify an unscriptural practice.

Nor can we claim that the use of the instrument is a matter of indifference. Jesus said: "But in vain do they worship me, teaching as their doctrines the precepts of men" (Matthew 15:9). How did the use of instrumental music get into the worship? It was taught in. Who taught it in? Men taught it. Jesus said, and I believe it, that such a thing constitutes vain worship.

Its First Use Among Churches of Christ

This was written in 1860. The organ had been introduced one year earlier. "So far as known to me, or I presume, to you, I am the only preacher in Kentucky of our brotherhood who has publicly advocated the propriety of employing instrumental music in some churches, and that the church of God in Midway is the only church that has yet made a decided effort to introduce it." This statement was made by Dr. L. L. Pinkerton. This man also believed that the unimmersed could be fellowshipped in the church. This latter information is taken from the current issue of the Mission Messenger. A stream can rise no higher than its fountain. Instrumental music entered the church hand in hand with modernism. The present effort of some brethren to use the instrument and

RED, DEAD OR MISLED

Themonuclear warfare! One can scarcely spell the word, let alone understand it. One can, however, realize that there is in the hands of a few men the killing potential of all the armies that the world has even known.

A recent publication suggests: "One 100-megaton nuclear missile can destroy any Canadian province." Who would suggest that the enemy would stop with one bomb when its stockpile is known to contain hundreds.

Can such a war actually happen and if so, what great cause would rtigger it? Experts all seem to agree that it can come. They also seem to feel that its outbreak might very easily be the result of a mistake rather than a plan.

One of the most outspoken proponents of nuclear danger is Norman Z Alcock. He is quoted in the Financial Post, January 20, 1962: "Because time is running out, we have probably 15 years in which to save mankind or let ourselves be blown to dust." His estimate of available time is optomistic compared to that of others who feel the danger is immediate.

Many people feel that the threat of war is all from one side. They summarize their apparent alternative with the question, "Would you rather be Red than dead?" The implication is that nuclear war would bring death to most; that it is inevitable unless the West gives in, and that we need to make up our minds whether it is preferable to be "Red or dead".

The Christian sees other alternatives. He believes that the God whose wondrous power is abused in the hydrogen bomb is not an absentee God of the universe. "All things work together for good to them that love the Lord" is more than a pretty platitude. It is a fact; howbeit, a fact based on faith. It says in effect that the God who frustrated the Egyptians at the Red Sea, who shrivelled into nothingness the army of Sennacherib outside Jerusalem, and delivered the handwriting on the wall to Belshazzar is still able to cope with any world power. The problem as we see it now is the difficulty in believing that God would want to save Canada as a nation. The national morality and zeal for God do not seem to rate much divine protection.

Perhaps by the grace and forbearance of God we shall be spared what seems to many to be the inevitable nuclear holocaust. What then? Will greed, graft, and gluttony continue in a world of need? Will selfishness dictate our foreign policies instead of a true acceptance of the responsibility of world brotherhood or at least of a world neighbourhood? We talk glibly of future ability to speed men to the moon, but we are less enthusiastic at the present to speed help to needy earth men.

There is another facet to this discussion that needs to be aired. When one remembers that Krushchev has stated his intention to "bury the States" - and one presumes the Western world along with them - one is correct in assuming that the Communist leader means it. What a man, an institution, or a nation gives out for public consumption as their intentions, should be accepted as their intentions until repudiated. Any other approach to official statements reflects on the integrity, the ability, or the seriousness of the spokesman.

The Roman Catholic church is directly opposed to the view that freedom and tolerance should prevail toward those of different faiths. This is not a matter of conjecture, but of official policy, which has been stated by its most authoritative spokesman. Scores of quotations to support this charge could be produced with little effort (e.g. Papal Encyclical Quanta Curia, Dec. 8, 1864).

If popes, cardinals, bishops and other members of the hierarchy have spoken truth, the only factor that prevents open persecution and coercion in this land is the fact that the church of Rome lacks control. Many of her adherents boast, not without reason, that she will

TEACHING GOD'S WORD

MAKE THEM MISSION-MINDED

H. Ralph Perry,
London, Ontario

"We Can Evangelize the World", is the title of a recent book authored by Bro. Ira Rice of Malaya. How can this be accomplished when we know that we do not have a fraction of the needed evangelists and workers in the mission field to do the work? Generally we at home are not doing what must be done to send more workers. Nor are we really seeking the lost at home as we ought to do. In spite of these facts it is possible that there could be enough dedicated men and women to spread the gospel to the whole world in the coming generation.

For this to be a reality we must make the younger generation MISSION-MINDED. One of the best places for missionary emphasis is in our Sunday morning Bible classes for all ages. Here little tots, children and young people along with adults can be so impressed with the great need of spreading the gospel and so thrilled with the possibilities that they will early dedicate their lives to this global task. This is because they are being taught at their level of understanding.

We now present some ideas for teachers and church leaders to make students mission-minded. It is hoped that some of these will be used to place the great challenge of world evangelism before YOUR pupils.

I. Put Missions in the Bible School Curriculum

We believe that the missionary theme should have a special place in the curriculum of the Bible school . . . Each teacher can, through his or her own initiative, put missions into the Bible school curriculum. The theme can be woven into lessons dealing with varied topics without having to digress from the subject under discussion, because it is part of the foundation of all Bible teaching." (Christian Bible Teacher, March 1961, Weldon Bennett, former missionary to Germany).

In order that this great theme might not be neglected Bro. Bennett proposed that a lesson on world evangelism be incorporated into the curriculum once each quarter. Each class will have the same Bible lesson which each teacher will adapt to the understanding of the age level he teaches. A specific present-day mission field will be studied as a part of the lesson.

The great missionary stories of the Bible should form the texts for these lessons. Along with these, by way of present-day application, should be presented the experiences and needs of our missionaries today. A lesson on the courage and work of Paul as a prisoner in Rome furnishes opportunity to present the thrilling experiences of our workers in Italy in recent years. The hardships of the church in Jerusalem today can be related to a lesson on the persecution of the Jerusalem church in the first century. Present work, opportunities and needs in Ethiopia will naturally fit into a lesson on the conversion of the Ethiopian treasurer.

Bro. Bennett presents seven important items to be included in lessons on missions (1) Decide on the general and specific aims. (2) Let the lesson be Bible centered. (3) Use songs with the mission theme. (4) Pray for world evangelism and a specific mission work. (5) Study one particular country in which our brethren are working. (6) Make use of visual aids (maps, pictures and slides, charts and posters). (There are flannelgraph materials and pictures available. H.R.P.) (7) Use personal letters from missionaries.

Much planning and work will be needed to put the mission theme into the Bible school curriculum but it will be worth the effort. "There is power in doing things as a corporate group. If every class on the same Lord's Day morning is studying a common text and discussing the same mission field and getting acquainted with the same missionary families, the impact will be far greater than if each class worked separately. Families and groups of children and adults will be discussing the things studied long after the lesson hour has ended". (Bennett)

II. Use Missionary Speakers

Missionaries are usually used to report to the church. It would be well to have them speak in an informal way to the classes of young people. Questions relating to being missionaries could be asked and answered so as to help young people decide to devote their lives to this work.

Teachers of children's classes could easily have the missionary's wife teach their classes. She could tell of the conditions, needs and work amongst children and adults of other lands. They would learn to share their plenty with the needy far away. Thus the seed that might later produce a missionary could be planted.

III. Write to Missionaries

Personal letters showing interest in and providing encouragement for the missionary are very helpful to those separated from home and conveniences to spread the gospel. Those who write will become more interested in the work being done. Prayers will be made on their behalf. There will be a willingness to sacrifice to help supply their needs.

Have your class write to the workers supported by the church where you meet, as well as to other missionaries. This could lead to such a personal interest on the part of some students that they would want to go to help. They might just prepare themselves and go because you have encouraged them to write to some missionary. Teachers will have to help the little ones write. This can be done as a class.

C. G. McPHEE ILL

Early Friday morning, February 23, C. G. McPhee suffered a rather severe heart attack. He had been out calling in the afternoon and evening. At this writing, (Feb 28), he is reported resting well, but the results of tests to determine the seriousness of the damage are not yet available. Pray for him and write to 4 Fawell Ave., St. Catharines. E.C.P.

THE SAFE, SURE WAY

weight of his inspired pen by writing: "According as his divine power hath given unto us all things that pertain to life and godliness through the knowledge of him that hath called us unto glory and virtue." 2 Peter 1:3.

In the recent news, the religious world made token and pathetic overtures toward the unity for which Christ prayed in the garden of Gethsemane. World religious leaders made guarded predictions as to the outcome of the effort, but no one put into words the one thing that must be obvious to even the most casual observer - that unity cannot and will not be achieved until all men everywhere "teach the same things" from the perfect law of God and stop trying to twist that law to fit their own selfish desires. To be perfectly joined together, in the same mind and in the same judgment" requires that man subject himself to the will of God, forgetting his own. Unfortunately, the vast majority of men are unwilling to do this.

Nearly everyone will agree that any religion without God is useless and vain. Too many fail to see, however, that when man begins to substitute his own wisdom for that of God, he makes God's wisdom of none effect in his life. Yet, the Bible plainly states that "Whosoever transgresseth and abideth not in the doctrines of Christ hath not God." (2 John 9). When we turn to our own substitutions and introduce man's innovations into the worship of God, we no longer abide in the doctrine of Christ, and no longer have God. They that are wise will take heed.

In this world of religious confusion, the light still shines for those who have eyes to see and the clarion call comes still to those who have ears to hear. The blood of Christ was expended to purchase only one church, and he is the Saviour of that body (Eph. 5:23). Since "there is none other name under heaven, given among men, whereby ye must be saved" (Acts 4:12), let us enter that body in the only way authorized by the word of God by being baptized into a likeness of his death. (Gal. 3:26,27). This should come as the final step in our obedience after having repented of all past sin and confessed Jesus as the Son of God in whom we have our hope of life eternal. Then, being raised to walk in "newness of life", let our lives be guided by God's will alone, continuing "steadfastly in the apostles' doctrine and fellowship, and in breaking of bread and in prayers" (Acts 2:42). If our delight be in the law of the Lord, and if in this law we meditate day and night as did the psalmist of old, there will be no time for expounding or hearing any other doctrine and division will cease to exist.

Jesus tells us, in John 4:24: God is a spirit, and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth." He said also that the word of God is truth (John 17:17). This should narrow the matter down so that it comes within the grasp of everyone. Why complicate things by reaching into "outer space" for some revelation which isn't going to come, anyway? (Jude 3). After all, the gospel is for every person, of whatever level of intelligence, and the blood of Christ, which is the only means of obtaining remission of sins, was shed for "the whole world".

Let all men everywhere, therefore, unite upon the Bible, in full assurance of its precepts, and in full obedience to its commands. "Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly in all wisdom" (Col. 3:16). It is the only way to heaven that God has given unto man, and when we forsake it for some other road map, devised by man, we can be sure that we shall not reach the safe confines of the heavenly city when this life is over. Let us not, then, place our confidence in our own wisdom. Rather let us turn our lives over to God, who created us, and follow His guide as the only safe, sure way.

tians in Rome, both Jewish and Gentile had not previously had the blessings of Apostolic teachings and Paul is anxious to go to them (Romans 1:11). As Paul visited Corinth on his final missionary journey, he looks westward to Rome and his heart goes out to them. So in the year 55 or 56 A.D., from the city of Corinth, Paul writes this stirring letter.

There are two parts to this letter. First, there is the thesis - the argument - the doctrine; then we have the admonition or practical section. In the first section, chapters 1-11, we have one of the finest examples of argumentation to be found anywhere. Paul's thesis is briefly stated in Romans 1:16,17 - "For I am not ashamed of the Gospel: for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth: to the Jew first and also to the Greek. For therein is revealed the righteousness of God from faith unto faith . . .". "The righteousness of God." When Luther felt that he understood this phrase he said; "Then I suddenly felt that I was born again and entered into open doors to paradise." To Luther it was a breath of fresh air for he felt that the meaning of this phrase had lain buried under an alien human tradition of religion for hundreds of years. So out of this discovery, the Reformation of Christendom was born. (Emil Brunner, "Romans")

While we cannot completely agree with Luther's conclusions on parts of Romans and certainly do not stand with Protestantism on the formation of creeds, we can be grateful for the Truth discovered by Luther as he studied himself out of Romanism into Romans.

In the next in this series, we shall begin a study of Romans itself. You, the reader, can come along on this adventurous study. Read Romans and study along with us.

DAUPHIN, MANITOBA

A recent letter from Sister Johnson of this place indicates a great need for a worker or workers in this area. She writes, "We are endeavoring to get a laborer here to work," and then after mentioning the good attendance and encouraging results of the meeting and V.B.S. of last summer and expressing appreciation to those who participated, she contines, "This year we hope for these people to return. It was the first well advertised effort we have ever had in Dauphin. A young couple were baptized, but since have moved to the Pas, Manitoba.

"We are asking help for support and someone to come here to stay permanently. I think if we could realize support we could get someone to work. We have helped other mission work some, although there are only two members of the church here. We have carried our load and we feel confident that if a family moved here and work was on a permanent basis we could soon see results. As it is we cannot meet publicly because we have no one to speak or conduct public meetings.

IRISH CHRISTIAN SEEKS EMPLOYMENT IN CANADA

John Justin and his wife and little girl would like to migrate from Belfast. Ireland to Canada to take up work at a place where they will have opportunity to grow more useful in the church. He has some experience preaching and teaching in the church and his wife has taught children's and women's classes and done personal work. He would like to come in May.

A Joiner/Carpenter by trade and experience, he has also had experience in the wholesale grocery business and would be pleased to accept employment outside his trade. Anyone in a position to be of assistance should either contact the Gospel Herald or write directly to John C. Justin, 11 Woodvale St. Woodvale Road, Belfast 13, N. Ireland.

INSTRUMENTAL MUSIC

stop there is doomed to failure. The effort of these brethren wherever I have gone shows that this idea is neither Scriptural nor logical.

Is It An Expedient?

This is the argument of most. There is no scriptural justification for it but we use it as an expedient. DO THEY? Those who do not use instrumental music in their worship in Saskatchewan are growing much faster than those who do. Those who do not use the instrument in their worship are growing faster in Manitoba than those who do. So the truth of the matter is, it is not expedient and these brethren can not use it as an expedient.

I think this word "expedient" is much misunderstood. Before a thing can be expedient it must be lawful. It is lawful to "go". It may be expedient to "fly". More times it is "expedient" to go by car. Sometimes it is expedient to go by train. We have shown it is lawful to "sing". It is excellent to use hymn books. It is lawful to sing. It is expedient for some women to sing alto.

Instrumental music is not an expedient of anything for it is a distinct act within itself. If the use of the instrument was lawful, then we might say that the organ was "expedient", or the piano. Instrumental music is not lawful, it has no scriptural basis, therefore it cannot be an expedient.

Let me illustrate again. It is lawful to "teach". It is expedient to do it by word of mouth. It may be expedient to use the radio etc. Playing an instrument is not an expedient way to sing but an act that is added thereto. Many times it is not added to the singing. The last time I attended one of these churches that have corrupted the worship by the use of the instrument, they spent as much time playing the instrument without any singing as they did to play it in connection with their singing. Let me ask the question, it is expedient for what?

Conclusion

Some years ago we had a discussion with some of these brethren. Various ones had spoken in connection with the subject but finally one person said: "I like it, and to me it is worship". I am afraid that there the matter stands. I love these brethren and I would like to be in fellowship with them but they would rather have an instrument of music in their worship than the fellowship of their brethren.

The instrument is the sign of a disease. To remove the instrument without removing the condition of heart that makes its use in worship possible would not avail a thing. The disease would only break out in some other way.

Brethren, let us return to the New Testament way. Let us be joined together in the same mind and in the same judgment.

MALLORY'S CELEBRATE SIXTIETH ANNIVERSARY

On January 1, of this new year, a very happy occasion was celebrated by two members of the South Burnaby congregation of the church of our Lord.

John and Bertha Mallory were united in marriage sixty years ago on this day in Carman, Manitoba, and have spent these many years together faithful to the Lord's church and witnessing much growth in it.

Many of their friends and relatives were with them on this day to share the happiness of the occasion and to wish them well. An "open house" was held by their nephew and niece, Brother and Sister Meredith Saunders of Oakridge congregation, in their home, and whose children ably helped them serve a delightful tea.

A telegram of congratulation was received by them from the Queen, and a letter also from the Prime Minister of Canada, Mr. Diefenbaker. Brother and Sister Mallory looked wonderfully happy and are in good health. It was a very special occasion indeed — in that they have had so many good years together in the Lord. We, their brothers and sisters do wish them God's rich blessings and many more fruitful years together.

Other messages were received by them and also gifts and floral tributes.

Book Reviews

Books to be reviewed in this column should be sent to Keith T. Thompson, Box 403 Beamsville, Ont., Canada.

The Doctrine of Evolution and the Antiquity of Man, by J. D. Thomas Biblical Research Press, Abilene, Texas. 64 pp. 95c.

The faith of many Christians has been disturbed by the suggestion that evolution is a proven fact and that it proves the Bible to be false. A great many people are overwhelmed by the positiveness with which some scientists and others speak regarding the doctrine of evolution. This little paper-back by our scholarly brother J. D. Thomas of Abilene Christian College will prove of great benefit to anyone interested in the question of evolution. By quoting from the works of leading evolutionists today; the author shows conclusively that evolution is a "faith" and has never been established as a fact. Many of his quotations are from the works of the 1959 Darwin Centennial Celebration at the University of Chicago. This celebration was in honor of the one hundredeth anniversary of the publication of the Origin of Species by Charles Darwin.

This significant volume will be especially valuable to those who have been confronted with the evolutionary theory on the college campus. We agree with brother Frank Pack who wrote concerning this book: "It is the best work I have seen dealing with this vital problem and I can wholeheartedly recommend it to all who desire guidance in this area of study."

Sermon Outlines on First Principles by C. C. Crawford, Dehoff Publications, Murfreesboro, Tennessee, 209 p.p. $3.50.

Those familiar with the previous volumes of C. C. Crawford will be anxious to obtain this new one. De Hoff Publications have previously issued "Sermon Outlines on Acts"; "Sermon Outlines on the Restoration Plea" and "Sermon Outlines on the Cross of Christ." All of these are still available in beautiful maroon bindings.

Although each sermon is clearly outlined, it is not merely an outline in the usual sense of the term. The sermons are given in full. A variety of basic doctrines are considered. There are twenty five sermons in all. Some of the topics are: "News Too Good To Keep"; "What Must One Believe To Be Saved?"; "The Like Precious Faith"; "Into the Far Country"; "Back from the Far Country"; "What Baptism is Not"; "Theological Magic" and "The Three Phases of Salvation."

The author is a close student of Restoration literature and makes frequent references to the same. His sermons are clear, straight to the point and forceful. The great "first principles" of the gospel are positively presented and the errors of men are completely refuted. While preachers will find this a good "pump primer" it can be read with profit by anyone.

"Actually the work began in September of 1951 with afternoon Bible classes on Sundays and a service Sunday evening at 7.00 p.m. Tuesday evening studies were also conducted at this time.

GLEANINGS FROM FOREIGN FIELDS

NEW ZEALAND

Bro. and Sis. Don Oelze of Murray, Kentucky, left California January 23 for New Zealand where they will spend at least the next four years helping the churches in that island country. The College St. church in Murray will act as sponsoring church for the family, according to requirements of the New Zealand government, but they are being assisted by a number of smaller Kentucky congregations. The churches are supplying round-trip travel funds, living expenses, and a substantial working fund for the Oelzes.

NIGERIA

Bro. and Sis. Glenn Martin and family of Old Hickory, Tennessee, left the United States January 8 to return to the Nigerian mission field after six months leave. The Lawrence Avenue church in Nashville supports the Martins as they did on their previous tour of duty there. The family plans to stay another 2½ years, the limit advised for white people working in the climate.

LIBYA

The Libyan Government has reversed its recent decision to cancel the visa of Brother Bob Douglas, who has been preaching for the church in Benghazi, and has granted him a permanent resident visa which will allow him to continue his missionary work there.

MALAYA

Recent reports from Malaya tell of the baptism of seven persons in Singapore, two at Muar, two at Kluang, and one at Kuala Lumpur.

FRANCE

Brother Jacques Marchal, who was forced to leave his home and coffee plantation in the Congo 18 months ago, has again left his job — managing a moving company in Toulouse, France, but this time for a different reason. Brother Marchal, who was converted to Christ after coming to Toulouse from the Congo, is now giving his full time to preaching the gospel.

CHILE

The church in Santiago is making plans for a gospel meeting this month to mark the third anniversary of its establishment. Brother Ruben Casanga will be the speaker. Plans are also underway for a summer encampment and meeting to be held at El Tabo, and a South American Bible Lectureship to be held in August. Brother Avart Pickhartz reports that 34 persons were baptized in Santiago during 1961, and that two families went out from the Santiago church to work with churches in other countries: the Oscar Aguilars to Lima, Peru, and the Atilio Pintas to Caracas, Venezuela.

PPERU

The Aguilars, mentioned above, arrived in Lima in June, 1961, to begin work with the small nucleus of Christians already meeting there. The congregation now numbers 13, including 3 Peruvians, 3 Chileans, and 7 North Americans. The work is supported by churches in Toquepala and Talara, Peru.

URUGUAY

During 1961 there were 13 baptisms in Montevideo, the only South American church which does not have North American members. Also, one was restored to fellowship who had been baptized by an American missionary in 1953. Bro. Juan Urriola preaches full-time for the church in Montevideo.

BOLIVIA

At present there is no known church after the New Testament order meeting in this South American country, except for one American couple transferred to La Paz in September from Guayaquil, Ecuador, who worship in their own home. The church in Fayetteville, Arkansas, plans to support an extended effort to increase the church in Bolivia beginning in March when a native preacher will move there from Santiago, Chile.

BRAZIL

Four more have been baptized recently in Sao Paulo.

NYASALAND

Brother and Sister Presnell Higginbotham and their four children left New York by air January 15 and are now at work with the nine congregations which have been established in recent months in the area around Lilongwe, Nyasaland. They will be joined June 1 by the Doyle Gilliam family who are returning for their second tour of duty there after a vacation in the States.

Brother Higginbotham has been preaching for the past ten years in Pennsylvania, and will be under the oversight of the elders of the Harris and Irving Streets church in San Angelo, Texas. A number of small congregations in Indiana, his home state, also plan to send support to him.

SOUTHERN RHODESIA

The Loy Mitchell family left Nhowe Mission February 15 to return to the States on furlough after four years in Southern Rhodesia. It is their plan to return after Bro. Mitchell has completed his graduate studies at Abilene Christian College.

ENGLAND

New Testament Christianity, in varying degrees, has been in England for many years. Although several individuals have fought hard for a restoration of the New Testament faith, the way has been hard; and there remain only a few faithful congregations.

Against this background, however, 1961 may prove to have been a comparatively eventful year. While much work has been done during the past year, only the following highlights are given:

1. The Ince-in-Makefield (Lancashire) congregation moved into a new building which was constructed at great sacrifice to the Christians there. Frank Worgan, an English Evangelist recently back from work in the Netherlands, is working with this congregation.

2. The Melton (Suffolk) congregation was given impetus in the coming of Robert Wingfield to work with it. Servicemen from the Bentwaters air base worship at Melton, and a good work is now going there.

3. The King's Lynn (Norfolk) congregation began in 1961 in a more concrete way. Peter Wilson of Bellflower, California, came to live and work in King's Lynn, a move long desired and worked for by several

THERE ARE NO FAILURES . .

M. Norvel Young

There are no failures in gospel meetings if the gospel is preached and even if only one person hears it. The gospel is the power of God. It will bless the one who preaches it and the one who hears it.

Some brethren have failed to prepare for a gospel meeting and have been disappointed in the interest shown. They compare this interest to former meetings and conclude that the day of great gospel meetings is over. I do not believe that the gospel has lost any of its power nor that there is not a dire need for more preaching of it. In the last few years the gospel has been preached to larger crowds than attended twenty years ago. It is true that more work is required to get attention of people than it did in the days before TV, automobiles, radio and movies. There are more distractions, but we have more workers available than the churches had fifty years ago. We have better buildings and more cars to use to bring friends. There are more people living near most of our church buildings.

What we lack is faith and hope and love. Faith in God and Christ and the Holy Spirit. Hope in heaven. Love of God and the lost sheep God loves.

Remember, there are no failures in gospel meetings if the gospel is preached and only one person hears it. A gospel meeting is a time for sowing the marvelous divine seed in immortal hearts. Results may be slow in coming but the word will not return void if it is preached in humility and power and love.

A gospel meeting is also a wonderful occasion for harvesting the seed sown in previous sermons whether those sermons have been from the pulpit or in the home or by example of dedicated Christians. Satan has a better opportunity to steal the seed when a week passes between sermons. When sinners hear a number of moving sermons in one week, the pull of Christ is greater & the gravitational pull of the world is less. The intensification of spiritual effort in one week may serve to win some soul who has been postponing action for years. We must not forget the fact that the gospel appeals to the heat as well as to the mind and the will.

In the third place, a gospel meeting is a wonderful time for building up the saints in the most holy faith. We need to exhort one another. The strongest Christians need to be stirred up by the way of remembrance. An intensive week of preaching Christ, singing praises of God, praying and having fellowship with the brethren strengthens the church. Let us never think that older Christians do not need to be encouraged, reproved, instructed, yet, and even rebuked by the Word of God faithfully proclaimed.

From where I sit the churches which are growing the most spiritually as well as numerically are churches which are continuing to give much time and prayer and effort to gospel meetings.

Many of them are having two meetings a year as the Broadway Church in Lubbock has done for two decades. Some meetings are designed especially to edify the church but most of them are aimed at converting the sinner and reclaiming the Christian out of duty.

Let us have more and better gospel meetings. There are no failures when the gospel of Christ is preached.

PORTAGE CHURCH PROGRAM ANNOUNCED

We begin a 10 day meeting with Bro. Stephen Ennis, Estevan, Sask. doing the preaching, Feb. 25th. This is an exchange meeting with Bro. Vidler going to Estevan for a meeting in May.

Dates for our Vacation Bible Camp at Lake Manitoba has been set for July 9th to 16th. We expect Bro. and Sis. Dale Smith of Eau Claire, Wis. to be with us again for the 3rd year. We need teachers and counsellors. Why not plan your vacation then and help us?

Plans are being made for the official opening of our building and a city-wide campaign for the week of August 13th to 20th. Accommodations for 35 workers have been reserved at a private camp on the lake. If you are interested in helping in a campaign, we would be glad to hear from you.

Attendance reached 30 last Sunday. With warmer weather we hope to have 50 in our classes by June. If we do we will be having teacher problems. Four of seven members here are now teaching classes, and two more will be soon. Bro. Vidler has three cottage meetings in progress now. A survey is also being made of all the area near the meeting house and a card file system has been set up in order to keep records of those interested.

HELP PREACH CHRIST IN QUEBEC

About two years ago a young French Canadian said to me, during a visit to Quebec City, "What we need in this province is a religion that preaches Christ". When we come to realize how far the people of Quebec are removed from Christ, this statement becomes so meaningful. Surely, this should be our challenge to make every effort to preach Christ to the 5,000,000 souls in Canada's largest province.

Although the work of the Master has had a relatively small beginning in Montreal, His providential care over the past five years has given the brethren much optimism and courage for the future.

Looking Over 1961

1961 was a banner year for the church in Montreal. The congregation was able to move their meetings from the YMCA building to their own modest, yet commodious, meeting house in the excellent suburb of Lachine. This move brought many new opportunities to the work. A Bible lectureship, a gospel meeting, and a very successful vacation Bible school gave strength and encouragement to the Cause. Two precious souls were baptized into Christ, and four members moved into the area, to begin worshipping with us. Financial support was promised for the year by several congregations and individuals. The many out-of-town visitors and new local contacts for teaching have been greatly encouraging. A local newspaper and a prominent radio station gave free announcements of our services each week.

So Far In 1962

The congregation begins the new year with about 15 members. Already, one has been added through baptism, and four Christians have moved into the area. The morning attendance has reached 29, with a contribution of $73.00 (the local brethren are assuming more financial responsibility, which is always a good sign). There are hopes of other members moving in later this year. Brother B. F. Haynie of Huntingdon, Tenn. is spear-heading a gospel campaign with 20-30 workers for the later part of June.

Why Not Move Here?

You, as a Christian, could be of tremendous assistance to the work, by securing employment in Montreal. School teachers, nurses, office workers, engineers, and accountants are always in demand. More Americans than ever before are moving to Montreal. Think it over God needs you in this part of His Vineyard. Contact the Church of Christ, 760 - 44th Ave., Lachine, Quebec.

of the American servicemen on the near-by bases. A fine work is now under way in King's Lynn.

4. The Weathersfield (Essex) congregation has taken some significant steps in '61. As a result of hard work and diligent planning, Ralph Limb, an English Evangelist, is to begin work with them in early '62.

5. The Wembley (Middlesex) congregation was begun in '61, and a three-week campaign resulted in some 20 additions. The Hillsboro (Nashville, Tenn.) congregation is supporting E. P. Lake and C. Philip Slate to work as evangelists in Wembley, an area in the Northwestern part of greater London.

Plans are underway to broadcast the Herald of Truth program over Radio Luxemberg this year. Since many of the English people listen to the programs on this station we hope to reap some benefit from the effort. Robert Wingfield is to handle the correspondence for the British Isles, and any contact will be sent to the nearest congregation.

The Aylesbury (Buckinghamshire) congregation, long hampered by grossly inadequate meeting places, is scheduled to get into its new building in '62. This will mean much not only to the congregation at Aylesbury, but to the work in England. The Aylesbury congregation, with Len Channing as an evangelist, was most helpful in starting the Wembley congregation. Several congregations are planning gospel meetings (here called "missions") and other sessions for training purposes. — by Philip Slate in the Christian Chronicle.

RECORD CROWDS ATTEND G.L.C.C. BIBLE LECTURESHIP

The 1962 Great Lakes Lectureship Program, held January 23-26 was attended by the largest crowds in the nine year history of this activity. The weather was crisp, clear and sunny. Also, encouraging a good attendance were the ample facilities of the Beamsville Church building where all the lectures were held. The meeting house was filled three times each day. In the evening it was filled to capacity, building up to a packed house of 315 the last evening. During the day, special classes and discussions were held. The numbers attending these lectures were more than double those any previous year.

Several new activities made the lectures more memorable for those who attended. A special series was conducted for women, with the speakers being Sister Otis Gatewood, Louise Hartwigsen, and Frances Merritt. Nearly 50 ladies were present each day. Time was scheduled for a "Reports from the Field" period for the various evangelists working in mission points in the area. This proved highly stimulating and informative. A special series designed for preachers was conducted each morning for between 20 and 30 preachers in addition to other brethren present.

The theme of the lectures was, "The Restoration of New Testament Christianity." Emphasis was placed upon the need for applying the restoration principles to the problems of the 20th century. Thus, the morning lecture series, which included as speakers Ramon Mendez, Michigan Christian College; John Whitfield, Owen Sound; William Nichols, Bradford, Pennsylvania, and Wesley Jones, Bowling Green, Kentucky, dealt with the topic "Early Christian Faith in Action Today." The afternoon lecture series consisted of studies of Restoration leaders in the 19th century by Eugene Perry, G.L.C.C.; Earle West, Cleveland, Ohio; Wesley Jones and Carroll Ellis. The evening lectures developed the major theme, "The Restoration of New Testament Christianity." The leading speakers for this series were Max T. Neel, evangelist from Utica, New York and Carroll B. Ellis, Director of Speech Department, David Lipscomb College. Others who conducted studies were Walter Dale and Geoffrey Ellis of G.L.C.C. and Bob Scott of Syracuse, New York.

Visitors came from as far as 500 miles, from Quebec, and the U.S.A. The warm fellowship and inspiration present was especially appreciated by brethren who work and worship in the small and scattered congregations of the mission field of the North East U.S. and Eastern Canada.

OUR DEPARTED

MRS. GEORGE CAMPBELL

Sister Campbell was born Catharine Boyd on May 21, 1884, at Listowel, Ontario. She married George Campbell in 1904 and to this union seven children were born. They all survive their mother along with the bereaved husband.

The Campbells moved to Saskatchewan in 1910 and resided on farms in several districts up till 1950 when they moved into Moose Jaw.

Sister Campbell passed to her reward on February 13, 1962 and was buried on Saturday, February 17th. Beside her husband and seven children she left to mourn her demise 15 grandchildren, 25 great grandchildren, and one sister in Neepawa, Manitoba.

Our sister obeyed the gospel under the ministry of D. A. Sinclair in 1934. In her loving, kind, quiet way she served her Master until the call came to come up higher. She loved her family and she loved her God. — J. C. Bailey

Niagara Falls, Ont.: Recent donations from churches in Tennessee have brought the building funds close to the $7,000 goal set last Fall as a minimum cash objective to be raised before being able to finance the remainder of the cost. This church is grateful to those who have helped to purchase the site and make up this fund.

London, Ont.: "The church of Christ in London has been greatly blessed during 1961. Some have been added to our small number. During the year we moved from the Y.M.C.A. to the Orange Hall so that we could start Sunday morning Bible classes for the children. The radio Broadcast from St. Thomas was started in 1961.

Churches and individuals from near and far have contributed to our land and building fund so that it looks like we will be able to go ahead with a building project in 1962. The radio contract has been signed for another year meaning that the program will be heard through May, 1963.

Brethren:

Our plans for going back to work in Africa are coming along fairly well. Our residence permits came along recently, giving us permission to enter Rhodesia.

The Regina congregation is planning on sponsoring us. We were very pleased to have them decide this. It seems easier to plan on starting out again with a church to handle our correspondence.

Our promised support is still just $145.00 per month. The Travel Fund is growing fairly steadily, but more is needed.

It is only four months till we'll have to get the trunks packed. The boat leaves Montreal on the 6th of July. Thanks for all help.

Sincerely in Christ,

Dear Brethren:

We would like to call your attention to an error in your recent article concerning the Harrison O Slaughters and their proposed entry into Thailand.

The Slaughters will be under the oversight of the elders at Mayfair church of Christ in Huntsville, Alabama. However, monthly support for the Slaughters is being raised in Lincoln and Giles counties, Tennsesee, by two part-time preachers, and the Slaughters working fund will be raised at large.

Would you like to print the stories of these two devoted part-time preachers? Both have spent several years in and around these two counties, preaching in the small congregations where their work was sorely needed.

A few months ago these two men approached the elders at Mayfair with a challenge. If the elders at Mayfair would find, sponsor, and oversee a man to go to Thailand, they, the two, would raise the necessary support.

They are to raise the money in the small congregations where they were working.

Isn't this a marvelous example of what can be done in small places if they work together? These congregations are not able to hire a full-time preacher, but they are raising the money to support a man in Thailand!

Sincerely yours,
The Elders,

MORMONS DECLINE TO HOLD A PUBLIC DISCUSSION IN TORONTO

Keith T. Thompson

At the invitation of Bro. John MacKay of the Maplewood congregation, Bro. Keith Wallace and I went to Toronto to engage in a discussion with two Mormon "elders" on the evening of January 29. Several other brethren from Maplewood were also present.

The Mormons were prepared to present one of their customary lessons and we said we would like to ask a question first. We stated that we had heard several of their representatives make the claim that the Book of Mormon has never been changed since the original edition, with the exception of division into chapters and verses. We asked if this was their view. They strongly affirmed that it was.

We then produced the lithographic reprint of the original edition of the Book of Mormon, which has recently been produced. Reprinted under the title, Joseph Smith Begins His Work, the new edition is an exact photographic reproduction of the original 1830 edition. (This reprint is available from the Gospel Herald at $5.95 per copy.) We asked them to look up several passages in their copies of the Book of Mormon and compare them with those in the original edition. Attention was called to the title-page of the book. The original states "By Joseph Smith, Junior, Author And Proprietor." The current edition says "Translated by Joseph Smith, Jun." We also noted that a smiilar change in terminology had been made in "The Testimony of Eight Witnesses." It was pointed out that any change in a testimony makes that testimony null and void. Next, page 25 of the original edition was referred to where the words are found as follows: "Behold, the virgin which thou seest, is the mother of God . . ." The edition possessed by the Mormons read " . . . mother of the Son of God . . ." (1 Nephi 11:18). On the same page we read "behold the Lamb of God, yea, even the Eternal Father!" Their edition inserted the words "the Son of" in between "yea" and "even". Following are some other changes we referred to. First (a) we list the reading in the original edition and the page number; then (b) the reading in the current edition and the reference.

(a) "that the Lamb of God is the Eternal Father" p. 32. (b) "that the Lamb of God is the Son of the Eternal Father" 1 Nephi 13:40.

(a) "yea decreath unto them decrees which are unalterable" p. 303. (b) omitted in later editions. Alma 29:4.

(a) "king Benjamin" p. 200. (b) Changed to "king Mosiah". Mosiah 21:28.

(a) "Jesus Christ . . . the Son of the only begotten of the Father" p. 236. (b) "the Son, the only begotten of the Father" Alma 5:48.

These are just a few of the changes that have been made from the original edition of the Book of Mormon. In an excellent series of articles on "A Review of the Reprint of the Original Book of Mormon" in the Firm Foundation, Hal Hougey wrote that one man had found 12,349 changes. How ridiculous then is this claim that no changes have been made.

The Mormon "elders" did not know what to say regarding these changes. They could only assert that the whole thing was something gotten up by anti-Mormons. But we showed them that the reprint was an exact photographic reproduction of the original 1830 edition. Further, we showed them that it was printed by the Deseret News Press, a Mormon publishing house of Salt Lake City, Utah.

After a discussion of several other issues we suggested that a public discussion be arranged. Both the young men were enthusiastically in favour of such a thing. They were sure it could be arranged. They were even willing for it to run several nights. But they wanted us to leave "that book out of it" (the reprint of the original Book of Mormon).

However, we have since had word that they are unwilling to engage in a public discussion because it "might defame the church".

A NEW APPROACH TO UNDERSTANDING THE BIBLE

This unusual series of Bible studies is excellent for youth and adult classes alike. It presents the Bible in a panorama of living and helpful lessons which will enrich the soul. Designed to enhance every Bible student's knowledge and love of this sacred book.

PANORAMIC VIEWS OF THE BIBLE by Wyatt Sawyer was written with a specific need in mind. It was written to present both an analytical study of the Bible book by book and to help fit Bible information into place. Some believe the Bible is one continuous story from Genesis to Revelation. They need to see, by virtue of the dates, that the books of Poetry and Prophecy were written during the time of the books of History, etc. They should know that the story of the O.T. ends at Nehemiah. Bible students need to know who wrote each book, when, to whom and for what purpose. Until a student knows these simple fundamentals he is not started well in his studies.

The Old Testament is divided into two books priced at 60c each. The New Testament is all in Book III and is priced at 75c. Each class should start with Book I and study Book II and Book III in order to get a panoramic view of the entire Bible. The purpose page in the books explains the two ways this course is most popularly taught.

Edinburgh, Scotland: "I have wondered if there are brethren with contacts in the Edinburgh area. I am sure that this could very well be so. Bro. Paterson put us in touch with his cousin while he was here, and while owing to her health she has been unable to attend church we have kept up a program of visiting in her home and her interest in the church has been renewed. I am sure that this could also be true of other brethren in Canada. We would be glad to have the names and addresses of any people who might have some contact with the church no matter how remote.

"GOSPEL MEETINGS ARE USELESS!"

Jim Hawkins, Victoria, B.C.

Have you heard that statement before? I have, and I imagine that you have heard it too. Maybe you have made it yourself. But I don't agree with it, and I want to tell you why.

Many of you can remember the time between the turn of the century and the 1930's, when fantastic results were obtained in Gospel meeting work. We remember, either personally or by hearing others tell of it, how our older and pioneer Canadian preachers would go into an area that had never heard the Gospel. They would get there in the afternoon; stop at the General Store and tell a few people about the meeting to be held in such-and-such a schoolhouse, or Joe Brown's barn. Then they would get on the telephone (if they had them), ring the fire alarm, tell everyone: "Big meeting over at such-and-such - begins tonight". The advertising was finished.

The first night there would be maybe 20 or 30 people there. The next night there would be twice that many. The meeting would continue for two, three, four or more weeks, until the interest began to dwindle. When the preacher would leave town, he would leave behind a congregation of two or three dozen or more members of Christ's body.

But, we will all admit, that things have changed now. We are living, in many respects, in a drastically different age. Now, if we tried to go into an area and hold a series of meetings like the one I just mentoned, it would be an A-1 flop. It has been tried, and they were failures. And so too many of us have been prone to sit back, yawn, and say: "Gospel meetings are useless". And the feeling is generally the same about all of our preaching: "We do it because the Lord told us to, but it really doesn't do much good."

I mentioned that we are living in a different age. True, the people are the same now as then. They are sinners just like they were then. They need the Gospel now just like they did then. But on the other hand, transportation and communication are faster and quicker than ever before. Every form of diversion and entertainment imagineable are appealing for men and women's time. Even when they are home for a few minutes, radio, television, and a barrage

FROM DEATH UNTO LIFE

Lynn Anderson,
Salmon Arm, B.C.

Hiding her shame behind the dark garments of the mourning heavens, earth trembled then began to quake violently. A wail of agony rose through the gloom beyond the city wall. Against the lightnings on Golgotha's brow a silhouetted cross displayed its tragic burden — the body of Jesus. To the scattered remnant of the Lord's followers, the Crucifixion appeared to be the personification of crushing, hollow defeat. Yet, scarcely three days later, God showed that it was actually the birth pang of the world's greatest triumph. Life stirred within a rock-hewn tomb and the same Jesus burst into the world more alive than he had been before. On a bright Sunday morning two thousand years ago the cry rang out, "He is risen". With such enthusiasm was this news received that it has echoed down through the centuries and falls audibly upon our ears today.

Christianity hinges upon the fact of our Lord's return from the dead. You ask, "Why?" The answer is at least two-fold.

First: LIVING FAITH is based upon the divinity of Jesus. If not divine, He was a cruel hoax. The

MORE ON MISSION WORK

Bethel W. Bailey
Sudbury, Ontario

"They went everywhere preaching the word." A wonderful expression of dedication and loyalty to the command of Christ, but possibly not as voluntary as it would seem. The commission of Christ was to: "Go into all the world and preach the gospel." The early Christians, however, hesitated to leave the association of other Christians to take the Gospel beyond the confines of Jerusalem. "And there arose on that day a great persecution against the church at Jerusalem; and they were scattered abroad throughout the regions of Judea and Samaria." God moves in a mysterious way His wonders to perform. Persecution is far from being desirable, but if it could accomplish something of the same divine purpose, then we should pray for a little persecution.

Through the Church

The Church is divinely appointed to mission work. 'To the intent that now unto the principalities and the powers in the heavenly places might be made known through the Church the manifold wisdom of God." In contrast, we have a few dedicated workers attempting to plant the Church in new places. Such efforts are doomed to a long, and difficult struggle, because of insufficient members to set up a workable program. Enough male members are needed to establish a consistent pattern of worship.

It is almost impossible to convince the religious world that instrumental music is not necessary in the worship, without a sufficient number to sing and make melody. The preacher needs the stimulation that can only be obtained from other Christians. Sunday School teachers are needed and personal workers. To those who have membership with an established congregation, I ask you to imagine yourself: directing the Sunday School, selecting the hymns, and leading them, occasionally waiting on the Lord's Table, always the speaker, whether sick or not. During the week: Doing all of the personal work, visiting the sick, taking care of all the correspondence, and in some cases making constant pleas for support. I ask you, is it any wonder that progress is often negligible?

Should Be Encouraged To Move

For a number of months we have tried in vain to encourage others to move to Sudbury. In many cases we have met with disapproval. It has been suggested that it is pointless to weaken one congregation, to establish another. Begetting may have a temporary weakening affect, but new life always more than compensates for the difficulty involved. Active congregations should soon replace vacancies. If they are evangelizing their own community, migrations will be necessary to make room for new members. As Bro. Ralph Perry suggested in a recent article, every congregation should have an active mission-program.

Kill or Cure

It is not suggested, that delinquent Christians make a good foundation for a new congregation, but sometimes it has encouraging results. Weak Christians will either improve or die spiritually, when associated with a young congregation. I personally know of some cases where this proved to be so. If for no other purpose, this would be sufficient reason why the Church should be interested in expansion, but of course there is a much greater reason, one, that should we neglect it, should cause us to tremble at the thought of judgement. "Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature." Millions, still live in the darkness of sin or denominational error. Dare we suggest that we are free from obligation?

No words could better express the seriousness of our responsibility than those used by the hymn writer when he wrote:

When in a better land,
Before the Lord I stand
How deeply grieved our souls would be;
If any lost one there,
Should cry in deep despair
You never mentioned Him to me.

It Is Our Responsibility

It is past time that we awaken to the personal nature of evangelism. It is YOUR responsibility. We lament that there are so few engaged in mission work, but what else can we expect? The adequate wage offered by secular employment or "located preaching" cannot be passed up easily. Surely preachers should be willing to make sacrifices, but why more than anyone else? We place an improper valuation on mission work, when we allow insufficient support to characterize most of our efforts. Taking the gospel to the lost is the most important task in the world.

VALUABLE CRITICS

In our search for the ancient order we can be greatly aided by our critics — both friendly and otherwise.

We must not presume, of course, to have correctly solved all problems of Biblical interpretation. Nor have we completely restored — or better said, established in our own lives and congregations the Divine Pattern once and for all delivered to the saints.

Considering this, we know that we as individuals, and as a group, sometimes fall into certain ruts of shallow and incorrect teaching and living. We are sometimes blind to certain points of doctrine and manner of life for the simple reason that the light was never dawned to us on these points.

Our critics can help us to overcome these shortcomings. Solomon said, "Reprove a wise man, and he will love thee." And in another place, "He that refuseth correction despiseth his own soul; But he that hearkeneth to reproof getteth understanding." If we are wise our critics will help us grow. Let us be wise — always ready to learn greater truth from whatever source, even from the taunts of our accusers.

This article was inspired by a critic. He is a man who searches the scriptures to find the Word of Life. He believes that men should be simply Christians, followers of Christ,, not followers of some denomination to the exclusion of Christ.

I sincerely believe that on a number of points he has not yet reached the truth. However, it is also true that on a number of points he has reached a measure of truth which many (if not most) of us have not yet reached.

When he learned of "The Church of Christ" he wanted to examine it to learn whether it was "the Church of Christ" or just another denomination. These are a few questions and criticisms which came into his mind.

One of his criticisms ran something like this:

"When I first attended your worship services I was disappointed in the manner the communion was served to me. No one had taken the trouble to ask whether I was a Christian or not. Thus, the man who passed the communion had no way at all of knowing whether I was or wasn't one of the saints. Yet, his manner made it obvious that he didn't quite know whether he should pass me the emblems. He finally did pass the bread, but all the while he watched me with an eagle eye.

"I didn't partake of the bread because I didn't yet know enough about the group to know if I could be of one mind with them. Therefore, he didn't pass me the fruit of the vine when the time came for it. (And this was all right since I had refused the bread.) However, he did make sure to pass the collection basket to me when time came for that. I questioned whether these proceedings were Christian.

"I could not help but wonder if Christ himself, had He dropped in on that service, would not have been given that same eagle eye treatment, and received that same hesitant offer of communion. I doubted from this man's action that you were truly the church of Christ."

And these are a few questions he has asked regarding the church:

"Well, is this group of people actually any different from the world around them? Have they crucified self? Or are they engaged in the same rat race to exalt themselves by material gain in which those of the world are engaged?

"Are they good stewards of the money God gives them, using it all in His service? Or do they (like people of the world) get so far in debt to keep up with the Jones' or for the sake of their own fleshly comfort, ease, and vanity that they are actually servants of the mortgage company instead of servants of the Lord? Do they put the Lord first in their pocket book? Or do they give him "what is left" from "their money"?

"When a member of your congregation is sick or in need, do the others give freely of their time and money to relieve the need? Do those who have been given greater blessings help to relieve the burden of those who must always live just at the edge of want? In other words, are these people really Christian? Do they follow Christ in their earnest love for one another?

"Do they, with enthusiasm and zeal, tell all who will listen the good news about Jesus? Or, do they keep quiet about Christ, fearful of seeming odd, or afraid of being considered a fanatic? Are they truly not ashamed of the gospel?"

These are some of the questions this man asked about this little group of people who have been over in the corner of town for thirty years; who claim to be, and call themselves, Christians and the church of Christ.

How I was made to see the truth of Jesus' statement: "Ye are the salt of the earth: but if the salt have lost its savor, wherewith shall it be salted?"

Let us all be wise and learn from this rebuke. We must let our light so shine before men that they may see our good works and glorify the Father.

And also, may we ever listen with a humble heart to criticisms of truth, whatever the source, whether from friend or from foe.

How many people do you know who seem vitally interested in Christianity?

One reason you do not know more of them is that you yourself do not speak more about it to your neighbours. On the other hand, it is true that most of your neighbours would rather not discuss the subject. Talk about the weather, sports, politics and education to the men; discuss homemaking, children, gardening and recipes with the women. These are all food for conversation in polite society. But the greatest prize that one can aspire to and work for is an embarassing subject to most. Through all society there runs a conspiracy of silence as far as one's religion is concerned.

The man who refuses to speak about his hope of heaven because of social pressure is a coward. Physical cowards we can tolerate but never admire; moral cowards we detest. How often all of us are guilty of such weakness! What is cowardice in the other fellow we consider practicality in ourselves!

When Peter, under pressure, denied his relationship with the Lord, it no doubt seemed practical to him to do so. When Pilate washed his hands to denote his neutrality in the judgement of the Galilean peasant before him, he desired to be practical. Often the difference between cowardice and common sense seems to be balanced to the weight of a hair. It is so easy in such cases to be silent and to rationalize our action by the consideration that we are just being practical.

If the 3,000 or more Christians in Canada were all courageous enough to speak of their faith daily, what a powerful witness for truth that would be! We spend thousands of dollars yearly for newspaper space and radio time, and these are powerful media for the propogation of the gospel. But the effects of such efforts can not compare with the potential effect of great truths spoken with conviction from humble lips. Peter summed up our responsibility very neatly when he wrote: "But sanctify in your hearts Christ as Lord: being ready always to give answer to every man that asketh you a reason concerning the hope that is in you, yet with meekness and fear" (I Peter 3.15). Here the sanctified heart, the prepared intellect, and the ready tongue are all to be combined for an effective witness.

In many cases, Christians do not sound out their convictions to their friends because they have no real convictions. They hold to Christianity on the basis that it may be true after all and hence is good "fire insurance". It has not captivated their whole allegiance. Their thoughts and even their prayers are clouded with doubt. It is a representative of this class whom James denounces as "a double-minded man, unstable in all his ways" (James 1:8). Such are not raw material for martyrs.

In the Sermon on the Mount, Jesus uttered a great thought concerning anxiety for the future: "Be not therefore anxious for the morrow: for the morrow will be anxious for itself" (Matt. 6:34). He meant simply that we should live one day at a time without worry. Many have seen fit to substitute for this principle a concept that seems similar but is carnal in its origin and its fruits. The Epicureans had an expression, "carpe diem," which meant "sieze the day", or in fuller expression, "Eat, drink, and be merry, for tomorrow you may die." Persons holding this view of life may be nominal Christians, but they will not be concerned with warning others concerning the need for salvation.

We are impressed with the number of people in Canada who do not know that the church of Christ is in existence. Many people seem surprised when they hear what we teach. It is a little embarrassing when we answer their questions as to how long the church has been in the country. One hundred and forty years - or more - have not produced spectacular numbers. We are convinced that one of our weaknesses has been the reluctance or inability on the part of many to

MAKE THEM MISSION-MINDED

H. Ralph Perry,
London, Ontario

A continuation from last month of ideas to place the great challenge of world evangelism before your pupils.

IV Use Your Bulletin Board

Teachers should use their bulletin boards for attractive missionary displays. Maps, pictures of workers, buildings, native congregations and life, flage and letters can be used very effectively to interest children and young people in mission work. Where possible pupils should be used to help in this by collecting materials and writing to missionaries for information and photos.

V. Prepare Table Top Displays

Prepare a missionary interest center in your classroom. Articles from foreign lands, such as oriental hats, jungle machetes, native baskets and carvings can be used to interest pupils in foreign evangelism. Today there are many plastic models of foreign peoples, animals, and articles to be assembled and painted. (I have a Nigerian Ibo mask and a Dutch boy. There are many churches among the Ibo people). Some students could take this kind of work up as an interesting hobby and furnish colourful items for display.

Teachers and students can work together to make three-dimensional scenes of African village, Eskimo and Indian life, and Oriental scenes. All of these can be used to keep the challenge of missions before your class.

VI Charts and Posters

Bible teachers interested in missionary emphasis have made many attractive and impressive posters and charts to help them. In one a poor starving boy in Hong Kong is pictured beside an American boy with all his plenty. Another located the church on a map and footsteps led out in four directions to an African village, a native Japanese by Mt. Fuji, an Eskimo by his igloo, and an Indian by his teepee. Still another pictured eyes, hands, ears, lips, and feet with the caption that Jesus has no eyes to see the need but ours, etc. These were for primary children.

One teacher in Toronto had a class of Junior girls who had come from different countries of Europe. She put a picture of the girls around a map. A ribbon reached from each to her native country. Emphasis was placed on spreading the gospel in these areas.

VII Plan A Missionary Project

Already we have suggested bulletin board and table displays to emphasize missions. These could well be class projects.

Other projects could be collecting for the church good used clothing and teaching materials to be sent to missionaries.

Young people's classes could easily collect materials and make bulletin board displays of the church's work for the whole church. This could deal just with the local churches mission work or the work of God's people throughout the world. This would take much time and planning but it has been done in an impressive manner.

Some churches have co-operated with a class of children to send their contributions to care for orphans in Italy and Hong Kong. Pictures of the orphan are posted and a real thrill is experienced by the children as they give to help the needy.

VIII Sing And Pray

There are some excellent songs with missionary emphasis as the theme. These could be sung in the classrooms by the little tots and young people. Songs help to inspire us to greater loyalty and action. The children love, "Jesus Loves The Children of the World". For young people and adults there is: "We've A Story To Tell To The Nations."

Teachers and pupils alike should learn to pray for missionaries and the success of the work they are engaged in.

We could present other thoughts but conclude by saying, "Let us use all means to make our pupils (2 years to 100) mission-minded." Teach mission emphasis from the Bible. Use visual-aids. Have your class write to missionaries and pray for them. Sing missionary songs in your class. This missionary emphasis in the Bible school will go a long way towards preparing the needed missionaries to evangelize the world for Christ. It will also prepare those at home to send them.

LIFE AND DEATH

Lloyd G. Snure, Hamilton, Ontario

(Bro. Snure is an elder of the Fennel Avenue congregation in Hamilton, Ontario. He has long been a source of strength and zeal to the Lord's work in that city. RDM)

This is a brief review of some of the teaching in the United Church publication "A Study of Life and Death." The booklet under review is 126 pages in length and was written at the instruction of the sixteenth General Council of the United Church. This council met in Sackville, N.B, in September, 1954. The committee was composed of 43 preachers and educators of the United Church. Their study was published in 1959.

The book is not written with the degree of confidence or sureness which one would expect on the subjects dealt with. The following expressions are found repeatedly in the arguments set forth:

"It is not conceivable?"

"These passages do not exclude such a possibility."

"It is in harmony with basic Christian principles."

"Is any other view really consistent."

"It is difficult to see how Paul can mean anything by these words except . . . "

Let us notice some passages from the book that show the attitude of its writers toward the New Testament.

"It is possible to hold therefore that the picture of the resurrection in 1 Thess. 4:13-17 belongs to Paul's early days and that he appears to have discarded it at a later date in favour of a more mature view of the resurrection." Martin Luther came up with the idea of justification by faith only, but because the book of James taught differently, he rejected it. The United Church finds difficulty with their ideas of the resurrection in the First Epistle to the Thessalonians, hence seek to discredit the authority of Paul's teaching in this book.

"We are faced with the fact that there are passages which seem to contradict each other." "The Bible does not clearly and explicitly reconcile these views. Paul was using the thought-forms of his day to say two things concerning what happens at death." These statements are examples of the methods that modernisic teachers use to explain away the force of plain statements in the New Testament.

What are the ideas of life and dea.h set forth in the book? "The idea that man consists of two separable parts, soul and body, does not come from the Bible: It comes from the Greek philosophers." "Man, as created by God is a body Spirit person." The following passages of the Bible make the error of the foregoing opinion very evident:

"Then shall the dust return to the earth as it was and the spirit shall return unto God who gave it." (Eccl. 12:17).

"Who knoweth the spirit of man that goeth upward and the spirit of the beast that goeth downward." (Eccl. 3:21).

"Father, into thy hands I commend my spirit." (Luke 23:46).

"Lord Jesus, receive my spirit." (Acts 7:59).

"As the body without the spirit is dead, so faith apart from works is dead." (James 2:26).

"I saw the souls of them that had been beheaded for the testimony of Jesus." (Rev. 20:4). If this meant the whole individual, it would have read, "I saw those who had been beheaded."

The booklet under review sets forth the likelihood of a universal salvation. It does so, however, in a way that suggests that all of the members of the committee were not in agreement on this teaching. Two quotations on this subject follow:

"It is the ultimate purpose of God that at last his glory shall be fully manifested in the universe, and acknowledged by every creature." "How can God be God if even one soul is lost?" Whether or not this is a true picture of what is to be we cannot be certain, but some of us hold this hope because we believe in this kind of a God."

Now we shall see what the Bible says on this subject:

"For if the word spoken by the angels was steadfast and every transgression and disobedience received a just recompense of reward, how shall we escape if we neglect so great a salvation." (Heb. 2:2,3).

"If so be that it is a righteous thing with God to recompense affliction to them that afflict you." (2 Thess. 1:6).

"Knowing therefore the terror of the Lord, we persuade men." (2 Cor. 5:11).

"If the righteous is scarcely saved, where shall the ungodly and the sinner appear." (1 Peter 4:18).

"He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved. He that believeth not shall be condemned." (Mark 16:16).

"Blessed are they that do his commandment that they may have a right to enter in through the gates into the city." (Rev. 22:14).

What are the views of this committee concerning heaven and hell?

"Heaven is best described as the dwelling place of God and is the place or state after death of fellowship with God and with one another of those who have been raised to eternal life."

"Hell is best described as separation from God and is the place or state after death of final loss of fellowship with God and with his redeemed. To find oneself separated from God with its accompanying sense of loss and torture of remorse is Hell, while to be in heaven is to be with God and with his redeemed."

What does the Bible say on this subject? Here are a few passages that deal with it:

"And these shall go away into eternal punishment: but the righteous into eternal life." (Matt. 25:-46).

"And if I go and prepare a place for you, I come again and will receive you unto myself, that where I am, there ye may be also." (John 14.3).

"Beloved, now are we children of God, and it is not yet made manifest what we shall be. We know that if he shall be manifested, we shall be like him; for we shall see him even as he is." (I John 3:2).

THE LETTER TO ROME

(2nd in a series)

E. D. Wieb, Weyburn, Sask.

The writer of the letter to Rome, Paul, introduces the theme of his entire epistle in the first chapter verses sixteen and seventeen. "For I am not ashamed of the gospel: for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth: to the Jew first and also to the Greek. For therein is revealed the righteousness of God from faith unto faith: as it is written, 'But the righteous shall live by faith'."

From this point on the plan of the apostle is to prove this sweeping statement. The reader will do well to stop just here and read again the stirring message of chapters one and two which will be the subject of this article.

Let us realize that at the time of this letter the Jewish people knew only two divisions in humanity. There was the Jew and the Gentile (Greek). All of the human race could be classified under these two headings. To the Jew, this meant that there were two classes under God, the circumcised and the uncircumcised, the people of God and those who were no people. We recall the difficulty which the apostles experienced in convincing the Jews that Christianity was an international faith and not a national religion (see Acts 15).

Now then, Paul has stated that both Jews and Greeks need saving and that the Gospel is for all. Can he establish his thesis?

The writer's first concern is with the Gentiles. Are they unrighteous? If so, on what basis. Can those who do not have the law be judged guilty? Here, then, is the age old question of the pagan in the jungle. Is he responsible before God? If so, of what is he guilty?

The apostle first teaches that God has revealed and does reveal himself to all men (v. 20). This coincides with David's psalm: "The heavens declare the glory of God and the firmament showeth his handiwork." Thus mankind shares the common privilige of divine self-revelation. Man, however, continues the apostle, does not choose to honour the creator but rather chooses to worship the creature. Thus pagan idolatry is in itself a condemnation of man. This perversion of worship by man leads him to live a Godless existence and the natural consequence is a perversion of human relationships. Thus does man add at least fifteen manners of evil which are listed by Paul. Paganism is then a result of man's unwillingness to know God and as a result man is separated from Him and is in dire need of a Saviour.

From a blanket description of the "lostness" of the Gentiles, the writer turns to the Jew. The fact that some men may not have gone into idolatrous paganism but have continued to know God's will does not give them the privilege of self-righteousness. A persons knowledge of God's will does not make him righteous. One cannot confuse the knowledge of good with the doing of good. It is a case of Pharisaism and hypocrisy which leaves Jews (and Christians) without excuse.

God's standard of judgement is to be the same for pagan and Jew. The pagan will not be judged by the law for he never had it. He will be judged according to the standard of right and wrong under which he lived. He will, however, be found guilty for "there is none righteous no not one." He will be guilty by his own conscience and his own law and will need the redemptive power of Christ.

The Jew on the other hand will be tried and found guilty by the law of God for "not the hearers of the law are just before God, but the doers of the law." (2:13) voice their convictions.

Someone has said, "It does not take much of a man to make a Christian, but it takes all of him there is." When all of us give our all to Christ all of the time in all circumstances, then we shall begin to reap a harvest of souls beyond our wildest dreams. May God hasten that day. — R.D.M.

FROM DEATH UNTO LIFE

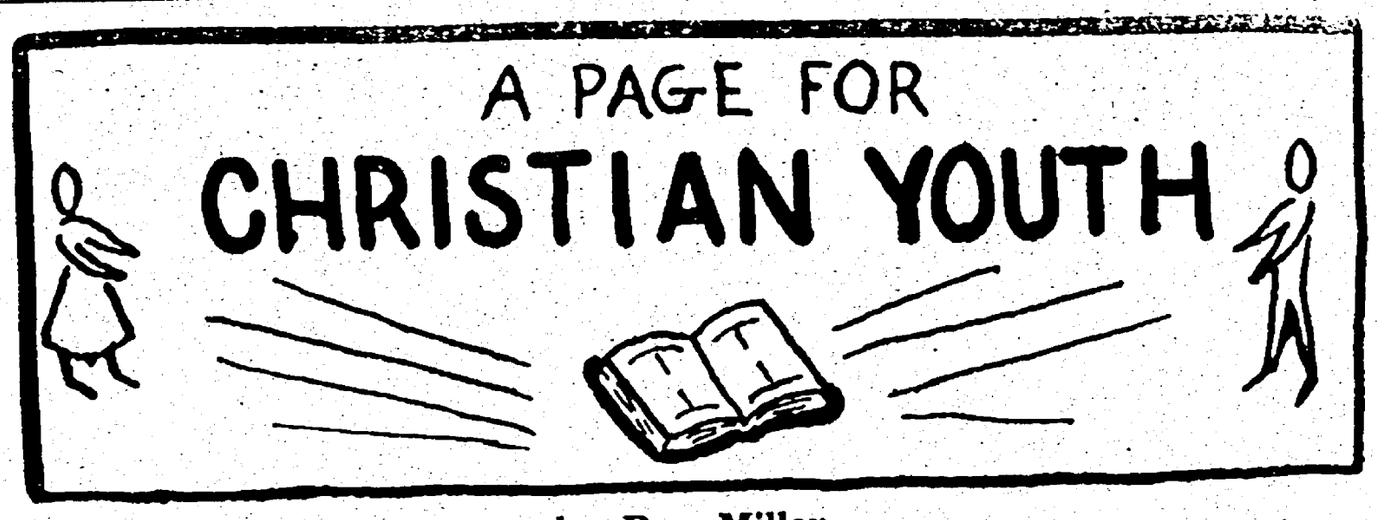
resurrection of Christ declares unwaveringly that Jesus of Nazareth was God incarnate. Many men have spent their lives as itinerant preachers of unpopular philosophies. Thousands, besides this young Jew, met death on the Roman cross. But only one burst the shackles of the grim reaper, never to die again. "Truly this was the Son of God."



Second: LIVING HOPE is based upon God's power to give life after death. When Christ emerged from the grave, He thereby demonstrated God's power over death. Time bears away all her sons, and sadly, their memory also. Life's shadows would be unbearably dark if the cold, lonely confines of a forgotten tomb were all to which one could look forward beyond the pale of human existence. Because God raised up Christ, we rest with the warm assurance that He can one day call us from death unto life. "God hath granted unto us a living hope by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead".

To the early church, the resurrection was not just the occasion for a yearly celebration. It was much more. They remembered the passion in a weekly communion service and the ressurrection was equally vital. All new converts were figuratively "raised with Christ" from the literal waters of baptism. The resurrection was the BASIS for the FAITH which gave meaning to their "todays". It was also the REASON for the HOPE which made bright their "tomorrows." God grant that we also, who ache from the stress of the 1960's, may realize how indispensable is this risen Christ.

How much more effectual our religion would be if Christ received every Lord's Day the concentrated attention that shall be focused upon Him the Sunday of April 22.

PRAYER

If you and I were asked to state what we believed to be the greatest privilege we have as Christians, no doubt there would be a great variety of answers. Most of us, I am sure, would agree that one of our greatest blessings is prayer. Through prayer God gives comfort to the sorrowful, strength to those in temptation, and wisdom in time of decision. If we have faced these and other situations and have not been the victor, perhaps it is because we have failed to see the value of believing prayer. Although we are blessed through prayer, we should not come to think of it as a welfare depot. That is to say, we should not think to pray only when we are in need. for there is yet another side to prayer.

We must not overlook the fact that through prayer we not only take our requests and petitions to God, but that we should also use prayer as a means of thanksgiving. Why not pause for an hour or so and jot down all the blessings from God that you can think of? Then consider, "Of this number, how many have I thanked God for?" When we have taken the trouble to count our blessings, we will recognize how very much we have to be thankful for, and will want to express gratitude to our Heavenly Father. Not only will we find ourselves expressing our thanks at mealtimes, but more and more frequently will we avail ourselves of prayer. Not only will this be so, but our very lives will become demonstrations of thankfulness.

There is one other aspect of prayer that we want to notice. Have we considered the wonderful privilege that we have in talking with God through prayer? We should never cease to be thankful for the fact that our Heavenly father has provided a means by which we may approach him with our petitions and thoughts of gratitude and appreciation. In order for us to see the seriousness of prayer, let us always keep in mind that praying is much more than having a conversation with an earthly friend; it is (or at least it should be) an expression of the heart to our Creator and Father in heaven. When we consider that the one to whom we are speaking is our all wise, all powerful and all knowing Father, we come to recognize the wonders and blessings of prayer.

WHO AM I?

In our last issue we had a Bible question concerning a New Testament character. The individual we were hoping you would think of is John. The Apostle John is a wonderful Bible character for young people to study. One of the things that instantly comes to our minds as we consider the life of John is his closeness with Jesus. He was one of the three chosen to witness the glories of the Transfiguration, and the agonies of Gethsemane. He was the first to reach the empty tomb after the resurrection of Jesus, and he was the first to recognize the risen Lord. From the word of God, we know that he remained faithful to the Lord, even in exile. While banished to the Isle of Patmos, he wrote the book of Revelation. History tells us that he was eventually released from exile and lived to die a natural death at a very old age.

The life of the Apostle John should prompt us to live in close fellowship with the Lord Jesus. The writings of John should motivate us to be filled with love for one another, and to constantly enjoy the sweet fellowship that is to be characteristic of Christians. The purpose of John's writing is, "that ye might believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God; and that believing ye might have life through his name." (John 20.31).

MISCELLANEA

The above word simply means a collection of miscellaneous matters, which is exactly what this section will be. We welcome to our page another poem contributed by Miss Susan Barnard, of Sarnia, Ontario. It is entitled:

THIS DAY I HAVE

This day is mine to pass along
A cheery word, a smile, a song;
To do for those I find in need
Some friendly act, some helpful deed.
Last week and yesterday have gone,
As went the floating mists of dawn;
Next week is an uncertain date,
When everything may be too late;
This day I have — may I employ
Each hour to scatter seeds of joy.

Book Reviews

Books to be reviewed in this column should be sent to Keith T. Thompson, Box 403 Beamsville, Ont., Canada.

All The Miracles of the Bible by Herbert Lockyer. Zondervan Publishing house, Grand Rapids, Mich. 480 pages, $5.95.

In this scientific age Christians are constantly confronted by those who deny the miracles of the Bible. For example, at the special convocation of Chicago University commemorating the centenary of Darwin's theory of evolution, Sir Julian Huxley rejected the first miracle, namely the creation of the universe and of man. He says that "there is no longer either need or room for supernatural beings capable of affecting the course of events in the evolutionary pattern of thought."

At such a time a new, comprehensive work on the miracles of the Bible is a welcome addition to our literature. Most volumes on the miracles deal with those found in the gospels, particularly those worked by Jesus. But, as this book reveals, there are more than 100 miracles in the Old Testament, and another 60 or more in the New Testament, apart from the 40 or so connected with Christ.

The valuable introduction discusses in order the Definition, Design, Description, Doers, Distribution, Division, Disappearance, Denial and the Defence of Miracles. Another helpful chapter deals with "The Miracle Book", showing the miracle of the Bible's inspiration, antiquity, accuracy, harmony, preservation, preparation, abiding power, and circulation.

Each of the miracles is not only described but the author also brings out spiritual applications wherever evident. These devotional expositions make this an excellent source for the speaker.

This is a book that you will want to keep handy for frequent use.

The use of good illustrations often makes the difference between a dull and an interesting sermon. Many preachers would do well to liven up their lessons with some illuminating stories. While we may not be able to use all the illustrations in this book, we will find many that we can employ.

Windsor, Ont., March 16: "We at present, have 85 members with an approximate Lord's Day school attendance of 100. We are hiring a bus to bring the children to the meeting house on Lord's Day and we hope that this will also increase attendance.

The men of the congregation have been working on the classrooms in the basement and when completed, we will have 10 classrooms there. This will be in addition to two classes conducted for adults.

Owen Sound, Ont., March 4: Last Sunday was a day of rejoicing for the congregation here when we listened to the confession of belief in Christ at the morning service and later in the day witnessed the baptism at Meaford of Mrs. Esther Smith and Mr. Tom Coontz. Both are elderly. Mr. Coontz passed his 92 birthday in January.

"Our gospel meeting with brother Connie Adams of Newbern, Tenn. is scheduled to begin the first Sunday in May.

Meaford, Ont.: Jim Ford has been appointed an elder and Milford Boyle a deacon. Donna Bumstead was baptized on February 11. Plans are going forward for the tent meeting and brother Lansdell will likely be making a tour to tell the churches about the purpose of this meeting and to encourage attendance.

Huntsville, Ont.: Mrs. Yocum was baptized on February 5. Gordon Dennis is doing a live 10 minute radio program five days a week since February 5 since there has been some difficulty in regard to the tapes by Jere Frost which were to have been used.

Sault Ste. Marie: "Sister Barbara Watson was immersed February 11. A men's training class has recently been started for better speech and more efficiency in the services of the Lord.

GLEANINGS FROM FOREIGN FIELDS

SOUTHERN RHODESIA

Brother Alex Claassen, who preached for the church at Gwanda, Southern Rhodesia, and also worked with a number of small congregations in the surrounding area, was killed in an automobile accident while returning from a visit to an African village Sunday afternoon, January 28.

Brother Claassen was well-known to a number of Canadian preachers who attended Abilene Christian College in Texas from 1948 to 1952, when Brother Claassen was also a student there. A native of the Union of South Africa, he was one of the few Christians from that country who were working as missionaries in other countries. He had gone to Southern Rhodesia in 1958 after having preached in the city of Durban in his native country.

Funeral services were held first in Bulawayo where his parents live, and another service was held February 1 at Nhowe Mission where his body was buried beside that of his little son who died while the Claassens were working at Nhowe.

Brother Dick Clark reports that six persons were baptized in the city of Salisbury during a gospel meeting in January in which Brother Loy S. Mitchell of Nhowe Mission preached. Among those baptized was an 81-year-old woman whose first contact with the church came through gospel broadcasts over the radio station in Lourenco Marques, Mozambique, some years ago.

At that time, though she and her son were interested in the church, there was no congregation in Salisbury, and they had no opportunity to learn more about the gospel. Then the son became acquainted with a young native Christian who had been taught the gospel at Nhowe Mission. They had many discussions about the Bible and Christianity. In 1961 when a preacher came from Nhowe to preach the gospel and establish a church in Salisbury, the son heard about it, attended the meetings, and was baptized. His mother began to attend the regular services shortly after. And now, at the age of 81, she has become a "babe in Christ".

PUERTO RICO

Brother James V. Owen, formerly of Florence, Kentucky, is now preaching the gospel in Puerto Rico, having been sent there by the Shamrock Shores church in Dallas, Tex. He will return to the United States late in May to fulfill some preaching appointments in Cincinnati, Ohio, and then return to Puerto Rico with his family in June.

Brother Owen has preached the gospel for some years while working as an engineer. He has spent much time in Latin American countries as a representative of his company and is well acquainted with the customs and the language. His work in those countries caused him to decide to give up secular work in order to preach the gospel there, having realized through his travels how badly the word of Christ was needed.

Brother Owen will be working in the city of San Juan with Brother Harlan Overton. He will be fully supported by the Shamrock Shore church.

PAKISTAN

It has now been just over a year since Brother Gordon Hogan arrived in Lahore, Pakistan, to preach the gospel. In that time two congregations have been established and there are 53 faithful native Christians, 34 men and 19 women. The first convert in the country, Brother Zubair Rasul, a young university graduate, has given up his secular work in order to devote full time to church work. He is being supported entirely by the members of the Lahore churches.

The Hogans will be joined very shortly by Brother and Sister J. C. Choate, formerly of Winona, Mississippi, who, after working for some months in an attempt to get visas for mission work in India, and being persistently refused them, decided to go instead to Pakistan, where the need for additional workers is very great.

The Choates left the United States February 19, and will be permitted to spend some time visiting Christians in Assam Province, India, though they will not be allowed to remain there. Afterwards they will go to Lahore to work for a while with the Hogans, and then go to Karachi, the capital of Pakistan, to establish a new work.

NIGERIA

Brother and Sister Van Tate of Colcord, Oklahoma, are completing plans to go to the Nigerian mission field.

Brother and Sister Jim Massey have completed 26 months work in Nigeria, which is longer than white persons are usually able to labor in the climate, and are returning to the United States for a six months furlough. They will then return to Nigeria.

GREECE

The hoped-for opportunity to re-establish Christ's church in Greece where it was first established early in the first century, now seems to have come. Brother Rene Cheneaux-Repond, a young German Christian who was converted in Frankfurt several years ago, is being sent to Athens for three years by the company for which he works. He is a faithful worker and is anxious that the Lord should use him in re-establshing the work in Athens. He has recently returned from Australia where he was very active with the church while working there. When he is at home in Frankfurt he preaches often for the Sachsenhausen church.

Brother Constantine Garagunis, a native Christian who was converted while a student in Berlin, will soon complete his required military service and expects to be teaching school in Athens. Another young Greek Christian, Mike Siniapiades, expects to return home as soon as he has completed his college work in the United States. The prospects look very bright as these three workers are all very zealous.

Brother Richard Walker in Berlin. is compiling a list of possible contacts in Greece for these men to begin work on. Anyone having names of friends or relatives in Greece which they would like added to the list are asked to send them to: Richard Walker, Berlin-Lichterof worldly literature are waiting to consume those few minutes, so that they neither have time to attend a Gospel meeting or to read their Bibles.

GOSPEL MEETINGS

But, because these facts are true, does it nullify the fact that "the GOSPEL is God's power to salvation"? NO! The Gospel is still God's power to salvation just as it was in the apostle Paul's day. True, many times today, it seems like our meetings are just a big failure. And so we put the blame everywhere except where it belongs. We say: "I told you a meeting wouldn't do any good. Gospel meetings are useless." Or we say: "People just don't want to hear the Gospel anymore." And so we shove the blame off on the Gospel and the people who won't hear, when it actually belongs squarely upon US.

In answering these objections, I say that Gospel meetings are NOT useless. Some examples: Bro. J. C. Bailey went down to LaFleche, Sask., and held a Gospel meeting. During and shortly after the meeting, at least ten were baptized, and two restored. The church in Lloydminster, Sask., exists today because of three or four Gospel meetings in which at least a dozen or more obeyed the Gospel in each one. Brother Lynn Anderson just completed a Gospel meeting here in Victoria in which, during and immediately after the meeting, eight obeyed the Gospel. During the summer months we often see Gospel meetings held in connection with our Bible schools in which eight or twelve or more will obey the Gospel. Does that sound to you like Gospel meetings are useless?

In answering the second objection: "People just won't come", I must admit that it is half true. People won't come if they see no reason in coming! There must be some incentive. That is what the personal visit, the home study, the cottage meeting provides. It provides the incentive. Then the Gospel meeting strengthens the things taught in the home, and provides public encouragement to obey the Gospel.

Now may I make some suggestions relative to our Gospel meetings.

First - PLAN them. Sorry to say, too many of our congregations have felt that if you write the preacher a few months in advance and he agrees to come and hold the meeting, that your planning is finished. This is wrong - your planning has just begun. Thoroughly plan your advertising and method of procedure for appealing to the people, well in advance of the meeting.

Second - PREPARE. I know that many of our congregations will begin preparing the last day of June for their meeting that begins the first day of July. But, if you haven't started preparing already for that meeting that begins July 1st, you are too late. You should have begun preparing last July 1st for that meeting this summer. But, at the least, start now. Encourage every member to WORK for the meeting - not just "invite" someone to come a day or so before the meeting begins. But encourage every member to TEACH someone the Gospel during the year before the meeting. And if they don't know how, teach them how. When that is done, we will begin to see some real Gospel meetings.

Third - PRAY. You would think the way we work in our meetings that it is the preacher that does the saving. We do the preaching, but God does the saving. And so we should pray about it. How often have we had some real good "heartfelt" prayer meetings in behalf of our Gospel meetings? Seldom, I am afraid. But I am persuaded that if we would, that then God might realize that we are beginning to really mean business with His Gospel. Ephesians 3:20 is the answer to our Gospel meetings. Let's pray about them.

And fourth - GET EXCITED. The Gospel is exciting. Let's get excited and enthusiastic about the Gospel and Gospel meetings. The Gospel saves. We have been asleep in our doldrums for too long. The sad part of this is that we have even convinced our young preachers that Gospel meetings won't work. We aren't giving them the proper incentive to develop into powerful pulpit preachers. And we are going to reap the result of this - souls lost in hell. "But we will never get excited about sowing the seed, if we don't really get excited about seeing the need."*

The Gospel is powerful. We have just been pretending to use it. Let's love it, live it, and tell it. We have a big job ahead of us in Canada. "But we will never have any faith in the mission before us, if we don't have more faith in the Master behind us."*

* Quotations by George Bailey

DAUPHIN, MANITOBA

Again we come to you readers bringing the burden of our great need in Dauphin of some family, if there should be such, that could help the church work in Dauphin. As it is now, we have no men to do any speaking, and are curtailed because of this to having meetings and Sunday School in our home. Bro. Walter Hovind has been driving 220 miles every second Friday evening for Bible study. We appreciate so much his effort, not only because of the great distance, but because he has plenty to do in Brandon as it is also a mission point.

We are anticipating a tent meeting and workers from Okla. again this summer; also a vacation school. Come and help this effort.

If anyone should be interested in this work, or knows of anyone whom we might contact, please let us know, and feel free to call on us. You will find a welcome at our homes, and we need your help in our worship service. We will give dates and further announcements when we know them.

Ethel Johnson, Sec.

HERE AND THERE

"An all out campaign, similar to the one conducted last year in London, England is being planned for Glasgow, Scotland. Bro. Fred Walker will spearhead the drive which is being conducted under the oversight of the Joywood Church of Christ in Nashville, Tenn. The dates are set for June 10 to July 1. — The Fennel Visitor.

M. J. KNUTSON TO RETURN

A Homeward Look

Needless to say, we are looking forward to greeting relatives and friends in Canada again. Our sailing date has been set for June 20th from Oslo aboard the Fred Olsen lines to England. Then from there we sail out from Southhampton aboard the Ivernia (Cunnard Lines) to arrive in Montreal on July 4th.

As most of you know, the Estevan Church of Christ have kindly consented to lead the raising of travel fund. They have in no way assumed the responsibility of bringing us home, only to help, and for this we are most grateful. This arrangement has become necessary since we do not have any church responsible for bringing us home. In a recent letter from them, they reported that $500.00 had come in so far, an estimated $2,000 is needed.

Time is swiftly passing and soon we must pay for our tickets or loose our reservations. If you have not sent your contribution may we humbly ask you to do so to-day. Send to Estevan Church of Christ, c/o Ivar Kristianson, Estevan, Sask., Canada.

M. J. Knutson

An Urgent Appeal

The Church at Estevan has undertaken to raise the return travel fund for the Knutson family in Norway. As you will recall, the Estevan congregation was in charge of raising their original travel fund and with the help of many sister congregations in Canada this was easily accomplished.

To date, we have sent out two letters to all congregations in Canada, but have heard from only a very small number of them, in a period of about seven months. The time for sailing is coming near (June 20) and to date we have about $700 of the needed $2,500 — at the present rate of contributions it will take another 18 months to raise the needed amount! Are we going to tell this family that we were happy to send them over to Norway, but we don't want them back?

Most families who are overseas in missionary work return to their homeland about every three years. The Knutson family will have been in Norway five years this summer. Their visas will expire at that time, as will their support, so you see it is a matter of necessity to return; not just a rest or a holiday, although that is well deserved as well.

Brethren, lets not procrastinate any longer, this money is needed NOW, and it is up to us to supply it. Send your generous contribution to: Church of Christ, Estevan, Box 592 — and DO IT NOW!

Returning from Norway

M. J. Knutson and family who have been engaged in mission work in Oslo, Norway since 1957 are due to return to Canada in July of this year. He will be available for work in Canada (preferably), northern States and other points will be considered. Bro. Knutson is well known to many of the churches and brethren in Canada; he has more than twenty years experience in mission field work. Why not write him NOW about your plans and needs.

Until June 10th he can be reached at Postboks 5008. Oslo. N V. Oslo. Norway. Then after that - In c/o Estevan Church of Christ, Estevan, Sask., Canada.

GOSPEL MEETING IN PORTAGE LA PRAIRIE, MAN.

By Stephen Ennis

I just finished a Gospel meeting in Portage La Prairie, Man. The meeting was from Feb. 25 through March 6th. The attendance was good considering the terrible cold with snow. There were about twelve outsiders who attended the meeting. Some attended several nights. There were no responses but some good leads were obtained.

The brethren there are doing a wonderful job. They just about have their building finished. There are only two families of the church there. Brother Floyd Vidler is the preacher at Portage and he has four in his family. The McCutcheon family has eight in it, which gives them 12 in all. They now have a Bible study attendance of 31. Brother Vidler is holding cottage classes six nights a week and is booked up for two months.

Brother Vidler is being supported by the Church of Christ in Tipton, Oklahoma. They have only been in Portage for six months.

LONDON AND OTTAWA CALLING

Canada is indeed a harvest field — ripe and ready for the reaping. All across the nation people are responding to the advertisements about the Lord's church, and begging to be taught the Gospel. All across the nation small churches are struggling valiantly to secure a foothold in rapidly growing communities. Such is the situation in the cities of Ottawa and London, Ontario.

The city of Ottawa, with a population of some 420,000, is Canada's capital. The church there is three years old, and has twenty members. Last year they completed a functional, yet beautiful building, which has been designed to facilitate later additions. The preacher is Roy Merritt, who received his Bachelor's degree from ACC.

London, with a population of approximately 165,000, is a rapidly expanding industrial centre. The church there has been meeting for about four years, and is presently composed of eleven members. As yet they do not have a building, and are worshiping in a rented hall. However, negotiations are being made for the purchase of a piece of property in one of the new subdivisions. The preacher is H. Ralph Perry, a graduate of David Lipscomb College.

Last summer a group of seven ACC students worked in Western Canada with two churches much like those in London and Ottawa. These were the churches in Salmon Arm, B.C., and in Edmonton, Alberta. The group held Vacation Bible Schools and gospel meetings, and did extensive door-to-door canvassing, as well as advertising on the local radio stations and in the newspapers. The highlight of the summer's work was the VBS in Edmonton — the largest, we believe, ever held in Canada, with an average daily attendance of 201.

This summer we hope to do much the same thing in London and Ottawa. At present we have a group composed of eleven ACC students and two adults who plan to participate in these campaigns. The students are: Mr and Mrs Ray Lock, Saskatoon, Sask.; Nancy Cunningham, London, Ont.; Cecilia Hadaway, Memphis, Texas; Catherine Hoover, Selkirk, Ont.; Mary Morren, Barrie, Ont.; Diane Willard, Keller, Texas; Charles Burns, Valley Mills, Texas; Dale Dennis, Amarillo, Texas; Melvin Evans, Marshall, Mo.; and Warren Woodward, Woodson, Texas. The other adults are Mrs. L. Graham, Putnam, Texas; and Mrs V Lock, Edmonton, Alberta. We plan to spend five weeks in each city, being in London from June 9 to July 15, and in Ottawa from July 22 to August 26. The week between the two campaigns will be used for resting and travelling.

The London campaign will be planned primarily to attract adults. Our basic purpose will be to set up cottage meetings in private homes, teach these lessons, and arouse enough interest that the individuals will attend the gospel meeting, and eventually obey the gospel. The gospel meetings in both London and Ottawa will be conducted by a visiting preacher unconnected with the group.

In Ottawa we hope to do this same type of thing, as well as conduct a Vacation Bible School. Last year the church had a very successful VBS, and we think that with the added impetus of a dozen trained workers, we can have the largest VBS in Canada, outdistancing by far the Edmonton record set during the campaign last summer.

These are our plans as they stand at present. Our biggest task now is to prepare ourselves for the work ahead; to train ourselves so that we can effectively teach adults in cottage meetings, and children in Vacation Bible School. Our next biggest task is to raise the support that we must have if our plans are to become a reality. Already we have been given or promised over $1900 of the $5000 that we will need. This will be used for transportation and personal support for the eleven students, VBS supplies, tracts and advertising on radio and in newspapers. If six hundred Christians would each give five dollars, adequate finances for the summer's work would be assured.

We need the help of every Christian — we need YOUR help — without it we can do nothing. First, we need your prayers that all we do may be to the glory of God and salvation of souls. Secondly, we need your help on the actual campaign. Several Christians from Toronto are planning to spend a week or two in London working with us. Why don't YOU plan to spend part of OUR vacation this way? Thirdly, we need your financial help.

The elders of the Hillcrest church of Christ, Church Street and Bacon Drive, here in Abilene, are again overseeing our work and receiving funds for our support. They would be happy to answer any questions which might be sent to them.

Will YOU answer the call? Will YOU help us to sow the seed and reap the harvest in Canada?

OPENING DAY AND GOSPEL MEETING AT ESTEVAN, SASKATCHEWAN

The church in Estevan have just completed the construction of a new auditorium and full basement for class rooms. The church had outgrown its old building and needed more classroom space. There will be an All Day meeting on Lord's day, May 6th. Brother Richard Dacus of Sidney, Montana will be the speaker that day.

A gospel meeting starts on May 3rd and continues through May 13th. Brother Floyd Vidler of Portage La Prairie will do the preaching in the meetings.

We have set a goal to have 150 in Bible school by May 6th. We set a goal not too long ago for 90 and we went over our goal. There are 52 members of the Lord's church in Estevan.

We want all the brethren that possibly can to come and be with us on Sunday, May 6th. Also come to every night of the meeting that you possibly can.

Brother Vidler will be bringing special lessons to the young people on Saturday mornings of May 4th and 11th. Pray for the speakers and the meetings that souls may be won to Christ.

In His service, Stephen Ennis

LETTERS

Box 673
Regina, Saskatchewan
March 8, 1962

Dear Brethren:

We are making an appeal for support for the Allan Bell family. They are returning to Africa in July to continue their mission work.

The Bell family and Betty Bailey will be leaving Regina on the 2nd of July. There is not much time left. May we urge you to give this your immediate attention. Are there among us those who are willing to give up certain personal pleasures that we may help in this soul saving work and have eternal treasures in heaven? All correspondence should be sent to:

Church of Christ, Seventh Ave and Pasqua Street, Re: Allan Bell, Regina, Saskatchewan, Canada.

The church in Regina has undertaken the sponsorship (collecting of funds) for this work which was formerly sponsored by the church in Moose Jaw, Saskatchewan.

The area where the Bells served and are returning to is the southern part of North Rhodesia in Central Africa.

Bro. and Sis. Bell grew up on farms, they have learned to work hard and how to make the best use of money. They have five children aged 10 years and under, the oldest one is a member of the church.

The Bells will need $350.00 per month support. We need more help to make this work possible. Our help will be limited because of large payments toward our church building, etc.

321 College Ave.,
Regina, Sask.,
March 16, 1962

Dear Brethren:

Thanks for your continued help as we get ready for returning to work in Africa. Our fund for travel, and for getting settled at Namwianga again, is growing, but we'll need several hundred dollars more. It seems to take a lot of money to get started housekeeping in Africa as it does in Canada.

In spite of rather tense conditions in N. Rhodesia, the Gospel is still winning souls to Christ. Judging by the letters from brethren in that area, about 87 persons were baptized in that corner of Rhodesia during he latter half of 1961. I believe that the number baptized during the same period in 1960 was 157 persons. Many of those baptized are young people who move to other areas when their education is completed, or, to further their education. Even with so many going to other parts of the Federation, that part of Rhodesia (the Kalomo-Livingston area) had about fourteen hundred members of the church over one year ago.

Of the missionaries in that area, one family is already back home in the States (came in Dec.), another is on the way home now, and two other families have their plans made for leaving this December. At least some of these brethren plan on returning to N. Rhodesia eventually.

Our work at Namwianga will be much the same as when we worked there before. For myself, Bible teaching and secular subjects in the mornings, Bible classes afternoon and evenings, Bible classes and preaching on Sunday (preaching is in our Church's school building at Kalomo, at Namwianga, or in other neighbouring areas). Edna's work will be Bible classes with the girls and young women on Sunday, and various supervising duties with the African girls who board on the mission, probably Bible classes during the week, too. As well as the Bible teaching, etc. Both Edna and I plan on helping with whatever other phases of the work time, and our abilities allow.

We still have the promise of only $145.00 per month. This does not seem to be nearly adequate for our needs. If I had stayed with the Regina Public School Board here in Sask., I would have expected to receive more than three times that much in September, as well as the Child Allowance, plus protection given by our Group Medical, Teachers' Life Insurance Plan, Sask. Hospitalization, and the Teachers' Superannuation Plan. We are willing to give up this "security," being near our families, our comfortable home, etc., because we feel that it is for the sake of the Gospel that we are doing it. But, we will need more than $145.00 per month to even "get by" on, for any length of time. It might take care of the grocery bill and kerosene, for a few months.

We are scheduled to leave Montreal on the 6th of July. We ask for your prayers.

Sincerely in Christ,
Allan and Edna Bell

A GOOD IDEA FOR LECTURESHIPS

James O. Baird, President
Oklahoma Christian College

For the past year at one of the evening sessions of the Oklahoma Christian College Lectureships, special attention has been paid to the important role of such Christian periodicals as the Gospel Herald.

In addition to a brief talk encouraging each Christian family to subsribe to good religious magazines, sheets of paper listing the names and subscriptions price of several good journals were passed through the audience. To subscribe one only had to check the periodicals he wanted and give his name and address.

GLEANINGS

OKINAWA

A native Okinawan preacher, Brother Tokuichi Uza, will complete three years of study at Freed-Hardeman College, Searcy, Arkansas, in June, and will return as an evangelist to his own people. The Southside Church of Christ, Amarillo, Texas, plans to support him fully so that he can devote all his time to preaching the gospel.

LIBYA

The Lawrence E. Taylor family has arrived back in Tripoli, Libya, for a third two-and-one-half year stay, the only other congregation of the church of Christ in the country is at Benghazi, where Brother Bob Douglas has recently had his visa renewed after having been advised by the government that it would be cancelled. Many prayers were offered in his behalf, and they were answered when permission to continue his mission work was granted.

SOUTH AFRICA

Brother Lowell Worthington is now working with the church in Johannesburg after having been sent there by the church in Paris, Texas, assisted by other congregations in Canton, Ohio; Costa Mesa, Calif., and Longview and Winnsboro, Texas.

HOLLAND

Brother and Sister Gary Adams, presently in Eastland, Texas, will return to Holland as missionaries in June. They were there previously for seven years, and established the church in Utrecht. They will move this time to the Hague.

The Adams family will be accompanied by Brother and Sister Thomas Schulz and their three children, who will work in Amsterdam. Brother Schulz, a native of Nebraska, was converted in France in 1953 while serving with the United States Air Force. Since his discharge from the military, he has studied for his B.A. and M.A. degrees and has preached for various congregations in Nebraska, Kansas and Texas. He will be supported in his work by the Eastside church in Phoenix, Arizona.

MALAYA

The church in Kuala Lumpur, capital city of Malaya, is now meeting in a new hall on the fourth floor of the Hui Hong Building, 123D Ipoh Road. Previously services had been conducted in a private home, which had been a hinderance to the work as non-members were reluctant to attend religious services in a home. At the first service in the new location, 34 were present, and the missionaries were greatly encouraged. They are now able to have two worship and preaching services on Sunday as well as four Bible classes for various ages.

JAPAN

Brother and Sister Joseph Cannon, formerly of Toronto, recently observed the 14th anniversary of their arrival in Japan to work for the church.

TURKEY

The Government of Turkey has recenty withdrawn the permission they had previously granted to missionaries to work in the city of Adana. An appeal against the ruling has been made and it is not known just what the result will be. Remember these brethren in your prayers.

VIET-NAM

Regular worship services are being conducted by members of the church who are attached to the United States Embassy in Saigon, and an attendance of 10 to 15 Vietnamese and 10 to 15 Americans is reported each Sunday. The Embassy personnel are not permitted to engage in active mission work and they would like very much to have a French-speaking evangelist come to the city to work full-time with the nucleus which has been gathered together.

CAMBODIA

Brother Moul Pheng, who was converted to Christianity while training as an aeronautical engineer in Dallas, Texas, has returned to Cambodia and is now living in the city of Phnom Penh. As far as is known, he is the only New Testament Christian in that country.

In December, Brother Ira Rice, Jr., of Kuala Lumpur, Malaya, and Brother Kenneth Rideout of Bangkok, Thailand, were able to visit him, and conducted gospel services in their hotel room. This was the first service held since 1958 when Brethren Floyd Dunn and Charles Olree, then teaching in Thailand, visited Phnom Penh and held one service.

JAMAICA

A group of some 15 to 20 Christians, several of them now students at Harding College, are planning to move in a body to Jamaica to do mission work. They will make a trip there this summer to engage in evangelistic work and lay preliminary plans for their move. In the meantime, Brother Roy H. Lanier, Jr., of Norman, Oklahoma, spent the month of March on the island where he held short gospel meetings for eight small congregations, and helped to strengthen by further teaching seven native preachers working in Jamaica.

KOREA

April 20 to 22 is the new and correct date set for the "retreat" for military personnel stationed in Korea who are members of the church of Christ. This is an Army-approved period of religious study and fellowship for which any service man stationed in the country will be granted time off to attend. It is an event to which both missionaries and military personnel have come to look forward in recent years. Brother Malcolm Parsley, a missionary in Seoul, has been appointed Retreat Master in charge of arrangements by the government.

ETHIOPIA

Brother Lennie L. Darden, Jr., of Berkeley, California, is the first Negro to go outside the United States, as a missionary, except a few who have made short trips to hold meetings in other countries. Brother Darden is going to Ethiopia to help both with preaching the gospel and with the establishment of a school for the deaf, a project which the missionaries now in that country have been asked by the daughter of Emperor Haile Selassie to organize.

Brother Darden is not only an excellent gospel preacher, but is well-qualified for work with the deaf. He was on the staff of the California School for the Deaf after having obtained degrees in social science from San Francisco State and Oakland State Colleges. After deciding

HELP BUILD IN EASTERN CANADA

Two congregations in Nova Scotia; one in New Brunswick. This is the picture in Eastern Canada, in the 80 miles east of Montreal, Quebec. Fredericton, capital city of New Brunswick, where Louis Pauls preaches, hopes to build this year. Cottage meetings, three gospel meetings (44 high attendance) in 1961, Vacation Bible School (62 high attendance), correspondence course, 6 days at the Exhibition (like the state fair); fine plans for such in 1962. $2,100 in building funds; $30,000 needed for building; instead of selling bonds, this is the plan of Fredericton—to appeal to 30 congregations to send $1,000 over a three year period ($300, $400 the second year, then $300). Fredericton itself, with only 6 members, is setting the example, and they are the first of the 30 congregations. Only 29 more needed! For further information contact gospel preacher, Walter Rogers, 3034—57th St., Lubbock, Texas, or Air Force Captain C. B. Locke, Box 6232, Austin, Texas, or Louis Pauls, 276 Edinburgh, Fredericton, New Brunswick.

Halifax, the capital of Nova Scotia, has about 16 members. They had three gospel meetings, teacher training series, VBS, and singing school in 1961. They gained 3 members, but lost 3 others (they moved away). Good Bible correspondence course with a number of non-members taking it. Nova Scotians are slow changing, but there are good prospects. Building plans for Halifax: 6% bonds are being sold in $100, $250 and $500 denominations. Write Walter Hart (preacher at Halifax), Apt. 4, 25 Titus St., Fairview, Halifax County, Nova Scotia, or Richard Pectol, c/o Azle Avenue Church of Christ, Ft. Worth, (or 2617 N. W. 25th St., Ft. Worth, Texas), or to me.

Individuals and congregations: please consider these two fine works. This will help both these places go forward for the Lord.—Murray Marshall, 2242 Overton Rd., Dallas 16, Texas. (Copied from Firm Foundation)

We also have personal work classes each Thursday evening. It is a study which gives both the teacher and the student a chance to learn how to teach and also provides a spiritual experience from the word of God. —Lloyd Hotchkiss

Estevan, Sask.: Weekly average contribution for January $185.50.

Prince Albert, Sask.: Three souls were added in December. These unite one family in the Lord and bring in another family. During the December meeting with James Burns of Regina, nine outsiders attended at least once. Two completely new families were introduced to the church.

In 1961 we had a V.B.S. and two meetings, converted four souls, and met many new people. We took part in two other V.B.S. and a camp and attended the preachers' workshop in Winnipeg, as well as making two trips south as far as Texas. Twelve members were transferred or moved to the southern part of the province.

Plans are for a V.B.S. in July and a meeting in August with Neil Lightfoot of Abilene, Texas.

On February 10 and 11 J. C. Bailey spoke. There were 11 different adult visitors, four for the first time. February 12-15 was spent visiting in Big River, population 1000, 90 miles north of Prince Albert. A meeting with brother Bailey is planned for April — W. Straker

HERE AND THERE

Victoria, B.C., March 12: "Bro. Lynn Anderson of Salmon Arm, B.C. just concluded a very powerfully presented series of Bible lectures here at Victoria. During the process of the meeting good interest was manifested by those not members of the church. Six obeyed the gospel also during the process of that meeting. Since the conclusion of the meeting, three more have obeyed the gospel, bringing the total to nine who have become new Christians in the last two weeks. We thank God for the growth and progress of the church here in Victoria. Its membership has doubled during the last eighteen months. — Jim Hawkins.

Brother Hawkins will be returning to the Prairies from April 1 through the 18 for two series of meetings. The first will be with the congregation meeting on the W.C.C. campus in Weyburn, and the second with the Regina congregation.

W. R. SMITHS PLAN MORE WORK WITH CHURCHES

ABILENE, Texas — W. R. Smith will retire from his position as Vice President of Abilene Christan College on June 1, 1962. But retirement means to Bro. Smith and his wife the opportunity to do more work for the Lord.

Brother and Sister Smith have for some years served as a team in working with churches in many places. In their classroom teaching he generally takes the men and boys, and she the women and girls.

Their services are offered to the brotherhood without cost, but they hope the churches that use them will send an extra contribution to one of the brotherhood homes or to a mission point. They will accept, but will not request an offer to share the costs of transportation, lodging, and meals wherever they may be invited.

Anyone desiring their services may contact W. R. Smith at 526 College Drive, Abilene, Texas.

Their overall objective is "to find our places and do our work in the Lord's vineyard."

Brother Smith emphasizes how the leaders should go about their task of "tending the flock" by training, assigning, and overseeing every member to produce fruits according to each's God-given capabilities.

Sister Smith concentrates upon "Women's work in the Church — what it is and how best to do it."

PEPPERDINE COLLEGE REFUSES TO PLAY BENEFIT GAME

By J. P. Sanders

Recently Pepperdine College was asked to play a special benefit basketball game to assist the rebuilding of a Catholic college which lost some buildings in the brush fires of last fall. Pepperdine College declined to do this.

Later Loyola University, which is a member of the West Coast Athletic Conference, decided to apply her net proceeds from a regularly scheduled conference game with Pepperdine to the Catholic school which had suffered the fire damage. This decision was theirs and did not cost Pepperdine College one cent. Pepperdine College would be just as free to announce that the proceeds of one of its home games with Loyola would go to Magic Valley or York College. We simply live up to our conference obligation to play a regularly scheduled game.

Incidentally, our basketball team has won the West Coast Athletic Conference championship. We appreciate the enthusiastic support of so many friends.

HOW BAPTISM SAVES

The Apostle Paul clearly states (1 Pet. 3:21) that baptism saves. This presents a problem to many people today. But it presents a problem only because they do not understand HOW baptism saves.

Peter, of course, does not mean that baptism can save one who disbelieves in Christ, or who refuses to repent. Baptism will not save the disbeliever, or the non-penitent, any more than the flood waters saved those who disbelieved Noah. Peter is speaking of baptism only with regard to those who repent, having believed in Christ.

The question, then, is: How does baptism save the penitent believer in Christ?

The sacrifice and resurrection of Jesus are essential to the salvation of man. And, it is through baptism that the penitent believer takes part in this sacrifice and resurrecton. This is how baptism saves.

The SACRIFICE of Christ is essential to the salvation of man: "We have been sanctified through the offering of the body of Jesus Christ once for all." (Heb. 10:10).

God's justice demands that those who sin must die: "The wages of sin is death" (Rom. 6:23). And, all men sin: "All have sinned, and fall short of the glory of God;" (Rom. 3:23). Therefore, God' justice demands that all men die.

However, God's mercy desires that all men might have opportunity to overcome this condemnation of death: "As I live, saith the Lord Jehovah, I have no pleasure in the death of the wicked; but that the wicked turn from his way and live" (Ezk. 33:11).

God's justice demands that all must die because of sin. Yet, God's mercy desires that all might live. To resolve this conflict, a sacrifice was essential: "Apart from shedding of blood there is no remission." (Heb. 9:22).

And only Jesus of Nazareth, the son of man and of God, could fulfill the requirements of this sacrifice.

The sacrifice must be of the same nature as the accused: "For it is impossible that the blood of bulls and goats should take away sins." (Heb. 10:4). And Jesus was the son of man.

THE LETTER TO ROME

E. D. Wieb, Weyburn, Sask.

In our previous study we learned that Paul establishes the guilt of all men under God due to their unwillingness to "retain God in their knowledge," or because they were "transgressors of the law." Now, then, he turns to the divine scheme of redemption.

The first paragraph of chapter three establishes a point to which the Jews had not yet submitted. It also establishes, by the way, a point which all present day Christians must come to acknowledge. This is the statement, "by the works of the law shall no flesh be justified in his sight." No amount of religious or moral exertion can lift a man out of the quicksand of sin once he is mired therein. The law certainly can make an individual aware of his responsibilities - it might make him realize his lost condition - but it certainly cannot justify. There is a danger today of feeling that moralism can justify - that the man who is encumbered with sin can unburden himself through a rigid adherance to the law of God or by simply obeying God's command. This is untrue. We, today, who proclaim the Gospel of Christ must seriously endeavor to present the subject of obedience in such a way that there can be no doubt that we are not justified by "works of the law".

In Romans 3:23, Paul restates his original contention and asserts that, "all have sinned and fallen short of the glory of God." Having

WHAT IS A CHRISTIAN?

J. C. Bailey, Moose Jaw, Sask.

C. S. Lewis in his book "Mere Christianity" states that the name "Christian like the word "gentleman" has no real meaning today. Mr. Lewis states that several hundred years ago everyone knew what a "gentleman" was. He was a man that wore a title. Today it is rather an indefinite term without real meaning. So he argued that the word "Christian" had no meaning in the world of today but that in the New Testament it did have a definite meaning.

I am sure that Mr Lewis is right. I am not interested in perusing farther the matter of being a "gentleman" but I am interested in being a Christian. Who is a Christian? Some one may be very liberal in his ministration to the poor and some one exclaims, "There is a Christian". Another man is given to hospitality. This leads some one to say, "That man is a Christian if I ever saw one". Another man never touches liquor and there is some one ready to declare that that man is certainly a Christian. Then there is a man that lives a careful, moral life, and there will be those that are ready to vouch that that man is a Christian. But could a man not be an infidel and be any one of the things mentioned above? Could he not be a follower of Mohammed?

There are those who are very faithful about attending religious services. Some one is ready to vouch that these people who get up early in the morning and faithfully attend church services are Christians. Could not a man be a Hindu and be faithful about attending the religious services of Hinduism? I am sure that none of these things mentioned above prove that a man is a Christian, nor that doing these things will make a man a Christian.

It might help to make this plain by asking this question: What is a Canadian? You will note that the word "Christian" ends with "ian". The word "Canadian" ends with an "ian". The first part of the word "Christian" is "Christ". The first part of the word "Canadian" is "Canada". What makes a man a Canadian? Does keeping the laws of Canada make a man a Canadian?

Here is man that is very careful NEVER to violate the speed law. Does that make him a Canadian? Here is another man that is careful to always pay every cent of his income tax. Does that make him a Canadian? A man may be a German living in Canada and do these things that I have mentioned. He may continue to do them for forty years and he will be no nearer a Canadian at the end of forty years than he was when he first drove a car legally down the highway. The only Canadians there are, are those who have been born Canadians or have become naturalized. So we are Christians because we have been born into the family of God. Did not Jesus say, "Verily, verily, I say unto thee, except one be born anew, he cannot see the kingdom of God" (John 3:3).

How are we born anew? Jesus answered that too: "Jesus answered, Verily, verily, I say unto you, except one be born of water and the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God" (John 3:5).

The German named above must renounce his allegiance to Germany, and all other governments, before he can become a Canadian. You can give allegiance to two governments at the same time. For many years my wife had a duel citizenship. United States recognized her as a citizen and Canada recognized her as a citizen. What was the result? She did not dare exercise her right as a citizen of either country. The day came when she would exercise her right as a Canadian. Now she has no more rights as an American citizen. She is no longer an American citizen. She named her allegiance.

Thus we read: "Who delivered us out of the power of darkness, and translated us into the kingdom of the Son of his love" (Col. 1:13). Thus we see that a definite act was performed. A definite change in status takes place. We are (1) delivered out of the power of darkness", and (2) "we are translated into the kingdom of the Son of his love".

"Christian" is a name. It is a divine name. Peter, by inspiration says," But if man suffer as a Christian, let him not be ashamed; but let him glorify God in this name" (I Peter 4:16). Let us trace the history of this divine name.

Isaiah said: "And ye shall leave your name for a curse unto my chosen; and the Lord will slay thee; and he will call his servants by another name" (Isa. 65:15). Again we read from Isaiah, "And the nations shall see thy righteousness, and all kings thy glory, and thou shalt be called by a new name, which the mouth of Jehovah shall name" (Isaiah 62:2). Let us sum up what the prophecy calls for: Jehovah's annointed would be slain. God's people would have another NAME. This would not only be another name but it would be a NEW name. The new name would not be given until after the Gentiles had seen God's righteousness.

We turn to the New Testament. We learn there of the death of Christ. The gospel was preached. Thounsands became followers of Him. They are referred to as brethren. They are referred to as disciples. Neither one of these are new names. Then in Acts 10 we learn the Gentiles received the righteousness of God. Finally in Acts 11 (this is the right time now) we have a new name, "and that the disciples were called Christians first at Antioch" (Acts 11:26). Here is a name for God's people. It is a new name. It has never been used before.

Who were called Christians? The disciples were called Christians. This is the next pertinent question: What is a disciple? Jesus in giving the Great Commission said: "Go ye therefore and make disciples of all the nations baptizing them into the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit" (Matthew 28:19). The word disciple means a learner. Listen to Jesus: "Take my yoke upon you and learn of me: for I am meek and lowly of heart: and ye shall find rest unto your souls" (Matthew 11:29). So a disciple is one that has learned of Christ.

PHILOSOPHY OF CHRISTIANITY

W. F. Cox, Stoney Creek, Ont.

According to Webster's Dictionary, the word philosophy means the branch of advanced learning or practical wisdom. The word Christianity means the doctrines or precepts taught by Christ, faith in Christ and His teaching. I add Christ's life firmly established in the human heart. "Christ in you the hope of glory."

There Is A Wrong Philosophy

"Beware lest any man spoil you through philosophy and vain deceit, after the tradition of men, after the rudiments of the world and not after Christ" (Colossians 2:8). To increase the money in the bag, Judas Iscariot betrayed his Lord and Master for a small sum of thirty pieces of silver. The professional bank robber who admits he loves money, "practices what is yours is mine and I'm going to have it."

Thinking he might not receive his share of his father's inheritance, a brother said to Christ, "Master, speak to my brother, that he divide the inheritance with me'. And he said unto him, 'man, who made me a judge or a divider over you?' And He said unto them, 'Take heed, and beware of covetousness, for a man's life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth." To impress the seriousness of the lesson Christ refers to the following parable: a rich man planned on destroying his barns and building greater, to take care of his added goods. God said unto him, "thou fool, this night thy soul shall be required of thee, then whose shall those things be"? So is he that layeth up treasure for himself, and is not rich toward God". (Luke 12:13-21).

Christ Jesus taught a different philosophy — His disposition was to share with others. "Behold I stand at the door, and knock: if any man hear my voice, and open the door, I will come in to him, and will sup with him, and he with me" (Rev. 3:20). I am very sorry to say there is a disposition on the part of some of setting up their own standards of right and wrong I say, be careful, listen, "There is a way which seemeth right unto a man; but the end thereof are the ways of death" (Proverbs 14:12). Again, "O Jehovah, I know that the way of man is not in himself; it is not in man that walketh to direct his steps."

Christianity Demands Unity Of Purpose

When people began to multiply in the earth, God gave them one language so they could converse with one another and with God, their maker It was His purpose for them to preserve and perpetuate this one tongue through the ages. He said to them, "Be fruitful, and multiply, and replenish the earth" (Gen. 9:1). Unfortunately, they disobeyed the Divine command; built a city so they wouldn't be separated and were in the act of building a tower reaching up to heaven At this point God stepped in and confused their language as punishment for their disobedience. Now the peoples of the world suffer the inconvenience of not being able to converse with people of another language without studying that language. As a result the unity of purpose has been destroyed.

Christianity Demands Unity Of Thought

In the beginning of the Christian era God gave man a simple, complete, perfect and Divine revelation to guide man from earth to heaven. Paul recognizes that fact when he said, "But I certify you, brethren, that the gospel which was preached of me is not after man. I neither received it of man, neither was I taught it, but by the revelation of Jesus Christ" (Gal. 1:11,12). To accomplish this Divine objective, winning precious souls for Christ, all believers in Christ should be one in heart and one in soul. Luke writes, "And the multitude of them that believed were of one heart and one soul: neither said any of them ought of the things which he possessed was his own; but they had all things common" (Acts 4:-32, 33). They were in a state of the most perfect friendship and affection. In all the 5000 there appeared to be one heart and one soul; so perfectly did they agree in all their views, religious opinions, and holy affection

The success of the church today is based upon unity of heart and soul. Paul writes, "Now I beseech you, brethren, by the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye all speak the same thing, that there be no divisions among you; but that ye be perfectly joined together in the same mind and in the same judgement" (I Corinthians 1:10).

At this point I certify you brethren, gospel preachers are purchased servants of the Lord; remember you are working on the Lord's time being supported by the Lord's money. This being true, can you afford to be self-centred idling away the Lord's precious time, ashamed to knock on doors, to spread the gospel. Honour your calling by a faithful life.

Christianity Demands Unity Of Practice

In the beginning of the Christian era God gave his apostles a simple teachable command to preach the gospel of Christ, the power of God unto salvation He said, "Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature" (creation); He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved, but he that believeth not shall be damned" (Mark 16:15, 16). Paul says, "Know ye not, that so many of us as were baptized into Jesus Christ were baptized into his death? Therefore we are buried with Him by baptism into death; that like as Christ was raised up from the dead by the glory of the Father, even so we also should walk in newness of life" (Rom. 6:3, 4). At this point religious teachers have introduced infant sprinkling and pouring in the place of Scriptural immersion, a burial, causng much confusion in the world. Thousands will be lost as a result of the unscriptural act.

It is very important when God speaks. People should listen with deep interest and reverence When the Lord commands men to hear, it means that they should close their ears to all other voices There

AS THE CUSTOM OF SOME IS

Winter's snow has melted and the spring breezes are wafting the warmth of the sun over the dormant earth. Soon this land of ours will be alive with people hurrying to and fro among the picnic spots, the parks, the gardens, the golf links, the lakes, and all those places where men find recreation and enjoyment.

Most of us look forward to the coming of spring because we feel the need of some recreation in the outdoors, whether it be gardening or speed-boating. Perhaps at no other time do we need so badly the warning found in Hebrews 10:25 to be sounded clearly and emphatically: "Not forsaking out own assembling together as the custom of some is . . . "

There is not a word in the New Testament which would interfere with a man's recreation if such is of the right sort and carried out at the right time. Christians need to learn that the custom of assembling for worship on the first day of the week is not just a custom. It is a definite responsibility which man can reject or accept.

When it is rejected, the individual rejects the Lord's Supper shared in the assembly; he rejects this opportunity to receive teaching: he rejects this opportunity to contribute as instructed; he fails to lend his voice to praise the strength which comes from associating himself with others of like faith and hopes. Above all, he has told God by his actions that he counts some earthly pleasure more important than a divine appointment.

In the passage found in the Epistle to the Hebrews, there is no indication of the reason for absenteeism. There is, however, the statement of its existence and the warning. Surely this warning is still valid and still necessary. In every congregation there will be some who will flout God's mandate for selfish reasons. We believe that with some it is a custom or habit about which they have given little thought. A word of warning, "exhorting one another", is all that is necessary to bring these individuals to more godly habits.

There is another class of individuals, as there was in New Testament times, who continue to ignore God's Word when it conflicts with their selfish desires. They love a pleasant picnic, a day at the beach, a good golf score, or a mess of fish more than they love their Lord. This they would deny, but their use of the Lord's Day indicates where their strongest affections lie.

We are convinced that there is a direct connection in thought between verse 25 and the following verses of the 10th chapter of Hebrews. The writer, having stated the prevalence of absenteeism from the assembly, pointed out that such, if persisted in after warning, constituted a deliberate sin against Christ. Such willful sin denies the Lordship of Christ, the efficacy of His blood, and the authority of the Holy Spirit. In short, it says to Christ "I have more important things to consider." It says to the world, "I who am a Christian am still governed by fleshly lusts." It says to the Holy Spirit, "The inspired Word is not my law, but I am a rebel."

We teach that the only Sabbath remaining to the people of God is that which is referred to in Hebrews 4:9. This is clearly the rest promised after a life of faithful activity. While we do not feel bound by any sabbath laws we do need to be aware of our responsibility on the Lord's Day. The day which is commonly called Sunday has become "fun day."

In New Testament times this day was already being designated "the Lord's Day", as in Revelation 1:10. It was the day in which the followers of Christ met to break bread (Acts 20:7), and to give of their means (1 Cor. 16:1-2). Some of the earliest writings from other than Bible sources picture a similar respect for this day in the first century of the church's existence (e.g., Pliny: Epistle to Trajan XCVI; Justin: Apology I, pp. 65-67).

Sin is not so much a roaring lion as it is a stealthy virus. It creeps

TEACHING GOD'S WORD

A CALL FOR TEACHERS

H. Ralph Perry,
London, Ontario

A call for teachers is being made throughout the land. At this time of year many daily newspapers carry large ads, placed by Boards of Education, requesting the services of teachers. Those applying must meet certain qualifications. Large salaries, benefits and large annual increases are offered in some cases. In last night's London Free Press an ad, placed by the Chatham Board of Education, states the need of a Public School Principal. The applicant must have a BA degree. Minimum salary offered is $7,000.00 and the maximum is $10,000.00. Cumulative sick leave, retirement gratuity and an annual increment of $500.00 are some of the benefits offered. If I were a teacher, this would interest me very much.

We also make a call for teachers. The qualifications are that you be dedicated to a certain cause and willing to sacrifice. The allurements are not material nor monetary, but an opportunity to teach that which is more important to man than science, history, mathematics, grammar, composition, and languages. The benefits relate not to time but eternity.

The call is for teachers for Christ. To apply, you need to be dedicated to the cause of saving souls and willing to sacrifice certain comforts and leave familiar surroundings. The allurement is the opportunity given to you to teach the gospel, God's power to save, to those who are unfamiliar with this priceless message. In so doing you will be storing up for yourself treasures in heaven for eternal security and enjoyment.

The small churches in new areas of labour are in need of dedicated Christians to help teach God's word. In London we feel that right now we could increase our Sunday morning Bible school enrollment if we had more teachers and better facilities. When we are able to have our own meeting place, we are confident that God will present us with an opportunity in a new community that will require more teachers. With faith we envision a Bible school enrollment of one hundred or more. Some of you are needed to help.

The call is to young people, young families and others who are willing to take up new jobs away from home to help in the spread of the gospel. We expect our preachers and their families to leave loved ones and the security of working with well established churches in order to spread the gospel. This often means the disruption of their children's education and leaving certain comforts. They are without pensions.

Young people, before you are settled down in jobs and comforts hard to leave, consider the challenge of taking up residence in new centers of labour for Christ. You are vitally needed. You will grow because responsibility and work will be placed on your shoulders. You are needed for more than teaching. Those with ability to lead singing, preach, do personal work, conduct home study classes, act as secretary, deliver announcements and many other things are needed. Those not attending a Christian school should consider fruthering your education in cities where the church is small so that they can help.

A few converted and dedicated young or middle-aged couples to form the backbone of new churches are sorely needed. There are some of you who would like to do more for the spread of the gospel. Here is your opportunity. Some are tired of their jobs. Have courage, move to a new job, and find happiness in serving Christ in a new work.

Older folks who are retiring from jobs will find great joy in working with and encouraging new churches. Your maturity in Christ is needed to help make wise decisions and to keep the church loyal to the "faith which was once for all delivered unto the saints." Space doesn't permit giving examples of retired persons who have helped tremendously in the spread of the gospel by moving to new areas.

Secular teachers are often required to leave home and friends to take up their work. A scattering of dedicated Christians is needed today. When the early church was scattered abroad they "went about preaching the word" (Acts 8:4). They were scattered from Jerusalem and went into Judea, Samaria, and some went "as far as Phoenicia, Cyprus, and Antioch speaking the word" (Acts 11:19).

The Mormons are scattering their young people all over the world. As a result they have new buildings and congregations in almost every city or town of size. An Anglican bishop in England has become alarmed at the "great strides forward" made by the Mormons in England. The clean-cut young men and women of the Mormon church have been scattered abroad to spread a perverted and dangerous message. Let us scatter abroad to spread the truth before it is too late.

Leaders of the churches might become alarmed at this appeal, thinking that too many might move away and deplete the churches of workers. This will not happen if the churches are working and praying. New converts will be made, and those not so active now will be called on to step in to work. This means that they, as well as those going to new works, will grow more spiritually. Thus instead of some drifting away because of inactivity more will reman faithful to the end.

Churches in Halifax, Montreal, Fredericton (my heart goes out to Bro. Pauls in the need there), Kingston, Sudbury, London, Cornwall, Barrie, and others in the East and many in the West could use workers now. There are many cities where no churches exist where a group could move to establish the cause of Christ. We are hearing of good progress in Ottawa and Niagara Falls. Dedicated Christians have moved to these centers.

The need is great. You are needed now. Please pray the Lord's direction regarding this right now. He will lead you.

HOW BAPTISM SAVES

However, the sacrifice must not be under the same condemnation as the accused, else he would have to die for his own sin. And Jesus, the Son of God, met this requirement: "Him who knew no sin he made to be sin on our behalf; that we might become the righteousness of God in him." (2 Cor. 5:21).

Therefore, the sacrifice of Christ is essential to the salvation of man. We deserve to die. But He died in our stead: "Who his own self bare our sins in his body upon the tree, that we, having died unto sins, might live unto righteousness; by whose stripes ye were healed." (1 Pet. 2:24).

But just as Christ's sacrifice is esential, so is Christ's RESURRECTION essential to the saving of man.

The sacrifice of Christ, without His resurrection, would leave Christ dead, and those for whom He died would still be dead in sin: "And if Christ had not been raised, your faith is vain; ye are yet in your sins." (1 Cor. 15:17).

But Jesus did arise from the dead. And those who die with Him can also rise with Him to walk in a new and glorious Spiritual life. "But if the Spirit of him that raised up Jesus from the dead dwelleth in you, he that raised up Christ Jesus from the dead shall give life also to your mortal bodies through his spirit that dwelleth in you." (Rom. 8:-11).

Hence, we see that both the SACRIFICE and RESURRECTION of Christ are essential to salvation.

And, it is through baptism (immersion) that the penitent believer takes part in the death, burial, and resurrection of Christ.

"Or are ye ignorant that all we who were baptized into Christ Jesus were baptized into his death? We were buried therefore with him through baptism into death: that like as Christ was raised from the dead through the glory of the Father, so we also might walk in newness of life. For if we have become united with him in the likeness of his death, we shall be also in the likeness of his resurrection." (Rom. 6:3-5).

This is how baptism saves. The sacrifice and resurrection of Christ are necessary for salvation. And the penitent believer through baptism takes part in this sacrifice and resurrection.

Baptism, then is essential to salvation because Christ's death and resurrection are essential. To emphasize baptism is only to emphasize the death, burial, and resurrection of Christ.

It is on this basis that Paul tells us the EXACT NUMBER of those who have put on Christ: "For as many of you as were baptized into Christ did put on Christ." (Gal. 3:-27).

Peter says baptism saves (I Pet. 3:21) on this same basis. And Jesus himself said, "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved" (Mk. 16:16). Through baptism the penitent believer participates in the death and resurrection of Christ.

Those who say baptism is not necessary for salvation, are simply saying that one need not have a part in the death, burial, and resurrection of Christ to be saved. "Or are ye ignorant that all we who were baptized into Christ Jesus were baptized into his death?" (Rom. 6:3).

This is how baptism saves.

AS THE CUSTOM

into the hearts of men and takes control quietly. It numbs their perception with an anesthesia of rationalism. A desire for spiritual food is diminshed. Healthy spiritual exercise is discouraged and unhealthy actions are substituted. The customs of the faithful are replaced by the customs of the willful.

We live in a land where many denominational churches close down for the summer. Others simply curtail their Lord's Day activities, and either meet with a skeleton congregation or unite with one or two other church in order to have enough people to carry on. It would be a shameful thing if the Lord's church was so neglected. If each member fullfils his own apointment for worship and then exhorts his brethren, Christ will be found with His people on His day. Where will you be when He is there? R.D.M.

THE LETTER TO ROME

established the lost condition of humanity, he now turns to the common panacea, the only cure for sin and its terrfible consequences.

God has burst forth in all of His glory to shed light in the world of darkness. Therefore is the righteousness of God revealed unto men in the person of Jesus Christ. Redemption, righteousness, justification, atonement and grace become real. They are the opposite of sin, guilt, and unrighteousness. The entire picture of man is transformed by the life of Christ. Now men can share in his righteousness through faith in His son. Now God removes the barrier that separates man from the divine presence and allows the sinner to become a saint.

Here then in the contrast between righteousness through the Law and righteousness by Faith. "In the Law it is self-activity, man as the producer of righteousness; in faith it is pure receptivity, man receives the divine gift." (Branner)

Since this is true, then what about the Law? "Do we then make the law of none effect?" God forbid! Jesus said, "For I tell you, unless your righteousness exceeds the righteousness of the scribes and Pharisees, you will never enter the kingdom of heaven" (Matt. 5:20). The righteousness of Faith must through its working establish and prove the real meaning of the law. The Jews had lost that meaning but the Christian must rediscover it. The question here, however, is whether a man can become righteous by himself or through the gift of God. In the next article we shall discuss this point in connection with Abraham, Father of the Faithful.

LET'S IMPROVE VACATION BIBLE SCHOOLS

Alan M. Bryan

Each year more and more congregations are realizing the values to be gained from conducting a Vacation Bible School. In fact, many congregations are now conducting two different Vacation Bible Schools during the summer months. Usually one school is held during the morning hours at one time during the summer months and the other school is held possibly at night later in the summer.

We rejoice in the fact that more and more congregations are having Vacation Bible Schools. Such schools offer valuable teaching opportunities that ought to be used by every congregation if at all possible. There is a great need, however, in improving the various schools now being conducted. Better teaching must come from these schools and such improved teaching will only come if a conscious effort is made to improve all phases of the Vacation Bible School.

Many suggestions to improve our schools might be given, but we list only a few that might be easily carried out. Check your school and see if these suggestions can apply to the school conducted by the congregation where you worship.

1. Select the teaching staff early! If the VBS is conducted in June the complete faculty including teachers, necessary supervisors and other workers should be selected in January and no later than February. It is best usually to allow those teaching in the regular teaching program to teach in the same age or grade level during the VBS.

2. Train the teachers! March is an ideal mon'h to give each VBS teacher a quick intensive teacher training course. As part of this training a congregation should have one all-day VBS meeting, involving every teacher if possible, to launch other phases of the training program. In addition at least three or four more teacher meetings for the entire VBS staff should be held to thoroughly orient'ate all concerned on records to be kept, teaching methods to be used, handwork, and other supplies to be used.

3. Publicize the VBS thoroughly! This can be done in many ways - all means of publicity should be utilized if at all possible. News stories should be taken to all local newspapers and radio stations. If possible, pictures of teachers preparing materials should accompany newspaper stories. Some congregations are using the windows of department stores to display an effective appeal for the school. Cards and letters should be mailed to several times to as many prospects as could be expected to respond. The church bulletin and public announcement will do much to assist in publicizing the school but these means should not be depended on entirely.

Some congregations map off the town or community served by the congregation and actually knock on each house to p r e - e n r o l l pupils. To assist in this pre-enrollment campaign every person in the regular Bible school should be given four or five enrollment cards and asked to enroll those available among their aquaintances or neighborhood.

4. Provide transportation. Every available car should be enlisted to pick up those who need a ride. If possible buses should be rented and routed in order to pick up every available student. Wide publicity should be given to parents that free transportation will be provided for any student and great care will be taken for the safety of all who come.

5. Order sufficient literature and supplies. Most Vacation Bible Schools will have at least as many pupils as the total number in the regular Bible school. Of course, many adults who ordinarily attend Bible School are not present in the VBS, but this number should be more than replaced by children that will be reached if sufficient planning and preparation is made. These supplies should be ordered at least a month or six weeks before the actual time for the school.

6. Plan an actual time schedule. After consulting teachers and supervisors a time schedule should be worked out. It will help the school if this schedule is mimeographed and handed out to the congregation a week or two before the school is to start.

7. Conserve all materials and supplies. After the school is over, all left over supplies and materials should be collected and sorted carefully. Many items can be used immediately in the regular teaching program. Some materials may be sent back to the supplier and other materials need to be packed and stored until the school next year.

8. Conserve all results! The enrollment and attendance cards of all students should be quickly collected, sorted, classified and studied when the school is over. A letter should be sent to all parents who are not members of the church but who have allowed their children to attend. Appreciation should be expressed and an invitation to allow these children to attend the Bible school regularly should be extended. Bible school teachers, personal workers, as well as the elders and deacons should study the cards very carefully to find families or prospects that need to be visited.

9. Expect problems and plan for their solution. Most difficulties arise because of failure to properly plan. This is a reflection on those who conduct the school. This is part of the Lord's work and should be done efficiently and effectively! When properly done tremendous results come. When poorly planned many opportunities are lost.

10. Ask God's help in prayer. As each phase of the school is planned or conducted many prayers should be expressed asking the Lord's blessings. Each teacher should pray earnestly for the Lord's help and for his blessings after the job is done. Each pupil should be prayed for and great results will come! No Vacation Bible School should ever be held without fervent and frequent prayers!

IT DOESN'T BELONG TO YOU

by Ed Bryant
Toronto, Ontario

Life is a sheet of paper white
Whereon each one of us may write
His word or two, and then comes night.
Greatly begin! Though thou hast time
But for a line, be that sublime.
Not failure, but low aim is crime.
—James Russell Lowell

There is not a young person under the age of eighteen reading this paper who does not long for the day when he can stand on his own two feet. Everyone wants the freedom that comes with being "grown". It is a day of pride and also sadness for our parents, who have nourished us through babyhood and the young, formative years, giving of themselves without complaint because they love us and want to see us reach our maturity.

When we reach this magical age, there is a natural tendency to feel that the world is our oyster. There is also the urge to depart from the tight circle of responsibility our parents have drawn about us, and be our own "boss". To be able to select our own activities, and to decide on our own what we will do, where we will go, and with whom; ah, there is freedom, indeed!

The thing that seldoms dawns on us then is that our lives have been bought and paid for already, and do not belong to us. Though we have control over our comings and goings, and can make decisions for ourselves in many matters, the ransom price for our souls was paid a long time ago, at Calvary.

As we grow further into life, we find that there is more to this freedom business than at first met the eye. We learn that, to every privilege we have given to us, there is a tag attached. The tag reads, "Responsibility". For every decision we make, we find that we must be responsible. When we reached the magic age of maturity, we forever left behind the privilege of having our parents take the responsibility for what we did. When choice is given us, blamelessness is taken away.

In the words of the poet, quoted above, "Greatly begin!" Don't wait until you have learned the "hard way" that God is not pleased with half-measures. You may not have time for more than a line, but make that line a really good one! Aim high! You may not always hit the mark, but you will surely hit a mark higher than if you took no aim at all.

(Ed. Note. Our thanks to Brother Bryant for this thought provoking article. We hope that this is the very happy beginning of many fine contributions from him and others as well.)

PRIZE WINNER!

Congratulations to John Bell, of Regina, Saskatchewan, for sending us the first correct answer to last month's question. You'll remember that our question went something like this, "Who was the first musician mentioned in the Bible?" Did you find the answer? Well, John did, and here it is, Jubal (Gen. 4:21). Hope all of you enjoy these little questions from time to time, because we plan to have lots more in the future. Say, perhaps you have a Bible question that you think is pretty good. If so, send it in and we'll try to put it in next month's issue, and see if anyone can answer your question! Please send all "contributions" to me at RR 5, Milton, Ontario.

YOUTH GATHERING

On Friday evening, March 16 a good group of young people gathered at the Beamsville meeting house for an area wide meeting with the Beamsville and Great Lakes Christian College young people. The feature of the program, aside from the fellowship and fun, was a film about our faith in God as opposed to evolution. We certainly were happy to be a part of the crowd, not only because of the things already mentioned, but also because of the dozens and dozens of do-nuts served later!

Regina: Jim Hawkins completes a meeting here on April 18.

Book Reviews

The Maze of Mormonism by Walter R. Martin, Zondevan Publishing House, Grand Rapids, Mich. 186 pages, $2.95.

Readers of the Gospel Herald are well aware of our recent encounters with Mormon missionaries. More than likely a great many of you have had discussions with members of this zealous cult. Possibly you have been put "in a corner" by their skilful manipulation of scripture. If you have never met with any of them, don't be surprised if one day you find two well dressed young men at your door anxious to acquaint you with their doctrines. No matter what your experience has been in this respect, a study of this book will better prepare you for dealing with the problem in the future. Certainly those who possess any of Mr. Martin's previous books (Jehovah of the Watchtower, The Christian Science Myth, etc.) will be anxious to obtain this one.

Much of the material in this book can be found elsewhere. But one would have to have a good library on Mormonism to have access to it. Nowhere is this material as well organized and as clearly presented as here. This is indeed "a concise handbook of Mormon theology and history for Christian workers."

After a chapter on "Mormonism and The Verdict of History" the author discusses the basic issue of "A New Revelation — The Mormon Bible." As members of this cult lay great stress on being the only ones possessing the true priesthood the chapter on "The Mormon Priesthood" is invaluable. Their missionaries usually begin their discussions with a lesson on the nature of God. The chapter "Mormonism's Doctrine of God — Theism or Polytheism" will prove helpful here. Other key doctrines in the dialogue with Mormonism are discussed in other chapters. The final chapter heading speaks for itself: "Meeting Mormon Missionaries — Some Helpful Suggestions". Finally there is an appendix on "The Reorganized Mormon Church." We are indebted to Mr. Martin for this excellent work.

VBS Directors Handbook by Joe Hacker and Don Sime, Gospel Teachers Publications, Inc. 89 pages, paper, $1.00.

More and more congregations in Canada are conducting Vacation Bible Schools. Sometimes they are carried on without much planning and in hit-or-miss fashion. It is good to learn by experience. But it is often better to learn by the experience of others. The authors of this VBS Directors Handbook are both on the Bible Department of Harding College and have had experience in religious and educational work. They have provided a book that will be of great help to those responsible for directing Vacation Bible Schools. In addition to discussing the planning, conducting and following up of a VBS, they give a number of useful charts and forms.

GLEANINGS FROM FOREIGN FIELDS

GREECE

Mention has been made in earlier issues of the Gospel Herald of plans to re-establish the church of Christ in Greece, where the Apostle Paul carried the gospel in the first century. Now we have word that the first public worship services of the church in hundreds of years were conducted in Athens on Sunday, March 25. Attempts by Bro. Richard Walker of Berlin, Germany to find possible contacts in Greece resulted in the location of nine Christians in the American community of Athens, plus names of 20 others who are interested in studying the pure gospel. The nine, who apparently had no known that any of the others were there, were anxious to begin public worship services.

Brother Walker and Brother Barton Davis of Wiesbaden, Germany, were to have been in Athens the week of March 25 through April 1, to help the few brethren begin services. Brother Rene Chenaux Repond, a native of Germany who attended Abilene Christian College in the United States and has been transferred to Athens by the chemical company for which he works, will preach for the group and take the lead in establishing a permanent work.

JAMAICA

Five were baptized recently by the church in Kingston, Jamaica. Brother Otis Gatewood preached in Kingston one night while he was en route to Brazil for a meeting.

SOUTHERN RHODESIA

Brother Clayton Waller, a native of Marlow, Oklahoma, will be sent to Nhowe Mission, Southern Rhodesia, this summer by the Hillcrest church in Abilene, Texas. The Marlow congregation will help with his work also.

Brother Waller, who worked his way through Oklahoma State College and Abilene Christian College as an auto mechanic, and has been part-owner of a service station, will be prepared to teach both the gospel of Christ and his trade to students on the mission. He will take his own equipment with him, and plans to help with his own support by working as a mechanic when possible as well as taking care of the machinery on the mission.

Brother Waller was influenced to go to Africa by the late Alex Claassen, whom he met while a student at Oklahoma State in 1954, and by Brother Roy Palmer, who taught at Nhowe until two years ago.

SOUTH AFRICA

Twelve persons were baptized into Christ during a recently - concluded eight-day gospel meeting at the church in Durban, and four more have been baptized since the close of the meeting. A total of 162 persons attended Bible school the first Sunday, and at least 75 persons who had never attended before visited services during the meeting. Brother Tex Williams of the Pietrermaritzburg congregation preached for the meeting and Bro. John Maples preaches regularly for the Durban church.

AUSTRIA

Despite very bad late winter weather and deep snow, an average of slightly over 100 persons attended each night of a week's gospel meeting held late in February in Vienna. Brother Ludwig Hoepfl of Munich, Germany preached. Five were baptized during the meeting, and one immediately afterwards. Among those baptized were the parents of the young doctor who became a Christian in Vienna last November. A total of 117 different visitors attended during the meeting.

FRANCE

Brother and Sister Ray Nelson of Cincinnati, Ohio, are making plans to go to France this summer to work with the churches there. They will be sent by the congregation in Lafayette, Indiana, where Brother Nelson worked while attending Purdue University.

Brother Nelson taught high school in Indiana for three years, and has been working as a chemist for Proctor and Gamble Company for the last five years while preaching for the church in Sunman, Indiana. The Nelsons plan to leave in June and go first to Paris where they will work with the English - speaking church until such time as they are proficient enough in the French language to go out and establish a congregation in one of the great French cities where none exists today.

MEXICO

Though the church has been meeting in the city of Tijuana, Baja California, Mexico, for more than three years, recognition by the Federal Government has just recently been obtained. In the meantime Brother Ruben Chavez, who for over a year supported himself by working nights in an aircraft plant in San Diego, has baptized over 1,000 persons into Christ. With the help of a number of individual Christians, a lot was purchased and a building seating 600 was built.

In recent months a number of congregations, and especially the one in Chula Vista, California, have raised support for Brother Chavez and his work. In addition, thousands of pounds of food and clothing purchased and sent by American Christians, have been distributed to the needy. Many from Tijuana have gone back to their homes in the interior of Mexico and carried the gospel with them. There is now another preacher, Brother Samuel Vasquez, helping Brother Chavez, and new works have been begun by the Tijuana church in surrounding communities; in Mexicali, capital of Baja California; in Ensenada; and in Rosarito Beach.

Brother Lloyd E. Ellis has given up his fulltime work with the Chula Vista church in order to devote his time to the Mexican work. He continues to serve as an elder and teach Bible classes in Chula Vista, while Sister Ellis teaches school for the personal support.

The March 1st bulletin reported 22 baptized at the Tijuana church this year and a new building under construction on donated land on the south side. The next report lists six baptized in March and two the first Sunday in April. Also another piece of land, worth $5,000 has been donated, for erection of a church building west of Tijuana's business section.

A PERSONAL WORK CAMPAIGN FOR PORTAGE LA PRAIRIE, MANITOBA

August 13 through 20th, 1962

Are you interested in helping a young congregation with a personal work campaign? Here are our plans:

Portage La Prairie, Manitoba, Canada, is a growing city of some 12,500 souls. There are somewhat over 3,000 homes. It is our hope to undertake a city wide campaign of personal work the week of August 13-20th. By that time we hope to have our new building completed. The official opening is planned for August 12th. A gospel meeting will begin that day and continue each evening through the week.

We intend to divide the city into some 6 zones, and hope to have 6 teams of workers of 6 each. This will mean every home will be covered at least twice during the week. Here is what we hope to accomplish.

1. Contact people who may be interested in the church.
2. Encourage people to attend the meetings nightly.
3. Discuss personal problems - show how Christ can help them.
4. Leave literature.
5. Enroll students for a Bible class on Sunday and VBS.
6. Enroll in correspondence Bible courses.

We have reserved the facilities of Camp Jubilee on Lake Manitoba, 15 miles north of the city to house those who come to help us. We hope to make this a time you will remember — a real vacation as well as an opportunity to work for the Master. Workers will sleep at the camp and have breakfast and lunch there. There will be 2 classes each morning with well known and capable teachers. These will deal with personal work and personal problems. Following lunch, we will come into town and make calls until the night meetings. Workers will be on their own for supper. Following the evening service, we will return to camp. There is an excellent beach for swimming, and we are looking forward to some good Camp Fire programs. The camp has 7 cabins, with beds, bunks, and mattresses. There is a kitchen-dining room also. Meals and lodging will cost about $1.50 per person per day at the camp. We have used this camp for our VBS the past 2 years and while it is not like a hotel or motel, we feel you will enjoy it.

If you are interested, we would be glad to give you more information, such as: What should you bring, etc. Possibly too, you might be able to help with supplying tracts etc. There are just 8 members in Portage La Prairie, so any support you can give us in the campaign will be gratefully received.

CAMEROON REPUBLIC

Two very promising Christian men from the Cameroon Republic, formerly a part of Nigeria, but now independent, are attending the Bible Training School in Nigeria. Both plan to return to preach the gospel in their native land. One is a former headmaster in a Government school, but he relinquished his position and his salary in order to devote his full time to studying the Bible in preparation for preaching.

NIGERIA

There are 63 students in the Bible Training School in Nigeria this year, 32 in the first year class, 23 in the second year, and eight in the third. These young men will be the preachers, teachers and leaders who will guide the growing church in Nigeria into spiritual maturity. The first and second year students have 20 periods of Bible study each week and the third year students have 16. There are four teachers: Brethren Dan Gibson; John Beckloff, who manages the Christian Schools for the Government; and Glenn Martin, all Americans, and D. M. Anako, a native Nigerian.

OAKRIDGE CHURCH HELPS LADYSMITH TO BUILD

The one-hundred member Oakridge congregation in Vancouver, B.C. has just concluded an interesting effort to help a small sister congregation in a building program. On March 11th, the contribution was taken up in two parts, the first to meet the $245.00 weekly budget for the congregation. From this $236.54 was received, slightly under the budget. The second part gave each member an opportunity to give to the work in Naniamo, B.C. and $310.41 was received to which was added $100.00 from the church treasury.

Again on April 8th this was repeated with $255.67 being given for Vancouver, slightly over the budget, and $703.00 for Naniamo to which another $100.00 was added from the treasury. Thus a total of $1213.41 was given in a one month period to help this sister congregation. The church now meeting in Ladysmith, has a lot cleared and ready in Naniamo with construction to begin in April.

This effort was also good for the Vancouver church to encourage them in what they could accomplish by concerted efforts. There were 134 present Sunday morning April 8th, and the total of the contribution was $958.67.

The work in Vancouver is looking very promising. Brother Bill Patterson, Editor of the Christian Bible Teacher has just completed a one week training period for the Bible School work. Good results are already being shown in this area. Two men have just been baptized into Christ.

PHILOSOPHY

is a confusion of tongues in the religious world and it is not always easy to discern the voice of the Lord. The disciples carried out the simple instructions of the Lord. "And they continued stedfastly in the apos'les doctrine and fellowship, and breaking of bread, and prayers" (Acts 2:42). They concluded their worship by singing a hymn and went out. Those who have unwisely added to the simple items of worship instrumental music, are responsible for causing religious confusion Friends, follow the pattern given to us by God.

WHAT IS A CHRISTIAN?

This learning of Christ is predicated on two great fundamentals. Before Jesus said, "To make disciples of all the nations", he said, " . . . . All authority hath been given unto me in heaven and on earth" (Matthew 28:18). So the disciple of Christ recognizes that only Christ has authority. Christ is the hand of the church. Mark said that the Gospel was to be preached to every creature (Mark 16:16). The Holy Spirit through Paul said: The gospel is the power of God unto salvation. (Romans 1:16). So the disciple, who becomes a Christian, is one that recognizes Christ as the supreme ruler and that the gospel is His power to save.

What is a Christian? He is one who is so called of God. Who does God so call? The disciple. The disciple is a learner. What has he learned? First, that all authority is given to Christ in heaven and on earth and that the gospel is the power of God unto salvation.

I am not insulting you when I ask you if your are a Christian. I do not mean to suggest that you are not a good person. I do not mean to suggest that you are grossly immoral. I meet a man and I ask him if he is a Canadian. Either he has been born here, he has been naturalized or he is not a Canadian. He may be a good man. He may do many things that a Canadian should do but he is only a Canadian by virtue of birth or naturalization.

Are you a Christian? Have you been born into the family of God? Have you become a disciple of Christ? Do you give your allegiance only to Him. Do you accept the gospel as God's power to save?

(Next month we shall deal with this question: Are there Christians in the denominations?)

GREETINGS

To my many friends and brethren in Canada and the United States, I wish to express my most sincere appreciation and love for their remembrance during my recent illness and confinement in the hospital It was a matter of comfort and encouragement to know that churches and individuals were praying for me. Since I cannot answer the more than 400 cards and letters I received, I am using this means to thank you and trusting that I can render you some service, when I return to work about the first of May.

WESTERN JUNE MEETING

To the Readers of the Gospel Herald:

For many decades there has been what has been called a June Meeting in Ontario. There is no question this fellowship has been a blessing to the brethren there. Moose Jaw is taking the lead this year in what we hope will be a similar effort and annual affair.

Moose Jaw is ideally located for such a meeting. It is central to most of the churches in Saskatchewan and will be central for brethren from Alberta and Manitoba to attend.

At one time everyone knew everyone, almost, in the work here in Saskatchewan. New work is springing up and has sprung up. The purpose of this meeting is to get acquainted. Know your brethren. When we know each other better, fellowship in the work will be easier.

We want to make JUNE 10 a RED LETTER DAY in our lives. Can we not make it a foretaste of heaven as we gather with so many brethren?

So RESERVE JUNE 10 for the meeting in Moose Jaw.

GOSPEL MEETING AT MANSON, MAN.

Meetings were held by the church at Manson from March 25 - April 1. There were several outsiders there and some attended most every night. There was no visible results, but we know that we do not sow in vain.

The work that was done there last summer by two boys from Oklahoma was very good. They traveled all over that area and talked to people about Christ and His church and they were well received. They are to be commended on the work they did.

The brethren at Manson are remodeling an old school building that they moved in beside their meeting house. They put four class rooms into it and will soon build a new entrance on the building.

There are meetings to be planned at Macally by the church at Manson in the future.

Brethren we can see what the Lord meant as we look about us and see "the fields white unto harvest." Stephen E. Ennis

WEDDINGS

VINE - FARREL

On the evening of February 3rd, 1962, the meeting place of the Church of Christ at North Livingston, Ontario, opened its doors to receive many guests to witness the marriage of Sister Judith Ardith Farrel of Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario to Brother Leslie Richard Vine of Thessalon.

Judith is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Farrel of Echo Bay, Ontario. Leslie is the second son of Brother and Sister Bethel Vine of the North Livingston congregation.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the groom's parents. Many beautiful and useful gifts were received by the young couple.

They will reside in the North Livingston area and will continue to be a service to the congregation there. We pray that God will richly bless them and grant them many useful and happy years together.

The writer officiated.

SIXTIETH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Humphrey Moot and Jenny Johnson, now of Fonthill, Ontario, were married in Gainsboro township by W. D. Campbell on April 9, 1902. Members of the church of Christ at Fenwick gave a dinner at the home of Brother and Sister George Hipwell in honour of this occasion. Among the 60 guests were 6 who were present at the wedding in 1902. A large mirror and a number of other gifts were presented. Also on display was a framed scroll from the Province of Ontario and congratulatory telegrams from Queen Elizabeth, Prime Minister Diefenbaker, Premier Robarts and others.

Both were born in 1877 and are in fine health. He recently passed a test for his driver's license which enables them to continue their faithful attendance at the meetings of the Fenwick church.

DONALD McKENZIE

On March the 29th the spirit of Bro. Donald McKenzie left the habitation of clay and took its flight to the eternal realm. Born on April 6th, 1883, he did not quite reach his seventy-ninth birthday. Oliver Tallman of Tintern and Ora Ellis of Smithville attended the funeral on March 31 at Little Current. Brother McKenzie had been occupied during his life as a guide in the North Channel area.

He is survived by his wife, the former Gertie Tallman; two sons, George of Hamilton, and Donald of Camp Borden; two daughters by a previous marriage, Mrs Frank Miller (Ethel) of Fort Erie, and Mrs. Grace Archie of Elliott Lake and a brother, of Manitoulin Island.

MABEL TALLMAN

Yesterday I received word of the passing of Sister Ozro E. Tallman, who was born in Upper Rawdon, Nova Scotia, July 30th, 1880. Memory takes me back to the days when:

"Many friends were gathered around us,
In the bright days of the past;
But the grave has closed above them,
And I linger here the last."

The old house where Mabel Wallace was born still stands: but only one sister remains to tell the story of joy and sorrow, toil and triumph. There in the home of Christian parents together with brothers and sisters she was raised in the Faith, and early in life became a Christian. The building where she first heard the gospel preached, stands by the side of the road, but no messenger of the cross has sounded out the "Good News" therein for years. She belonged to the "United Empire Loyalist" stock. Her family may have suffered many trials, but the greatest calamity of all came to her parents, when the two family home was smitten by diphtheria and they buried eleven children, six brothers and sisters, the remainder being cousins.

She was first married to Jack Covey, who lived but a few years after their marriage. They had one son Harold who died in 1919 as a result of the flu.

In 1911 she was married to Ozro E. Tallman, a well-known preacher, who predeceased her in 1930. Being left largely with the responsibility of a growing family, she struggled on till they were grown and married. In 1931 she was stricken with arthritis which continued to increase until she was confined to her bed, where she has been a great sufferer for years. While blind and almost deaf her mind was clear to the very end. Sister Tallman was highly respected in the church and among her many friends outside the church. She leaves behind an influence for good and a family that could not ask her back to suffer the torments which she so steadfastly endured. If all children would look after their parents as hers ministered to her for years there would be little need of government help. They are to be remembered and commended for their love and patience.

While Sister Tallman had not been able to take an active part in church work in recent times, her interest had not diminished nor her faith waned. Her interest also was in the home, that divine institution which has marked the progress of man from Eden to the present hour, and which if permitted to decline will seal the doom of human achievement. There are three beautiful words in our language: Mother, Home and Heaven. In a true mother there is doubtless less of earth and more of heaven than any other being. Her life was filled with sacrifice, service and love and that does more than eloquent sermons. The influence of a Christ-like mother reaches far beyond the realm of her domain. She helps mould the thoughts and shape the destiny of her family. Like many a mother she traced out paths in unknown fields because her influence to purify was paramount where her feet had never trod.

For her the race of life has finished and she has gone to join the blood washed host, "Where the wicked cease from troubling and the weary are at rest."

Sister Tallman passed away in the hospital in St. Catharines April 16th, and the funeral service was conducted in the Tallman Funeral Home in Vineland by Bro. Geoffrey Ellis, assisted by Bros. Eugene Perry and Bruce Merritt. Her frail body was then conveyed to the Jordan Cemetery, where it was laid to rest beside that of her husband and son.

As a final tribute to Sister Tallman I quote these words:

"Folded they lie upon her tranquil breast,
My mother's tired hands, their labour done,
Knotted and scarred in battles they have won,
Worn to the quick by love's unkind behest,
Pulseless they lie, while from the crimson West
A flood of glory from the setting sun
Shines on her face, I hear the deep well done,
God's angelus that calls her to rest
Found is the Holy Grail of Knightly quest,
In the home where such brave deeds were done
As knight ne'er saw since chivalry begun.
She suffered, toiled and died; God knows the rest
And if Christ's crown shines not above her cross,
Then all is loss, immeasurable loss."

Portage La Prairie, Man., April 18: The interest continues to grow here at Portage. Morning services and the Bible Class attendance is coming near the 40 mark. One young man was baptized last month, the first fruits of the work here. Bro. Vidler is studying with some 10 families in home meetings, and a number more are scheduled. Good interest is being shown in the proposed camp at the lake, to be held July 9-16. We expect 40-50 children to attend. Difficulty in financing the money to complete our building is holding up work, though work is being done on classrooms in the basement, and the ministers study. A loan of about $5,000 is urgently needed, to finish the exterior and put in seating, also

Bro. Vidler leaves May 3rd to begin a meeting with the church at Estevan. This is an exchange meeting, Estevan having sent Bro. Steve Ennis to us in late Feb. for a meeting. Weyburn, Sask., April 9: "We have just concluded a gospel meeting with Brother Jim Hawkins of Victoria, B.C. doing the preaching. During this time ten young people confessed their faith in Christ and were baptized. This brings the total for this year to 17. Of the ten, eight were students of Western Christian College and two were children of staff members. In addition some 25 others asked for the prayers of the congregation, and expressed a desire to rededicate their lives to Christ.

"The lessons presented were excellent and the congregation has been greatly strengthened. On Sunday, April 8 an all-day meeting was held with a goodly number of visitors present from other congregations. We feel that all in all a tremendous amount of good was accomplished in this effort."

A denominational preacher attended 6 or 7 times. Walter Straker led the singing and did personal work.

"There are some 8 or 10 members of the church in Nipawin-Tisdale area. Brother Straker and I hope to arrange a meeting in June somewhere there and bring these members together into a congregation. — J. C. Bailey

COLLEGE NEWS

Western and Great Lakes at A.C.C. Lectures

A display illustrating "Christian Education in Canada was entered jointly by Great Lakes and Western Christian College in the display tent at the Abilene Christian College Lectures, April 17-20. The display included a large map of Canada showing the relative locations of the two schools and photographs illustrating the respective campuses. The theme of the display was repeated in a special brochure prepared for the occasion telling the story of the growth of the two schools. Dan Wieb, president of Western, was in Abilene to speak on the "Opportunities in New Fields" program of the Lectures on the progress of the Church and the growth of Christian Education in Canada. A number of A.C.C. students, formerly of Great Lakes, were on hand to supervise the display. Plans are being made to enter the materials in the Lipscomb lectures in June.

The WAVES, which means "Women's Association for Vital Educational Support," has just completed its first year of activities. During the first year it raised approximately $4,000.00 for Great Lakes Christian College. In addition to the Nashville District, the other districts presently organized are the Niagara Frontier, St. Catharines, Beamsville, Hamilton, Tintern - Smithville, and Toronto. PERSONAL EVANGELISM

Allison Parker, Weyburn, Sask.

What is personal evangelism? I believe many people have the idea you must be a missionary or at least spend most of your time at this particular work. What is your conception? I believe it means leading people to Christ through a personal effort. We surely put forth an awful effort in the work-a-day world in order to keep up to the Jones', but when it comes to spiritual things we certainly fail or at least the majority of us do.

Let us ask ourselves this personal question, "In the last six months what have I done to help lead one soul to Christ?" We read where Andrew led Peter, and Philip led Nathaniel, but what is the person's name that you have talked to about his or her soul's condition? Have we reasons for not doing so or are they only excuses? God might accept a reason, but no, not an excuse.

There are those who say you have to have special qualifications to be a personal worker. I don't believe so. You need a fair working knowledge of the Bible, but most of all a burning desire within you to save souls. You recall the Samaritan woman at the well talking to the stranger. When she found out it was Jesus, she returned to Sychar and bid the Samaritans to come and hear this new teacher. This is the attitude we need.

I believe the church all across Canada is suffering because not enough personal work is carried out by individual Christians. We have our Bible study and preaching on Sundays, our mid-week study, our protracted meetings twice a year, and when there are no visible results we wonder why. The word of God is the seed, but if the ground is not properly worked, we cannot expect good results. I believe it is a 52-week job getting ready for a protracted meeting and not a two week one. I believe there are those people, who when approached by a preacher or an elder, feel inferior and their reaction is not what it would be if some one of their own rank or level were to talk to them about their soul. Probably they would ask more questions and become interested in spiritual matters. I believe there are those people in every walk of life who resent a preacher talking to them about their souls' welfare, therefore they purposely avoid him or make excuses when contacted by him. Here is where the personal worker should take advantage of the situation. Probably

E. D. Wieb, Weyburn, Sask.

Previously, we have learned of the universal nature of sin as it applies to all men. We must remember the circumstances under which early Cristianity was born. The worship of Jehovah was primarily restricted to one race of people - the Jews. God's plan of salvation and, indeed, the whole history of redemption is interwoven with this people.

The Old Tesament, the Bible of the Jews, is but the history in which the scheme is prophetically and typically hidden (I Peter 1:10-12). Therefore, it is no wonder that the problem of racial background and heredity should enter the discussion at this point.

Paul has just concluded that "a man is justified by faith apart from works of the law." Furthermore, he has seriously questioned the validity of the covenant of circumcision by bringing the Gentiles - by faith - into the cherished relationship (3:30).

This conclusion then poses the question of racial selection as promised by God to Abraham (Gen. 12). To the Jew, it seemed obvious that acceptance by God rested upon two things in particular - circumcision (relationship to Abraham) and observance of the law (relationship to Moses). Paul has previously shown that the Jews could not claim acceptance by works, for, in the first place, he had failed to keep the law and, secondly, man is jus-

A SEARCH AND A TREASURE

by Arthur B. Cornwall
Woodstock, Ont.

We of the church of Christ are called Christians. Many are sincere, hardworking, honest people. They attend services and love the word of God. But is this enough?

I think not. To be a real Christian is a full-time job. It is not easy, and is not always pleasant. As humans we have much from which we must refrain, much to remember, and always much to do in service.

Many, it seems, cannot find the time to do service. We have our work, our home, and outside interests. But we always have time to accept blessings. We may acknowledge them with a hasty word of prayer. But too often, we seem to forget the debt we owe to our Maker.

Becoming a Christian is easy and pleasant. Remaining a Christian is hard. Sinning is always easy, always pleasant. How many Christian brethren take time out to examine themselves?

Many of us show dislike for others. But we are told in Matthew 5:44 to love our enemies, and in John 13:34, to love one another.

We also must not judge our fellow men. We are advised in Matthew 7:1 to judge not. Why? Many of us judge a man by the color of his skin, the slant of his eyes, or the tongue he speaks. Are not all men made in the image of Christ (I Corinthians 11:3)? If this is so, then to judge and condemn is to do the same to Christ and his works.

To prove ourselves Christians, we must serve our Maker as loving, God-fearing men and women. We must speak and teach the truth, and live it daily.

To those who are not Christians, or who have fallen away; to those who have not accepted, but feel the desire for Christ; to those who have not learned to believe, who do not understand the Word of God, who often say: "How can you be sure there is a God?", let me explain my personal experience without Christianity.

In 1951, I was taken ill without warning, and was left paralyzed. After many days of pain and fear, tests and more tests, I was told that I would never walk again. For two and a half years, I sat alone in a wheel chair, fighting fear and despair, tears and pain. My only friend was the Salvation Army. Should you ask why my minister never called, I could only answer that the church to which I belonged at that time represents big business. I was a poor man, and useless.

I talked to God when I could not overcome despair, and He eased my suffering. I began to read of faith healers, and gave them much thought. If God would give me a chance, would I serve Him in return? I changed my way of thinking, of doing, and I prayed and prayed. After a year or two, I began walking with a crutch, then canes. Then I walked without a cane, with no pain.

I was no longer satisified with my church. I felt that somewhere there was a Christian fellowship where men are equal and brotherly love travelled hand in hand with God!

Then I read an article in the United Church Observer, concerning colored people outside of Halifax, N.S. The paper went on to say that while conditions were very bad for them, and many needed care, the United Church could do nothing for them because these people were of other faiths.

To me, this was most unjust. Why should any man suffer because he was not of a certain faith? The more I thought about it, the more disgusted I became.

I voiced my own opinions through the pages of this United Church paper, and they were noted by Bro. Carl Johnson of Estevan, Sask. He wrote to me, and we became pen pals. Shortly after this, I went to work at Sault Ste. Marie. Brother Johnson wrote to the ministers of his faith at Sault Ste. Marie in Canada and Michigan.

Thus there came into my life two young men of the church of Christ, Tom Bunting and Jim Krumrei. The more we talked, the more I heard, and the more I heard, the more I liked and wanted to hear. Then I went to the little red building on Highway 17 at Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., and liked the people I met there. This liking became brotherly love, and on February 13, 1961, I was baptized into Christ, and experienced a wonderful blessing.

Four months later I suffered a heart attack, and spent two months in the hospital. Then I returned to my home, and my 93-year old mother broke her hip. Since then there has been much heartbreak, and a broken home, but God and I grow closer daily. I love Him more every day. Each passing hour I realize our great need of His love. I am so thankful that I became a Christian. I hope one day that I will meet my Lord, my Master. I pray I may serve Him faithfully as long as breath is mine.

WHAT IS SIN?

Mervyn Whitfield

The word sin itself means: any thought, word, action, omission, or desire, contrary to the law of God.

God is not the author of sin, but he permits it. He has permitted it, because the revelation of his infinite perfection is the highest conceivable good and the ultimate end of all his works, and there could be no manifestation of certain of his attributes if sin were not permitted. Were there no misery, there could be no mercy shown by God; and there could be no revelation of his grace and justice, if there were no sin (refer to Rom. 9:22,23).

Sin is permitted that God's justice may be known in its punishment, and his mercy in its forgiveness. Holiness and sin may be nearly balanced on earth; but in the universe, sin is very limited in comparison with holiness, and the number of lost men and angels is doubtless small compared with the whole number of the rational creatures of God.

God spoke to the men of old, "My spirit shall not always strive with man", (Gen 6:3) "And God saw that the wickedness of man was great in the earth, and that every imagination of the thoughts of his heart was only evil continually." (Gen 6:5). But God's infinite mercy is shown, "When once the longsuffering of God waited in the days of Noah, while the ark was a preparing," (I Peter 3:20).

God has never condoned sin, in that He "spared not the old world, but saved Noah, the eighth person, a preacher of righteousness, bringing in the flood upon the world of the ungodly" (II Peter 2:5). The Bible describes many examples of God's grace and justice, then climaxed His love for the world, "that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life. For God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through him might be saved" (John 3:16,17).

Jesus began his mission on earth by demonstrating his power, by professing to forgive sins, the prerogative not of man, but of God. If Jesus were but a man, as the scribes imagined, they would have been right, but when they saw a helpless paralytic, unable even to walk, arise and walk, they marvelled, and glorified God (Matt. 9:1-9). Furthermore Matthew says that these learned men asked Jesus' disciples, "Why eateth your Master with publicans and sinners?" (ibid verse 11). The strict Jews would not eat with Gentiles, and these classes were regarded by them as on a level with the heathen. "But when Jesus heard that, he said, 'they that be whole need not a physician, but they that are sick" (ibid verse 12).

But the Pharisees had never learned the meaning of this passage, which teaches that kind hearts and helpful deeds are more pleasing to God than outward ceremonial. Sacrifice is right, but mercy is first in importance, "For I am not come to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance" (ibid verse 13). Even at that time the learned were too high minded to understand God's plan of salvation, neither did they recognize sin and its destruction.

On another occasion Jesus demonstrated His mission on earth, and that men might understand, that He was the light of the world, in that they might see and recognize sin. "And His disciples asked Him saying, Master hath this man sinned, or his parents, that he was born blind" (John 9:2). The disciples wanted to know, if this blindness is a judgement, if not, whose sin caused it?

Jesus plainly states, "neither hath this man sinned, nor his parents; but that the works of God should be made manifest in him" (ibid verse 3). Jesus does not affirm that they were sinless, but that their sins were not the cause of the calamity. We are not justified in asserting that the sufferer is a sinner. The works of God are to be made manifest in the blind man; "The Father chasteneth every son whom he loveth." Jesus must work those works while the short day of life lasteth.

Then Jesus "spat on the ground, and made clay of the spittle, and he anointed the eyes of the blind man with the clay, and said unto him, Go, wash in the pool of Siloam," (John 9:6,7). The blind being obedient to the command received his sight. But it seems the Pharisees only recognized a violation of the day, since the miracle was performed on the Sabbath.

Here we have traditions of men, put forth by learned men, rather than receiving and seeing the true Light of the world. Thus in the blind eyes of the Pharisees, Jesus was a condemned sinner.

The man having his eyes opened, declares it to be a marvellous thing, because "We know that God heareth not sinners: but if any man be a worshipper of God, and doeth his will, him he heareth" (John 9:31). Truly, without the power of God no man could open the eyes of one born blind. The man had lost the world, but had found Jesus, and when the Pharisees found they could not answer his arguments they could excommunicate him, so they cast him out.

When Jesus found him, "he said unto him, Dost thou believe on the Son of God? He answered and said, Who is he, Lord, that I might believe on him? And Jesus said unto him, Thou hast both seen him, and it is he that talketh with thee. And he said, Lord, I believe. And he worshipped him. And Jesus said, For judgement I am come into this world, that they which see not might see, and that they which see might be made blind. And some of the Pharisees which were with him heard these words, and said unto him, Are we blind also? Jesus said unto them, If ye were blind, ye should have no sin: but now ye say, We see; therefore your sin remaineth" (John 9:35 to the end of Ch.). Had they been without opportunity, they would have no moral responsibility, but as they had opportunity to see and claimed to see, their sin remained.

The two kingdoms of Satan and of Christ are opposed, because the Bible teaches us that Jesus "Did no sin, neither was guile found in his mouth" (I Peter 2:22). "He that committeth sin is of the devil; for the devil sinneth from the beginning. For this purpose the Son of God was manifested, that he might destroy the works of the devil" (I John

BRINGING OUR BOYS BACK HOME

Good food and good fellowship were combined in a recent luncheon which this editor enjoyed while in Toronto. Five of us gathered around a table to visit through a pleasant lunch hour. Four of us were preachers and the fifth was a man who has been very active in the program of one of our best congregations.

Talk soon got around to the need for more preachers with the Canadian churches. Next we were attempting to answer the question of why so many Canadians are serving with congregations in the United States. Some of the thoughts and suggestions of that hour seemed worthy of reproduction here.

The church in Canada is blessed today with some of the finest evangelists on the face of the earth. Some of these are Canadians by birth. Others have come to us from the States. With but very few exceptions in recent years the quality has been high. The main concern at the moment seems to be the difficulty of obtaining enough men to fill the pulpits that are open at present. Several congregations have asked this writer for suggestions of available preachers. Unfortunately, we could give little help in this matter.

In our conversation, there was mention of the difference in support for full-time evangelists between the States and Canada. It was pointed out, and I believe correctly, that almost any of the men on the Canadian scene could increase their personal support by fifty per cent, or more, by moving across the border. This is a temptation to many. Especially is this attractive to a young man with debts for a college education to pay off. It is attractive also to a man with a large family to support. In some cases the extra financial advantage may be the reason for young men refusing to return to Canada or for their failure to remain after returning.

Some may denounce these brethren with cries of "mercenary" and "professional," but we find it difficult to be critical. It is likely that those who are loudest in their accusations would be the first to act similarly under similar conditions. Each individual is free under God to live and to labor where his judgement leads him. When a man makes money matters the largest factor in his choice of fields, he is walking a dangerous path. On the other hand, the brethren who could support him adequately and will not are guilty of selfishness and lack of consideration for one who deserves better treatment.

We write these words with no axe to grind. In most instances in local work and protracted meetings since returning to Canada we have received as much as we were worth, and in some cases more. Our family is not large and college debts were non-existent. Many wonderful brethren have expressed interest in our physical welfare and comfort. We would to God that all our returning brethren had been as financially solvent as we. If they had been, more of them would be in Canada today.

It would be a mistake, however, and a serious one, to think that money is the only consideration that attracts and holds men south of the border. Canadians, and this writer is proud to be one, are a phlegmatic, undemonstrative lot. They do not praise people easily. Our brethren in the south are a little more enthusiastic by nature. They tend to express far more freely their appreciation of a job well done. In other words, a preacher is made to feel that his efforts are appreciated.

A man who would preach simply for the praise of men is a selfish egotist. Any honest man, on the other hand, will admit that he finds stimulation in the occasional expressions of praise and thanks from his brethren. Such attention is both cheap and effectual. Why not bestow it on true servants of the Lord?

The day that we achieve a level of education in our two Christian colleges that will give college graduation in a Christian environment, we shall see part of our problem removed. Young people who are

TEACHING GOD'S WORD

VISITATION PAYS

H. Ralph Perry,
London, Ontario

A certain fellow once met a girl. She was very sweet and lovely, so he decided to do some heavy courting. He bought 365 post cards, one for each day of the year. For twelve long months he sent her a love-note each day. Everyday for 365 days she received a sweet message on one of his post cards. At the end of the year she got married — to the Postman! VISITATION PAID OFF!

Constant visitation counts. Post cards, letters, and other literature are fine and do good, but it is constantly repeated visiting that brings the results. If the widow in Christ's story in Luke 18: 1-8 had approached the judge only once her desire would have gone unrealized. "She came oft unto him" with her plea. At first he would not grant her wish, but afterward said, "because this widow troubleth me, I will avenge her, lest she wear me out by her continual coming."

For best results, Bible school teachers should visit regularly in the homes represented in their classes. There are three good reasons for such visitation.

1. To improve teaching. A teacher must know his pupils well to do a good job in teaching. He should know the desires, needs, problems and knowledge of each student. Then he can apply most effectively Bible lessons to their spiritual nurture. A friendly visit in the home will usually reveal more about a pupil than anything else.

2. To witness for Christ. Every faithful teacher of God's word will want to win his or her pupils to Christ. In the case of teaching little tots the teacher will be part of the process to plant the seed which one day will reap a harvest. In some cases teachers will want to visit in the home to talk with the student about obeying the gospel.

Home visitation affords a much wider area of witnessing than just to pupils. Often parents and other members of the family are not Christian. Teachers should realize that God has furnished them an open door of opportunity to do personal work in these homes. This should not be neglected.

3. To show Christian concern. A Christian is one who genuinely cares for the mental, physical, emotional, and spiritual welfare of others. A teacher should be deeply concerned about the total welfare of each of his pupils. A visit in the home to discuss such will reveal, to Christian and unchristian parents alike, this Christ-like concern. This surely can be light to lead men to God (Matt. 5:14-16).

It is recommended that teachers and assistants should visit in the homes of their pupils at least once every three months. Some denominational churches will not allow one who neglects this to teach. Visitation Pays!

One in charge of a large and active Bible school program in Ontario revealed to me in a recent conversation that he wondered if it was worth the effort to increase attendance. Many of the students drop out at a certain age and the parents show no interest. I wonder also. Is it that regular visitation is neglected? It seems quite definite that this is part of the problem.

Not only should teachers visit regularly but they should also seek absent students through visitation. We end the article with a suggestive poem.

THE ABSENTEE

"Someone is absent," the Shepherd said,
As over my classbook He bent His head;
"For several Sundays absent, too,
So tell me teacher, what did you Do?"

"I didn't call, as perhaps I should;
I wrote some cards, but they did no good;
I've never heard, and she never came,
So, I decided to drop her name."

He answered gravely, "A flock was mine,
A hundred? No. there were 90 and 9,
For ONE was lost in the dark and cold,
So I sought the sheep who had left the fold.

The path was stony and edged with thorns,
My feet were wounded and bruised and torn,
But I kept on seeking not counting the cost
And oh, the joy when I found the lost."

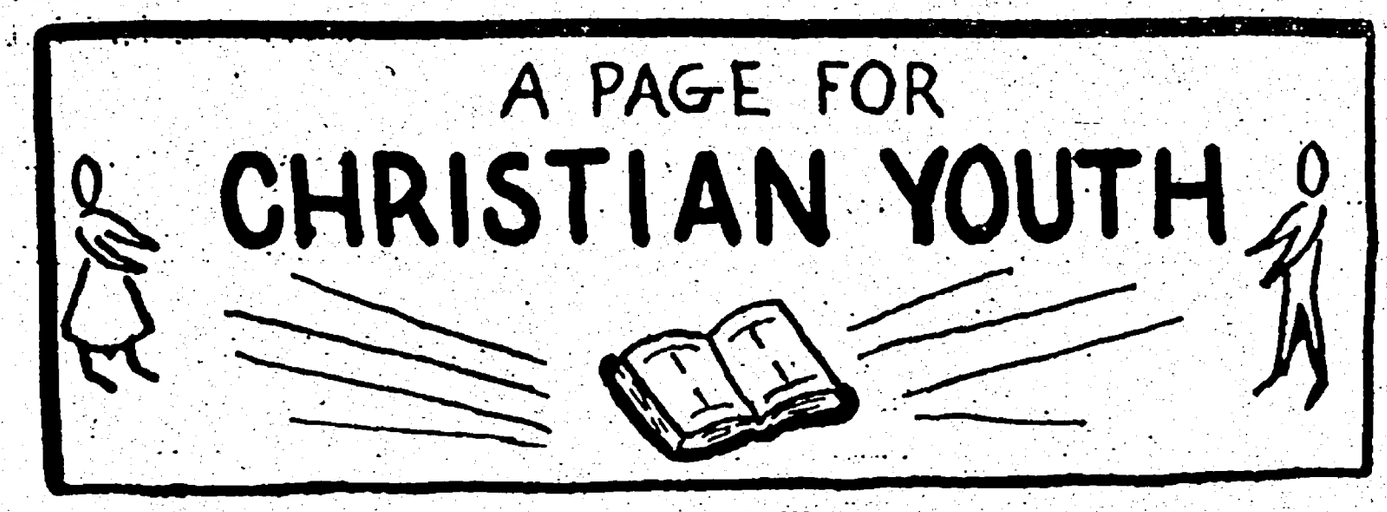
THE BIBLE CORRESPONDENCE COURSE

Is Destined To Reach Thousands!

By Jule Miller

(Article Number One)



The Bible Correspondence course is one of the most effective methods for reaching those outside the church. The Catholics have monopolized this field for years by sending out millions of their courses entitled "Father Smith Instructs Jackson," a six-lesson course. While studying in the Catholic course, students are treated royally and given considerable personal attention. This treatment has gone a long way in converting thousands to Catholicism. The churches of Christ now have available a new and beautiful five-lesson course entitled "Visualized Bible Correspondence Course" which contains over 400 half-tone pictures. It is prepared with a professional appearance that churches will be proud to offer.

There are several decided advantages to such an attractive course. First, through this private "mail-channel" it is possible to enter many homes closed to other teaching methods. Denominational people are taught who would never have made the initial step to attend a service of the church.

Second, there are hundreds and thousands of elderly people, crippled, shut-ins and others, who delight in spending their time studying the Bible. The new "Visualized Correspondence Course" will be especially helpful in reaching these.

Third, busy people can study a Bible correspondence course in their leisure time or at odd hours. Thus, many will study the Bible by correspondence who will never

"VISION vs FISSION"

By Lynn Anderson
Salmon Arm, B.C.

If a 50 megaton bomb were discharged here today, it's blast would completely demolish an area dozens of miles wide. It's indirect effects would be felt hundreds of miles away. It's shock wave would be detected by sismograph experts around the globe. Most horrible of all, it's deadly radioactive fallout would rain death for weeks, possibly months to come.

Tomorrow, responsibility for this power will be balanced on the shoulders of today's youth. Shudder with me all young men. Doubtless our future depends upon the use to which we put this monster of destruction that our fathers have given us. We will answer to God for it.

But there is a force far more explosive with which we must reckon; a responsiblity far greater than any physical weapon of destruction.

The gospel was 'discharged' 2000 years ago. It's power transformed the whole world. It's indirect effects have been felt by every nation in every generation since the first sermon was preached. It's 'shock wave' is being detected in heaven and in hell. Wonder of all wonders, it's regenerating powers shall "radiate' abundant life until the end of time, yea, shall preserve it in eternity. Terrific explosion! Tremendous good news.

This makes young Christians happy. It should also make us tremble. Definitely our tomorrows depend upon this dynamic 'power to save,' given us by our Father. Our eternal destiny pivots on the way we use this gospel. We must answer to God for it.

One man has said, "we must quit wringing our hands over 'what the world has come to' and start shouting from the roof-tops, 'look what has come to the world'." Rather than nightmares over thermo-nuclear heat and western destruction, we need visions that set us on fire with zeal for world-evangelism. Tis' true; nuclear fission and war-words could wreck our cilivization shortly. BUT 'new clear vision' and the gospel of the Prince of peace can save our souls forever.

What fearful and wonderful responsibilities face young people today!

TORONTO YOUTH

Young people from Toronto and the surrounding area were treated to a period of worship and fellowship at the Bayview congregation, Saturday, May 12. The speaker at the worship service was Brother Earl West, of Cleveland, Ohio, who had been holding a gospel meeting at Bayview. At the conclusion of the service, a period of fellowship (with refreshments) was enjoyed in the basement.

The lesson Brother West delivered was so fine, it might be a good idea to give a very brief summary of it here. "Two Challenges to Young Christians" was the title of the lesson. The two challenges were: the challenge of Faith, and that of personal commitment. Faith in God was discussed first, and could well be considered the backbone of all, for without strong faith in the Heavenly Father, all else is lost. Next, we need faith in the Bible as the word of God, and thus, our guide. Although in some instances scientists have tried to disprove the Bible, new discoveries are constantly being made that bolster or strengthen our faith in the Bible. True belief in the moral standards revealed in the Bible is also badly needed in the world today. Several instances were cited that proved how sadly our standards have sagged, and how morally corrupt our nations are becoming. Faith in God, the Bible, and moral purity is the way to true happiness.

Brother West suggested that the next challenge was that of going beyond faith to committing ourselves personally to the service of God. In other words, even in choosing our occupations, we can make our decision for purely selfish reasons, or we can give ourselves wholly to God and use our field of work as a sideline, or means of service to our fellowman, and God. The world today badly needs young men and women that are not afraid to sacrifice to serve the Lord in a place where they are needed most.

Those that attended this meeting, I am sure, are grateful to the Bayview congregation for their hospitality, and to Brother Earl West for his challenging message.

FOUL WEATHER CHRISTIANS

No doubt you have heard of "fair weather friends". These are folks that are our friends when all is well, but when trouble comes they are nowhere to be found. Often, sadly enough, many people are foul weather Christians. By that we mean when the weather is not too nice they are fairly faithful in attending worship services, but — when it warms up and the sun brightly shines, they are no where to be found (except perhaps, at the beach). I believe that as young folks, we can do a real service by setting the example of faithfulness to the older people. Let us put God first not only in winter, but also in summer. Don't be a "Foul Weather Christian"!

WHAT IS SIN?

A sinful life is a proof of the devil's power. "Whosoever is born of God doth not commit sin; for his seed remaineth in him: and he cannot sin, because he is born of God" (ibid verse 9). The thought that he does not live a life of the spirit born of God, the new man does not sin, and cannot sin. The man God's child, but in him the old nature revives and for a moment exerts its power. "It is no more I that do it but sin that dwelleth in me" (Romans 7:20).

"In this the children of God are manifest, and the children of the devil: whosoever doeth not righteousness is not of God, neither he that loveth not his brother" (I John 3:10). Thus is the distinction clear between God's children and those of the devil. God's children are full of love and live holy lives. Those of the devil are the opposite. Paul says: "O wretched man that I am; who shall deliver me from the body of this death? I thank God through Jesus our Lord. So then with the mind I myself serve the law of God; but with the flesh the law of sin" (Romans 7:24,25). The failure of the law to deliver showed the need of Christ.

Again Paul says: "This I say then, Walk in the Spirit, and ye shall not fulfill the lust of the flesh. For the flesh lusteth against the Spirit, and the Spirit against the flesh: and these are contrary the one to the other; so that ye cannot do the things that ye would. But if ye be led by the Spirit, ye are not under the law. Now the works of the flesh are manifest, which are these: adultery, fornication, uncleanness, lasciviousness, idolatry, witchcraft, hatred, variance, emulation, wrath, strife, seditions, heresies, envyings, murders, drunkenness, revellings, and such like: of the which I tell you before, as I have also told you in time past, that they which do such things shall not inherit the kingdom of God. But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, long-suffering, gentleness, godliness, faith, meekness, temperance: against such there is no law. And they that are Christ's have crucified the flesh, with the affections and lusts. If we live in the Spirit let us also walk in the Spirit. Let us not be desirous of vainglory, provoking one another, envying one another" (Galatians 5:16 to the end of ch.).

Let us conclude that, the lust of the flesh and the betrayal of God's commandments are sin. And "If any man among you seem to be religious, and bridleth not his tongue, but deceiveth his own heart, this man's religion is vain. Pure religion, and undefiled, before God and the Father, is this: To visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction, and to keep himself unspotted from the world" (James 1:-26,27).

There is a sin that hath no forgiveness, "Wherefore I say unto you, all manner of sin and blasphemy shall be forgiven unto men; but the blasphemy against the Holy Ghost, it shall not be forgiven him, neither in this world, neither in the world to come" (Matt. 12:31,32).

Anyone who would assign the work of the Holy Spirit to Satan, hath no forgiveness. Those who have received the truth, and had opportunity to bring forth good fruit, and do it not, "Shall give account thereof in the day of judgement. For by thy words thou shalt be justified, and by thy words thou shalt be condemned" (Matt. 12:-36,37).

"Be ye not unequally yoked together with unbelievers; for what fellowship hath righteousness with unrighteousness, and what communion hath light with darkness?" (II Corinthians 6:14).

I thank God through Jesus Christ, our Lord, that my eyes were opened, before it was everlastingly too late. I plead with you, "come ye out from among them, and be ye separate, saith the Lord," (ibid verse 17).

As I bring you this message, I am reminded of the Apostle Paul, when he charged the young preacher Timothy: "I charge thee in the sight of God, and of Christ Jesus, who shall judge the living and the dead, and by his appearing and his kingdom; preach the word; be urgent in season, out of season; reprove, rebuke, exhort, with all longsuffering and teaching" (II Tim. 4:1-2). It is in this vein that this message is presented to you.

CORRESPONDENCE COURSE

Finally, we must remember that confidential study of the Bible at home gives the interested student an opportunity to seek for himself, to find answers to his own problems and to decide to obey the gospel strictly as a result of his own choice. For these and many other reasons the Bible Correspondence course stands as one of the finest methods known for reaching the unsaved.

The author is aware that hundreds of congregations are currently offering a Bible correspondence course. This is truly commendable. However, those directing and grading such courses are usually picked at random with little consideration for training or other qualifications. It is with this thought in mind that our present series of articles is offered. Those who administer a Bible correspondence course should be carefully trained for this most important work.

A complete sample kit of the new "Visualized Bible Correspondence Course" (Including five 24 page lessons, 5 sets of questions, mailing envelopes and a certificate of completion is available for only $1.00) tified by faith and not by works of the law. Now must be settled the problem of racial descent. Apparently the Jews made much of the genealogies. If it can be shown that Abraham was justified by faith and if, in turn, Christ can be linked to Abraham, then it is true that, "if you are Christ's then are you Abraham's seed and heirs according to the promise." (Gal. 3:29).

THE LETTER TO ROME

Also, if it can be shown that Abraham was justified by faith and not faith plus circumcision, it will forever, open the door of salvation to spiritual Israel which includes all nations.

The argument of Romans four culminates in the statement that Abraham's faith was reckoned to him for righteousness in "uncircumcision" (verse 10). Thus two things become apparent. First, circumcision was a seal of the covenant which was made by God with Abraham because of the latter's faith. Second, the promise given to Abraham was not and was never intended to be predicated upon obedience to the law. Taking into consideration, the statement made in James 2:20-27, we are made to realize that circumcision, the seal of a covenant, is not made the type of which New Testament baptism is the antitype, for baptism is never referred to as a seal or a sign. In fact the seal given to the Christian is rather the gift of the Holy Spirit (2 Cor. 1:22; Eph. 1:13).

Baptism is rather typified in the acts of obedience performed by Abraham as he placed himself entirely in the hands of God. It was Abraham's faith which caused him to offer Isaac (Heb. 11:17) and it is our faith which causes us to offer ourselves in baptism to God. (more of this in Chapter 6). Thus, only faith can partake of the righteousness of God. Jew & Gentile alike can be accepted by God through faith. "The righteous shall live by faith." Why? Because his faith is imputed unto him for righteousness. (Ch. 4:5). This is grace, as David says, "Blessed are they whose iniquities are forgiven and whose sins are covered (verse 7). In our next article we shall endeavour to shed some light on the problem of "universal guilt" and "original sin," as we discuss Romans, Ch. 5.

Book Reviews

Books to be reviewed in this column should be sent to Keith T. Thompson, Box 403 Beamsville, Ont., Canada.

The Ten Commandments Yesterday and Today by James Burton Coffman. Fleming H. Revell Company, Westwood, New Jersey. In Canada, G. R. Welch Co., Toronto, Ont. 128 pages, $2.65.

"THOU SHALT . . . thou shalt not!" How these words thunder across the centuries! The Ten Commandments, based upon eternal and unchanging principles, deal with man's basic problems of behavior and form a guide for the course of moral life. In an age of relativism they provide a certain and objective standard of righteousness. By universal consent they stand in a class by themselves, expressing in a few words some basic relationships to God and men.

The preceding words begin the Preface to this book on the Ten Commandments. Later in the preface we read "The Lord Jesus Christ is the fulfillment of the law. He is the judge of it. He is the glory of it. He is that Prophet like unto Moses to whom all men owe allegiance. He is the Redeemer from the curse of the law, life in place of death .He is grace instead of the law, mercy instead of penalty, salvation instead of condemnation, the Author of the law of the Spirit of Life. He is the Sun of Righteousness dispelling the gloomy smoke of Sinai. Let men grope no more, but arise and shine, for their Light is come."

These quotations give you a sample of the contents of this volume. Each of the Ten Commandments is discussed and applied to modern living. Brother Coffman has studied the majority of the books written on the Decalogue during the last fifty years and makes numerous valuable references to these books. As most of our readers are probably aware, the author is minister of the Manhattan church in New York City.

by Eugene C. Perry

Ajax, Ontario: "We look back in retrospect at 12 days spent in the work of the Lord. We certainly thank Bro. J. Gladwell for a very fine effort put forth to help proclaim the message of Christ in song and word.

This was the first Gospel Meeting held by this young church. It was well supported by the members with an average attendance of 53.

Toronto, Strathmore Blvd.: One was baptized the last part of April. Three have been identified and one confessed faults in recent weeks.

Specially marked envelopes are being used in the contribution by those wishing to make contributions toward the evangelistic campaign in London and Ottawa.

Brother Murray Hammond looks a little more on the bright side, and is making progress, according to Joyce. He may be addressed at Toronto T.B. Sanatorium, Weston, Ont.

Hamilton: Robert Davison has accepted work with the church in Lima, Ohio and begins this challenging work about July 1st. Lima, located 100 miles southwest of Toledo has a congregation of about 70 members in a population of 50,000 people. One was recently restored and a fine young man obeyed the gospel on May 13.

Giving has been very close to the weekly budget of $185 so far this year. The dates of the vacation Bible school have been moved to late August.

Beamsville, Ont: Keith Thompson held a meeting in Niagara Falls, N.Y. in April with good attendance and one was baptized and one restored. Clyde Lansdell of Meaford will visit this area the later part of May in the interest of the July tent meeting.

Two young men of Great Lakes Christian College obeyed the gospel during the meeting held by Bob Scott of Syracuse in May. Two more obeyed on May 22, when Joe Cannon spoke. One confessed fault.

St. Catharines, Ont.: The gospel meeting in St. Catharines, continued from May 6th to May 18th. Bro. Arnold Watson of Memphis, Tenn. did the preaching. This is the third time that he has been with us, and his messages were of the highest order. He speaks with conviction and bases all his arguments upon the Bible and not the sayings of some great teacher or professor. We feel that the church was greatly helped, and people who never heard the pure gospel were instructed in the way of the Lord. Four young people were baptized.

AN INVITATION

The many brethren and friends of Bro. and Sis. Charles G. McPhee are invited to their home, 4 Fawell Ave., St. Catharines, on the afternoon and evening of June 16th. At this time they celebrate the 40th anniversary of their wedding.

Niagara Falls, Ont.: A special contribution for the building fund taken on April 29th when the attendance was 50 amounted to $1699.41. These people mean to do their part in providing a building. There are 31 members.

May 13: The laminated beams were erected last week and the building is now beginning to take shape. It is expected that work on the walls will begin this week. A couple of months should see this construction completed.

A vacation Bible school and meeting planned for August 19-26 will have the assistance of a group from Murfreesboro, Tennessee. Bro. Bradford will be the speaker.

Glencoe, Ontario: "The meeting at Glencoe was a great success. Bro. Claude Wilsford did an excellent job of the preaching. Though the exact figure is not known, it is estimated that about 25 different outsiders attended the meeting . . . One young man was baptized into Christ. The dates of this meeting were Apr. 22 to May 2.

London, Ont.: Progress has been very slow in securing land for building purposes. The group of workers from Abilene, Texas and other places will arrive in London during the week of June 3rd. The Gospel meeting with Keith Thompson of Beamsville preaching will be June 17-27 and a V.B.S. will be held July 9-13. Evelyn Harrison Public School will be used.

Meaford, Ont.: There were 134 in Bible classes on April 15. Clyde Lansdell has consented to continue with this church for another year. Let us pray for and support the tent meeting they have undertaken for July.

Sudbury, Ont.: On Saturday, May 5th, Bro. Bethel Bailey engaged the Mormon elders in a public discussion in which he affirmed "that we have the authority to teach and administer the rites of the Gospel independent of apostolic succession."

An all day fellowship meeting was held on May 20 with Ed Bryant of Strathmore in Toronto as the main speaker.

Barrie, Ont.: Wesley Jones, supported by a congregation in Bowling Green, Ky. visited Barrie during May in making preparations for his move to work here in August. An excellent lot for a new meeting house has been purchased. Support is available for a second preacher if he wishes to join the group.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Northern Rd: "We were again thrilled by the response of Stuart and Lucy Johnson, husband and wife, who were buried with their Lord in baptism on April 30th. Brother Don Givens from Florida Christian College will be coming to work with the church here in the early part of June.

HERE AND THERE

Carman, Manitoba: "Brother and Sister Aaron Swart will be moving to Carman to work with the Lord's church beginning May 15. He has been serving as educational director and song leader with the Colorado and Jackson Streets congregation in San Angelo, Texas, since January, 1961.

Lee Woodward left Carman in order to continue his education at Abilene Christian College. A few months ago a nice, new preacher's house was completed at a convenient location on the north side of the meeting house.

GLEANINGS FROM FOREIGN FIELDS

JAPAN

Miyagi-San, one of the first three elders of the Yoyogi - Hachiman Church of Christ in Tokyo, and also one of the first elders in all Japan, died recently. He had been seriously ill for over a month. Of this Japanese brother, Bob Joliffe, an American missionary in that country, writes: "He was a fine Christian gentleman in every sense."

PANAMA

Brother and Sister Ben Sherfield of Garden City, Michigan, left June 1 for Cristobal, Republic of Panama, where he will work with with Brother Ramon Mendez in spreading the gospel in that country. The Garden City church will support the Sherfield family in Panama.

AUSTRALIA

A group of deaf people in Wynnum, Australia, began meeting as a Bible class about 15 years ago, and have now studied themselves out of denominationalism and into New Testament Christianity.

During the past two years some had been baptized into Christ and had become members of the church in Adelaide. However, these new Christians kept contact with those left in the original Bible class, and began sending them tracts and gospel literature. On their own, they began a weekly observance of the Lord's Supper.

In March two American missionaries in Australia, Duward Lee and Sam Mormino, were invited to come and preach to them with the help of an interpreter. A week later the 20 adults in the group expressed the desire to become simply Christians, and to be known as a part of the church of Christ.

Brother Lee, who has been of great help to the church in Australia for the past three years, returned to the United States in May.

CENTRAL AFRICAN FEDERATION
(Rhodesia and Nyasaland)

Brethren H. E. Pierce and Edwin Crookshank, Americans, and S. G. Ziba and A. A. Ngwira, natives, are conducting a training school for African preachers at Mapepi, near Lusaka, Northern Rhodesia. Some practical training has been given in the past, but now an organized program is in full swing. Those training to preach the gospel go right into the towns and villages with an experienced evangelist and learn how to do the work by actually participating in it.

There are 11 full - time natives preaching in the villages, going from place to place wherever they are called to preach or help in any way. There are nine congregations within the immediate area of Mapepi, and 42 were baptized into Christ in the first two months of this year.

Brother and Sister Alvin Hobby have returned to the United States for a rest after 24 years at Namwianga Mission, Northern Rhodesia. He has served as principal of the African School at Namwianga all that time. He helped with translating the Bible into the Tonga language and has done a great deal of translating gospel literature into the native tongues.

After preparing themselves in the field of nursing, the Hobbys will return to Africa.

The Presnall Higginbothams have arrived in Lilongwe, Nyasaland, where the Doyle Gilliams will be returning to work with them in June. The Andrew Connally family is returning to Nyasaland to begin a new work in the Southern Province.

THAILAND

Brother and Sister Parker Henderson, who have done such an outstanding work in Thailand during the past four years have returned to the United States for a visit. Two new families have arrived in recent months to work in Thailand, and another will be coming later this year.

Since Brother Henderson's return to the United States, he has influenced Brother Bob Davidson, Dean of Students at Pepperdine College in Los Angeles, Calif., to go to Trailand to preach. Brother David son will first spend several months studying the Thai language so that he can be an effective preacher as soon as he arrives.

TURKEY

The tentative recognition extended to the church of Christ by the Government of Turkey has been withdrawn, and Brother Bill McCown, who has worked there for 18 months is having to return home. Many efforts have been made both by Brother McCown and others in Turkey to gain the necessary recognition, but it is not forthcoming.

ITALY

Two young Italian Christians, Gian Luigi Giudici and Otello Pandolfini, were to stand trial on April 28 on charges of "villifying the state religion (Roman Catholicism)". The charges stemmed from gospel sermons preached in the city of Leghorn, and from advertising posted for the meetings.

Though we have not heard the outcome, the lawyers who were to defend the two young preachers, were certain the trial would be postponed for weeks, and possibly for months, because the charges against them are in direct contradiction to their rights under the Italian Constitution.

SCOTLAND

We are indeed grateful for the continued blessings which we have been receiving from the Lord. In the work of the church here in Hyvots Bank Edinburgh, Scotland, eight have been baptized, four have placed membership, and two restored since January 1. Bro. Bill Richardson preached in our spring meeting from March 18 to 25. Bros. Will Steele and Earle McMillan have returned from a tour of the Middle East including Palelstine. Recently I have preached at Coleraine and Glasgow. In the former place Bro. A. A. Gallagher from Canada is doing a fine work in rather difficult circumstances. Here is an outpost for the truth in Northern Ireland which needs much help.

January and February members of the church in Edinburgh helped the old Rose Street congregation in Kirkcaldy Fife, Scotland. This congregation dates back to 1798.

—Andrew Gardiner

POLAND

During March, Henry Ciszek of Warsaw preached in Biskupie-Reszelski, baptized five and thus established the twelfth church in Poland since 1957. Later, in Szczytni 20 persons, including their preacher were converted becoming the thirteenth congregation.

Winnipeg, Manitoba: Members of the church at Erin St. have been carrying on with the preaching work during the nine months since Dan Wieb left to take up his duties at Western Christian College. It was good to have Christians present from: Estevan, Weyburn, Winnipeg, Manson, Rivers, Dauphin, Neepawa, Killarney and Portage La Prairie.

Portage La Prairie, Manitoba: We rejoice in the obedience of Bryan Creed to our Lord's commands. Philip Vance has moved to Winnipeg and will worship with the Windsor Park church there. Vacation Bible camp for ages 8 to 15 July 9-16. It is hoped to visit every home in the city in the campaign, Aug 13-20. Eight to ten couples are reported to be coming from Wichita, Kansas. More help will be needed. Among other methods of working this church in Portage plans a gospel meeting every three months.

During the past 4 months much work has been done on the building with the help of brethren from Winnipeg. Classrooms, kitchen, washrooms and furnace room are coming nicely. The bapistry is ready to be connected. There is still much work to be done outside.

Our financial position has worsened to some extent. We owe about $3,000 for goods and services. We have tried to borrow on long term loan, sufficient to pay this off and complete the building. This would require about $2500 to $2000 for seating, stucco and landscaping. In all we need about $5500 to finish the project. Can anyone help by loaning or giving?

HERE AND THERE

Wawota, Sask.: Clinton Brazle of Anaconda, Montana conducted a meeting April 22-29. Adult aliens attended each night and worthwhile home Bible studies were conducted each day. In the estimation of Bro. Brazle, a capable consecrated full time man supported in Wawota now could produce fruit sufficient for a good-sized congregation in a short time. A fine new meeting house is in use. Many have shown interest in the way of the Lord.

Estevan, Sask.: "Our new building will seat about 180 in the pews with additional seating possible by chairs. The Bible school has an attendance of 80 but a goal of 150 has been set. V.B.S. is planned for July 9-13 and it is hoped to have a booth at the fair July 5-7.

Saskatoon, Sask.: Gospel meeting with J. C. Bailey preaching, April 26 - May 9.

Horse Creek, Sask.: It has been nice to have the classrooms for the children all winter. It is the first year we have been able to have classes continually.

We are making plans for another Bible school the first two weeks of July.

Outlook, Sask.: There is opportunity to buy a well located church building in town if the mobile meeting house presently in use can be sold. An interesting Bible camp meeting is planned for two miles west of Macrorie July 26-29.

Radville, Sask.: Our members now are 17 with about 20 children. We have just furnished our place of worship with new pews.

Regina, Sask.: "Our Sunday morning services have averaged 112 since the first of the year. The Sunday evening services averaged 81. The mid-week services about the same. The budget of $187.50 appears to be within reach and is 20% over last year.

Quarter page ads are being put in the paper. Johnny Lewis and family of Houston, Texas are to be here July 8-20 to assist with a V.B.S. and meeting. Work on the interior of the building continues. This church has decided to oversee the work of the Allan Bell's as they return to Africa this summer.

Perryville, Sask.: Bible school and series of meetings will be held July 22-29 with James Burns of Regina as principal and preacher.

Prince Albert, Sask.: Walter Straker visited the lectureship in Abilene and hoped to bring back a couple to live in Prince Albert and a preacher for Nipawin. It is also hoped to be able to purchase the meeting house trailer mentioned in the above Outlook item. The group in Big River have a building.

Swift Current, Sask.: Wilfred Orr held a meeting here. As many as eleven non - members attended. There are more opportunities for cottage meetings than Bro. Jacobs can conduct. The North Weyburn church is endeavouring to raise support for Bro. Jacobs so that he can do full time work.

HERE AND THERE

Medicine Hat, Alta.: "We are all rejoicing greatly here now because of four people who have recently obeyed the Lord in baptism and who we believe endeavour to be faithful. The older couple live in the same part of Medicine Hat that we do and their son and daughter-in-law (the older couple) live on a farm 27 miles south of Bow Island and about 67 miles from here. They were planning to accept the Mormon teaching but through the Nerlands at Lethbridge and through attending discussions between Mormon elders at Bow Island and Bro. Roark of Lethbridge and Bro. Corley of "the Hat" were directed to the church of Christ and attended the meetings here for about six weeks before their obedience.

We plan a series of meetings with reared and educated in Canada are more likely to fit themselves into the Canadian scene. Here is a goal for us in the next few years.

It would not be fair to close without mentioning that there is a seemingly unending shortage of trained preachers in the States. New congregations are coming into being at a rate faster than preachers are being trained. Men are leaving evangelistic work to go into business or professions. Do they have a right? Yes, of course! They have as much right as the man who has never given himself to full-time work.

In some instances there will be qualms of conscience with good reason. In other instances, the individuals belong to the secular world by inclination and temperament. A man should be a preacher because he wants to and because he feels he must. None should be full-time preachers because they regard it as a profitable or comfortable mode of existence.

Canadian churches can attract and hold preachers by giving them adequate support, a reasonable amount of genuine appreciation and consideration, and a Christian education in a Canadian environment. These things are both fair and practical. A preacher needs to be supported but not indulged. He needs appreciation without flattery or idolization. When he fails to serve where he is most needed through selfish motives, under such circumstances, he has none but himself to blame.

PERSONAL EVANGELISM

the personal worker doesn't know as much Bible as he should but he knows the divisions and how the church began and the requirements of the New Covenant. There will certainly arise questions to which he cannot give a satisfactory answer, but this will lead both into a greater meditation and a deeper study of God's word.

We have so many advantages in this mechanized age, faster travel, the radio, the TV by which we can broadcast God's word to the world, but if we, who call ourselves Christians don't demonstrate in our every day living the life Christ would have us do, we will fail in bringing forth suitable fruit. Let us therefore endeavour to live day by day the way our Master would have us do so that people will enjoy our company and we in return will be able to enlighten them on the greatest possession that has ever been offered to mankind — "The saving of his soul." In 1962 let us speak to the man across the garden fence about his soul's condition.

Massena, N.Y.: Billy Jackson of Marlow, Okla. has moved with his family to serve the church in Massena. He has been Job Superintendent on the construction of a number of buildings in the north east since 1957. He began full time work at Massena in February. His daughter was baptized on March 11. One has been restored. There are now 19 with better interest among the people now that there is a building.

HELP KNUTSON FAMILY RETURN FROM NORWAY

The M. J. Knutson family due to arrive in Montreal, Canada on July 14th. From left to right, standing are David, 9, Marion, 13, Betty Ann, 7. Sitting, sister and brother Knutson with eldest daughter Sonja, 15. This family still lack a good deal on their travel fund. You may contact the Estevan Church of Christ, Estevan, Sask.

OMAGH BIBLE SCHOOL - 1962

Through the winter months the board of directors of the Omagh Bible School have been planning in board and committee meetings the activities for the summer. Our board has been increased to eleven so that we have some additional workers. New to the board this year is Bro. John Mackay, Toronto, and Bro. Murray Smith, Bronte (Oakville). We appreciate the interest and willingness of these new servants as board members.

Brother Bob Adams of Sarnia will direct our regular July camp for children and young people. The dates this year are July 8th to August 5th. A teaching, counseling and cooking staff is being lined up for that month of Bible study and recreational activities. Some greater difficulty is being realized in obtaining counselors and teachers this year due to many other worthwhile activities in the province.

The "Fellowship Week" this year is planned to give spiritual refreshment to all who attend. Bro. Ralph Perry is acting as director of this aspect of our program. The general topic is, "The Christians Spiritual Life". The dates are August 6th to 10th. Brother Robert Vance of Nashville, Tennessee is slated to lead the teaching portion of this week's activities. He comes to us well recommended for this work. We urge greater participation in this exceptional opportunity for Christian fellowship and edfication in Christ. Consider a vacation that will really re-create.

Last year a couple of bus loads of young people from the Nashville, Tenn. area spent a week in August at Omagh. They were under the direction of Bro. Ed Cullum. They plan to repeat this visit to Canada this year. They will be at Omagh the week of August 19th. We will have an opportunity to acquaint them with the Lord's work in Canada. Through generous gifts in money raised or donated by this group we have been able to purchase a new gas cook stove for the kitchen at Omagh.

A "Labour Day" week-end for young people will be planned again this year. A number of churches have again requested the use of the grounds at Omagh for their Bible school picnics. We are realizing greater use of the facilities at the Omagh Bible School, but we feel that a full summer program of worthwhile activity is possible. We invite your continued support and interest. Help in liquidating the swimming pool debt will be much appreciated.

Drive For Library Books Begun

Brethren everywhere are asked to gather up unused books from their attics and their libraries and forward them to the Great Lakes Library. A special effort to expand the College's library has marked the moving of the present collection from a restricted area into a special library room. The College and Home devoted the proceeds of its Turkey Supper to improving these facilities, The Student Body presented the College with a film-projector as a beginning of a film library. Several friends of the College have sent special contributions to be used in securing needed reference works. Most urgently needed are books for the Religious Section in order to support adequately the Two Year Bible College Program presently offered by the College. Send money and books in care of Library, GLCC.

OUR DEPARTED

ARTHUR W. STEVENSON

Born over 80 years ago in Bracebridge, Ontario, Brother Arthur W. Stevenson passed away at Doctor's Hospital, Toronto, on April 14. He was a member of the Strathmore Boulevard congregation of the church, which he served for a time as deacon. His faithful children were in almost constant attendance at his bedside as the end neared.

Baptized into Christ at an early age, Bro. Stevenson raised his children in the nurture and admonition of the Lord, with the help of his loyal wife, the late Ada May Secord, who preceded him in death by some ten years. His three children follow in his ways. His son, E. Grant Stevenson, is an elder in the church. His son, Eldon, serves the Harding Avenue congregation well. He leaves six grandchildren, all Christians, and thirteen great-grandchildren, three of whom have already obeyed the gospel of Christ. In addition to these survivors, he leaves a brother, Charles.

Funeral services were at the Trull Funeral Home in Toronto, and on the following day at Ferguson Funeral Home in Meaford. Bro. Ed Bryant spoke at both services, being assisted in Meaford by Bro. Clyde Lansdell. Bro. Stevenson was buried beside his wife in Lakeview Cemetery, Meaford.

BERTHA WHITFIELD

Sister Bertha Whitfield, wife of William Whitfield, Thornbury, Ontario passed away April 27, 1962 at the Meaford General Hospital. She had been ill since suffering a stroke about a month before. She was baptized by Brother S. M. Jones in the late 1800's and had remained faithful throughout her life.

She is survived by her husband and one daughter, Mrs. Ray McClure of New Market, Ontario. Also surviving are two grandchildren. She had one son that died in infancy.

Interment was in the Thornbury Cemetery. The writer conducted the service at Davidson's Funeral Home in Thornbury. Brother John Whitfield conducted the interment service. Clyde Lansdell

D. A. SINCLAIR

Word has been received of the passing of brother Sinclair in Weyburn, Saskatchewan. We do not have the details but do know that he was well known throughout the churches in Canada and highly respected for his much labour.

LEONARD CANNON

Brother Leonard Cannon passed to his reward very suddenly on Tuesday, May 8th in St. Joseph's Hospital, Toronto.

Born in London, England on November 16, 1900, he came to Canada and, having come under the preaching of the gospel at Fern Avenue in Toronto he was baptized in 1944. He was always active in the Master's work.

When the church which now meets at Harding Ave., Toronto was started in July 1955, he was one of the leaders. Later he became an elder and together with fellow-work-men built a strong congregation.

He leaves to mourn his passing, his wife Ivy, one son Joseph, of Japan and one daughter Aileen, Mrs. Don Zimmerman. The family has lost a wonderful companion and the church a valuable servant. We will miss him but are glad that he can "rest from his Labours". Blessed be the Master for the hope of the gospel.

John McKay and G. M. Johnson assisted in laying him to rest.

WINNIFRED COMFORT

Sister Winnifred Comfort, wife of the late Norman Comfort, passed away May 3rd after a lengthy illness. She was in her 81st year. Sis. Comfort was baptized at Meaford, Ontario in the year 1900 and has remained a loyal follower of Jesus all of her years, even when her health finally began to fail, showing great perseverance to attend worship services and do all she could for her Lord.

She is survived by one brother, Lou Moore of Beamsville, and two sisters, Mrs. Grace Douglas of Vernon, B.C. and Mrs. Mabel Medd of Edmonton, Alta.

Services were conducted by the writer from the Tallman Funeral Home in Vineland. Interment was in Beamsville. — Robert Davison

SUMMER CAMPAIGN NEEDS FUNDS

Word has been received from the group that plans to come from Abilene Christian College to London and Ottawa this summer that there is an urgent need for more financial assistance. Only about one third of their objective has been met as yet.

The campaign begins in London in June and then comes to Ottawa through part of July and August. It is hoped that large Vacation Bible Schools can be held in each place followed by protracted meetings. Such efforts will be accompanied by vigorous door-to-door visitation. The work in both of these mission points can be strengthened in a wonderful way with your co-operation.

TENT MEETING IN MEAFORD IN JULY

Friends, how long has it been since you attended an "old fashioned tent meeting with sawdust on the ground?" How long has it been since you have joined hundreds of people in singing the "old fashioned hymns" that you love so well? How long has it been since you listened to the reading of the New Testament (without comment) for 12 hours?

These things are in store for the people of Ontario beginning July 7th and continuing through July 29. There will be a large tent on the Fair grounds in Meaford for 23 nights. Brother Jack Fogarty from Texas and Brother Ermon Bain from Alabama will be the speakers.

More than one million people have already heard the gospel under the big tent. This meeting will be unique in that there will be no false claims of healing or miracles. There will be no collections taken from the audience at any time.

We feel fortunate that we have been able to secure the services of Bro. Harold Tabor of Great Lakes Christian College to lead the singing for all of the meeting.

Meaford on the Georgian Bay, is a pleasant vacation area. If you have not already made plans for your vacation, why not consider spending it in the Georgian Bay area and helping us in this great work for the Lord. Cottages and cabins are available in the area for rent; also tent parks are readily available. If you could come for a few days we will provide bed and breakfast for all who come.

This endeavour will cost around $7,500; $5,000 of this will be paid by our brethren in the States. We are asking the members of the church in Ontario to help us with the remaining $2,500.

This meeting should mean a great deal to the church in all of Ontario. If you can help in attendance, financially, in visitation, or have talents that can be used in any way to better the meeting we solicit all that you can give.

HERE AND THERE

Vancouver, B.C.: On April 8 there were 92 at Bible school, 134 at morning worship and 70 in the evening. One was baptized on April 12. One confessed wrong on April 22. V.B.S. plans are for July 3-14. Work is continuing on the foundation of the new Nanaimo building.

Victoria, B.C.: There are 40 members representing 23 families in this city of 150,000. A long range program is being planned. The present budget of $91 is being surpassed. Jim Hawkins has cottage meetings each evening of the week.

MONTREAL CAMPAIGN TAKING SHAPE

Jerry L. Davidson

Plans are well underway for the evangelistic campaign in Montreal which will be the most concentrated effort ever put forth to preach the gospel in Canada's largest city. Brother B. F. Haynie of Huntingdon, Tennessee(who held a gospel meeting for the church in Montreal in May 1961, plans to return for June 17th through 24th with 25 Christian workers. Activities are to include personal work (cottage Bible meetings, door-to-door calls, etc.) preaching in the city's Dominion Park in the heart of the city, and meetings each evening through the week. About 5,00 meeting invitations, and several thousand tracts are to be distributed.

Each worker in the group is planning to arrange for his own expenses, and many are using their vacation time to come. There will be, at least, four gospel preachers, several elders, song leaders, teachers, and Christian college students to give strength and encouragement to the campaign.

Brother Elvis Huffard and his family, former missionaries to Nigeria will contribute their talents and experience along with brother and sister C. M. Allen of Bruceton, Tennessee. Brother Allen is the preacher for the congregation in that town. Both bro. Allen and bro. Huffard are to speak in the park meetings.

Should anyone desire to help in this cause it is not too late, if either the church in Montreal or the church in Huntingdon, Tennessee is contacted immediately. The addresses are as follows:

YOU CAN BE A GOLD MEDAL WINNER IN 1962-63

Not every student at Great Lakes Christian College will win a literal gold medal this coming year, but each can earn the golden satisfaction of outstanding personal achievement. By relating your academic studies and your life's plans to the grander design of God's purpose for you, your education will take on a more meaningful aspect. Proper motivation, careful attention by interested teachers, and your hard work will result in grades worthy of a medal. At Great Lakes, our goal is personal excellence in accordance with personal ability.

WEYBURN CHURCH SENDS BETTY BAILEY TO RHODESIA

The congregation here in Weyburn is very pleased to announce that we have chosen to sponsor Betty Bailey for the next two years in the mission field of Rhodesia. We have every confidence that with God's help Betty is very capable of doing a good work in Rhodesia. Betty has answered the call for help from this land and has now all the necessary papers for her official entry into Rhodesia.

The 10th and Bison congregation has undertaken the sponsorship of Betty. We have set aside $50 per month towards Betty's support. Betty will need at least $100 per month in order to have her needs supplied. If there are others in the brotherhood interested in supporting this work we would ask that contributions be sent to Box 3056, Weyburn, Sask. The congregation here would then mail Betty one check for each month.

Betty will be filling a great need in Rhodesia as some of the teachers already there are planning to return soon. Much good work has been done in Rhodesia by the Allan Bell's and others. Let us support Betty all we can in order that the good work might be carried on.

STATEMENT

"I would like to thank the Weyburn Church for supporting me for the next two years in my endeavour in Northern Rhodesia.

"I am certainly looking forward to this work and am happy that I shall be working with Brother and Sister Allen Bell.

"In general, my work will consist of teaching secular and Bible classes."

STOP STIFLING THE SPIRIT

Jerry L. Davidson, Lachine, Quebec

In the Bible, we read of men who became great in the sight of God, because they submitted their lives to the guidance of the Spirit of God. Philip, the evangelist, obeyed the Spirit and was directed to a man unto whom he was able to preach the saving power of Jesus (Acts 8:29-39). As the result, another soul was added to the family of God. The mind of the apostle Paul was always opened to the guiding influence of the Spirit, enabling him to work with great effectiveness (Acts 16:7; 21:4). The Holy Spirit is still at work through the New Testament (of which he is the author), guiding and teaching men to do the will of God (John 16:13; II Cor. 5:5; I Tim. 4:1; II Tim 3:16,17; Rev. 2:7). Whenever the Word of God is preached and obeyed the Spirit is given free course of action.

Negative Attitudes

The Bible also records the dispositions of men who have taken negative attitudes toward the Spirit. The prophet Isaiah said of the house of Israel that " . . . they rebelled, and grieved his Holy Spirit: Therefore he was turned to be their enemy, and himself fought against them" (Isa. 63:10). When these people refused to hearken to the law of the Spirit and sinned, they quenched or extinguished the Spirit. Of this very thing the apostle Paul warns Christians, as he writes to the church at Ephesus. "And grieve not the Holy Spirit of God, whereby ye were sealed unto the day of redemption. Let all bitterness, and wrath, and anger, and clamour, and evil speaking, be put away from you, and all malice" (Eph. 4:30,31). What grieves God grieves the Spirit; what pleases God pleases the Spirit. We must make sure our lives are in harmony with the Spirit if we are to please the Father (Rom. 8:16).

In writing to the Thessalonian brethren, Paul admonishes in a short sentence, "Quench not the Spirit" (I Thess. 5:19). William's Translation reads, "Stop stifling the Spirit". But how is it possible for us, today, to stifle or quench the Holy Spirit? Note the various ways this can be done:

THE LETTER TO ROME

E. D. Wieb, Weyburn, Sask.

(No. 5)

One of the most problematical passages in the New Testament I feel certain is the fifth chapter of Paul's let.er to Rome. To illustrate the problem I quote from two separate commentaries which represent the two divergent schools of thought.

> "Nowhere does Paul trace the sin of man back to a hereditary disease." — Brunner
> "Wherever there is human nature, since Adam fell, there is sin in its form of guilt."—Moule

Primarily since Augustine, there has been the argument over this passage on the question of "original sin" and human depravity. We ask now that you, the reader, read again and most carefully the fifth and sixth chapters of Romans.

Let us try to clarify this problem as best we can in a short article. The approach to any passage of scripture, of course, can well determine its interpretation and it is obvious that one who approaches this passage with the preconceived belief in "original sin" will likely find fuel for the fire therein. Likewise one who approaches it from a "free will" approach will also be able to find in this passage a source of encouragement. However, let us try to be objective.

There are one or two biblical principles which one must bear in mind as he studies.

First: "The soul that sinneth it

ARE THERE CHRISTIANS IN ALL DENOMINATIONS?

J. C. Bailey

Last month we wrote an article entitled, "WHAT IS A CHRISTIAN"? It would be well to re-read that article before reading this one. It would be well to have in mind what the scriptures teach that a "Christian" is.

We learned that "Christian" was a name given by God. We learned that it was first given at Antioch in Syria (Acts 11:26). There were no denominations in those days. So the name Christian was used separate and apart from any denominational significance. In the New Testament people were Christians and did not belong to a denomination.

This leads some to exclaim that a man can be a Christian and not a members of any church. I must confess that a person can be a Christian and not a member of any denomination but in the New Testament Christians were members of the church. There is nothing that would distantly suggest that any person was a Chrisian but was not a member of the church. Peter says: "if any speaketh, speaking as it were the oracles of God . . ." (I Peter 4:11). So when a person speaks as the oracles of God he does not say that a man is Christian but not a member of any church. Let us read: "And it came to pass, that even for a whole year they were gathered together with the church, and taught much people; and the disciples were called Christians first in Antioch" (Acts 11: 26). We have three terms used synonymously here: church - disciples - Christians. Jesus said: "Heaven and earth shall pass away, but my word shall not pass away" (Matthew 24: 35). So the order of Acts 11:26 shall remain forever the same, and in the same order. The church is composed of the disciples. The disciples are called (named of God) Christians.

A disciple is a learner of Christ. The two fundamentals that he learns are: first, that Christ has all authority in heaven and on earth (Matthew 28:18); second, that the gospel is the power of God unto salvation (Mark 16:15,16; Romans 1:-16). If these two principles are recognized how can a person be a member of a denomination? Denominations are ruled by men. The thing that makes a denomination is holding to certain principles that no one else holds to. The distinctive doctrine of each denomination is not found in the Bible. The particular name of each denomination is not found in the Bible.

Every denomination holds to some Bible truth and some denominations hold to much Bible truth, but that does not make them a denomination. Bible truths do not denominate them. It is their particular doctrines that separate them from others. These particular doctrines are of human origin and not divine. Space would forbid to give examples to prove this is true. Denominations exist because men have rebelled against the authority of the one who says: "All authority is given unto me in heaven and on earth". When you have a denomination you have a human head for it. Christ is THE head of the THE church (Ephesians 1:22).

I feel that people think there are Christians in all denominations because there are good sincere people in all of them. Are there not sincere people in the religion of Islam, Buddha etc? Does sincerity make a man a Christian? If it does, then a person could be a Christian and uever have heard of Christ. We have shown that this is not true.

I believe that I only have one wife and only have the right to have one living wife. That does not prove that my wife is the best cook in Moose Jaw. It does not prove that she is better looking than any other woman. It proves that God made a law. The law is that a man shall leave his father and his mother and shall cleave to his wife and the two shall beome one flesh (Ephesians 5:31). God's law as to being a Christian is that he names the disciples Christians and they have learned first that ALL AUTHORITY BELONGS TO CHRIST. HE IS THE HEAD OF THE CHURCH. In a denomination some man or men exercise the authority. Some man, or men, are the head of the denomination. I ask you, my reader, in the light of New Testament teaching to tell me how a person can become a member of a human denomination and a member of the divine church at the same time.

Some one might tell me that I am not distinguishing between the visible church and the invisible church. Where in the Bible does it tell about a visible church and an invisible church? Echo answers where? This is just more human jargon that befuddles the issue.

Some one else suggests that the church consists of all the different denominations. Does it? The church existed for hundreds of years before any modern denomination existed. The church was complete before any denomination sprang into being. So the church does not NEED to consist of many denominations. Furthermore, the church is the body (Ephesians 1:22). The body is the church (Colossians 1:-18). There is one body (Ephesians 4:4). In order to have all denominations as part of the church we would have to read the Scriptures like this: There are 300 bodies. The church is three hundred bodies. The three hundred bodies are the church. The answer to this question really is: Is the Bible the Word of God?

Let us suppose that some sincere person has submitted to the authority of Christ, has become a disciple of the Lord Jesus, and then in ignorance of the further teaching of the Word of God has affiliated himself with some denomination, what then? Apollos was a man that knew only part of the truth. Priscilla and Aquila preached unto him the word of the Lord more accurately. He then entered into full fellowship with the church. Paul taught the men more fully who had been baptized with John's baptism and they were baptized into the name of the Lord Jesus (Acts 18:24-28; Acts 19:-

THE CHURCH AT WORK

by W. F. Cox

"To the intent that now, unto the principalit- the principalities and powers es, might be known by the church the manifold wisdom of God, according to the eternal purpose which He purposed in Christ Jesus our Lord" (Eph. 3:10, 11). The mystery of the gospel had been hidden during all the ages, but was now revealed in order that the "manifold wisdom of God" might be made known to ALL as shown in verse 9, "according to the eternal purpose." This is the purpose which God had in all the ages purposed to fulfill through Jesus Christ.

The church, then, was the means through which the gospel was to be taken to the world. Therefore, the preaching of the gosepl to all nations is to be done through the church. "For we are His workmanship, created in Christ Jesus unto good works, which God hath before ordained that we should walk in them" (Eph. 2:10). It is His ordination that we all who believe the gospel and are saved should practice good works. God has graciously quickened us, saved us, made us new creatures, and prepared us unto good works.

The New Testament church is composed of those who have heard, believed, and obeyed the simple conditions of the plan of salvation. They are blood-washed, Spirit-filled, and translated from the power of darkness into the kingdom of our Lord. These members are a growing, active, and progressive group, full of zeal, and devotion, bound together by love, co-operating in sending the Wonderful Message of Salvation to the lost of earth. The apostle Peter refers to the membership as "living stones", "Ye also as living stones, are built up a spiritual house, an holy priesthood, to offer up spiritual sacrifices, acceptable to God by Jesus Christ" (1 Peter 2:5). This group of the saved are "spark-plugged" by love to take the gospel message to all nations. Jesus says, "If you love Me, keep My commandments" (John 14:15). Love motivates service.

Jesus commanded His disciples to "go into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature". One of the essentials of the teachings of Christ is spiritual growth. Grow in numbers, in grace, in faith, in knowledge, and in favour with God. "As new-born babes, desire the sincere milk of the Word, that ye may grow thereby" (2 Pet. 2:2). To grow, one must have proper food, exercise and fresh air. The church at Ephesus failed to feed their souls the "Bread of Life", and lost their first love. Jesus rebuked them and told them to repent or He would "Remove thy candlestick out of his place" which meant that he would blot out their names from the "Book of Life". What about you dear brother or you dear sister? Are you starving your soul by dropping out of the Bible study period? Are you attending all of the church services and preparing yourself to be a faithful messenger of the Lord.

The church should be a hive of living Christians, feeling keenly their responsibility of taking the gospel (which is the power of God unto salvaton to everyone that believeth) that the millions who have not heard the story of Jesus in it's purity and simplicity may hear. Before starting out with the gospel one should be "strong in the Lord, and in the power of His might"; fully equipped with the "whole armour of God, adding the different pieces of equipment: "having your loins girt about with truth" — "breastplate of righteousness" — "feet shod with . . . the gospel of peace" — "taking the shield of faith" — "helmet of salvation" and the sword of the Spirit which is the Word of God. "With a fervent, sincere prayer and devotion, God will give us precious souls for our labour.

Remember friends, this preparation is essential in defeating and crushing the influence and power of the "prince of the power of the air, the spirit that now worketh in the children of disobedience" (Eph. 2:2). Our faithful effort is "not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this world, against spiritual wickedness in high places" (Eph. 6:12).

The church of our blessed Lord will succeed if we are on the Lord's side. Faith is the victory.

SALMON ARM "SUMMERFUL"

A big "summerful" of work is being planned for Salmon Arm. Bruce and Grace Tetreau and family (now attending Freed-Hardeman College) are to be with us from June 17 through September 1 for a concentrated effort. Plans are for a personal work blitz, VBS and Gospel meetings.

Brother Charles Coil, evangelist for the church in West Memphis, Arkansas is to do the preaching in our Meetings July 8-15. This will be in conjunction with our VBS. The Tetreau family will assist in preparation for the meeting and VBS, teach in the VBS and do much of the follow-up work after the meetings. Bruce will do the preaching, also, while I am absent in meetings through the month of August.

As yet we are still in need of two things. (1) We need another VBS teacher. If anyone could spend a work-vacation in Salmon Arm July 8-15 we need you. (2) We do not have all of the support for the Tetreau's. About $900.00 is needed. As yet we have only $255.00 in hand and another $380.00 promised, totalling $640.00 when all accounted for. Examine your budget to see if there is room in it for a contribution to the support of Bruce and Grace.

We look forward to a busy, yet happy and fruitful summer in the Lord's work. Why not plan your vacation for the scenic Shuswap-Okanagan area and worship with us at Salmon Arm?

WHAT IS TRUTH?

Out of Pandora's box of destructive criticism have come many strange evils in the last one hundred years. Some of these were so radical that they furnished little temptation to a Bible-centered Christian. Others have been more subtle and attractive to the unwary pilgrim. Among the latter is the philosophy that all truth is simply relative and that it is only truth to him who believes it to be such.

The great facts of the Christian faith are said to be true to the believer, even if they are not, strictly speaking, historical truths. Truth is made largely subjective and dependent upon the believer's faith. This error has a plausible ring from one who is careful not to overstate his case too boldly.

Recently, in discussing religion with a young man who is preparing for the Anglican ministry, this editor was given a sample of such reasoning. The young man claimed that he had high regard for the Bible. Perhaps he is sincere in this claim. However, it soon became evident during the conversation that his approach to the Bible was vastly different from the writer's.

His view, if I understood him correctly, was that the search for historical truth is but a will-of-the-wisp. The need of the hour, to him, was for each person to choose subjectively from the Bible those things which appealed to him. These could be then welded into a religion which would bring peace of mind and hope.

The young man did not know his Bible well. He was found at one time quoting a rather strange proof text in support of his contentions. As he sought to show that absolute truth is non-existent in any matter, he approved the cynical question of Pilate, "What is truth? It is likely that he did not know that this question was asked by Pilate as he rejected the claims of Jesus.

Our Lord had made the claim that he had been born to bring certain truths into the world (John 18:-37:38). Prior to his coming, philosophers had been frustrated in their attempts to define the truths concerning man's existence & destiny Pilate knew this frustration and hence was willing to build his own philosophy on compromise.

How strange it is to find professing Christians, and even trained religious leaders who will deny the claims of Christ in this matter.

Our Saviour said, "Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free" (John 8:32). There are then certain great and vital facts pertaining to his message and person which can be accepted as absolutely true. It is granted that these must be accepted by faith. They are none the less objective facts and not merely the subjective yearnings of religious men. The nature of a truth does not change because it must be grasped by faith and not by sight.

The desire to make all truths relative rather than absolute, subjective rather than objective, changeable rather than permanent, is one of the greatest weaknesses of our society. Purity, honesty and morality, are all treated in a manner that suggests there is no true standard. Why struggle for absolute purity if it cannot be defined? Why seek absolute honesty if this type of honesty can only be measured subjectively? Why strive for strict morality when it is only the product of man's judgement?

The answer to these questions is to be found in the teaching and example of Jesus Christ. Here is an example pure beyond question. Here is a teaching on honesty that claims to go right to the heart of the matter. The moral teachings of Jesus and his inspired apostles deal with the heart as well as the body. After his example was given, men could not say, "What is the truth in these matters?"

On matters dealing wih man's destiny the promise is, "Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free." Our Lord did not make impossible promises to his followers. He left provision for them to be given accurate answers to man's questions. They were to be guided into all truth with the com-

WAYS TO ADVERTISE A BIBLE CORRESPONDENCE COURSE

By Jule Miller

(Article Number Two)

There are many ways a local church may reach the public to offer its Bible correspondence course. Regardless of the method used to reach the unsaved, it is always expedient to emphasize the words "FREE" or "without obligation." Another idea to keep before their eyes is that the course offered is "undenominational" and thus for everyone regardless of religious affiliation. Finally the course itself should have a professional appearance and contain a complete Bible survey in a few lessons. The "Visualized Bible Correspondence Course" consists of five 24-page lessons which contain over 400 half-tone Bible pictures and charts, meeting all these requirements and many more besides.

One of the most effective ways to enroll outsiders in a Bible correspondence course is through a neighbourhood canvass. Some congregations have had excellent results in training their young people to canvass and offer a course! People contacted in the immediate neighbourhood are more apt to follow through to obey the gospel because they can be contacted personally in closing the course. If Lesson One and an enrollment card is carried with those canvassing, many will enroll after seeing the attractive two-color lesson.

Another effective approach used to enrol interested non-members is through the membership. Most every member of the church has at least one neighbour or friend who has shown some interest in the Bible and the church.

Also, special ads describing a correspondence course may be placed in the daily newspaper at regular intervals. In addition, an enrollment form may be printed at the end of regular religious newspaper articles. When the new "Visualized Bible Correspondence Course" is offered, stress the 400 Bible pictures and the fact that the course is offered "FREE OF CHARGE".

Gospel tracts may be printed with the last page prepared as a Business Reply Post Card. The reverse side has an invitation to enrol in the Bible Correspondence Course from the local church.

Perhaps the best way to enroll interested non-members is through "satisfied customers." Students already enrolled in the course may be sent several enrollment (business reply) cards with a letter of instructions for enrolling their friends. These cards should be sent with the second or third lesson of the new "Visualized Bible Correspondence Course."

Still another way to advertise a FREE Bible Correspondence course is to announce it on radio and television programs.

The local church should be kept informed concerning the course by regular announcements and reports in the bulletin. Some elderships offer a correspondence course to every new member to insure a faithful membership.

This article has outlined a few ways for advertising a Bible correspondence course.

A complete kit of the new "Visualized Bible Correspondence Course" (Including five 24-page lessons, 5 sets of questions, mailing envelopes, and certificate of completion) is available for only $1.00.

STOP STIFLING THE SPIRIT

Love of the World

The flame of godly zeal will not burn in our hearts if they are dampened with worldliness (I Jno. 2:15-17). The Spirit is quickly smothered when our hearts and lives become conformed to the cares and pleasures of men. The overwhelming influence of the world is what caused Demas to forsake Paul and the Lord's work (II Tim. 2:12). He should have set his " . . . affection on things above, not on things on the earth" (Col. 3:2). The "social drink," the "innocent high school dance", immodest dress, filthy stories and movies, among other things, will provide the first "drops" that will eventually put out the "flame" of the Spirit. Another "extinguisher" along the same line is the evil love for money (I Tim. 6:10). If we allow money to rule our lives, the Spirit is quenched.

Disobedience to the Lord's Commands

The Psalmist, in speaking of the children of Israel said, "How oft did they rebel against him in the wilderness, and grieve him in the desert" (Ps. 78:40). They provoked and grieved the Spirit by their murmurings and rebellion against Moses and his law. The commands of the Spirit are the commands of God. When we try to substitute man's plan for God's, we deeply grieve the Spirit, because as a "guide" and "teacher" he has made careful provisions in the Scriptures, to enable us to know the truth of God. Changing God's plan of salvation, His form of worship, and organization for the church, will only lead to the stifling of the Spirit. Many religious bodies who place so much emphasis on receiving a "direct operation" of the Spirit upon the heart of man, miserably fail in keeping the commands of the Spirit in the New Testament.

Religious Disunity

Can the so-called "Christian world" honestly say it is heeding the wishes of the Spirit when it remains divided into many denominations with conflicting doctrines? Are they "endeavouring to keep the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace" (Eph. 4:3)? We hear much talk about "church unions" and uniting upon compromises", but only when men are willing to unite upon God's plan can we come to that "unity of the Spirit". When members of the church fuss and complain, and try to bind their personal opinions on others, without Scriptural authority, they sow the seeds of discord, thus weakening the Body, and grieving the Spirit.

Quenching by Neglect

If we neglect to supply fuel to a fire, it soon goes out. If we neglect opportunities to supply "spiritual fuel" to our souls the ardour of the Spirit within us will soon dwindle away. "How shall we escape if we neglect so great salvation?" (Heb. 2:3). When we have neglected our souls we have neglected our most valuable possession (Matt. 16:26). When we neglect the meetings of the church, private

CHOOSING OUR FRIENDS

By Ed Bryant
Toronto, Ontario
I Cor. 15:33

One of the most valuable lessons given us by the Bible, and one which history bears out, is that the association with those of evil intent or careless behaviour can only corrupt our own good morals. How many cases are known to you of young men who fell in with the wrong kind of company and wound up in prison, or worse? How many young women and girls have allowed themselves to be allured into a life of shame and degradation by those people of questionable character with whom they associated.

The world around us gives credence to the words of Paul, in the passage cited above. You have heard the adage, "A man is known by the company he keeps", as well as another: "Birds of a feather flock together." Regardless of how good our intentions are, when it is known that we are in the habit of running with a crowd whose bad reputation is known to the community, we are, in the eyes of our neighbours, no better than the worst member of the crowd.

It is the height of self-deception to suppose that we, by our very great good influence, will change the mood and temper of our fellows. It is hard for a minority to change the majority. Purity is the exception, and not the rule. James wrote: "Pure religion and undefiled before God and the Father is this, to visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction, and to KEEP HIMSELF UNSPOTTED FROM THE WORLD" (James 1:27). One of the wisest men who ever lived, Solomon, was led away from God by his love for foreign women of pagan persuasion. Samson, the strongest man who ever lived, was sapped of his strength and led to his utter destruction by his love for an evil woman. We cannot hope to wallow in a mud-puddle and come away lilly-white. Loneliness is preferable to the loss of our souls. "Wherefore come ye out from among them, and be ye separate, saith the Lord" (II Cor. 6:17)

Young people, your presence at Bible School and the worship services is imperative if you are to keep yourself unspotted from the world. Cultivate the companionship of Christians, and take strength for the battles of life.

SCHOOL'S OUT

Another school year is completed, and one whole, glorious summer is ahead! Books and notebooks are all tucked away in some forgotten corner, and we are ready, willing, and able to enjoy a real holiday! Many of us will be going to camps, lakes, and other places, while others will be staying right around home. Just a friendly bit of advice — let's be careful.

Summer is a wonderful time, with so many enjoyable things to do. It is also a time when many lose their lives in one form of accident or another. Caution is the keyword. Physical accidents are not the only things to be cautious of, however. Many people, for various reasons, and in various ways, suffer spiritual "accidents". Sometimes these experiences can even be fatal. What am I trying to say? Just this: let us be careful! Remember, wherever we go, whoever we meet, whatever we do; we are children of our Heavenly Father, and ought to act like it.

Let us remember, then, to dress properly, act properly, and talk properly; in order to avoid spiritual accidents. The soul you save will be your own (and maybe others, too!).

POWERFUL VOICE AGAINST THE REDS

(We are giving a reprint of this article to our readers because many in Canada know Bro. Bales and love him for his work's sake. R.D.M.)

by Dewey Brown

The office of Dr. James David Bales, professor of Bible at Harding College, looks as if it has been hit by a gale, burglarized by a madman and pilfered by a child. It is a perfect picture of organized chaos.

Scattered paper, strings of books snaking lazily across the musty room, filing cabinet fat with notes and quotations, stacks of old newspapers reaching unevenly toward the ceiling and pictures of Chiang Kai Shek and Chen Cheng, staring blankly from behind framed glass, dominate the scene.

One might think, at first glance, that nothing sane could possibly come from this room. Yet out of its cluttered atmosphere James Bales weaves high-toned, somber books on religion and communism.

Upon first entering the cramped, untidy office Dr. Bales is nowhere in sight. Suddenly, out of a deep recess of filing cabinets, a voice springs up.

"Yes, who is it?"

"Dr. Bales?" one asks.

"Come in," says the voice, muted by heaps of literature, piles of old newsprint and volume upon volume of books.

Stepping hurriedly around three of 20 huge filing cabinets, the visitor discovers one of America's most prolific religious writers sitting in the midst of his cluttered workshop.

He's a tall, slender man with a thin-flanked face and unruly, brown hair. During the interview he answers a volley of questions with quiet matter-of-factness, never once quitting his work of reading, writing and filing references.

This amazing man with an impish sense of humour and a photo-sensitive mind has written 14 books on religion, one on communism, 20 religious pamphlets, hundreds of letters to harried editors and thousands of religious articles. He's planning several more books on communism.

Reading rapidly, he consumes thousands of books on religion and communism, seldom forgetting a title, an author or a page number. In addition to these self-appointed duties, Dr. Bales teaches four courses at Harding, travels 25,000 miles a year preaching, holds four or five evangelistic meetings a year and takes part in some 15 yearly lectures. Still his life is filled with one humorous anecdote after another to the delight of friends and acquaintances.

Friends never forget the day lanky James Bales arrived on the Harding campus at Morrilton, 27 years ago. He strode ominously to the men's dormitory, pounded on the first door he came to and challenged a somewhat frightened boy inside to wrestle. "No thank you," came an emphatic reply.

Door after door it was the same until he hit the room of Charles Pitner, now a math professor at Harding. Pitner let him in.

"I was busy unpacking when he stormed in, long arms dangling at his sides," Pitner reflected. "Without fanfare he announced, 'I'm J. D. Bales from Atlanta, Ga., and I'm a wrestler. Want to wrestle?' Before I could say no, he tumbled me around the room."

But that was just a preliminary bout. From this meager beginning Bales toured the state and returned three years later with second place in the Arkansas wrestling championships.

Since that time the escapades of this modern-day Abe Lincoln who would save the nation from communism have become the talk of his many friends. Bales himself, a bit mellowed at 44, refuses comment "on the grounds that it might incriminate me."

Characteristic of the pliant, bespectacled Arkansan is the time he ambled into a Toronto, Canada bookstore to browse around and ended up calling a clerk's half-hearted bluff by buying out the store's entire stock — 6,500 books at five cents a copy.

This provided the beginning of "Bales Book Store," first located east of the college campus about five years ago in a small block building.

"After shipping the books to Searcy, my cost rose to 15 or 20 cents a book," Bales noted with a laugh. "I sold some, kept some and clipped others."

At one time he owned more than 10,000 books, but a dwindling supply forced him to temporarily close the store. In 1938, while working on his master's degree at George Peabody College in Nashville, Tenn., Bales took a course under Professor Michael John Demiashkevich, a White Russian refugee. This course became the seed of his interest in communism — an interest that became so intense 10 years ago that Bales filled four filing cabinets with notes and references on the subject. Today many persons in high places consider the witty professor an authority on the subject.

Bales says he fights the Red movement "because it represents the largest atheistic organization the world has known.

"The Communist objective," he avers, "aims at destroying religion. But since communism believes in adapting itself to immediate situations, its attack may vary according to circumstances."

To alert America, Bales is writing his latest and most difficult book, "The Pattern of the Communist Attack on Religion."

His opinion as to the final outcome?

"Communist victory isn't inevitable," he emphasizes. "We can win if we realize the Reds are at war with us now. Peace is but another phase of war to them. If we react only to their moves instead of taking the initiative we could lose."

Optimistically, Bales believes a hot war is the last thing the Communists want. He states three reasons: "They aren't sure of their own people's fidelity. They know they can't count on some of their satellites, Hungary for one. And they'd rather take the industrial power of America intact.

"Unless the Communists are ready we couldn't force a shooting war upon them. But once they're ready and think they can win, we can do nothing to avoid it."

Bales travels extensively, lecturing on Communist aims and techniques. Three years ago he went to Frankfurt, Germany, as an observer at the Possev Conference on Communism — substituting for a friend, Herbert Philbrick of "I Led Three Lives" fame.

After making the Formosa circuit two years ago — at the invitation of Chiang Kai Shek's government — Bales returned home via Hong Kong, Korea, Thailand and Europe. Somewhere in those hinterlands he fell victim to contaminated drinking water and became ill. Month after month, while strength and weight waned, doctors failed to diagnose the disease.

Finally amoebas, microscopic one-celled animals, were discovered in his intestines. Bales went on a small, measured diet of arsenic and bismuth, one of the prescribed remedies. One day, while explaining the ailment to his family, the bone-thin professor mentioned that another remedy — light, would kill the amoebas.

"Daddy," spoke up his 4-year-old son, "why don't you swallow a flashlight?"

His now-thin shoulders slumped, Bales delights in telling the story, even though it may be at his expense. The physical discomfort disturbs him least.

"It's slowed down my work — everything," he says disgustedly. "I haven't done a normal day's work in a year and a half."

Usually 16 hours comprise a normal day's work for J. D. Bales. Each day comes with challenges, things to read, a fresh book off the press.

"Some days I scan Human Events, U.S. News & World Report, the Democrat, the Memphis Commercial Appeal and a few Communist newspapers. In addition, I may read or scan 10 bulletins and check through 15 or 20 books for references.

"Authors write many books for scanning," he explained. "When one becomes familiar with a field he glances down the page for new concepts. I may thumb half a book before finding the passage I want."

Bales' search for references often bears fruit. He has 16 filing cabinets on religion. Dissected books, several pages from journals and newspaper clips are filed away for future use — a never-ending process.

Several years ago, while gathering material, Bales got the idea for "Hub of the Bible," his 14th book, which came out in May. Intensifying his research, he compiled a file of carefully selected quotations — one to a sheet of paper for easy arrangement.

"After grouping quotations for chapters, writing comes easily, usually before breakfast or after dinner — depending more on time than urge," Bales said.

One night, perhaps tired after a hard day at the office, Bales grew weary waiting for company to leave. "If you're sitting up with me," he said with a good-natured smile, "I'm feeling better." His friends soon departed.

When 18 he wrote his first religious article. His first published book, "You Are a Christian Now," came in 1940. Although he's since turned out books with disciplined punctuality, he says, "I only regret I can't afford more time for writing."

Bales met tragedy at an early age. When he was 11 fate snatched him from a family of nine and placed him 200 miles from home in four days.

Living in Atlanta with four brothers and three sisters, James saw his parents for the last time as they left for Bible study one January night in 1927. Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Bales died in a car-train collision.

James went to live with his grandparents in Fitzgerald, Ga. There he developed an insatiable urge to prove himself — an urge he carried right to the doorstep of Harding College. That's when he roared into the men's dormitory seeking a wrestling match.

Bales quickly established himself at school. Between impromptu boxcar rides and the wooing of one of the prettiest girls on the campus, J. D. managed the track team, became Arkansas' champion collegiate debater and was elected best all-round boy at Harding.

He left school with as much commotion as when he arrived. Needing more money and less luggage, he gathered five or six boys into his room at the end of his senior year and auctioned all his clothes.

"Everything went except the clothes he was wearing," Pitner recalled with a chuckle. "I bought a raincoat for 50 cents and wore it a good 10 years."

After graduation Bales went to Toronto to preach. There he achieved his greatest victory.

"I got married," he grinned. "Made up my mind and did it." Mr. and Mrs. Bales have three boys and three girls. Bales collects items — from foreign coins and Indian relics to idols more than 200 years old. Once while preaching in Texas the Bible professor collected five goats from a member of the congregation to keep his yard clean.

No less colorful than Dr. Bales is the office in which he works. Yellow newspapers and ragged books gather beneath autographed pictures of Chiang Kai Shek and Chen Cheng. On one shelf are autographed books by A. Kerensky, leader of Russia's provisional government when it fell in 1917, and Miss Alexandra Tolstoy, daughter of Leo Tolstoy. Each is the basis of a particular yarn about the professor.

Taped interviews with Ben Gittlow and Joe Kornfeder, founders of the Communist Party in America and Sen. Clayton R. Lusk, who in 1920 conducted the first full-scale investigation of communism in the U.S., tell of Bales' unending fight against the materialistic ideology.

A copy of the Bales versus Woolsey Teller debate recalls the stinging oratory with which the professor jabbed a knowledgeable finger into the arguments of the avowed atheist. A New Yorker, Teller came south prepared to dismantle the "Arkansas hillbilly." He soon discovered he was up against a Ph.D. from the University of California — and a walking library. Teller's armload of books did him little good. In an amazing display of mental dexterity, Bales pulled passage after passage from his memory with machine-gun rapidity. The founder of the American Association for the Advancement of Atheism

Book Reviews

Books to be reviewed in this column should be sent to Keith T. Thompson, Box 403 Beamsville, Ont., Canada.

"The Restoration Principle" being the Abilene Christian College Annual Bible Lectures 1962. Published by Abilene Christian Students Exchange. 525 pages, Price $3.95.

In recent weeks one of the weekly gospel papers (Firm Foundation) has been carrying some discussions concerning the relevance of the Restoration Movement. One brother has been writing under the heading "The Irrelevance of the Restoration Movement". While we regret the dissension that sometimes arises from such discussions we believe it is good for us to rethink our attitudes from time to time.

It is exactly such a rethinking that is found in these Abilene lectures for this year. Such a thorough treatment is given to "The Restoration Principle" as to make this among the important volumes in all Restoration literature.

Among the theme speeches are the following: "The Restoration in the 20th Century - E. W. McMillan; "Religious Authority" - Everett Ferguson; "The Biblical Pattern" - J. D. Thomas; "Restoring the Spirit of New Testament Christianity" - Bill Humble; "Is the Church a Sect?" - J. W. Roberts; "Controversy in the Restoration Movement" - George Stephenson. Nine speeches are devoted to "Restoration Biographies". Each of these evidences wide research and careful thought. Three "Special Speeches" present different aspects of the work of the church today. Two speeches are given to each of the following topics discussed by panels: "Teaching in Classes"; "The Christian's Relation to Civil Government"; "Co-operation and Orphan Homes"; "The Use of Instrumental Music."

went back to New York soundly whipped.

Also in his office is the idea, tucked away in a filing cabinet, for a new book, "Twenty-Seven Years on the Firing Line."

Somewhere in this personal account Bales should mention he has received little monetary reward for his intellectual endeavors. "I write about subjects of limited appeal," he said. "I suppose that's why they don't sell in great numbers. But my reward lies in reaching people, maybe in centuries to come. Who knows, in some fields my books may survive."

One can't help but feel upon leaving the musty office of Dr. James David Bales, that he has sat in the presence of a great American.

Time will tell how great.

GLEANINGS FROM FOREIGN FIELDS

SCOTLAND

Eight have been baptized and two restored to Christ since the first of this year in the church in Edinburgh. Members of this congregation helped the old Rose Street church in Kirkcaldy, Fifeshire, during January and February. This congregation dates back to 1798 — 164 years.

On June 16, 40 American Christians were scheduled to arrive in Glasgow, to carry on an intensive three-week gospel campaign, similar to the one conducted in London last year.

Bro. Fred B. Walker was to do the preaching and Bro. Henry Arnold the song leading. Sis. T. B. Thompson was to assist with special classes for women and small children. Bro. Ivan Stewart was to direct personal work, while Bro. Olan Hicks, along with Bro. Dale Buckley, one of the regular evangelists with the Glasgow congregation, was to be in charge of advertising.

Approximately 10 workers were to join the group from churches in England and other sections of Europe.

ITALY

The trial of the two young Italian gospel preachers, charged with "vilifying the state religion", was postponed until November 29. As this date will be right in the middle of the pope's ecumenical council, it is believed the trial will not convene again — this would cause too much bad publicity for the Catholic Church at a time they will be seeking to bring about "unity" with Protestantism. The Italian brethren express thanks for the prayers offered on their behalf.

FRANCE

Brother Maurice Hall, for a number of years a missionary in France and now assistant to the president of Michigan Christian College, will lead a group of Christians in a seven-week gospel campaign in France and Belgium this summer. The Dearborn Valley church in Dearborn, Mich., will sponsor them.

Tentative plans are for gospel meetings in Brussels and Liege, Belgium, and Paris and Nice, France. The group will also be present for the European Bible Lectures in Frankfurt, Germany in August.

The present evangelistic work was begun in France in 1949. There are now 18 churches and five native preachers in France and the French-speaking section of Belgium.

AUSTRALIA

Bro. T. H. Tarbet of Big Spring, Texas, a former Australian missionary, recently completed an 11-week preacher - training series at Albury, New South Wales. Twenty different Christian men attended, with an average of eight at each session. The men put in the same number of hours of study and class work they would have done in a semester of college.

In meetings held in conjunction with the training program, 10 were baptized into Christ and a new congregation was established in Wangaratta, Victoria.

The church in Perth, Western Australia, was a year old in June. There are now 14 faithful members. Two American preachers, Bro. Rudy Wyatt and Bro. Ron Durham, are working in the city. They have a weekly radio program and a regular program of newspaper advertising and correspondence courses. A third preacher, Bro. Marvin Phillips of Siloam Springs, Ark., is being sent to Perth in August.

The Perth church will have a booth at the Royal Show, the state fair of Western Australia this fall. In September, 15 Christian men from the United States will be in Perth to help with a gospel meeting.

SWITZERLAND

The church in Biel, Switzerland, was one year old in April. It now consists of 14 members, not counting Bro. and Sis. Heinrich Blum, missionaries. The church has been meeting in a hotel since its beginning, but has now rented an office and will move its services there. This will enable them to use as much time as necessary in the services, something they could not do in the hotel.

Bro. and Sis. Jack McKinney of Zurich, who have been in Switzerland since 1955, plan a trip back to the United States to visit their families in 1963. Membership in the Zurich church now numbers 26.

PHILIPPINES

Bro. Felix Bravo, a young Filipino preacher who has been studying in the United States for several years, plans to return to his native land this summer to begin full-time preaching. He will be supported by the 12th and Chestnut Streets church in Abilene, Texas.

Bro. Bravo's home is on the Island of Mindenao in the southern Philippines, where his father preaches. After a visit with his parents, he will move to Luzon in the northern islands to begin a new work in Nueva Ecija province. There is no strong church in this province now.

VENEZUELA

The North Madison Church of Christ in Madison Heights, Michigan, has sent Bro. and Sis. Frank Trayler to work in Caracas, Venezuela. They were to arrive around the first of June.

ARE THERE CHRISTIANS

1-7). Any truth that a man has he does not give up when he comes into the church of the Lord.

God did not intend for his people to remain in Babylon: "And I heard another voice from heaven, saying, Come forth my people out of her, that ye have no fellowship with her sins, and that ye receive not of her plagues" (Revelation 18:4). God has had people in Babylon. If there are still people there, God has commanded them to come out. Who is Babylon? It is she that has trafficed in the souls of men (Revelation 18:11-13). Does not denominationalism traffic in the souls of men?

THE LETTER TO ROME

shall die," Ezek. 18:4. In the context of this verse it is made clear that sin is not transmitted or the guilt of sin to be inherited.

Secondly: "God is no respecter of persons," Acts 10:35. In this context we learn that God is willing to save all who will serve Him.

And thirdly: "God is not willing that any should perish," 2 Pet. 3:9.

Now then, bearing these thoughts in mind, we shall raise this objection to the acceptance of the doctrines of "original sin" and "total hereditary depravity."

Any doctrine which ascribes to man an inherited sin or guilt of sin must necessarily lead to the acceptance of the doctrine of Salvation through the direct operation of the Holy Spirit. That is - if man is depraved at birth or if he inherits a guilt of sin - God must somehow work a miracle which will take away not only his guilt but his depravity. Since this is so, then it follows that God, by His own volition and with no free choice on the part of man, must select those who will be saved and those who will be damned. Since this follows, it also follows that the Calvanistic doctrines of Predestination and Election must be true. And surely these doctrines are untrue since they contradict the three principles previously stated.

This gives very briefly the dilemma of accepting the Augustian interpretation of Romans five. This does not however solve the problem of correctly interpreting the passage.

Let us not be overly hasty to discount entirely the idea of our participation in Adams sin, for Paul does say - "As through the one man's disobedience the many were made sinners," verse 19. It seems there can be little doubt that Adam is indeed the representative of the human race and that his sin involved each succeeding person in some way. "In Adam," Paul says, "all die." Surely, then there is a connection between Adam and each one of us. Whenever and wherever there is humanity, there is sin. Since Adam there has been sin and death in the world and each person is implicated in that sin and death by being a sinner himself. If we notice the close connection between sin and death that is presented by Paul we realize that death passes unto all men because all have sinned. Since this cannot refer to the idea of "original sin' 'it means that all have sinned in their own right. The problem then becomes, "Why do all men sin." Even since Adam, all have sinned and fallen short of the glory of God. What do we receive from Adam which makes it impossible for us not to sin? It must be human nature, a tendency towards sin, a pride of life which causes us sooner or later to reject God and turn our backs upon him.

Let us readily admit that, without God's help, man cannot flee the desire to sin. There is since Adam a compulsion on the part of man to sin and since everyone shares this compulsion, each of us is unable to live a righteous life on our own. The Bible certainly bears this out. "It is not in man that walketh to direct his steps." - Jer. 10:23.

We could spend much more time to study in more detail this great and grave problem which lies at the core of so much error in the religious world but perhaps these few thoughts will give each of us a basis upon which to further pursue this passage.

The main thought of this passage is not, however, the work of Adam and its consequences but the work of Christ, "the second Adam." In our next article we shall study the rest of chapter five.

NEED $10,000 LOAN

The church of Christ in Ajax wishes to borrow all or part of $10,000 at bank interest. This church which has already shown much initiative and progress has been meeting in a cottage built as temporary quarters. There is now an excellent opportunity to purchase a building and land on Highway 401 for a meeting place.

This money is needed for about one year. Investigation is welcomed. A first mortgage can be given.

prayer and Bible study, helping the less fortunate, and preaching the gospel to the lost, we have deprived our souls of great blessings, and have offended the Holy Spirit.

There are those who know the truth & their responsibility to it, but for some reason they quench the Spirit in failing to obey. There are members of the church who have simply become indifferent toward God and his church, rendering themselves dead spiritually. Oh, that they would see their sad condition and repent, "before the great and terrible day of the Lord" (Joel 2:31). James says, " . . . to him that knoweth to do good, and doeth it not, to him it is sin (Jas. 4:17).

"Walk in the Spirit"

The Holy Spirit, indeed, has great power to change the lives of men, but only when they are willing. By walking "in the Spirit", Paul says we shall "not fulfill the lust of the flesh" (Gal. 5:16). This should behove us to become strongly allied with the Spirit in order to defeat "the works of the flesh" (verses 17,18). Let us strive to cultivate in our lives the fruits of the Spirit, that we might become the person God would have us. "Stop stifling the Spirit".

NEW CONGREGATION

A church now meets in the Vandeleur Community Hall, 5 miles southeast of Markdale, Ontario. Bible classes begin at 2 p.m. and worship at 3. Morgan Petch of Markdale will act as secretary.

The first meeting was held on May 6 with Clyde Lansdell of Meaford as the speaker and about 60 in attendance. Others who have helped with the speaking are G. Preston, Marvin MacDonald and Robert Davison. There are 15 members and three Bible classes.

The men and woman have been meeting together in members' homes once a week for training classes. A Bible study is also being begun. Marvin MacDonald will be helping with this work for the summer.

BELL FAMILY TO AFRICA

Dear Brethren:

By the time you read this we'll probably have begun our trip back to Rhodesia. We are to leave Regina on the fourth of July and go aboard the ship at Montreal on the sixth of July. If things go according to schedule we should reach Kalamo on the fifth of August.

We wish to thank all the brethren who have helped us in any way. Our Travel Fund is completed with enough left over to get us started up at Namwianga again. Besides this, Sister Myrtle Bailey has collected money to get a new washing machine (and a frig) for us to take back with us. We surely appreciate Sis. Bailey's efforts on our behalf, and the generosity of those who gave towards this project.

Our promised monthly support has not quite reached the minimum that we felt necessary, but it is very close to it now. Thanks to all those who are promising help with the support. In many cases, it will not be too easy to take on this extra load, as there are so many calls for help with one phase or another of the work, and this makes us doubly thankful for the response to our appeal for support.

Sis. Betty Bailey is busy getting ready to come with us. It will not be too easy for her to leave her family we know. The other missionaries at Namwianga are very happy about her decision to come and help with the work there. The workers there have a very heavy burden at present and new workers are very welcome.

Our address in Africa is the same as before: J. A. Bell, Namwianga Mission, Box 22, Kalomo, Northern Rhodesia.

The church here in Regina is sponsoring us as you know. The brethren here will forward the support to us. The address of the church in Regina is: Church of Christ, Seventh Avenue and Pasqua Street, Regina, Sask.

We hope to keep in contact with all those who are helping us in any way through the church here. Bro. Wayne Kemp has been chosen by the church to handle the business connected with their sponsoring us. We appreciate his willingness to give up his time for this.

Edna has asked me to thank especially the women's groups in the different congregations that have helped her in various ways with preparations for the trip — making clothes for the children, etc. This has made our "getting ready" much easier.

Please pray that our work in Rhodesia may be acceptable in God's sight, and may bear fruit.

Sincerely in Christ,
Allan and Edna Bell

The area where the Bells served and are returning to borders on the south side of the Congo. Farming is quite general with such crops as corn, tobacco, peanuts, beans, etc., also cattle. There is work in mines as well as various jobs in the cities. The average climate is about the same as it is here in July. Diseases such as malaria and amoebic dysentry affect about half the rural white people and almost all natives. There are some disease-carrying mosquitoes, also numerous poisonous snakes. These conditions make life in rural areas quite dififcult for all. Most of the native population is very poor.

In an area 100 by 100 miles there are about 1400 Christians and 39 congregations. There are three mission stations - Namwianga (the largest) where Bells taught four and one-half years, Sindi, where they taught for 14 months and Kabanga. There are about 16 public schools that are taught by native Christian teachers, usually two in each school. All native (black) teachers receive Government wages, including those at the mission. All white missionaries and native preachers depend on support from the church. Bro. L. Bailey is supervisor of the native teachers. These schools are located where there are native churches. In many areas these teachers do the preaching.

Since Bro. and Sis. Bell will be returning to Namwianga Mission, we shall give a brief history of it, the present conditions, and number of students. Brethren Brown and Scott began this work in 1932, they gave 5,000 acres which is the present site. Such brethren as Wm. Short, A. Hobby, J. C. Shewmaker began a greater effort in 1940 The white school on this mission is named "Eureka". It has some new buildings, others are needed. Bricks can be produced by the school, but other supplies must be purchased. There is no electricity, light is provided by kerosene lamps and pressure lamps. Two deep wells supply the water. The Bell's house, because of distance from wells, will use rain water for household use. The nearest railroad and highway are four miles away.

The school has an enrollment of 400 including 50 white students. The white students come from as far as 200 miles away. These people believe strongly in private schools. A good number of students obey the gospel and help bring the gospel to new areas or strengthen churches. There are 12 teachers, of which eight are natives. Others do part time teaching. Up to grade eight is taught which is considered a good education in this area for natives. Bible classes are taught for one hour each day. Besides this, there are several Bible classes each week after school hours. With 400 students there is much other work such as supervising, personal interest in students, caring for the sick, preparing and serving meals, gardening, etc.

HERE AND THERE

Victoria: This church will be broadcasting the program "The Word of Life" which has been presented on CFAX in Victoria over CFCP, the station on Courtenay on Vancouver Island as well beginning on June 3rd at 10.15 a.m.

Several radio men who visited the station at Victoria were impressed with this program and expressed a desire to carry it on their own local stations. The station at Kelowna, one of the most strategic spots in B.C. reaching the entire Okanagan Valley, has also expressed a desire to have the program. The only congregation in this entire area is the one at Salmon Arm.

The problem is that the church in Victoria cannot handle any more of this work financially . . . The province is third both in area and in population in Canada . . . Do we have the faith to accept the challenge? Write us here in Victoria and let us know your thinking on this matter. — Jim Hawkins in The Van-Isle Beacon

LONDON CAMPAIGN

Greetings from the Church in London and the campaign workers. Seven of the group arrived in Hamilton one week ago today for the June meeting. At this meeting about 700 people were present from the churches in Ontario and northern States. The following day, four of us proceeded on to London and went to work knocking on doors. The first day there was a slight rain which held us up until evening, but since then the weather has been very favorable and we have covered almost 500 homes. We have been very favorably impressed with the friendliness shown to us in nearly every home. No doors have been slammed in our face, but instead we have been wished "God speed" even by those who differ from us religiously.

Although our campaign was not scheduled to start until today, we have already much encouraging news to report. Six cottage meetings have been set up; about a dozen children promised to come to Sunday School (seven of them came this morning — one family of four who promised to come did not — which would have made 11); four adults promised to begin coming to our services this morning, however, none came and we will be contacting them tomorrow to find out the reason; a great deal of interest has been shown in the area for the VBS and we are expecting a large school in July, and will probably have to use a bus; we have made friends with a group of boys who "run the streets" in a poorer part of town and yesterday took them on a picnic. One is a Jehovah's Witness and the rest are Catholics. One of the members of the church lives in this neighbourhood and we hope that we can begin having a devotional with them in their own homes or at least among themselves. Today, two of our number have preaching appointments in Hamilton and Sarnia. Our attendance for Sunday School was 42 and worship service was 35 in the morning and 22 in the evening. Previous average for the morning was about 25. One of our aims is that we may boost this number to 100 before the next five weeks pass.

The rest of our group arrived at midnight Friday night, and now with our work force here, we are ready to start to work. The Lord has been good to us and we are very encouraged. Please continue to pray for us that we find the people who want to learn the truth.

Eight of this group are students of Abilene Christian College. Those making up the group are Nancy Cunningham, London, Ont.; Mary Morren, Barrie, Ont.; Diane Willard, Keller, Texas.; Charles Burns, Valley Mills, Texas; Dale Dennis, Amarillo, Texas; Melvin Evans, Marshall, Mo.; Kenneth Sinclair, Plainview, Texas; and Ray Lock and wife, Weyburn, Sask. In addition, Mrs L. Graham, Putnam, Texas.; and Warren Woodward, Woodson, Texas, also are with the group.

The effort in London is to end on July 15 and will continue in Ottawa from July 22 to August 26.

Some of the activities include a 10-day gospel meeting in each place, door-knocking (about 400 doors in each city), teaching home Bible classes, and advertising on radio and in newspapers.

Keith Thompson of Beamsville is preaching the meeting in London, June 17-27. Services are in the New Evelyn Harrison Public School, on Tewksbury Crescent in Huron Heights - Phase II.

One Week Later

Our meeting got off to a good start yesterday morning with a high attendance in Bible School of 52, then followed by a high attendance for worship service of 51. Again we had new faces from the community present for Sunday School and we believe that by a continued effort that this number can be brought up to our goal of 100. We were very happy to have visitors with us from out of town for both the morning and the evening service as this also helped to swell our number. Remember the next few days in your prayers, that as the message is proclaimed, there may be good and honest hearts listening and turning to obedience.

We are also very thankful to three carloads of workers who came from Sarnia to work with us on Saturday. In the morning and afternoon, the group distributed material to about 4,000 homes telling about the gospel meeting that started yesterday. Many of these were young people and we thank God that they have taken time to spend in the Master's service to work for him.

Other activities for the week include cottage meetings that have been set up and taught. A number of very interesting contacts have been made.

Brother Ira Zavitz and his son David from Toronto have come to be with us and they plan to spend the next few days working with us. We hope that the efforts put forth by this God-fearing man may be an example for others to follow.

Remember the VBS July 9-13. We need more teachers and we can use you, if you can come.

WESTERN JUNE MEETING

Churches of Christ in this area had a great day of fellowship on Sunday, June 10th. During the day there were more than 500 people gathered here in Moose Jaw to worship God and get better acquainted.

The facilities of the Moose Jaw Technical School provided excellent accommodation for this assembly. Food was provided for all in an excellent cafeteria style. The food was brought from many homes outside of the Moose Jaw congregation but it was shared by all.

Brother Leo C. Owen of the congregation at Lloydminster was the morning speaker; Brother Wilfred Orr, of Saskatoon, formerly of Moose Jaw, was the afternoon speaker; Brother Richard Dacus, of Sidney, Montana was the evening speaker.

Brother and Sister Allen Bell, former missionaries to Northern Rhodesia were present. They are returning to their work in Africa next month. Sister Betty Bailey, daughter of Cecil T. Bailey and wife will accompany them. These missionaries are being sponsored by Saskatchewan churches.

There were six of the provinces represented at the meeting and one state.

Following the afternoon service a man was baptized into Christ. He will be a member of the La Fleche congregation.

It is hoped that this fellowship meeting will become an annual affair.

OUR DEPARTED

HATTIE CULP

Sister Hattie Culp, long a faithful member at Beamsville, passed away at St. Catharines General Hospital on May 26, 1962. She had a fall a few weeks before and was unable to recover.

She was born in Clinton Township in 1877 and was 84 at the time of her death.

Sister Culp is survived by three daughters, Jean, at home, Mrs Ivan (Reta) McCombs of Fonthill and Mrs Keith (Norma) Middlemiss of Stouffville.

The funeral service was conducted at the Tallman Funeral Chapel at Vineland and interment was at Mt. Osborne Cemetery, Beamsville. Brother C. G. McPhee assisted at the chapel and graveside.

ARTHUR W. STEVENSON

We wish to apologize for the omission of the sentence "His daughter, Margaret Cargin, is an active Christian and wife of a deacon in the church" from the obituary of Arthur W. Stevenson on page 15 of the June Gospel Herald. The type setter let his eye jump to the next sentence which began with the same word and the omission was not spotted by the proof-readers. We are sorry. E.C.P.

HARVEY H. PERRY

Brother Perry of the Moose Jaw congregation died in a Regina hospital at the advanced age of 97. He obeyed the gospel, together with his wife, while Brother Wildred Orr laboured with the Moose Jaw congregation.

Brother Perry obeyed the gospel late in life and regretted the lost years spent in sin, but his zeal for God and love for His book was a blessing to all those who knew him. His wife died in the faith several years ago.

The funeral service was conducted from the church building in Moose Jaw. Brothers Wildred Orr and Morris Bailey assisted with the service.

"We sorrow not as those who have no hope".

JOHN ALLEN HUDSON

A gospel preacher of unusual quality and versatility has passed. The Bible teaches us to "honor such men." Recently Pepperdine College bestowed upon him her Christian Service Award. He will be missed in a special way in California although his influence has been felt around the world. He was a pioneer in building larger and more functional church buildings, in going abroad to preach Christ in Great Britain, Australia, and New Zealand, in writing and publishing books.

Thank God for dedicated Christions of his generation who have blessed those of us who follow them! May their number increase!

D. A. SINCLAIR

On May 9th, a grand old soldier of the cross, Brother D. A. Sinclair was called to his reward. Quietly and peacefully, Brother Sinclair passed into eternity. He had preached for the Lord on May 7th and right up until the day of his death he served his Master.

Brother Sinclair was 78 years of age and certainly is well remembered by members of the church in both Eastern and Western Canada. He preached in several places including Carman, Winnipeg, Weyburn, Sundridge and Huntsville.

Brother Sinclair leaves behind him a record of good works and is well remembered for his works sake.

He is survived by his wife, 8 children, 23 grandchildren and 3 great grandchildren. All of the children were present at the funeral services though they are scattered throughout the United States and Canada.

Two services were held. The writer conducted the service in Weyburn May 13, and then Brother R. Meneer conducted the service May 14 in Carman, Manitoba where the interment took place.

We will miss our brother and his pleasant ways. We shall miss his work, for the church has lost a real worker. However, we shall well remember and be constrained to follow our Lord because of our brother's faithful service.

ABILENE FAMILY AIDS IN V.B.S.

Charles H. Davidson of Abilene, Texas plans to help teach in four Vacation Bible Schools in Canada this summer.

His wife and daughter (Sandra, presently in grade nine at Western Christian College) are also to help teach in the schools.

He will begin the summer with two VBS's conducted in the Northern United States: one in Minot, N. Dak. from July 8th to 13th and one in Nelson, Wis. from July 16th to 20th.

Then he will travel east to Ontario to help in four Vacation Bible Schools there: Sault Ste. Marie, July 23rd to 27th; Sundridge, July 30th to Aug. 3rd; Huntsville, Aug. 6th to 10th; and Sarnia, Aug. 13th to 18th.

Brother Davison is presently in the process of gathering 600 Texas horned toads to use as attendance prizes in the Bible schools.

Horned toads were used successfully as attendance prizes in the three VBS's the Davison's helped with last summer (at Hubbardsville, N.Y., Burlington, Vert.; and Fredericton, N.B.).

Brother Davison was even interviewed on television in St. John, N.B. with one of the horned toads. He was able at the same time to explain the church's plea to restore New Testament Christianity.

Brother Davison's son, Roy Davison, is preacher for the church in Sarnia, Ontario.

WHAT IS TRUTH?

ing of the Spirit of Truth - the Holy Spirit - on the day of Pentecost (John 16:13).

Man does not need a greater nor a more accurate revelation of truth today. He needs to accept humbly and to divide rightly the revelation of truth in his possession - the Bible.

NIGERIAN LETTER AND APPEAL

30th May, 1962

Dear Brother Merritt,

I am a student in the school of the below address. The Gospel Herald magazine, whose editor you are, is so good that as a preacher in training, I feel I should read it regularly. Subscription price is stated at $2.00 per year. Kindly educate me on how I can pay this from Nigeria or Cameroons so that I avail myself of the paper's rich gospel materials. Thank you.

Please enclosed is an appeal through you to the churches in America. Kindly help me by making copies available to all the churches you think can answer the cry. Thanking you very much.

To the Churches of Christ in America

Dear Brethren:

The Macedonian Call Repeats

Kindly come over to the Cameroons and help us.

I moved from Western Cameroons (formerly Southern Cameroons) to Eastern Nigeria where I was converted from Catholicism into the Lord's church. I am saved; but what of the ignorant of my country? I gave up my employment as a Headmaster and entered the Bible School of the below address to train and qualify as a preacher. There is one young Cameroon man, Bro. B. T. Kuhtsu, with me in this school; so only two Cameroon men are training to preach the word. But what can we do, poor as we are? Our hope is on developed oversea brethren. Hence this my humble appeal to the churches of America to send missionaries to the Cameroons also.

One of the American brethren evangelizing Eastern Nigeria, Bro. Glenn Martin, had visited the country, and so we have six congregations established there. Eager souls are perishing; do pity us, and send us preachers. From the column, Gleanings From Foreign Fields, in the Gospel Herald, I know already the great task the American churches bear, but I do hope that a few reapers can be sent to the Cameroons also.

May the Lord give the desired increase to your labours.

Yours in His service,

H. JOHNSON IN COLORADO

After nearly seven years of work in the mission fields of Minnesota and Wisconsin, we have moved to Montrose, Colorado, another mission field. Montrose is a beautiful city of about 5,000 with another 3,000 in the nearby suburbs. It lies in the Gunnison Valley situated on U.S. Highways 50 and 550.

This is a beautiful place to spend your vacation. The wonderful handiwork of God as seen in the great mountains and canyons is unsurpassed anywhere. When on your vacation be sure to worship with us. Remember the address: 910-First Street South; just one block south of Highway 50. Our phone numbers are 249-4720 or 249-9370.

We have about 20 active members living here in the city. They own their basement building and have purchased a nice home for the preacher. The Westside congregation in Midland, Texas is supplying our full salary.

The Central congregation in Cleburne, Texas is sending their preacher, Bro. Featherstone, here for a short meeting beginning the 5th of June.

If you know of any members of the Church, or if you have any friends living near Montrose, please send us their names and addresses, and we will do our best to contact them.

I have time for three or four meetings. I would be glad to hear from any congregation that can use me in this way. Write me at P.O. Box 612, Montrose, Colorado.

ONTARIO JUNE MEETING

June 3 was a lovely day and the Ontario June Meeting was an enjoyable gathering for all who participated. Although we do not have an accurate count, there were around 800 people present for the morning service and the assembly was almost as large for the other meetings.

The auditorium of Westdale Collegiate provided an ideal situation for the occasion and the Sanford Avenue brethren had everything well arranged. Brethren from many points seemed to fully enjoy the opportunity to be together. We spoke to brethren from Sarnia, Sault Ste. Marie and Ottawa in Ontario, from Fredericton, N.B. and from Henderson, Tenn. and Abilene, Texas, as well as many points nearer to Hamilton.

The lessons by Elza Hufford of Valparaiso, Ind. were well received and we overheard much enthusiastic comment on the lesson in song presented by a well-prepared chorus in the afternoon.

Future Meetings spoken for: 1963, St. Catharines; 1964, Beamsville; 1967, Ottawa.

MAP OF CHURCHES AVAILABLE

North Atlantic Christian, Inc., announces that a new edition of the map locating churches of Christ in the Northeast is now available. Revised in May, 1962, the map locates most of the congregations from Virginia up the Atlantic seaboard to Maine and in eastern Canada. It is designed to assist Christians who vacation in the Northeast as well as others who need to locate the congregations.

Cost of the map is fifteen cents in coin or stamp. Address: North Atlantic Christian, Box 731, Worcester 1, Massachusetts.

CONVERSIONS

Let's meditate for awhile on conversions,
Beginning in Acts, chapter two,
Where Peter spoke to those thousands of persons,
Their response, "What shall we do?"

Peter said, "Repent and be baptized,"
As we read on, we see this was done.
About three thousand did as he commanded,
In the name of the Beloved Son.

While stones were being hurled at Stephen,
He reminds us of Christ, as he died,
He prayed for those people, who stoned him,
Forgive them, his words readly implied.

Consenting to the death of this martyr,
And in with that unruly throng,
Was Saul, persecuting the Christians,
Not feeling he was doing wrong.

But God in his wisdom and knowledge,
Had a purpose for this well-learned man,
Ananias then comes into the picture,
Guided by God's holy hand.

Saul was baptized, his sins were remitted.
He was with the disciples a while,
Then straightway preached Christ to the people,
What a miracle God had compiled!

To go to another conversion
As the book of Acts, we'll endeavor to scan,
The word now preached to the Gentiles,
To a centurion of an Italian band.

This man, we will find, was Cornelius,
A praying man, kind and devout,
To our minds, he would seem almost perfect,
But something was being left out.

Now Peter was used in this instance,
He came and preached boldly the word,
Cornelius and his household were baptized
In the name of Jesus the Lord.

Now continuing on in the following chapters,
Obedience to the gospel is seen,
Think of Lydia, the seller of purple,
Recorded in chapter sixteen.

Paul and Silas were thrown into prison,
For preaching the word in that day,
But, remember, the jailer responded
Was baptized and his household, straightway.

We'll do well to consider the eunuch
In charge of the queen's treasures and gold,
On his way to Jerusalem to worship,
Sitting, reading the prophet of old.

Now Philip became the Lord's mouthpiece,
As he talked with that great business man,
Philip inquired if he knew what he was reading?
He made known, he did not understand.

God's plan was again being patterned,
The chariot was made to stand still,
Philip went down with him to the water,
It's strange how God works out his will!

These examples are here for our learning,
We must obey as those people were told,
We know that God's word never changes,
It's the same now, as in ages old.

Owen Sound: "Our gospel meeting with brother Connie Adams of Newbern, Tenn. came to a close last Sunday evening. The attendance was on a par with other previous efforts despite the fact that a number of the members were unable to attend due to illness . . . While there were no visible results the preaching was of the highest order, true to the Book, practical and timely to our needs and effectively and convincingly presented.
—John Whitfield

Meaford: Marvin MacDonald, who has been attending Great Lakes Christian College, has consented to work as preacher for the Griersville and Vandeleur churches.

Tent meeting dates are July 8-23. Saturday, July 7, reading the New Testament from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. By June 17 donations had been made to the expenses of the tent meeting so that less than $350 was needed to reach the local goal of $2,000.

Sudbury: "Five new chairs were purchased . . . We could use more, also more hymn books.

Our annual fellowship meeting could well be considered a success. A larger auditorium will be necessary next year.

Was The Command To Repent And Be Baptized A Universal Command?

(PART I)

J. C. Bailey, Moose Jaw, Sask.

Religious people who teach that justification is by "faith alone" have tried in devious ways to set aside the command of the Holy Spirit, as given through the apostle Peter on the day of Pentecost, when he said: "Repent ye, and be baptized everyone of you in the name of Jesus Christ unto the remission of your sins and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Spirit" (Acts 2:38). Recently this idea has been gaining ground: namely, that this command was for the Jews only but was not given to the Gentiles. I want you to listen to this: (as taken from the Peoples Magazine) "Repent and be baptized" (Acts 2:38) said Peter. That too was the message of John the Baptist. It was the message for the Jewish people. The new revelation had not yet been given. When it was given it was given to Paul and not to Peter" (emphasis mine JCB).

It would be hard to crowd more error into one passage than what I have just quoted above. The New Revelation is the gospel. Peter preached the gospel in the day of Pentecost. Paul declared the gospel is the power of God unto salvation to both Jew and Greek (Romans 1:16). What is the new revelation but the gospel? Paul said it was given to both Jews and Gentiles.

Did Paul teach that salvation was by faith alone? Paul never used such words, Dr. Smith to the contrary. I want you to listen to Paul: "Though he was a son yet learned he obedience by the things that he suffered; and having been made perfect he became unto all them that obey him the author of eternal salvation. Paul said that Jesus saves the obedient. Smith says that men are saved by faith alone. I believe Paul.

Perhaps my learned friend would suggest that Hebrews was not written by Paul. This will not help him for he dare not question

THE LETTER TO ROME

E. D. Wieb, Weyburn, Sask.

No. 6

We recall that Romans five begins, "Since we are justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ." So now we turn to the important teaching of salvation by grace. You remember that we discussed the involvement that each person has in the humanity of Adam. Sin and death are the natural consequences of this relationship. Paul now shows that as in Adam all die so in Christ shall all be made alive. The key to the understanding of this statement is to be found in the phrases, "in Adam" and "in Christ". Our natural relationship by our human birth is to Adam. Therefore it is inevitable that all sin. The only alternative to this is conversion, a spiritual birth. The opposite to being "in Adam" is to be "in Christ". It is virtually impossible for any person to move "out of Adam into Christ", except by the grace of God. Paul writes to Titus, "Now the grace of God hath appeared bringing salvation to all men." Tit. 2:11.

The essential thing here is to understand Grace. How does it operate? Of what is it composed? In a very brief summary we might say that Grace is the unmerited favour of God demonstrated most fully in the death of the Son (v. 8). In this death a new basis for life has been laid. It is not "in Adam" nor "in

BESETTING SIN

"Wherefore seeing we also are compassed about with so great a cloud of witnesses, let us lay aside every weight, and the sin which doth so easily beset us, and let us run with patience the race that is set before us." (Hebrews 12:1).

The vast cloud of witnesses named in chapter 11 testify by their lives to the power of faith. "Let us lay aside every weight, every hindrance. The figure used is that of the Greek races in the games then practiced in every province of the Roman Empire, including Palestine. Before running the runner laid off every weight. And, likewise, Christians are running a race; the goal is heaven. In the case of these Hebrew Christians the context shows that the besetting sin was unbelief. Thus the faithful Christian must run with patience the race fighting all the way to the portal of glory.

The basis of the besetting sin is the lust of the flesh. In view of this the apostle John says, "Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world, if any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him. For all that is in the world, the lust of the flesh, and the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, is not of the Father, but is of the world. And the world passeth away, and the lust thereof: but he that doeth the will of God abideth forever" (I John 2:15, 16). These three avenues are of the world and will pass away with the world. It was through these avenues that the serpent deceived our progenitors in the Garden of Eden. From that time to the present there has been a constant conflict between the work of the Spirit and the lust of the flesh.

Paul writes, "This I say then, walk in the Spirit, and ye shall not fulfil the lust of the flesh. For the flesh lusteth against the Spirit; and these are contrary the one to the other: so that ye cannot do the things that ye would." (Galatians 5: 16, 17). Just at this point Paul declares his experience, hear him, "For that which I do I allow not: for what I would, that do I not: but what I hate, that I do. If then I do that which I would not, I consent unto the law that it is good. Now then it is no more I that do it, but sin that dwelleth in me. I know that in me (that is in my flesh), dwelleth no good thing: for to will is present with me; but how to perform that which is good I find not. For the good that I would I do not: but the evil which I would not, that I do. Now if I do that I would not, it is no more I that do it, but sin that dwelleth in me. I find then a law that, when I would do good, evil is present with me. For I delight in the law of God after the inward man: but I see another law in my members, warring against the law of my mind, and bringing me into captivity to the law of sin which is in my members" (Romans 7:15-23).

"The sin which does so easily beset us", must be laid aside to qualify for the kingdom of God. Let us discuss a few of the besetting sins.

Sin of Drunkenness

Drunkenness is a common sin of the ages. During the last few decades the number of drunkards, both men and women, has greatly increased. Drunkards are associated with a long list of sinners condemned by God. Read carefully I Corinthians 10:9-11; Galatians 5:19-21. In these Scriptures drunkenness is called the work of the flesh. Any person who is found guilty of any one of these sins mentioned above is thereby excluded from this kingdom, whether it implies the Church of Christ here below, or the state of glory hereafter.

Sin of Lying

I honestly believe that many people are not conscious of the seriousness of lying. I have heard people say, "I had to tell a little white lie to cover up the truth". Regardless of size or colour, a lie is a lie. Every one who speaks contrary to the truth when he knows the truth, and even he who speaks the truth with the intention to deceive; persuades a person that a thing is different from what it really is by telling only part of the truth, or suppresses some circumstances which would have led the hearer to a different conclusion is a liar. "All liars shall have their part, in the lake which burneth with fire and brimstone. This is the second death, from which there is no recovery" (Revelation 21:8).

Sin of Unbelief

It is a grevious sin to disbelieve in Christ as the Son of God. His divinity has been clearly established by the Holy Spirit. "And many other signs truly did Jesus in the presence of His disciples, which are not written in this book: but these are written, that ye might believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God; and that believing ye might have life through His name." (John 20:30-31). "If ye believe not that I am He, ye shall die in your sins" (John 8:24). Christ means exactly what He says. For one to die in his sins disqualifies him for heaven (Revelation 21:8). All unbelievers in Christ shall hear the sad news "depart from me, ye cursed, into everlasting fire, prepared for the devil and his angels" (Matthew 25: 41).

On my desk is a letter written by a Christian mother requesting me to join her in prayer concerning her son. When this son was 17 he was very active in the services of the church. He is now 23 and last Spring he received his Master's Degree in English Language and Literature. But has one more year to go to get his Doctor's Degree. But, unfortunately, he has renounced his faith in Christ. To his weeping mother he gives as a reason for his change of character the following, "The extensive studies they have carried out at the university have destroyed my faith in Christ." Poor boy! Surely he is not conscious of the final punishment of all unbelievers.

Why is it that when many of our young Christian boys and young Christian girls enter university they are true believers in God and the Bible but after they are there a

SHOULD CHRISTIANS AID THE SALVATION ARMY?

Jim Hawkins, Victoria, B.C.

Currently in Victoria, and possibly elsewhere, the Red Shield campaign of the Salvation Army is in full swing, soliciting funds from the public to do work for which they receive the credit. Most of us are familiar with the clattering street music, and the bell-ringing tactics of the Salvation Army in its endless drives for funds. But despite the fact that faithful preachers of the Gospel have often warned against supporting such religious organizations as it is, yet there are some Christians who persist in supporting them.

Doctrinally, it can be seen that they are in gross error. They have a booklet out called the "Salvation Army Handbook of Doctrine." At the beginning of the book, the "General Order" says:

"This volume contains an exposition of the principal doctrines of the Salvation Army as set forth in its Foundation Deed. These doctrines are to be taught in connection with all Salvation Army Officer's Training Operations, both preparatory and institutional. It is required of Officers of all ranks that their teaching in public and private, shall conform to our Doctrine as herein set forth. (signed) 'International Headquarters.' "

Thus any contribution that we make to the Salvation Army is a guarantee that the doctrines they espouse will continue to be taught in "public and private." But what do they believe and teach?

1. Page 52—"Man is sinful in two ways. He has a sinful nature. He is born with an inclination or tendency to evil. His heart is wrong; he prefers his own way to God's way. This depravity, or disposition to sin, affects every part of man's being and renders man unable, by his own efforts to deliver himself."

There is no other doctrine that was ever perpetrated by man that has caused more confusion, and has given rise to more other false doctrines than has the doctrine of the depravity of man. It is absolutely impossible to reconcile the above statement with the Scriptures.

2. Page 87—"The Holy Spirit has various ways of accomplishing His work in the souls of men. (a) He uses saved people. (b) He uses the Bible, speaking through it to men's souls. (c) He speaks directly to men. That is, in addition to sending messages through God's people, through the Bible, or in other ways, the Holy Spirit himself goes straight to men's heart, making them feel what they ought to do and influencing them to do it."

Certainly, if this last statement is true, then Paul's statement in 2 Timothy 3:16-17 cannot be true.

3. Page 113—"In obeying God, it should be understood that God's will may be made known in various ways. Thus:

1. The Holy Spirit often speaks directly to the heart . . .

ii. The Bible clearly reveals God's will . . .

iii. God speaks to His people through their spiritual leaders and through others in position of authority. The Bible expressly directs that these should be obeyed, provided always that their commands are not contrary to His revealed will."

What more do the Mormons and Roman Catholics claim than this?

4. Page 92—"Repentance is the first condition of salvation."

Page 96 — "Faith is the second and final condiion of salvation."

That certainly doesn't sound like what the Bible says, does it?

5. Page 170-171—"The Bible undoubtedly teaches that the one all-important baptism is that of God the Holy Spirit, hence, generally, when bapism is spoken of, that of the Holy Spirit is meant, except where water baptism is plainly indicated. Water baptism was evidently not intended to be perpetually observed. It was only a shadow of the baptism of God the Holy Spirit. Water baptism was practiced in the days of Paul, but it is evident that he did not consider it necessary to salvation. Some still hold that water baptism is necessary to salvation, but the scripture passages on which they rely do not support their views." How do you like that one?

6. Pages 172-173 — The HANDBOOK blasphemously affirms that there was no such institution "to be permanently and universally observed" as the Lord's supper. They say: "The only passage which contains a reference to a ceremonial celebration of the Lord's supper is I Cor. 11:20-26, but this should be interpreted spiritually."

These are an example of just some of the blasphemous doctrines that are taught by the Salvation Army. Surely we should be able to see that they are wrong many ways doctrinally. We have seen that from their own writings. Not only that, we know also that they are unscriptural in name and organization as well.

Need we say more? Certainly any Christian should be able to see that it would be completely and absolutely wrong to support and be a participant in either the spread of such doctrines, or even in supporting an organization in some other work (even benevolent) which clings to such teaching.

But should we not on the other hand take the advice of the apostle Paul: "And have no fellowship with the unfruitful works of darkness, but rather even reprove them." Instead of helping them, we should be reproving them and helping them to come to a knowledge of the truth. And as long as they continue to teach what they do, and do the work they do in the way they do, they will continue to be in darkness. "But if we say that we have fellowship with Him and walk in (or even help) the darkness, we lie and do not tell the truth." (1 John 1:6).

THINK BIG, BROTHER

Man can now paint the sky. Observers of the recent United States nuclear blast in space told how the sky was colored with several successive colors. They were nearly 800 miles away and yet the results were vivid and terrifying. There is reason to believe that man will progress in the use of nuclear power. Whether or not we trust his handling of the devices within his grasp, we must agree that he is thinking big.

About the same time as the explosion in space, man was thinking big in another area of science. Telestar was circling the globe, an electronic servant capable of receiving a relatively weak message and amplifying it to a sound or picture that could span an ocean clearly and instantaneously. The next decade will see marvels of communication because men are thinking big.

These scientific achievements of men are wonderful in our sight. But there is a danger that man will lose his sense of perspective in these matters and make science his god. There is, however, a lesson in the achievements of those involved in secular pursuits and scientific research. The lesson is that man needs to think big and work toward the fulfillment of his desires.

Christian brethren, let us think big together! We are tempted to drift into a too-narrow view of our opportunities and responsibilities. The Gospel does not change. Neither does its intended scope. Our Master said that it is to go to "every creature"; "into all the world." Nothing less will do. The modern world is over three times as large in population as it was when the Great Comission was given. This fact should not intimidate nor frustrate us. The same Leader who commanded a world-wide program promised a world-wide and an ageless presence with His people: "And lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world."

In this issue there is a brief announcement from Bro. J. C. Bailey of an opportunity for a Canadian in India. Last month's issue carried an appeal from the Cameroons. Other appeals will come and they will be answered in proportion to the size of our perspective and our zeal. Each month reports are seen in "Gleanings from Foreign Fields" that tell of the spread of the Lord's church to new lands.

Christian parents, think big concerning the education of your children. In a world which is increasingly conscious of the value of education, the church needs men and women who are leaders in the professions, the sciences, the arts, and in business. Some brethren are suspicious of all advanced education. They prefer to see their children forego the benefits of higher education because of the risk that such education will destroy their faith. Such is a defeatist attitude. We must educate wisely, but let us educate our children well.

Christian children, think big about your future and your contributions to mankind. No worthwhile profession is barred to you on Christian principles. Whatever is good and useful is worth self-discipline and self-sacrifice.

One can obtain a laborer's job very early in life upon leaving grade school. One can obtain a better job by expending the time and effort for a high school education. A grade school education is insufficient for security in the modern world. Even a high school education is scarcely enough without some special skill. In most cases where the young person has the ability to succeed in university, it is a shame when he drops out earlier. The shorter road looks attractive, but what a shame it is when young people of ability settle for less than the best by their own choice.

Christian elders and preachers, you above all need to think big. It is true that your thinking must be realistic. It is also true that big ideas and big programs are often very expensive. There is no place, however, for a conservatism which relegates every thing new to the waste basket because it calls for big thoughts and actions. This editor must confess that in the past

Who Should Be In Charge of a Bible Correspondence Course

By Jule Miller

(Article Number Three)

Often, when a congregation offers a Bible correspondence course, some "nice" lady is chosen to grade the papers, answer questions submitted by students, and direct the course in general. Some churches have been known to use their teenagers to "take charge" of the Bible Correspondence course. This author believes that such a policy defeats a really effective course. We do not suggest that the ladies or the teenagers may not be used to help in the secretarial work of he correspondence course, but the question is, should they actually direct this important program?

A Bible correspondence course is much like any other Bible class. There is a teacher, the pupils, and ome information to be taught. To the average denominational person, a greater impression is made if the teacher or director of the course is, n their own words, the "pastor" of he church. Although the minister may do no more than initial the essons and sign all letters and corspondence and complete the cerficate, his name alone should appear on everything sent out to the tudents. He is the teacher of the correspondence course."

Only one name, the name of the irector or teacher, should ever be een by he students! Along with he first two lessons an introductory letter is sent. This letter may be yped by a secretary but it should be signed only by the minister or director in charge. Also, when the tests are returned, they may be graded by volunteer help but they should be initialed by the minister n charge. If a question is asked by the student on the returned test, again the minister should carefully answer the question by personal letter. Treat each student as if he were the only one enrolled!

One of the great problems involved in teaching effectively by correspondence course is the lack of a personal relationship between pupil and teacher. If one person grades the paper, another writes the letters, and still another signs he certificate of completion, the problem is greatly enlarged. Let me repeat, for a really successful correspondence course, the student should see only one signature throughout the course, that of the minister or director in charge.

If the local minister or other trained worker is directing the course, he can, at the completion of the last lesson personally deliver the completion certificate to the student. This personal contact offers the best opportunity to bring the student to obey the Gospel.

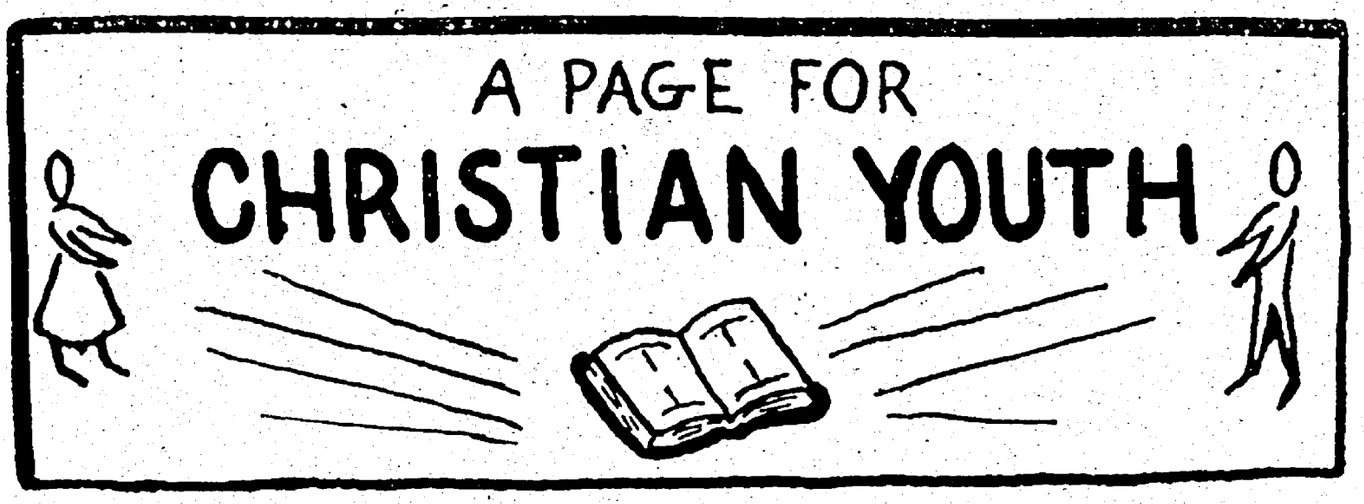
For all these reasons it can be seen that only a trained director, preferably the local minister, should be placed in charge of a really effective correspondence course.

GRADING A BIBLE CORRESPONDENCE COURSE

(Article Number Four)

One phase of administering a Bible correspondence course which deserves considerable attention is the grading of the students' tests. Previously we have mentioned the importance of one person's being in charge of directing the course. This person, we believe, should be the local minister, for his position with the church enhances the dignity and importance of the course in the eyes of denominational people and causes the students to do their best work. Although the actual secretarial work may be done by volunteer or paid workers, the minister should sign or initial everything going out to the students.

Just as it is true that the student should see only one name, the name of the director, throughout the course, so it is true that the same "grader" should grade all of a given student's tests. Here again the opportunity presents itself for the director to put "personality" into the course by initialing the tests.



It is highly recommended that a very liberal grading system be employed to help give the students confidence and encouragement. Whatever policy is followed, the "graders" whether one or more, should all follow the same system. Use a red marking pencil neatly sharpened. With grades 70% to 79% write the word "Good." With grades 80% to 89% write the word "Good." With grades 80% to 89% write the word "Excellent". And with grades 90% to 100% write the word "Superior". Make both the percentage grade and comment neat and small. This liberal system will tend to help students study harder and more students will likely complete the course.

In regard to marking the student's test papers, the following suggestions may be found useful. Mark only the incorrect answers. Use a "positive" check mark to indicate an error, never an (X). Always in small, neat print circle or write in the correct answer and direct the student to the paragraph in the text where the correct answer may be found so he may learn why he was wrong (Example: "See Paragraph No. 33 in text"). Avoid marking up or soiling a test paper in such a manner that the student will be ashamed of it or be discouraged. On the contrary, attempt in every way to make the student proud of the correct answers even if they should be only a few.

In conclusion, "timing" is important in grading test papers. Imagine the anxiety of the student each time he sends in a completed test to be graded! Put yourself in his shoes. Not a day will pass that he will not nervously check the mail hoping to receive his graded test along with the following lesson. Therefore, every director should establish a rapid schedule for grading and returning the students' tests. We recommend that those using the new "Visualized Bible Correspondence Course" grade and return the tests the third day after they are received. This will allow approximately a week for each lesson to be studied and completed if the student desires to keep that pace.

We trust these suggestions for grading will be of some benefit to you. Every student who is success-

SERVING OUR SCRAPS TO THE LORD

Max E. Craddock, Hamilton, Ont.

Many of us have in the past, or perhaps do now, own a dog. Some of us have no doubt fed our dog the scraps from our table. I remember a dog that I once had that I called Sandy. When the meal was over, my dog received the scraps from our table. Neither my mother, nor myself, ever had to go to the trouble of fixing a "meal" for the dog because he seemed happy with the scraps.

There are some of my friends today that are giving God the "scraps" from their table. We take all of our blessings and use them on ourselves, and give God what is left over. How do you and I as young people treat God? Do we give our Heavenly Father a place in our budget?

What about our public worship? Do we go to church services only when we can't find something else to do? Do we stay away from services when it is too hot, or too cold, or too wet, or too dry?

Young people, may I encourage you to not give God the scraps from your life. Remember the words found in Matthew 6:33, "Seek ye first the kingdom of God and his righteousness . . ." God will not be happy with second, third or fourth place in our lives. He didn't give us the scraps from his life, he gave us none other than his only begotten son. Let each of us in our youth give our lives to our loving Heavenly Father, and serve Him while yet we may. This is the safest, wisest, and best course that we could possibly follow. It is the way that leads to eternal life, and it is the way that gives us true happiness in this life.

THE POWER OF YOUNG PEOPLE

Keith T. Thompson, Beamsville, Ont.

Recently it was my privilege to work with a group of young people in an evangelistic campaign in London, Ontario. These young people were mostly of college age, being students at Abilene Christian College, in Abilene, Texas.

They impressed me anew with the great power that young people can be in the service of Christ. Usually, those of this age group are more optomistic than those who are older. They are willing to tackle problems that older people would tend to shy away from.

Other religious groups, such as the Mormons, make great use of their young people. When will we in the church of Christ wake up to the great potential of our young people?

OMAGH BIBLE CAMP

Roy Davison, Sarnia, Ont.

Omagh Bible Camp is well under way to another successful year. The first week it was filled to capacity, with eighty students. The staff numbers nearly twenty, as it is made up of cooks, cousellors, director, teachers, and all around "helpers". Young people have come from all over Ontario, and even some of the northern States, to spend some time at the camp.

Each student attends three Bible classes per day, Monday through Friday, while at camp. These classes are taught by preachers from various places in Ontario. These men are supported by the congregation where they are working, during their stay at the camp.

The camp director is again this year Brother Bob Adams, of Sarnia, Ontario. The camp will run through August 4.

IF MAN SHOULD REACH THE MOON

I'm sure you've heard or read about
The Satellites in space:
How Russia and United tSates
Are in a rocket race.

To hear them talk, it won't be long:
For space they'll conquer soon.
And then what next will man attempt
If he should reach the moon?

If man should ever reach the moon,
There's one thing that is clear;
He'll ruin everything up there,
Just as he has down here.

With sin and crime, and lust and greed,
He's got enough to do—
To clean the mess he's made on earth,
And you know that is true.

The sickness, and the want and fear,
The broken hearts and shame,
And hungry millions cry each day,
And man is all to blame.

I think we'd better set our sights
Above the moon and space,
And let's explore eternity
While there is time and grace.

It's not the moon we need to reach,
It's God who put it there:
The one who went to Calvary,
A rugged cross to bear:

For sins of men with wicked hearts,
He died one afternoon;
With faith in him you'll have no fear
If man should reach the moon.

LOVE, NOT DOCTRINE

C. Philip Slate, Wembley, England

"Doctrines, or teachings, are not important; what really matters is loving God and having the spirit of Christ." These words express a common feeling amongst many religious people. Unfortunately, it is this dislike of doctrine or teaching that causes some not to be interested in New Testament Chrisitanity.

If one means by "doctrine" those Middle-Age "rows" over how many angels could dance on the head of a pin, or some other such meaningless issue; then doctrines are quite useless! But if by "doctrine" one means the teachings of God's word which men are expected to obey and teach to others, then doctrines are most certainly important.

(Because certain things about the Lord's- supper, worship, baptism, and Christian living are stressed in the churches of Christ, some people do not favour it; they prefer some denomination. But with us such emphasis is a matter of principle, and this present article is designed to show why).

I. Biblical Doctrine

Whether or not one believes doctrine to be important depends largely on his view of the Bible, for in Scripture "doctrine" is most important. In the King James Version of 1611 the word "doctrine" is most frequently used to translate the Greek word didache, but in later English translations the word "teaching" is used more. "In 1611 the word 'doctrine' denoted the act of teaching as well as the content of teaching . . .This sense of the word is not obselete, and the revised versions use 'teaching' more often than 'doctrine.' "1 It is wise to keep in mind that the word "doctrine" means, primarily, teaching; and a study of its use in the New Testament reveals the following about it:

A. Its content. The resurrection in general (Matt. 22:33), and Jesus' resurrection in particular (Acts 17: 18-19), were matters of doctrine; as were the matters of repentance and faith (Heb. 6:1-2). The meaningful parable of the sower- is likewise called "doctrine" (Mk. 4:1-2).

It may be surprising to those who dislike "doctrine" to discover that principles of ethics — upon which they would rigidly insist—are called "doctrine" in Scripture. Even the "sermon on the mount" is so classed (Matt. 7:28). Jesus' doctrine was to avoid pride and hypocrisy (Mk. 12:38-40). Proper Christian behaviour of older men, older women, and young men were matters of "sound doctrine" (Titus 2:1-6). Murder, fornication, and false swearing are things "contrary to sound doctrine" (I Tim. 1:10). Particularly in the pastoral epistles "the content of this sound teaching which is according to godliness are not theoretical or dogmatic truth, but Christian ethics, with faith and love."2

B. The importance of doctrine. Jesus' doctrine was with authority (Mk. 1:22; Lk. 4:32), because it came from his Father (Jno. 7:16-17). It is thus not difficult to see why one is "without God" who does not abide in the doctrine of Christ (II Jno. 9-10). Obedience to the doctrine makes one free from sin (Rom. 6:17), while failing to endure it characterizes those who fall away from the faith (II Tim. 4:3). He is "puffed up" who teaches a different doctrine and consents not to sound words (I Tim. 6:3-4). Christians are to withdraw from ones who cause trouble by not holding to Christ's doctrine (Rom. 16: 17; II Jno. 10). With this information before us about the doctrine of the Bible, it is obvious that only those who disrespect God's word can dislike doctrine.

C. The value of doctrine. The early Christians filled Jerusalem with their doctrine (Acts 5:28), apparently because they were convinced that people needed it. They continued steadfastly in the apostles doctrine (Acts 2:42), and why not? Did it not edify them (I Cor. 14:6, 26)? While false doctrine can hurt one's faith (Eph. 4:14; cf. Heb. 13: 9), true doctrine will nourish (I Tim. 4:6) and furnish one unto every good work (II Tim. 3:17).

It seems clear that the only person who can say that "doctrine is not important" is the one who does not respect God's word.

II. No Doctrine?

Those who object to doctrines are religious people, people who are not willing to give up all faith. It is their contention that "loving God" and having the "spirit of Christ" are to be stressed rather than doctrine. But is this possible? Are not "love God" and "have the spirit of Christ" themselves doctrines? More than this, the one who objects to doctrine usually has a list of things which he stresses—he has his own doctrine! He complains about orthodoxy because he likes "my-doxy" better! The Christian cannot cast off the doctrine of Christ (II Jno. 9-10) for the doctrine of some mere man (cf. Matt. 15:9; Mk. 7:7; Col. 2:22). This can be done only when someone shows the inadequacy of our Lord and his commissioned teaching.

III. Keeping Balance

It is certainly a ground for complaint when people stress "proper church government" rather than "love of our Lord," or "attending worship"rather than "partaking of the divine nature." This is as blameworthy as preaching "love God"rather than "repent," or "be Christlike" rather than "keep yourself pure." But it does not have to be an "either"-"or" situation. Respect for God's word means that

p. 39.

"proper church government" is stressed because we "love God"; it means that "attend worship" is preached in order that we may "be partakers of the divine nature." It would be interesting to see someone show why God should be loved, but not respected! The legs of the lame are not equal."

This emphasis on doctrine is not a mere intellectual exercise, but practical Christian living which comes as a consequence of loving God; it is a vital part of being pleasing to God. "But speak thou the things which befit sound doctrine," Paul instructed Titus, "that they may adorn the doctrine of God our Saviour in all things" (Titus 2: 1, 10).

WAS THE COMMAND

that Romans was written by Paul. Paul writing in the Roman letter says, "Through whom (Christ) we received grace and apostleship, unto obedience of faith among all nations, for his name's sake" (Romans 1:5). Paul says there is no nation excluded, that all have received an obedient faith. Yet the book of Romans- is relied upon more than others to prove that men are saved by "faith alone."

So that no mistake could be made, Paul concludes, "But now is manifested, and by the scriptures of the prophets, according to the commandment of the eternal God, is made known unto all the nations unto obedience of faith" (Romans 16:26). So all nations are to be obedient to the faith. Then no nation is justified by "faith alone." Let us remember then when we study the book of Romans and we learn about faith, Paul is here talking of an obedient faith.

Now does Paul commend this kind of faith only in Hebrews and Romans. Listen to Paul in the Galatian letter: "For ye are all sons of God by faith in Christ Jesus. For as many of you as were baptized into Christ did put on Christ" (Galatians 3:26, 27). Salvation is in Christ (Acts 4:12). For infidelity you can not beat this: "To go back to Peter is to go back to John the Baptist and Judaism. That is why Jesus said, "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved" (Mark 16:16). Paul said that Jesus nailed the law to the cross (Colossians 2: 14). In the verse that precedes the one quoted above Jesus said: "— Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to the whole creation." Dr. Smith says, "Not so Jesus this message is only to be preachd to the Jews." You can accept the philosophy of Smith if you wish but I am going to stay by my own Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.

While we are discussing this world wide commission, I would ask you to consider what Jesus said as recorded by Matthew: "Go ye therefore, and make disciples of all the nations." "Ye" is a plural pronoun, second person. Jesus is here talking to the apostles who witnessed his resurrection. Peter was one of them. Paul was not. They were to teach All Nations. Smith says that Peter was only to teach a special message to the Jews. Jesus said that these men further were to teach All Nations that I have commanded you. Jesus said he would be with them until the end of the world (ibid 20). How vastly different the reasoning of Jesus to the reasoning of Smith. In brief, Jesus said, all nations; Smith says that this message was only for the Jews. I believe Jesus. Jesus said He would be with these men, including Peter, to the end of the world. Smith says that this message only lasted a few years.

I quote further: "Henceforth, Salvation was by faith and faith only. Faith plus nothing." Paul said that salvation was by an obedient faith (Romans 1:5; 16:25). You cannot believe Paul and Smith. I believe Paul.

Paul taught, "So then they that are of the faith are blessed with the faithful Abraham (Galatians 3:-9). Abraham received the blessing after his obedience. "And in thy seed shall all families of the earth be blessed; because thou hast obeyed my voice" (Genesis 22:18). Paul said we are blessed by faith after obedience. Smith claims we are justified by faith and nothing more.

May I make this further observation: Paul and Peter both preached the same gospel. They were both guided by the same spirit. It was the spirit of truth (John 16:13-16). Truth cannot conflict with truth. Jesus said: "And ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free" (John 8:32). Jesus told Peter to preach he gospel. Paul said that any one that would preach any other gospel is accursed. Smith teaches a different gospel.

(Our next article will show definitely that the command to "Repent and be baptized" is an age-long command for all people).

THE LETTER TO ROME

the law" but "In Christ". The way being prepared, there remains for man only the acceptance or appropriation of this Grace.

The natural man, the man "in Adam" must die so that the spiritual man, "in Christ" might be born. Jesus said "ye must be born again". John 3:7. This new life is available only through the death of Christ. Jesus' death becomes the death of all men who become united with him in His death. Thus, the punishment — death — which passes unto all men through Adam and sin has been taken away by Christ as he died in our stead. All who will identify themselves with His death will have eternal life — John 3:14, 16. And so the Gospel becomes our spiritual Genesis and Christ our "second Adam".

Baptism says Paul is the medium whereby one becomes identified in the death of Christ. Rom, 6: 4. True Baptism is identified here with the conversion that takes place from Adam to Christ. In baptism, something very real takes place. It is not merely "an outward sign of an inward grace." In baptism, we "put on Christ." (Gal. 3:27). We are united in His death (Rom. 6:4). This burial in water is the means of getting into Christ. (I Cor. 12:13). It means then that true scriptural baptism is man's answer to God's offer. It is here in this very significant action that faith says, "Yes" to God and turns its back upon sin.

It is no accident, either, that baptism is referred to as a burial for one is buried with Christ. The old man "in Adam" is slain and buried and the new man "in Christ" emerges from the waters free from sin, cleansed and made holy.

What happened then is the content of Paul's next point which we will discuss in our next article.

Communism, Its Faith and Fallacies by James D. Bales, Baker Book House, Grand Rapids 6, Michigan. 214 pages. $3.95.

In recent months it would seem tha. more criticism has been made of anti-communism than of communism itself. Doubtless, there are some opponents of communism who have gone to foolish and radical extremes. Some of these appear to be more interested in lining their own pockets than in contributing to the good of their fellow men.

Unfortunately, some worthy critics of communism have been lumped together with the extremists by the popular press. But one who gives a sane and logical criticism of communism should not have to bear the blame deserved by the radicals.

Over the past ten years Brother James D. Bales has brought his analy ic pen to bear on the greatest atheistic organization ever to exist on the earth. The results of his extensive research are summarized in this vital book. He is no wildly screaming radical. But as in his many previous books he is sound and reliable.

Herbert A. Philbrick of "I Led Three Lives" fame says concerning his book: "For nine years I was a "member" of the communist conspiracy. I learned about communism from the teachings of the communists themselves. I studied their training manuals and textbooks in leadership training courses. Today I am appalled to read and hear . . . some of the utterly fantastic opinions on communism . . . It is for that reason that I am thrilled with the scholarly and masterful study in Communism: It's Faith and Falacies as set forth by Dr. J. D. Bales. Obviously Dr. Bales sternly put aside any and all opinions he may have held concerning communism, and diligently set out to present, factually and precisely, what the communists do believe, teach and advocate."

This book is also highly recommended by such men as Hollington K. Tong, one time Ambassador from Free China to America and J. B. Matthews, former Director of Research for the House Committee on Un-American Activities. We would like to add our humble recommendation to that given by these outstanding men.

They have a weekly budget of $152, and are planning to expand their facilities for teaching.

Bro. John L. Maples has preached for the group since its beginning.

NIGERIA

The churches in Nigeria are distributing 10,000 copies of a monthly gospel newspaper being edited by Bro. John Beckloff and Bro. Jim Massey. The entire cost of printing and mailing the paper is $40 a month. The funds have been coming out of the missionaries' salaries and Bro. Beckloff's working fund. THINK BIG, BROTHER few years he has seen ideas in church work which seemed unrealistic prove very effective and successful.

A few pessimists and critics among us can be of considerable value. They may prevent us from following every visionary plan with wild-eyed enthusiasm. Sometimes our most determined critic can be our best friend. On the other hand many of those who are most adept at criticism are the least prepared to set forth workable alternatives for the things they criticize. With such people, anything big is wrong. They feel that a work is sound if it is small and confused. This view is neither logical nor scriptural.

Despite the claims of some, we do not need a new gospel nor a new church for this age of science. We need to harness the abilities of a thousand Telestars to herald the story of Him who attended the creation of all the stars. Every new invention of communication and travel places new responsibilities upon our shoulders. Africa, Asia, and India are but a days travel away by jet and but a heart beat's distance away by voice. In such a world we need to think big and suit our actions to our thoughts.

MONTREAL CAMPAIGN RESULTS

On June 17th, eighteen workers arrived in Montreal to begin the eight day campaign, which resulted in one being baptized, two being restored, over 17,000 tracts being handed out, several thousand hearing the gospel in park preaching, and much encouragement being brought to the local brethren. Bro. B. F. Haynie, Jr. of Huntingdon, Tennessee, the featured speaker throughout the series, did a praiseworthy job of presenting the truth. Brethren Carl Holladay, Rubel Shelly, C. M. Allen, Elvis Huffard, along with this writer, engaged in park preaching in Phillip's Square in the heart of the city. Two people, met in the park, came out to the meetings, and another enrolled in the Bible correspondence course. Brother Holladay who has completed one year's work at Freed-Hardeman College did an excellent job in leading the singing through the week. As an added feature, which helped to create interest, Brother Huffard, a former missionary to Nigeria, showed coloured slides of the Holy Land, Egypt, Greece and Nigeria. This was done 15 minutes before the evening meeting began.

The ladies in the group also took an outstanding part in the campaign. They worked diligently, along with the men, in helping to hand out tracts and meeting invitations in this section of Lachine. They also went to the park to help in the personal work. Of course, the very presence of everyone, was a great asset to the meeting.

The average attendance during the week was 46, with the high of 66 on the last evening. A record contribution was set at $146.01! Since the meeting, the Lord's day attendance and contribution has been well over the normal average.

Plans are already being made for a two week campaign in 1963, with hopes that Brother Elvis Huffard will be the main speaker, and with Brother Haynie in charge of getting the group together.

Vacation Bible School

Joyce and Sue Tufford (of Henderson, Tenn.) remained to help in the V.B.S., being joined by Brother Leamon Flatt of Murfressboro, Tenn. as the director.

The first day was started with 48 present, building up to 125 by the last day. The average daily attendance was 76, which is 12 above last year's average. The little building could hardly hold everyone, but with the hard work of Brother Flatt and the other teachers, everything was well co-ordinated. The brethren here, especially appreciate the excellent work of Brother Flatt and the Huffard sisters. Brother Flatt spoke for us on Sunday and Wednesday night, bringing challenging and inspiriational lessons.

NASSAU, BAHAMAS ST. JAMES ROAD CHURCH

We have suffered a few delays in our plans to erect a meeting place this year in Nassau. These delays were due to a few set backs in obtaining a building permit and difficulties in obtaining titles for the church lots from the Real Estate Company. These setbacks do not necessarly mean failures, we are now more and more determined to overcome every problem and to accomplish greater things for Christ and his Church.

We closed a one week meeting with Aubrey Patterson, a student of Michigan Christian Junior College, who did an outstanding job of preaching and personal evangelism. Attendance averaged from 40 to 50 each night.

When visiting the Bahamas you are invited to worship with us at the St. James Road Church of Christ.

BOOK REVIEWS

ing to his present able exposition of truth contains many intensely interesting events and anecdotes. In a very real sense the narrative, through the outstanding part played by the narrator, gives the beginnings and development of many churches in Canada and Montana and traces their influence. It is thus of interest as a history of churches.

The reader follows the preacher in meetings in what might be termed primitive situations, in homes, in schools, in rented buildings and more recently in church owned meeting houses; he travels with him on foot, by horse drawn vehicle, by the mechanically uncertain early automobile on most doubtful "roads", by train and finally by jet plane; every province in Canada as well as many of the United States is visited for preaching. The trading of a pound of butter for enough gasoline to get within 28 miles of destination, the contributing of his last 22c, and the threat of a bullet hole in the head if he performs a certain baptism are among the experiences described. It is emphasized that providential provision prevails throughout these experiences.

The book should cause each reader to realize the power and influence of his life and should be an encouragement to many to preach and to encourage others to preach the unsearchable riches of the pure gospel and thus in a measure fulfill the author's purpose.

This book furnishes interesting and inspiring reading and includes in the back some nine excellent sermons on such topics as, "The God the Bible Reveals", "What Must I Do to be Saved", and "A Glimpse of Hell" making valuable and recommended reading. Canadian Christians will especially enjoy it.

HERE AND THERE

Huntsville, Ont.: This church held an all day meeting on July 1 with A. Corbett of Jordan as the speaker. V.B.S. with the Davisons of Texas assisting August 6-10.

LARGEST V.B.S.?

Last year, the campaign workers from Abilene Christian College held a very encouraging vacation Bible school in Edmonton, Alberta and it was afterward publicized as the largest among us in Canada. This year a group from A.C.C. worked in London and was even more successful. Top attendance was 335 children which taxed the capacity of the school building and the staff.

The meeting held in the same school building ended June 27 with a high attendance of 58. Keith Thompson did the preaching. Each meeting was attended by people from the community as well as visitors from other - congregations especially Sarnia and Glencoe.

Brother Thompson writes, "It was a real pleasure to work with the Ralph Perrys, the members of London and the fine group of workers from A.C.C. They are continuing to follow up all the contacts made in the meeting. At least a dozen 'cottage meetings' are still in progress."

In preparation for the V.B.S. 2500 dodgers were handed out. Then in one day 280 children were pre-enrolled and a halt had to be called because classes were getting too big. Not even all the area circularized with dodgers could be covered in pre-enrolling.

Brother Ray Lock includes the following in report number five: "A special S O S was sent out and again the brethren in Sarnia (60 miles away) came through in a tremendous way. They promised five more teachers from there and Port Huron(across the border) and we are grateful to them for their willingness to help! These good people are planning to commute daily. . . This school could just as well have 1,000 children in it. The children are here, the parents want them to come, and we must say we don't have the room or teachers. While pre-enrolling for the VBS, we made some new contacts with families that want us to come and study with them in their homes.

The V.B.S.- started on July 9th with 249 of whom 170 attended every day. Attendances for the next four days were, 296, 320, 335 and 320. Some classes numbered over 50 some days. Many parents expressed a desire that the school be continued another week. One hundred parents or older brothers and sisters were present for the closing program on Friday evening.

Sunday evening, July 15 brought the special effort to a close with the baptism of one young man. Besides the meeting and V.B.S. and the passing out of literature to several thousand homes, the campaign workers actually knocked on 2,000 doors in the area.

They are, at this writing, enroute to Ottawa where a V.B.S. starts on July 23rd. A meeting is being held on July 18 at Strathmore Blvd. in Toronto so that the campaign workers can report their enthusiasm at the London effort and endeavour to initiate arrangements for a similar effort in Toronto next year.

A PECULIAR CHALLENGE TO SOME CANADIAN OR CANADIANS

J. C. Bailey

The last issue of the Christian Chronicle carries a report from Brother J. C. Choate that he has again been refused a visa into India. Shortly before this I had a letter from Ira Y. Rice Jr., presently labouring in Malaya, to the effect that Canadians would have no difficulties in entering India as missionaries. Frankly, I did not think this was true but I wrote a letter to the High Commissioner from India at Ottawa and here, in part, is what he says, "Canadian nationals do not require a visa to enter India provided they hold a valid passport. A copy of a sheet showing requirements for travel to India is enclosed for information. "Since you are going to India as a missionary, you can stay there for the period of your assignment there . . ."

18,000,000 people in Canada are crying for more preachers of the gospel. India has twenty times the population of Canada. Is there anyone to go to this great people to support the work done there by the natives in Assam province?

We shall likely be hearing more of this opportunity and challenge in the next few months.

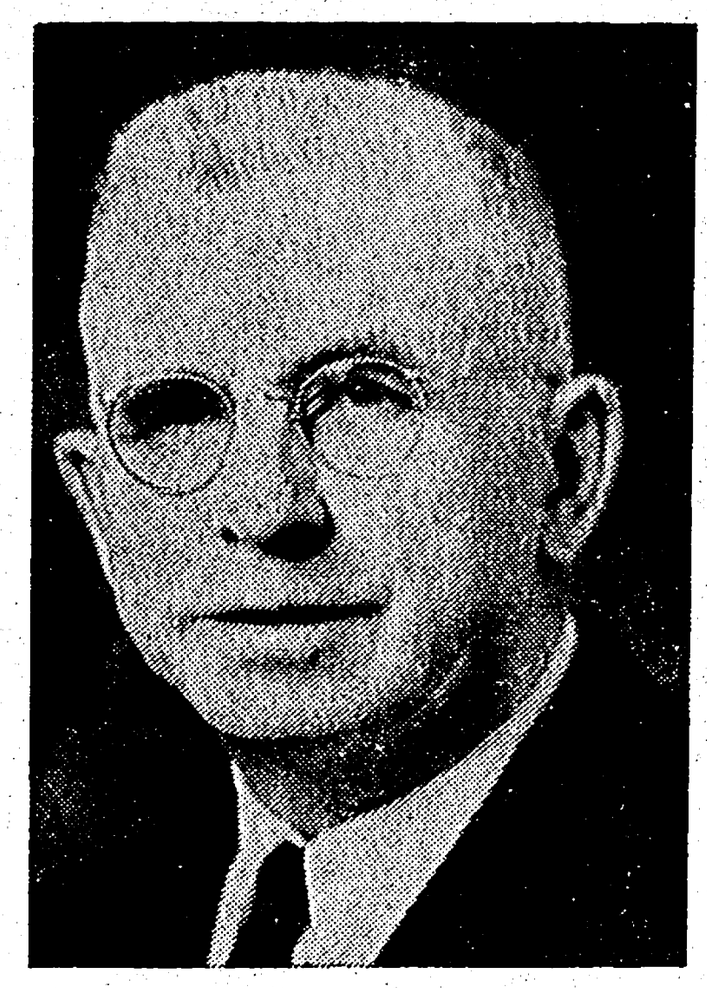
few years, they come out hardened unbelievers? I ask what are their instructors teaching these young people to cause such a change of character? Much is being said in print and otherwise about perpetual search for higher education. I suggest to accomplish their objective, why not put the Bible as a text book back into the schools where it belongs?

Now, is there any possibility of pardon for the sins mentioned above? If so, to whom shall we go? To the Virgin Mary, the pope, priests, the church? No! these all have their own personal sins to take to a higher power. Only God through Christ can and will forgive sins.



What about Peter who denied his Lord? After he realized what he had done, he pulled himself together, repented in tears, took his sin to God and God gladly forgave him. Peter became one of the most faithful Christians of his day. What about Simon the Sorcerer? He wanted to buy the power of the Holy Spirit with money. Peter told him to "Repent therefore of this thy wickedness' and pray to God."

Study the life of the apostle Paul. Hear him, "This is a faithful saying, and worthy of all acceptation, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners; of whom I am chief" (I Timothy 1:15). "For the grace of God that bringeth salvation hath appeared to all men, teaching us that, denying ungodliness and worldly lust, we should live soberly, righteously, and godly, in this present world" (Titus 2: 11, 12).

Yes, God forgives sins on conditions, "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved; but he that believeth not shall be damned" (Mark 16:16; Acts 2:38). "Come now, and let us reason together, saith Jehovah: though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow, though they be like crimson, they shall be as wool" (Isaiah 1:18).

OUR DEPARTED

ANOTHER TRIBUTE TO:
D. A. SINCLAIR 1884 - 1962

Brother Sinclair obeyed the gospel in 1928 and soon thereafter began fulltime work with the church.

Although his formal education was limited he was a strong supporter of christian education. From their modest income he and sister Sinclair sent regularly to help Western Christian College, besides assisting individual students who needed help in order to prepare for service in the Lord's vineyard.

Brother Sinclair did not think of himself as an outstanding preacher, but rather as a minister ready to serve whenever he could. This he faithfully did to the day of his death having preached on Sunday morning and having made two visits the day his call came. During the latter years although suffering from a severe heart condition and not having a car he was never able to do the work he loved best. He would walk many miles each day to visit his neighbours and friends speaking the word in truth and love. Many are those who will remember him for the help and encouragement he gave. Few if any will know of all the good he did. He did not keep a record of the number he baptized, saying upon occasions that he knew the records were being kept in heaven.

While we will miss Brother Sinclair here we know that he is enjoying a well-earned rest from his labours. We look forward to joining him on that Great Day.

ELLIS

The church at Smithville, Ontario, lost a member of long and faithful standing in the passing of Bro. William F. Ellis. His long life of nearly ninety years was one of activity. He was born in Meaford and lived in the Georgian Bay district until moving to Smithville in 1918. His parents were members in the church before him, hence he was raised in the Christian atmosphere. He obeyed the gospel early in life and was always active in the church wherever he lived. In his earlier life he was a merchant and travelling salesman.

He was married to Charrie Tallman, who predeceased him in 1955. For many years they helped give leadership to the Smithville church. Their passing is a distinct loss to the community as well as the church. The old home where Sister Ellis was born was also the home of two gospel preachers: O. H. and O. E. Tallman. It was also the meeting place of many preachers as well as social and religious gatherings.

Bro. Ellis is survived by his five sons, Ora, Smithville; Howard, Willowdale; William and Gerald, St. Catharines; and Sydney, Hamilton. Two brothers, Norris and Ross of Meaford; one sister, Mrs. Marion Shott, Phoenix, Arizona.

The funeral which was largely attended, was conducted from the Tallman Funeral Home, Vineland, with burial in the Smithville Cemetery. Those assisting the writer were Geoffrey Ellis, Walter Dale and Eugene Perry.

Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord."

FUJIMORI

Late May saw the passing of 92 year old Otoshige Fujimori at his home in Japan. He was converted in Detroit many years ago and influenced by Dr. Wagner of Plum Street Church, Detroit to go to Japan to preach the gospel to his own people. The two men joined in establishing a work in Takahagi in 1897.

For many years the senior worker and helper with efforts in Japan, he leaves one of his converts to try to carry on the work at Sawara, Chiba Prefecture 70 miles from Tokyo, brother Fujimori's home.

Sister Fujimori is 90 and with the nine children remains. O. D. Bixler gave the funeral sermon and several gave short talks in tribute to the great life of 92 years.

GORDON ELLIS ADDED TO GREAT LAKES FACULTY

Begining in September of this year, Gordon Ellis will be a faculty member at Great Lakes Christian College, teaching in the areas of Mathematics and Physical Education. Brother Ellis is a graduate of Abilene Christian College. He holds his B.A. and M.A. degrees in Mathematics from that College. While at A.C.C. he was an instructor of Mathematics on the undergraduate level.

Gordon Ellis is a native of Canada, living in Smithville, Ontario, before going to Abilene, Texas. He is a former student of Great Lakes Christian College. While at Great Lakes he was an outstanding athlete. He won the Track and Field Championship in 1957. A portion of his College work at A.C.C. was done in Physical Education. Thus, he is well qualified to effectively contribute to the academic and athletic program at Great Lakes.

SOUTHERN MANITOBA CAMPAIGN

A Vacation Bible School and tent meeting was conducted by the church of Norman, Oklahoma in southern Manitoba. This is the second year of the Manitoba campaign by these good brethren. We had the Bible School at Manson in the meeting house July 2 through 6. The attendance averaged 62 students. Of the eight baptisms, seven were from church families and one was a young man visiting in the district. The workers are well trained and did a grand work with the students.

The tent was set up in the Agricultural fair grounds at McAuley, 10 miles north of Manson. Some 30 grown people heard the pure gospel for the first time. Manson congregation and visitors from Wawota and Brandon congregations, as well as some other visiting members supported wonderfully. Our attendance averaged well over 100 and the last night much more. Bro. Roy Lanier Sr. did the preaching. He is from Aurora, Colorado. It would be very hard to find anyone that could have done a better job. He preached so plainly and yet did not offend. There were no conversions but we believe the seed has been sown in many good and honest hearts. One lady attended all but one service and another grand old couple all but two. Several others attended well.

Brother Eldon Davis and Riley Walker from Norman, Oklahoma are the personal workers and are doing a great work. We are now planning to carry on Sunday night services in the I.O.O.F. Hall in McAuley while they are with us and longer if the interest warrants this. Bro. Lanier preached eight nights in McAuley and four times at Manson.

WILL YOU JOIN BROTHER DAVIDSON

Brother Jerry Davidson of Montreal has put into practise an idea which has proven very effective in building up the subscription list for the Gospel Herald. We need more subscribers in order to be more effective in our efforts. Thus we ask you to join Brother Davidson by using his method or some other more suited to your situation.

We solicit the assistance of each subscriber in gathering names for our list. If every preacher who receives this paper would equal what Brother Davidson has done since April we would be very much encouraged. We haven't time to take to the road to build up interest in this good work. Will you help us?

In less than three months Bro. Davidson has sent us 25 subscriptions as a result of distributing the following letter. It could easily be adapted to any area. We have offered him to keep one-fifth of all moneys collected to pay his expenses although he started in this work and sent in his first list without any such arrangement being made.

The letter form follows:

"Although this is a mimeographed letter, I am sending it only to people with whom I am personally acquainted. Limited time will not allow a hand written letter to each of you, but I hope you will receive it as my personal message.

"Since we have been engaged in mission work in Canada, we have come to appreciate many valuable "tools" for helping to preach the gospel to the lost. The printed page has afforded opportunities for teaching and informing people who would otherwise not be reached. I strongly feel that the 'Gospel Herald', published for the promotion of New Testament Christianity, is doing a tremendous service in this field. Printed in Beamsville, Ont., this 25 year old paper, contains sound teaching articles by some of the most capable men in the brotherhood, as well as vital news about the Canadian churches. It also carries news from the fields throughout the world. Special features include a Bible quiz, Book Reviews, and a Young People's Page. I am confident you will profit by the informative and challenging material in this 20 page monthly magazine.

"Realizing, how much the 'Gospel Herald' has helped the work in Montreal, I wish to recommend it to you and your friends. The subscription price is only $2.00 per year. The gift price, as well as the price for widows is $1.50.

"I hope you will help us in our campaign to obtain more subscribers by mailing your check or money order in the enclosed envelope. You WON'T BE SORRY YOU DID!

"May the blessings which descend from above, be yours as you labour for the Master!

"Yours for preaching Christ in Canada's largest province,

Jerry L. Davidson"

A coupon for easy filling in of names and amount being sent is printed on the bottom of the page to be clipped and returned with the remittance.

We thank and commend Brother Davidson and would be very pleased to hear from others who are joining him in this good work.

PREACHERS AVAILABLE

The following is unsolicited. We recently learned of a young man, a Canadian who is finishing his studies at Abilene Christian College who is unexpectedly available to serve a church in Canada. His plans having been pretty well settled to move to a certain work, were suddenly unsettled when another worker from nearby was engaged.

This young man and his wife are fine, consecrated young people who have the training and experience to do an effective work.Their interest in returning to Canada to work is commendable. Let us be sure that we extend them every opportunity to fulfill this desire.

Since this notice was not solicited we hesitate to include the person's name but would be very happy to supply it to interested churches.

Another preacher of Colorado recently wrote expressing an interest in this field. He concludes with, "By the way, do you know of any churches that might be needing an evangelist in the future."

HERE AND THERE

Owen Sound: V.B.S. is planned for August 20-24.

Griersville: Patsy Hodgkins responded to the invitation on Sunday morning July 8th and was baptized at the big tent in Meaford in the afternoon.

Moose Jaw, Sask.: Albert Kleppe was the speaker for meetings July 1 to 12 in his first protracted meeting effort. Brother J. C. Bailey writes, "I am sure that it is the considered opinion of all that heard Brother Kleppe that he did an excellent job. His lessons were logical and true to the Word of God. The years ahead should see Brother Kleppe develop into one of the finest defenders of the faith."

Two young ladies expressed their desire to obey the gospel and a group gathered for the baptismal service on Saturday afternoon.

The Bells and Betty Bailey left Regina, Sask. on July 4th and will reach their destination in Northern Rhodesia in early August.

Salmon Arm, B.C., July 17, Average V.B.S. attendance was 128.9. Eight were baptized during the July 8-15 meeting and 2 others within the last 2½ weeks.

Bruce Letreaus, Charles Coils (Memphis, Ark.) and two families from Victoria helped. Several new contacts were made.

BILL LOVE TO WINNIPEG

The Bill Love family of Abilene, Texas moved early in June to take up the work wi.h the Erin Street Church in Winnipeg. Majoring in speech and minoring in Bible, Love received his M.A. degree this summer before moving.

His parents are members of the College church in Abilene and he had attended school on the same campus since the fourth grade.

Erin St. congregation in Winnipeg has been without a regular minister for some time. Dan Wieb, now president of Western Christian College in Weyburn, Saskatchewan, was the former preacher there.

BEWARE OF BITTERNESS

by M. Norvel Young

"Let all bitterness, and wrath, and anger, and clamour, and evil speaking, be put away from you with all malice . . . Eph. 4:31"

Go to our prisons and reformatories and you will be impressed by the bitterness of the inmates. Go to the older citizens who have given their lives in search of selfish satisfaction and you will be impressed by their bitter synicism.

In our time so many writers have poured out bitter words that our age has been called an age of frustration and synicism.

Normally, the young recruit is filled with zeal and optimism. He sees the world through rose-colored glasses and believes that single-handed he can win every bittle. It is the veteran of many campaigns who is tempted to be cynical as he views his wounds and recalls the defeats his cause has suffered.

But our trust is not in ourselves. It is in God. Our hope is not built on immediate victory, but on the final victory of good over evil. Satan would destroy us with bitterness. He would shrivel up our souls by leading us to concentrate on our defeats, our weaknesses, and on the faults of our fellow men. He knows that we can never build with bitterness. We can never achieve success with a sour spirit which leads to murmuring against our leader.

It is so easy to nurse our hurts and thus let them fester until they hurt us immeasureably more. This bitterness not only affects ourselves but makes us a "bitter, noxious weed growing up to poison the whole (Hebrews 12:15)." Bitterness begets bitterness. A bitter soul will influence his family and friends and the whole society he touches.

Beware of bitterness. It will devour you and make you a center of a spirit which dampens zeal, discourages faith, destroys hope. Turn to Christ and let His blessed forgiveness lead you to forgive those who sin against you.

554 Duffield St. W.,
Moose Jaw, Sask.
July 18,1962

To those who had fellowship in my recent project:

When I learned that there was no electricity at the Mission where Bro. and Sis. Bell were going, in Africa, my mind went back to the days when I had to wash clothes on a board and try to keep food in the summer without a "frig".

I appealed in person and by letter to those whose heart the Lord would touch to see that these servants of the Lord had a power washing machine and a coal oil "frig".

I am grateful from the bottom of my heart to each one that responded, for both of these appliances have been fully paid for. May God bless each one in your labour of love.

Your sister in Christ,
Mrs. J. C. Bailey

Dear Brother Merritt:

I am just looking over the March issue of the Herald. I want to let you know that in my humble judgment you are doing a great job and a needed one. I am more and more impressed with the power of the religious press, and what the continuation of the Herald will mean in the years ahead to the Lord's work in Canada is beyond our capacity to know.

May God bless you and give you strength in the continuation of a good work.

Sincerely yours,

HOLLYWOOD SEDUCES A TEEN-AGE IDOL . . . AND THE KIDS LOVE IT

Once upon a time, Pat Boone refreshed many hearts because of his strong stand for decency. He wrote three books for teen-agers in which he espoused high Christian ideals. He pursued church activities faithfully and gained the reputation of a model husband. In the movie, "April Love", Boone refused to do more than hold the hand of the heroine.

With this in mind ,one views his latest film, "State Fair", with indignation and then with profound sorrow .Here is a sordid Hollywood product, and Boone is the leading participant.

There is a sideshow girl who dances with seductive abandon, capturing Boone in the process. With Boone stripped to the waist, the pair engage in as torrid and violent love - making as is possible to depict on the screen. Suggestive dialogue is interspersed throughout. The payoff is when Boone comes home drunk.

Some of the picture is meant to be funny, but it is hard to laugh. Instead, we weep for Boone because Hollywood has seduced him. There is also heartbreak in that the film was shown in Washington during the height of the high school tourist season, and the theatre was packed with shrieking teen-agers. They yelled the loudest when Boone came home drunk.

A fallen idol and revelling worshippers. It is to weep.

FREDERICTON WORK

The recent trip to attend the meetings in Hamilton on June 3rd and in Moose Jaw on June 10th was indeed inspiring. The fellowship of so many saints, all wishing us well in this work was gratifying. Our thanks to all who showed such unusual hospitality, and also to the many whose hospitality we had to turn down for lack of time.

It was good to discuss this work with older brethren, we had felt a great need for this for some time. This was the main purpose of our trip. Next week we are to teach at Gander Brook in Maine. We are taking four students with us. July 23rd to 27th is our VBS. August 12th to 19th is the meeting with Walter Rogers again. September 3 to the 8th is time for the display at the Fredericton Exhibition. Come visit us this summer.

DID THE APOSTLE PAUL CONTRADICT THE TEACHINGS OF CHRIST?

Jerry L. Davidson, Lachine, Quebec

Disbelief comes in so many different "packages" that it behooves the alert Christian to closely examine each "parcel" of doctrine. Under the "wrappings" of modern theology Satan has many devices well calculated to undermine and destroy the Bible as the inspired Word of God. For example, there is a widespread idea, propagated by modernists, that there is conflict between the message of Christ and the message of the Apostle Paul. This view is so cunningly expressed that, to the average person, the breach of trust in the Scriptures is not too apparent.

In a recent issue of the Montreal Star Weekend Magazine (July 14, 1962), there appeared an article by Lord Beaverbrook, entitled, "The Divine Propagandist". In contrast to Christ, the article attempts to show the Apostle Paul to be a fanatical and unscrupulous religious leader who probably did more harm than good. The following are quotes from Lord Beaverbrook's article.

"The man who came after Jesus, though far greater than John and destined to leave behind a far more enduring tradition, was equally incapable by nature of understanding the spirit of the Master. St. Paul possessed immense force of character and splendid moral courage, and so remarkable was his intelligence that his mind flashes out from a great number of facets — not all of which reflect the wholesome simplicity of Jesus. His epistles lay down many 'taboos' which he imposes on the early Christian communities — whereas the things which Jesus forbids are very few and simple and plainly wrong. And even for the sinner against the elementary code Jesus has sympathy and forgiveness instead of the Pauline anathema."

"Paul is sectarian in so far as he tries to build the early Church up by cutting the Christian off from his neighbour as the Jew was cut off, lest he be corrupted by pagan practices. He has no use for the all embracing Fatherhood of God which makes all men the same to Jesus."

"Again, in so far as Paul was not only a Jew but a citizen of

THE LETTER TO ROME

M. D. Wieb, Weyburn, Sask.

(No. 7)

Jesus said, "No man can serve two masters." To this Paul, in the latter part of Romans 6 adds, "But he must serve one."

The argument thus far presented in Romans 5 and 6 is that man is either "in Adam" or "in Christ." The transformation or conversion which changes a person from sinner to saint does not, however, take away the possibility of disloyalty. Man is so constituted that he must render obedience, if not to God, then most certainly to Sin. Freedom to the Christian, therefore, cannot signify liberty or license to sin. On the contrary, the new creature in Christ realizes that he has been made free from sin in order that he might serve God. As Brunner says, "Faith belongs to obedience as a matter of course."

Legalism has no part in Christianity for faith precludes the possibility of disobedience. Thus obedience to God becomes the fullest expression of a life made free from sin. If there is truly conversion then there is a resulting obedience unto righteousness. The fear of punishment is replaced by the love of God, legal restraint by humble constraint to God. This constraint is brought about not by threat of punishment but by a new and vital relationship —a oneness with Christ as a Son of God.

Perhaps we have taken a wrong approach to the Gospel when we substitute for the Decalogue a new

Was The Command To Repent And Be Baptized A Universal Command?

(No. 2)

J. C. Bailey

Jesus said that He came not to send peace but a sword. The reason for this is that there would never be a time, until time is no more, that men would not oppose the truth of the gospel. This opposition would not only come from the atheist, it would come from the false religionist, and from brethren who had been led away.

"Faith alone is a very wholesome doctrine and very full of comfort" is still the dogma of thousands who profess that they serve the Lord Jesus Christ but by their works they deny Him. Let me quote Dr. Smith again, "Henceforth, Salvation was by faith and faith only. Faith plus nothing" (People's Magazine, page 18, Volume 41, No. 46). Over against this, let us quote the language of Jesus in the last chapter in the Bible: "Blessed are they who do his commandments, that they may have the right to come to the tree of life, and may enter in by the gates into the city" (Revelation 22: 14). Smith says it is by nothing but faith. Jesus said it was by doing His commandments. Listen to Jesus again: Not every one that saith unto me Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven, but he that doeth the will of my Father who is in heaven" (Matthew 7:21). How can one believe in Jesus and not believe the words that He spoke?

Were the words of Jesus ONLY FOR THE JEWS? Listen to Jesus again: "Heaven and earth shall pass away, but my words shall not pass away" (Matthew 24:35). Jesus said, "He that Doeth." Smith says that Salvation is by faith and nothing more. You can see that the doctrine of faith ALONE is the doctrine of no faith at all. I cannot believe that Jesus Christ is the Son of God and not believe what He said.

Let us listen to Jesus again: "Jesus therefore said to them again, Peace be unto you: as the Father sent me, even so send I you. And when he had said this, he breathed on them, and said unto them, receive ye the Holy Spirit: Whosoever sins ye forgive, they are forgiven unto them: whosesoever sins ye retain, they are retained." In effect Smith says to Jesus, "Jesus you are mistaken, you will only forgive the sins of the Jews. Paul will tell how the sins of the Gentiles are forgiven." I accept what Jesus said.

To one more error we must call your attention. Smith says in the article that we have just quoted that the baptism of John and the baptism as taught by Peter on the day of Pentecost are the same thing. This is not true. The baptism as taught by Peter was IN THE NAME OF THE LORD JESUS. John's baptism was not. Jesus was declared to be the Son of God with power by the resurrection from the dead (Romans 1:4). So the baptism that Peter taught was the baptism that was announced by Jesus in the Great Commission.

Paul said, (and I emphasize this fact because this false doctrine would make Paul preach something different from Peter, which is not true) 'For I am not ashamed of the gospel: for it is the power of God unto salvation to everyone that believeth to the Jew first and also to the Greek" (Romans 1:16). God has but one power to save both Jew and Gentile and that is the gospel. The faith required of one is the faith required of the other.

For the first time in the history of the world the gospel was preached by PETER on the day of Pentecost as recorded in the second chapter of Acts. Paul says that the gospel is the facts of the death, burial and resurrection (I Corinthians 15:1-3). If you will read Peter's sermon you will find that was exactly what he preached. Preaching the gospel caused Peter's auditors to cry and say; "——— Brethren, what shall we do?" (Acts 2:37). Remember how Jesus had said WHOSOEVER sins ye remit. "And Peter said unto them, Repent ye, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ unto the remission of your sins; and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Spirit" (Acts 2:38).

The Holy Spirit knew THEN about this false doctrine that would be preached claiming that this teaching was only for the Jews, so listen carefully to the next verse: "For to you is the promise and to your children, and TO ALL THAT ARE AFAR OFF, EVEN AS MANY AS THE LORD OUR GOD SHALL CALL" (Acts 2:39). Smith says this was only for Jews. The Holy Spirit says it is for all that God shall call.

Nor are we through. Peter, not Paul, says, "Brethren, ye know that a good while ago God made choice among you, that by my mouth the Gentiles should hear the word of the gospel and believe" (Acts 15:7). This was not a different message for we read further: "And he made NO distinction between us and them, cleansing their hearts by faith" (ibid 9). The Bible says God made no distinction between Jew and Gentile. Smith says he made a distinction.

Inspiration says that God made choice that by Peter's mouth the Gentiles should hear the word of the gospel and believe. Did Peter tell them that they would be saved by faith and only by faith and nothing more than faith? He did not. Listen: "And Peter opened his mouth, and said, of a truth I perceive that God is no respecter of persons: but in every nation he that feareth him, and worketh righteousness is acceptable to him" (Acts 10:34, 35). Human doctrine says that man is acceptable by faith alone. Inspiration says that he that worketh righteousness, and has fear in God, is acceptable.

Men have tried by every means they could devise to prove that baptism was not for the remission of sins. They are now trying a new argument but it is just as false as any of their old arguments. The devils believe and tremble.

Was The Resurrection An Hallucination?

Donald R. Givens
Sault Ste. Marie, Ont.

The hallucination theory of the resurrection of Jesus states that Jesus did not actually rise from the dead but instead His followers experienced "illusions" or "hallucinations" in which they supposed that they saw Him rise from the dead. Hallucination is defined by Mr. George Fisher as "a disorder of the senses, or of the brain, which leads one to see or hear what has no reality outside of the nervous organism". (George Fisher, Manual of Christian Evidences, p. 44). So the disciples of Christ just thought He was raised, they saw it all in one of their visions. He did not rise, but died and stayed in that condition. This theory is utterly destructve to the Christian's faith if believed. The whole basis of Christianity is built on His factual resurrection.

This theory is briefly explained by Mr. E. Y. Mullins in his book Why Is Christianity True?

> Jesus died ,it says, but did not rise. His body remained in the grave. Nor did He communicate with the disciples. They were in a highly excited and excitable nervous state. Mary Magdalene, at the tomb, much overwrought, imagined she saw Jesus and told her story to other overwrought disciples. They heard a window rattle or the wind whistle and imagined Christ spoke to them... Others heard and believed likewise. Renan thinks Peter dreamed the scene at the lakeside and the interview with the risen Jesus. Thus arose the conviction of the resurrection. (p. 199).

Thus we have this foolish theory. Nothing could be farther from the truth. Just what evidence is there to back up this belief? None whatsoever. There is overwhelming evidence to support the fact that He arose from the dead never to die again. Our conclusions are based on evidence. There is so much more evidence, in the Bible and elsewhere, to support the fact that He did rise from the dead than there is to affirm this theory of Hallucination. One is being very unreasonable when one believes this theory.

Mullins, after explaining this theory proceeds very aptly to refute it. He states:

> Men who see ghosts are usually looking for them. A state of expectancy precedes the vision. But the disciples were in despair. Every hope was blasted by the death of Jesus, as the two on the way to Emmaus alleged. Besides no past experience prepared for this hallucination. (Ibid., p. 201).

This is very true. The followers of Jesus certainly did not expect Him to rise from the dead. They thought it was all over when He died. They were in utter despair. Some of them even went back to their old trade of fishing (John 21:-3). It was hard for them to accept the fact of His resurrection, especially Thomas. So, this being true, they certainly did not have any reason to experience a "hallucination" that He was risen from the dead. No, they were actual, live, and true witnesses to this fact and not mere dreamers.

Mullins goes on to say:

> Moreover, the effects of this hallucination, its power to transform men, survive. The test of time has but strengthened its hold on men . . . But whence the teachings of the risen Christ? Hallucination is usually wanting in this element. Here were words, thoughts, commands, which these evangelists adopt and on them base all their future action. And what of the dead body of Jesus all this time? It was the interest of friend and foe alike to produce it . . .The empty grave of Jesus baffles every theory of the resurrection, save the true one. (Ibid., p. 201).

A truer statement has never been made. The empty tomb of Jesus is the thing that is unexplainable if one does not accept the truth concerning our Lord's resurrection.

If the disciples of Jesus did not actually experience an hallucination and Jesus did not rise from the dead - why did not someone simply produce the body of Jesus and expose these dreaming disciples altogether? This would have settled the whole matter. But no, they could not do it, because He was actually risen.

If this were a mere hallucination that the disciples had, why did they continue for so long to believe it? This is not the way hallucinations affect a person. J. W. McGarvey states:

> Men and women who are hallucinated firmly believe that what they see and hear in this state of mind is real while the hallucination continues, but as soon as it passes away the belief passes with it . . . It is contrary to the experience of hallucinated persons, therefore, the disciples, if they were in this state of mind when they thought they saw Jesus, continued to believe that they saw Him after they returned to their normal mental condition. The permanency of their belief is a complete refutation of this thing. (Evidences of Christianity, p. 136.)

What the disciples knew was not gained from an hallucination. They showed no signs of having a hallucination or vision. This theory is blasted when one considers how a person actually acts under hallucination and then how the acts after he has experienced the hallucination. The actions of the followers of Jesus fit none of the pattern of those who experience hallucinations.

The great problem with this theory, aside from being so utterly contrary to the truth, is that some 500 plus individuals all had this strange hallucination at the same time. This is quite some coincidence, and strangely enough, it was the very same hallucination. Floyd E. Hamilton sums it all up very well:

> Now the great difficulty with this theory is the fact that five-hundred all had the same hallucination. As long as we can forget the empty tomb we are all right, but the empty tomb is a cold fact that wrecks this theory. (The Basis of Christian Faith, p. 294).

Jesus rose from the dead. There is more solid evidence for this fact than any other single event in all

INDIA NEEDS THE GOSPEL

The true size of a man often can be measured by the size of the challenge he will accept. On this basis Brother J. C. Bailey is a giant among men. He has accepted the challange to go to India to carry the light of the Gospel to its masses. He does not particularly desire to go; one's interest in glamorous names and exciting places lessens as one approaches sixty, it seems. His decision to go stems from his realization that someone needs to go from Canada at once, and no one else has applied for the job.

We younger preachers will no doubt all have our excuses ready. Some of us will have reasons why we should not leave our present Canadian locations. The Lord alone knows whether these are valid reasons. The fact remains that a veteran preacher stands ready to accept the challenge with a "Here am I; send me!" In a very humble way he suggests that some one else can take precedence over him in the matter of going. He plans to go, simply because no other per- can be found at present who will go.

Great things have been done for the Canadian work by our brethren to the South. Preachers have been supported; buildings have been financed; meetings have been donated. Here is a work that seems to be a way of showing that money and time spent on Canadians will forward the growth of the Lord's Kingdom throughout the world. Canadian brethren today outnumber those of any other nation I know of in furnishing missionaries, if we compare the number serving in foreign lands to our national membership. This is a significant fact, but not a basis for self-satisfaction and complacency.

India, with its population of over 400 million, is a country where a lone missionary could easily become discouraged by the immensity of the task before him. There is in India more than twenty-two and one-half times the population of Canada compressed into a land area less than one-third the size. Obviously, the man who goes there needs ample financial support to work effectively. Brother Bailey should receive higher personal support than he would if he stayed in Moose Jaw, but this is only the beginning. He needs money for a thousand things that will assist in getting the job done. A car or jeep, a supply of printing equipment either mimeograph or offset, a supply of basic medical needs for a land where disease is rampant, are but a few of the bare essentials. He is a resourceful man, but he should not be held back by the necessity for continuous improvisation in material needs.

We have long admired the soundness and zeal of Bro. J. C. Bailey. Often these virtues are not both the possession of one individual. In his case, a happy combination has prevailed. He not only edited the Gospel Herald for a number of years, but has been one of our best and most prolific writers since Bro. Perry and the writer became co-editors. We shall look for good copy from India.

There will be a great deal of preparation needed before the call from India can be answered. We expect that Bro. Bailey will take care of these details as quickly as it is humanly possible to do so. He is a man of action who will not waste time in needless palaver. Let us help him to carry out his resolve as quickly as possible.

Bro. Bailey has had more than average experience in meeting the arguments of digressive brethren on the use of instrumental music in worship and other innovations. He is eminently qualified to help some of the approximately 550 brethren who left the faithful church in Shillong for the Christian church. The faithful church in Chillong will no doubt be encouraged and strengthened on these matters as well.

We urge churches and individuals who are interested in this challenge to contact Bro. Bailey at once. With the exhortations, promises, prayers and advice of many brethren, we believe that a Christian warrior can go forth in strength and confidence to wage the greatest battle of his life. God bless you brother Bailey!

I AM IN A STRAIT BETWIXT TWO

J. C. Bailey

It has been my intention to end my days here in Western Canada. Our first family is grown. We have seven children. Six of them are married, and we have 15 grandchildren. One of our boys is a preacher of the gospel (Keene, New Hampshire). All the others are active in the church but one. We have adopted three of the sweetest little girls any one ever saw. The oldest of these three girls has obeyed he gospel. We felt that we were needed here in Western Canada. We knew that we were not indispensable but still we thought we were needed here. We thought we could do more for the Master than any place else in the world.

About one month ago we received a letter from Brother Ira Y. Rice Jr. saying that he had heard two missionaries talking (they were members of a denominational church) and the one told what a struggle she had to get back into India. The other said she did not even need a visa. Brother Rice gleaned the fact from the conversation that the latter one was a Canadian.

I seriously doubted that a Canadian could get into India any easier than an American but I wrote to Ottawa to satisfy my curiosity. In due course I had a letter from the High Commissioner for India and he told me that I would not need a visa at all. All I would need was a valid passport. I confess that I had hoped they would tell me that they would not let Canadians in any easier than Americans.

Brother Rice has told me that he thinks I am the man for this work in Assam, India. I have a letter from Kharlukhi asking us to come with all dispatch. You might disagree with Brother Rice's estimation, and if you do, that is all right with me. If there is some one else who will go I will be most happy to put my influence behind him.

This is probably the greatest single challenge that ever faced the church in Canada. I know it is the greatest challenge of my life. I have sung all my life, at least I have tried to sing, "I'll go where you want me to go, dear Lord". Must I go to India, or be a liar? I am old enough that going to a foreign land holds no allurement. I am young enough that I know I am physically capable of going. Some brethren have offered me that alibi. I am not sixty yet.

There is one thing that could keep me from going. I do not know any way to go without support. I have preached here where there was very little support. One time I was ready to leave home and I had two dollars. My wife has always been very extravagant???, so I gave her half of it. While I was away I held three meetings. They were all mission meetings. A church was revived and a church was born. There were nine baptized into Christ. One of this number was Allan Bell, who is now in Africa as a missionary.

If you would like to know more about such labours I suggest that you order the book Forty Years A Canadian Preacher. We do not know the privations now that we knew then. The church here gives me a cheque twice a month. We own our own home. At least we will when we finish paying for it. We drive a reasonably good car. The brethren here love us and we love them. Four of our children are in this province besides the three new daughters. We have twelve grandchildren in this province. Like the woman in Elijah's time, we have no wants, we live among our own people. We are happy and contented. We have many battles, and we do not expect clear sailing from here on, but we are happy right where we are.

Now this challenge to go to India. There are only 18,000,000 Canadians and more than 400,000,000 people in India. There are too few preachers here by far, but many more than in India. Besides preachers from the U.S. can come to Canada without any trouble.

I do not see any honourable way out of this India challenge. Of course, if you can conscientiously refuse to support this effort, then, of course, I can say "Lord, there is no way for me to go to India. I seriously doubt if you can get out of this any better than I can. Do you?

Is there some other Canadian that is willing and able to go? If not, then my wife and I will answer this call, but we cannot do it without your help.

For the benefit of those who do not know about the work in India, I would like to tell you what I know. There were a group of Presbyterians that, by reading their New Testaments, read their way out of the Presbyterian Church. This happened in the province of Assam. Assam is the most eastern province in India. They formed themselves into churches of Christ. They did not know of any other churches of Christ in the world. Just how our brethren first got into contact with these brethren I do not know. They have been visited by a number of American brethren since the war. They have also been visited by Christian church preachers and the work has been hurt. There are about 150 faithful members in and near Shillong, the capital of Assam. I understand at one time there were about 700 memmers. You can see they need help now.

They have a good building almost completed. This will be used as an assembly hall and for a school. At last report I heard they needed $2,500 to finish this building.

A few years ago I had a letter from Brother C. W. Murray of Halifax, Nova Scotia, and he said that they would not be able to hold out much longer without help. I wrote Brother Murray and told him that if no one else came we would come to help them. We went. Brethren responded to the need for support in a wonderful way. There are two congregations in Nova Scotia now. Halifax will soon be in a new building. Brother Hart is carrying on in a fine way with a very faithful work. Now it is India saying, COME OVER INTO INDIA AND HELP US.

TEACHING GOD'S WORD
Answering Bible Inquiries In A Bible Correspondence Course

By Jule Miller

(Article Number Five)

Often an interested student will submit a question requiring special attention. Some questions will be found sincere, some poorly worded, and others quite irrevelant. Yet, they are important to the student. Occasionally a "prejudiced" or "sarcastic" question will be received. Regardless of the factor which motivated the question, the director or minister should consider it a personal compliment and opportunity when any type question is submitted. Answers should always be made prayerfully, patiently and in a spirit of love.

The person who writes the answer should bear in mind the possible anxiety present as the student opens his letter to read the answer to a question he has submitted! Ordinarily the answer should begin by thanking the student for the question. This will immediately release tension and may encourage inquiries on more important subjects later. For example, imagine the surprise of a student who has submitted a "prejudiced" question when he opened his letter and began to read, "Dear Mr. Jones: Thank you very much for your kind question in reference to whether water baptism saves souls. I would like to take this opportunity to explain . . . " This student, who had threatened to quit the course, became very friendly and completed the course. The kind letter was the turning point.

Every question should be answered personally by the minister or the director in charge. It is not unusual for some questions to require considerable time and effort, but remember, the answer to the students' questions are perhaps more important to them at the time than the entire correspondence course. Questions should be answered and mailed within two days after being received.

Occasionally, a well written pamphlet may be sent in addition to the letter to give a more detailed answer. Carefully edit every tract before sending it to be certain it will not incite prejudice or give the wrong impression.

In conclusion, we recall that all questions are a good sign and a compliment to the church. The student is saying, "I'm interested." Whether the question is "sincere" or "sarcastic", always begin to answer by thanking the student for the question. Then, answer prayerfully, patiently and in a spirit of love.

A complete kit of the new "Visualized Bible Correspondence Course" (including five 24-page lessons, five sets of questions, mailing envelopes, and certificate of completion) is available for only $1.00.

WAWOTA V.B.S.

Brother and Sister Roland Olson from Saskatoon were kind enough to come and help us with a Bible School. They freely gave the time of their vacation and we enjoyed their presence here both in our worship and in our homes. The school started on Monday morning, July 16, with 48 pupils, who were divided into five classes, with Sis. D. King taking the kindergarten, Sis. Olson grade one, Sis. M. McMillan grade two, Bro. Thomas Ulrich grade three and Bro. Olson the oldest grade. The attendance rose to a high of 57. On Friday evening a final program was held at the meeting house with a weiner roast afterwards. The school was kept from 9.30 to 3 o'clock, with a noon meal served. We hope and pray that much good will come of it.

A short time ago a young woman was added to the church here by obeying her Lord's command in baptism. Much good could be accomplished here if someone with some support could come and work in this district.

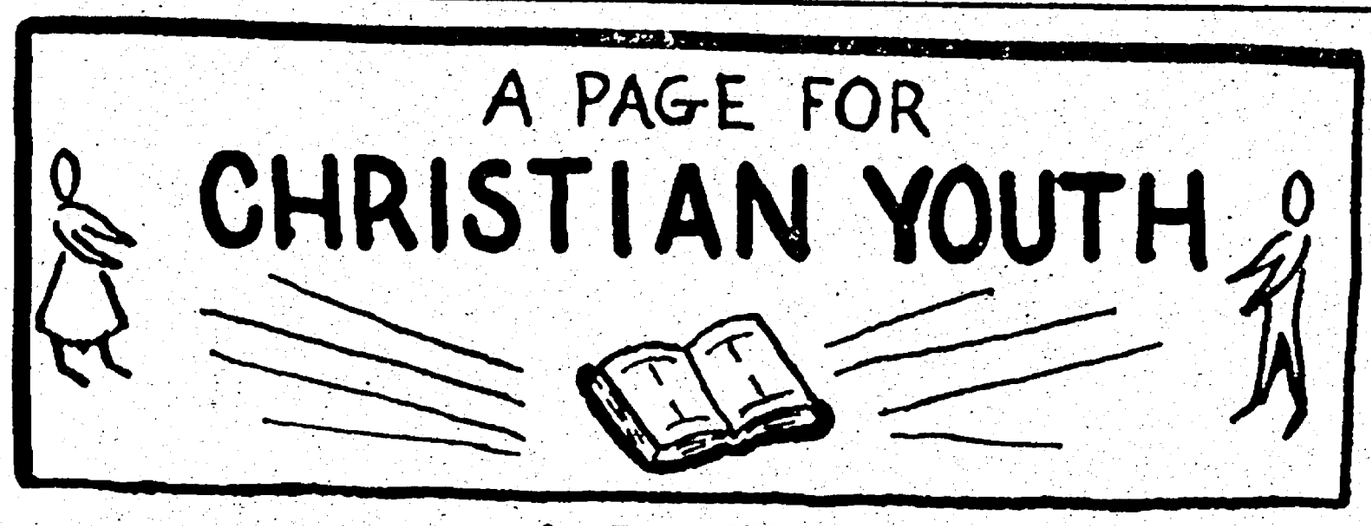
OMAGH BIBLE SCHOOL REPORT



The regular Omagh Bible School camping month for children and young people ended on August 5th. Mr. Robert Adams of Sarnia served as director again this year. His winning personality and guiding hand helped make this year quite successful.

At times during the session this year the dormitory facilities were overflowing so that a tent was used. The number of campers for respective weeks for 1962 are: 77, 72, 71, and 54. Last year's figures (1961) run as follows: 43, 58, 62, 68. We are pleased to note this increase trusting that our effectiveness in this work has a corresponding increase. There were nine baptisms of young people this year. Counselling with the individuals and a call to parents took place before baptism so as to insure as much as possible a satisfactory condition for genuine obedience to the gospel for each person. A trophy is presented each year to the best student camper. This year's winner was Sheila Moore of Kingston. Bibles were awarded to boy and girl winners by weeks.

Teachers for the regular Bible lessons each day were preachers of congregations in Ontario willing to allow their minister to teach the children at Omagh. For the first two weeks the following served: Keith Thompson, Beamsville; Roy Davison, Sarnia; Max Craddock, Hamilton, and Ray Miller, Omagh. During the second two weeks: David Johnson, Jordan; Bruce Merritt, Niagara Falls; Bert Thompson, Kingston, and Ed Bryant, Toronto. The willing work of these teachers, the counsellors and cooks is much appreciated.

The Christian Fellowship week, August 6 to 10, was a time for spiritual re-creation for those who attended. This week was under the able direction of Mr. Ralph Perry of London. The speaker and teacher was Robert Vance of Nashville, Tenn. His lessons were much appreciated. It is good to know him. There was a disappointingly low attendance during this week. We hope for better for future planned programs of this sort.

SHIFT OUT OF REVERSE

by Delbert Turner Jr.
Guntown, Mississippi

Being born in the midst of what was known as the "Depression", the writer was never very much accustomed to any high speed means of transportation. For years my principal means was by way of a wagon pulled by a team of mules. I never remember myself, my father, or anyone else trying to travel very far by going backwards in a wagon. Even in this high speed powerful age in which we now live, we never see individuals set out on a journey with the gear shift of their automobile in reverse position. The point is this: GOING IN REVERSE JUST NEVER GETS US ANYWHERE VERY FAST.

When it comes to the realm of religion, man (including many members of the Lord's church) seems to think that he can get to heaven with his gear shift in reverse, or at best, in neutral position. Let us think of the following principles found in the Sermon on the Mount, a Sermon by the Master Teacher which cannot be improved upon, and see to what extent man is travelling in reverse.

As we look into the sermon of our Saviour, we hear him say in Matt 5:23, 24, "Therefore if thou bring thy gift to the altar, and there rememberest that thy brother hath ought against thee; leave there thy gift before the Altar, and go thy way; first be reconciled to thy brother, and then come and offer thy gift." Here we find a principle laid down for acceptable worship unto God. But man in many instances has put this command in reverse. Often, a brother will attend worship services, knowing that some brother has ought against him, and never make an attempt to be reconciled to him. It would be dreadful to go through life striving to worship and serve the living God, and fail to reach heaven because we neglected to make things right with our brother!

In Matt. 5:38-44, we find these commands: "But I say unto you that ye resist not evil: but whosoever shall smite thee on thy right cheek, turn to him the other also. And if any man will sue thee at the law and, take away thy coat, let him have thy cloak also. And whosoever shall compel thee to go a mile, go with him twain. Give to him that asketh thee, and from him that would borrow of thee turn thou not away." Jesus then went on to say that we should love and pray for our enemies. Just look how man so many times reverses these commands. He resists evil. Instead of turning the other cheek, he strikes back. Instead of giving his cloak also, he does all in his power to keep his coat. Instead of going the second mile, he refuses to go the first. He often fails to give to them that ask and is reluctant to lend to those that would borrow. He fails miserably in loving his enemies, in blessing them that curse him, in doing good to them that hate him, and in praying for them that despitefully use him and persecute him. Jesus gave as a reason for obeying these commands "That ye may be the children of your Father which is in heaven" (Matt. 5:45). It follows, therefore, that when we live in the reverse of these principles we fail to be God's children.

In Matt. 6:14,15, Jesus teaches us to forgive those that trespass against us. Here, too, mankind often drives in reverse. These passages are very emphatic relative to the conditions of forgiveness, yet man often goes through life carrying a grudge, and failing to forgive — fully expecting to reach heaven when life is over.

Finally, we wish to consider Matt. 7:12, sometimes referred to as "The Golden Rule". It reads, "Therefore, all things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them." This command has been reversed and abused in many ways. Man in general believes in doing to others as they do to him. Needless to say, heeding the "Golden Rule" would solve most of the problems that arise between men. How sad it is that we choose to drive in reverse.

The sermon on the Mount contains the cure for the disorders of the world, our nation, our state, our community, the church, the home, and the individual. When churches are divided, homes are broken, and individuals are wrecked and dominated by alcoholism, dope, adultery, fornication, etc., it is only the teachings of Christ that will really cure these disorders. Let us pray that these principles of the Saviour will spread throughout the world, as they are the hope of the world.

Young people, let us look carefully, humbly, and prayerfully, at the commands contained in the Sermon on the Mount. How wonderful it would be if all mankind would meditate upon these commands each day. As we think upon them, if and when we find that we are traveling in reverse, then let us change our gear shift to a forward position "That we may be the children of our Father which is in heaven.

WEDDINGS

MASON—CUNNINGHAM

On June 30th, Ron Mason, formerly of London, and Donna Cunningham, were married in a beautiful ceremony in Toronto. They are now residing in St. Catharines where Ron is an accountant with a bank. Nancy Cunningham was maid-of-honour. Ralph Perry officiated.

DID THE APOSTLE PAUL

the world and a highly educated man, he was an intellectual, whereas Jesus spoke to the simple folk. And the Apostle's wide knowledge of Greek philosophy and Eastern and Egyptian religion led him to import into the pure ethic of the word as preached by Our Lord a vast amount of extraneous matter whether out of Neo-Platonism or Mithraism or the Osiris cult which formed the substratum of the vast superstructure of Catholic doctrinal theology."

"St. Paul and not St. Peter was undoubtedly the founder of the Church as it exists today; but he did damage to Christianity & left his imprint by wiping out many of the traces of the footsteps of his Master."

Although the above is the opinion of one writer, this is typical of the tactics used by the modernsts to discredit the Bible. If the article had simply pointed out the humanity of Paul in contrast to the diety of Christ, there would not be the present point of concern, but when it alleges discrepancies between the doctrine of Paul and Christ, the matter is put in a different light. It cast doubts upon the consistency of the teaching of Paul and his Master, and cast doubts upon the New Testament as a reliable rule to follow! Note the ways in which this modern maneuvering undermines the New Testament.

Inspiration Overlooked

Any real contradictions between Paul and Christ would deny the New Testament of its inspiration. Paul himself writes, "If any man think himself to be a prophet, or spiirtual, let him acknowledge that the things that I write unto you are the commandments of the Lord" (I Cor. 15:37). Preaching the unadulterated gospel of Christ is all Paul ever claimed for himself (Gal. 1:-8,9; I Cor. 2:13; I Thess. 2: 13). After Barnabas brought Paul to the other apostles in Jerusalem, they fully accepted him as one of them (See Acts 9:27,28ff).

Paul's claim to speaking and writing according to inspiration was never challenged by any of the other New Testament writers; in fact, Peter acknowledges Paul's epistles to be scripture (II Pet. 3:15,16). Each letter Paul wrote bears its own marks of inspiration, and with no conflict with the teachings of Christ. Paul humbly declared, ". . . I determined not to know any thing among you, save Jesus Christ, and him crucified" (Cor. 2:2).

Unity of Scriptures Undermined

To say that Paul differs from Christ is to say there is doctrinal disunity in the New Testament; however, a careful reader of he Bible would soon see otherwise. Look at the great themes of the Bible! Paul was both faithful and courageous in defending his Lord against the false teachers of his day. The truth on the Godhead, the resurrection, the new birth, the second coming of Christ, etc., is upheld in vivid and practical detail by the apostle. He preached only what he had received from Christ. (See I Cor. 15.)

An Attempt to Weaken the Character of Christ

Men who resent correction and conformity to divine truth try to make it appear that Christ was mild in his condemnation of sin, while Paul was cruel and overdemanding. As Lord Beaverbrook puts it, "Jesus has sympathy and forgiveness instead of the Pauline anathema." If the implication is that Jesus was not strong in rebuking sin, and Paul was wrong in what he did, this falls into gross error. Our Lord, as did Paul, taught as the occasion demanded.

Jesus shows us the need for both gentle and strong rebuke. He is a great Comforter, but at the same time he is a great Disturber, when it comes to troubling the hearts of sinful men. In the presence of His disciples Jesus said, "Woe unto the world because of offences! for it must needs be that offences come; but woe to that man by whom the offence cometh" (Mt. 18:7). He upbraided "the cities wherein most of his mighty works were done, because they repented not" (Mt. 11:-20). The cleansing of the temple shows Jesus capable of stern action when a sinful condition existed (Jno. 2:13-17). Read Mt. 7:15; 23:1ff.

Jesus is the supreme example of love and mercy, but this does not mean that men will not escape the consequences when they reject Him. In following in the footsteps of his Master, Paul said, " I am crucified with Christ: nevertheless I live; yet not I, but Christ liveth in me: and the life which I now live in the flesh by the faith of the Son of God, who loved me, and gave himself for me" (Gal. 2:20).

With little doubt, Paul is our best example of one willing to die for his faith, preaching that which leaves a person ". . . neither Jew nor Greek . . . bond nor free . . . male nor female", but "one in Christ Jesus" (Gal 3:28). Let's exhalt our Lord and Master Jesus Christ, and hold high the hands of those, like Paul, who have given their lives to widening the borders of the kingdom to include the whole world.

THE LETTER TO ROME

legal system which waxes strong against movies, card playing, mixed bathing, etc., etc. Have we become guilty of substituting a new legalism when we insist that all Christians must accept and submit to our standards of right and wrong. Surely there are moral and spiritual principles to be followed but we must be careful that we do not interpret Christianity into a kind of New Testament Judaism. There is no more room for Phariseeism today than during the days of Christ on earth. In the seventh through ninth chapters, Paul deals with law versus grace. We shall endeavour to understand the real differences as we continue to study together this interesting Letter to Rome.

WAS THE RESURRECTION?

history. It is the Gibraltar of the Christian's faith and the Waterloo for the infidel. It is the whole basis and foundation of Christianity. Christianity stands or falls on the truth of the resurrection. The hallucination theory falls after consideration of it in the light of all evidence. There is no evidence for it at all. Jesus Christ is the Son of God raised from the dead. Praise His glorious name.

Book Reviews

Books to be reviewed in this column should be sent to Keith T. Thompson, Box 403 Beamsville, Ont., Canada.

The Making of a Man of God by Alan Redpath, Fleming H. Revell Company (In Canada G. R. Welch Co., Toronto). 256 pages, $3.80 Canadian Price).

It is this reviewer's habit to check significant paragraphs in any book he is reading. Looking over this book again he sees many many check marks.

Every Christian teacher knows that the only way to properly teach the Old Testament is in the light of the New Testament. Thus the Old Testament becomes the major source for illustrations of New Testament teachings. The volume under review does this in an admirable way. The entire book is devoted to "Studies in the Life of David." It shows how David was made a "Man of God."

The author has an amazing ability to use the incidents in the life of Israel's greatest king as a background for applying the principles of the New Testament.In so doing he blends together the narratives from I and II Samuel and I Chronicles with the parallel passages in the Psalms.

Alan Redpath is actively engaged in inter-denominational preaching & is connected with Moody Church in Chicago. On topics such as salvation, apostasy, Holy Spirit and the Second Coming his views are similar to most Baptists.

The Theology of the Jehovah's Witnesses by George D. McKinney Jr., Zondervan Publishing House, Grand Rapids, Michigan. 130 pages. $2.50 (slightly higher in Canada).

A veritable flood of publications pours forth continually from the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society in Brooklyn, New York. Very few non-Jehovah's Witnesses have the time or the interest to read all this material. Much of it is, of course, repetitious. This present book will be of much service to those who want to find out what this cult actually believes. In an organized fashion it presents the beliefs of Jehovah's Witnesses. It is thoroughly objective in nature and attempts but little refutation of the false teachings described.

Barrie, Ont.: "We have had two meetings with 33 and 24 present. Of course, in each we had much assistance from many places in Ontario and the States. This is a wonderful city and much is to be done. Pray for us." L. Wesley Jones.

Griersville: "Two more mothers were baptized at the tent meeting" M. MacDonald. "In this unusual type of meeting more people who are not members of the church have come to hear the gospel proclaimed than in any other effort that we have seen in this country." The Northern Light, Owen Sound.

Sundridge: "Our Bible school has developed into an outstanding success. We started with an enrollment of 88 (17 teenagers) the first day, had 97 yesterday and 95 today. Five have been baptized and the average attendance so far is 92. Twenty-two teenagers in all attended.

We both go to help in the school at Huntsville next week.

"Some of the brethren assembled on the shore of the lake last night at 10.30 to witness the baptism of a young mother into Christ (Aug. 13). This was the result of much private teaching by one of the sisters and a study of the Miller films." Jim O'Neal.

Ice Lake: David B. Myers of Columbus, Ohio conducted his 3rd annual gospel meeting at this church July 17 to July 25. Two obeyed the gospel.

Bethel Bailey helped in what he has termed the best yet V.B.S. at this place. All families within a two mile radius of the building, except two, were represented.

North Livingstone: A V.B.S. was conducted here from July 3 to 7. Bro. Geo. Pennock assisted. The average attendance was 80.

On August 5 we had an all day meeting. A basket dinner was served after the usual morning meeting. In the afternoon we had 15 minutes of song service, five of our young

GLEANINGS FROM FOREIGN FIELDS

Nigeria

The Government of Nigeria has asked missionaries of the churches of Christ if they can provide 37 teachers for the public schools. They will be permitted to teach Bible classes daily, and would have charge of 7,500 pupils.

Already there are approximately that number of teachers, trained in Bible schools in Nigerian churches, caring for 7,500 pupils. If these teachers can be provided from among Christians, it will double the number of young Nigerians studying the Bible daily under the supervision of Christian teachers.

When so many governments are forbidding the teaching of religion and discouraging the saying of prayers (including the Government of the United States), while openly encouraging the teaching of infidelity and atheism, it is encouraging to note that there is one government (of a so-called "backward" country) that wants its people to have a knowledge of the Bible.

There are native teachers, active Christians, who would be able to respond to the government's request if they could get support for their families. They require only $25 a month. North American churches are being asked by Christians in Nigeria if they will help them take advantage of this wonderful opportunity. Many small congregations could provide this much support while they would be unable to support a man in a more expensive area. Those who will help are asked to write Brother John W. Beckloff, Box 101, Uyo, Nigeria, West Africa.

Union of South Africa

Brother Joe McKissick, who has been working in South Africa for a number of years, has returned to the United States to complete his schooling. A replacement for him is badly needed. The 3½-year-old church in Welkom has 57 members and an average Bible school attendance of 90. They have completed a new meeting house and have been instrumental in the starting of another congregation. An effective fulltime worker is needed there immediately. Support for him will be arranged by the church in Friona, Texas. Contact Joe McKissick, 1709 Avenue I, Levelland, Texas.

Poland

A special session of the Polish Supreme Court has upheld the two previous sentences (both two-year suspensions of six-months imprisonment) given Brother Jozeph Naumiuk for supposedly "heading an illegal organization" (the church of Christ).

Brethren in Poland are not discouraged by the decision, and neither is Brother Naumiuk. However, one more arrest will cause him to be jailed. He is free to continue evangelism, but is not free to write letters or receive help from brethren in America. This, according to the government's interpretation, constitutes "an organization." The official recognition of the church, which would solve all such problems, is still being denied. But Polish Christians have not lost faith that such recognition will come in God's own time.

Several American Christians working with various European churches went to Warsaw to be with Brother Naumiuk and to attend the trial. Many prayers were offered for him, and the brethren feel that without these the court's decision would have been much more severe.

The American Department of State sent observers to the trial, and the judge stated that he had received 560 letters and many telegrams from abroad asking for leniency for the Polish evangelist.

Korea

Brother A. R. Holton, age 71, is returning to the United States after a number of years working with the church in Korea. Brother Holton has been severely ill and in much pain from a bleeding ulcer and sciatica.

The 16th and Decatur Streets church in Washington, D.C., which has supported Brother Holton during all his work in Korea, has selected Brother O. P. Baird, presently of Columbia, South Carolina, to replace Brother Holton. The Bairds will arrive in Korea September 1, and the Holtons will make plans to return home soon afterward.

Egypt

The Robert Douglas family arrived in Egypt July 19, the first missionary sent by churches of Christ to that country since Biblical days.

Brother Douglas has been working in Benghazi, Libya, for nearly two years. The decision for him to go to Egypt came as a result of opportunities which developed after more than 250 Egyptians enrolled in a Bible correspondence course offered by the Benghazi church. A number of close contacts were developed, and in April of this year, Brother Douglas spent three weeks in the country, calling on these contacts. One was baptized into Christ as a result of his work, and many others expressed great interest in continuing Bible studies.

Brother Douglas will begin his work in Cairo, Egypt's largest city, with a population of more than 4,000,000. It is here that most of the correspondence students live. Alexandra, with a population of 1,000,000 is 130 miles away. The population is predominantly Moslem, though some 6,000,000 Egyptians claim to be Christians, most being members of the Coptic Christian Church.

Brother Monroe Hawley's "Studies in the Bible" is being translated into Arabic to facilitate Bible study among the Arabs.

The Sixth and Arlington church in Lawton, Oklahoma, is overseeing Brother Douglas' work.

Bahamas

Three members of the Oak Meadows Church of Christ in Houston, Texas, flew to Nassau to help the St. James Road church with a vacation Bible school and gospel meeting early in August.

Brother William Miller, who works with the Nassau church, states that the congregation plans to send a native preacher to work on Long Island, Bahamas. Another young man from the congregation expects to enroll in Abilene Christian College this fall to study Bible.

Philippines

The church in Jacksboro, Texas, is sending Brother and Sister Douglas LeCroy to the island of Luzon, largest of the Philippines, to work

FRUITFUL SERIES OF V.B.S.

Charles H. Davidson and his family (wife and daughter) of Abilene, Texas helped with four Vacation Bible Schools in Ontario from July 23rd through August 18th.

SAULT STE. MARIE

After helping with two Vacation Bible Schools in the Northern United States, brother Davison's family went to Sault Ste. Marie. Brother Davison directed the school there. The highest attendance was about 75.

Four were baptized during the week.

SUNDRIDGE

The next week the Davisons helped with the Vacation Bible School in Sundridge which was directed by Jim O'Neal. The average attendance during the week was 101 with about 150 present for the closing exercises. Jim is to be greatly commended for getting so many to come in such a small community.

Five were baptized during the week at Sundridge.

HUNTSVILLE

After helping at Sundridge the Davisons went to Huntsville to help with the VBS there. Gordon Dennis directed the school. The highest attendance was 119; the average attendance was 105; with about 160 present for the closing exercises.

Two were baptized during the week at Huntsville.

SARNIA

For the last of the six Bible schools the Davisons helped with during the summer they went to Sarnia where their son, Roy Davison, preaches. He directed the school there. In Sarnia the total enrollment was 179; the highest attendance was 151; with an average attendance of 139.

Monday through Thursday brother Davison taught a class each evening on preparation for church leadership.

Seven were baptized during the week of the VBS in Sarnia.

In each of the various Bible schools brother and sister Davison taught the teenage and elementary classes. In their classes they made use of the American Standard New Testaments recently published by Alvin Jennings of Burlington, Vermont. Four fifths of the cost of these Testaments was provided by brethren in the south, with the remainder being paid by the churches which conducted the Bible schools.

Churches which helped with the Davison's support and with the purchase of the New Testaments were these: the Hillcrest church and the College church in Abilene, Texas; the 5th and Elm congregation in Colorado City, Texas; and the churches in Anson, Truby, Noodle, and Oplin, Texas. A number of individuals helped, as well.

Next summer brother Davison plans to move to work with some congregation in the Northern United States or Canada.

BOOK REVIEW

may prove to be the most important new publication of 1962. We refer to The New Bible Dictionary published recently by Eerdmans. This is a companion volume to The New Bible Commentary which we reviewed several years ago and still highly recommend. This is the first really new Bible Dictionary that is basically true to the Bible in many years. It gives relatively full discussions on all topics mentioned in the Bible and is fully abreast of latest scholarship and modern archaeological discovery. The price in the U.S. is $12.95 and the Canadian price about a dollar more.

with the church there. Formerly a Baptist, Brother LeCroy was converted to New Testament Christianity while stationed with the Air Force at Maxwell Field, Alabama. Soon afterward he was sent to Guam, where he began to preach to a group meeting in the Catholic Navy Chapel. Several natives and servicemen were baptized by him.

South Africa

Local and national newspapers gave much publicity to a public debate in which Brother Philip J. Steyn, a native Afrikaans evangelist affirmed that baptism is by immersion and for adults only.

Brother Steyn reports that the English language newspaper for that province printed three front-page articles about the debate, and on Saturday, the local newspaper gave the debate their front-page headlines.

It was estimated that at least 700 persons were present for the discussion which was held in the City Hall.

Brother Steyn hopes to conduct more public discussions during the next three months.

Malaya

Brother Dorsey Traw of Bangkok, Thailand, preached nightly in a two-weeks gospel meeting the last two weeks of August in Malaya's capital city, Kuala Lumpur. We have not heard the results as yet. At the first meeting held by the church there this year (in March), 19 persons were baptized into Christ.

In addition to the meeting services, Brother Traw was to conduct a workshop on personal work for Christians from Kula Kuala Lumpur, Muar, Kluang, and Singapore.

GOSPEL HERALD
BEAMSVILLE - ONTARIO

LETTER TO EDITOR DRAWS FIRE OF "HEALER"

During the first part of August the church received some interesting publicity in Sarnia. Roy Davison, preacher for the church there, and the church of Christ in general, were verbally bombarded by L. L. Jenkins, a 'faith healer' during several services of his 'healing' campaign in Sarnia.

Leroy Jenkins of 'Miracle Arm, Inc.' accused the church of Christ of being 'rediculously' opposed to the use of instrumental music in worship. He then intimated that although the church of Christ was so strict on such an 'unimporant' matter as this, it was quite lax in moral things such as smoking and women wearing shorts.

The tirade was brought on by a letter Davison had sent to The Sarnia Observer. The Observer had printed a news article exposing one of Mr. Jenkins failures to heal. Commending the paper for its article, Davison wrote the following letter which was printed in full in the next day's paper.

"I want to commend Mr. Neil Reynolds for his good reporting in his article 'Fervor Goes Hand In Hand With The 'Miracle Arm' Man.

"As was complained at the 'Big Tent, only one of the religious groups in town was willing to sponsor Mr. Jenkins' big show.

"This is no wonder, for I am sure that Jesus does not approve of the spectacle either.

"The healing of Christ was done as inconspicuously as possible. In Luke 8:56 Jesus told the parents of a girl He had raised from the dead And there is a challenge for Mr. Jenkins if he really has the power of God) that 'they should tell no man what was done.'

"Also, we have no record of Jesus asking for money. I can't quite picture Him passing the bucktets around after one of His healings. And, do you really suppose that Jesus would drive a 1961 Cadillac convertible if He were here today?

"There is a power behind Mr. Jenkins, all right. But I am afraid that it is not the power of God. And I feel sorry most for those who are honestly deceived."

Jenkins accused Davison of trying to run him out of town, but assured the audience (of about 3,000 people) that he was going to stay. And, to prove that he was not interested in money, Jenkins announced that God had told him not to take up a collection that particular evening. Then for about the next three of his services he repeated these charges against the church. However, he returned quite ardently to his former manner of collecting funds the next service.

A number of people in the city commended various members of the church in Sarnia for the letter which appeared in the paper.

TENT MEETING REPORT

WHITE ALREADY TO HARVEST

Tuesday, July 31, about 5.15 a.m. we sat parked on the roadside of our little town and watched first one pair of tail-lights and then another disappear into the dark. And we were saddened and could not restrain our tears, for we had had the inspiring privilege of working hand in hand with Brother Jack Fogarty, Brother Ermon Bain, and the other workers who make up the tent team. These fine people have left an indelible mark on the hearts of every Christian in the Meaford area and many who are not Christians. When we realize the sacrifice these people are making to serve the Master in this way we cannot help but to have a greater zeal and an added desire to reach out and DO.

The attendance during the meeting was way beyond our expectations. Two hundred and fifty would be a generous estimate of the number of church members in the whole of the Georgian Bay area. The attendance ranged from three hundred on the poorest nights to a possible thirteen or fourteen hundred on Sunday nights. A prospect list of over six hundred names has been compiled.

Several of these people attended almost all of the meetings. It now remains with us to teach those who will be taught and we have God's faithful promise that he will give the increase.

Seven souls were baptized into Christ during the meeting and one who came and desired to know more during the meeting has since been baptized. We are very aware of the fact that the total responses were not large in number. We cannot say that the reason for this is because people will not listen and obey but only that we have failed to go and teach. Like every other point in Canada this area is a mission area in need of more workers, more money, and more zeal. So often we fail to realize this fact.

The Tent Meeting has not come to us and gone from us without us having some regrets. Two are outstanding: (1) that we did not work harder, and (2) that the meeting could not have lasted twice as long. May every Christian in this area, yea in the whole world have the courage to "lift up your eyes, and look on the fields; for they are white already to harvest."

OTTAWA CAMPAIGN

The campaign in Ottawa is almost history at this time of writing. We look back upon a period of great activity which will likely be of much assistance in the days to come.

An excellent vacation Bible school was held over a ten day period. The enrollment exceeded anything that had been achieved in the past and an average of about 179 students was maintained. Many parents and friends came on the closing night to hear a program based on the materials studied throughout the school. They seemed to appreciate our efforts very much.

After a brief period of canvassing and advertising, we then launched into a twelve day Gospel meeting with Brother William F. Walker of Wichita Falls, Texas, as the speaker. This was the best-attended meeting that we have had since the church has been in the city, even though some of the local members were away on vacation. Brother Walker did an excellent job of presenting the Gospel forcefully and yet kindly. One was baptized.

A fuller report of the campaign will be submitted by the group from Abilene Christian College at a later date. Time will be needed to assess fully the impact of this effort.

PORTAGE LA PRAIRIE

July 25, 1962

Our 3rd annual Bible Camp was held at Jubilee Camp, July 9th to 16th. There were 38 children in attendance. Due to illness, Bro. Dale Smith's were unable to be with us this year. Bro. and Sis. Love, the preacher and his wife newly at the Erin St. church, Winnipeg, together with Aaron Swart, who preaches at Carman helped us out very capably. Approximately half of the children came from Portage, the rest from Winnipeg and Carman. We believe that in a camp setting such as we have at Jubilee, children cannot help but benefit from the week there, both physically and Spiritually.

Since last report, a man and his wife were baptized into Christ. Bro. Vidler has a number of home Bible studies underway, and he anticipates further results from them. Our Sunday classes continue to grow. Another man and his wife and family have become regular in attendance.

We are planning the offical opening of the church meeting house for Aug. 12th. There will be an all day meeting, with a basket dinner in the park at noon. The morning speaker (10.30 a.m.) will be Floyd Vidler. We hope to have Bro. Dan Wieb of Western Christian College for the afternoon (2.30 p.m.) and Bro. W. P. Dennis of Tipton, Okla., for the evening. Bro. Dennis begins a Gospel meeting that night which continues through to the 20th.

In conjunction with the meeting, a visitation campaign is also being undertaken with some 15 couples from Canada and the U.S.A. taking part. We hope to visit evey home in Portage la Prairie at least once and many of them that are interested, several times. We hope to make the entire city aware that there is a church of Christ meeting there.

Our V.B.S. to be held at the meeting house here in the city will begin Monday, Aug. 20th for 5 days mornings only.

While progress is being made on the meeting house, much remains to be done. We expect the pews to be put in next week. Landscaping and the painting of the trim is underway.

A cordial invitation to attend the opening meetings Aug. 12th is extended to the readers of the Gospel Herald.

WHY MAKE A WILL?

(Ed. Note: Those of us who have been blest of God materially need to insure the proper use of these materials both while we live and after our departure. These articles will be of special interest to those concerned with the latter. E.C.P.)

There are many reasons for having a Will and the two most important are, first: you cannot take your possessions with you, and secondly: if you neglect making a Will the Law makes one for you. In the latter case a distribution is made according to a "cut-and-dried" pattern which falls far short of what you would have desired. For instance, it brings heavy additional expense, delay, frustration and disappointment, to all potential beneficiaries, particularly wives, husbands and disabled children. It can mean the quick sale of real estate and investments all too often in a poor market. Your failure to appoint an executor or corporate Trustees means that no power has been given to withold a sale until a more favorable time.

Despite all the wretched stories we have heard of the inconvenience caused to families, the cold fact remains that only three out of ten persons take time out to intelligently plan the distribution of an estate acquired in a whole lifetime.

Of the small percentage of Wills made a surprisingly large number are found to be faulty when presented before the Surrogate judge. This is due to many causes such as failure to have the proper number of witnesses, erasure of words ,improper identification of heirs, ambiguous wording, wrong names of charities or religous institutions and improper descriptions of real estate. Not infrequently have long drawn out and costly lawsuits resulted from the incorrect use of small words such as have, may, shall, will and or. It is said that lawyers sometimes drink a toast to "the jolly testator who draws his own Will". Asking a minister, an insurance man or a real estate agent to assist you in this important task is to be discouraged. Only those trained in the proper use of legal language are fully qualified. A Will consultant can show you how to minimize all Succession Duties and how to avoid duplication of Death Duties, transfer costs and other fees. Savings range from a few hundred dollars to many thousands are obtained depending on the size and nature of the estate.

Since a Will represents an entire lifetime of effort it is surely worth an hour's time to intelligently plan the disposition of an estate. Do not postpone the task until tomorrow for tomorrow never comes.

"The clock of life
Is wound but once,
And no one has the power
To say just when the hands will stop,
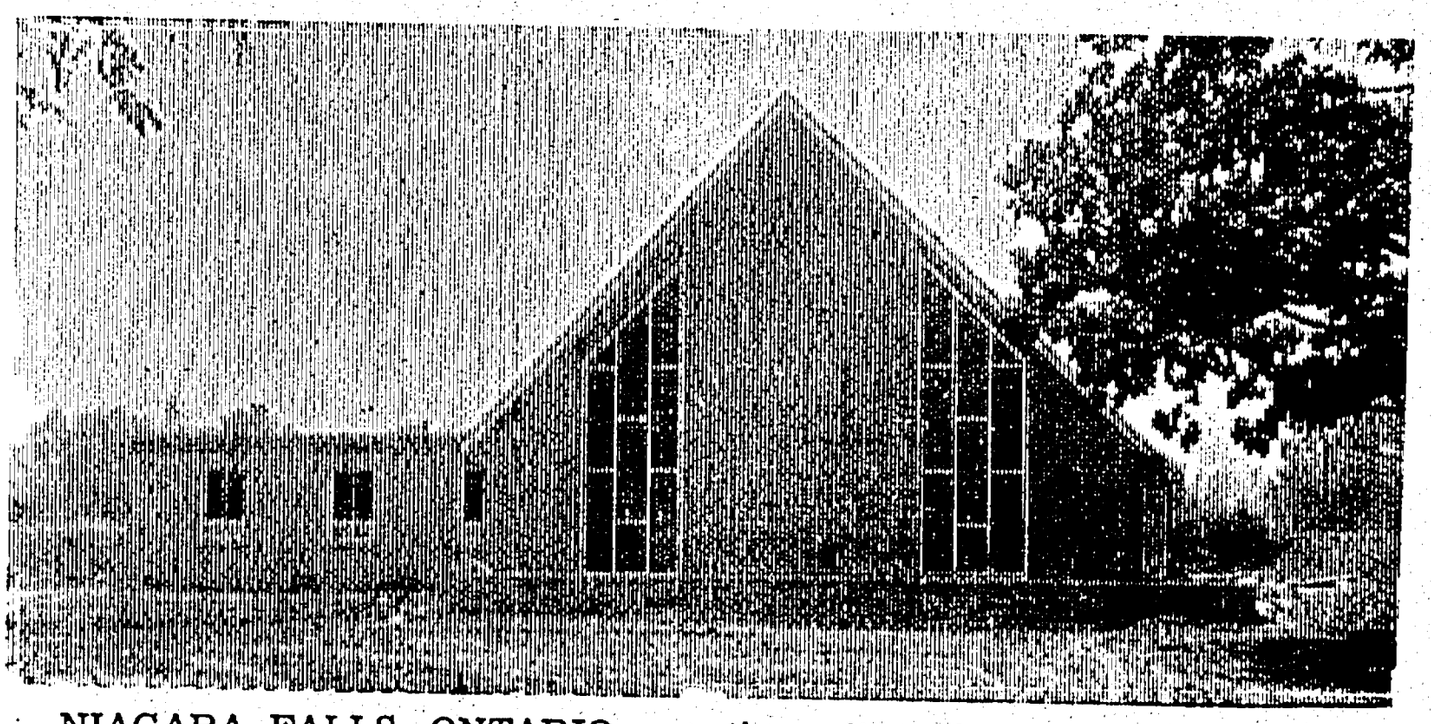
At late or early hour."



The Will is a contract signed by you in your lifetime on terms which you will never see carried out. In addition to distributing your estate it will reveal your personality - your affection for your wife, children and grandchildren. It will also reveal your Faith, your teachings and your love of God as exemplified by your gifts to Christian institutions and to your church. It can furnish your own acknowledgement that "All things come of Thee O Lord and of Thine own have I given Thee". In subsequent articles further information will be given on this subject which, unfortunately, is familiar to few and sadly neglected by so many.

CHURCHES ARE CONGRATULATED IN OPENING NEW BUILDINGS

NIAGARA FALLS, ONTARIO

A special program to officially open the new building of the church at Niagara Falls, Ontario took place on Sunday afternoon, August 19. This was the occasion of the first meeting in the new and attractive edifice and also the beginning date of a special effort including a five day V.B.S. and a Gospel meeting with Virgil E. Bradford of Murfreesboro, Tennessee as speaker.

Bruce C. Merritt, who has been working full time with this young church since his retirement from the Presidency of Great Lakes Christian College a year ago, acted as chairman of the afternoon service. Recognition was made of the many who helped to make the building possible with a special mention of Brother Albert Carlesso, the contractor, and the Murfreesboro, Tennessee church which gave so generously; which also supports brother Merritt and which is supplying brother Bradford and other personel for this special effort.

The building was overflowing with something over 250 people present. Walter Dale, teacher at Great Lakes Christian College, spoke briefly, outlining the history of the church, crediting some personal work done a few thousand miles away, the anxiousness of one family to have Bible studies in their home and their zeal in inviting others; the wlilngness of the St. Catharines church to release members and preacher to spend time in such a neighbouring effort, and the policy of Great Lakes Christian College to encourage it's teachers to engage in church work. Both b other Dale and brother Geoffrey Ellis engaged in this work while teaching at the College.

The congregation met for the first time in the Stamford Memorial Hall on October 4, 1959 and has progressed very nicely. It is anticipated that even more rapid growth will occur with the permanent place of worship and more adequate Bible school facilities.

The building was designed by b other James Allcock of St. Catharines and is very functional. Costs, including furnishings, is not expected to exceed $30,000. Presently the auditorium seats 154. A cry room and two classrooms in the rear can be removed later to increase the seating capacity to 250. A wing to the left of the side entrance is composed of a study and two classrooms, two washrooms, and a large room which will be divided into a kitchenette and two classrooms.

PORTAGE LA PRAIRIE,

MANITOBA

The Northside Church of Christ in Portage La Prairie has been meeting in its building for some time, even though it was in process of completion, The attractive edfice, the result of the zeal and effort of the very small group of Christians and those who sent help, was officially opened with an all-day meeting on August 12.

This was the beginning date of a gospel meeting and campaign held by W. P. Dennis, of Tipton, Oklahoma, assisted by volunteer workers who took a religious census, visiting every home in the community.

The building is located at the corner of 6th Avenue on 3rd Street North East (Main Street). E. D. Wieb President of Western Christian College, Weyburn, Saskatchewan was the afternoon speaker on August 12.

NANAIMO, BRITISH COLUMBIA

The first services in the new meeting house at Nanaimo were Sunday, August 10. This was the beginning of the Gospel meeting with Brother J. C. Bailey of Moose Jaw, Saskatchewan doing the speaking.

The new meeting house is a great tribute to the vision and diligence of the members there. Even though the congregation numbers no more than 25, yet they have had a great determination to do all that is possible to bring the pure Gospel to the residents of that area. The meeting house is but one facet of that great work. Even though the building is not finished as yet, it is amazing that the building could have progressed as far as it has with the small outlay of money that has taken place. This indicates both the ability and the determination of the members there as well as the fact that a great amount of gratis labor was given by many individuals. I believe that I can speak on behalf of all when I extend to the brethren at Nanaimo our sincere congratulations to all those who so invaluably labored in the erection of their building without charge.

J. Hawkins, Van-Isle Beacon

These churches are to be congratulated on their new plants and we pray that each will use its blessing to the full that souls may be saved.

E.C.P.

We invite churches to send pictures and news of such encouraging progress that others might be inspired by such examples of faith.

HERE AND THERE

men each read a scripture selection, and Bro. Leonard Smith gave a short talk. Then we had four who had been chosen to represent four Bible characters and four to ask questions until they were identified. This was quite interesting. Several from the Soo and Iron Bridge attended.

Sault Ste. Marie: We have just completed a successful Vacation Bible School at McNab street church in the Soo. It ran from July 23rd to 27th with consistant attendance every day. Bro. Charles Davison from Abilene, Texas assisted us in the school, and also we appreciate the Eastside church in the Soo helping us considerably with students and teachers . . . Bro. Tom Bunting of Florida Christian College, previously the local evangelist at McNab street, completed a very good Gospel Meeting with us last July 22nd . . . We have had three baptisms in the past week. D. Givens.

Portage La Prairie, Man.: "We plan a full page ad in our local daily paper with pictures of meeting house and workers on one side and questions and answers on What Is The Church of Christ? on the other. 5000 extra copies of this page will be printed and used by callers as an introduction." W. E. McCutcheon.

Horse Creek, Sask.: "We had a very good school with over 60 students most days and four young people were baptized, one from this congregation." Robert Tetreau.

Nipawin, Sask: "Brother Walter Straker has been doing some work by way of personal visitation and Bible Studies in an area that surrounds Nipawin, Saskatchewan. I have been assisting him this past week. We have been having meetings in the trailer formerly used by the Outlook congregation. We have been disappointed in the attendance at the meeting but we have found that there are some 15-20 members within 30 miles of Nipawin. There is a good prospect that we can get enough together to form them into a congregation. It may be that we can have, and should have, two congregations. Some of these isolated members are quite zealous for the Lord. The prayers of the faithful are requested for this work. We had a wonderful meeting the last night in the trailer in Nipawin. We had seats for 30 but we had 35 present. Even the preacher had to stand up." J. C. B.

HERE AND THERE

Nanaimo, B.C.: "The best news from Nanaimo is that they have contacted a young man and his wife who are interested in working full time with the church in that area. Dale and Sharon Foster of Houston, Texas, now in Abilene Christian College, are planning to move to Nanaimo the first of September or shortly thereafter."

Since Bro. Foster can bring but little of his necessary support for the first four months here, the congregation must borrow or receive by donation the needed amount. Will you send a contribution to them?

A house to house canvass and appeal was planned for the week of August 13-18 followed by a gospel meeting in the new meeting house conducted by J. C. Bailey.

Vancouver: The average attendance at V.B.S. was 116 plus at least 20 adult workers each day. The peak was 125 children with 23 adults. There were about 242 present for the closing program.

"Due to a very generous anonymous gift, the church has purchased for cash the vacant lot next door. This is to be used at a future date for an educational building.

Salmon Arm: Thirteen year old Allan Robinson confessed his Lord and was baptized for remission of sins a week ago Tuesday (July 3).

HERE AND THERE

Keene, N.H.: 178 were enrolled in V.B.S. with the high attendance of 186 and the average 181. There were 23 staff members. Of the 226 at the closing program, 52 were adult non-Christians.

"As I was typing this report the phone rang and a young lady we have been studying with asked to be baptized this afternoon." Keene Komments J. C. Bailey, Jr.

Burlington, Vt.: "This little congregation of 26 members enrolled 75 students. The average daily attendance was 62, not including the staff of 10 teachers. 49% were from Catholic homes and only 17% from homes of members of the church.

A five night lecture series and door-to-door campaign is being planned for the period September 9-13 with the preachers of the area invited to participate.

Plattsburgh, N.Y.: The new building is nearing completion and they desperately need a full time preacher.

Massena, N.Y.: "On July 29th Mrs. Carrie La France and Mrs. Grace Day were baptized into the Lord. Sister La France has been a bible school teacher for one of the denominations. She sent a very fine letter of explanation to this denomination.

A.C.C. successful Teachers Workshop is reported. Brother North of Madison church in Tennessee was asked to bring his teaching staff here because of the great success of their Bible school program which attracted an average of 1,550 each Sunday during 1961.

Beamsville: Fall meeting Oct. 21-28, a series of Bible readings by Roy Davison of Sarnia.

NASHVILLE CHRISTIAN INSTITUTE

Last year was a good year at Nashville Christian Institute. There were seventeen boys and girls in th senior class last year and each one was a Christian. We look forward with great optimism. We are working and praying that it will be even better.

Brother Marshall Keeble is in good health and wonderful spirit. He and "his boys" have been preaching the gospel all the summer months. God is richly blessing him and all of us appreciate him more and more, as the years pass. He will be 84, on December 7.

If there is a deserving boy in your community, please encourage him to come to Nashville Christian Institute. The charges are $50.00 per month and it may be that you will have to help him financially. God will bless you for it. If there is such an one in your community, please write us today.

OUR DEPARTED

GEORGE PEPPERDINE

George Pepperdine, a man who devoted his lifetime and his fortune to Christian education, died Tuesday, July 31 at the age of 76.

An author, a businessman, a Christian and a philanthropist, George Pepperdine overcame great setbacks to live a life which paralelled the motto of the southwest Los Angeles college bearing his name—"Freely ye have received, freely give."

Born June 20, 1886 at Mound Valley, Kansas, Mr. Pepperdine's education was limited mainly to rural schools and a business college at Parsons, Kansas. Unable to continue college and become a minister as he had hoped, he turned to the field of business.

Despite Mr. Pepperdine's lack of capital, the business began to flourish with promising success until he suffered a loss of health and was forced to sell out and move west. He stayed a short time in Denver, then moved to Los Angeles in 1916.

Regaining his health, Mr. Pepperdine opened a small store in Los Angeles and by 1920 had taken California by storm with his Western Auto Supply stores.

Retiring in 1937, he sold out for an estimated three million dollars. He then founded Pepperdine College the same year, using most of proceeds of the sale. The college he founded and loved has continued to grow and expand its influence.

Perhaps the most significant single feature of Mr. Pepperdine's life and work was his complete optimism and profound faith in God. It was always his philosophy that anyone who acquired a large amount of money had a positive duty to society and to God to see that this money was used to benefit mankind.

Throughout the years, in addition to his mark in education, George Pepperdine contributed to more than 50 Churches of Christ in the western states and financed the work of missionaries in many foreign lands.

Mr. Pepperdine is survived by his wife, who resides in the family home at 1614 Wellington Drive; children, Mrs. Raldolph Crossley of Hawaii, Mrs. Kendall Thurston of Belaire, Calif., George Pepperdine II, of Long Beach, a graduate student at USC, Mrs. Ed (Marilyn) Janowitz of New York and Wendell Pepperdine, a student at the University of California in Berkley. He also leaves four grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Mr. Pepperdine, a victim of aneurysm, an enlargement of the aorta, had been ill for several years and bedfast for the past year.

Funeral services are being arranged at the View Park Mortuary of Utter-McKinley and will be conducted in the college auditorium.

The Editor, July 26, 1962

Dear Sir:

I am a Cameroonian studying the Scripture in the above School. I was born and educated in a Roman Catholic Home. I never dreamed of leaving the Roman Catholic Church since I was taught to believe there was no salvation outside the Roman Catholic Church.

In 1953, a terrible change took place in my life which I will never forget. I bought a Douay version of the Catholic Bible and studying it, the truth pricked my heart and I decided to preach it to others. On May 11th, I was baptized into the church of Christ and I kept on studying the scriptures zealously. I was the first Cameroonian to be baptized into the Lord's church. The brethren in Cameroons seeing my interest in studying the scriptures recommended me to study further in the above school.

I was a newspaper reporter but in response to their recommendation I had to resign my appointment and come over to Nigeria to study the Scriptures. I had so many family difficulties. My parents being all Catholics threatened to denounce me if I could not go back to the Catholic Church. Despite their threat, I have decided to stick firm to the faith once delivered unto the Saints. I have so many responsibilities to shoulder. One of these is the task of educating my brothers, but I believe God will solve these problems for me.

I am hereby appealing to the churches in Canada through your magazine for help in order to enable me to proceed with my studies.

The church of Christ was established in the Cameroons through the effort of one American, Brother Wendell Broom. In 1957, three evangelists were sent over to Cameroons but their support was cut off, they had to get secular jobs and therefore could only give part time to preaching.

There are at present 7 congregations in West Cameroons. They are found in Victoria and Kumba Divisions, but none in Mambe, Bamenda, Wum, N Kambe Divisions. Therefore, there is great need to spread the gospel to these areas.

I am a native of Big Babanki in Bamenda Province of the West Cameroons, formerly British Southern Cameroons. Extend my best greetings to the churches in Canada. Thanks.

HERE IS A MAN WHO CAN'T SMOKE

Roy A. Davison Sarnia, Ont.

Often those who smoke say, "I would like to quit smoking, but I can't" But there are men who can't smoke, too. And, ANYONE can be a man who can't smoke if he will but build enough love into his life. Consider this proposition.

IF A CHRISTIAN HAS A STRONG LOVE FOR GOD AND FOR HIS FELLOW MAN HE WILL NOT BE ABLE TO SMOKE.

A man who loves God obeys Him and refuses to bring dishonor to His name.

A strong love for God would not allow a man to destroy the temple of God. "Do you not know that you are God's temple and that God's Spirit dwells in you? If any one destroys God's temple, God will destroy him. For God's temple is holy, and that temple you are." (1 Cor. 3:16-17; RSV)

In recent years there has been much added proof that smoking is harmful to the health. But, actually, the harm of smoking has been known for a long time. Recall the term "coffin nails" which has been used as a slang name for cigarettes for many years.

But, even if some person was unconvinced before, recent findings are conclusive. Here is a statement from the Royal College of Physicians, London, as quoted in the Christian Chronicle. "Cigarette smoking is a cause of lung cancer and bronchitis, and probably contributes to the development of coronary heart disease and various less common diseases."

A strong love for God would not allow a man to smoke, and thus destroy the temple of God.

But, in addition, a strong love for God would not allow a man to become a slave of something other than God.

"Do you not know that if you yield yourselves to any one as obedient slaves, you are slaves of the one whom you obey, either of sin, which leads to death, or of obedience, which leads to righteousness." (Rom. 6:16; RSV)

Most smokers admit that they are slaves of tobacco; and, also, that tobacco is not a good master. A strong love for God would not allow a man to bow down to a pack of dried leaves

THE LETTER TO ROME

Number 7

E. D. Wieb, North Weyburn, Sask.

The ninth chapter of Romans begins a new part of the letter. The conclusions reached in the first eight chapters regarding the relationship of law and grace have raised yet another difficulty. Now, the question is advanced, "What is to happen to Israel as a nation?" How does the heritage of Israel relate to the Christian faith? Perhaps this question can best be dealt with historically for it deals with the history of fleshly Israel, but it must also be faced theologically for there is a Divine history diverging throughout the secular history. It is the combination of Israel concerning the flesh and Israel concerning the promise that is the nucleus of Paul's teaching here (see Rom. 9:1-8).

That which is being challenged is God's right to intervene in human history. Paul declares the fact that the Divine history has its basis, not in the deeds of men but in the Divine decree. God shows mercy where He will and witholds it where He will.

The reader of Romans nine might be easily misled into the Calvinistic idea of predestination if he loses sight of the fact that Paul is dealing only with the history of Israel. He is not interested in the eternal future of Jacob and Esau as persons but in the history of redemption as it is revealed in Jacob. Paul sees Pharoah, not as

A PROPHET WITHOUT HONOUR . . .

Blenus Wright, Abilene, Texas

In June of this year, a mature, but young, Canadian preacher finished his work at Abilene Christian College and began full-time preaching. Where? In the northeastern United States.

In August, another young Canadian finished his formal education for the ministry, and it appears, at the time of this writing, that he, too, will establish himself with a congregation in the northern United States.

The actions of these two men, in accepting preaching positions in the States, indicate that the U.S. as well as Canada, is suffering from a shortage of preachers. In the 1962 Yearbook of American Churches, Batsell Barrett Baxter points out that there are 18,680 churches of Christ in the United States, but less than 7,500 preachers, counting part-time, as well as full-time evangelists. Look now, at a more local scene: the city of Toronto, with five congregations. Yet, over the past five years, there have never been more than three full - time preachers laboring at one time in that city.

The preacher shortage is evident throughout Canada and the United States. More and more Canadian men finish their schooling and locate south of the border. Many times they are not wholly responsible for their failure to return to the land of their birth to labor in the Lord's work, and the June issue of Gospel Herald carried a very excellent editorial suggesting an approach to this problem. It is the purpose of this article to extend the thoughts contained therein, and to encourage congregations, particularly elders, to reconsider their methods of encouraging Canadian men back home to full-time preaching.

An all-too-familiar sentence resounds in letters from churches to preachers: "We are looking for someone older with more experience." There's nothing wrong with a church wanting a mature, experienced preacher. Generally speaking, such a church enjoys the oversight of an eldership. But does it seem right that it should demand only a mature, experienced preacher, and leave the young, inexperienced novice to be hired by a small congregation not equipped with elders?

Surely, if Canadian men are to be encouraged back to Canada, elders need to reconsider their demands for an experienced preacher. The ideal situation would include a beginning preacher working beside a veteran preacher for a period of 12-18 months. If the new preacher goes to a mission area at the end of such time, the congregation loves him for the work he can do, and rallies to support him, in preference to someone unfamiliar.

However, such a situation is not always financially possible. But it seems quite possible for churches with elders to be willing to hire a beginning preacher for a given period of time, letting him work under their leadership, in order to gain some experience to be better equipped to labor with congregations who have no elders. One of the largest churches in Canada hired an inexperienced preacher two years ago, yet the situation continues to be satisfactory. This, perhaps, is one method of encouraging men back to a country where struggling churches are in great abundance, where preachers are so badly needed, yet where men "with experience" are the only variety in demand.

Despite this modern world of Telstar, communications frequently break down between potential preachers and empty pulpits. How can Canadian men be encouraged to return home, when many churches do not know who is available? It would seem that the Gospel Herald would be an effective medium for preachers, as well as churches, to advertise their availability to the Canadian congregations.

Canadian men will return home to preach if they can be hired on an ethical and businesslike basis. Several months ago, a bulletin from a Canadian church arrived in the mail of the Canada Mission Group at Abilene Christian College. Scribbled between two mimeographed columns on the inside pages, were the words, "Can you help us get a preacher?" Would the Ford Motor Co. scribble a job opportunity on one of its advertising brochures? Such unbusinesslike practice is unlikely with a firm that values its product. Yet, Christians, engaged in selling the greatest product in the world, resort to slipshod business practices that may result in the hiring of a slipshod preacher.

What could be more encouraging to a preacher than an attractive letter from a congregation, introducing itself, revealing some of its background and present program of work, and indicating the physical details included for the preacher? It is well to remember that preachers like to know as much about churches as churches do about preachers. Letters are often indefinite and slow, and a vague and tardy letter can only generate discouragement.

The topic of preachers' salaries frequently breaks open like an unhealed sore when churches and preachers are negotiating. Dedicated Canadian men returning to Canada will recognize, and accept the fact, that salaries are not as high as in the United States, but their love for lost Canadians will motivate them to return and be content with less than their American roommate will earn. But, at the same time, Canadian churches need to recall that time-worn proverb, "The labourer is worthy of his hire" and realize that a man has sometimes spent four or more years preparing for his job; this very fact entitles him to more earnings than some think him worthy to receive.

In the words of John C. Stevens, Assistant President, Abilene Christian College, "A preacher should be supported adequately and should be able to enjoy some sense of security and tenure in his work . . . In other words, the preacher should be able to concentrate on his work without being forever distracted by personal problems which really should not arise."

REASONS FOR REJECTING THE APOCRYPHA

Donald R. Givens
Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario

The meaning of the word "apocrypha" itself is "hidden, concealed, or secret." It comes from the Greek word apokruphos. The word as we use it today, means the rejected or non-canonical books. Jerome was the first to apply it to all books not found in the Jewish canon. Ira Maurice Price states "The books designated 'apocryphal' are those usually found in the Greek and Latin but not in the Hebrew Bibles." (The Ancestry of Our English Bible, p. 141.)

Most of the time there are listed fourteen apocryphal books. These are: Historical and Narrative; I Esdras, I Maccabees, and II Maccabees. Didactic or the books of teaching; The Wisdom of Solomon, and Ecclesiasticus or also known as the Wisdom of Ben-Syraic. The Religious romances; Tobit and Judith. The so-called Prophetic books; II Esdras and Baruch with the Epistle of Jeremiah. Finally, the Legendary additions; The Editions to Esther, The Song of the Three Holy Children, The Story of Suzanna, Bel and the Dragon, and The Prayer of the King Mannesses.

There are some other smaller, less important additions to our inspired books, but they will not be mentioned. Since so many of our sectarian friends and others wonder why we do not accept these books as inspired, and why we do not teach them as many religious bodies do, I will now turn to a consideration of the many and various reasons for rejecting all of these "outside books."

The New Testament very frequently quotes, and much more frequently contains references to the Old Testament. The Pentateuch, the prophetic books, the psalms and other parts of the Old Testament are quoted in many places in the New. But in all these quotations and allusions, we look in vain for a reference to any of the apocryphal books. Though there are many places where incidents of the apocryphal writings would give good illustrations, no such illustrations from them are found anywhere in the New Testament.

It seems very clear that if the writers of the New Testament were acquainted with them and sanctioned them, they would have quoted from them. They did sanction the whole Hebrew canon as it existed in their time; but they sanctioned none of the apocryphal books, for they never quote them, and these books never formed a part of the Hebrew canon.

Josephus, the famous Jewish historian, gives an account of all the books held sacred by the Hebrews and he clearly recognizes the existence of the apocryphal books but expressly excludes them from the sacred canon. (Consult Origin and History of the Books of the Bible, by C. E. Stowe, pp. 565, 566.) He says moreover, that all the Jews kept their canon free from addition and free from any kind of change whatsoever. No, it is certain, the Jews during and before the time of Christ did not accept the apocryphal books as inspired.

In concluding, I will just list some various reasons for denying that the apocrypha is inspired. There are many and varied reasons, but I will only give the ones which are strongest and merit the most attention:

First of all, these books never had the approval or sanction of Christ or His apostles, or of any other writer of the New Testament. They never thought of them as from God.

They formed no part of the original Hebrew canon, and were not written till after the Old Testament inspiration had ceased and the Hebrew canon was closed.

They were rejected with a majority of the early churches and by the best of the so-called "church Fathers." It was quite awhile before anyone began to accept them as "inspired."

The books themselves, when examined individually, can be proven, each one by itself, to be unworthy of a place in the inspired canonical scriptures.

One of the most powerful arguments against the apocrypha is that they were NEVER quoted in the New Testament as we have formerly stated. They WERE in existence at this time. If Christ and the apostles did regard these as inspired books, it is certainly strange indeed that they never even mentioned them!

Josephus, as I have said, claims they are excluded from the Hebrew canon. Philo, an Alexandrian philosopher, quoted from the Old Testament frequently but never from these books or never does even mention them. Surely if they were inspired he at least would have made some mention of them.

Jerome rejected the authority or the canonicity of the apocrypha. A large religious body among us today accepts the apocrypha and looks up to Jerome as one of their so-called great "church Fathers," yet Jerome himself rejected the apocrypha as uninspired. He knew they were not from God.

Another very important reason for rejecting these false books is the fact that the authors themselves do not always claim divine inspiration. In fact, some disclaim it. These books do not have authors appointed by God.

These books also contain many chronological, historical and geographical errors in them. This alone, if proven, is enough for us to reject them, for the true word of God would contain no errors of this sort or of any other kind. They also, in many places, teach some doctrines which are in direct conflict to the teachings of the Bible.

These apocryphal books contain many silly absurdities which is most certainly not characteristic of the true Word of God.

Finally, these apocryphal books are even self-contradictory. They are self-condemned. They are not the Word of God. May we ever obey the principle set forth in Revelation 22:18, 19 and thus keep the Word of our God pure and undefiled.

WHO IS OVER-SIMPLE?

There are three things subject to sudden change, at least three, which this writer cannot understand: the mind of a woman, the state of the weather, and the views of certain fellow-editors.

The first is lovable if not predictable; the second is tolerable if not lovable, and the third is neither tolerable nor lovable. Of course any failure to love their views will not prevent us from loving their persons.

Brother Carl Ketcherside has been known for years as one of the most vociferous and forceful advocates of an ultra-conservative position in matters of opinion. His name has been used, perhaps unfairly, to designate a party opposed to colleges operated by Christians and "located" preachers. He is now the foremost advocate of a movement to widen the scope of fellowship to a point where it could include some very incongruous fellows. We cannot judge his sincerity in this change. God alone knows for sure. We can examine those principles which he claims to have adopted.

We turn first to the July issue of his paper and read: "One of the most common faults of our day is that of over-simplification. We need to be somewhat wary of those who know all the answers." With this we can find common ground of agreement. However, as we examine several issues of his little paper, we find that he himself is guilty both of over-simplification and an attempt to act as an oracle for answers to some complicated questions. We could overlook this inconsistency if it were a mild one, for who among us has not been quilty of consistency? But we believe that Brother Ketcherside is in grave error on several major contentions.

Notice the extent to which his new concepts of brotherhood lead him: "I regard as my brethren in the Lord Jesus Christ all sincere immersed believers in Him on this whole earth", and again, "Every sincere immersed believer in Jesus Christ is in this fellowship. He enters that fellowship by belief of one concrete proposition and obedience of one concrete act."

This is simple, but not scriptural.

Firstly, such a view places its holder in a position of judging the sincerity of the "immersed believers" before he will fellowship them. Who can do this but God?

Secondly, with tongue in cheek but no malice in heart, we are tempted to say that the idea of one concrete proposition and one concrete act being the sole prerequisites of entrance into the family of God, is the type of concrete thinking which comes from a concrete mind. How could one over-simplify the glorious gospel message to this degree?

On the bookshelf to my left is a book put out by the Watch Tower Society. In it Jesus is called Christ and Son of God. The followers of this sect are immersed after a period of study and service. No, these are not my spiritual brothers although brothers in the flesh.

On the same shelf is a standard history and description of the Baptists. These sincere people are immersed and they believe in Christ. Should I go down to their local preachers and elders and say that I cannot withhold my fellowship from them any longer although I cannot endorse some of their practices? On the basis of the "concrete" terms set down by my erring brother, this would be both charitable and logical. In all likelihood the little church here would soon be gobbled up by the "fellowship" of several large Baptist churches in the city.

It seems likely that most Pentecostal people are sincere. They profess to believe in Christ. Most of them are immersed in water. These people I respect and love for their zeal and sincerity, but they are not my spiritual brothers. Brother Ketcherside will need some good experiences to relate in order to have full fellowship with them.

Space will not suffice for a full examination of the reactionary extremes into which Brother Ketcherside and his fellow-travellers have

TEACHING GOD'S WORD

IN A BIBLE CORRESPONDENCE COURSE "THE CURRICULUM IS 90% TEACHER"

Jule Miller

Article No. 6

When a student enrolls in a Bible correspondence course, one question inevitably comes to mind. "Who is the instructor in charge of this course?" The student will also ask himself, "What is this person like?" "Is he really interested in my soul?" "Am I just another name on a list enrolled in his course?"

In a Bible classroom "the curriculum is 90% teacher." This emphasizes that 90 per cent of the success of the Bible class depends on the preparation and personality of the teacher! We want to point out that the same principle is true in a Bible correspondence course. The student must become acquainted with the teacher in a personal way and this may be accomplished only through correspondence.

When Mr. Brown received his first two lessons in the mail, he was impressed mostly with a letter of "introduction" and "welcome" from the minister of the Southside Church of Christ which offered the course. This letter, which was personally typed and signed, speaks for itself. It said to the student, "The minister took time from his numerous duties to write. He is interested in his students. This course is important because this letter is personally typed and signed."

The letter read:

Dear Mr. Brown:

I am very happy that you are enrolled in our new Visualized Bible Correspondence Course and I am especially delighted to be your instructor.

Along with this letter I am sending you the first two lessons which contain the perforated tests at the back of each. Study lesson one and answer the test. Tear out and return only the two test sheets. While we are grading Test Number One, you may begin studying Lesson Two. We will return your graded test along with Lesson Three, etc. At the end of the course you will receive a beautiful certificate.

If any of the statements in the lessons pose questions, you may feel free to write them in the space provided at the end of your tests. Inquiries are solicited.

We trust that you will thoroughly enjoy this Bible-picture-course and come to a fuller understanding of Christ and His church through your diligent study. Keep the five "visualized" booklets for future reference.

Sincerely in Christ,

The letter of introduction above is the first in a series of letters which must accompany an effective correspondence course. Much of the success of the course will depend wholly on the teacher's ability to touch the prospect's life personally through letters.

When Mr. Brown had studied Lesson One and answered the first test, he carefully checked each answer to the best of his ability. Nervously he sealed the envelope and dropped it in the mail. Would he be proud or sorry when he received this test graded?

About a week after Test Number One was mailed to the church, Mr. Brown received an envelope containing Lesson Three and his anxiously awaited Test Number One. What a surprise! A grade of 93½ and the word "Superior' written in red. But this was not all! A personally typed letter from the minister accompanied Test Number One.

The letter read:

Dear Mr. Brown:

We were pleased to receive your first test and are returning it to you with the superior score of 93%. You have made a good start on this course. Your grade indicates that you not only read the lesson carefully but what is more important, that you have grasped the meaning of what you read.

You will notice on your test that with each correction, we gave you a paragraph reference to the lesson, so that you can easily check back on your mistakes. In addition, we would like to go over some of these statements with you.

TEST ONE — PART ONE

No. 6. is true, because the Book of Acts does give us examples of how to become a Christian. See Acts 2, 8, 16 etc.

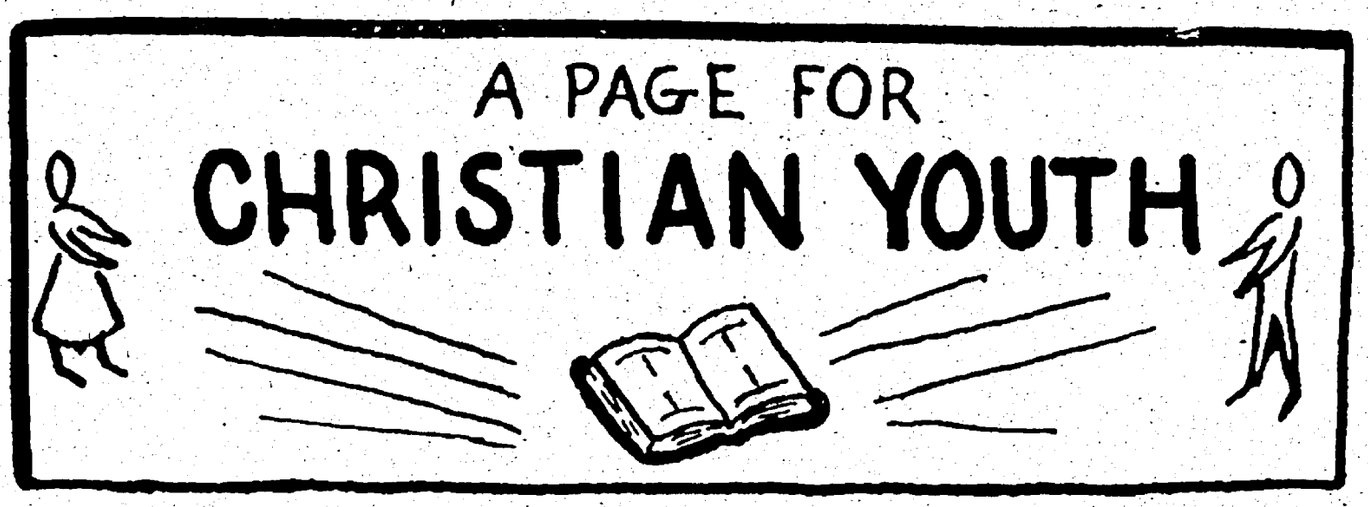
TEST ONE — PART TWO

No. 9. This statement is completed most correctly by (B) because the animal sacrifices of the Old Testament never really took away sins. See Hebrews 10:4.

TEST ONE — PART THREE

No. 8. The correct answer is sin or death. See I. Corinthians 15: 54-57. I am also sending a religious pamphlet entitled "Way of Salvation" which will explain in detail how we may overcome sin and spiritual death through Christ.

This was a fine beginning and we shall look forward to your next test. Do not hesitate to ask questions on anything which may not be clear to you. We are sincerely interested in helping you gain a more complete understanding of Christ and the church He established.



Best wishes, and you may be assured of a remembrance in our prayers.

Sincerely yours in the Lord,

How appreciative Mr. Brown was to receive the warm, encouraging letter. It was almost like the instructor standing right before him—and him alone. He took courage and a deeper interest in the following lessons for each graded test was accompanied by a personal letter from the minister. All the letters actually followed the same general form: (1) Introductory paragraph; (2) Correct answers and instruction, and; (3) Closing paragraph.

(Notice: The first and last paragraphs of the letter to the students may be "form" paragraphs. This means a competent Christian secretary can prepare and type the letters with only the minister's checking and signing them. Further,

WHAT IT MEANS TO BE YOUNG

By Don Deffenbaugh
Cassville, Missouri

The greatest time in one's life is his youth. Vim, vigour and vitality are his greatest assets. Yet, with every advantage in the world, many young people despise their youth. Being young is no disgrace; it is an opportunity from God to fill your life with meaning. To understand what it means to be young will help you fill your life with meaning. What does it mean to be young?

Being young means that a great deal of your life is ahead of you. To fill your life with meaning you should have a chart or compass. The Bible serves as man's compass, always pointing to God. By following this compass you will take the greatest and most honourable step a person can take, "to remember thy creator in the days of thy youth." By being a Christian you will be able to sail the tossing seas of life, and will not drift with the tide.

"Half the wrecks upon life's ocean
If some star had been their guide
Would have safely reached the harbour
But they drifted with the tide."

Are you sailing or drifting on the ocean of life?

Being young means that you must be alert and watching. "Watch therefore, for ye know neither the day nor the hour wherein the Son of man cometh" (Matt. 25:13). An alert young person will watch his thoughts. "For as he thinketh in his heart, so is he . . ." (Pro. 23:7). If you are "on your toes" you will watch your words. "For by thy words thou shalt be justified, and by thy words thou shalt be condemned" (Matt. 12:37). A prepared young person will carefully watch his companions. "Be not deceived: evil communications corrupt good manners" (I Cor. 15:33). A watchful young person will dress properly. "In like manner also, that women adorn themselves in modest apparel . . . " (I Tim. 2:9). A young person must carefully scrutinize his recreation. Remember that, "A merry heart doeth good like a medicine . . ." On the other hand "She that liveth in pleasure is dead while she liveth." (I Tim. 5:6). Between the "all work and no play" and the "eat, drink and be merry" philosophies is the proper place for recreation. Before entering into any recreation, ask yourself these questions. Is this recreation pleasing to Jesus? Will it harm my body? Will it harm my friends? Will it hurt my influence? Does this recreation help me to be a better Christian? Would I like to be doing this when Jesus comes?

I challenge you to use your youth, yea, your life, for the cause of Christ and the glory of God, and to have the courage to stand for the things you know to be right.

OMAGH LABOUR DAY WEEK-END

Beginning Friday evening, August 31, and running through Monday morning, September 3; the Omagh Bible Camp was the scene of the teen-agers Labour Day Week-End. Approximately thirty young people attended the fun-filled and inspirational program. Certainly one of the highlights of the outing was the Sunday morning journey to Barrie, Ontario, where the group worshipped with the newly established congregation in that city. Bro. Clyde Lansdell of Meaford, Ontario, was in charge this year and provided the group with excellent leadership.

WEDDINGS

OSBORNE—LANE

A very beautiful wedding took place at the meeting house of the church of Christ, in St. Catharines, on September 7th, at 7.30 in the evening, when Barclay Osborne and Sharon Lane were united in marriage. Both of these young people are well known in these parts, Barclay having attended Great Lakes Christian College and both were students at Omagh Bible School. They were members of the church in St. Catharines and were interested in the Bible School and young peoples work. Barclay is a student of Abilene Christian College and Sharon will be teaching in Abilene.

Their many friends join in wishing them a very happy and useful life, with prosperity in Texas and a safe return to Canada.

ARE YOU THINKING ABOUT GETTING MARRIED?

J. C. Bailey, Moose Jaw, Sask.

If you are a normal young person, of course you are. Most young people that will read this are normal young people. God made you with a desire to seek a mate of the opposite sex for a life companion. It is nothing to be ashamed of if you are considering seriously getting married.

It could be that you are afraid to embark upon the sea of matrimony because you see so many wrecked homes all around you. These marriages were wrecked because they did not follow the rules as laid down by God. No marriage ever failed when both parties followed God's instructions.

God instructed that a man is to leave his father and mother and cleave to his wife. Then the two would become one flesh. Paul told us this is a great mystery. It is only when two become one flesh that marriage succeeds. Let us do a little thinking.

Are you thinking of marrying someone that is well educated and you have little education? Or have you a good education and the young person you are thinking of marrying has little education? This can be a serious barrier to a successful marriage. Are you marrying, or thinking of marrying, someone that comes from a cultured family and you are, and you know it, most uncouth? Have you been brought up in a home where a premium is placed on good manners and you are thinking of marrying someone that is uncouth in manners and in talk? This, too, can wreck a marriage. If these differences exist and if the two are going to be one flesh then these differences must be harmonized.

Marriage is ordained of God. We should seek to know and to abide by God's law. Are you a Christian? You are thinking of marrying out of the church? Do you realize what this means? Can you do this and seek the kingdom of heaven and his righteousness? Hundreds would rise up and tell you, "Do not do it, it is too risky." How will the two become one flesh? Will the believer compromise with the unbeliever? Will the Christian refuse to compromise with the unbeliever? Will the Christian give in to his non Christian companion? Can you rear your children successfully in a divided home? Sometimes it is done but too often it fails.

In talking with preachers during my stay at Yellowstone Bible Encampment last year, several told me that they will not perform a marriage unless they can first counsel the people being married. May I suggest that every person contemplating marriage get advice from some old Christian, elder, preacher, as to the successful plan to follow.

People sometimes marvel at the fine garden we have. It does not JUST HAPPEN. The soil must be prepared. The seed must be chosen. If the rains do not come from heaven then it comes from the tap. We ask God to bless our effort. So in marriage we pick a suitable companion. We cultivate the love plant and culture it. We ask God's blessing upon our labours in our home and the world marvels at how successful the home is. Gardens do not happen to be bountiful. Marriages do not HAPPEN to be successful. We must be co-laborers with God.

In this article I have quoted no Scripture but I have alluded to several. I want you to know that the God of heaven has not left Himself without witness on this God ordained matter. Find out what the Scriptures teach on this matter before you embark on the sea of matrimony. Do not go to someone that will say what you want to hear but go to someone that will tell you the truth. You know Paul told us that if we having itching ears we will have some tell us what we want to hear.

Have you become a Christian and your companion has not? God has some instruction for you. Learn it, and learn it well, it may save your soul and the soul of your companion.

Did you marry one that is not a Christian? Resolve that your error will not keep you from serving the Lord. Mistakes are very costly but pay the price, as best you can, and seek the grace of God to make your marriage what it should and can be under the grace of God.

drifted. In avoiding the reefs of Scylla they are adrift in Charybdis. They have renounced their former radical views for those of a more radical and dangerous nature.

Instrumental music and denominational machinery are matters of small consequence to them if "one simple fact" and "one simple act" are set forth as a basis for unity. We do not like to see division among the professed followers of Christ any more than our erring brother. The unity which he proposes as a cure for this division is not unity of the Spirit but a move to permit the swallowing of the church by the many-headed monster of denominationalism. "What fellowship hath light with darkness? What concord hath Christ with Belial?"

Christians need to love those of every race and creed. Such a love will cause us to respect every effort they make to do good and to please God. This love and respect will make us anxious to talk to them about our faith and theirs. Such discussions should stop short of fellowship. They should begin with the question of "What Is a Christian?" The answer to this question will not be found in oversimplification even when mixed with pious emotions. This "new" call for unity is neither new nor unifying. —R.D.M.

CAN'T SMOKE

rolled in paper, would it?

And, furthermore, a man with a strong love for God would not waste blessings God has given him.

Jesus spoke of the importance of faithful stewardship in the use of money. "He who is faithful in a very little is faithful also in much; and he who is dishonest in a very little is dishonest also in much. If then you have not been faithful in the unrighteous mammon, who will entrust to you the true riches." (Luke 16:10-12; RSV).

Smoking is an extremely expensive habit. Everything a Christian has is to be dedicated to God. Could one with a strong love for God wastefully burn the blessings of God?

Thus, the first part of the proposition has been proved. The man with a strong love for God is not able to smoke. For, if he smoked he would be destroying God's temple, becoming enslaved to something other than God, and wasting blessings God has given him.

But love for fellow man enters the question, as well. A man with a strong love for his fellow man would not be able to smoke; because a Christian who smokes is clearly a bad influence on others.

He is a bad influence on his own children. This poem was in Lynn Anderson's bulletin, "From House to House." The author was not given.

"A careful man I want to be,
A little fellow follows me;
I do not dare to go astray,
For fear he'll go the self same way.

"I cannot once escape his eyes,
Whatever he sees me do, he tries,
Like me he says he's going to be,
The little chap who follows me.

"I must remember as I go
Through summer's sun and winter's snow;
I'm building for the years to be
That little chap who follows me."

Few who smoke would have their children smoke. Yet, they show them the way.

Parents have a great influence on their children. And Jesus said, "Whoever receives one such child in my name receives me; but whoever causes one of these little ones who believe in me to sin, it would be better for him to have a great millstone fastened around his neck and to be drowned in the depth of the sea." (Matt. 18:5-6, RSV).

Thus, a man with a strong love for his own children will not smoke.

But, also, a man with a strong love for his fellow man will not smoke lest he be a bad influence on the children of others.

A Christian who smokes contradicts the teaching of other parents in the church and makes their task more difficult.

It also sets an unfortunate standard of "grown-upness." How strange that a habit springing from insecurity and immaturity should be considered a symbol of being grown up! A man with a strong love for others would not be able to set such a standard for children to follow.

A Christian who smokes is also a bad influence on those who are seeking the truth. Brother Bailey had a little statement in his bulletin recently. "The devil is helped most by the inconsistant Christian."

Those outside the church question whether we do have the truth when they see Christians smoking. About the only explanation that can be made to such a person is, "Well, strong Christians do not smoke. There may be some of our brethren who smoke, but they are weak in the faith and in love for Christ." What else can be said?

Surely a man with a strong love for his fellow man could not put such a stumbling block in the way of those who are seeking the truth.

So, we plainly see that one who has a strong love for his fellow man is not able to smoke. He cannot be a bad influence on his own children and the children of others; he cannot put a stumbling block before those who seek the truth.

Maybe, then, there are those who cannot quit smoking. But certainly there are others who can not smoke. For if a man has a strong love for God and for his fellow man he will not be able to smoke.

Now this is not meant to cause anyone to despair or to be discouraged. Everyone understands that it is no easy matter to stop smoking. Yet, the above proposition still stands. A strong love for God and fellow man will not allow a man to smoke.

Actually, in this very proposition is the secret for overcoming the smoking habit. When a man increases in his love for God and his fellow man he then has motivation which can stop him from smoking.

This increase of love can come from study of God's word, from earnest prayer, and from choice of will.

Once a man strengthens his love it is no longer true that he is unable to quit smoking. Rather, his love is so great that he is no longer able to smoke.

BRETHREN SOUGHT IN BELLEVILLE-TRENTON AREA

Brother Lawrence Burt and his family will soon be leaving Montreal for Trenton, Ontario, because of an R.C.A.F. transfer. This Christian family is quite anxious to locate other members of the church with whom they can worship. There is good evidence that there are several members in the area, which might present the challenge to a gospel preacher desirous of helping to start a new work. Belleville has a population of well over twenty thousand people, which would make it a likely spot for a new congregation. The Burts should be able to announce their Trenton address sometime in October; in the meantime, all information should be sent to: Church of Christ, 760 - 44th Ave., Lachine, Quebec.

An Ideal Gift Book

Harper's Topical Concordance (Revised and Enlarged Edition) Compiled by Charles R. Joy. Harper and Row, Publishers. 628 pages $8.95 (plus exchange in Canda).

This is an extremely valuable tool for ministers, teachers, students, speakers and writers. It is very different from the older concordances (like Cruden's, Young's and Strong's) and should not be confused with them. They enable you to find Bible verses in which a certain word occurs. This locates for you the verses in which a certain idea is expressed and which will serve as an appropriate text or Biblical illustration.

The best way to show the usefulness of this work is by a few examples. Recently I wanted to preach on the topic -'Discouragement" but could not think of many passages on the subject. But in the Harper's Topical Concordance I found many appropriate verses. Some of them are: "It is enough; now, O Lord, take away my life." (I King 19:4). "Why art thou cast down, O my soul?" (Ps. 42:5). "Hope deferred maketh the heart sick." (Pr. 13: 12). Not only were these and a dozen other helpful verses completely quoted but I was referred to Abasement; Defeat; Depression; Disappointment; Dismay; Failure; Frustration; Gloom; Melancholy; Pessimism. Under these headings I found many other passages of Scripture (all fully quoted) that I could work into my lesson.

Suppose you want to preach on "Honesty." The average concordance gives you only a single reference, for the word occurs only one time in the Bible. But the Topical Concordance gives several suggestions, including such an intriguing one as "Thou shalt not have in thy bag divers weights, a great and a small." (Deut. 25:13).

Another helpful feature of this concordance is the way that subheadings are given under major topics. For instance under "Church" the following are found: "Church, Absence From"; "Church Attendance at"; "Church, Building the"; "Church, Criticism of"; "Church, Divisions of"; "Church, Failure

ETHIOPIA

Support has been promised for two gospel preachers who plan to go to Ethiopia to establish a training school for the deaf. The Grand Avenue church in El Segundo, Calif., will support Bro. Linnie L. Darden and family, and the Faulkner Street and Robinson Avenue church in Conway, Ark., will support the Gary D. Blakes.

Both these men have professional training and experience in work with the deaf in the United States. Both are also experienced in preaching and teaching. A deaf school (there are 35,000 deaf in Ethiopia and not one school for them) is being established on land donated for the purpose by a daughter of the Emperor. This was a condition upon which the missionaries would be allowed to work in Ethiopia. None can go there who do not contribute something to the country's social welfare program.

The two families will join Brother Carl Thompson in Addis Ababa, the capital, where the church has been granted official recognition.

HAWAII

Bro. and Sis. Graham C. McKay of Warrior, Ala., have arrived in Hilo, Hawaii, where they will work with the T. R. Atkinsons in establishing the first church on the island of Hawaii. Five congregations already exist on the island of Oahu.

The McKays will be supported by the church in Martin, Tenn.

TAIWAN (FORMOSA)

More than 1,300 persons are now enrolled in the Bible correspondence course offered by the church in Taipei, Formosa. At the present time there is only one evangelist working among the 11,000,000 people on the island. Brother Robert Frazier, now a student at Freed-Hardeman college who lived in Formosa while in the USAF from 1955 until 1958, plans to return there shortly as a missionary.

BAHAMAS

The St. James Road church in Nassau conducted its first Vacation Bible School this summer, and had an average daily attendance of 112. The Oak Meadows church in Houston, Texas, sent funds to make the VBS possible.

The Nassau church reports that two brothers from the Republic of Haiti were baptized there recently.

SCOTLAND

Brethren in the city of Glasgow, where a three-week gospel campaign was conducted this summer, have given a wonderful report of the meeting and its results in building up the church there.

Some of the statistics on the Glasgow meeting were given as follows: personal contacts, 1937; studies conducted, 135; number of people in studies conducted, 158; baptisms, 25; average nightly attendance, 136; highest attendance, 176 (on the concluding night).

For virtually the entire three weeks there were fifty workers on the job from Europe and America. In addition to these, there were 20 others present from a few days to 10 or 12 days. Ten preachers other than those in the 41 coming by jet together from America gave their support.

The meetings were held in a school located in a housing area. The first three nights the meetings were held in a classroom holding only 100 persons, then the meetings were moved to the auditorium.

On the concluding night of the meeting 18 had been baptized, and before the American workers left for home, 25 had been baptized, and of these, only three or four had any knowledge of the church prior to the Glasgow campaign.

With the congregation in Glasgow now perhaps the second largest in Great Britain, they will accelerate plans to build a building of their own on their properity in the Castlemilk area, the report says. They have several thousand dollars toward the building but will need additional help.

—(Christian Chronicle)

NYASALAND

A two-week Bible study course for Christians conducted on the mission station in the northern province of Nyasaland was attended by 35. The native congregations contributed all but $4.50 of the total expenses of the period of study.

One elderly man bicycled over 120 miles, one way, to attend; four men walked over 40 miles, and most walked or bicycled at least 15 miles.

(Would that our Canadian brethren loved learning about God's Word half so much! These African brethren would find it impossible to believe that many in this country refuse to ride a mile or so in a comfortable automobile to take part in a Wednesday night Bible study).

NIGERIA

The Joe Cross family has been assured of support and operating funds to return to their work in Nigeria. A young farmer and his wife, a polio victim, from Odessa, Texas, have promised $250 a month, and another young farm couple will give a similar amount monthly. Two women members of the Sherwood, Texas, church, gave the Cross family a piece of property worth $3,000 to be sold for travelling expenses and equipment needed on the mission field.

PAKISTAN

Brother Gordon Hogan preached recently in the first gospel meeting to be conducted in Lahore, Pakistan. There were no visible results but many new contacts were made for further teaching.

Bro. Ira Y. Rice, Jr., was to have preached in the meeting but became ill during a meeting in Sillong, India, and had to return to his home in Malaya.

PANAMA

The first native church building in the Republic of Panama (excluding some in the Canal Zone) was opened late in August with a crowd of 125 attending the first service. The building is in the little town of Chilibre.

The Balboa Church of Christ in the Canal Zone, helped the Panamanian brethren erect their building which will seat 75. Total cost of the building and lot were $3,400.

HONG KONG

The M T Tune family arrived in Hong Kong the latter part of July and have settled down to work with the church there. Since there were already a number of members on Hong Kong Island, there was a good crowd for the first services conducted and attendance has been averaging between 25 and 30 each

A PROPHET

"You only get what you pay for" is a term generally applied to retail merchandise, but it also holds true for preachers. A congregation supporting a conscientious preacher with a respectable salary is far more likely to prosper than one which expects a preacher to survive on a mere pittance. When the latter is true, the preacher soon loses respect for the brethren and the work, and everyone suffers. Such a situation is not conducive to encouraging Canadian men back to work with Canadian brethren!

There is a need among the churches in Canada not only to bring back the Canadians, but to encourage others to prepare themselves for the preaching of the gospel. Do you encourage your son to be a preacher? Do you let him come under the influence of dedicated preachers while he secures his schooling at Great Lakes or Western Christian? Do you talk about a Christian college education where the influence of godly men will continue? Only when more boys are made aware of the ever-increasing need for Canadian preachers to fill Canadian pulpits, will the supply equal the demand.

This article has not been written with any intention of belittling the effective work being carried on, at the present time, by many wonderful American brethren across Canada. Indeed, the church would be in a sorry situation without them, and God be thanked for their dedication to work in a foreign country.

Nor has it been written with any intention of paving the way for our return to Canada in the not-too-distant future. It is with a loving and humble spirit that we thank God for our Canadian brethren and the work they are doing, but know that there must always be improvement if the Lord's church is to be the quality organization that He would have it to be. When Canadians can be encouraged back home to preach, the church will have gained another victory in its fight to save the lost!

Watch for "Keeping the Preacher," coming soon.

BOOK REVIEW

of "; "Church, Fellowship of" . . . plus about seventeen more. Forty-four pages (all double columns) are devoted to Jesus Christ and forty-three to God!

In all there are 2,775 topics listed and 33,200 verses are quoted under these headings. Among new topics found in this enlarged edition are many which are prompted by current concerns, such as "disarmament", "integration", "unemployment" and "secularism". There are even appropriate texts for "church holy days" and national holidays. We could suggest some texts that we believe would be more appropriate for some of these days.

This book will not only be useful to preachers but it can be used by anyone for private study and devotions. The various texts found under a single topic offer rich material for meditation and prayer. Scripture readings can be arranged by using, instead of a single consecutive passage, a dozen or more verses related to the same topic.

Remember when you order books from the Gospel Herald you help keep the paper in business.

WEYBURN V.B.S.

The church at Weyburn completed another Vacation Bible School on August 24. The total attendance of 74 was somewhat greater than last year. At least half the students were from homes outside the congregation. A number of students attended from the Airport Congregation. Bro. Cecil Bailey was director of the school.

Plans are under way to inaugurate a more aggressive program of evangelistic effort and social service than in the past. Arrangements are being made for work in the Pioneer Home and in the Public Schools as well as the distribution of literature in public offices which is being presently carried on.

BAILEY RAISES SUPPORT FOR INDIA WORK

As our readers receive this paper brother J. C. Bailey will be engaged in a fund raising tour in the province of Ontario. He hopes to begin at Sault Ste. Marie about September 26 and to be in the Meaford area for the last Lord's Day in the month. Then he will be in Hamilton, Toronto and the Niagara Peninsula during the first half of October. We urge the brethren everywhere to give him a favourable hearing and a generous send off.

Thus far three volunteers have been found to accompany him and his family. They are: Brother Ray McMillan, presently teaching school in Whitewood, Saskatchewan, Sister Betty Belobaba, a teacher in Victoria, British Columbia, and Sister Gloria Bryant a R.N. now working in the Union Hospital in Moose Jaw.

The plan is to stay for four years and then it is hoped to turn the work to a younger man. The only thing to hinder these plans would be the failure of the churches and brethren to supply the support. The sum of $600 has already been given for travel purposes. The Moose Jaw church will continue his support while he travels to raise support.

What will our part be in this work? Let us decide and act quickly. One widow has already given $400. Besides the travel fund there will be need for the money for a Jeep.

The brethren in the east are convinced that brother Bailey is ideal for this work. The work is there and a real challenge. Let us show our faith in God and in these brethren by rallying to the support of this program without hesitation.

LETTERS

Namwiango Mission
Box 22
Kaloma, N. Rhodesia
September 9, 1962

Dear Brethren:

Five weeks ago today we arrived back at Namwiango. We are "settled in" again, and are taking part in the work. It is good to be back, although leaving Canada wasn't too easy. The type of work here seems to be what we are fitted for.

On Namwiango at present (besides ourselves and Sis. Betty Bailey) there are Bro. and Sis. J. C. Shewmaker, their son, Stanford, his wife and two small children, Bro. and Sis. Leonard Bailey and baby son, (Sis. Bailey was Mabel Rogers of Manitoba) Bro. and Sis. Orville Brittell and daughter and Bro. and Sis. George Belcher. Each worker has his or her own place in the work. Some of us do secular teaching as part of our work. All secular subjects in our schools for Africans are taught by African brethren. Most of the Bible teaching is done by the missionaries.

In our African school there are about three hundred and sixty students. We have fifty-five children enrolled in the European (white) school. Our African school in Kaloma has about one hundred and sixty pupils.

The brethren here have asked me to be principal of the European school for the year that Bro. and Sis. J. C. Shewmaker intend to be home in the U.S.A. They have asked me also to be the sec.-treas. for the white school. I have taken over these duties already, although the Shewmakers do not leave until December. Besides this, we have been asked to take over the boarding house for the white girls and smaller white boys. There would be from twenty-five to thirty children, not counting our own five. This responsibility we would plan on taking over when school opens again this January (1963). I have two Bible classes per week with the African students, and plan on at least one more. I take my turn preaching to the two congregations here, and other places as opportunity and time permit. A three-day fellowship meeting has been planned at Kabanga Mission, about fifty miles back in the bush from here. I have been asked to be one of the speakers.

The remainder of our Travel Fund we spent on a Volkswagon "Microbus". It was less than two years old, and had done only about 17,000 miles. It cost five hundred and seventy-five pounds (about $1760). We are very thankful to the brethren in Canada whose gifts made it possible for us to purchase it. It has three seats, and storage space for luggage, and should be very useful in our work here at Namwiango, as it can carry ten or twelve adults quite easily.

The washing machine, purchased by special gifts from the brethren at home, came safely a few days ago. It is a new Maytag — runs on gasoline. The second hand kerosene fridge has not arrived yet. We believe the special gifts will nearly pay for both of these. The total of this fund appears to be five hundred and twenty-nine dollars and seventy cents ($529.70) in Canadian currency. The washing machine seems to have cost $310, including the transportation and duty. The fridge, thus far, has cost $190. There will still be the transportation to pay from Cape Town to Kaloma. As it is second-hand, there should be no duty. I expect transportation to cost fifty or sixty dollars, so the fund should come within twenty or thirty dollars of paying the complete expense for both. Thanks a lot to everyone who had a part in making up this fund. Edna is surely thankful for the washer, and we are both looking forward to getting the fridge as, although "winter" by the calendar, the weather is hot, and food spoils quickly. Houses here have no basements.

Thanks again to the brethren at home for getting us back here, and for promising us support. Pray that our work here may justify your faith in us.

Sincerely in Christ,

Allan and Edna Bell

OUTLOOK, SASK.

Much has taken place since our last report to the Herald. The church here moved into its permanent building in July. We have a lot of finishing work to do inside, and we also plan to build two more class rooms, and install a better heating system. The building we bought is old but in nice condition for its age. Since moving up town we have also started Sunday evening services.

The highlight of the summer was our annual camp meeting. To our knowledge this is the only camp of its type being held so far in the Provinces. The spirit of the camp was more than wonderful, and to those who for various reasons did not come, we can only say you missed one of the best meetings ever held in the west.

Class leaders this year were Brethren J. C. Bailey, Magnar Knutson, Carl Ketcherside, and Ed Benoit. As some will know these brethren, and many more who came do not share the same views on some teachings. However this camp is for the purpose of getting all the Lord's sheep together, and let me say boldly our ways in the past have been wrong. We will never get together by staying apart. The Word says Come Let Us Reason Together. Things we differ on were discussed openly and freely, yet I am proud to say not one word of sarcasm was heard nor was anyone unkind at any time.

We believe more good was wrought by this meeting than we have ever witnessed in a like meeting before. Brethren we beseech you to get behind such efforts, and to support them with your prayers and presence. Brother Gerald Fruzia spoke Sunday afternoon and told how the congregations in Edmonton were seeking to get together, thus we see this earnest desire to unite God's people is becoming wide spread. Surely there are greater days ahead than we ever thought possible.

HERE AND THERE

Niagara Falls, Ontario: During the recent meeting with V.B.S. there was one confession of fault.

MISSIONARY TO FRANCE IN NEED

Rarely in our life are we permitted to be in the presence of men of faith whom we feel would begin to approach the stature of those cited in the 11th chapter of Hebrews. When we 20th century Christians meet them sometimes we cannot quite understand them for the measure of their faith far exceeds our own. One of the greatest men of faith that I have had the privilege to know intimately is Hal Frazier. Quietly, humbly and prayerfully he goes about his God-given task, unknown to most of his brethren, asking no praise or recognition. His reward comes from seeing those whom he has taught grow in faith and teach others. His sacrificial life has touched all of us with whom he has worked and we feel that we are better for having known him.

I have just received word that he, who is now in the States on a speaking tour, underwent a cornea transplant operation last week. When Brother Frazier went to Memphis a few weeks ago the eye specialist found that Hal had already lost complete sight in his right eye and that unless he had an operation he would lose sight in his other eye. The cornea transplant was to save his right eye and the same operation will be necessary on the other eye at a later date.

Brother Frazier will be in the hospital two weeks before the bandages are removed and the results are known but thus far the operation seems to be a success. The doctor made him cancel all speaking appointments because he will be in the hospital several weeks followed by a few more weeks of complete rest. The Frazier family was to sail the first of September to return to their work in Nice, France. However, due to the surgery this will be impossible. Sister Frazier is to return alone with the children as soon as the results of the operation are known. Brother Frazier will remain in Memphis until November when he will be able to make the return trip.

The Fraziers went home to raise personal support for themselves and Claude Francois, a young French evangelist converted in Orleans by Brother Frazier, who with his wife will be working with them in Nice. At the present time the Fraziers have only $230.00 per month support raised. They still need $1500.00 travel fund for their return trip. The faith and confidence in the Lord on the part of the Fraziers are an example to all of us in France. The Fraziers plan to return to their work in Nice whether they have adequate support or not for they realize how badly they are needed; but can we let them do that? Since Brother Frazier was obliged to cancel all speaking appointments how can he raise the rest of his needed support? Why does one who has dedicated his life to the preaching of the gospel have to be burdened with the financial worries of providing for the necessities of his family, especially at a time when all of his strength is needed for the battle with physical pain.

In addition, just before returning to the States the Fraziers took a French boy into their home permanently. He had been left homeless when he was abandoned by his step-father after the death of his mother. The Fraziers are parents of three children, Darrell 13, Shirley, 10 and David, 4.

In spite of the fact that the eye specialist donated his services for the operation the hospital and medical expenses will come to several hundred dollars. Their oldest son underwent plastic surgery in North Carolina shortly after their return in June. They still owe $250.00 for this operation. Who will pay for these operations?

Who will support the Fraziers? Must they abandon the work in Nice because there are no congregations that will provide them with the bare necessities of life? Is it essential for one to travel all over the States searching for support during the few months of so-called rest that he is home? Surely there are churches who will support the Fraziers monthly and help on his travel fund. Surely there are individuals whose hearts have been touched by their need and would like to help them pay these medical expenses.

Claude Francois said to me just a few days ago, "The Fraziers have certainly been tried and proven by their difficulties." Yes, they have been tried and proven to be among the most faithful and spiritual among us. Elders, contact them to let them know of your decision to give the needed monthly support. Would you not show your love and appreciation by helping relieve their financial burden? Write them at Hal Frazier, 1132 Hale Road, Memphis, Tennessee.

EIGHT OKLAHOMANS HELP IN VBS

Eight members of the Sixth and Locust Church of Christ in Sayre have returned from a successful vacation Bible school conducted in Edmonton, Alberta. The group left Sayre July 29 and returned August 18.

Last summer, seven campaign workers from Abilene Christian College worked in Edmonton's first VBS. They averaged 201 in attendance each day.

These workers were not able to return to Edmonton this year so the church in Sayre volunteered to send some of their young people. Don Hicks, local minister, was in charge of the group.

The campaign workers spent two days pre-enrolling students for the school. They received a very warm reception from most of the people they contacted. Besides this, they taught classes in the school.

The school this year had an average of 216 in attendance. Only about 30 of this number regularly attended Bible classes there. A closing program was conducted Saturday morning with 250 in attendance. Three families who were not members returned with their children for the Sunday morning Bible classes and worship. The church in Edmonton has 50 members. Gerald Fruzia, Jr. is the local evangelist. He has been there since April, 1961. The church at Sayre contributes to his working fund.

JOE CANNON MOVES TO OKINAWA

August 4, 1962

Ever since we journeyed to Okinawa to hold meetings last February, the challenging opportunity there has filled our hearts. When we were there, the Okinawan brethren, and the American military church asked us to prayerfully consider moving to the island. Although there are five young Okinawan preachers, the work is still in its infancy and the need for an experienced preacher was emphasized. There are nearly a million people on this island, which is the largest of the chain of 150 stretching from Kyushu to Formosa. The time is ripe to launch an extensive evangelistic program. We will need your continuing support to do this.

The language and customs of the islanders are Japanese. At present it is under American military and civilian jurisdiction, but will be returned to Japan at some future date.

What The Decision Involves

This decision means that we are not leaving the Japanese work. As you know, missionaries face the problem of educating their children. The older they get the more difficult this becomes. We have been teaching our children ourselves by the Calvert Course, and few of them have ever been to a school. Instead of returning with them to Canada or the U.S.A., we have decided to use the school facilities in this part of the world. Schools for foreign children are available in Tokyo and Osaka, also in Naha, Okinawa. These schools are operated by the U.S. Army, but can be used if tuition, etc. is paid.

In order for our children to take tests on August 13, and begin school on the 27th, we must leave right away.

Our New Address

From now on, please write us at C.P.O. Box 495, Naha, Okinawa. Although the military congregation at Ojana is paying our fare, our work will be entirely with the Okinawan Japanese, even as it has been here on the main islands. Therefore we will still need your support, and more so, as we make new adjustments in a strange place. The expense for shipping our goods is being borne by us, but we wouldn't refuse any help.

Fifteen Years In The Ibaraki Work

It is very hard for us to leave after nearly fifteen years in one place. We like to think that we will be missed. I will still remain on the boards of ICC, The Old Folks Home, and the Kindergartens, and I will return to hold meetings from time to time. Naha is just two hours flying time from Tokyo. Workers have been trained, and churches taught to function without full dependence upon me, so I have no fears concerning some work being injured by our leaving. The work of evangelism in the north will be carried on by the Japanese brethren. Through the years a fine, Christian personnel has been trained at ICC, and I feel confident that this good work will continue to progress and glorify Christ, who is the head of the Church, and the Saviour of the Body. Pray for us all.

Yours in Christ,
Joe and Rosa Belle

OUR DEPARTED

NATHAN DAVID JOHNSON

Nathan David Johnson, was born at Rosedene, Ontario and lived in this community most of his life. He was baptized many years ago and was formerly a member at Rosedene, but in later years attended the church at Fenwick. While in failing health for several years he passed away suddenly at his home, on September 6th, in his 69th year.

He was married to Delora Merritt, who survives him, together with two sons and two daughters, Merritt, Fonthill; Earl, Ridgeville; Delora Juhlke, Smithville; Marjorie Garside, Sault Ste. Marie. He also leaves one brother, Preston, Rosedene and one sister, Clara Brown, Boston, Mass.

The memorial service was conducted at the Lampman Funeral Home, Fenwick, with interment in the North Pelham Cemetery. Bro. Craddock assisted at the home and grave.

Charles G. McPhee.

FREDERICTON WORK

This year we have enjoyed more friends to visit us than ever before. They all seemed to realize immediately the need for strengthening the work in New Brunswick. It will require some workers to volunteer their services here for at least a few years as soon as possible.

The Bible school this year was good with more children attending from this area. The high was 32 this year. Jimmie Hargrove, Jewel Martin and Eleanor Pauls all came from a long distance to assist with the teaching. We used two local teachers for the first time this year.

The meeting in August with Walter Rogers again this year was encouraging. Walter used his Magnetic Board very effectively. A total of 12 visitors were present for the meetings, several of them more than once. Walter and his good family drove a long way from Texas. We appreciate so much their sincere and continued interest in this work. Walter has been selected to become dean at N.I.C.E. as soon as he can be released from his present duties at Texas Tech where he has been associate professor.

Something new this year attracted large numbers of people into the display at the Exhibition. We used an Electrical Bible Question and Answer Board. Many times the entrance into the display was crowded. Forty-five names were submitted for the free Bible Course. At least half of these were from the city itself. Our thanks to the brethren at Becton, Texas for making it possible to have this Question Board and also the good meeting this year.

As a result of last year's display we are to show the Gospel Filmstrips to a group of young people at Chipman which is about 35 miles from the city. This will start in October the Lord willing. Pray for this work. It is at a crucial stage. It must not fail.

THE LETTER TO ROME

an example of a man predestined to disobey God, but as an example of God's right or Divine privilege to harden the disobedient. The conclusion reached by the apostle is based upon God's intervention in the historical affairs of Israel. His conclusion is to declare God's right, His freedom to reject a people who had become unfaithful to the promise.

It is apparent from a close reading of chapters nine and ten that Paul's teaching is quite opposite the doctrine of predestination and election as presented by some today. Paul points out clearly that the reason for Natural Israel's rejection is not in a decree from God, but is in Natural Israel's refusal to heed the promise given to Spiritual Israel or, in other words, in Israel's refusal to accept the righteousness of God in their Divine history.

The lesson of these chapters, then, is not that God foreordains or predestines but rather that God intervenes, directs and uses the history of man to bring about His Divine purposes.

Into this theme of God's Righteousness in History, Paul interweaves the concept of Faith verses Law. In chapter ten he declares that man's justification is to be achieved through heart-felt faith in God's faithfulness. Hence the need for Israel to recognize, believe and acknowledge the fulfillment of the Law in Jesus Christ. In Christ, God makes this ultimate intervention in the affairs of human history for, "The Word became Flesh and dwelt among us." This fact Israel has rejected. Why? Because Israel had failed to accept the Word of God. They had become a disobedient, wayward people. In rejecting Christ they had denied God. Israel had rejected God by rejecting his authority and His privilege of directing their history.

What is left for Israel, then? Some of them — a remnant — accepted Christ and so are justified. The others have yet the opportunity to share in the new Israel — spiritual Israel. The conclusion of the matter is found in a series of reversals. Historically the Gentiles first rejected God and the Jews were God's people. Israel, however, rejected God in Christ and then the Gentiles were reinstated as they accepted him. Finally, the Jews also came to salvation.

He will continue to show mercy and forgiveness through Christ to all who, through faith, obey Him.

Thus the doctrinal section of Romans comes full circle. Historically, Paul has shown that God's plan for the salvation of man is complete in Christ and that God in His wisdom has declared His love in the Son whom He has given.

"O the depth of the riches and wisdom and knowledge of God."

TEACHING GOD'S WORD

those using the "Visualized Bible Correspondence Course" may use the "Complete Sentence Grading Key" which furnishes the correct answers and scriptures in sentence form for the second paragraph of the letter.)

Mr. Brown completed the course with exceptionally high grades. The final test was delivered in person by the minister as he proudly presented the certificate of completion. A firm hand clasp, a welcome into the home, a short chat, a baptismal service, a soul for Christ.

"The curriculum is 90½ teacher," especially in a successful Bible correspondence course.

Lord's Day. Other congregations in the city are located on the mainland, and this is the first work on the island itself.

Brother Benedict Wong leads gospel singing for the services, and presently is interpreter for the sermons, but Brother Tune is studying the language daily and hopes to be able to preach in it soon.

The Tunes are the first white family ever sent abroad as missionaries by an all-Negro congregaton. Negro brethren in North Richmond, Calif., support them completely.

A LETTER OF THANKS

Dear Brethren:

Since we have not had the opportunity of writing or contacting the many individuals and congregations who contributed toward our return fund, we, the Knutson family wish to take this means of reaching most of you with our deepest heartfelt thanks. Since returning we have had opportunity of visiting in your midst. Others of you we will, no doubt, still have an opportunity to tell you about Norway and the Lord's work there. And let those whom we cannot see in person remember that we are just as grateful to you for the assistance you gave. If we do not come to see you, it will be mainly because we lack time, opportunity and money, as all know what it costs to travel about.

As we boarded ship in Oslo on June 20th, some 35 friends and brethren were standing ashore waving farewell to us. Two car loads had driven 35 miles to be there. Many gifts and good wishes were extended, but there were also many heavy hearts and tears. It was very hard to leave this splendid group of people behind. Five years had gone by, oh, so quickly; we better understand what the Lord meant, when He said, "that, a thousand years is to Him as one day." However, we are grateful to God, for having had a part in laying the foundation of that work and to know that they will faithfully do their part in carrying the gospel on to the rest of Norway. Much help is still needed in personnel, money and materials. I will be glad to furnish anyone interested, in any way, with the needed information.

Then, too, we wish to share with you the joy we now have, of labouring with the lovely congregation that meets here at 1708 Bayview Ave., in Toronto. We have been here but a short while, but we look forward to a very profitable work together. Toronto is a city with a population of about a million and a half. There are at present six congregations of the Lord's people within the city. So there is much to be done for the Master. My family and I are still in mission work, and we sincerely ask your prayers in our behalf.

In Him,
M. J. Knutson

Sarnia: Ralph Perry will preach for part of the meeting here Nov. 17 and following.

Owen Sound: More than 70 were enrolled in V.B.S. and 49 received certificates for regular attendance.

Griersville: "There were fifty present last Sunday evening for the worship service. This was their first Sunday evening service (except during protracted meetings) . . . . Another preacher is being sought for the Vandeleur and Griersville congregations to take Brother MacDonald's place. Brother MacDonald will be going back to school." The Meaford Messenger

Huntsville: Sixty - eight homes were represented among students in the V.B.S. and 55 of these had no affiliation with the church. So many parents responded in attending the closing program that they could not be seated in the building and it had to be conducted outside. The wiener roast which followed helped to create a feeling of friendship. Brother Dennis writes of baptizing another couple in late August but that they have been pursued by the denominational preacher and will need further teaching.

Sundridge: "Bro. Gordon French of Attica, Michigan will begin a series of Gospel meetings with this congregation on Lord's Day, Sept. 2nd."

Sudbury: Bethel Bailey needs some additional regular support in order to avoid the need of seeking part time secular employment.

HERE AND THERE

Montreal, Quebec: Another Christian family has moved to this area from Toronto and will add to the working force. Brother Davidson has now obtained over 30 subscriptions to the GOSPEL HERALD.

HERE AND THERE

Halifax: "The second vacation Bible school in the history of this church was held July 9-13, with a high attendance of 40. This is an increase of almost 100% from last year. Only one of the children in attendance came from a home connected with the church!

Brethren Hargrove and Lidbury shared the work in a gospel meeting. Attendance was good, with a high of 39 present, and the members attending well. Two men were baptized just after these meetings making five baptisms in the last three months.

This church with 20 members set a contribution record of $95.84 on July 8. There are still $4,700, 6% bonds for sale. It appeared possible that the building might be in use by the end of September. W. Hart recently suffered an attack of appendicitis which will delay a trip to Texas which was to have included a meeting, Sept. 23-30 in Fort Worth.

HERE AND THERE

Twenty - eight were baptized at Ganderbrook Christian Camp, Poland Spring, Maine this year during the six weeks of operation. There were 187 different campers.

Massena, N.Y.: Record contribution of $70.39 on August 19 and record attendance of 43 on August 26. There are now 12 enrolled in Bible Correspondence Course from Massena and nearby. The husband of one of the members was baptized on August 12.

The V.B.S. started with 49 students and ended with 66 crowding the four small classrooms so that teachers had to teach from the doorways. Two girls, part of the adopted family of sister Hotchkiss of Cornwall were baptized during the school.

Niagara Falls, N.Y.: A gospel meeting runs from October 14 to 19. One young man was baptized on September 2.

Michigan Christian College, Rochester, Mich.: Fifth Annual Fall Lectures, Oct. 14-18. Theme: "Merging Our Resources With Christ".

There are a number of copies of last year's Great Lakes Christian College Yearbook "Hemso" on hand which can be ordered from G.L.C.C., Box 399, Beamsville, Ontario at $1.50 each.

GREAT LAKES NEWS

New High In Registration

One hundred and four students enrolled in September for the 11th session of Great Lakes Christian College. This is the largest registration in the College's history. The previous high was set in 1961 with 97 registered on the opening day. A greater increase this year was restricted by limited dormitory space. The record enrollment includes the largest classes thus far in grades 9, 12, and 13. Students are enrolled from Ontario, Quebec, Nova Scotia, Bermuda, Massachusetts, New York, Ohio, and Michigan. A break - down of the registration gives: Grade 9, 30; Grade 10, 21; Grade 11, 22; Grade 12, 23; Grade 13, 7; Special, 1; Resident, 61; Day Students, 43; Boys, 53; Girls, 51. Members of the Church of Christ or preference, 69; other, 35.

THE AUTHORITY OF THE NEW TESTAMENT

Carrel M. Anderson, Oslo, Norway

The question of authority is one of the most fundamental problems which Christianity faces today. The need for authority is, of course, self evident. All religion involves certain ideas or beliefs about God, and conduct corresponding to them. But beliefs may be true or false and conduct may be right or wrong. Man needs to know what is true that he may do what is right. There must be a standard which upholds truth, forbids wrong and commands right.

Is it not true that some kind of authority is recognized in every realm of life? Science builds up its systems. Art has its ideals of beauty. Politics continually seeks to attain to some idea of state. It is true in Christianity as well: there is an authority to be heeded.

The problem is what is the authority in Christianity? Strange as it seems there are three prevalent answers among believers. Some hold to church tradition, others to scripture and still others hold to Christian reason. But only one of these possibilities can serve as final authority. The purpose of this article is to uphold the New Testament as the final authority.

There is no question among believers that God is the authority. He is the ultimate criterion and power of truth and reality. All truth belongs to him and comes forth from him. The disagreement comes in answer to the question how does God make known himself, his mind and his authority to man in this age?

The answer to this question is found only in the person of Jesus Christ. In ages gone by God spoke through his appointed prophets, but now he has spoken unto us through his son, "whom he appointed heir of all things." (1)

The heavenly Father himself made the proclamation of Jesus' authority at the scene of transfiguration. God said, "This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased; hear ye him." (2) Jesus' divine authority was witnessed by his teaching and his works. (3) In addition he forgave sins. (4) Finally, before ascending

THREE IMPORTANT CHANGES

W. F. Cox, Stoney Creek, Ont.

"Be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee a crown of life" (Rev. 2:10). What a wonderful promise! I'm happy God is the promisor. He has never failed in fulfilling His promises to us. Faith in action is the final victory. However, every responsible person who will be welcomed into the Paradise of God, to receive a crown of life, must pass through three distinct changes.

Change of State

Just at this point the Bible says, "Who hath delivered us from the power of darkness, and hath translated us into the kingdom of His dear Son" (Col. 1:13). We are conscious of the fact that in the world there are two well organized realms, the power of darkness, constituted of the unsaved, over which "the prince of the power of the air reigns, the spirit that worketh in the children of disobedience" (Eph. 2:2), and the kingdom of the Son of God, composed of blood-bought saints over which Christ reigns.

In our Scriptural example the unsaved were translated from the power of darkness into the kingdom of God's dear Son. Translation is a passing from one state to another.

KEEPING THE PREACHER

Blenus Wright, Abilene, Texas

"Sally, did you know that Bro. Smith announced his resignation last Sunday?"

"He did! Why is he leaving already? It seems as if he's only been here a year or two!"

Such conversation is heard too often among churches of Christ around the world. Are preachers overly fond of moving? Or is it that some preachers have only a two-year supply of sermons, and must move to a new location for a repeat performance? In most cases, neither idea is correct.

It is time for the local congregation to realize its responsibilities in encouraging the evangelist to stay with the work in that community — not just until he gets the work "on its feet," not just until he succeeds in filling the building — but until he becomes thoroughly familiar with the neighbourhood, and until the neighbourhood becomes thoroughly familiar with him. Then, and only then, can he begin to work effectively as a minister of the gospel of Christ, with a vital message for the whole community.

A working church builds its foundation on love — between the elders and members, between the elders and preacher, between the members and preacher. When these three units work as a team, peace and progress are readily visible. But too often, we as church members forget that the preacher, like ourselves, is a member of God's family, our brother. Let us therefore, work with him, suffer with him, rejoice with him, pray with him. God forbid that we should make his burden heavier, his task more difficult.

How is his task made more difficult? By the fact that he often becomes the church's executive secretary. He generally must attend to all church correspondence, operate the mimeograph machine, supply a part-time taxi service, visit all the sick and the negligent. Some contend that "Jesus went about doing good;" therefore, the more going about, the better. But the editor of Minister's Monthly (November, 1958) suggests, ". . . Let us not load him down with minor matters. Let us not ask him to serve tables, to wrestle with financial problems, to spend his time going from House to house. It is his duty to visit unfortunate people, not because he is a minister or a gospel preacher, but because he is a Christian. Let there be no confusion of his duties. Let the preacher preach. Let all the members of the church visit."

To rid the preacher of petty secretarial duties that often plague his moments, the local congregation would be well paid for its vision if a part-time secretary were hired. Oh yes, that would involve money! But "are we counting the cost, or saving the lost?"

Many preachers are fortunate enough to come already equipped with a secretary in the form of a wife. When such is the case, she is to be commended, and the congregation should be grateful, never forgetting that she has as many responsibilities at home as any other one lady in the congregation. Don't criticize her!

Bro. Norvel Young recently held a series of Lectures on Preaching at Abilene Christian College. He inspired prospective preachers by suggesting that preaching was the "highest, holiest, hardest, and happiest of all callings" but, at the same time, he cautioned against the congregation who expects a preacher to be able to preach a sermon on the spur of the moment — especially after a few years' practice. If the preacher becomes bogged down with too many activities, he must, of necessity, deliver a sermon almost on the spur of the moment.

Herein the preacher loses his effectiveness as a preacher. Consider the audience he must appeal to each Sunday morning: alien sinner, babe in Christ, soldier of the cross, elder, deacon, teacher. No spur-of-the-moment sermon can appeal to all these listeners without adequate preparation — no matter how many years' practice!

Duncan Philips, an authority in the field of retailing suggests, "If you want to run a successful store, get (and keep) good people." A successful church will get and keep a good preacher. Preaching requires studying, and studying requires time. When the congregation makes this time for him, it is encouraging him in his work, and souls are bound to be saved.

Encourage the preacher by an occasional pat on the back after a fine sermon. Remember, " a word of praise is worth more than a raise."

Encourage the preacher by helping to send him to an occasional lectureship or Bible School workshop. In this way, he will have his spiritual battery re-charged, and you, ultimately, will be the richer for having shared his experience.

The congregation's role in keeping the preacher is vital, and cannot be overemphasized; likewise, the preacher's role in working with a congregation for an extended period of time is one which more preachers need to realize.

Effectiveness is not achieved over night. Preachers across Canada with some degree of tenure in their work at one place will testify to this fact. Consider Gordon McPhee at St. Catharines for 10 years; Dan Marshall in Vancouver, beginning his sixth year with a very active and growing congregation; also David Johnson in Jordan, and Roy Merritt in Ottawa, both labouring effectively in these places for approximately five years; the Strathmore church in Toronto enjoyed one of its periods of greatest growth, especially in the area of the Bible School work, while Ralph Perry laboured there for five years. (This is by no means a complete list, but has been used for illustration and example.)

Some preachers in the United States have stayed long, and worked hard at churches, whose growth we would do well to imitate: Ira North at Madison, Tenn. for 10 years; Cleon Lyles at Little Rock, Ark. for 17 years; John Bannister at Dallas for 14 years; Basell Barrett Baxter at Nashville for 12 years; Leroy Brownlow at Fort Worth for 19 years.

UNTIL DEATH DO US PART

Roy Davison, Sarnia, Ontario

"Is it lawful for a man to put away his wife for every cause?" This question the Pharisees asked Christ.

He answered definitely that, before God, a marriage could be broken only on one ground, that being fornication.

We find, however, that the general council of the United Church of Canada which met at London, Ontario during September disagrees. This council decided that Christ was wrong. According to these men adultery should NOT be the only grounds for divorce.

How remarkable that men, who so flatly contradict Christ, should have the audacity to call themselves Christians.

What does the Word of God teach on this topic? Councils of men say what they like. But the true Christian listens to God rather than to men.

Man says, "We'll get married, and if it doesn't work out, we'll get a divorce."

But God says that the marriage contract is binding until death: "For the woman which hath an husband is bound by the law to her husband so long as he liveth; but if the husband be dead, she is loosed from the law of her husband." (Rom. 7:2).

Man says, "There are several proper grounds for divorce."

God says that there is but ONE proper ground for divorce, that being fornication. "And I say unto you, whosoever shall put away his wife, except it be for fornication, and shall marry another, committeth adultery: and whoso marrieth her which is put away doth commit adultery." (Mt. 19:9).

Man says, "If you are divorced according to the laws of the land, and marry again, you do not commit adultery."

But God says that he who puts away his wife and marries another commits adultery. "Whosoever putteth away his wife, and marrieth another, committeth adultery: and whosoever marrieth her that is put away from her husband committeth adultery." (Lk. 16:18).

God's teaching is plain. He who has ears to hear, let him hear.

Many are bold enough to flatly contradict the teachings of the scripture on this subject. But others use shrewder ways to try to nullify God's word. But in the long run they are still contradicting it just the same.

Did Paul Contradict Christ?

One argument used (and sometimes even by brethren) to evade the teachings of God on this point is one which, in effect, would make Paul contradict Christ.

It is claimed that in 1 Cor. 7:15 Paul gives an additional proper ground for divorce.

In this passage Paul says that, when a Christian and non-Christian are married, and the non-Christian leaves the Christian, that the Christian is "not under bondage in such cases."

Some would try to tell us that Paul here means that in such a case the Christian would then be free to marry again, whether there were unfaithfulness on the part of the partners or not. But this could not possibly be Paul's meaning for two good reasons.

First, such a meaning would make Paul contradict Christ. Jesus said "except for fornication." He made a definite statement and allowed only ONE exception. He said any other cause for divorce and remarriage would result in adultery. Christ's words are plain. He makes but one exception. And we know that Paul did not contradict Christ by making another.

But second, a person using this argument disregards what Paul himself says in this very context. (verse 10-11) "And unto the married I command, yet not I, but the Lord, Let not the wife depart from her husband: but and if she depart, let her remain unmarried, or be reconciled to her husband: and let not the husband put away his wife." Paul clearly says that the wife and husband are NOT TO SEPARATE. But if they DO they are to remain single, or be reconciled.

Paul says in verse 39 of the same chapter that marriage is binding until death. Christ said that one who remarries after divorcing his partner for any cause other than fornication commits adultery. Thus, Paul says that if a couple DOES separate (though they should not) that they ARE TO REMAIN SINGLE OR BE RECONCILED.

But what then does "not under bondage" mean in verse 15? It simply means that the Christian will not be held responsible for the SEPARATION in such a case. But, even though they will not be held responsible for the separation, Paul's former statement still applies, that if they separate they are to remain single or be reconciled.

Paul taught as Christ taught: "But I say unto you, That whosoever shall put away his wife, saving for the cause of fornication, causeth her to commit adultery: and whosoever shall marry her that is divorced committeth adultery." (Mt. 5:32).

Does Baptism Legalize An Illegal Relationship?

Of course it does not. But again there are some men who would tell us that baptism in some way legalizes adultery.

For example, suppose there is a woman who divorces her husband for an unscriptural reason. In God's sight she is still that man's wife. But she remarries. According to Rom. 7:3 she is then an adultress. "So then if, while her husband liveth, she be married to another man, she shall be called an adultress."

But suppose that she then hears the gospel, repents of her sins, and is baptized into Christ. All her former sins are forgiven. But does that give her the right to continue in sin? "God forbid. How shall we, that are dead to sin, live any longer therein?"

In God's sight she is even yet married to her former husband. Relations with any other man still constitute adultery. Having been baptized does not change this truth. If the relationship was adultery before the baptism it will still be adultery afterward if it is continued. The blood of Christ forgives sin, but it does not legalize sin.

"Thus a married woman is bound

RFFORMATION IN REVERSE

Among Protestant scholars, the date October 31, 1517 stands out as a pivotal point in religious history. It was on that date that a humble Augustinian hung up 95 theses on the door of Wittenburg cathedral. Martin Luther had no intention of sparking a revolution against Rome. He desired merely to register a protest against certain prevalent abuses in the Roman church. The result is history.

On October 11 of this year, Pope John XXIII called together over 2600 of his bishops to try, among other things, to remedy the divisions which had resulted from the Reformation. He issued an emphatic call to all "separated brethren to come home." His call did not make it clear on what basis such prodigal sons would be received back into the fold. His invitation is based on the presumptuous claim of the Roman church that it is the spiritual home of all professing Christians. In this light. Protestants are heretics and Orthodox believers are schismatics. The authority of the Pope is that of a gracious but stern "papa". The doctrine of his church is the standard by which others are to be measured.

The return of a wayward child to his paternal home is usually a time of rejoicing. The child should be careful that he returns to his true home and not that of a usurper. He should be careful that what he is returning to is not a greater evil than that from which he is escaping. The current call to come back into fellowship with Rome may sound attractive to some. Actually it is an invitation to reverse the Reformation.

Since the day in December of 1517, when Luther burned the papal bull of excommunication against him, the Roman church has become more apostate than ever. Old errors, such as the sale of indulgences, were smoothed over to make them more palatable. New and grievous errors have been promulgated as dogma.

Although the Roman church has largely discontinued the direct sale of indulgences, thousands of pious people of that faith believe that they can gain time off from purgatory by obtaining an indulgence from the church. The Roman church still makes huge profits out of the credulous belief of simple people in the efficacy of indulgences.

The sale of rosaries and other articles to which indulgences may be attached is a source of great income. The Roman writer Davis, in his book Moral and Pastoral Theology (1935) vol. III, P. 426, states this clearly "the scapular of our Lady of Mount Carmel carries many indulgences. It is piously believed that this scapular will save from hell those who wear it till death, and will deliver them from Purgatory at least on the Saturday after death." You can see why any pious Catholic would desire such a fire insurance policy that would get him out of difficulty by Saturday. Who can believe this claim?

At the Council of Trent 1545-1563, many doctrines were crystalized in a way that made the gulf between the church of Rome and others more impossible of being traversed. Several of these, such as that which placed tradition virtually above Scripture as a source of authority, seemed to belong to a deliberate attempt to alienate the Roman church from those who used Scripture as their source of highest authority.

Through the years one doctrine after the other has been added from this fountainhead of error - human tradition. The Immaculate Conception of Mary in 1854 is one such doctrine. In reality, this doctrine is not only foreign to the Scriptures, but was unknown to the so-called Fathers of the early Catholic church. Even such a respected Roman scholar as Thomas Aquinas objected to it. Who wants to be under obligation to believe such a speculation.

In 1870 the Pope of Rome, Pius IX, by threats and promises in the Vatican Council, obtained a substantial majority proclaiming him

TEACHING GOD'S WORD

WHY TEACH?

H. Ralph Perry, London, Ont.

With great interest I heard verbal reports of the wonderful results in Vacation Bible Schools at Sault Ste. Marie, Sundridge, Huntsville, and Sarnia this past summer. These came from various sources and I wondered at the accuracy of the figures. Thus, when the written, detailed report appeared in the September issue of the Gospel Herald, I quickly read it. I was amazed at the results for Christ.

In all of these schools, brother and sister Charles Davison of Abilent, Texas, assisted in teaching God's word to little children and to young men and women. Eighteen confessed faith in Christ and found forgiveness in baptism. It appears that most, if not all, of these were young people in their teens. Here are church workers, teachers, evangelists, missionaries, and elders for tomorrow's church. Four were baptized at Sault Ste. Marie, five at Sundridge, two at Huntsville, and seven at Sarnia.

Compare these results with those of the average gospel meeting. When in recent years have you read of eighteen conversions in four one-week gospel meetings in Ontario? It might have happened, but usually we do not realize such results in special efforts to preach the gospel.

Why were such excellent results obtained in these Vacation Bible Schools? Usually we hear of attendance figures emphasized in reports giving results for vacation schools and nothing stated about conversions. I really don't know exactly why the difference but imagine it might have something to do with the reason for teaching.

Honestly now, why do we teach in Bible school and Vacation Bible school? Perhaps it is because we have been asked to teach. But in accepting the responsibility to teach we should realize that there is a purpose in teaching the Bible. To some it is teaching the facts of Bible organization and Bible stories. To others it is mere keeping of children quiet and busy for an hour or two. However, every teacher should realize that there is a higher purpose than any suggested here.

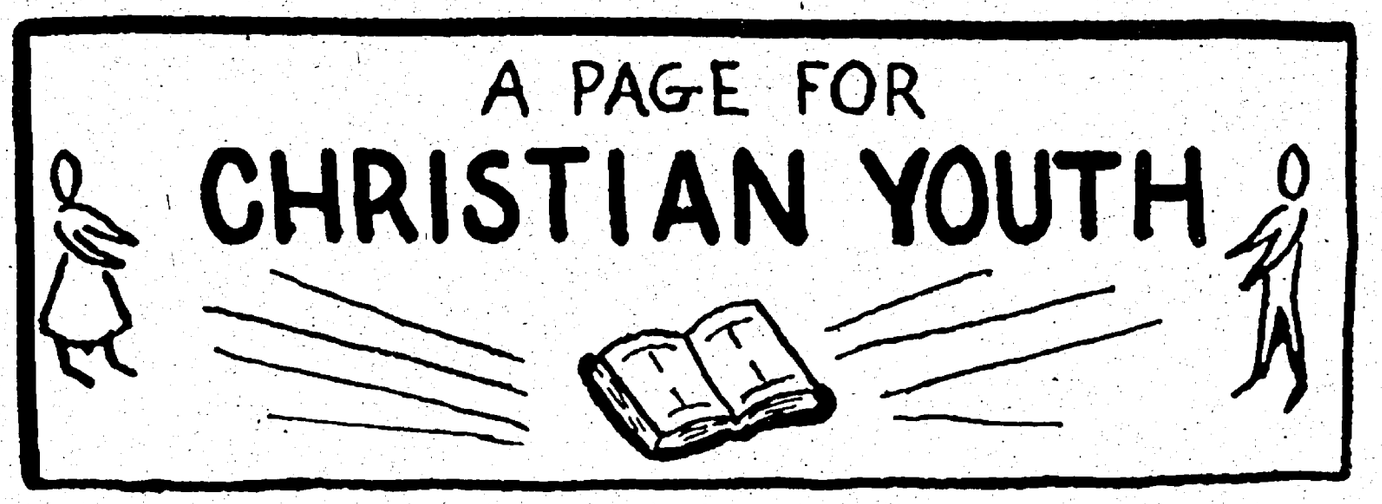
The one great over-all, never-to-be forgotten purpose in teaching the Bible is to lead our pupils to salvation in Christ. Even those who teach little tots must realize that they are soul winners. Lessons dealing with the love of God in Christ, the truth of the Bible, the need of obeying God, God's care for all should be taught not just as wonderful ideas but to plant the seed of the gospel in young hearts. If this is done as the children progress through pre-school, primary, junior and intermediate classes, many will accept Christ as Saviour.

This is teaching for a decision and not just to impart facts and carry on activities with a group of pupils. The great question we must get our pupils to answer is, "What will I do with Christ?" This will mark the turning point in our pupils' lives. What a happy privilege — yes, and responsibility — is ours right here. Teachers of junior high or intermediate and senior classes should be deeply concerned about their pupils putting on Christ in complete obedience. Are you helping your pupils make this initial decision?

This is only the first step. Some of us teachers might think that when we have led our pupils to decide for Christ that our mission is fulfilled. Actually, we have just begun. We must teach for further results in Christian living, and in following God's leading in service. Our task is only partially done until we lead our pupils to decide to serve God in some capacity whether it be on the mission fields of Africa or the slums of Montreal or in the home as a Christian mother; or teaching God's word in Bible school.

Last Sunday it was my privilege to teach a class of eleven junior boys and girls. None of them comes from a church home. The lesson was entitled, "The Babe in the Bulrushes." The aim was to show that as God cared for baby Moses so he cares for us today. It was pointed out that God cared for Moses because he had a great purpose for Moses' life. In application I said God could use the lives of the pupils in some great work such as preaching, going to the mission field, etc. Then I asked if anyone would like to be a missionary. One bright lad put his hand up.

Now I have a real challenge. This desire to be a missionary must be strengthened at every opportunity. Displays, charts, pictures and reports should be used. Perhaps through this I can lead this boy to decide to go to spread the gospel and to a certain field of labour. But I must also keep in mind leading this young lad to obey the gospel.



Do I really want to do this? If I do I will pray that God might use me to lead this lad. "Ye have not, because ye ask not" (James 4:2). Why don't more in my class accept Christ? It could be because of neglect of prayer and work to that end.

Teachers, let us talk to God about our pupils and may we work to bring them to Christ. This is our primary purpose in teaching. Then may we labour to lead them to live and labour for Christ.

OVERFLOW CROWDS IN NASHVILLE MEETING

The new 10,550 seat Municipal Auditorium in Nashville, Tennessee for which ribbon cutting ceremonies were held at 6.30 p.m. on October 7 was first used by Churches of Christ in an eight day gospel meeting. By 7.30 that evening it was filled and overflowed with those who came to the opening series of the meeting in which Willard Collins and Mack Craig are taking the lead. The crowd was capacity plus with 13,000, forcing hundreds to stand or sit in aisles. In addition to this number police estimated that between 5,000 and 8,000 were turned away for lack of room.

The sound of 13,000 voices singing praises unto God and the sight of 13,000 eager faces listening to the message of salvation must have been an inspiration to all present.

CHILDREN, OBEY YOUR PARENTS

By H. F. Thompson, Kingston, Ont.

The greatest responsibility that falls upon parents is to teach their children to be obedient. Some parents are satisfied with varying forms of obedience to a specific command such as half - obedience, just - as - good - as - obedience and "I - will - when - I'm - good - and - ready" obedience. It is regrettable that there are parents (and may God help them) who actually don't expect their wishes or commands to be obeyed. This is a sure sign that they don't love their children, otherwise, they would follow the example of God Himself "for whom the Lord loveth he chasteneth, and scourgeth every son whom he receiveth" (Heb. 12:6).

There are three areas in which obedience is not only to be expected, but also is essential for survival.

1. The Natural Law Area —

(a) Fire burns wood, hay, cloth — and us. Don't touch the hot stove! (b) Stones, trees and even "stars" fall: and so do we. — Watch your step. (c) Fish live under water and we do also — but not so long. Keep back or you'll fall in! The natural laws are those which we must learn early in order to continue living. No normal person will deny the foolishness of breaking these laws of nature which God has put in motion.

2. The Social Law Area —

(a) "That's mine" — The right of possession. (b) "And you can't make me" — Individual liberty. (c) "Let's build a bigger and better fort!" — The need to plan and work together.

Social laws give the individual respect of personal possessions, equality of rights and the desire and freedom to live, plan and work together competitively. To break these laws causes one to forfeit one's rights and priviliges as a private citizen.

3. The Spiritual Law Area —

(a) "For the wages of sin is death; but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord" (Rom. 6:23). (b) "Master, what shall I do to inherit eternal life?" "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart and with all thy soul and with all thy strength and with all thy mind; and thy neighbor as thyself". "This do and thou shalt live" (Lk. 10:25-28). (c) "Not everyone that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven" (Mat. 7:21).

The spiritual law is no harder to understand than either the natural or the social laws. He who spends today in sin, and sinning, shall spend his eternal tomorrow separated from God. When we put God first in everything, loving Him with the fullness of our being, loving our neighbors as ourselves, we shall be doing the will of the Father who is in heaven and we shall enter therein. God has promised; and God never fails.

Part of the will of the Father is found in Ephesians 6:1, where he speaks expressly to the young. This is an Old Testament command included in the New Covenant. It was the "first commandment" that promised something: that you might live long on God's earth. "Children, obey your parents in the Lord: for this is right". It is readily conceded that the scripture implies that children are not bound to obey ungodly demands of parents, but please observe that disobedience of things commanded "in the Lord" positively hinder the transgressor from "doing the will of his Father which is in heaven".

The apostle Peter says of Jesus that he was "an example that we should follow in his steps" (I Pet. 2:21). Was Jesus obedient to his parents? Luke 3:51 says, "and he (Jesus) went down with them, and came to Nazareth, and was subject unto them". Not only was he subject to his earthly parents, but also to his Father in heaven. In Hebrews 5:8-9 we read, "though he were a Son, yet learned he obedience by the things which he suffered; and being made perfect, he became the author of eternal salvation to all them that obey him".

If your parents ask you to do something that you don't think agrees with the Word of God, take the Bible and find the passage that is bothering you. Go to them and talk about it together. You could be wrong. Talking about it will draw you closer to them and to God.

Don't be headstrong and foolish. To disobey the natural laws often means physical death. To disobey the social laws, the laws of the land, brings separation from society by a term in prison. Your eternal salvation depends upon your obeying the Lord Jesus Christ. To obey Christ you must "obey your parents in the Lord: for this is right".

AJAX GATHERING

Saturday, September 29th, the church building in Ajax, Ontario was the scene of a well attended youth gathering. The highlight of the evening was a panel discussion on the theme of "Christian Recreation". Following the talks of the four panel members, preachers from the area, there was a very interesting question and answer period. Some traveled 140 miles to attend the gathering, which gives some indication of the increase of interest in young peoples activities in this area.

IMPORTANT CHANGES

What constitutes the passing from one realm to another? It is obedience to the gospel of Christ.

At this point Paul says this, "But without faith it is impossible to please Him," God. Why? "for he that cometh to God must believe that He is . . ." one must believe in the reality and power of God, then turn to Him (Heb. 11:6).

In turning to God one must change his attitude, "the times of this ignorance God winked at; but now commandeth all men every where to repent." Why? "Because He hath appointed a day, in the which He will judge the world in righteousness" (Acts 17:30, 31).

Confession of Christ expresses the condition of one's heart. "Whosoever therefore shall confess me before men, him will I also confess before my father which is in heaven. But whosoever shall deny me before men, him will I also deny before my Father which is in Heaven. (Mt. 10:32, 33).

Now we are just outside of being translated into the kingdom of Christ. There is now just one more important condition. Christ declares, "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved" (Mk. 16:16). Peter, the man with the keys of the kingdom confirms Christ's statement, "Repent and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Spirit" (Acts 2:38). The saving blood is in Christ's body, to reach the blood which saves us from sin one must pass into Christ.

But how do we get into Christ? "For as many of you as have been baptized into Christ have put on Christ" (Gal. 3:27). "Buried with Him in baptism, wherein also ye are risen with Him through the faith of the operation of God." (Col. 2:12). Now the change of state is complete. (Rom. 6:3, 4).

Change of Character

After one becomes a new creature in Christ he should not stop there but go on to perfection. His hope of eternal happiness is based upon adding the Christian graces. In view of this Paul says, "be not conformed to this world: but be ye transformed." But how? "By the renewing of your mind." Why? That ye may prove, demonstrate, "What is that good, acceptable, and perfect, will of God."

Sincerely believing in the reality and power of God's WORD we appear as new creatures and with new habits. God has given us a new form of worship, so that we serve in the newness of the spirit, and not in the oldness of the letter. The word implies a radical, thorough, and universal change, both outward and inward. It is the "putting off of the old man and the putting on of the new man" (Eph. 4:22, 23).

"By looking into His character record given in the Bible the new man keeps before him the character of Christ. "But we all, with open face beholding as in a glass mirror, the glory of the Lord, are changed in the same image from glory to glory, even as by the Spirit" (2 Cor. 3:18).

The Jews were not able to look on the face of Moses, the Mediator of the old covenant, and therefore he was obliged to veil it; but all we Christians, with face uncovered, behold, as clearly as we can see our own natural face in a mirror, the glorious image of Christ and while we contemplate, we anticipate Him by desire and hope, and apprehend Him by faith, and are changed from the glory there represented, to the enjoyment of the thing which is represented, even the glorious image. Wherein we have a beautiful portrait of our Lord and Master.

By imitating His Spirit, disposition, and love we gradually become like him. Association seems to make people act alike and be alike. The husband and wife seem to grow into likeness of each other by association. Where the interest is mutual and love abounds, the two are as one. So it is with Christ and His followers. They grow like Him, in character and wisdom.

Changed to Immortality

"Receiving the end of your faith, even the salvation of your souls" (I Peter 1:19). Let us be as much in earnest for heavenly and eternal things as we formerly were for those that are earthly and perishing. Paul declares, "If ye then be risen with Christ, seek those things which are above, where Christ sitteth on the right hand of God. Set your affection on things above, not on things on the earth. For ye are dead, and your life is hid with Christ in God. When Christ who is our life, shall appear, then shall ye also appear with Him in glory" (Col. 3:2-4). We shall be changed . . . "in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trumpet: for the trumpet shall sound and the dead shall be raised incorruptible, and we shall be changed" (1 Cor. 15:53).

When that wonderful change comes the saved will be like Christ. "Behold, now are we the sons of God, and it doth not yet appear what we shall be: but we know that, when He shall appear we shall be like Him; for we shall see Him as He is" (1 John 3:2). "For the things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are not seen are eternal" (2 Cor. 4:18) by law to her husband as long as he lives; but if her husband dies she is discharged from the law concerning the husband. Accordingly, she will be called an adultress if she lives with another man while her husband is alive." (Rom. 2-3 RSV).

"What shall we say then? Are we to continue in sin that grace may abound? By no means! How can we who died to sin still live in it?" (Rom. 6:1-2 RSV).

Man often, for his own advantage, sets forth doctrines contrary to the Word of God. But God's word is plain for those who seek to know the truth. "He who has ears to hear, let him hear."

GEORGE CULP

THE AUTHORITY

into heaven he affirmed, "All authority hath been given unto me in heaven and on earth." (5) The apostle Paul gives his witness that Jesus is now seated at the right hand of God in heaven and that he is "far above all rule and authority, and power, and dominion, and every name that is named" and that he is "head over all things to the church." (6)

The authority of God which was given to Christ was in turn, intrusted to the twelve apostles. Jesus, during his personal ministry, gave them authority over unclean spirits and sickness. (7) Before his betrayal Jesus promised the twelve that after his departure he would send the Holy Spirit to them and that he would teach them all things. (8) Paul, the apostle born out of due season, testified that Jesus Christ, not man, had made him an apostle and that the gospel he preached was not from man but that it came through revelation of Jesus Christ. (9)

The teaching of the apostles becomes singularly important to us in the light of such testimony. Since we do not have the apostles among us today, we recognize their writings and recorded sayings in the New Testament as their authority — authority granted them by Christ.

The internal evidence of the authority of the New Testament is overwhelming. The Lord promised the apostles that the Spirit would guide them into all truth. (10) The message preached by them was in truth the word of God. (11) The things written by them were "the commandment of the Lord." Their writings were classified as scripture even during the first century. (13) The apostle John closed his revelation by strictly forbidding man to add to or to subtract from his work. (14)

The truth becomes clear: the New Testament and not church tradition or Christian reason is our rule of faith and practice. To learn to know God, His mind and His will, one must consult the written word. It contains all that the church needs to know in this world for its guidance in the way of salvation and service.

The Bible does not need to be supplemented and interpreted by tradition or revised and corrected by reason. To the contrary, tradition and reason must be corrected by scripture. The proper ground for believing a thing is that God says it in his written word. A readiness to take God's word and accept what it says is fundamental to a saving faith.

Christianity offers salvation through faith in Jesus Christ. Faith in Him is possible only where truth is known. God communicates this saving truth to us through Jesus and the apostles in the New Testament. Paul wrote that our heavenly hope is bound up in "the truth of the gospel." (15)

Christianity is built upon the truth of the gospel. A perverted truth results in a perverted gospel. A perverted gospel brings destruction, not salvation. (16) The seriousness of the matter is seen in the letter to the Galatians. A Jewish element in the congregations was attempting to bind circumcision on the disciples of Christ. Circumcision might seem like a small thing. What difference could it possibly make to the great Christian faith? The Holy Spirit led Paul to recognize that revealed truth was a "oneness." To follow the principle of accepting even circumcision would destroy the unity and it would eventually mean leaving the gospel. So Paul wrote them that if they received circumcision, Christ would not profit them. And furthermore, in their attempt to be justified by the law rather than the pure gospel, they were severed from Christ and fallen away from his grace. (17)

The apostles knew that man's eternal welfare depended upon his faith. They knew that saving faith comes from hearing the word of Christ. (18) They knew that even angels had no right to change the gospel which had been received from above. (19) For them the gospel was the absolute standard. It is just as essential that men today accept this right standard for truth.

To accept truly the authority of the New Testament one must accept serious consequences. It means to believe what it teaches and then to apply its teachings to oneself for correction and guidance. It requires the giving up of all beliefs, traditions and practices which are not grounded in the New Testament. God give all the courage to do just this.

infallible. There was the condition added he was infallible only when he spoke "ex cathedra" or out of the chair of Peter."

In reality, no one knows when he speaks "ex cathedra" and when he does not. Among Roman scholars there are various estimates of the number of times that infallibility has been exercised. These range from three to nine. Truly this is nonsense. The doctrine stands as another reason why Bible-loving people could not be attracted to Rome.

The year 1950 saw another presumptuous doctrine added to the list. In that year it was declared that the Virgin Mary had been assumed (taken up) bodily into heaven in a miraculous Assumption. The fact that the Scriptures were silent on this speculation mattered not at all. It was felt that it would be a doctrine which would exalt the worship of Mary a step higher. This speculation was promulgated on the basis of expediency.

Members of the Lord's church are not interested in the Reformation as much as some people. We are more interested in restoring Christ's church than we are in reforming any human institution. Christians will find this latest call to come home most unappealing. The gulf is too wide and the home is too strange. No, John, you are not our father. —R.D.M.

Book Reviews

Books to be reviewed in this column should be sent to Keith T. Thompson, Box 403, Beamsville, Ont., Canada.

The Final Week. Studies in the Life of Christ, by R. C. Foster, Baker Book House, Grand Rapids 6, Mich. 345 pages, $4.50 (plus exchange in Canada).

This is a book of solid Biblical study and exposition. It is a welcome relief to some volumes that have a little about the Bible and a great deal of human imagination and opinion.

It may surprise you to know that fully one half of the records of the life of Christ are devoted to the relatively brief period of the final week of Jesus' ministry. But in this brief period we have such outstanding events as the Triumphal Entry, the Cursing of the Fig Tree, the Second Cleansing of the Temple, the Destruction of the Temple Predicted, In the Upper Room, In the Garden, the Crucifixion, the Resurrection, etc.

The author discusses these great scenes and gives much background material that is helpful to their understanding. He also considers various ancient and modern interpretations of many events. In so doing he is especially apt at refuting the theories of modernists.

R. C. Foster is Professor of New Testament in the Cincinnati Bible Seminary and this book is the fruit of many years of teaching of The Life of Christ. He is affiliated with the conservative Christian churches.

Women Who Made Bible History, by Harold John Ockenga. Zondervan Publishing House, Grand Rapids, Mich. 239 pages, $3.50 (plus exchange in Canada).

It seems to us that Bible Women have been sadly neglected both in literature and in preaching. While it is true that Bible Men are more prominent, it is also true that Women play a great part in the Word of God.

This well - written book presents expositions on the lives of some of the outstanding women from the Old and New Testaments. Included in the twenty chapters of the book are the following: "EVE — The Mother of All Living"; "RACHEL — The Woman Who Commanded a Man's Love"; DELILAH — The Woman Who Ruined a Holy Man";

GLEANINGS FROM FOREIGN FIELDS

PERU

Brother Glenn Kramar, now of Abilene, Texas, but who formerly worked for a while with the church then meeting in Welland, Ontario, hopes to leave with his wife and children in November or December for Peru, the first missionary from the churches of Christ to enter that South American country.

There is a group of eight Christians, mostly Americans, in the capital city of Lima, including Bro Robert Morrison whom Brother Kramar converted to Christ in New Jersey. The Kramars will begin their work in this city with this nucleus of Christians.

The Kramars are highly recommended by all who know them. They have spent 12 years in various mission fields, the past six in Morristown, New Jersey. When they went there, there were seven members of the church meeting in the YMCA; now there are 75, with an average attendance on Sundays of 130, and the group has erected their own meeting house seating 260.

Brother and Sister Kramar already speak the Spanish language which is essential for workers in Peru. They need both monthly support and travel fund. His present address is 918 Cypress St., Abilene, Texas.

Malaya

Brother Dorsey Traw, missionary in Bangkok, Thailand, preached for a two - week gospel meeting in Kuala Lumpur, capital city of Malaya, which resulted in four baptisms. He also preached briefly in Muar, Singapore, and Klaung. English - speaking Christian workers are needed badly in all of these cities.

PAKISTAN

It is reported by Christians in Pakistan that it is quite likely the government of that country will soon put an end to missionary activity. The government, which has been in the hands of the president, His Excellency Mohammed Ayub Khan, since 1958, has been returned to the hands of the people. Since the country is overwhelmingly Moslem, members of the national and provincial assemblies have become increasingly hostile to "foreign Christians", and it is likely they will be expelled from the country.

If this happens, then the work of the church in Pakistan will have to be left in the hands of the few Pakistani Christians converted to Christ since missionaries entered the country less than two years ago.

HONG KONG

A government building ordinance which prohibits churches and schools from meeting in residential apartment buildings may curtail the privileges the church of Christ in Hong Kong has been enjoying. The ordinance has been in effect for some time but previously has not been strictly enforced. Because of the extremely crowded housing conditions, the government now plans to enforce the law, which states that churches may not meet in any areas designated as residential or commercial. Neither are they allowed to meet in parks or on the streets.

Since there is no land designated for church purposes, the result of enforcement of the law will be that Christians in Hong Kong cannot meet together.

One government officer has stated to Bro. Melvin Harbison, however, that he does not believe they will go so far as to absolutely prohibit the church from meeting, and there is a possibility that land might be released at a later date for religious uses. If this happens, it will be sold to the first buyer who has cash to pay for it. There are no time payment plans in Hong Kong. For this reason, brethren in the city are trying to raise money to have on hand if the opportunity comes to purchase a meeting place for Christians.

GHANA

One year (in October) after Bro. Dewayne Davenport and Bro. Jerry Reynolds entered the new West African country of Ghana (formerly the Gold Coast) to preach the gospel, they report 217 have been baptized into Christ and churches established in 11 different towns. More than 1,000 students are enrolled in Bible correspondence courses, and 12 native students are studying to become evangelists among their own people.

Though they are grateful to God for His blessings on their work, they remember the 60,000,000 West Africans who have never yet had a chance to hear the gospel of our Lord, and beg for more workers to come and join them.

Ten West African nations, most newly independent, have no gospel preachers working among their people: Dahomey, Togo, Upper Volta, Ivory Coast, Liberia, Sierra Leone, Gambia, Senegal, Mali, and Guinea. (Editor's Note: You never heard of some of them? Neither had we, until it was brought unpleasantly to our attention that the Assembly of God church had had missionaries in Upper Volta more than 30 years, and had thousands of converts. We had to look it up on the map to even know where it was. Is anybody else as ashamed as we were?)

NIGERIA

Recently a five-day series of lessons on "The Christian Woman and the Home" was offered by members of the church at Upkom. Teachers were mostly wives of American missionaries, assisted by some of the native Christian women.

Women who came from a great distance chartered trucks for transportation. Others bicycled 40 miles, and some walked 20 miles to attend the classes.

Polygamy is prevalent in the country and the natives are strongly influenced by superstition and "magic". Many of the things taught were, of course, in direct contrast to these things, but the women received the teaching gladly and attendance was larger than at any previous meeting.

GERMANY

Brother Dieter Alten, a native German evangelist, recently completed two gospel meetings in Helsinki, Finland, and Oslo, Norway. In Helsinki average attendance for the five-night meeting was 47, with a high of 50 on the last night. Bro. Alten works regularly with one of the churches in Hamburg, Germany.

CHILE

A recent week - long meeting in Santiago, the capital, resulted in six baptisms.

CANADA SUMMER CAMPAIGN 1962 – FINAL REPORT

Top: 335 present for V.B.S. in London.

We are back in Abilene and ready to start back to school for another year. As we look back over the past summer of work for the Lord, it is with a fond memory and a deep desire in our hearts to return to this type of work in the summer of 1963. We pray that our work has not only been inspirational to us but also to you who have received our reports from week to week. May we be more dedicated to the task of taking the gospel to all the world according to the instructions of the Master.

We cannot fully express our appreciation to each of you who have been responsible for sending us to this field to work but we do say thank you. A special word of appreciation is due to the elders of the Hillcrest Church here in Abilene and also to the committee of deacons who worked with us. We would like to come and visit each one who has had a part in sending us this past summer but know that it will be impossible in some cases. However, for those who are within driving distance of Abilene, we would like to have the opportunity to come and talk to you and show you some colored slides of our work this summer and also talk to you about our plans for next summer.

Some of the results of the summer can be put in statistical form but most of it cannot. Every member of the group has been made to realize the necessity of obeying Christ when he said "Go". Two of the group planned to go into the navy but today are planning to become foreign missionaries. Every one of the boys on the campaign are planning to go into foreign fields to preach the gospel. Thank God for their courage and farsightedness. Who will send them? Will you plan now to send these boys into the fields? They have learned one of the greatest lessons in doing foreign mission work — adapting to the situation — and I hope they don't have to waste their time begging churches to send them.

In London, there was one baptism but many more are studying their Bibles and are very near to obeying their Lord. The word has been planted in good and faithful hearts and in due time will bring forth the harvest. We ask that you pray for Brother and Sister Perry and the church in London that they may continue to 'water the ground'.

Before the Vacation Bible School in London, we have this report from one of the members of the group, "Thursday I spent wearing blisters on my feet delivering pamphlets. The way my feet feel that is about all that happened." Yes, sometimes the work was discouraging but the next week we averaged 304 in VBS. Only six of these were children from homes of members of the church. At the closing programme, 100 parents were present and many of them begged us to stay for another week but our time schedule would not allow us to do it.

Other things that were done to try and interest people in studying the Bible were singing in the Old Folks Home, knocking at over 2,000 doors, distributing about 5,000 pamphlets to mail boxes introducing the church to these homes, having picnics for young people, and going into homes and asking to study with

Such lengths of time enable a preacher to lay a foundation for a lasting work. Contrast this to a situation where a new preacher comes along every two to three years. He's just barely into a program of work and the community life when he decides to move on to greener pastures. Such temporary activity is like spinning the wheels, yet never getting out of the mire.

Effectiveness in gospel preaching is measured not only by the length of time spent in one locality. The preacher must also be effective in his preaching. John Stevens, Assistant President, Abilene Christian College, has said, "The day has passed when a man with little preparation could put a few thoughts together and manage to occupy the pulpit with any degree of success.

"In short, we want good preaching. In almost any congregation today there are men and women with strong educational backgrounds who have heard the best preaching of the day. They are not happy with mediocre preaching. And although we are not preaching just to please the brethren, we all know it is difficult for people to work to capacity if they are discouraged by feeble efforts from the pulpit.

"The gospel preacher today needs to know the Bible first and foremost. But he also needs an acquaintance with many other fields of knowledge, including church history and the doctrines of Catholics, Protestants, Jews, modernists, existentialists, and other theories, philosophers, and all the major religionists who are seeking to win the minds of men all over the world. The gospel preacher needs to be an informed man today in order to show men how Christ is the answer to the problems of mankind just as the Apostle Paul could quote the Athenians their own Stoic writers in his sermon on Mars' Hill."

For a job that assumes these proportions, the preacher must be equipped with tools. During World War II, Winston Churchill said, "Give us the tools and we will do the job." How much greater is the demand for proper tools in the combat of spiritual warfare! Books and periodicals are an absolute necessity for the twentieth - century preacher, for, in the words of Benjamin Franklin, "No man is a fool who takes money out of his pocket and puts it in his head."

The effective preacher who strives for continuous, rather than short-lived success at one congregation will never let his jobs deprive him of time for adequate preparation. For every Christian to whom he preaches each Sunday morning, he uses one man-hour of time; therefore, with a congregation of 100 members, he has used 100 man-hours of time. Conscientious preachers will earnestly want to use this amount of time to the very best advantage!

Jack Bates, Dean of Lubbock Christian College, in an article entitled "Solving the Preacher Shortage," has suggested three solutions for the problem: the establishing of (a) happy relationships; (b) adequate support; (c) a feeling of permanency in one's work. When more preachers achieve this feeling of permanency in their work, not only will the preacher shortage be relieved, but preacher effectiveness will be increased one hundred fold!

INTRODUCING DALE FOSTER, NANIAMO, B.C.

Dale Foster and wife Sharon, arrived in Naniamo, B.C. in September to work full time with the congregation here as they moved into their new building. Three years ago there was only one full time preacher in the province, D. C. Marshall of Vancouver, now with Jim Hawkins in Victoria, Lynn Anderson in Salmon Arm and Dale Foster in Nanaimo, there are four.

Brother Foster grew up in Houston, Texas, where his father serves as an elder in the Jacinto City Church. This church is sponsoring his support. He graduated from Abilene Christian College this summer Magna Cum Laude, with a major in Bible. They were married in 1959 and Sharon worked while Dale was in school. Bro. Foster and Bro. Hawkins both being on Vancouver Island, will be a great encouragement to each other.

AGE AND INFANCY!

CANADA'S OLDEST MEMBER OF THE CHURCH WORSHIPS IN ONE OF NEWEST CANADIAN CONGREGATIONS

Mrs. Sarah E. Johnston, Age 100, Salmon Arm, B.C.

Mrs Sarah Johnston celebrated her 100th birthday, Sunday, Sept. 30. She has been a member of the church since she was 14 years old, and is the oldest living member of the church in Canada. She received telegrams of congratulations from the Hon. Davie Fulton, Minister of Justice, from Prime Minister John J. Deifenbaker and from Queen Elizabeth.

The congregation where 'Grandma' worships is one of Canada's newest, at Salmon Arm, B.C. Two or three families have been meeting here for about four years. Two years ago a building was erected and my family and I moved here to begin regular work. There were then eleven members. Mrs. Sarah Johnston, age 98 was in that number.

During the past two years 25 souls have been baptized here. Several of these have moved and some have not remained faithful, thus our present membership is 27. Attendance Sunday mornings is usually over 35. Grandma Johnston is absent only when providentially hindered.

This summer the history of this congregation was highlighted by a combined VBS and Gospel Meeting, July 8-15 (fifth meeting, second VBS). Bruce and Grace Tetreau, now attending Freed - Hardeman College, worked with us from June 16 through Sept. 17, in a concentrated personal evangelism effort. Sister Johnston prayed for this.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Coil were sent by the church at West Memphis, Arkansas to assist in our meeting and VBS. Brother Coil preached powerfully. Eleven were baptized during the summer, eight during the meeting. Spiritual interest is so very encouraging in this area. Sister Johnston said she had 'never seen the likes of it since the early days'. She is proud of the little band of brethren here, and we are proud of her.

Although Sister Johnston has always tried to be faithful, she has not always enjoyed the fellowship of other Christians. She has lived at various places across Canada, yet most of her life has been isolated from brethren by many miles. Brethren we live in a vast mission field! At present there are only seven congregations in B.C., totalling less than 300 members, with only four gospel preachers.

Through the long years 'Grandma' has studied 'The Book' — but mostly alone. Now it is the joy of her long life to be a part of a congregation, along with the several members of her family that worship here. Most of all she rejoices to see the Lord's cause GROWING! BUT — even now her nearest Canadian congregation is 350 miles away. Within 150 miles of Salmon Arm are four cities averaging over 12,000 population (and many smaller towns) yet, in all of these combined, there are only three members of Christ known.

What will the next century hold? May God grant that none of His children need live in Canada, isolated from the church at the end of the next 100 years. Rather, may the sound of singing fill the land.

HERE AND THERE

Huntsville, Ont.: Plans are being laid for a lectureship during the winter months, perhaps February.

CANADA CAMPAIGN

them from God's Holy Word.

In Ottawa, there was one baptism and again many who were taught the word of the Lord. Hundreds of homes are open to us to go and teach if we just will go and ask for the privilege. In one hour, six workers set up four cottage studies in six blocks. This is in a city that is over 50% Catholic. Yes, we can take the gospel to the world if we will take the time and put out the necessary effort. Pray for Brother and Sister Merritt and the church in Ottawa that they may teach these people.

Five thousand invitations to the meeting were handed out and from this and other methods of persuasion, 29 visitors came to hear the gospel preached in simplicity and love by Brother William Walker of Wichita Falls, Texas.

Our Vacation Bible School in Ottawa was small in comparison to the one in London — 179 average for two weeks. However, this taxed the facilities of the building and we feel that we had a very good school. At the closing programme, 80 parents came to hear their children and to visit with us. Following the VBS we had the opportunity to go back to the homes of the parents and at this time we received a royal welcome at most homes and were able to arrange Bible Studies in some of them.

In looking back, we hope that we will not feel self satisfied but rather that we may appreciate what God has done for us and in turn go to others in the world with a determination that they too shall have an equal opportunity to study and learn God's Will. May we continue to work and pray together and above all "Put the kingdom first in our lives".

In looking forward, we would like to announce our plans to go to North Bay, Ontario in 1963. If you are interested in going or helping us to go, we would like to hear from you.

In Christian love,

Ray Lock

MY BRETHREN FOOLED ME

J. C. Bailey

I suppose that it is now known to every reader of the Gospel Herald that my wife and I plan on going to the province of Assam in India in 1963 to assist with the work of the Lord in that part of the world. This decision was not made without much prayer and much meditation. God has over-ruled in a marvellous way since that decision was made. It is necessary to have money to travel. We thought we could raise $3,000.00 among our Canadian brethren of the total that we estimated would be needed. We figured we would need $4,500.00 for to take ourselves and workers to India. We now have that much money in our Travel Fund and more.

We have been informed that because this part of India is very wet we can only use a Jeep. We now have more than $1,200.00 toward buying the Jeep. Of the total now given to this work, nearly $5,000.00 has been given by Canadian brethren.

Travel money has been supplied by churches and individuals so that up to now we have not touched one cent that was given for the India work.

Tomorrow we turn our Pontiac toward the United States and I am confident that they too are going to respond to this great and open door in a similar way. They have already contributed nearly $1,000.00.

The church at Moose Jaw has carried their own load of doing the work of a preacher and supported me for three months while I am travelling among the churches.

Already churches and individuals are promising monthly support for this work. Yes, my brethren fooled me. They have responded more liberally than I expected and I thank God for it.

I wish we could stop here. My brethren have fooled me in another way. We thought we had workers lined up to go. What we want is two teachers and a nurse. One young man who has dedicated his life to this task will also be able to help with the preaching as it is needed in India. We are happy to introduce to you BRO. RAY MacMILLAN presently teaching high school at Whitewood, Sask.

Brother Ray McMillan

Four other workers that we had hoped would go all have said it will not be possible to go. We know this may have changed before this is in print but we do NEED at the moment a SCHOOL TEACHER who is a faithful Christian. One that can teach Bible and preach on occasion. We do want a Registered Nurse. If no nurse is available then we would like to take another teacher.

Others have expressed a desire to go and after we get on the field we may find that we can use others but this is what we NEED NOW.

WHO WILL GO AND WHO WILL SEND?

KEITH WALLACE ADDRESSES ANNUAL MEETING

Keith Wallace, a member of the Fennel Ave. congregation in Hamilton, a member of the Board of Directors of Great Lakes, and head of the History Department at the Oakville Collegiate Institute, was the guest speaker at the Annual Meeting of the Great Lakes Christian College Corporation. His stirring address pictured the great expansion of educational facilities expected in Canada in the next several years. He urged the Corporation members to realize the challenge of providing at Great Lakes an educational institution that would measure up to increasing standards while beyond this the greatest challenge was to succeed in providing the unique privilege of Christian education for the young people of Christian families. He listed among others the urgent need for securing the proposed classroom, auditorium building, and emphasized that with sacrifice the project was possible.

The meeting received highly encouraging reports: from Fred Smart, a financial statement, from Eugene Perry, an academic report, and from Geoffrey Ellis a picture of progress past, present, and future. The reports emphasized the optimism that, with the Lord's help, the second decade at Great Lakes, begun this year, will see further progress and improvement.

The Corporation members present voted unanimously to return by acclamation the four board members who had concluded their three year terms (shortened by six months by the shift of the fiscal year). The Board returned Brother Oliver Tallman for his 13th year as Chairman of the Board. Brother Albert Bennetts was returned as vice-chairman. Thus the Great Lakes Board for the coming years is: Oliver Tallman, Campden; Albert Bennetts, Toronto; Arthur Walker, Hamilton; Albert Jones, Hamilton; John Whitfield, Owen Sound; Ernest Burdett, St. Catharines; Arnold Conn, St. Catharines; Jim Allcock, St. Catharines; David Johnson, Jordan; Alfred Hartwigsen, Niagara Falls, N.Y.; Mel Stewart, Port Credit; Keith Wallace, Stoney Creek; Geo. Barber, Toronto.

DAUPHIN REPORT

Dear Brethren:

We have much to be grateful for in that we had our good brethren from Oklahoma sponsor the tent meeting and the two boys who came from there for the summer months.

Brothers Gary Burke and Eldon Mimms, were with us three months and we feel that much good was done, and if a team like that could have been here six months there could be a great work done here. From July 22nd to August 1 we had a tent meeting with Brother Roy Lanier and Nephew Brother Jay Davis, Bro. and Sis. Leo Richardson and family, Bro. and Sis. Eddie Baggett who is the song director for Harding College, Searcy, Arkansas and she a neice of Bro. and Sis. Richardson also accompanied them. Churches sponsoring this effort were South west 36th St. Oklahoma City, Eastside Church, Midwest City, Hoffman Heights Church, Aurora, Colorado, Cherokee Hills, Oklahoma City, Newport, Arkansas and Central Church of Christ Norman, Oklahoma. The Central church in Norman has sent their large bus for two years to Dauphin and these brethren have done much to organize this great work along with Bro. Roy Lanier and Bro. Richardson.

We had a five day Vacation School which was attended by an average of 75, only eight of these being church members' children. Bro. Baggett conducted a fifteen minute period before the service each evening in song directing and explaining the meaning of the hymn writer in the hymn and helped much with our singing. Bro. S. Leo Richardson did the preaching in Dauphin's meeting. We did not have large crowds but some good seed was sown during the meeting and afterwards through the contacts from it and V.B.S. and also our booth at the fair. Bro. Burke and Bro. Mimms baptized seven adults from three different families. A young man and his wife who is a social worker in the Dauphin area, are among the new members. A lady and her 15 year old son who were formerly with the Greek Catholic Church but had not been satisfied with that belief for some time were obedient. Then there is a mother, father and daughter of another family.

We are visioning great thngs for Dauphin and it is encouraging to see how well the two young men who were baptized only as the boys from Oklahoma left are doing. We study from a work book for our Sunday morning Bible study and from a different workbook for Wednesday night. Bro. and Sis. James Johnson from Osborne St. in Winnipeg and Bro. and Sis. Dennis Johnson have been out to be with us three Lord's Days to speak to us. Last Lord's Day, Bro. and Sis. Lloyd Jacobs of Manson Congregation were with us accompanied by Sis. Bernette Kirby and Bro. Ronald Jacobs who led our singing. We We were pleased to have 21 at our meeting, a change from 2 families.

The new members have had many enquiries as to their new way of life in Christ, and they have had some opportunities to do their best to show others the Truth.

You can certainly understand that with a need here so great we should have a full time worker, or even someone who is able to speak and be a teacher to take advantage of these opportunities. Also so that we could have a Sunday evening service and invite visitors. The young members take the Bible study Sunday morning and Wednesday evening.

We financed our meeting expenses such as advertising, hall rent, V.B.S. expenses, fair booth rental, ground rental for the tent, etc. We thank our Heavenly Father that young men like Bro. Burke and Bro. Mimms were able to see the power of the gospel when the word is used, and they certainly showed great faith in the Gospel and strengthened our faith thereby.

A small amount of support is available but not enough. We will do our utmost and ask that anyone knowing of support or someone who could get support contact us.

Meetings have been held in Elks Hall 4th S.E. in Dauphin or phone 638-3465 or 638-4383 for information.

Sincerely, Ethel Johnson.

Vancouver, B.C.:

"Members let their light shine recently in a candlelight service — due to power failure after the severe storm. The morning audience was asked to return in the evening, each one bringing a candle as there were no lights, it was emphasized the more who came, the brighter the building would be. The building did glow nicely as each one held a candle during the service.

"The Oakridge church has undertaken a special program to prepare men to serve as elders, hoping to be able to appoint men to this work after the first of the year. There have never been elders in the province in the fifty years the church has been there." — D. C. Marshall

Victoria, B.C.: A series of meetings is announced for November 7-16 with James Burns of Regina as the speaker.

Salmon Arm, B.C.: "Our work continues encouraging. We have cottage meetings in progress every night of the week. Attendance has been over 45 the last four Sundays, with a high of 56." Lynn Anderson

THE ELDERS, CHURCH OF CHRIST

666 A Fennell Ave., Hamilton, Ontario

ST. CATHARINES BEGINS LARGE BUILDING

The church of Christ was established here in the city of St. Catharines, before the turn of the century. Bro. Madison Wright and other members became interested in obtaining a house in which to worship. One was purchased from the church of England. This was remodeled about ten years ago.

In 1928 Niagara Street started and continued to work and worship in the building erected at the corner of Niagara and Manning. For many years it did an excellent job among the young people of the community.

On December 4, 1960 this group moved to Raymond Street and the two congregations became one. This taxed our capacity to the limits. More seats had to be provided and Sunday School rooms altered. During the past year the church has planned and looked forward to a new building.

After much discussion and dickering with the authorities, two acres of land were purchased on Ontario Street, North of the Queen Elizabeth Way. On October 12th the basement was started and on the 17th, footings were poured. Then on the 20th forms for the basement walls were erected, and it is hoped to have the building well under way before the cold weather hinders operations.

The building is of semi-modern design, with an auditorium that will seat between three and four hundred, full sized basement and ample parking space.

Brothers Gordon Stewart and Loney Wallace are contractors and Brother Jim Allcock spends much time supervising the plans. Many of the brethren have responded to the appeal for help. We look forward to the day when the building will be opened and the church can expand and serve the Lord and the people in a way it has never been able to do in the past.

In 1963 the congregation will entertain the brethren at the June Meeting, and we hope to have our meetinghouse ready for the following meeting.

Our lot and building will cost over $90,000, and we trust by selling notes, together with donations and the sale of our present property to take care of the finances, without borrowing from a Mortgage company.

—Charles G. McPhee.

BRANDON, MANITOBA

Dear Brethren:

Brother Walter Hovind has left Brandon for Geneva, Nebraska where he will labor while attending York college at York, Nebr. Before their departure, the church here asked my wife and I to assist them in further evangelical efforts. Although our work is small it shows signs of tremendous potential and growth. We have recently organized a teacher-training series and it is being received with great interest. We have a staff of seven teachers. Next Sunday night marks the beginning of a series of young peoples' gatherings on Sunday night. Yesterday our contribution doubled our attendance.

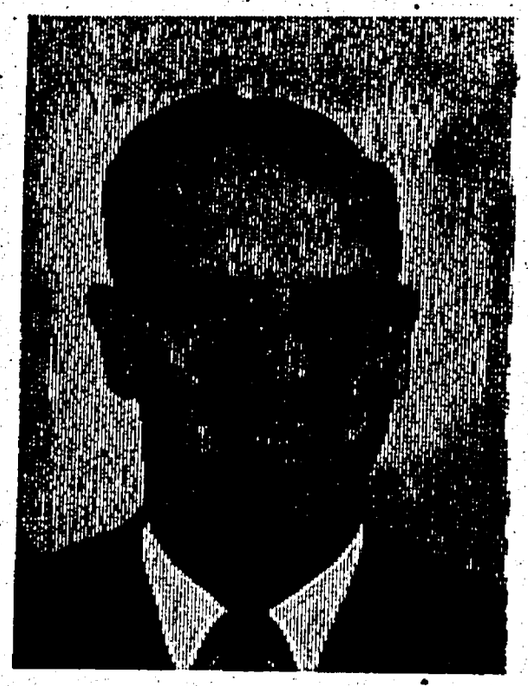
WEDDING

HAMPSHIRE — WHITFIELD

On October 6, in the meeting house of the church at Jordan, Marlene, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Whitfield of Sarnia was married to Fred Hampshire, son of Mrs. Margaret Hampshire of Hamilton.



The impressive ceremony was read by Brother David Johnson, brother-in-law to the bride. This fine Christian couple will reside in Hamilton where he is a member of the Ivon Avenue congregation. Both are alumni of Great Lakes Christian College.

W. WHITELAW SPEAKER FOR SPECIAL SERIES

Warren Whitelaw, was the speaker for Great Lakes' second Christian Emphasis Week series, Oct. 15-19. The purpose of this week at the College is to give special attention to the Christian life at the beginning of the school year to encourage, "Commitment to Christ on the Campus and Continuously throughout Life."

Brother Whitelaw, son of Great Lakes first Business Administrator, the beloved A. L. Whitelaw, is presently preaching at his home congregation, Fern Avenue, Toronto. The lectureship coincided with a Gospel meeting held by the speaker at Smithville, Ontario. Two Great Lakes' students responded during this period, one for baptism, and one for confession of fault. Excellent lessons were received from Brother Whitelaw by the students assembled at Chapel time. The topics discussed were: "What is that in thine hand?"; "The Great Peril"; "Mene, Mene, Tekel, Uphassin"; "I shall not want"; "Choose you this day."

SARNIA MEETING

A three week's meeting in Sarnia, Ontario began November 4th and is to run through November 23rd.

The speaker for the first week is Brother Harold E. Hawley of South Lyon, Michigan (formerly of Port Huron); for the second week Bro. Ray Miller of Omagh, Ontario; and for the third week Bro. Ralph Perry of London, Ontario.

The theme for the meeting is "What Does the Bible Say?" Lessons are at 8 p.m. each evening Mondays through Saturdays.

A PECULIAR PEOPLE

by Ed Byrant, Toronto, Ontario

One of the difficult things about living in the world as a Christian is the constant inclination to be like the rest of the people of the world. Paul anticipated this when he wrote to the Roman brethren: "Be not conformed to this world: but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect, will of God." (Rom. 12:2)

It is no secret that God wants his people to be different from the people of the world. In speaking of Jesus, Paul wrote to Titus: "....he gave himself for us, that he might redeem us from all iniquity, and purify unto himself a peculiar people, zealous of good works." (Titus 2:14)

To be peculiar in the sense Paul meant here is not to become "odd" or fanatic, or something less than human. The way of the world is the way of disobedience, and we are not to walk in it. To be obedient to God and his word simply means that we are not to conform to the world and its ways to be like them, but are to set ourselves apart, and keep the commandments of God.

For example, many people are inclined to ignore or deliberately disobey certain traffic regulations, which were formed for their own safety. Christians cannot afford to do such, for it would conflict with their duty to God, who has commanded them to be subject to civil authority. Let it be noted, however, that when the demands of civil authority conflict with the laws of God, the Christian is released from obeying civic law.

Others may dabble in so-called "petty" offenses, always ready to give what they consider logical reasons for their behaviour. These attempts to justify lawless conduct are usually accompanied by the plaint, "I have done no worse than many others." Eternal fires will be stoked with the souls of many who make this defence.

Honesty is more than a characteristic. It is an attitude of life that can be taught and cultivated from early childhood. It is the virtue which makes one willing rather to do what is right than to try to "get by" with things that others may excuse. It has been said that reputation is what others THINK us to be, while character is what God KNOWS us to be. Honesty is still the best policy.

Should Christians Keep The Sabbath?

Keith T. Thompson,
Beamsville, Ontario

A few months ago, in association with a few other brethren, this writer had the opportunity to engage in several discussions with some Seventh Day Adventists. One of the Adventists was a full time preacher for their group. On each occasion one of us would speak for about forty minutes and then the other was given equal time in which to reply. Then we would ask and answer questions and discuss the points at issue. All was kept on a cordial basis.

It is my conviction that the Lord's church is the only body that can consistently answer the arguments of the Adventists. Other groups think that they are under both covenants and that the Ten Commandments especially are in force today. When that much is granted them, the Adventists do not have much difficulty in showing that men should keep the sabbath today. Many of the arguments that these men presented to us were based on the assumption that we held the same position as the various denominations.

Reasons for Keeping Sabbath

WHO IS ACCOUNTABLE TO GOD?

Roy A. Davison
Sarnia, Ontario

This is an important question.

Some would phrase the question: "At what age does a person become accountable to God?" But this question can not be answered from the Bible. No specific age is given in the Scriptures at which a person becomes accountable to God.

Down through the ages various councils of men have tried to set a definite age at which a person becomes accountable to God. Some have set the age at 12; others at 16; some at 7. But in no case can they give Biblical authority for their decision. And we know that it is wrong for a group of men to set such an age of accountability when the Bible does not authorize them to do so.

However, we, too, sometimes commit the same error by establishing in our own minds some certain age at which we feel a person becomes accountable to God. But if we do this we, too, are going beyond God's word. For in the New Testament accountability is no where based on age at all. Age, therefore, is not the question. At least if we want a Bible answer, it is not.

But does this mean that we are left in the dark as to WHO is accountable to God? Not at all. The Scriptures are silent with regard to any certain AGE at which people are accountable to God. But they are not silent as to WHO is accountable to God.

But if it is not a question of age, by what is accountability determined? Let us see if it is not a matter of KNOWLEDGE.

(Now, knowledge and age are somewhat inter-related. But they are not consistently related. Knowledge varies at a certain age. It is for this very reason that in the Scriptures no definite age is given.)

Consider this proposition: A person is accountable to God when he gains a knowledge of God's law. This knowledge is gained from two sources, by direct revelation, and by nature.

Paul explains very clearly the relation of knowledge to accountability in Romans 7:8-9: "Apart from the law sin lies dead. I was once alive apart from the law, but when the commandment came, sin revived and I died."

Paul makes the point in this context that without God's law there would be no sin. To verify this he recalls that he was once alive apart from law. Before he knew God's commandments he was free from law and thus free from sin. He was alive apart from law. But when the commandment came sin revived, or sprang to life, and he died through sin.

Here then is the answer to our question. He is accountable to God to whom God's commandment has come. Thus, when a person gains a knowledge of God's law he is accountable to God for keeping that law.

Let us examine some examples of this.

First, consider stealing. You and I know that God disapproves of stealing. Infants and small children, however, do not know this. A small child visiting in your home might take one of your children's toys home with him. But he is not in rebellion against God. He does not know that God disapproves.

Later he learns that his parents disapprove of his doing this. But he still is not in rebellion against God until he learns that God disapproves.

But when God's commandment against stealing comes to him, he is then accountable to God for keeping that commandment.

Second, consider disobedience to parents. The infant does not know that God disapproves of his disobedience to his parents. But when a person comes to know that God has said, "Children obey your parents", he is then accountable to God for keeping that commandment.

Then someone asks, "But what of the man who has never heard of God's commandments through His revealed word? What of the pagan who has never seen or even heard of the Bible? Is he accountable to God?"

Yes, he also becomes accountable. God's requirements for man are made known to him through nature as well as by direct revelation.

Paul establishes this in the first chapter of Romans. Speaking of those who did not have the oracles of God, he says: "For what can be known about God is plain to them, because God has shown it to them. Ever since the creation of the world his invisible nature, namely, his eternal power and deity, has been clearly perceived in the things that have been made. So they are without excuse." (Romans 1:19-20).

But does this knowledge of God coming from nature include a knowledge of God's commandments? Indeed it does. Speaking of these same people, Paul, farther on in the same chapter, says:

"And since they did not see fit to acknowledge God, God gave them up to a base mind and to improper conduct. They were filled with all manner of wickedness, evil, covetousness, malice. Full of envy, murder, strife, deceit, malignity, they are gossips, slanderers, haters of God, haughty, boastful, inventors of evil, disobedient to parents, foolish, faithless, heartless, ruthless. THOUGH THEY KNOW GOD'S DECREE THAT THOSE WHO DO SUCH THINGS DESERVE TO DIE, THEY NOT ONLY DO THEM, BUT APPROVE THOSE WHO PRACTICE THEM." (Emphasis mine. R.D.)

Therefore, even men who have no access to God's direct revelation, through nature come to know God's DECREE against the various evils they practice. Thus, they too, when they gain this knowledge, are accountable to God.

As it was with Paul, so it is with all men: "I was once alive apart from the law, but when the commandment came, sin revived and I died." (Romans 7:9).

Thus, from the scriptures we have our question answered. He who knows God's commandments is accounatble to God for obeying those commandments. He who disobeys, sins. And he who sins earns

WHAT COLOR DID HE SAY?

By Allison Parker
Weyburn, Sask.

Did Christ make any distinction of color when He gave the Great Commission? It is an acknowledged fact that the white race has been distinguished by greater achievement. Does this indicate a superior aptitude or capacity in the white race? The general assumption is that the race that has attained the highest stage of civilization is naturally the most gifted.

A distinction has been made between a genius and rising to fame. This helps us to be more fair in the comparison of races. Genius is an in-born aptitude for greatness. Fame is the recognition by men that greatness has been achieved. We cannot compare scientifically the racial capabilities of the black race versus the white race by the relative number of men, or women who have attained fame. A genius may not always obtain fame. Poverty, circumstances, location, malnutrition and many other hindrances may prevent it.

A further aid in securing a proper attitude to other people is a suitable time - perspective for judgment. With the proper perspective we should realize that not long ago many foreign lands were more civilized than we. This point of view motivates us to demonstrate humility as a more practical mannerism.

With our mind fixed on the attainments of the white civilization, it may be flattering to regard proudly our attainment as an indication of superiority. We may enjoy thinking of ourselves as further removed from our first ancestors, Adam and Eve, than are the peoples of backward nations. Aware of the trend of thought with reference to heredity, we may like to think that modern civilization has left its mark for good on the brain structure of the white man. All these things naturally strengthen our racial pride. But it is well for us to realize that modern science has not furnished the proof of one of these assumptions.

What did Peter say in Acts 10: 34-35? "God is no respector of persons; but in every nation he that feareth him, and worketh righteousness is acceptable to him." We have read this statement often and heard it quoted from the lips of others, but still it fails to impress on us the fact that God's interest in humanity is unmarked by any favoritism.

The soul of any accountable person, whether he lives in the slums of a city in India or on the wide open spaces of the prairie west, is of equal value to God. God's promises are given to each Christian alike regardless of color.

Jesus revealed to us that eternity lies ahead of every human being. Our stage of attainment is not fixed and no limit has been set to our growth. Let us therefore be certain that any race of people who are given the chance, who have the knowledge and the will to conform to God's laws of pardon, may advance. Certain nations are making vast advances and if they hold unto the principle of growth as found in Christ, no racial aptitude that we seem to possess will keep them from developing beyond us. "God is able to make all grace abound unto you: all sufficiency in everything may abound unto every good work" (2 Cor. 9:8). This was not said more for the white than for the black.

If we as Christians have channelled our minds as God would have us do, we will respect other nations and be enthusiastic about the possibilities of all mankind. No limits can be set to any race in their growth, in knowledge, in power, in character, and in a wondrous progressive sharing of the life of God.

Some of our brothers and sisters in Christ have decided to spend the next four years teaching the unsearchable riches of Christ to the people of India. It is our earnest prayer that much good can be done. God said "His word would not return unto him void but would accomplish that which he pleased and should also prosper in that thing whereto he sent it" (Is. 55:11).

India is fairly breathing religion. She has produced over fifty various sects of religions with which over three hundred and fifty million people face life and death. India's religious nature has been compared to a veritable Nile which waits only for the skill which can direct the energy and utilize it to transform her into the richest province of Christ's empire.

Can we picture in our minds a great throng of people treading down great stone steps, in order to reach the sacred waters of the Ganges? The aged and young have to step aside to avoid being trampled to death by the immense crowd. The rush is on in Canada, but I'm afraid not in regard to sacred matters.

What about the philosophic temperament of India? For many years she has given almost no attention to science or to history, but she has given her talent to searching out the metaphysical mysteries of religion. This study when applied to the revelation as found in Jesus Christ, should yield new visions of truth in us. India is noted for her capacity for contemplation. When we are asked to kneel for prayer, we almost resent the idea, and find it disturbing to remain in that position while a lengthy prayer is said. Yet, the people of India have learned to remain immobile in peace and quietness of mind, in deep contemplation.

The very name of India recalls to our minds thousands of wandering devotees who have left home and family with little more than a beggar's bowl to spend their lives in pilgrimage. No, we cannot admire their methods of self-imposed discipline, but the capacity for renunciation we can admire. Turn that willingness for self-denial and devotion into constructive channels, and the world will pause in appreciative wonder.

Do we see in the death of Christ the supreme disclosure of God's mind and heart toward an unreconciled world? Every Christian should be convinced that in spite of sin, we can count on God's love to the uttermost. Therefore among life's certainties is the divine and limitless resources for the recovery of mankind in God's plan of

LESSONS FROM THE PAST

As we go to press with this issue of the Gospel Herald, we have much cause for optimism concerning the Lord's work in Canada. Almost every month brings news of new congregations planned or begun. Older congregations are building new buildings, increasing their Bible school facilities, and in general, seeking to be more effective in reaching the people around them with the Gospel.

This new activity must be very gratifying to some of those veterans who kept the light burning in a period of frustration and humiliation. The church in Canada owes a great debt of gratitude to some of these men and women who remained loyal in adversity.

There is a burning desire, especially among the young people, to accelerate the growth of the church by the use of more effective methods and better planning. This is healthy. Some of these younger people have considerable talent for leadership and the education to go with it. They can do great things in the next 25 years if the older brethren will encourage them and work with them.

Our optimism, however, needs to be tempered with caution. Each generation needs to look back to the mistakes of former years in order to avoid similar errors. There is need for us to take note of the causes of digression back before the turn of the century. Much future heartache may be spared if we learn well our lessons from this period.

We believe that a generation is growing up oblivious to the dangers to unity posed by instrumental music and missionary societies. Some are suggesting that too much fuss was made over these innovations and that a more lenient view should be taken toward those who support them. While it is true that the spirit of bitterness too often prevailed in the past in opposing societies and mechanical instruments of music, this does not remove the fact that these innovations were unscriptural. The bitterness is more understandable when we realize that often innovations were introduced amid plotting, intrigue, and, in some cases, outright hypocrisy.

It has been said truly concerning the churches which introduced the societies and mechanical music that these were but the outward expression of an erroneous attitude toward authority. Homer Hailey has expressed the reason for the division between them and the congregations which resisted the innovations very clearly:

> "The two bodies are separated today, not over instrumental music, per se, nor over missionary societies, but as the result of an attitude toward the authority of the Scriptures." (Attitudes and Consequences, p. 246).

One of the main arguments for the introduction of mechanical music was that it would make the service more attractive to visitors. Persons attracted by the good music would then be converted. This argument has proved to be untrue. The churches which use the instrument have over a 50-year period shown decidedly less growth than those which refused this innovation. The missionary societies have not only proved insufficient but the United Christian Missionary Society in the United States has proved to be a center of controversy.

A major division has taken place among two large segments of those who use instrumental music in worship. The U.C.M.S. has been a large bone of contention in this controversy. Presently, the more liberal wing, the Disciples, is building a denominational organization around the Society. An ultimate union with denominational churches is the goal.

We would recommend that every congregation of faithful Christians obtain several good books on the Restoration Movement. Two or three books on the subjects of instrumental music and missionary societies should be available for the members' use. Young men and wo-

A LOOK INTO THE PAST

(The following is excerpts from a letter written by David Oliphant of Picton, Ontario, editor of the "Message of God Will", and is taken from page 136 of the July-August issue of 1865. Appearing under the title 'Travels No. 1" it was in the form of a letter addressed to a Brother Whitney of Hillier. We have access to many similar records and would appreciate the reaction of our readers to our printing more of the same. E.C.P.)

"On the morning of the 18th of March . . . we left Picton for the western part of Canada, at the call of a multitude of fervent brethren.

"After halting at Toronto for some days, enjoying the luxury of the company of relatives and friends, it seemed good to pass over to Smithville, and spend a Lord's day in public labor. The disciples in Smithville are thriving and increasing beyond expectation. Brethren Wardell, Teeter, Felker, Coon, and Hare, with others, deserve notice as active members of the saved family, and they are zealous not only in Smithville but likewise in St. Ann's.

"The Lake Shore, in the vicinity of Beamsville, was visited, and we had strength to engage in the work of the gospel publicly and from house to house. The Culp family, the Parkers, the Thompsons, and others were found to be in average religious health.

"In calling at Jordan, it was with pleasure we greeted brethren Laws, Clark, Clendenan, Thompson, Wills, Crow, and others with them. At different times, three or four addresses were given to the people in Jordan.

"Calling at Gainsboro, acquaintance was renewed with brethren Johnson, Moote, Greenwood, Huntsman, Comfort, Swartz, Bradt, and the spiritual relatives who worship with them. One discourse was delivered in Gainsboro, and a little progress was made in forming the acquaintance of brother Benedict.

"Wainfleet was next visited, and then Rainham. Two addresses were delivered at Wainfleet, and one address in Rainham. To all the disciples of the Lord in both places, much Christian love is sent.

"Two meetings were held near the residence of brother Huntsman, township of Clinton, at which the privilege was enjoyed of hearing brother Benedict, who gave addresses noted for earnest and courageous power.

"As the days of the month of May were drawing to a close, the far-famed debate between Benedict and Miller, in the largest Methodist chapel in Gainsboro, commenced, and proceeded four days. Very many were present to hear who were unable to gain admittance into the chapel . . ."

SHOULD CHRISTIANS KEEP

Adventist preacher gave their reasons for keeping the sabbath today. Here are his main arguments as I understood them:

1. "The example of Christ." He read from 1 Peter 2:21 where it is stated that Christ is our example and that we should follow his steps. Then he gave Luke 4:16 which mentions Christ worshipping in the synagogue on the sabbath day. He concluded that since we are to follow the example of Christ and since Christ worshipped on the sabbath that therefore we should worship on the sabbath. On the surface and without considering other Scripture this sounds convincing.

In reply we said that the Adventists themselves do not do everything that Christ did. For instance Luke 2:42 relates that Christ went up to Jerusalem to observe the passover feast. But the Adventists do not keep the passover today. So their argument proves too much. And what proves too much, proves nothing.

Then we pointed out that Christ was born under the law (Gal. 4:4) and He certainly lived in obedience to it. But Col. 2:14 says that at the time of His death he took it out of the way and nailed it to the cross. So that while Christ obeyed the law he later took it out of the way. Thus we are not required to obey it today.

2. "We are to keep the Commandments and this includes the sabbath." Here our friend read a number of passages that require the obedience of men to the commandments of the Lord. (e.g. John 14: 15, 21). He claimed that these commandments would be the Ten Commandments and that therefore we should keep them today.

In response we pointed out that Jesus gave many commandments which are no part of the Ten Commandments. For example, He said that for us to love one another as He loved us was "a new commandment." (John 13:34) The commands that Jesus said were the greatest were not even part of the decalogue. (Matt. 22:35-37).

3. "The apostles kept the sabbath." Passages from Acts that mention the apostles going into the synagogue on the sabbath day were offered as proof that we should keep the sabbath. For instance, Acts 18: 4: "And he reasoned in the synagogue every sabbath, and persuaded Jews and Greeks."

In reply we read verse 13 of the same 18th chapter of Acts: "Saying, this fellow persuadeth men to worship God contrary to the law." These words comprised the accusation the Jews brought against Paul before Gallio, the deputy of Achia. We said that if Paul had actually been observing the sabbath in accordance with Jewish law that the Jews could hardly have brought such an accusation against him. Then we pointed out that Paul went into the synagogue on the sabbath because it gave him an opportunity to preach to people who believe in God and the Old Testament. The fact that he often preached on the sabbath day does not establish anything about observing that day. He only preached on that day because the Jews could be found assembled at the synagogue on that day. I then offered to come and preach at the Seventh Day Adventist Church on one or more Saturdays and asked if that would mean I was keeping the Sabbath.

In another article we will consider reasons for not keeping the Sabbath today.

IT'S THE GREATEST!

The above title is often used today as a means of expressing that something is really wonderful. For example, if you were to ask a young man how he likes his new car, he would be very likely to reply, "It's the greatest"! There is a danger that we might overlook something very important that is also the greatest — the Christian life. One could hardly find a more descriptive and honest definition of the Christian life than to simply say that it is the greatest. It is greater than all other ways of life because it, and it alone, can bring true happiness, peace of mind, and hope for the future. It is the most wonderful way of life because it came about, not by the planning of men, but by the planning of the Heavenly Father; and was put into effect by the sacrifice of Jesus upon the cross. Finally, it is the greatest in that it is the only way of life that will give everlasting bliss to all who faithfully walk in its paths.

Never neglect the Christian life, for it is the greatest life of all!

I CHALLENGE YOU

by Murray F. Hammond

I have just finished reading a fascinating little volume* in which the author reminded me that Jesus had a sense of humour. I had almost forgotten this cardinal fact about Him, so accumstomed had I become to thinking of Him as the "man of sorrows and acquainted with grief," which, of course, He was; but Jesus had, as well, this other facet to His personality, this capacity for humour. We know that, upon at least two occasions (Luke 19:41; John 11:35), the Son of Man "wept," and, although there is no specific mention of an instance of it, we can be sure that, upon occasion, Jesus laughed. His was the perfectly balanced personality (Luke 2:52), and hence, if He was susceptible to sorrow, He was also given to experiencing happiness; if He was tear-prone, He was also fun-loving.

Jesus could appreciate a good joke, if it was a wholesome one, as well as, and maybe better than, the next man. More than that, He could, and did, Himself tell the funniest jokes. He was the Master of humour just as He was the Master of everything else. The world's great humourists about whom you've been hearing and reading in school — for example, Rogers and Leacock — couldn't hold a candle to Jesus. The fellow who said that "there isn't a joke in the whole of the New Testament" must not have studied the Sacred Volume very closely, for Christ's witticisms abound throughout His wonderful teachings. Consider, for instance, the picture He conjures up in our minds of a camel trying to squeeze through the eye of a needle (Matthew 19:23-24); again, the hilarious portrait He paints of certain ones swallowing camels (Matthew 23: 23-24); and again, His ludicrous reference to a beam or log protruding from one's eye (Matthew 7:3-4); and yet again, His laugh - provoking allusions to such brilliant exploits as placing a lighted lamp under a bushel or beneath a bed (Mark 4:21) and washing clean the outside of dishes while leaving the inside dirty (Matthew 23:26; Luke 11:39). And these examples might be multiplied many times over.

Not, understand, that Jesus ever regarded, or treated, life lightly, for it was a solemn errand upon which He had come from Heaven to earth. He was here on serious business. There is nothing funny about sin and pain and death. But Jesus was not above using humour both as a device with which to arrest the attention of His listeners and as a weapon of sarcasm with which to expose and combat error of various kinds. In other words, Jesus sometimes employed humour as a tool in His APPROACH to dealing with the serious.

Now for the application. I CHALLENGE YOU, THE YOUTH OF THE CHURCH, TO RETAIN YOUR SENSES OF HUMOUR. You're going to need them! For, if present trends continue, the indications are that, in your time, there will be, in the world, more distrust and cynicism, more unbelief and hatred, than ever before. And if you are to remain sane in so wicked and hostile a climate, then you will have to be able to laugh in the face of it. I do not mean to suggest, of course, that you should dismiss life's unpleasantries with a mere giggle, for Christians are to be sober realists who meet the issues and challenges of life squarely. Rather, what I am suggesting is, that if you will only complement your faith with the appropriate touch of good humour, then you will be in the possession of an ideal combination to aid you in a sane and balanced approach to your treatment of life's unpleasantries.

"To every thing there is a season, and a time to every purpose under the heaven . . . A time to weep, and a time to laugh . . ."

HEAVEN

by W. F. Cox, Stoney Creek, Ont.

"For we know that if our earthly house of this tabernacle were dissolved, we have a building of God, a house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens" (2 Cor. 5:1). Verse 8 says "we are confident, I say, and willing rather to be absent from the body, and to be present with the Lord."

In building a material house the contractor has many restrictions to consider. For instance, the proper lot on the survey, certain dimensions, the right materials, and other restrictions as to the cost of the house, etc.

In this heavenly home only one restriction is required — purity of character. "Blessed are the pure in heart: for they shall see God (Matt. 5:8). Only those who "Lay aside every weight, and the sin which does so easily beset us," are acceptable. (Heb. 12:1, 2). Only those whose names "are written in the Lamb's Book of Life" (Rev. 21:15) can qualify.

But think of this wonderful place to which we are invited to go. This is a twelve thousand - furlong heaven, God's home, the ideal dwelling place for the soul (Rev. 21:10-25). We are happy for the fact that any responsible person can go there. No one can go there with his present sinful record against him and no one can change his past record. If we are responsible beings, we have sinned in the past, "for all have sinned, and come short of the glory of God" (Rom. 3:23), and no man can change his past.

You cannot change the trip you made yesterday. You cannot change a word you said yesterday. No man can change his past, but Jesus can take it out of the way. He can blot it out, "though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow: though they be red like crimson, they shall be as wool" (Isa. 1:18).

"Being justified freely by His grace through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus: Whom God hath set forth to be a propitiation through faith in His blood, to declare His righteousness for the remission of sins that are past, through the forebearance of God" (Rom. 3:24, 25). Again, "Who hath delivered us from the power of darkness, and hath translated us into the kingdom of His dear Son: in whom we have redemption through His blood, even the forgiveness of sins" (Col. 1: 13, 14).

Once again, "But if we walk in the light, as He is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Jesus Christ His Son cleanseth us from all sins" (1 Jno. 1:7). To walk in the light is to follow the directions given in the Book of God. It is to be obedient to every condition of the gospel which is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth.

Right now, Christ is in heaven seated at the right hand of the Father. He is there for the purpose of preparing mansions for God's children. He says He is coming back to take us to that beautiful home. "In my Father's house are many mansions: if it were not so, I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you." (Jno. 14:2). "For the Lord himself shall descend from heaven with a shout, with the voice of the archangel, and with the trump of God: and the dead in Christ shall rise first: Then we which are alive and remain shall be caught up together with them in the clouds, to meet the Lord in the air: and so shall we ever be with the Lord" (1 Thess. 4:16, 17).

We read in the closing book of the Bible, written by inspiration, by the last living apostle, in the last days, of the last speech he ever made: "Blessed are they that do His commandments, that they may have right to the tree of Life, and may enter in through the gates into the city." (Rev. 22:14).

"Earth hold no treasures but perish with using,
However precious they be;
Yet there's a country to which I am going,
Heaven holds all to me.

Out on the hill of that wonderful country,
Happy, contended and free;
Loved ones are waiting and watching my coming,
Heaven holds all to me.

Why should I long for the world with its sorrows,
When in that home o'er the sea,
Millions are singing the wonderful story,
Heaven holds all to me.

Heaven holds all to me,
Brighter its glory will be;
Joy without measure will be my treasure,
Heaven holds all to me."

Yes, the Lord is coming to take us to that home, where we are invited to spend eternity with the Lord. There are conditions to meet, and we must meet the terms of those conditions. The conditions are plain, and all of us can understand them.

WHAT COLOR DID HE SAY?

I believe it is this conviction that has encouraged our fellow Christians to go to India.

Paul could no more keep silent about this great conviction than could Jeremiah keep God's word in his heart unspoken to people who never heard it. "If I say I will not make mention of him, nor speak any more in his name then there is in my heart as it were a burning fire shut up in my bones and I am weary with forbearing, and I cannot contain" (Jer. 20:9). Paul said, "I am debtor to Greeks and to barbarians, both to the wise and to the foolish. So as much as in me is, I am ready to preach the gospel to you also that are in Rome."

Why did he say this? "For I am not ashamed of the gospel, for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth; to the Jew first, and also the Greek." (Rom. 1:14 and 16).

May God's richest blessing be upon you all.

A PECULIAR PEOPLE

At the other end of the matter, the dishonest person finds his problems complicate themselves. A single dishonest act may, in order to avoid detection, require that he tell a halsehood to cover it. This, in turn, leads to more involved lying to further conceal the deception. The poet truly described the dilemma when he penned: "Oh, what a tangled web we weave, when first we practice to deceive."

Most of us have a certain amount of native honesty which will accuse us when we venture astray. Some call it "conscience", but by whatever name you know it, it is the still, small voice that stirs within us when we make a wrong move. We may often succeed in concealing our lapse from those around us, but we cannot hide it from ourselves, nor can we hide it from God.

As a case in point, let us imagine that you are in a busy store. You have made your purchases, and are at the check-out counter. The clerk totals up your bill, announces the frightening result, and you hand over some money. You have given her a ten-dollar bill, but in counting out your change, she has given you the change for a twenty-dollar bill! What do you do now? She has evidently not noticed her error, and is busily packaging your goods. People around you, absorbed in their own thoughts, have not seen what has happened. You are the only one who knows that you have suddenly become ten dollars richer. If you keep silence, it is entirely possible that no one will ever know what became of that ten dollars..... except you. You won't be present at the closing of the store, when the clerk finds to her horror that she is ten dollars short, and must make up the loss. Anyway, why wasn't she more careful? It's no skin off your nose, if she is so careless as to hand out ten-dollar bills without looking. After all, you didn't steal it from her.....or did you? OF COURSE YOU DID!! Just as surely as if you had held her helpless at gun point, and reached greedy hands into the till, you stole it. Worst of all, you know it.

But wait. Let's go back to where she is counting out your change. As soon as she says, ".....and ten make twenty!", you speak. "But I only gave you a ten!" You can almost hear your conscience applauding. You feel the warm glow that comes from knowing that you have done the right thing. Her smile of embarrassment and gratitude warms you even more. You walk away feeling good. You can hold your head up proudly. You don't have to slink away, knowing that you have defrauded someone of that which was not yours. Sleep comes easily that night.

There are many people, however, who are scrupulously honest, but are not of the "peculiar people" Jesus sought to purify to himself. The reason is that they have not surrendered to God's will. This must be done before anyone can become a member of the family of God.

The child of God must be willing always to choose the thing that is right, regardless of what the world around him does, or what he himself would prefer to do. Rivers are crooked because the water follows the course that offers the least resistance. Crooked lives are made in the same way. To be peculiar in the sense God wants us to be, we must not be like the majority of mankind.

The right way is not always the easy way, but the child of God, who wants to spend eternity with Him must seek it, and be willing to take it, even when it seems the rest of the world is going the other way. The saved will never be in the majority, any more than Noah and his family were in the majority. The way that leads to heaven is narrow, and in the words of Jesus, "...few there be that find it." Those who do and continue in it, are promised beauty and wonder and splendor and happiness beyond any imagination of man's mind. These are the "peculiar people" with whom God has promised to abide throughout the endless ages.

A STATEMENT FROM BROTHER WM. M. SMART

I hear it is being reported that I am a Baptist. Perhaps this is because when I became identified with the Church of Christ I felt that my baptism administered by a Baptist preacher in Italy during World War II was scriptural. Later I decided to be immersed again because of the doubt that had arisen in my mind. Bro. Hawley of Port Huron, Michigan immersed me. I have my Baptismal certificate which he gave me at the time.

The Holman Study Bible. Revised Standard Version. A. J. Holman Company. (In Canada G. R. Welch Co. Ltd). $8.95.

Since the exclusive rights held by Nelson have expired a number of other companies have brought out editions of the Revised Standard Version. This particular edition contains a number of very fine helps to the study of the Bible.

Each book of the Bible is preceded by an outline, a survey and a paragraph about the author. Thirty-four writers produced the Old Testament introductions and twenty-one those for the New Testament. These contributors are representative of conservative Biblical scholars from England and America.

The text of this Bible is clear and readable. The cross references are placed right within the verse so as to be easy to locate.

At the end of this Bible are five excellent articles that fill 53 pages. "New Light from the Dead Sea Scrolls" is by the British scholar F. F. Bruce. Carl F. H. Henry, editor of Christianity Today contributes "The Bible and Modern Science." "The Archaeology of the Bible" is by James L. Kelso, a professor of Biblical Archaeology. This is followed by "Between the Testaments" by David H. Wallace. The final article on "The Chronology of the Bible" is by Donald J. Wiseman, professor of Assyriology, University of London and formerly of the British Museum.

Last of all there is a concordance of 191 pages and 8 pages of coloured maps. All in all, this is a very attractive edition of a very useful version.

LESSONS FROM THE PAST

men should be encouraged especially to read these thoroughly. Sermons and class lessons need to be taught showing the proper attitude toward Biblical authority. With this effort and emphasis, the spectre of human innovations and division need not haunt a growing church.

(A few of the best books in this field are: "The Search for the Ancient Order", Vols. I and II, Earl West; "Attitudes and Consequences", Homer Hailey; "The Voice of the Pioneers on Instrumental Music and Societies", John T. Lewis; "Instrumental Music in the Worship", M. C. Kurfees.)

These were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Stephenson and Mrs. Fowler. This makes 16 baptisms here since Jan. 1, 1962. Bro. Hawkins is a very clear and forceful preacher.

GLEANINGS FROM FOREIGN FIELDS

GUAM

The church on the island of Guam, 1,500 miles west of Hawaii in the Pacific Ocean, is looking for a gospel preacher who will come to work full time with them. Bro. Robert Davidson, a member of the United States Air Force, has been preaching there but is being transferred back to the States. Much work is being done among the native population as well as among military personnel stationed there. The congregation now numbers 90 faithful members. Anyone interested in moving to this mission field is asked to write the Church of Christ, Box 883, Agana, Guam.

NIGERIA

Much news has come from the Nigerian mission field in recent weeks. One item pertains to the second trip being made to that area by Bro. Marshall Keeble, probably the best-known Negro preacher in the church today. A previous preaching trip to this country was made by Brother Keeble in 1960, which resulted in the baptism of 86 souls into Christ. Now 84 years old, Bro. Keeble expects that this will likely be his last trip abroad for the purpose of preaching the gospel to native Africans.

Brother Keeble was to speak at the Nigerian Bible Lectureship beginning October 29 at Upkom. He was to conduct classes in the mornings, and spend the afternoons and evenings engaged in preaching the gospel. Plans for meetings had already been made by missionaries prior to Bro. Keeble's arrival. They were to be held in the open market places, by the river sides, in mud huts, and under brush arbors.

Christian school teachers already are conducting 11 schools for the Nigerian government, offering work through the eighth grade with required Bible classes offered every day. In January Nigerian Christian College is scheduled to open with Bro. Joe Cross of Odessa, Texas, serving as director. This school will offer advanced work in Bible study and other subjects designed to help the Nigerian brethren to become better Christian workers.

Also in Nigeria, Bro. and Sis. Jim Massey and their three daughters have arrived back in the country for their second tour of duty. They had spent the previous six months in the United States. The climate of the country is such that white people are required to take leave after each two-year period in Nigeria. The South Park Church of Christ in Beaumont, Texas, which supported the Masseys during their first two-year tour there will again support them for the next two years.

AUSTRALIA

Plans are being completed for three Christian families from New Jersey to go together to Brisbane, Australia, to help with the small church there. Five of the six adults in the group are teachers in the New Jersey public schools. The group includes Bro. and Sis. John Lee Newton and their three children; Bro. and Sis. Forrest Suddeath, Jr., and their daughter, and Bro. and Sis. James Beckloff, Bro. Newton is presently preaching and working with the church in Dover, N.J. All have had previous missionary experience.

DENMARK

Bro. and Sis. Ronnie Parker and their four children have returned to the work in Copenhagen, Denmark, after spending three and a half months in the United States, during which time Brother Parker travelled among the churches speaking on behalf of the Danish work.

MEXICO

Nine were baptized into Christ on October 31 at the church in Tijuana, Mexico. More than two dozen Bible classes are conducted in homes each week by evangelists there.

NYASALAND

Brother and Sister Leon Clymore have returned to the United States on a visit after four years work in Africa. Previously, Brother Clymore had worked in Swift Current, Saskatchewan.

Most of their time in Africa was spent in Rumpi, Nyasaland, though the last month was spent in Lusaka, Northern Rhodesia, where their third child was born and where Bro. Clymore worked in the third annual encampment for white children. There were 53 campers.

The Clymores plan to return to Nyasaland in 1963 after he completes some graduate work at George Pepperdine College, Los Angeles.

THAILAND

Brother and Sister Robert E. Davidson have completed their plans to enter Thailand as missionaries in January, 1963. The former Dean of Students at George Pepperdine College, Bro. Davidson will be supported in his work by the Bel-Aire church in Tullahoma, Tenn.

TANGANYIKA

Brother and Sister Al J. Horne are in the United States for a six month's visit before returning to their work in Africa. A native of the Union of South Africa, Brother Horne will be speaking in behalf of missions throughout South and East Africa. He plans to return to Tanganyika about the first of the year and remain there until other missionary families come as replacements, and then hopes to go into Swaziland, in the Union of South Africa, to establish a training school for native evangelists.

UNION OF SOUTH AFRICA

A recent survey conducted by Brother John T. Hardin shows that there are now 80 churches known to exist in the Union of South Africa, with a total of about 2,600 faithful members. There may be others since the earliest churches were established in the 1800's by immigrants from England and Australia, though a really concentrated evangelistic effort was not begun until 1949.

Of the churches known to our brethren there, 17 are white, 16 are colored, and 47 are native. According to the segregation laws, all racial groups must be reached and taught separately. Since white contact with native and colored groups is difficult, accurate information on native groups is hard to obtain, and it is quite possible that there are other groups unknown to white brethren, meeting and worshipping according to the teachings of the Bible only.

GATEWAY TO THE NORTH

The City of North Bay is located right on the Champlain Trail. A few miles from the city one can wander over narrow portages by-passing unnavigable water, past steep precipices and dense woodland, retracing the footsteps of the courageous Champlain and the Jesuit Fathers on their adventurous trips.

North Bay, from its very beginning, found itself rich in folklore and through careful conservation retained the primitive atmosphere. Wild life abounds within a few minutes drive from the city and some of the finest fishing in the country is to be found in the waters lapping on the shores of North Bay.

This city located in an area of rich natural beauty also makes claim to tremendous industrial expansion. In the past seven years the population of North Bay has increased from 4,800 to the present 23,070. Including the areas of Widdifield and West Ferris increases the population to 45,000. North Bay is located on the main line of the C.P.R., C.N.R. and terminal for the O.N.R. Both the Johns-Manville Co. and Dupont of Canada chose North Bay for their new plants. It is also the location of Northern Ontario Natural Gas Co. and the Regional Office for Ontario Hydro. The area is also the centre of the important defense installations known as 'SAGE' and 'The Bomarc Base.'

In this city of 9,192 Protestants, 8,687 Roman Catholics and 105 Jews three New Testament Christians have started to meet regularly to glorify the Mighty Power who created the natural beauty that provides the setting for this growing industrial city. For all of these reasons we believe that a strong church of our Lord can be established in North Bay. And so, after much thought and prayer, we plan, the Lord willing, to begin work in North Bay in July of 1963.

By the time we arrive in North Bay only one of the Christians now meeting will be there. Sister Pat Mattox (nee Wismer) originally from Jordan will be there. Brother and Sister Don Hamilton, who are stationed in North Bay temporarily, anticipate a move within six months. Some have stated a definite interest in moving to North Bay, others are considering it and for this we are thankful. We understand that Brother and Sister Ray Lock, presently in Abilene, plan to move to North Bay in the summer of 1963. We would urge any who are interested in making a move to consider the employment opportunities of North Bay and more particularly the tremendous opportunities to spread the gospel of Christ. We do not think it out of place at all to call your attention to the young church in Ottawa and to ask you to consider what a tremendous difference it has made to that Congregation to have Brother Ron Zavitz, Brother and Sister Blake Geig, and Brother and Sister Don Whitfield and possibly others that we do not know of move into that area and work with the church there.

We could not close this article without expressing our gratitude to the church in Meaford for the kind way they have accepted our decision to make this move. They are already playing a tremendous part in the organization of this work by, not only allowing us a great deal of free time for the raising of support etc., but also helping financially with the expenses that are entailed with the raising of support. At the time of this writing we do not have any support promised but we are confident that if it is God's will a way will be provided.

Frequently churches feel they are snowed under by requests for help from this or that cause to spread the gospel. But how can this be anything but a sign of growth, a sign that Canadians are at last realizing the tremendous need to evangelize this beautiful country and are doing something about it. And so it is without shame or embarassment that we ask all who read this article to consider thoughtfully and prayerfully the possibility of helping us in this work in any way that you see that you can. Any correspondence concerning the North Bay work can be sent to Clyde Lansdell, Box 577 Meaford, Ontario. We especially solicit your prayers.

—Clyde Lansdell

the wage of death.

However, just because a person knows enough to be lost, does not mean that he necessarily knows enough to be saved. Especially with younger people this mistake is sometimes made.

But it DOES mean that, when a person knows enough to be lost, it is our responsibility to teach him the things he must know to be saved — teach him how he, through Christ, can be freed from the bondage of law, sin, and death. For if we fail to do so, his blood will be on our hands.

GOOD NEWS FROM REGINA

Seventh Ave. and Pasqua Street

The Church of Christ, meeting at Seventh Avenue and Pasqua Street, Regina, is pleased to advise all sister congregations in Canada, and any others that may be interested, that full fellowship has been restored between the two congregations meeting in this city.

There have been differences existing over the past six or seven years that kept us from full fellowship. These have prevented the work of the church in this area from being carried out most effectively but we are pleased that they have now been resolved.

Please rejoice with us in this new milestone and pray that the progress of the Lord's Church here may increase daily.

Sheldon A. Perry

North Annex Congregation

The brethren of the North Annex congregation in Regina are happy to announce that full fellowship has been restored between themselves and the congregation meeting at 7th and Pasqua. Difficulty arose several years ago in Regina at which time the group then known as the North Annex congregation circulated a letter throughout the church in Western Canada stating their views on questions over which contention arose and that they as a congregation had withdrawn from the other group in Regina. This act sealed the separation and is something which is generally considered to be unscriptural, i.e. one congregation withdrawing from another. Although animosity was kept to a minimum still the terrible sceptre of a divided Brotherhood remained.

Over a period of time the bulk of the original North Annex congregation moved to other parts of the country, but not before a third congregation was established in the city. It was made up of my immediate family from the original North Annex group and several new members. But such is the power of Satan in matters of division; many months had to slip by before steps were taken to create an active fellowship between the two groups now in Regina and only recently has this taken place.

It is certain that many regretful things could be said of this whole matter, but we feel this would be a backward step. Rather, we of Regina ask you to rejoice with us. Fellowship is restored. Love abounds and we believe great things lie ahead. Already blessings are evident and a wonderful Spirit prevails.

We of the North Annex congregation would adjure brethren everywhere to place great stress on the majestic thoughts contained in Gal. 5:22-23: "The fruit of the spirit is love, joy, peace, longsuffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness, temperance against such there is no law." We can be kind, considerate and longsuffering in the business world for financial gain. How much more deeply concerned ought we to be with our brethren considering the price Christ paid that we might enjoy the blessed hope.

SARNIA MEETING

Two weeks have been completed of our meeting in Sarnia. The average attendance thus far has been 59 with a total of 33 different outsiders from the community who have attended the meeting.

Harold E. Hawley of South Lyon, Michigan (formerly of Port Huron, Michigan) was our speaker from November 4th through the 9th. Last week we heard excellent lessons presented by Ray Miller of Omagh, Ontario. This coming week, then, from the 17th through the 23rd, Ralph Perry of London, Ontario is with us.

Thus far there have been no baptisms. But the Word is being preached, the seed is being sown, and we believe that the Lord will give the increase.

On two Saturdays, November 3rd and 17th, students from Michigan Christian College came to Sarnia to help us distribute advertising for the meeting and to knock on doors inviting people to attend. Fourteen came on the 3rd; and eleven came on the 17th. Through the work of these and our own young people about 2,000 leaflets and personal invitations were given out. Three of our visitors for the meeting came as a direct result of this door to door work. Dinner and supper were provided for these young people in the basement of the meeting house the two days they were over to help us.

A number of our brethren from various places have attended, especially from Port Huron just across the river. It is proving to be an inspirational series of lessons for all of us.

LEAVING SARNIA

Roy Davison is planning to leave Sarnia in January to return to Abilene Christian College to begin work on a master's degree.

It was agreed when he went to Sarnia in November of 1961 that he would be there only a year or two before returning for additional education.

After finishing his education he plans to go to preach in Holland. For the last year and a half he has been taking private lessons in the Dutch language in preparation for this.

The church in Sarnia is now looking for someone else to work with them.

There is an excellent opportunity for preaching in Sarnia, a city of 50,000 people. The church there has about 50 members. They have an attractive brick building with good facilities for Bible classes. Anyone interested in this should contact Mr. Aubrey Hibbard (secretary for the church), 714 Elizabeth Ave., Sarnia, Ontario.

He was minister of the Broadway Church of Christ from 1919 to 1923 and from 1929 to 1937. He moved back to Lubbock in 1950 to work with the Colgate Street church of Christ, and in 1955 became engaged in work at Sunset where he stayed 2½ years. He has served as associate minister with Bob Hoover of the Vandelia Village congregation for the past six years and has also served as an elder.

YOZENKO

Our Brother Edward Yozenko passed away November 7, at the prime age of thirty-two. He was a faithful worker in the church, a kind and loving husband, and the father of four fine children. We at Erin Street in Winnipeg will always remember his sterling character exhibited at home, at church, and at work.

Before our Saviour died He said, "Into thy hands I commend my spirit." These words bring much comfort, not only to those who are left, but also to those leaving. While we commit our spirits to the hand of God, in this world and the next, we are in good keeping.

Services for Brother Yozenko were conducted by C. T. Bailey, E. D. Wieb, and Bill Love. Appropriate hymns were nicely sung by a large gathering of brethren.

SPIECE

At his late residence, 62 Burwell Street, Brantford, the sudden passing of Earl E. Spiece occurred, on Wednesday, October 24th. Brother spiece was in his 67th year. While in failing health for some time, the end came unexpectedly. He was born and raised near Tintern, Ont., and was baptized there about 25 years ago. He has been living in Brantford for about 20 years, and will be missed by the few brethren there.

He leaves to mourn his departure his wife, four sons, Lyall, Vernon, Mervin and Clifford, also two daughters, Mrs. Marjory Sykes, and Mrs. Hazel Clark; together with many relatives and friends.

The funeral was conducted in the chapel of the Hill and Robinson Funeral Home, with interment in Mount Hope Cemetery.

The writer was assisted at the chapel and grave by Bro. Eugene Perry.

CARTWRIGHT

The church at Sanford Ave., Hamilton, as well as many brethren elsewhere were saddened by the sudden passing of our good sister Edith Cartwright. While she was in the General Hospital about a week her departure was altogether unexpected by her loved ones. She will be greatly missed, as she was a faithful member of the church for many years in Hamilton, and also in England, before coming to this country. For a long time she was associated with her husband in grocery business, and was known by many people in that community. Sister Cartwright did not wait till the end of life to make peace with God, but rendered obedience to the Master many years ago, in the "Old Country". The highest compliment that can be said to anyone is: "She was faithful unto death".

While many relatives and friends mourn her departure, she is missed especially by her beloved companion of many years, Bro. Walter Cartwright and her daughter, Sister Robert Hunter.

Bro. Craddock and Bro. Whitelaw assisted with the services, conducted from the Robinson Funeral Home and Woodland Cemetery.

"Blessed are the dead that die in the Lord."

She is survived by her husband, one son Leslie of Tucson, Ariz., two daughters, Mrs Irene Cook and Mrs Norma Christianson of Orillia, together with other relatives in England.

A brief service was held at the Butler Funeral Home, with the interment in Maple Lawn Cemetery.

BELFAST REPORT

This is a report on the work in Belfast, N. Ireland, compiled from information received from the brethren there.

Bro. Hugh Tinsley has laboured in Belfast for over seven years and at the present moment is in process of moving to a new work in Aberdeen, Scotland. His place has been filled by Bro. Jack Stevens who has just returned to his native Ireland after several years in Winnipeg, Manitoba.

The members here, numbering eleven, are strong spiritually and well grounded in the faith, thanks to the good Bible teaching given by our Bro. Tinsley. However, the work is severely handicapped by lack of a building of their own. Irish people as stated also by Bro. Gallagher, of Potstewart tend to look on you as a sect only there for an indefinite period. Prejudice and superstition are barriers which have to be broken down and a permanent meeting house therefore is a necessity to the furtherance of the Lord's work.

Last Sunday evening there were seven visitors, one of whom obeyed the gospel and this is certainly encouraging and worthy of our prayers, and if possible any financial support we can give. I can most certainly recommend the work in Ireland — the people are religiously minded and needing to be led to a knowledge of the truth. In N. Ireland alone, there are 1¾ million people and only two churches of Christ and two full time men. This is a challenge indeed and anyone interested in helping or desiring further information can contact Bro. S. Cooper, 121 Agneo Street, Belfast 13, N. Ireland, or myself.

October 14, 1962

Dear Brethren:

We wish to thank all those who had a part in making up the Travel Fund for our return to work here in Rhodesia. The fund built up for almost three years — from the 1st of September, 1959 until the 3rd of July, 1962. As nearly as I can figure, we received a total of $4,500.71 during that time. It was spent as follows:

Ocean fares	$2038.50
Trains (Canada and Africa)	367.50
Expenses on our luggage	132.00
Taxis and tips	48.00
Hotels	82.00
Car (second hand "Microbus" purchased here)	1583.93
Three 2000 gallon water tanks	179.85
Used furniture (wood stove, three beds, etc.)	68.93
TOTAL	$4,500.71

Our car actually cost 575 pounds in Rhodesian money. We had to use about $180.00 of our own money (added to the $1583.93 mentioned above).

Our refrigerator arrived here on the 9th of October. We surely are thankful for it. The washing machine came along about the 7th of September. Thanks again to all who sent money to Sis. Myrtle Bailey of Moose Jaw to help buy the washing machine and refrigerator for us.

The work of the church has not yet been hindered by the political situation. We pray that the election that is coming up in a few weeks may not upset the peace of this part of the world.

Pray for the work and workers in Africa.

Sincerely in Christ,
Allan and Edna Bell

OUTLOOK, SASK.

We have just finished a most successful gospel meeting here with Bro. Magnar Knutson doing the preaching. There were no baptisms, but we consider the meeting a tremendous success. We had a goodly amount of visitors every night but one. The record attendance was 65 visitors on one night. Other services the average attendance was about seven to eight.

Brother Knutson did a fine job of presenting the truth in love. We would highly recommend him to other congregations. Just before our meeting we completely renovated the inside of the church building. The membership in Outlook is small but they certainly know how to get things done. Our building is quite attractive, and our prayer is that it might be used to the glory of God and the salvation of souls.

Dear Editor:

Greetings from Independent Nigeria. I am very happy to write you this few lines of mine. I will be very grateful if you can publish mine name in your newspaper. opments in Haiti, Brother and Sister Don Logsdon of Iowa, who were ready to enter that country, have been delayed in receiving their visas, and are working with the church in Nassau until permission has been received to go to Haiti.

A Vacation Bible School held in the home of Brother William Miller, a native evangelist in Nassau, had a total attendance of 147.

A young man from the Nassau congregation, Bro. George Neely, has entered Southwestern Christian College, a Christian school for Negroes in Terrell, Texas, with the help of a church in Cleveland, Ohio.

GERMANY

Brother Jack Nadeau, now of Sherman, Texas, who spent a number of years doing mission work in Germany, left October 1 for a 35-day preaching trip to that country and Austria. He was to hold gospel meetings in Berlin, Nurenberg, and Munich, Germany, and Vienna, Austria. In addition, he was to speak once in Bern and Zurich, Switzerland, and Essen and Frankfort, Germany.

ETHIOPIA

Bro. Linnie Darden and Bro. Gary Blake and their families have received their visas for entry into Ethiopia, and it was hoped they could leave by the end of September.

GREAT LAKES CHRISTIAN COLLEGE ANNUAL LECTURESHIP

JANUARY 22 to 25

GENERAL THEME: "CHRIST OUR LIFE" —BASED ON BOOK OF COLOSSIANS

USED POSTAGE STAMPS NEEDED

Brother W. Ralph Wharton of Mobile, Alabama has come up with the ingenious idea of financing a mission report paper from the sale of used postage stamps. The ninth edition of "World Evangelism Digest" has already been printed, giving an excellent coverage of mission work in many different countries. For this good work, Brother Wharton solicits no money; only used stamps. Since there is a market for any foreign stamps in the States, all Canadian stamps are acceptable. So, why not put something to good use that we would otherwise throw away, and send all of our stamps to this worthy cause? You are requested to leave the stamps on the envelope paper and tear or cut around them for removal. Please do not attempt to peel them off the envelope paper, because this will tear them thin, and they will be valueless. You need not send postage-metered stamps or stamps printed on envelopes. All U.S. stamps; except the common 4c "Lincoln heads", can be used. Send your stamps to: W. Ralph Wharton, 304 N. Union Ave., Mobile, Alabama.

INDIA PLANS PROGRESS

God Continues To Over-Rule In A Marvellous Way

We have definite hope now that we have two more workers to go with us to India. We are hoping that we shall be able to announce them by name in the next issue of the Gospel Herald.

We just returned on November 17th from a visit to several states in the Union. We found, in the main, that brethren were definitely interested in this great door.

What About The War?

We are definitely planning on going. We feel that God will overule in this conflict and that we shall be permitted to enter India in the spring. Let us pray that this door will not be closed. We can change things by prayer. God's arm is not shortened. Are you joining us in daily prayer?

Passport Validated

In order to enter India it is necessary that our passport be validated. This has now been done. We shall be able to go now anytime after 90 days as far as the Indian government is concerned.

The Financial Picture

It is estimated that it will take $4,500.00 to take us and two workers to India. The price of a Jeep will be about $3,500.00, so you can see we are within $1,300.00 of taking care of these two items. When these two things are taken care of we shall then credit money received against our actual expenses after we start our work in India.

What we need is for brethren, or churches, to pledge so much per month for the work over there.

LIVERPOOL, ENGLAND

On England's west coast is Liverpool, a city with a population approaching one million. In some respects, it is reported, Liverpool is more cosmopolitan than London, a fact partially explained by the city being a seaport.

When J. W. McGarvey made his trip through Europe to Palestine, he entered England at Liverpool, and was met by several members of the church. Through digression and other things, there is now, unlike McGarvey's day, no faithful congregation in Liverpool. But there is now an attempt being made to begin a new work.

Like McGarvey's day, people from Canada, America, and other countries continue to come to or through Liverpool, and it is felt that there may be members of the church in the city now who do not know of the present attempt to establish a faithful congregation. Should the readers of this notice be aware of any members in the Liverpool area, please contact: Mr. Raymond A. Hill, 31 Mossley Hill Road, Liverpool 18, Lancs., England.

Ottawa: Seventy were present for Bible school and 69 for morning worship service on Nov. 4. The Bible school goal is 75.

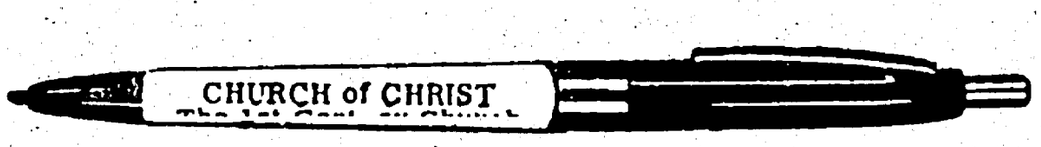
"Another young man was baptized Sunday night. This is the second person to be baptized in recent weeks. — A. A. Gallagher

HERE AND THERE

Lewiston, N.Y.: Mack Langford of Valley Forge, Pa. just finished a one week series at Old Hickory church.

Buffalo, N.Y.: "Our work here at North Buffalo moves along. Our highlights, at present, are the Bible correspondence course work (115 enrolled), efforts to get Herald of Truth on radio and television, a "Teacher Training — Personal Work Class," and getting everyone 'involved' in saving souls'."



—Dave M. Hearn, Jr.

Niagara Falls, N.Y.: A. Hartwigsen held a one week meeting in Mt. Holly, N.J, in September. A series entitled Building on a Firm Foundation was held at Niagara Falls Oct. 14-19 with different speakers from New York State and Canada.

SLIM LINE BALL POINT PENS WITH INSCRIPTION

PROFITS PLEDGED TO N. I. C. E.

Dear friend in Christ:

We have wanted to make a regular pledge to help a Christian college, and do help a little on a regular basis from month to month in our limited way. But now God has put something in our hand that may prove helpful to the churches and their members, and at the same time benefit Northeastern Institute for Christian Education, which is the nearest Christian college to us.

We speak of a slim line ball point pen. It is beautiful and sturdy and comes in assorted colors with this inscription:

CHURCH of CHRIST The 1st Century Church in the 20th Century Welcome

The price of these pens is only 25 cents each. From each pen you buy there is a profit of approximately 10 cents, after postage and everything is paid. Help us get the word around, won't you? When we first announced this, one man said he wants 8 for gifts and personal use; another said he could use 50; another thought the congregation where he worships could use 100! Editor of North Atlantic Christian magazine felt that an ad could be run free of charge as a service to the school.

We shall keep separate and accurate records. Order from address below.

Yours in Christian service,

Alvin and Ellen Jennings
330 Dorset Street

P.S. If you order 250 or more, you can have your own choice of inscription (5 lines).

THE IMPOSSIBILITIES OF GOD

Jerry Davidson, Lachine, Que.

For those who believe in an omnipotent God, it is difficult to think of Him as having impossibilities, yet this brings us to one of the most interesting paradoxes in the Bible. From a human standpoint we would be prone to think of impossibilities in terms of impotency or lack of ability, but in connection with God the limitations have to do with His invariable nature and with His eternal truth. After seeing in what ways God is limited we are led to an even greater faith in Him.

While it is true that ". . . with God nothing shall be impossible" (Lk. 1:37), as far as His wisdom and power to execute His will is concerned, it is equally true that the Almighty must limit himself to His own nature. He cannot do anything contrary to His nature or will. It's impossible for him to oppose or destroy the very laws and aims which he, in His infinite wisdom, has originated. When we have grasped this, we are in a better position to understand the seriousness of our religion, and the certitude of His divine jurisdiction.

Impossible To Lie

Moses writes in Numbers 23:19, "God is not man that he should lie; neither the son of man, that he should repent: hath he said, and shall he not do it? or hath he spoken, and shall he not make it good?" Then in the New Testament the Hebrew writer declares that God being mindful to show the " . . . immutability of his counsel, interposed with an oath; that by two immutable things (promise and oath), in which it is impossible for God to lie, we may have a strong encouragement, who have fled for refuge to lay hold of the hope set before us." (Heb. 6:17, 18).

The nature of man is such that he often finds it convenient to lie and to try to change God's law. Not so with God! The Word God gave unto the apostles 1900 years ago is just as truthful today as it was in the day that it was first revealed. His truth is as eternal as Himself. (Psa. 146:11). The truth that saved men in the first century will save men today. The same will judge men.

God speaks to us today through Jesus Christ (Heb. 1:1, 2), giving us a law that is not to be tampered with, or put aside. (See

Have You Murdered Anyone Lately?

Roy Davison
Sarnia, Ontario

As Christians we sometimes piously set ourselves apart from the rest of the world with its detestable evils of drunkenness, immorality, and profanity. We hold our self-righteous heads high, and are quite proud that we are not "as this publican."

It is true, we should be set apart, but sometimes we are not as set apart as we like to think we are.

For example, there are murderers in many congregations of the Lord. Possibly there are murderers in the congregation of which you are a member. And possibly you are one of those murderers.

These murderers go secretly about their work. And often they have no sorrow or repentance for their crime.

What would you think of a brother or sister in the Lord who was in the habit of going out every few weeks and stabbing someone with a butcher knife; chopping off his head, arms, and legs; and then cutting them up in small pieces.

This would be horrible indeed. AND IT IS HORRIBLE INDEED! AND IT IS THE VERY THING WHICH IS OFTEN PRACTICED BY SUPPOSED FOLLOWERS OF CHRIST.

John said, "whosoever hateth his brother is a murderer: and ye know that no murderer hath eternal life abiding in him." (1 John 3:15).

THE BIBLE DOCTRINE OF SALVATION

Donald R. Givens
Sault Ste. Marie, Ont.

All through God's inspired Word, salvation is offered to man on the condition that he obey God. The statement "obey God and be blessed, disobey God and be condemned" permeates the entire Bible.

Man, in the beginning, was placed in the Garden of Eden and instructed not to eat of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil. (Genesis 2:17). This was a definite and clear command by Almighty God. If Adam and Eve had obeyed this command, they would have been subsequently blessed instead of cursed. But they chose to sin, to go beyond what God had said and to eat of the tree. They acted contrary to the law of God, and thus they were cast out of the Garden of Eden.

Next, one sees Abel obeying God by offering a pleasing sacrifice and Cain disobeying by offering the wrong sacrifice (Genesis 4:4,5.) Abel was commended by God but Cain was sorely punished.

Next, one looks at the children of Israel and sees the very same principle applied to them; when they obeyed Jehovah he subsequently blessed them, but when they were in transgression to His divine laws and left Him to serve corruptible idols, He afflicted them with severe persecutions by other nations. Consult Deuteronomy 28: 15ff.

One goes to the New Testament and the very same principle is all through it. Ananias and Sapphira lied to God and were struck dead, (Acts 5:1-11). Barnabus, on the other hand, had not lied about his contribution and as a result he was blessed, (Acts 4:36, 37). In the book of III John one notices Diotrephes condemned and Demetrius commended because of their actions. So the entire Bible contains this principle throughout: Obey God and be blessed and disobey God and be condemned.

Now that one has seen that the entire Bible has a unity in respect to what man must do in order to be blessed, how is it that forty or more men over an extended period of some fifteen hundred years could write at entirely different times and places, but still all completely agree with one another on this vital point of salvation? How could all these different minds come up with the very same principle? Do men always agree so wonderfully? Remember most of these writers of the Bible did not even know of each other. They are from all walks of life and even different nationalities. They lived in entirely different eras and varied customs. The question is, just how come they all agree so wonderfully on this vital doctrine of salvation as found in the Bible?

There is only one true answer. The book we call the Bible is the product of a single Divine Mind. The Bible is the book from God. These men that wrote the Bible down through the ages wrote only as our Creator instructed them. Mr Floyd E. Hamilton has expressed the thought very well in his book The Basis of Christian Faith:

"Though it is composed of many different kinds of literature, and though it was written by many different authors, over a period of many hundred years it is not a collection of books upon many different themes; there is only one theme running through the whole collection of books, and this theme is the idea of the redemption of man." (p. 151).

This was truly God's purpose in sending Christ to the earth; this was God's purpose in giving us the revelation of the Bible; to give mankind redemption from sins. And this glorious purpose is seen throughout the whole book of God.

Man is not able to save himself in any way. He can never devise a scheme to save himself from hell. Only the laws of God can do this. Man is not able to direct his own steps properly, (Jeremiah 10:23). To live eternally in heaven, man must come to God on God's terms. Man cannot obey God anyway that he wants to, but the way that God desires. The sinner has strayed from God therefore he must come back to God. The only one who can extend salvation is Almighty God and He alone.

One clearly sees this principle in both of the testaments. Israel could not be saved from destruction by trusting in idols or pagan gods, but only by trusting in the one, true, and living God could they be delivered from their enemies. Under the Christian dispensation one sees the fact that the sinner can be saved only when he complies fully with God's terms of salvation and no one is saved outside the body of Jesus Christ. In no other name can man be saved, (Acts 4:12).

The Bible, the Holy Word of God, is the only book that can offer salvation. Consider what Mr. Harry Rimmer has said:

For these reasons, we have confidence to believe that in its present form, the Book that men call the Bible is the infallible, inspired Word of God, a safe guide for our conduct and a sure highway of life everlasting. (Rimmer, Internal Evidence of Inspiration, p. 223)

Yes, the Bible is certainly a sure highway to life everlasting. But first man must obey the commands in this book before he will receive the blessings.

Any promise ever offered by God was on the condition of obedience of the one to whom the promise was given. The salvation offered by Jehovah is conditional. Man can never have life everlasting if he rejects this divine revelation. This is a proven fact that prevails throughout the entire Bible,

If the Bible is not the product of one Divine Mind, but only a garbled bunch of nonsense written by uninspired men; then how is it that this one great principle of salvation is seen throughout it? Why do not the writers disagree with one another on the doctrine of salvation? Why does not even one writer state that a person can be blessed by disobeying God? No, the fact stands. Nowhere in the entire Bible, from Genesis to Revelation, does one find a contradiction on any doctrine of God.

All sinners are commanded to do the same things to be saved.

THE IMPOSSIBILITIES

2 Jno. 9; Jas. 1:25). By His promise and by His oath we have the absolute assurance that He has spoken the truth. Nevertheless, men, since the beginning of their existence, have had the idea that they can improve upon or alter God's Word. For example, in 1000 A.D. men got the idea that something more should be made out of the Lord's Supper, and the false doctrine of transubstantiation was introduced. Again in 1311 A.D. sprinkling (for baptism) became the practice.

Perhaps, we could be encouraged by the present Vatican Ecumenical Council if the purpose of it was to solicit the support of the religious world to join them in a return to the ancient order of things, as a basis for church unity. Instead, the power of a human council is being extolled, with the idea that Rome has the right to make new laws and nullify others, thus bringing the various religions together on her terms. But God, many years before the beginning of the Roman Catholic Church spoke His terms of unity in the New Testament. Jude's exhortation to Christians was "to contend earnestly for the faith which was once for all delivered unto the saints" (Jude 3). God, who cannot lie, has not changed His law of pardon, pattern for worship, organization for the church, or standard of morality, since the first century.

Cannot Deny Himself

Giving us assurance of the ultimate standard of right and wrong is the truth that God " . . . cannot deny himself" (2 Tim. 2:13). God is the final appeal; therefore, His nature and law must naturally agree. God is pure, and therefore cannot save the impure. He is righteous, and cannot save the unrighteous. He is faithful, and cannot save the unfaithful. He is truth, and cannot save those who refuse or distort the truth. Surely, He cannot pardon those who refuse to accept His pardon, as the universalists would have us believe.

The apostle Paul writes these brethren: "But we all, with unveiled faces beholding as in a mirror the glory of the Lord, are transformed into the same image from glory to glory, even as from the Lord the Spirit" (2 Cor. 3:18). The same writer to the Romans says, "And be not fashioned according to this world: but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is the good and acceptable and perfect will of God" (Rom. 12:2). It is man who must change; not God. Unless we obey God's transforming law and strive to bear His spiritual image, we impose the impossibility upon God to save us. Remember, God "cannot deny himself".

Cannot Be Tempted

"Let no man say when he is tempted, I am tempted of God; for God cannot be tempted with evil, and he himself tempteth no man" (Jas. 1:13). This "furnishes the highest security for the welfare of the universe" (Barnes Notes, James-Jude, p. 24). Although, man can be tempted to turn away from God, God does not do the tempting; neither does He cease to remain loyal to His promise. "The Lord is not slack concerning his promise, as some men count slackness; but is longsuffering to you-ward, not wishing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance" (2 Pet. 3:9). With God, there "can be no variation, neither shadow that is cast by turning" (Jas. 1:17).

Isn't it wonderful that there are the above impossibilities of God? In them we see absolute truth and faithfulness, as well as a perfect standard of justice. If we trust and obey him, He will be faithful to save; if we neglect or refuse Him, we impose upon God the impossibility of granting the Celestial Home.

HAVE YOU MURDERED

Some are filled with hatred for their brethren. Nothing pleases them more than to find a nice juicy morsel of malicious gossip with which to murder a brother in Christ, chop off his head, and then drink the warm blood. Ah, how sweet is the taste of warm human blood to the Devil's worker in the church, with an evil and envious mind, and a flapping tongue.

Possibly your stomach turns at the picture. Possibly you feel that I have gone a bit far with the imagery. Not so at all! Words cannot describe the filthiness and rottenness of the deeds of a gossiper and slanderer in the body of Christ. He is a murderer!

"Backbiters" and "Whisperers", according to the first chapter of Romans, are "Worthy of death."

But often the excuse given for such psychopathic character assassination is a smirky, "Oh, but every word of what I said was the truth." This statement misses the point entirely. An attitude of hatred in the heart of the talker is condemned, whether his tale be fiction or truth.

Suppose a brother has committed an error. This is the very time when he is most in need of Christian love. Love will go to him, and try to help. "Brethren, if a man be overtaken in a fault, ye which are spiritual, restore such an one in the spirit of meekness; considering thyself, lest thou also be tempted." (Gal. 6:1).

And love is willing to forgive and forget when forgiveness is asked. "Then came Peter to him, and said, Lord, how oft shall my brother sin against me, and I forgive him? till seven times? Jesus saith unto him, I say not unto thee, Until seven times: but, Until seventy times seven." (Matt. 18:21-22).

But hatred, born of the Devil, likes nothing more than to discover some error or sin in a brother. That hatred then goes and jabs and pokes at the wound, and tears the flesh, and sucks out the blood of the gash, hoping to kill the brother who has erred.

Do you know what often happens to a chicken with a small sore on its back? The other chickens will peck and peck at that sore, making it larger and larger, until at last the first is pecked to death by the rest.

Have you murdered anyone lately?

"Whosoever hateth his brother is a murderer: and ye know that no murderer hath eternal life abiding in him." (1 John 3:15).

LESSONS FROM THE PRESENT

We wrote last month of some lessons that can be learned from the past. Difficulties and errors by former generations can be shown as examples of dangers in our own age. The voice of the past can speak lessons to the present.

The present also has its lessons to tell to an observant Christian. Some congregations are showing remarkable growth and spiritual strength. Others are retaining their status quo or, in some cases, losing ground. Why should one be succeeding and the other failing?

In a few instances of failing congregations, the members, some at least, will admit their mistakes in the past. In others, the members will blame bad luck, the times, other congregations, and even in some cases it seems, the Lord's will. Usually an impartial observer can see, after a little observation, some of the reasons why they are not growing. The present practices and peculiarities of these churches are an index to their past failures.

When a congregation has been in existence for fifty or one hundred years and has not a qualified eldership, something has been wrong. The qualifications of an elder are not such a great deal more exacting than those of a mature Christian man. We grant that some individuals could never hope to be elders in any congregation because of deficiencies of intellect, spiritually, personality or marital status. Others could not be considered for the eldership in certain congregations where many better qualified men were to be found. However, we do not feel that any congregation should be without elders after a reasonable length of time; nor do we feel that it should be necessary to scrape the barrel to qualify an eldership.

There is reason to believe that teaching on the need for elders or bishops has been neither forceful nor coherent in some congregations. Personal ambitions and jealousies have obstructed the appointment of godly men in some cases. Family ties and political cliques have been present too often when discussion of possible overseers was being conducted. These are unchristian and dangerous in any area of church activity. Although the efforts to prevent elders being appointed are often concealed under the cloak of good intentions and the desire for soundness, the real reasons are not so altruistic. One can see in a congregation that has failed to appoint and maintain elders after an existence of fifty years or more the result of these old struggles.

There may be exceptions to the rule, but in most cases the failure in church organization stems from a failure to teach enough on the subject. This allows small men who cannot qualify themselves to obstruct the appointment of those who do. It also allows a laxity in preception which permits ambitious but unqualified men to usurp this most important office.

One of the weaknesses of the Canadian work has been that system of preaching and teaching called "mutual edification." This is the principle that all male members of the congregation take their turn in preaching and teaching God's Word in public assemblies. We believe that the principle is a sound one if it is not abused nor carried to unhealthy extremes.

The word "mutual" means that which is given back and forth between two or more persons. It also means that which is held in common by several parties. The Word of God is meant to be shared by all believers. Teaching and exhortation given back and forth between church members can be of mutual benefit.

The other word "edification" means literally an upbuilding. Which one of us does not need this continuously through life? That which is truly mutual and truly edifying is desirable.

Unfortunately, too often this healthy principle has been used to promote a system in some churches which has paralyzed their growth. It has called for a refusal of any full-time evangelist. The work of the preacher has been done by a

VALUES OF THE BIBLE SCHOOL

H. Ralph Perry, London, Ontario

Enormous and Urgent Task

The task facing the church is enormous. It includes taking the gospel to 2,896,686,000 souls (recent estimate of world population) for Christ said, "Go ye into all the world." (Mark 16:15). This is so great that it staggers and discourages one just to think of it. But Christ has promised to be with us and we are told that God "is able to do exceeding abundantly above all that we ask or think, according to the power that worketh in us" (Eph. 3:20).

The task facing the church is urgent. Thousands are dying daily without a saving knowledge of Christ. Other forces are at work enslaving the minds and lives of millions. In fifty years atheistic communism has engulfed over one-third of the world's peoples. Their goal is world domination within a few years. Today the Moslems are on the move in North Africa as never before. It is estimated that they are gaining 10 converts to every one won by all the forces of so-called Christianity (Toronto Daily Star, July 16, 1960). Realizing the existence of a vast religious vacuum behind nominal Catholicism in Latin America, "Pope John 23 recently underscored the urgency of the situation by calling on Roman Catholic orders throughout the world to rush missionaries to Latin America 'in the greatest number possible'." (Toronto Daily Star, Oct. 29, 1960). Protestant denominational missionary societies are rushing thousands of workers through doors still open.

What are we doing today to accomplish this enormous and urgent task? As Paul we must use all means at our disposal that we might save some (1 Cor. 9:22). Radio, T. V., the printed page, preaching, personal work, home study classes, correspondence courses, and other avenues of communication need to be used to spread the soul saving message of the cross.

We are convinced that the part of the church's teaching programme conducted under the name of Bible school or Sunday school furnishes one of the most effective means of spreading the gospel message. In this article we discuss briefly the values of the Bible school in accomplishing the great and urgent task before us.

Values of the Bible School

1. It Furnishes a Great Opportunity for Teaching the Bible.

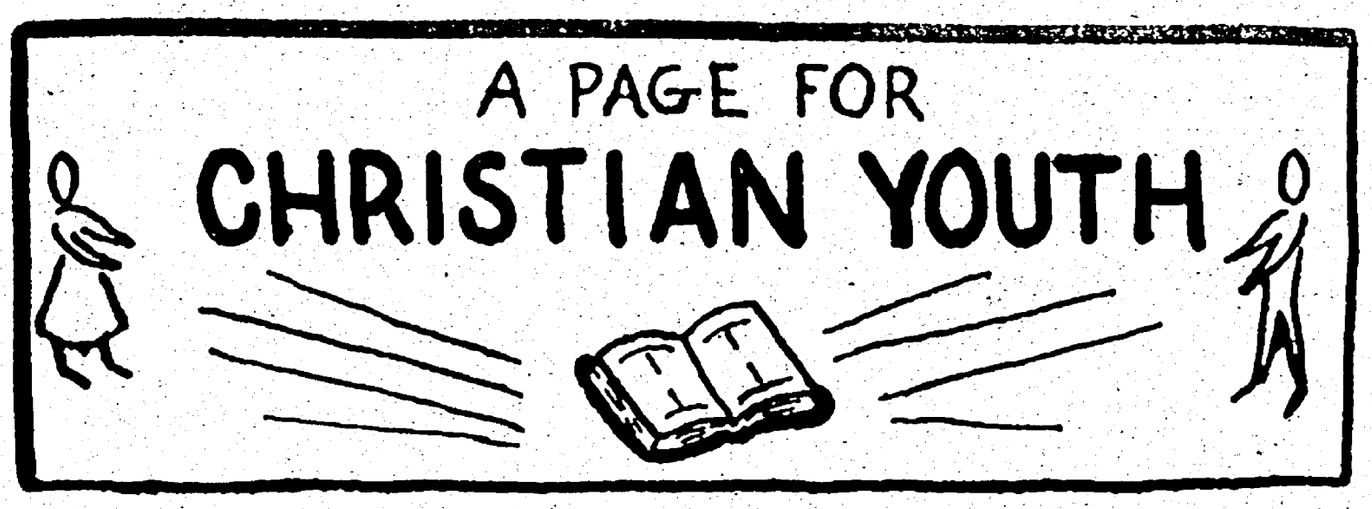
In the great commission Jesus commanded, "Go ye therefore; and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost: teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world. Amen." (Matt. 28:19-20). This is a two pronged teaching commission. First, all are to be taught that they might obey the gospel. After being baptized into Christ they are to be taught to observe all that Christ has commanded regarding living, working, and worshipping as Christians.

The Bible school furnishes an excellent opportunity to partially fulfill the first part of this teaching programme. Many who attend will not be members of the church. Some will come from Christian homes who are not yet in Christ. Quite a few from non-Christian homes will come and even some adult non-church members will attend. Here in London we have over 80 enrolled in classes. Eleven are adult members who teach or are in class. Five children come from church homes. The rest come from other homes. Here is a great opportunity to plant the seed of God's word in tender hearts and to culivate it unto a harvest of souls.

The Bible school also presents one of the best situations to obey the last part of the commission -- to teach Christians all that Christ requires of them. The church needs instruction. In a Christian Education class at college the author helped conduct a survey among churches of Christ in various parts of the country. Statistics compiled revealed that 33% of church members had not read the New Testament through; 78% did not read the Bible daily; 48% did not know who preached the first gospel sermon; 66% did not know where the church was established; 48% did not know the four books that record the life of Christ; and 52% did not know the plan of salvation. As in the days of Hosea God's people are in danger of being destroyed for lack of knowledge (Hosea 4:6). About half of all who are baptized are lost to the world because they have not been taught. Classes can be arranged according to the need and knowledge of the students. It is wise to have a class for new converts.



Where or when do we have so many assembled on a regular basis for Bible study as we have in the Sunday morning Bible school? Also, the students are arranged in a much better teaching - learning situation than for most activities in the church. May we utilize the Bible school to teach both Christian and non-Christian all that Christ has commanded.

2. A Great Soul-Winning Medium

When Christ came his purpose was "to seek and save the lost". As his followers this should be our all consuming aim. The Bible school, because many non-Christians attend, presents a great opportunity to lead souls to Christ. The national Protestant average for converts through the Bible school is 85% of all members. Various figures ranging from 75% to 95% have been given by leaders in the church of Christ.

The work of winning souls through the Bible school programme requires proper preparation on the part of the teachers, visitation in homes, proper follow-up, keeping and using records, and working with individuals to answer their needs. Each teacher should realize that he is a soul winner whether teaching adults or little tots. All are a part of the process of planting the seed and cultivating the plant to the

A GOOD IDEA

The St. Catharines young people have hit upon an idea which we feel is certainly worthy of your consideration. They have had printed up an invitation that is ideal for year-round use for young peoples activities. The work is attractively done, and would be a credit to any youth group. For further information, we suggest that you contact Mr. E. Burdett, 90 Dunlop Drive, St. Catharines, Ontario.

A NEW YEAR — A NEW YOU

1963! A new year, with all it's hopes, fears, successes and failures. So often at the beginning of a new year, we determine to make a better effort in doing things---resolutions, we say. Without a doubt, in every one of us there are many aspects, attitudes, actions and ideals that might well be improved! Let us resolve "no longer to linger, charmed by the world's delights", but rather, in 1963. let us "press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus" (Phil. 3:14).

"YOUR YOUNG MEN SHALL SEE VISIONS"

Acts 2:17
J. C. Bailey

The Holy Spirit made a revelation by the prophet Joel that the Holy Spirit revealed to Peter on the day of Pentecost as belonging to the events of that day. It is not our purpose in this article to discuss this sermon but only to find some lessons from this one statement.

Young men have ever been seeing visions. It is this spirit of "building castles" that springs eternally in the heart of every normal young man and young woman. This has accomplished much in the world.

Young Columbus had a vision of sailing West to reach the East. He changed the whole course of history. Young Ford had a vision of the automobile that has revolutionized our way of living. Young Campbell shipwrecked on his first attempt to reach America resolved to preach the gospel, and changed the religious thinking of the world. We could go on and on. Young Florence Nightingale had a vision of service to suffering humanity that has eased the suffering of millions.

We need young men that have a vision of world wide evangelism. Young people who will dare to carry the gospel message everywhere. We need to realize that we cannot judge our success by material benefits that accrue. Jesus Christ lived and died poor. The apostles amassed no fortunes.

We must have a vision of service. Jesus said: "Even as the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many" (Matthew 20:28). What great vision of service do you have?

WHO? ME?

Edward L. Bryant

Many Christian parents often make the mistake of thinking that, since they have provided the opportunity for Bible teaching, and have given their young the advantage of upbringing in a Christian home, the result will automatically be that their children will become Christians.

To be sure, these things are basic and necessary. No one would be so foolish as to eliminate these from the education of young people. It would be like trying to build a house without first laying the foundation. But these alone do not always guarantee that our children will be followers of Christ.

There is still the individual will to be reckoned with. Many is the young person who has rendered outward obedience to the gospel simply because he knew it was expected of him by his parents. Many also have later turned from that which they didn't fully believe to start with, and have wandered outside the fold of safety.

All of which means simply this: our parents can go only so far in leading us to Christ - the rest is up to us. You may echo, "Who? Me?" The answer is "Yes! You! Y-O-U!" Salvation is and has always been an individual matter. From the day you became aware of the difference between right and wrong; from the day you first became aware that some of the things you were doing were wrong; yes, from that very day, you became responsible to God for your actions. Make no mistake, Sunday school and "church" are in deadly earnest to teach you the right way, in order that you may not be lost. It is not just a social club to which parents would rather you go than to have you hang around the house alone.

Ignore these at your peril, for your soul hangs in the balance. If you are lucky, perhaps you will, like the Prodigal Son, come to yourself at some later date and turn back to the house of the Father, but don't count on it. Life has a way of leaving us without asking if it can go, and once yours is over, it is too late for turning back.

So take those lessons seriously. Dedicated men and women spend a lot of time trying to decide how best to present a lesson to you that will reach down into your heart and move you to obedience to the gospel OF YOUR OWN FREE WILL. Whether they are successful or not depends upon the kind of ground in which they sow the seed. Read Luke 8:4-15. and decide what kind of heart YOURS is.

TAKE HEED LEST YE FALL

Katherine Buckingham
Moose Jaw, Sask.

These are the warning words of the beloved apostle Paul to the Christians at Corinth I Cor. 10:12, "Wherefore let him that thinketh he standeth, take heed lest he fall."

Just at the time when Christians believe that their faith is strong enough to withstand the darts of the evil one, so often that is the time that Satan strikes. Peter gives the warning in I Peter 5:8 "Be sober, be vigilant, because your adversary, the devil, as a roaring lion, walketh about seeking whom he may devour." Peter personally knew the significant truth of this. He had been a faithful apostle of Jesus, yet when he was put to the test he denied his Lord.

When Jesus told the twelve apostles how he must die for the salvation of the world, He also said that his apostles would be offended because of Him, at the crucifixion. Peter answered, saying, "Though all men shall be offended because of Thee, yet will I never be offended." When his Lord told him, before the cock crowed - he would deny him thrice, Peter answered vehemently, "Though I should die with thee, yet will I not deny Thee", I believe Peter earnestly meant what he said to Jesus, but how prone we are to yield to the temptations of the flesh. Peter wept bitterly when he realized how utterly he had denied his Lord.

Hear what Paul says in Rom. 7:-18, 19 "For I know that in me (that is in my flesh) dwelleth no good thing: for to will is present with me: but how to perform that which is good, I find not. For the good that I would, I do not: but the evil which I would not, that I do." Paul realized the trial of keeping the body under subjection and said I Cor. 9:27 "I keep under my body and bring it into subjection, lest, by any means, when I have preached to others, I, myself should be a castaway."

When Jesus was praying in Gethsemane and came back finding the apostles, Peter, James and John asleep the third time He said, (Matt. 26:41) "Watch and pray that ye enter not into temptation: the spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak".

Paul told the Roman Christians that "to be carnally minded is death, but to be spiritually minded is life and peace."

In Heb. 11:24,25 Paul speaks of Moses thus, "By faith, Moses, when he was come to years, refused to be called the son of Pharaoh's daughter: choosing rather to suffer affliction with the people of God, than to enjoy the pleasures of sin for a season". Moses could have had all the material pleasure of this life, had he remained a prince in Pharaoh's court. Yet he chose rather to be with God. Even this great man failed to see the "promised land" because of a moment of weakness.

We think also of David, " a man after God's own heart", who suffered such godly sorrow because of his fleshly weakness. One has only to read the Psalms to know the agonies of David's suffering because of sin. Solomon was the wisest man who ever lived, yet the temptations of the flesh led him from God.

How thankful we can be that God has provided a way, that we can escape the pain of sin, I Cor. 10:13 "There hath no temptation taken you but such as is common to man, but God is faithful, who will not suffer you to be tempted above that ye are able, but will with the temptation, also make a way of escape, that ye may be able to bear it.

Jesus said, Matt. 11:28 "Come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden and I will give you rest". Jesus taught that men ought always to pray and faint not.

We would do well to read the 6th chapter of Eph. often. The 11th verse says "Put on the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil". The 17th verse speaks of the word of God as being the sword of the Spirit.

Let our Bibles therefore he our daily comfort and strength that we shall be able to say with Paul, (II Tim. 4:7,8) "I have fought the good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith. Henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous judge shall give me at that day: and not to me only, but to all them, also, that love His appearing".

May we ever carry in our heart the words of the hymn - writer—
"Be with me Lord, I cannot live without Thee,
I dare not try to take one step alone,
I cannot bear the loads of life unaided,
I need Thy strength to lean myself upon."

THE BIBLE DOCTRINE

God doesn't change His laws for anyone, (Acts. 10:34). It makes no difference what race, color, creed, or opinions man may have as to what he should do to be saved, he must comply with God's terms. When he does this, he will be saved; when he does not, he will be damned. We must obey the commands of God instead of what man may devise, (Acts 5:29). The whole duty of man is to obey God, (Ecclesiastes 12:13).

Just what does this prove? It proves that the Bible is either an astonding coincidence that forty or more different men "happened" to write, and it so "happened" that what they all wrote agreed in a wonderful manner; OR the Bible is the product of One, Divine, All-Intelligent Mind which had a hand in the writing of all the books of the entire Bible. Which is more reasonable?

To our many friends greetings. Since we cannot reply to all the cards and letters received, we use this means of expressing our most sincere appreciation, for their love and remembrance.

VANCOUVER YOUTH MEETING

Bottom: Columbia Christian College Chorus

A "hands across the border" youth meeting of teen-agers from eight congregations in Washington and British Columbia, was held at the Oakridge Church of Christ in Vancouver, B. C., on Saturday, December 15th. The theme, "Missionary Work In The Northwestern U. S. and Canada", was an effort to encourage the young people to make plans now to serve in the mission fields. One-hundred teen-agers spent the day in a program which included shopping and sight-seeing (many of them in Canada for their first time), the evening meal and special programs in the afternoon and evening.

Five speakers were heard in the afternoon, Walter Trent, Burlington, Washington; Merrill Eldred, Bellingham, Washington; Lynn Anderson, Salmon Arm; Dale Foster, Nanaimo; and Jim Hawkins, Victoria, all in B.C. A panel discussion was directed by D. C. Marshall, Vancouver. This was the first time all four evangelists working in the province had an opportunity of working in a combined program.

High point of the evening program was the Columbia Christian College Chorus from Portland, Oregon, conducted by Clio Eldred. Otis Hilbourn, teacher and Steve Marshall, Vice-president of the student body, both spoke on Christian Education. Over three hundred attended the evening program making a record attendance for the work in British Columbia.

Christian Minister's Manual, Arranged and Compiled by George W. DeHoff. DeHoff Publications, Murfreesboro, Tenn. 162 pages, $3.00. (plus exchange in Canada)

This is the kind of book that comes along once in a while that makes you wonder why someone didn't put one like it out before. Of course, there are various Minister's Manuals of a denominational nature. But this is the only one we have seen by our own brethren.

Brother DeHoff, who has preached the gospel for a number of years, and is now President of Magic Valley College is the compiler of this book. The manual contains selected scriptures, poems, etc. suitable for use at funerals. There are also about forty sermon outlines suitable for funerals. These are by various preachers including Reuel Lemmons, Hugo McCord, James O. Baird, Melvin J. Wise, Harris J. Dark, Granville W. Tyler, Claude Gardner, James D. Bales, W. Curtis Porter and Roy H. Lanier.

The entire book is devoted to material for use at funerals with the exception of two marriage ceremonies. It will be a valuable addition to any preacher's library.

The Parables He Told by David A. Redding. Fleming H. Revell Company. (In Canada G. R. Welch Co., Toronto). 177 pages, $3.25 (Canadian price)

What! another book on the parables? Surely every possible interpretation has been given to the parables of Jesus. But this book is justified on the ground that it gives a striking and different manner of sermonizing on the parables. The author, previously an English teacher, has an unusual knack of putting together vivid and moving words. He takes the parables from their ancient setting and uses space-age language to convey their messages to us. At times he seems to border on the irreverent but on the whole his efforts are most rewarding. He says "His parables are so apt for us right now, and so much of their meaning has been lying around, never unwrapped, it is as if He had marked them, "Not to be opened until the space age."

He organizes the forty parables of Jesus under four headings: I This Is Your God; II This Is His Kingdom; III This Is Your Duty; IV This Is Your Life.

Here is a sample of the scintillating language to be found throughout this book: "This scene is the supreme moment in all literature, the gem of His gospel -- a God like that. Here the Author had in His head the greatest love story ever told. He would take time later to write it down indelibly in blood and glory. When our modern medicines and washing machines are as obsolete

NIGERIA

The first congregation of the church of Christ in Nigeria to appoint elders after the New Testament order is that in Upkom. The whole church of 400 members assembled to acknowledge the leadership of the three men whom missionaries describe as "godly and faithful in working for the church, and leaders in the village government."

Their appointment as elders followed a series of classes on the eldership, taught by the local preacher, Brother Nelson Ikidung. The members considered the situation prayerfully and examined the men of the congregation carefully. Each of the men finally chosen has been a Christian for at least ten years. One was formerly an elder in a denominational church. Another is widely known for his sincerity, uietness of life and presence at services of the church, whether gularly scheduled or special. The third is a former polygamist who, n learning the truth of God's law on marriage, went to court and legally and publicly put away his unwful wives.

THE NETHERLANDS

Fourteen people are now attending cottage meetings and studying the Bible in The Hague, capital of The Netherlands, as a result of a gospel meeting held in that city in September by Brother Bill Richardson. Another gospel meeting was to have been held there by Brother Danny Boyd early in December. There is presently no congregation in The Hague, but much teaching is being done in an attempt to lead some to Christ and thus begin a church there.

Another gospel meeting was held recently in Utrecht by Bro. Gary Adams. A number of non-Christians attended.

JAPAN

About 200 Christians came together in Omika, Japan, on the weekend of the American Thanksgiving holiday to listen to gospel teaching and have fellowship with Bro. Don. H. Morris, president of Abilene Christian College, Abilene, Texas, who was principal speaker at the three-day gathering. The Sunagawa church was host to the meeting.

SWEDEN

Nearly a dozen preachers and personal workers from Norway, Sweden, and Denmark came together in Stockholm to assist in a gospel meeting from November 2 to 11. Brother Hans Nowak of Kaiserslauten, Germany, preached, and Bro. Payne Hattox of Goree, Texas, a former missionary in Stockholm, returned to the city to direct the personal work campaign. This was the first such group effort in Scandinavia.

More than 25,000 pamphlets were distributed throughout the city and many contacts were made or renewed. Seventeen were enrolled in a Bible correspondence course. In the gospel meeting itself, attendance averaged almost 40 with a total of 22 non-Christians present. Three were baptized into Christ.

NETHERLANDS ANTILLES

Brother Dewayne Shapley has arrived in Aruba to take up evangelistic work under the direction of the church in that city. Two were baptized following his first week's work, bringing the total membership of the Aruba church to 57.

GERMANY

Brother and Sister Robert E. Vance, now of Nashville, Tennessee, will go to Kaiserslautern, Germany, in January to help in the work there. The local German evangelist, Bro. Hans Nowak, is carrying such a huge work load that fears have been expressed for his health, and it is the intention of Bro. Vance to relieve him of much of his work with American service personnel in the area so that Brother Nowak can devote more of his time to teaching the German people.

BRAZIL

Eight persons were baptized into Christ in Sao Paulo during November. The first Vacation Bible School held by any of the churches in Brazil is planned for February 4 to 8 by the Southwest church, Sao Paulo. This is toward the end of the summer there. Another congregation in Sao Paulo, known as the Brooklyn church, has been able to rent a building for worship services and has been meeting in it since November. Previously they had met in a language school operated by one of the members.

PUERTO RICO

A tent meeting, similar to the one held in Meaford, Ontario, this past summer, was scheduled to begin in Aguadillo, Puerto Rico, December 23, with Brethren Jack Fogarty and Ermon Bain preaching. This will be their second meeting in that city. Following this they were to go to Aruba, Netherlands Antilles, for a similar meeting beginning January 26. This second effort is to last 23 days.

KOREA

Brother Sid Allen, a former teacher of biology at George Pepperdine College and a doctor of veterinary medicine, is going to Korea in January to help train native evangelists at the Kimpo Road church in Seoul, to teach some classes at Korea Christian College, and to develop a dairy herd at the mission compound as a means of combating the high tubercular rate among Koreans. Offspring from the herd will be given to stricken Korean families to provide critically needed milk. At the same time they will receive the milk of God's holy Word.

The Allen family will be supported by the Vermont Avenue Church of Christ in Los Angeles, Calif. Sis. Allen is a daughter of Bro. Haskell Chesshir, who spent many years as a missionary in Korea, and thus is well-acquainted with the Korean people and their needs, both spiritually and physically.

JAMAICA

Brother W. Ralph Wharton, who formerly worked with the Niagara Street church in St. Catharines, Ont., but more recently in Mobile, Alabama, is being sent by the Crichton church in Mobile to hold a four-week series of gospel meetings in Jamaica.

TEACHING GOD'S WORD

point of a harvest. "He that soweth and he that reapeth may rejoice together" (John 4:36).

3. It Provides One of the Greatest Opportunities To Activate and Train Church Members.

We know that all should be workers for the Lord. In Matthew 25 Jesus taught the responsibility of using and developing our abilities in the kingdom. Christians are to develop into teachers of the word. "For when by reason of the time ye ought to be teachers, ye have need that some one teach you the rudiments of the first principles of the oracles of God." (Heb. 5:12).

In spite of this many church members have learned to do little else than "sit and listen" to someone. They have not been taught nor led to be active in the Lord's work. If we are to accomplish the great task before us every member should be active.

The Bible school furnishes opportunity to put almost everyone to work because of the many and diverse tasks included in its proper function. Here is a partial list of work in the Bible school: teaching, assisting in teaching, visitation, supervision, providing rides, personal work follow-up, cottage meetings, canvassing for new students, mailing various cards and announcements, library work relating to materials, welcoming new students, keeping records and seeing that they are used, taking care of rooms, building equipment for teachers, looking for pictures and other needed materials. Surely there is something here to use many and to train them in spreading the "good news".

4. It Opens Doors in the Community.

Interest in people's children usually brings a friendly response and opens doors where nothing else will. A canvass for Bible school students will not only result in more students but in a favourable community response. Where these children come from some doors will be opened for teaching parents the word of God. Quite often folks are taught through cottage meetings, personal work, or preaching but the original contact was made through the church's Bible school programme. During a canvass in Toronto, my wife knocked on the door of an elderly couple. They said they had no children. She invited them out to the meetings of the church and arranged for someone to pick them up. After a year or more of attendance they obeyed the gospel. An active Bible school work in a community will get the church known more favourably.

5. It Furnishes An Excellent Opportunity To Influence Dedication of Lives To God's Service.

We believe that there should be an evangelistic and missionary emphasis in the teaching programme. Early we should plant the idea of being missionaries, evangelists, teachers, elders, etc. This can be done in many attractive and effective ways. (See series of articles in earlier issues of the Herald). In the Bible school are many young lives. Here are our workers of tomorrow. Let us take advantage of the great opportunity of influencing these lives to full dedication.

The effective Bible school programme will result in a growing church. There will be more informed and working members, more converts, more evangelists, elders and teachers, more missionaries, and more willing to send. We cannot ignore this. (Next article will deal with Success Factors for the Bible School) number of men who took their turn on schedule.

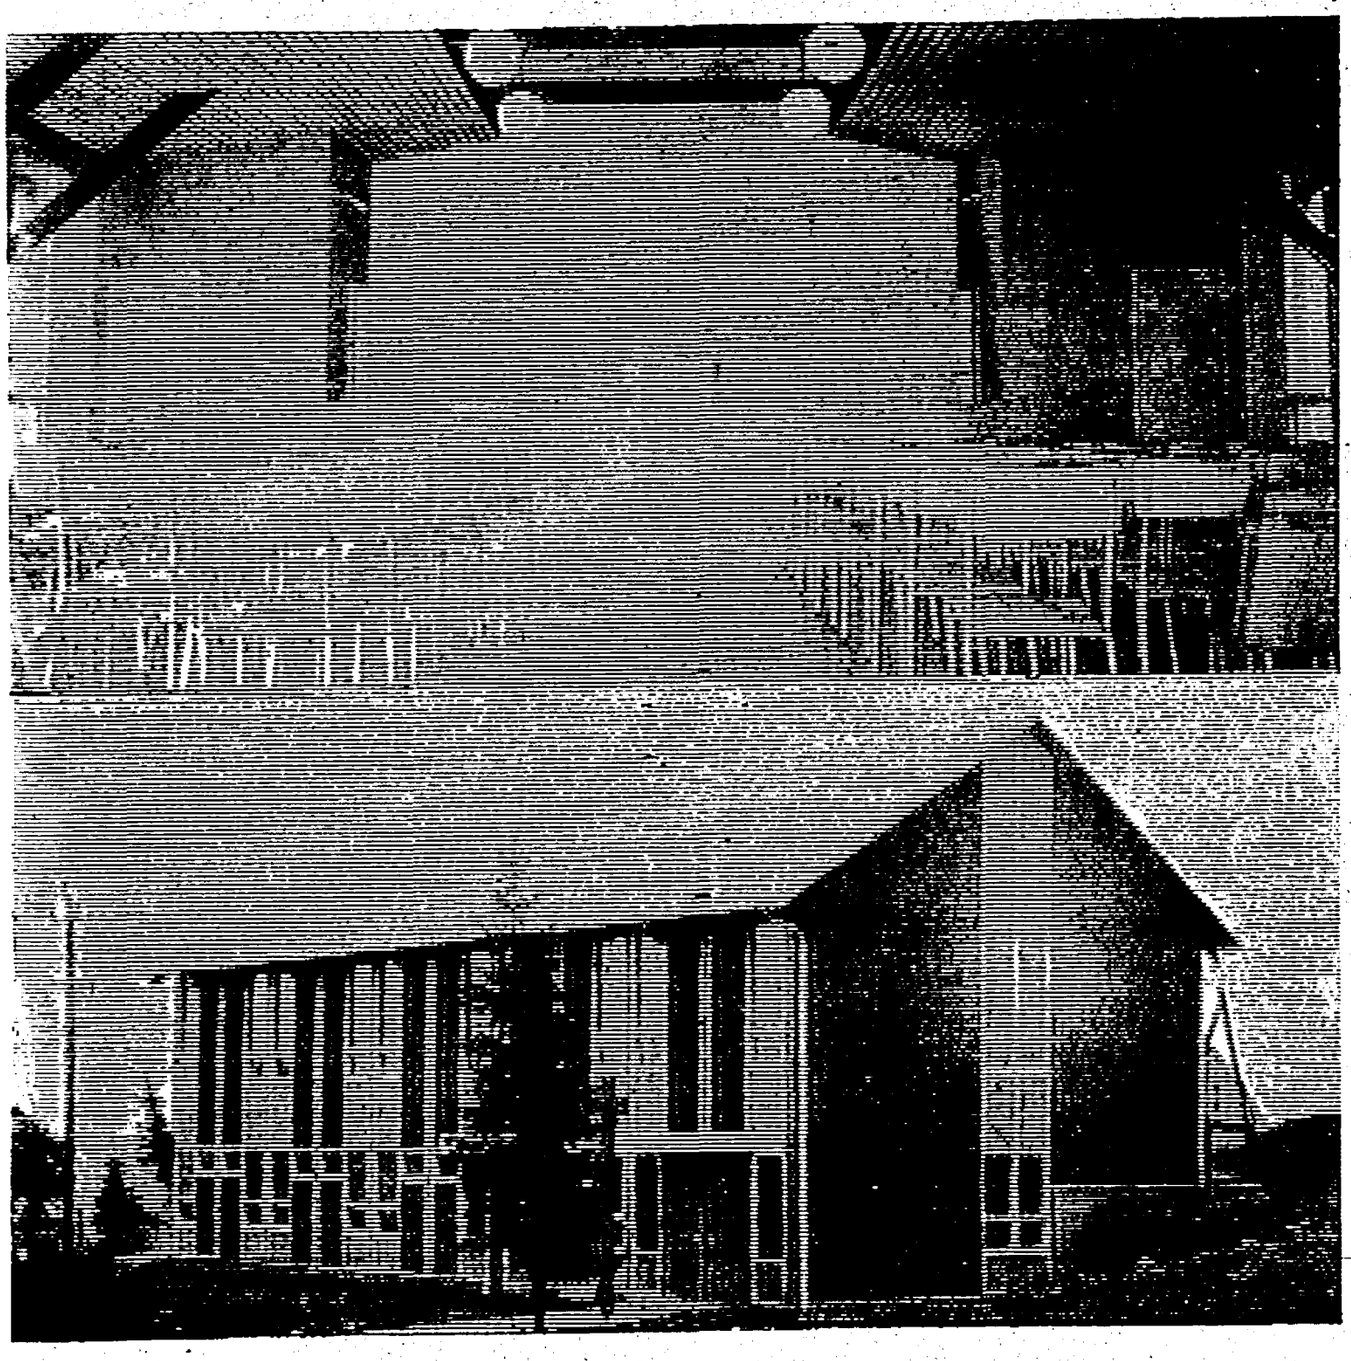
In some cases these men had neither the intellectual depth nor the background of study which would warrant them standing before the church to deal with some of the most important questions confronting the human race. In other cases, the individuals lacked the fluency to present an interesting lesson.

Others had both the depth of understanding and the fluency, but after some years in the same congregation, there was nothing fresh in their messages. Still others were capable speakers but business, church and family affairs prevented them from giving the time to the organization of the lessons that they presented. In any case the church did not grow with this approach.

Young people under the teaching of this system are lost to the church at an alarming rate. Few congregations will hold their young people under such a program. They will soon refuse to bring visitors to the meetings because of the shortcomings of some of the speakers. They will marry outside of the church with an alarming frequency and fall away completely or at least be indifferent members. Here is perhaps the greatest area of failure for so-called mutual edification.



Some of the finest brethren we know have been reared under the system where the men took turns in bringing the lessons on Lord's Day. In some small congregations this is a necessary condition and our hat goes off to the faithful brethren who have served so zealously under these circumstances. The writer has benefited from the labours of such brethren in certain periods of his own life. The fact remains that the system of mutual edification has not produced strong congregations over a long period of time, and necessary as it may be for an emergency measure, it is far from the ideal on a permanent basis.

The conclusions that have been presented in this article are not directed at any particular congregation. Neither are they mere assumptions. They have been pieced together as a result of considerable travelling. In the matter of mutual edification, they are partly based on the admissions of many who have come to realize the shortcomings of this system for the growth and health of the congregation.

Are we big enough and zealous enough to look clearly and honestly at the congregation where we worship? Are there lessons to be learned from its present condition? Are we seeking to correct the failures of the past? There is no better time than the beginning of a new year to begin our efforts to improve.

HALIFAX CHURCH ENTERS NEW BUILDING

Church of Christ, 48 Conway Ave., Fairview (Halifax) Nova Scotia

The Halifax Church of Christ has moved from rented halls into its own meeting place. The church first met in the new building on October 28, and the first gospel meetings were held in the building November 11 through 21. Louis Pauls of Fredericton, N.B., John Bailey of Keene, N.H., and E.R. Davis of Caribou, Maine, served as speakers during these meetings.

The new building features six classrooms on the ground floor level, with an open stairway leading upstairs to the auditorium, which will seat about 150. Also included in the building is a "mother's room," a study, and a fiberglass baptistry. Exposed spruce trusses are prominent in the auditorium, and the outside of the building has cedar shingles and brightly coloured plywood panels. The building was designed by a local architect, and is said to possess a "truly Nova Scotian" identity.

Local news media gave free coverage of the building opening, with a local television station showing both moving and slide pictures of the building on two newscasts, and commenting on the value the church received for money expended. The building itself cost $36,000, with the major portion of this financed by the Halifax church through a $30,000 bond issue. We are very thankful to the individuals and churches who assisted by either donating to the building fund or buying church bonds. Help is still needed by the small church here to meet sinking fund payments and operating expenses.

We believe that the new building will be a real asset to our work in this city, which now has a metropolitan population of over 200,000. The building is located in the Halifax suburb of Fairview, and prospects for continued growth in the area are good. The Halifax church now counts twenty members, with five baptisms in 1962. We ask prayers of brethren everywhere in behalf of this work.

FIRST ELDERS APPOINTED IN B.C.

On Sunday evening, December 9, 1962, three elders, Caleb Wood, Earl B. Severson, and Harold Roger Jeal, were appointed by the congregation of the South Burnaby Church of Christ meeting at Salisbury and Edmonds. After many months of careful deliberation and study, five names were presented to the congregation last summer, following which a questionnaire was circulated setting forth the qualifications of an elder. Each member of the congregation was asked to check the names of the nominees with the required scriptural qualifications. Two brethren subsequently withdrew their names, leaving three to be considered for the eldership. In a ceremony impressive in its simplicity, Bro. Alex McLean, acting for the congregation, read to the three elders a charge to keep. The appointment of the first elders has fulfilled the hopes of many who have passed on. Bro. Madison Wright, in 1907, according to the best information available, preached the gospel in New Westminster, only a short distance from the present church building in Burnaby. The church established then died in its infancy, but efforts were renewed about nine years ago. Since that time the congregation has grown from seven members under the leadership of Bro. Jeal to the present fifty active members.

The generosity of Brother and Sister Mallory has made possible the erection of a church building sooner than the congregation had dared to hope for. The foundations are now being poured. Within six weeks the assembly at South Burnaby hopes to meet in a modest Pan-Abode structure which will seat approximately one hundred and twenty-five people or more comfortably. This new building added to the present structure, a remodelled cottage, will provide adequate space for some time to come.

The congregation is happy and harmonious: the elders are confident. Plans are being considered for a complete organization including deacons as well. The teaching and preaching programme of the church is being revised to meet the needs of a rapidly growing congregation. For the present the elders will take charge of the preaching and teaching, using brethren wherever they can function best to ease the burden of work and to provide the best possible spiritual fare for this young church, now the second largest in the province.

The thanks of the congregation go out to the many brethren everywhere who contributed to the purchase of the first property in December, 1960. Pray for the continued success of the Lord's churches in British Columbia.

GREETINGS FROM PRINCE ALBERT

Dear Brethren:

The Lord has been good to us in this area. We have just completed two meetings. The first in Prince Albert with Bro. Leo Owens of Lloydminster and the second with Bro. Lynn Anderson of Salmon Arm, B. C. Brother Owens is a wonderful mixer who spent his time with the members in teaching them that Christianity can and must be lived here if we plan to live in eternity with Christ. One of the families that began attending while the meeting was in progress has attended each Sunday since.

On Sunday December 2, a young man from Love, Sask., which is 80 miles East of P. A. was baptized. Wilfred Hall worked in P. A. for a little over two months and spent the past month in our home. Wilfred's mother has been a member for several years.

Our second meeting, with Lynn Anderson resulted in four baptisms. One on the last night of the meeting; November 28 and the rest on the afternoon of Dec. 2. Three of these were teenagers and the other is the mother of seven children. She first heard the gospel last April with J. C. Bailey doing the the speaking and attended the midweek meetings in Big River. Later she began helping Sister Burt in the Sunday morning classes. Pray for these souls and the work in Big River, 90 miles north-west of P. A. Mrs Anderson has been criticized quite severely by some of her denominational neighbours especially for deciding to be immersed.

Robert and Marilyn Peterson's new baby, Heather, was born with a heart murmur but is coming along fine. She is now at home and living a normal life.

Our Sunday morning attendance in November averaged 34 and our collection averaged $34.32.

Monday December 10 we plan to begin our winter evening Bible School with a special 3 hour class for these interested. Several of the men have asked about a class such as this. If preachers can be trained in the overseas mission fields in this and related ways, why not try the same thing here.

We want to commend Monty Meyer and Archie Hugo for their fine lessons in my absence. Men who take leadership such as this add much to the work in small congregations.

Yours in Christ, Walter Straker

BETTY ROEMER AND BERLIN WORK

The work in this city is making good progress with thirty baptisms in 1961, and sixteen in the first half of 1962. It is encouraging that more young people are becoming members.

The Friedenau church and another church have formed one congregation of eighty members. Their preacher, Bro. Richard Walker, is leaving to begin a new work in another area of Berlin. Bro. Jaro, a former priest, will preach in Friedenau.

Sis. Roemer is busy teaching a number of classes. She is translating G. B. Eavy's book "The Educational Work of the Church", into German. She used her holidays helping with the large campaign in Scotland led by Bro. Jule Miller. The people were very friendly and hospitable and Betty may make Scotland her next field of work.

Many thanks to all who are helping in this work.

Yours in Christ,
Bernard Ziemer

OUR DEPARTED

THE GRIM REAPER TAKES HIS TOLL

The Cannon family of Harding Avenue, Toronto, have been hard hit in the last few months. First on May the 8th Bro. Leonard Cannon, beloved husband of Ivy Cannon and father of Joe and Aileen, was called to cross the "Narrow River." Then on Dec. 3rd Bro. Joseph Nutter, father of Ivy Cannon, was called to join the throng on the "Other Side." Our sympathies go out to Sister Cannon and the family.

Also on Sept. 18 Bro. George Culp was called to his reward. We sympathize with Sister Culp, left a young widow with one son Peter.

Those called away will be missed by their families as they are also missed by the Harding Ave. congregation. May the Grace of God fill the vacancies and cause us all to look with a greater longing desire to meet the Lord. Brethren, look up, the time will not be long.

MERRITT

William Merritt of Beamsville, passed away in the Hospital in St. Catharines, November 27th, in his 93rd year. He was doubtless the oldest member of the church in this vicinity, at the time of his death. For some time he had been inactive. He was born on a farm nearby Lake Ontario, and close to the first church started in their neighbourhood, and which was afterwards moved to the village of Beamsville. During his long pilgrimage he witnessed many changes in the community and the church.

He is survived by one son Homer of Burlington, and one brother, James of Beamsville. His wife predeceased him in 1960.

The funeral service was conducted in the Tallman Funeral Home, Vineland, with the burial in Mount Osborne Cemetery.

PEACOCK

The late Mrs. John Peacock was born in Faulkenburg, Ontario, 81 years ago, but lived in the Niagara District during the last 47 years of her life. She had been in failing health for sometime, but the call came suddenly, about the time she expected to return home from the hospital.

She is survived by her two daughters, Mrs. Ellen Backshall, St. Catharines; Mrs. Thelma Clements Dunnville; three sons, John, Claude and Reginald, all of St. Catharines.

The funeral service was held in the Butler Funeral Chapel, with the interment in Oak Lawn Cemetery, Jordan Station.

LUMLEY

The church at Beamsville has lost one of its most beloved and faithful members in the passing of Sister Clifford (Bertie) Lumley. Sister Lumley passed away at her home about one week after having a stroke. She was in her 76th year. Born in Dunnville, Sister Lumley resided for a time in Detroit and then in Wardsville. But most of her life was spent in Beamsville.

Sister Lumley is survived by her husband, who was an elder of the church, until retiring due to ill health. She had a fine family of six sons and four daughters; also twenty seven granchildren and eighteen great-grandchildren.

She had great enthusiasm for living and enjoyed life until the end. She sought to do what she could in the service of the Lord. Her presence will be missed by many friends.

Bro. G. H. Ellis and Bro. C. G. McPhee assisted with the services, conducted from the Tallman Funeral Chapel, Vineland and Mt. Osborne Cemetery.

A LOOK INTO THE PAST

(Travels, No. 2 copied from the "Message of Good Will, July-August 1865 as written by editor, David Oliphant. E.C.P.)

"The period arrived for the June Meeting in the Niagara District, near St. Anns, in a delightful grove, the property of Mr. Isaac Dennis. Fervent men had made preparations for the meeting every way creditable. The people assembled as though they meant it. And on the second day of the meeting, some heard . . . were willing . . . .

On the third day of the meeting, it is estimated that at least two thousand five hundred were in attendance But on the fourth day of the meeting we had a gospel feast so joyful and thrilling, that we were all apparently for a time in the heart of paradise. The preachers preached, the exhorters exhorted, sinners wept and came and confessed, and an additional company of believing people were joined to the living Head of the church and therefore joined to all the family of the redeemed on earth and in heaven. The excellent words spoken by no less than seven disciples during the last half day of this yearly meeting, will never be forgotten while men have memories.

Meetings were at once appointed for Smithville, Jordan, Grimsby and Lake-Shore; and including two or three immersed at some of these points, and reckoning one or two who declared their faith just before the meeting in the grove, yet connected with it, we enjoyed about twenty additions. The brethren generally were also rendered increasingly hopeful and happy.

Not far from the middle of June, a call was made at Dorchester. One meeting was enjoyed with the disciples, and then we passed onward to Yarmouth, where a single discourse was given. The brethren in Yarmouth are building a meeting-house this season - it will probably be ready to occupy in the month of October. Disciples such as Gilber, Hughes, Bently, Butchart, Ballah, Luton, McNeal, White, Stripp, Laughlin, Dean, Sherke, Inglis, and their relatives in the faith in Yarmouth and Dorchester, can by the help of the Lord's wisdom, effectually press the plea of the gospel upon the public heart.

Passing up to St. Thomas, a few hours were spent agreeably with brother Hodge who is loved not only for his own sake, but also because of his long and close attachment to brother William Oliphant, who as laid in death with all our fathers in Sept. 1856 - a man of faith and affection, whose memory is cherished.

600 THE TARGET FOR THURSDAY NIGHT LECTURE

The Thursday night lecture of the GLCC Lectureship, Jan. 24, is planned as a night of special gathering for Christians with a goal set for 600 in attendance. The lecture topic at 8:00 P. M. on this date is "The New Man in Christ," to be delivered by Don Gardner, President of Ohio Valley College.

The evening crowds attending the Great Lakes Winter Bible Lectureships have grown appreciably each year to the extent that facilities on the closing evenings of the week have been insufficient.

Thus, the Beamsville High School Gymnasium has been secured for the Thursday evening program. A special effort is being made to encourage the largest number to ever attend a single Great Lakes lectureship to be present. The goal of 600 is slightly less than twice the previous record set in 1962. The motive in setting this goal is explained simply: What will benefit one spiritually is good for others; and the greater the interest the stronger the influence for good; by setting a goal, we raise our vision to greater accomplishment. Plan to come and bring others with you.

Also planned for this evening from 6:30 to 7:30 P. M. is a Fellowship Dinner in Support of Christian Education in the same auditorium. The numbers able to attend this activity must be restricted to 300 because of the space available. Tickets will be sold for $1.00. Contact the College or the Board member in your area for tickets and information concerning this event.

GREAT LAKES ALUMNI ENJOY FIRST HOMECOMING

Many former Great Lakes students converged on the campus to enjoy their first alumni homecoming, November 16 and 17. Of special interest was the number of young families on hand both husband and wife being ex-Lakers. The schedule for the two day event included attendance at: two College functions - the Oratorical Finals and a basketball game; two special dinners - a Faculty luncheon and an evening banquet at which former President Bruce Merritt was the guest speaker; two special gatherings - morning chapel and an organizational meeting; an Old Boys football game with present students; and an informal reunion at the home of Doug and June Tallman. Fred Hampstire was elected the first President of the newly formed Alumni Association. Two Great Lakes grads. presently on the College staff, Gordon Ellis and Martha May, were also elected to offices. The Alumni voted to raise $4,500 to equip the science laboratory of the College's proposed new building. The gathering was so enthusiastically received by the grads that definite plans are being laid to carry this on as an annual affair.

as bloodletting and the "Old Oaken Bucket"; when our space ships take their place on the shelf beside the steam engine and the buggywhip; when this planet waxes old like a garment, and the last sun sets, this story will still be young."

After reading his book it is not difficult to see why Life Magazine said of David A. Redding: "One of the most eloquent younger voices in the U. S. pulpit today."

WHAT WILL 1963 BRING FORTH?

Little did I dream when we embarked on 1962 that at its end we would be planning on going to India. However, the Lord has so ruled and we are satisfied with His desires.

We have continued our work of preaching as opportunity affords and telling the story of India to brethren as occasion makes possible. Brethren continue to fellowship this work. We have now passed the $1,100.00 mark as far as finances are concerned. We have sent one hundred dollars to India to help get a place for us to live.

We had hoped by now to be able to make a definite announcement re helpers for this work but we still do not have any definite helpers except Brother Ray McMillan. We are sure that others qualified for this work will volunteer. In fact we are in correspondence now with other propective workers.

I just returned from a meeting in Edmonton. It was a thrill to work with these brethren. Brother Fruzia is doing a good work there. While on this trip we spoke for the churches at Outlook, Lloydminster, Calgary, Medicine Hat, and Swift Current relative to the India work. We can make 1963 the greatest year in the history of the church in Canada and in the world: SHALL WE DO IT?

WEDDING

BAYCHUK — CONIGLIO

At the Fennel Ave. meeting house on September 1 Bro. Dennis Baychuk and Sister Annette Coniglio were united in marriage. The ceremony was attended by a number of brethren and friends. The couple resided for a time near Winnipeg but now are living in Hamilton.

NEWS FROM PORTAGE LA PRAIRIE

We begin a gospel meeting with Bro. Richard Dacus Sunday, Nov. 25th. This meeting will complete our work schedule for this year. On looking back over the work done here we note the following:

A gospel meeting in March with Bro. Steve Ennis of Estevan.

A Vacation Bible Camp at Jubilee on Lake Manitoba. Some 40 boys and girls from Winnipeg, Carman and Portage enjoyed a week's stay for study and play at this restful camp. The dates were July 9th to 16th. Brethren from Carman and Winnipeg helped capably.

August 12th saw the official opening of our new building, with which so many of our brethren helped so generously, both with their money and time. Bro. Dan Weib, President, Western Christian College, brought a very challenging and inspiring message on the theme "A changeless Christ for a changing World", to a large number both from other congregations and the city.

The evening of August 12th also saw the beginning of our meeting with Bro. W. P. Dennis of Tipton, Okla. In conjunction with the meeting a campaign was begun with some 30 people from Canada and the U.S.A. taking part. This took the form of a religious survey, calls being made on most of the homes throughout the city. In addition to listing information for future use, and leaving tracts, efforts were made to enroll children for our V.B.S., to arrange home Bible studies, and especially to invite them to attend the services. I believe this campaign was a very great help in making the church known throughout the city.

Our V.B.S. was held August 22-27 with some 55 average in attendance. Many homes were reached through this means. Our attendance at services each week is on the increase once again, with 38 in the classes last Sunday.

Since March of this year, six new members have been added to our number. Many of these as a result of home Bible studies conducted by the minister here.

Financially, we are in the process of arranging an unsecured loan to take care of approximately one-half of our indebtedness of $4,000. This will be paid back at the rate of $75.00 monthly by the church here. We will need help to handle the balance, of approximately $2,000.

—W. E. McCutcheon

GLEANINGS

Christ in a three-week series of gospel meetings, and established ten new congregations.

Some of those baptized united with existing churches of Christ, but the new congregations were formed in villages where there had been no church previously.

The two visiting brethren insisted that the first principles of the gospel be taught for several days in each place before they would baptize any, thus trying to make sure the people were properly taught rather than just being emotionally moved. Afterwards they continued with classes for new converts, and visited constantly with the new Christians, trying to strengthen and encourage them. Their preaching also resulted in the restoration of a congregation of 150 who had once been loyal to Christ but through false teaching had been led into the Apostolic Church. In addition to their restoration to New Testament principles, 60 more were baptized and added to the number.

BRETHREN, I'M SCARED!

by Lynn Anderson, Salmon Arm, B.C.

Every time I think of it, it scares me to death! And we are doing so little about it. Yes, more than 83 souls per minute plunge into the awesome unknown — nearly all without Christ. And in Canada, roughly 200 baptisms were reported through the pages of the GOSPEL HERALD in a whole year! Admitting the fact that many were baptized that were not reported in the Herald, it still boils down to this: It took us a year to teach as many people as have died in the world in three minutes. Thank God that we Canadian Christians are not the only hope the lost world has of hearing the Gospel.

Note a comparison: The restoration movement in North America is slightly over 100 years old (the gospel 2,000), yet on this continent we can scare up less than three million Christians. For shame! Only 58 years ago, there were just 17 Communists in the whole world. Today one-third of the world's population is under Red domination. WHY? Why has this Godless system spread so phenomenally? Largely through the efforts of dedicated "personal workers". This reveals a heart rending, yea, a terrible chilling fact: THE COMMUNISTS HAVE BEEN A MILLION TIMES MORE CONCERNED ABOUT SPREADING DIALECTICAL MATERIALISM, THAN WE HAVE BEEN ABOUT PREACHING CHRIST! (And do I hear someone mumble, "let's not get so exercised over this thing?")

Why are we so sluggish about evangelizing the world? Indeed, WHY? Is it because we can't do it? Nay! If every Christian would convert one soul per year, it would take about 18 years till EVERY SOUL ON EARTH WOULD BE A CHRISTIAN. Figure it out.

There is no real reason why any Christian of normal intelligence and with enough personality to describe a game of baseball cannot teach a cottage meeting and thus save a soul. True, it will take some effort and some diligent study, but isn't your neighbor's soul worth it? But, listen to some of our feeble excuses:

"Too Busy". But not too busy to make every hockey game, T.V. program, etc., etc. we want to see. If we are too busy to save

BEST JOB — BEST PAY

by Edward L. Bryant, Toronto

Many problems beset the man or woman who works for a living. That it is an economic necessity goes without saying. Many are in their present jobs, not by choice, but by circumstance. Some are still filling the only jobs that were available to them at the time when they went to work. They would be far happier in other occupations which allowed fuller use of their peculiar talents, or presented more of a challenge, but with the passing years, the rut gets deeper and they find it harder to make a change. At last, they resign themselves to get from their jobs the best advantages possible, and let it go at that. Though they long for a better job with better pay, they have come to realize that promotions do not always go to the better qualified person. Some go to those who marry the boss's daughter!

Who wouldn't want a better job, with better pay? It seems almost foolish to ask. Some may be heard to say, "Just point me toward it!" Yet jobs are even now going begging. They are few and far between in the world of secular employment, to be sure, but they are readily available in every congregation of the Lord's church. These are the best jobs that can be found on the face of the earth. There is no waiting until the end of the week or the month for your pay, either. Pay-day is every day. Hard work is necessary (You knew there was a

A LESSON FROM HISTORY

by M. Norvel Young

It is frequently true that a backward glance at our history as a brotherhood can help us to clearly understand and evaluate the nature of contemporary tensions. Shortly after the turn of the century, the disciples who had been pleading for unity on the basis of Christ as their only creed and the Bible their only rule of faith came to a sad parting. One group took the attitude that what the New Testament did not specifically c o n d e m n, Christians could do. Others insisted that Christ wanted his followers to hold only to those things authorized either by command, example, or by necessary inference.

Those taking the first stance insisted on the addition of the missionary society, thus disturbing the freedom of independent congregational action. They also conformed to the prevalent practice a m o n g denominations of the time by introducing instrumental music into the worship. As the issues became sharply defined, thousands of Christians were faced with the dilemma of maintaining "the unity of the spirit in the bond of peace" without sacrificing "the faith once for all delivered to the saints."

A rather significant group, sought to maintain a middle course by refusing to take the liberal attitude toward the scriptures while maintaining practical fellowship w i t h those who embraced the innovations. Well-known preachers who opposed the innovations would hold meetings for congregations which had introduced the instrument. The piano or organ was simply silenced during such services. Those men pleaded with their brethren to avoid all practices and attitudes which threatened to bring a b o u t permanent division. The vivid lesson from this segment of Restoration history is that the liberal approach to the scriptures which fostered the innovations encouraged an increasingly wider breach until brethren who at first had hoped to ignore the differences, were inevitably forced to take a positive stand. As a result, families were divided; close friends were separated; brethren became estranged. Yet time has proven that it was not feasible to ignore the basic differences in attitudes which were objectified in the two issues mentioned. (Error cannot be defeated by being ignored, and truth cannot be preserved by a conspiracy of silence.)

Since this time of separation, two new generations have grown up. Some have even forgotten that a great host of those who had once obeyed the gospel and been added by the Lord to His Church chose to separate themselves, breaking the bonds of fellowship by insisting on adding to the organization and worship of the church those things which were not authorized by the scriptures. I can recall hearing of many instances in which the piano or organ was forced by a narrow majority upon a conscientious minority. Those who could not conscientously accept it were left no alternative but to leave the building they had helped to erect and to begin again in a home or a rented hall.

The passing of time has not only served to numb the memories of former fellowship, but also to foster further divisions of both groups. The majority of the Disciples of Christ continued in their liberal attitudes toward the scriptures and have come to hold few distinctive beliefs as matters of faith. They have become leaders in the ecumenical unity movement in which those who hold even diametrically opposite religious convictions will either ignore all differences or fellowship each other in spite of them. A more conservative minority of those who accepted the instrument refused to accept the centralized authority of the missionary society and held closely to many o t h e r scriptural positions which characterized the earlier period of the Restoration Movement. Others who accepted the missionary society later reacted against its assertion of power and the modernism which crept into its organization and renounced it.

Unfortunately, even among those of us who held to the original position of the restorationists and opposed both the introduction of the instrumental music and the missionary society, there also arose further divisions over such questions as the number of containers to be used for the Lord's supper, the number of classes which could be c o n d u c t e d simultaneously on the Lord's day, how widows and orphans should be cared for, etc.

In recent years, the conservative element of the Christian churches or Churches of Christ (Instrumental) as many call themselves have seen the impact of modernism on their brethren who accepted the liberal attitude toward the scriptures, have conducted meetings designed to reestablish the unity which once existed between their forefathers and ours. As good as are the intentions of those exploring this possibility, I believe there is a great danger that out of such meetings will come either compromise of scriptural positions and/or the formation of a third group which will attempt to solve the problem of unity by glossing over basic differences. It has been sadly observed that the more we talk of fellowship, the less practical fellowship we seem to have. Previous efforts like this such as the one by Ernest Beam have not achieved their goals.

Of course, all Christians must strive for the unity Jesus prayed for. We must pray for it. We must constantly be willing to discuss ways of achieving it. But, unity must be attained on the right foundation--not at the sacrifice of scriptural principle. It would be wonderful if all Christians everywhere could be one as the Father and the Son are one. But this kind of unity can not be obtained by compromise of any truth. Jesus, though He was a Son, learned obedience. The kind of unity we are to earnestly desire is the kind which comes to disciples who are united in Christ. The nearer they come to Christ in His perfection, the more united they are with each other.

Let us not forget the lesson in Restoration history that the significant differences which arose over innovations could not be ignored. After a hundred years we must not be led to surrender any truth even for the sake of unity. Let us not be misguided by the attractive promises of easy solutions.

A LESSON FROM HISTORY

Let us beware of any naive voices who would lead us to ignore the true basis of unity or any siren voices which would lead us to compromise. Now is a time of unprecedented opportunity to preach Christ to all the world. It is a time to contend earnestly for the faith once for all delivered to the saints, a time to practice pure and undefiled religion. It is a time to press the plea for unity on the basis of Jesus Christ as Lord of all and the New Testament as the Constitution for His people. But there is no time when Christians can afford to add truth to or surrender any part of the truth God has revealed. We can respect the sincerity and good will of those with thom we differ. We can calmly discuss our areas of agreement and of disagreement and work and pray for unity. But, we must not allow even the sunlight of respect and good will to blind our eyes to basic scriptural differences.

One of the best ways to meet divisive forces on either extreme is for elders and preachers to challenge the members to really sacrifice for the Cause of Christ. I am convinced that one of the basic reasons for so much discord in the brotherhood is the fact that we are not all busy carrying out the Lord's instructions to preach the gospel to the whole world, to visit the widows and orphans, to feed the poor, to care for the sick, to minister to those in prison. Idle Christians are ripe for dissension. Christians who are really walking in the steps of the Master and who are hard at work "building the walls" will not be so tempted to drift into error on the one hand or to divide over human opinions on the other. Some of our denominational neighbors are putting us to shame in the degree of their dedication to missions, benevolence and teaching their faith.

Recently, I had occasion to ride a train from Chicago to Nashville. It stopped at every small town and most of the people got off. As soon as the conductor shouted: "All Aboard" everyone rushed to get on the train. This illustrates the value of a moving program of work for the local church. If the elders and preachers will plan a ten year program which challenges the loyalty and dedication of every member the tendency will be for the members to "get on board." But if there is little planning and less movement the tendency will be to disperse when the work of the local congregation grinds to a halt. The unifying effect of a dynamic program of Christian work and worship is remarkable. Christianity needs to be demonstrated to an unbelieving world. We need to put in practice the practical fellowship we enjoy and move forward with love for the souls of all men and with respect for those with whom we differ, but without compromise of any New Testament truth, to sow the seed of the Kingdom in every nation to the glory of God.

Let us press on in our efforts to carry out the great commission. The time is ripe. We have more preachers, more money, more meeting houses, more members than any time in generations. More than half the people who have ever lived are estimated to be alive now. This is no time to sacrifice a single truth. This is no time to dissipate our unparalleled potential by preoccupation with theoretical plans which divide the body of Christ. This is a time to preach the truth in love more fervently and more forcefully than ever before and to call on all believers to unite on the basis of Christ as our creed and the New Testament as our only rule of faith.

We will draw closer to all the believers God has added to the kingdom when we and they draw nearer to God through Christ. Let all bitterness and wrath be left out of our hearts and let us love one another as Christ enjoined. Three generations ago brethren discovered that even love must not lead to compromise of any truth. May God give us more faith, more hope and more love and may we march forward to share Christ with all the world and to restore the purity and simplicity of New Testament Christianity all over the world.

EDUCATION IN THE NEWS

Two interesting movements are under way in the Ontario school system today. Apparently similar movements exist in other provinces. One is the effort to have religious teaching and Bible reading removed from the public schools. The other stems from a brief presented by Roman Catholic bishops who are seeking more public tax money for the Catholic separate school system. Christians should take a keen interest in both of these efforts.

First, let it be understood that these two movements are not peculiar to Ontario or to Canada in their objectives. Similar movements have been under way in various of the United States for years. Law suits and bitter words have arisen on both sides. The score to date across the border is somewhat confused, but the secularists (advocates of anti-religious teaching) and the Roman Catholic advocates of tax support for their separate schools would seem to be winning a slow but steady victory. Because of the American Constitution, their task in the United States is more difficult than it is in Canada.

We are not much worried over the removal of Bible teaching and religious education from the public schools. Much of it has been a sham anyway. Some of it has been detrimental. Many of those who have directed the religious exercises or taught the lessons have been incompetent or biased. We know children who have reported to their parents or Bible school teacher that Mr. Blank, the visiting clergyman, laughs at the claims that Moses wrote Genesis or that Jonah was swallowed by a "whale". Some teachers cast doubts on the validity of the New Testament claims concerning the Christ. Others have been so engrossed with the current ecumenical emphasis that they have seen fit to preach its philosophies in the classroom.

This writer taught "religious education" to a large number of sixth graders in the Hamilton school system for several years. He would do so in Ottawa if opportunity came his way. If the Bible is going to be taught in these classrooms, may the teachers be those who love it and respect its authority!

In our classes in Hamilton, we tried to the best of our ability to teach the life of Jesus without bias or speculation. We found much enthusiasm among the students and loved the work. It was a bright spot in each week. If we could assume that all teachers would approach the classes in such a manner, we would fight to have the present system retained.

As for the "opening exercises" in Bible reading and prayer that are carried out each day, we suspect that they have had little meaning to the average child. In an attempt to furnish only those readings and prayers that would be acceptable to Protestant, Catholic, and Jew alike, little is given that would train a child for spiritual growth. Our memories of formal readings and prayers we heard as a boy in the public schools of Ontario would indicate that they had little value for most of us. Others may disagree with this view on the basis of their private experiences. Likely the attitude of the teacher is the key to differing assessments.

The attempt by the Roman Catholic Church to obtain a larger slice of the tax dollar is a serious one. It does not consist of a request for greater help with elementary education alone. It asks for a greater degree of jurisdiction over the curriculum and, at the same time, more finances for secondary schools, and even teacher-training institutions. Perhaps it is asking for a great deal with the hope of obtaining a little.

There would be few who would disagree with the right of a Roman Catholic child to an education as good as that of his non-Roman Catholic neighbor. The school systems are so constituted that he can have such an education simply by enroll-

TEACHING GOD'S WORD

BIBLE SCHOOL SUCCESS FACTORS

H. Ralph Perry, London, Ontario

Causes succeed because of certain key factors and personalities involved. This is true in the teaching of God's word. If there is failure in our Bible school effort the cause does not reside in God with whom nothing is impossible nor with the word which is His power unto salvation. Any failure can be blamed on the human factors.

A listing of some of the important factors involved in Bible school success follows with a brief comment on each.

1. Enthusiasm: Enthusiasm will transform a dull and drab activity or cause into a powerful force. The word now means "ardent zeal or interest, fervor." Historically the words from which this comes meant to be divinely inspired or possessed. God intends Christians to "be fruitful in every good work" and whatever we do, is to be done "heartily, as to the Lord." (Col. 1:10; 3:23).

Enthusiasm for Bible school, a good work, is important if it is to succeed. God is not pleased with lukewarmness in his cause. The overseers, supervisors and teachers must be on fire with determination, zeal, and enthusiasm for teaching God's word. Since enthusiasm is contagious this will spread throughout the whole church.

Being sold on the values of Bible school (article last month) let us all give it our wholehearted support. Be enthusiastic. People will come once and want to return.

2. Bible Centered: Someone has said, "I believe in Bibles brought, Bibles studied and Bibles used. There is no book like the Bible." The Bible school hour should be devoted to the teaching of the word of God. It is God's message to man and the gospel is God's power to save.

The teacher should not teach the quarterly or teacher's manual but the Bible. The manual would best be left home and the Bible held in the hands of the teacher in the classroom. It is the center of all teaching going on in the Bible school.

3. Prepared and Dedicated Teachers: Good Bible teachers should be prepared in life through complete dedication unto the Lord. Good teachers set the example in holy living, faithful attendance at all gatherings of the church and active participation in good works.

Good Bible teachers are prepared to teach through a personal knowledge and acceptance of God, Christ and the Holy Spirit.

Good Bible teachers are prepared to teach through a good general background knowledge of the Bible and through specific preparation for each lesson taught. This is a must.

Good Bible teachers are prepared through a knowledge of their pupils' needs and problems and also through a knowledge of how to teach. To sharpen their teaching it is advisable for all teachers to read regularly good books and articles on the principles and methods of teaching.

4. Teacher Training: An active growing church will require all Bible school teachers to be trained. We hope that the day will soon be that this is fact. How much more effective our work would be! We are dealing with eternity bound souls and the message that saves. Brethren, we must improve our teaching!

There are good books, booklets, and filmstrips that can be used to train in the art of teaching the Bible. Churches would do well to encourage teachers to read "The Christian Bible Teacher", a monthly magazine written by our brethren or the quarterly journal "Teach" published by Gospel Light Publications. There are articles in each issue of both of these for teachers of all ages.

Teachers' meetings can be used to provide some training. However, it is probably best to have a special concentrated effort for this. Attend area training courses. Interdenominational Sunday School Conventions are open to the public and offer some excellent training from experts in the field of teaching. Usually there is little of a doctrinal nature included in such.

In service training is an excellent means of training new workers. Put the one to be trained with an experienced teacher to observe, help and practice. Visit classes in other congregations or public school classes and observe closely the methods of teaching.

5. Supervision: The elders are really directors of the Bible school but they often select someone to serve under them as supervisor. This person is the key to the success of the Bible school. If he is alert to needs, and details, and enthusiastic he will carry the workers along to an enlarged and improved teaching programme.

The director of the Bible school should be willing to study, keep abreast of all new advances in aids, methods and promotion, and be willing to spend time in planning. He must be able to encourage, organize and lead. Such a one should be selected with prayer and care.

6. Teachers' Meetings: Regular worthwhile teachers' meetings are extremely valuable in assuring the success of the teaching programme. To be worthwhile they should be well planned and executed. In the planning should be a definite place for inspiration, information and instruction.

Teachers' meetings help to weld the teaching programme into a living, unified effort to bring souls to Christ, build them up in Christ and send them out to work for Christ. Too often teachers carry on their own little program not co-operating in the total effort. Thus much is lost in time, effort and souls.

7. Good Curriculums: Curriculum has to do with lessons and literature for the Bible school. An overall plan of teaching should be formed. Then good literature should be selected that will do the best job in accomplishing the goals set forth. The literature should be Bible centered. It should assist the teachers in presenting Christ to all students. Extremely important is the fact that the lessons should be related to life and not just present facts. Bible school literature should be attractive and educationally sound.

SLEEPING BEAUTY

Nothing is more beautiful than Christian youth. Remember the story of Sleeping Beauty? How lovely she was lying there in sweet and silent slumber. Oh, but she was so much more beautiful and precious when she was active and full of life, when her cheeks were rosy, when she was awake to the cares and needs of others.

How much are we like Sleeping Beauty? Beautiful — but asleep. Healthy — but inactive. Living — but barely. When will we respond to the tender kiss of the Lord, and arise from our sleep of inactivity? In many corners of the Lord's Vineyard, Christian youth is a sleeping princess. How beautiful it is now, how much more beautiful it could be!

While you slumber on see Jesus in your dreams. Hear him as he says to you "Now is the high time to awake out of sleep" and again, "Awake thou that sleepest". Does he say to us now as he said in the long-ago, " . . . sleepest thou? couldest thou not watch one hour?"

Arise, youth of Canada! Let us be active, work and play as Christian young people. Let us profit from today while we have it, let us drink deeply from the fountain of youth while it is ours! What are you doing Christian youth of the west? And how about you in the north, and in the east? Up now, Sleeping Beauty—to fellowship, to activity, to service! Let us hear from you!

AN EASTERN TEENAGER

By H. F. Thompson
Kingston, Ontario

So you think you have problems as teenagers. I'm a successful business man now but read a story of my youth and take it for what it's worth.

I came from a large family, my mother was dead and I had only one brother that didn't hate me. My oldest brother had poor morals and my sister got into trouble when she was young. I never read the Bible nor even had one in our house. I left home when I was seventeen. Dad didn't know I was leaving or where I was going: and neither did I. With a start such as this you will probably wonder how I ever succeeded in life. Here's the answer.

Long before I was born Dad had a dream and in the dream God, who is a spirit, spoke to him and made great and wonderful promises. Dad told me about these things and explained that God saw and knew everything that I did, whether good or bad. This impressed me a great deal and I never forgot it.

About 150 miles from home I came to a large city where the commanding officer of the palace garrison gave me employment as a houseboy. There didn't seem to be much future in the job, but I had been taught that hard work never hurt a young fellow so I buckled down to business. Even when I was so far from Dad I never forgot God: and He never forgot me. He helped me to understand many things in life and it wasn't long before the C.O. was keeping a close eye on me for advancement. To make a long story short I was soon made his business manager. This gave me many privileges and also many temptations. Who was to know if I sold something on the side and slipped the money into my pocket. Is that the way you feel when you are tempted?

My mother was beautiful. I guess every young person thinks of his mother that way. Without boasting I'll say that I got my share of Mom's good looks. At least I wasn't the ugly duckling of our family. As I grew older I noticed that the girls were beginning to look my way. This is good for the ego, fellows, but don't let it go to your head.

Where I live in the East, girls have a way of glancing at young men. What's wrong with that? Well, perhaps nothing, unless it happens to be the C.O.'s wife as it was in my case. I'm not saying whether or not she was beautiful, because that doesn't matter. But she was persistent.

The climax came when the C.O. was away on business. She had talked to me before about things that were none of my affair and she wanted me to do things that neither I nor any other single person had any right to do. I tried to reason with her and explain the responsibilities that each of us had. I did my best to point out how wicked her suggestion was and how God, who sees all, could not bless people who did such things. In fact, I told her that what she had in mind was a sin.

In spite of all this she grabbed me by the clothes one day, (and you may think me a coward) but I slipped out of that clothing like a flash and ran for my life.

Well, to end this story, when the C.O. returned he got his wife's side of the picture, put the law on me and had me put in jail.

Some might say, "Serves you right for being a goody goody". I looked at it this way. I'd rather be in jail with a clear conscience than try to be free with a guilty conscience.

Say, I suppose you would like to know my name. You young people would probably call me "Joe". Gen. 37:2.

THEY HAVE RECEIVED THEIR REWARD

Bethel W. Bailey Sudbury, Ontario

Among the many sad judgments passed down on judgment day, none will be sadder to my mind than the words before us: "They have received their reward." Sad, because it will involve some of the best people on earth: preachers, church leaders, and a host of others, who served well their calling, but did so because of the human desire for praise and self gratification. "Many that are first shall be last, and last first."

Our service to God is not optional. If it were, then how we rendered that service would not be important. We would have somewhat to glory just in the fact that we so disposed ourselves to serve Him. Paul considered his service to Good an obligation: "For if I preach the gospel, I have nothing to glory of; for necessity is laid upon me; for woe is unto me, if I preach not the gospel."

We have a stewardship entrusted to us, and it behooves us to be good stewards of the gospel of Christ. Paul says, "What then is my reward? That when I preach the gospel, I make it without charge, so as not to use to the full my right in the gospel." No, we are not attempting to prove that preachers should go without support. Just a few verses previous to the quotation given, Paul had declared, "Even so did the Lord ordain that they that proclaim the gospel should live of the gospel." The manifold wisdom of God is to be made known through the church. Preachers would do the church a serious injustice if they failed to point out this responsibility to the churches, and allowed them the right to so work out their salvation. I think sometimes, that many of our efforts fall short of what we hope for simply because they are not done by the church, but by a few of the more dedicated members.

Eternal rewards are dependent upon things that we do as a sacrifice, or beyond the call of duty; upon deeds that are noticeable only to Him that seeth in secret (Matt. 6:2). During these prosperous times it is difficult to conceive that we should do anything unprofitable.

Christians have a great responsibility to set before the present world the teaching that Christianity consists in doing good without though of recompense. Making sacrifices may be difficult, but it lays up treasures that cannot be destroyed. God will be mindful of even the most minute deed. He that giveth "a cup of water to a little one" shall in no wise lose his reward.

Sometime ago, the Gospel Herald gave some attention to the fact that with a critical shortage of preachers in Canada, a number of Canadian preachers are busily engaged elsewhere. Are they preaching in countries where the need is more critical? There are such places. But why do preachers leave us? Usually inadequate support is listed as reason number one. Looking at the matter objectively, we cannot censor them sternly. How many members of the church do not take the position that will pay them the most? Few of them give any thought to the position that would render the most service to God. Several pioneering efforts are calling for helpers, but pleas go unheeded because Christians will not make the sacrifice.

Futhermore, we have brethren in Canada who seem to think that preachers have some magic formula that will allow them to live on less than the average wage. There are other reasons, however, that can and do influence our decisions. Preaching for larger congregations, and working where results are more visible has a stimulating effect on our ego. It increases the opportunity to be popular. Lest anyone should think that this article is a particular grudge against preachers, may we suggest that many elders, deacons, teachers and song leaders forfeit their right to hear that "Well done" because they will have already received their reward.

This world is not our abiding place. To substitute a little temporary indulgence, a little praise, for the great treasures that are laid up for us, is not wise. "Work not for the food that perisheth, but for the food which abideth unto eternal life." The challenge of the Great Commission urges us onward. There is much territory yet to be covered, and the time is very brief. There is work for YOU in the Master's vineyard. But do it humbly lest the Lord should say, "You have received your reward."

BEST JOB — BEST PAY

catch somewhere, didn't you?), but it is so enjoyable you hardly realize you have been at work. Also, what you earn cannot be taken away from you, but is given in the form of bonuses each day, with final reckoning to come at the Last Great Day.

The job of teaching from God's word is such a job as we have described, It will demand every talent you have, and the very best of your total personality. There is no time-clock to punch, but you will require yourself to be punctual without it. No boss cracks a whip over your head, but you will find yourself working like a slave because you want to. Nobody demands that you prepare a lesson in just such a manner, but your desire to reach and teach lost souls will haunt you until you must try new methods and read the instructions of successful teachers in order to improve your own teaching. The prospect of unconverted souls walking away from your classroom and out into the world will keep you seeking for better ways to reach your pupils.

Working conditions are the very best. Your co-workers will be congenial. They have no designs on your job, and are not in competition with you. You will find them sympathetic with your problems, often very helpful with their solution. They will even pray with you for the success of your efforts, and for you. You don't have to worry about promotions, for all the jobs pay the same. You will even find the boss doing the same job you are doing. You are on an equal footing with all, the day you go to work.

So long as you follow the example of the Master Teacher, and heed His words, you need have no fear but that you are teaching the right things to other souls. His authority is such that neither man nor devil can successfully challenge it. Also, He has promised that "heaven and earth shall pass away, but my words shall not pass away". Thus you can be assured that what you teach today is as fresh as today's newspaper - and far more profitable. It remains only for you to make it live in the hearts and minds of your pupils so that they will obey the Lord and be Christians.

When you thrill to the sight of people turning away from the ways of the world and unto Christ because you taught them, you will realize one of the highest joys ever to be yours on this earth. There is no job satisfaction, no raise in material pay, no earthly promotion however high, to compare with this. It will elate you, but should not inflate you. More often, the effect is to make you more humble than ever, and to encourage you to renewed efforts for the Lord's cause.

As for job security, fear not. There will always be a demand for your services, as long as you teach the truth in love, for souls still hunger after the truth that shall make them free. Far from being over-crowded, the field is white unto harvest, and the labourers are few. By becoming a labourer yourself, you are placed in a position to encourage others to do so.

You begin with whatever talents you have, after dedicating your life to God, through obedience to the gospel. Your talents and abilities will be developed through constant use. Preparing for a lesson each week will lead you to study more and more. As questions are asked in class, as challenges are presented in life, as situations arise demanding a working knowledge of the Bible, your study and your skill in teaching will increase. As skill increases, so will confidence in yourself. The more self-confident you are, the more ready you will be to accept, or even seek out, opportunities to teach individuals in their homes.

As a result of your teaching, you will earn the respect of your neighbors. This will lead in turn to increased attendance at your classes. This leads to further fruitfulness on your part. There is no end to the good that may be done by one person dedicated to serving his Lord in this way.

Now, about the pay. As we have pointed out, it comes in the form of regular bonuses, with the reward itself reserved to your account in heaven. The bonuses are the responses of your pupils to the story of Jesus , the changes that are brought about in their lives by your teaching, or rather, your helping them to learn. They are also found in the sense of satisfaction that comes when you realize that you are doing the greatest work on earth, not only making your own calling and election sure, but also helping others to make theirs sure as well. Final reward comes on the Great Pay Day, when you hear the Master say, "Well done, good and faithful servant."

EDUCATION IN THE NEWS

ing for it. Now if his parents desire another kind of education for him, they should be willing to finance the system of their choice. The separate schools of Ontario, and to some degree, of other provinces, represent an attempt to make the dogma of the Roman Catholic Church the center of all knowledge. If the Government sees fit to finance separate schools, it is in effect subsidizing the teaching of the Roman Catholic Church. This is neither just nor healthy.

A public school should be just that without any direct relationship to any church. If it cannot teach the great truths of Christianity, then let all pretense of religious teaching be dropped. On the other hand, when interested parents are willing to finance a school system where their particular beliefs will be made the center of all other teaching, may they always have the freedom to do so - only never at public expense.

Book Reviews

Books to be reviewed in this column should be sent to Keith T. Thompson, Box 403, Beamsville, Ont., Canada.

The Wycliffe Bible Commentary, edited by Charles F Pfeiffer and Everett F Harrison. Moody Press, Chicago. 1525 double column pages. $11.95 (plus exchange in Canada).

This is an entirely new commentary on the entire Bible written by 48 conservative Bible scholars. It gives a phrase by phrase treatment of both the Old and New Testaments. An introduction is given to each Biblical book and major sections of the books are clearly summarized.

It is evident that a tremendous amount of work has gone into the writing, editing and production of this commentary. While one will not be able to agree with every comment throughout the book the serious Bible student will find much help from consulting it.

Daily Life In The Time Of Jesus by Henri Daniel-Rops. Hawthorn Books Inc. Publishers, New York. 512 pages. $6.00 (plus exchange in Canada).

The author of this book is an eminent French man of letters, the writer of seventy books and a member in the Academie Francaise and holder of its Grand Prix. This is not another "life of Jesus" or an interpretation of His theological significance but a masterful portrayal of the conditions under which he lived. It describes the everyday environment of our Lord. It gives reality to the environment in which Jesus lived.

The source of information is not only Scripture but also the geography, politics, economics, culture, customs and religion of the time. It is almost as if we were taken to an on-the-scene visit to Jesus' homeland as He knew it.

The land itself becomes more than a collection of foreign - sounding names and places. Its hills, its lakes, its trees, fruits, flowers, and animals take on reality. Figures like Herod and Pilate come alive.

Special attention is given to the religious background of the time of Jesus. The nature of the Jewish faith, the worship of the temple, the teaching of the synagogue, the religious sects, are all characterized with a deft touch. Finally, Jesus Himself is portrayed in His everyday life. He is revealed as the Messiah for whom the Jewish people looked but whom they did not recognize when He came.

This would contain a basement divided into seven classrooms, an upstairs auditorium seating about 100, a "cry room", study, baptistry, and classroom.

"Perhaps we are visionary but we hope to be able to complete this project on a two acre site for about $27,000.00. The land cost is to be $7,000.00. On the evening of December 16, Maurice Pelchat was baptized. We hope that these will experience many years of service for the Lord.

Last Sunday morning, January 13, our target of 125 was reached in the Bible School. We are raising our target now and our hopes are high that this will soon be reached.

Owen Sound: Three were restored to the fellowship of the church on December 16 which action was prompted by the gospel meeting by Jim Nicholson, concluded just before this. The report of the meeting states, "A good interest was created and nine who were not members were present for the last service in weather that only one word could describe — blizzard."

Huntsville: Remember the lectureship series planned for February 18, 19, 20. The theme will be "The Christian's place in, and responsibility toward the home, the church and the state." Brethren are urged to

GLEANINGS FROM FOREIGN FIELDS

NEW ZEALAND

By the time this column appears in print, the gospel campaign planned for the city of Wellington, New Zealand, will be past history. Sponsored by the Central Avenue church in Valdosta, Georgia, 35 missionaries, including 18 full-time gospel preachers, were to combine forces with members of the church in Wellington in the massive evangelistic effort. More than 100 churches of Christ throughout the Southern States were having a part in the meetings by giving financial aid or supporting a worker.

Preaching services were to be conducted nightly from January 9 to 25 in the Wellington Town Hall, and the entire city was to be canvassed in a personal work drive to make contact with persons interested in the gospel. After the campaign closes, two of the preachers, Bro. Jerry Starling and Bro. Ralph Ellis of Huntsville, Alabama, are to remain in Wellington, working with Bro. Hugh Counts who has preached there for four years. Two other gospel preachers will go later to help with the work on a permanent basis.

This is the first organized effort to spread the gospel in Wellington in this century. It is hoped that the growth of the church in that city will be accelerated so as to help the spread of the gospel across the whole of New Zealand.

SWEDEN

The fall of this year is the time set for another intense gospel effort in the city of Gothenburg, Sweden, similar to the 10-day meeting held there this past November. At that time 10 preachers from Europe and the United States worked in a gospel meeting and personal work campaign which resulted in four being baptized into Christ, and a number of new contacts being made.

Three former missionaries in Sweden, Bro. J. D. Walker, Bro. Payne Hattox, and Bro. Dan Billingsly, are working with elders and preachers in Sherman, Texas, to plan and raise money for the campaign. Bro. Billingsly, who speaks fluent Swedish, will preach in the upcoming meeting. Preachers from other Scandinavian countries will also help the brethren in Gothenburg.

HAWAII

Bro. C. H. Shipp arrived in Honolulu December 1 to begin work with the Dominis and Keeaumoku Streets church in Honolulu, the oldest established church of Christ in the Islands. Bro. Shipp has established some 15 new congregations in his 35 years of preaching the gospel in the Western States. He reports that there are now six congregations in Hawaii, and six full-time gospel preachers. Five of the churches are on the Island of Oahu, the largest island of the group, while the sixth was established just recently on the island of Hawaii.

ENGLAND

The Kentish Town Church of Christ, London, which has been "home" to many who are now residents in Canada, and is also well known to many Canadian brethren who have visited there, observed its 91st year of existence on October 8th last. The congregation has met continually in the small building known as "Hope Chapel" since 1871. When it was established, the building was on the outskirts of London; now there are miles of city on beyond it. Much of the Kentish Town area has been transformed into quarters for immigrants and transients, and most of the members travel several miles for worship. In addition to the British brethren who worship there, the Kentish Town congregation numbers among its members brethren from South Africa, Jamaica, the United States, New Zealand, Ghana, and Romania.

The Summer Lane congregation in Birmingham, which moved into a new meeting house this past August, held a week's gospel meeting in November. Four were baptized into Christ.. Bro. Philip Slate of the Wembley congregation preached. The building of the Summer Lane congregation which had been erected in 1865 was destroyed during a bombing raid in 1940, and the church had had no permanent meeting house since that time.

NORWAY

The City Council of Oslo has approved building plans submitted to it by the church of Christ after 18 months of work and waiting, and the congregation hopes to get actual construction underway soon. Work of the church in Oslo has long been hampered by the lack of facilities and the respectability of a permanent meeting place. Bro. Carrell Anderson is sponsored in the Oslo work by the Sunset Church of Christ in Lubbock, Texas.

DOMINICAN REPUBLIC

The church in Hoxie, Arkansas, is sending Bro. Stanley Morgan and his family to Santo Domingo, Dominican Republic, to preach the gospel early this year. Brother Morgan is a former Presbyterian minister who was converted to New Testament Christianity in 1961 while teaching in the Inter-American University in Puerto Rico. He and his wife were both born in Puerto Rico, and he has spent 14 years of his life in the Dominican Republic where his father was a Presbyterian missionary. He has been preaching and working among migrant Mexican farm laborers near Bono, Arkansas. He is a graduate of the University of Missouri and of the Biblical Seminary in New York, and Sister Morgan is a graduate of the Evangelical Seminary in Matanzas, Cuba.

UNITED STATES

The "Herald of Truth" television program, produced by the Highland church of Christ in Abilene, Texas, recently has been granted free public service time on five American stations: KLUK - TV, Green Bay, Wisc.; WZZM - TV, Grand Rapids, Mich.; KARD-TV, Wichita, Kans.. WCCO-TV, Minneapolis, Minn.; and WJSV-TV, Elkhart, Indiana. A total of 36 stations now carry the program.

BAHAMAS

Four have been baptized recently in Nassau, Bahamas, and one on the Island of Haiti as a result of work done by Bro. William Miller and Bro. Don Logsdon. Bro. A. L. Cassius, a veteran gospel preacher, recently celebrated his 72nd birthday in Nassau The church in that city had 75 present for a recent Sunday morning worship service, a record attendance. Other small congregations in the Bahamas are to be found in New Providence, Marsh Harbor, Abaco and Long Island. Brother Cassius has been working with these small groups.

RED CHINA

For the first time in several years, contact has been made with Christian brethren behind the "Bamboo Curtain" by brethren who have reached the safety of Hong Kong. Though many prayers have been offered for them, and many have wondered about them, no one had heard from brethren on the mainland of China since the last missionaries were forced to leave about 13 or 14 years ago. It has been learned that one Chinese preacher has been executed for his beliefs, and one sister was imprisoned, where she later died. Those still living are in terrible need and are persecuted severely.

Chinese brethren in Hong Kong are now allowed to send packages into China. They cannot weigh more than two pounds but any number can be sent. However, the packages must come from Chinese. The church in Hong Kong is helping local brethren in any way they can by supplying food and clothing to be sent to Christians in China. Every precaution must be taken to ensure the safety of both those sending and those receiving help.

SOUTHERN RHODESIA

Seven men have graduated from the three-year concentrated Bible study course offered by missionaries at Nhowe Bible School to natives wanting to prepare themselves to preach the gospel. They have spent more than 2,300 hours in class room study and many more hours helping missionaries with actual evangelistic work. It is the plan of four of these young men to work at present with Bro. Richard Clark in the city of Salisbury. The other three will be working around the Nhowe area.

LIBYA

In spite of an average yearly turnover of approximately 30% of its membership, the church in Tripoli managed to record more gains than losses in 1962, reports Bro. Lawrence E. Taylor. There are 61 faithful members, with an average attendance on Sunday mornings of 100, and on Sunday evenings and Wednesdays of 75. Twelve were baptized into Christ during the year, 11 coming from homes where there were no other Christians. Every male member of the church takes an active part in the worship and teaching programs, and the church is self-supporting. Three new classrooms are needed immediately, and the members will do the work of building them themselves.

UNITED STATES

The Queens, New York, congregation, has obtained display space in the Protestant Center Pavilion and will operate an information booth at the 1964-65 World's Fair in Flushing Meadows, just outside New York City. Cost of the exhibition space for the two-year Fair is $22,500. The exact nature of the display has not been decided upon as the congregation is still working on plans. Tentatively, it will include offers of free Bible study courses, tracts concerning the Church of Christ, counselling with those who want to investigate the church (the rental fee includes the use of counselling rooms), and an electronic question-and-answer system.

The Queens church wishes to make it clear that they did not join the Protestant Council in order to get the space, although the Council is sponsoring the Pavilion. Says Bro. G. V. Olive, a member of the congregation: "We felt that if Paul could go into Jewish temples because He knew the people would be there to preach to, we could go to a place that also has religious error and preach the gospel to the crowds that will be there." Application was made and space was granted because "the Churches of Christ are unique."

ITALY

Bro. Otello Pandolfini was sentenced to one year in prison after being found guilty of charges that he "villified the state religion" (opposed Roman Catholicism). His sentence will be appealed, and he is, we understand, free until such time as his appeal is heard. Bro. Gian Giudici will come to trial February 4 on the same charges. Remember these Italian brethren in your prayers.

PAKISTAN

Bro. Gordon Hogan, assisted by Bro. Zubair Rasul, recently held a week-long gospel meeting in Karachi, West Pakistan. Many contacts were made and Bro. J. C. Choate, who preaches regularly in Karachi, says that daily Bible studies are being conducted with those who were first reached during the meeting. There are four Christians in Karachi.

Brother Hogan preaches in Lahore, East Pakistan.

THAILAND

Bro. and Sister William Beck and their four children are sailing this month with the Bob Davidson and Parker Henderson families for work in Thailand. It will be the Henderson's second missionary tour in Thailand. This will raise to five the number of Christian families engaged in full-time missionary work there.

HERE AND THERE

North Bay: "Last Sunday (Dec. 2) was my first time to preach the Gospel in the city of North Bay. The attendance for the morning service was 22 and at night it was 16. The collection was over $30.00. Some of the ones present were from Sundridge but visitors from North Bay were there also." — C. Lansdell

The church in Birmingham, Mich. has consented to assume full responsibility for Bro. Lansdell's support. Ray Lock of Abilene, Texas has signified his intention of moving to North Bay and indicated that about 50 adults from the Hillcrest church will accompany him and bring material for 600 vacation Bible school students. Approximately fifty are also planning to come from Detroit to help in this campaign.

Massena, N.Y.: On December 17, T. LaFrance, a man of 56 years, paralyzed from his waist down, was baptized.

During the year eight souls were baptized, one restored and three received by transfer. Four members moved away and at the beginning of the new year we had twenty-two active members and two out of duty.

BRETHREN, I'M SCARED!

souls, we may be too busy to save our own (See John 15:2).

"Don't know how to teach". No doubt this is the truth. However, shame on us. "When by reason of time you ought to be teachers, you have need that someone teach you". I can learn to teach---indeed, woe is me if I don't.

"I just can't talk to people" (About the Lord that is) When it's politics, or our favorite hobby, or the new car, we can get wound up. We talk about what we are interested in. "Out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh". If we love the Lord, we can't help talking about Him.

"Can't remember scriptures". NO? But the NHL standings don't give me any trouble; the life-histories of a dozen movie stars come back to me, and the platform of my political party --- but the scriptures escape me. Strange! So, all right, I can't remember them; write them down. It's no disgrace. A photographic memory will convert no one---but if we love a man's soul enough, the Lord can use a list of key passages jotted on a table napkin.

These shams and dodges could go on into infinity. However, for times sake, maybe we ought to dig out the real reason. Could it be that we JUST SIMPLY DO NOT CARE ENOUGH!!

Yes, I am scared! Scared that many thousands of our Canadian neighbors are going to lose their souls this year---and many Christians may lose theirs by simply doing nothing about it. A sea of souls speeds toward the brink of destruction while we sit watching "Bonanza" or "I Love Lucy", with petty excuses dribbling out of the corners of our mouths.

But you, dear reader, surely this tragic plight doesn't include you. If so, may the God of Jeremiah stir our indifferent hearts and turn our eyes to tears. Let's: 1. Get down on our knees and ask God to forgive us; 2. Get down our Bibles and read the Great Commission; and 3. Go tell our 'friends across the road' why we are Christians. That will be precious little, but it will be a beginning---and we can go on from there to some definite, organized and heart-felt effort to win souls. Don't be ashamed to ask for instruction in personal evangelism from those more experienced. Remember, "we CAN evangelize the world".

Note: (And while you have been reading this article, about 400 more souls have died without Christ....as many as it takes us two years to baptize in Canada.)

ANOTHER VOLUNTEER FOR INDIA

Brother David Hallett, formerly of St Catharines but now of Halifax, Nova Scotia, has signified his desire to go to India to help with the Lord's work in that country.

I am sure that Brother David will prove an immense help to that work.

THE TIME DRAWS NEAR

I expect to leave Moose Jaw on April 1. That night will be spent in Winnipeg. I expect to fly to Sault Ste Marie the next day. I shall spend one day there. Then I shall go to Toronto for a one week's meeting. This is not confirmed at time of writing. I expect to spend one night with the brethren in Montreal and on to Keen, New Hampshire for a one week's meeting. I shall then fly from Boston to Halifax and be there for a meeting that night and after meeting catch the overseas flight. I shall be in London in the morning. I expect to spend that Lord's Day in England. Then I shall go to Rome either on Monday or Tuesday. I shall leave Rome for Pakistan early Thursday morning. I shall spend one day with the brethren there and then to Assam. We hope next month to announce our other worker for India.

LETTERS

REPORT FROM J. A. BELL FAMILY

Namwiango Mission
Box 22
Kalomo, N. Rhodesia
29th of Dec. 1962

Dear Brethren:

It is now almost five months since we arrived back in Africa. The time has gone quickly and we have enjoyed taking up our part of the work here again.

Time has not permitted us to write to nearly as many as we wanted to and we are therefore once more using this means of saying "Thank You" to all who helped send us and supply support. Thanks are also due to all who helped and encouraged us while we were home in Canada. This was, of course, mainly the Regina congregation of which we were members during this time. We are particularly thankful to them for "sponsoring" us. It has made things easier for us to have our support come mainly through one channel. Bro. Wayne Kemp bears the main burden of collecting the money, sending it to us, keeping records, and corresponding with us, and with the donors.

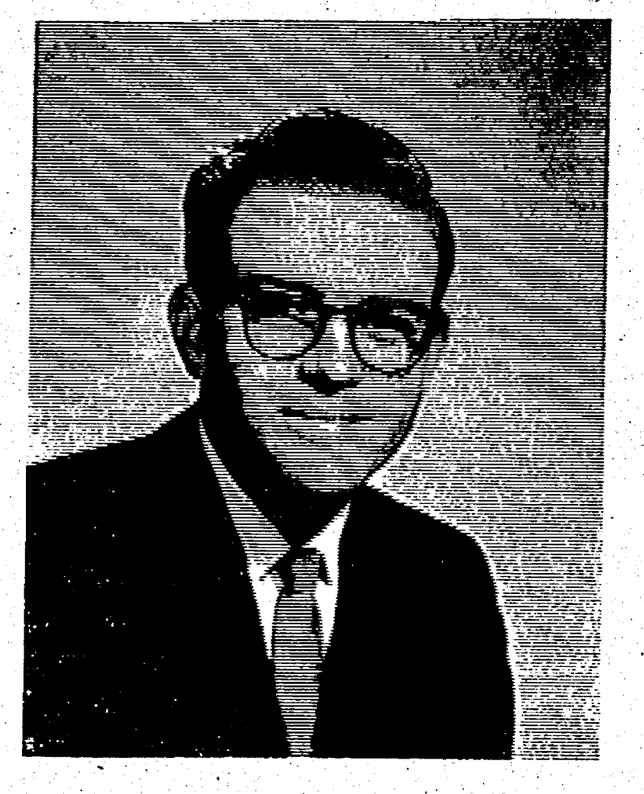
Our support has been fairly adequate since our return. The lowest was $240 during December but two special gifts of $100 each have helped to make up for this. We need to repair this house and have a deep well bored as seven months out of the twelve are usually dry here and it is important to have a good and reliable source of water for our household and perhaps to irrigate a garden. We have had 22½ inches of rain lately but these end in February and don't start again until November.

The African Schools open again on the second of January. Our schools in this part of Rhodesia handle more than 2,000 children. We have about 55 African (black) teachers in these schools. Besides the large school here at Namwiango (with about 350 students) we have fair sized schools in the city of Livingstone, town of Kalamo, on Sinde and Kabanga Missions and in many African villages. I do no secular teaching in the African schools, but have evening Bible classes with the boys and young men, and preaching on Sunday. During this next term, I am to have the Sunday morning Bible class with the highest group of male students here at Namwiango. There are about 60 in this class. Edna teaches the girls and young women from this same group. I do Bible and secular teaching in our white (or European) school. This school has had 55 enrolled this year. I am both principal and sec.-treas. of this school. Quite a few hours are taken up in this way which has put my letter writing behind schedule.

Edna and I have decided to open our home to at least a limited number of African orphans. Pray that we may be guided into the best ways of caring for and teaching any such children that the Lord may direct to us. The church of Christ orphanage at Sinde Mission has had to turn away a great many children lately. They have 80 children ranging in age from about two years to about seventeen years. Nearly all of these came to them as infants. If we preach to the Africans that a Christian must help the helpless, and especially orphans, it seems to me that we must set the example.

Here, if these children are not provided for they are left to die, to half starve on the edge of some unwilling African family, or are taken by a Catholic orphanage.

It would cost us about $20 per month for an African woman to help and $15.00 or $20.00 per month per baby. We would like for readers to write and let us know what they think about this. Pray with us about this.



Sincerely in Christ,

Allan and Edna Bell and family

TO HOLLAND IN APRIL

Roy Davison, who has been in Sarnia, Ontario for the past year, now plans to go to Holland in April of 1963.

He left Sarnia after morning worship on December 30th. That evening he spoke in Windsor in behalf of the Dutch work. Wednesday evening, January 2nd, he spoke at Strathmore in Toronto, Thursday evening at Fern Avenue, and Friday evening at Bayview.

He gave a series of Bible readings at Sault Ste. Marie from January 6th - 13th and at Weyburn from January 20th - 27th. After the meeting in Weyburn he began full time fund raising for the Holland work.

He plans to work in the city of Utrecht with Danny Boyd when he goes to Holland. The population of Utrecht is a little over 250,000 with a church of about 20 members.

As preparation he has taken private lessons in the Dutch language for the last year and a half.

According to latest U.N. reports, Holland is the most densely populated country in the world with 855 people per square mile. Total population is about 12 million.

Yet, there are only 4 congregations in Holland with a combined membership of less than one hundred. Only one of these congregations owns a building.

Also, there are ten cities in Holland of more than 100,000 population which have no church. One of these, Rotterdam, has almost a million people.

Roy has been privileged to meet about half of the workers now in Holland. One of the Dutch Christians in Utrecht was a good friend of his at A.C.C.

After January 1st he will receive mail forwarded from 3001 Grape Street, Abilene, Texas.

MONTREAL BRETHREN PLAN FIRST PERMANENT BUILDING FOR PROVINCE: NEED HELP

by Jerry L. Davidson

The church in Montreal is anticipating a big step forward as it makes plans to build the first permanent meeting house of the church of Christ in the Province of Quebec. In March of 1961, the congregation ceased meeting in the YMCA building to start assembling in a building in the suburb of Lachine. This building (a wood frame dwelling house) was awaiting demolition; however, permission was granted to make temporary improvements to use it for a meeting place and a preacher's residence. In this predominantly English-speaking community, the church has been well received and substantial growth has been realized.

The final payment on the property has just been made and there are hopes of building as soon as possible. The Montreal brethren are making every effort to carry their end of the financial load, but without considerable help from sister congregations and individuals the task cannot be realized.

The need here is overwhelming. This is the only congregation in Canada's largest province. The closest Canadian congregation is in Cornwall, Ontario, 85 miles away. Many American brethren and some of the Lachine neighbors have predicted that the work will not see very much growth until a permanent building is obtained. The class room space (two rooms) is all but outgrown, and during the vacation Bible school last summer there were 125 present one day with a chapel seating capacity of seventy. During the gospel meeting last spring, a high in attendance of 66 was reached. There are no baptismal facilities.

With this valuable lot paid for, construction could begin with about $25,000 cash, which the brethren hope to raise in 1963. It will cost between $50,000.00 and $75,000.00 to construct a modest building which would serve the needs of the congregation and meet the rigid building laws.

An appeal is being made to all who read this article to join in the important task of helping to erect the first permanent building in Quebec. Please contact the church of Christ, 760-44th Ave., Lachine, Quebec.

REPORT ON THE GREAT LAKES LECTURESHIP

The 9th annual Great Lakes Christian College lectureship, held during January 22-25, proved to be inspirational and instructive to the numbers who gathered from such regions as Michigan, Ohio, New York, Quebec, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, and Ontario.

In spite of extremely poor weather conditions on Thursday, 400, the largest number to attend a Great Lakes lecture, gathered in the Beamsville High School auditorium to hear Brother Al Hartwigsen of Niagara Falls, N Y deliver the sermon, "The New Man in Christ." Brother Don Gardner, President of Ohio Valley College in Parkersburg, W Va, scheduled for this lecture was stopped in Pittsburg by the storm. He reached Beamsville for the Friday night lecture. Over 200 attended the Fellowship Dinner the same evening. These numbers indicate that the goals of 600 and 300 respectively would have been reached if clement weather had prevailed.

Brother Elza Huffard, President of N I C E in Villanova, Pa gave two excellent lessons: "The Preeminence of Christ," and "Redemption in Christ." The basic plan to concentrate on the Book of Colossians with the theme "Christ our Life" proved very profitable to all who gathered. Nineteen lecturers and teachers combined to give a vital program of instruction.

Two reports were given outlining plans for the establishment of new works in Ontario: Clyde Lansdell - - North Bay, summer of 1963; Gordon Ellis - - plans for the Lakehead cities of Port Arthur and Fort William, summer of 1964.

A contribution of $1021.62 was received during the lectureship for the advancement of the College. The College chorus presented a program Friday evening.

A LOOK INTO THE PAST

(Travels, No. 3 is copied from the "Message of Good Will", July-August, 1865 as written by editor, David Oliphant. E.C.P.)

. . . From St. Thomas to Howard was the next journey. Where is the township of Howard? you ask. It is a little east and south of the town of Chatham. You would enjoy the society of the sterling little band of disciples in Howard. Three addresses were delivered to increasing audiences, and pleasing- acquaintance was formed with brethren McClarty, the Campbells, McDermid, Bentley, Sinclair, Gross and Menter. Brother Menter is recently from Missouri; and he proclaims the tidings of forgiveness through Christ with force and efficiency, according to testimony which came to our ears.

Brother E. Sheppard of Dorchester, has a well defined reputation as a preacher in Yarmouth, St. Thomas and Howard . . . There is plenty of preaching work for forty good preachers within the boundary of the body of disciples in the province.

Calling at Rondeau, we saw brother and sister Burke, formerly of Darlington, near Bowmanville. They still recollect the teachings of the oracles of God.

We next visited Detroit . . . retraced our steps and journeyed directly to the vicinity of St. Anns, and aided in the labors of a large meeting in a Grove. Several confessed the Saviour. After spending a number of days in Gainsboro, Smithville, and Jordan, we passed round by Toronto to Esquesing, Eramosa, and Nassagaweya, giving one address, in Esquesing, and one in Eramosa West. In these parts we greeted brethren McKinnon, Menzies, McIntosh, Laird, Snure, Robertson, Anderson, Royce, Abbot, Stewart, Black, Everts, Ligour, Morton, Parkinson, Talton, McPhederan, Kean, and others, for all of whom we cherish love according to the common faith.

CAMPAIGN IN ENGLAND

Dear Brethren,

Once again we are on the move, this time to our home in Western Canada for a furlough. We are coming back to this work, the Lord willing.

We sail from Manchester on January 16th, landing in Jacksonville, Florida at the latter end of the month and will report to the Hillsboro Church in Nashville, our sponsors, for a few days, after which we will drive through to Detroit and Flint, visiting on the way and then on to Winnipeg and points West to see the family and the saints in all of these areas.

Our return journey will be from Toronto or Montreal. We must be back in early May to lend a hand in the preparation for the big campaign scheduled for this area during June and July of next summer. Bro. B. B. Baxter will again head the campaign and will bring with him some 75 or better personal workers. Another 25 or so are expected to come from the various fields of Europe, making a total working force of some 100 Christians, all busily engaged in the work of the Lord.

The campaign will begin at Aylesbury, Bucks. June 9th and conclude on June 21st. Bro. Len Channing is the evangelist there and he is also supported by Hillsboro church of Nashville. This church has a new meeting house almost finished, and a congregation of some 70. We at Wembley had hoped to have had a meeting house of our own in readiness for this campaign, but property is so hard to obtain in the London area and a frightful price.

Our campaign starts June 23rd and will conclude July 7th. We verily believe that the church will increase 100% by this means. Quite a lot of the arrangements for advertising are already made as is most of the accommodation for the workers and various other works that have to be done for such an effort at this.

It is but since May 14th of last year that the very first meeting of the church at Wembley was held, there being eleven adults and six children present at that time. Today, there are 65 members at Wembley, most of them young people and all are being trained to take their place in the work. It is a cosmopolitan group for they come from many countries of the world and several are already making plans to return to their native land with the good news.

Sister Lake and I surely do appreciate the Herald, as it is our link with the church back home. Ere too long we intend to return to Western Canada and work with a church, or start one somewhere in that vast area. We believe that we can raise the necessary support for such a venture and pray the guidance of the Lord in our humble efforts.

It thrills us to know that Bro. J. C. Bailey is preparing for the mission field. Reading over his article of September issue I find him making mention of his age. That is an advantage in this type of work, for an older couple are somewhat more stable -at least our experience shows us this. We were at the 60 mark when we started for the mission of field several years ago and have been able to carry on by the grace of God.

—E. P. Lake

SARNIA REPORT

We, the church in Sarnia, were fortunate to have brother Roy Davison work with us for about fifteen months beginning in November, 1961. Roy has a deep knowledge of God's word and shows much wisdom in using this knowledge. Although he is still a very young man he has shown us a wonderful example of Christian living and dedication to Christ. As he left us on December 30 to begin making plans to enter the mission field in Holland in April, there was sadness in the hearts of many. May God bless him in the work for the Master.

During the year 1962 there were nine baptisms in Sarnia including seven young people during our vacation Bible school. Brother Andy McNeill was also baptized during the summer and Allan Redmond was baptized December 30th while in Sarnia on a visit. Allan is a nephew of brother and sister Ralph Hibbard and attends the Strathmore congregation in Toronto. A. Hibbard

JAMES

The Beamsville church lost one of its faithful active members in the person of Philip James. He was born and lived most of his life on a farm, located in Clinton Township. For many years he served the community as a mechanic as well as looking after the responsibilities of his farm.

On June 11th, 1938, during a meeting at Tintern, he confessed his faith in Christ and was baptized the same hour of the night. It was not long till he began to take a great interest in the Bible study and for several years supervised the Bible School in Beamsville. Also during the formative years of the Omagh Bible School he served on the board of directors. Up until about six years ago he was a member of the Beamsville Citizens Band.

Some years ago he suffered a severe heart attack, but recovered enough to resume his normal duties, until last fall. In December he entered the Henderson Hospital in Hamilton, from which it was hoped he would soon return home. This was not to be, and on Jan. 7th, he was suddenly stricken and passed on "To the land that is fairer than day".

He leaves to mourn his departure his beloved wife, Olive; two sons, Gordon, Stoney Creek; Edward, Beamsville; one brother Robert; one sister, Mrs Harry Reid and five grandchildren.

The funeral was at the Tallman Funeral Home, Vineland, with burial in the Mount Osborne Cemetery, Beamsville. Bro. Keith Thompson and Bro. Bruce Merritt, assisted the writer at the Chapel and the Cemetery.

GATEWOOD

Word has just reached us of the sudden passing of Sister Otis Gatewood on Friday night, January 18. This will be a decided loss to Bro. Gatewood personally and in his work in the church and as the president of Michigan Christian Junior College. Our prayers and sympathy are with him and his family in this great loss.

THE CHURCH-FAMILY PLAN

M. Norvel Young

One reason our religious neighbors have surpassed us in distributing magazines and journals is the fact that they have used the systematic plan of sending appropriate periodicals into every home. Just as churches have come to see the practical benefits of providing song books, Bible School literature and church bulletins, so churches are finding the value of placing good Christian periodicals in every home. By this means the weak in faith, the immature, the ones about to backslide are given spiritual food as well as the most zealous ones.

The Gospel Herald, 20th Century Christian and other Christian publications all have a plan whereby every member of the congregation will receive the periodical in his home every mailing and the bill can be sent to the church monthly or quarterly. The cost is below the regular subscription price. In fact, it is a minimum. This method avoids the necessity of every member subscribing every year. Many intend to do this but neglect to do it, and lose the benefit of Christian literature. In this way, elders and preachers can know that the secular magazines and the programs on radio and television which go into each home have some competition from Christian writers. It is one way to compete with the modern invasion of the home. We must overcome evil with good and the Church-Family Plan is one effective method which churches can use to build stronger Christians. When the home is better fed spiritually, the church will grow, and the Lord will be glorified. May I urge elders to consider this Church-Family Plan in their budget for 1963. For details write to the Editor of: The Gospel Herald, Box 94, Beamsville, Ontario, Canada.

HERE AND THERE

Hamburg, N.Y.: The North Buffalo church has started a new work with meetings on Lord's Day afternoons in the Oddfellows Hall just south of the city of Buffalo. First meetings are announced for 3 p.m. February 3rd.

A VISIT TO QUEBEC

Recently, the writer drove to Quebec City with Bro. Jerry Davidson of Montreal. The purpose of the trip on Bro. Davidson's part was to contact some people who had been taking Bible Correspondence Courses. The writer's purpose was to find out first hand the possibilities for a church in the capital city of Quebec province. We were much impressed.

Quebec is old and picturesque. Founded by Champlain in 1608, it has seen much history. On its Plains of Abraham was fought one of North America's decisive battles. For more than two centuries it was a military headquarters. Today it is to my knowledge the only fortified city in North America. These facts and others make it an interesting city to visit. There are, however, more interesting features for the Christian.

Here is a large city of about 250,000 which does not have a congregation of Christians after the New Testament pattern. The closest congregation is in Montreal 165 miles away. While the city is predominantly French-speaking, there are thousands of English - speaking people and many others who are bilingual. One of the suburbs, St. Foy, is largely English.

There has been contact made with fifteen people about the city from Bible Correspondence advertisements and Gospel Press articles. Some tracts have been distributed and Bible studies have been held in five different homes.

We believe that an air of change is blowing presently over the province of Quebec. People are changing their intellectual, educational and cultural outlook. Jehovah's Witnesses, Baptists and others are showing impressive growth. We believe that the Lord's church could prosper in this center of Catholicism.

Whoever plans to go to Quebec should have a knowledge of French and should be willing to work patiently for several years. Probably two or three families should go together. It would seem that a French and English work should be commenced at the same time. —RDM attend.

"Did you know that if all the members of the church at Huntsville were present along with their families, we would have 72 present for Bible study and worship? Besides this number there are eight children whose parents are not members, who attend regularly. So of our own number we should have 80 in attendance each Lord's Day morning.

Carman, Man.: "At a fittingly impressive ceremony on January 6 the following brethren were officially appointed deacons of the church — Bros. Wesly Dunn, Leo Meeks, Gordon Laycock and William Winkler.

"Plans are to hold a Lectureship April 12th to 14th.

Vancouver, B.C.: W. R. Smith of Abilene, Texas will hold a meeting April 7-13, D. C. Marshall will be released for one week in late July to teach in Baker Bible Encampment. Plans have been approved for an exchange meeting with J. Hawkins to be at this church the last of October.

HERE AND THERE

Okinawa: At present there are five congregations meeting on Okinawa according to the September report from Joe Cannon. The military congregation at Ojana with about 150 attending members has its own building as does a 25 member church at Naha. Two other churches number five each and another 15.

The two native preachers there at the beginning of 1962 have been increased so that the working force now numbers seven with plans for seven churches by the end of 1962. The new workers are the Haas and Cannon families, brother Uzza back from Freed Hardeman College and two graduates of Ibaraki Christian College.

Sept. 12: "Over the past month there have been six conversions.

Oct. 6: "On Sunday, September 30, the church met in Koza for the first time, in the home of the Hasses.

THE FAITH THAT SAVES

Wilfred Orr, Saskatoon, Sask.

"Being therefore justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ". Rom. 5:1. "For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth on Him should not perish but have eternal Life". Jno. 3:16. "He that believeth on the Son hath eternal Life; but he that obeyeth not the Son shall not see the Life, but the wrath of God abideth on him". Jno. 3:36.

These Scriptures, along with others of similar import, cause many people to believe that we are saved by "faith alone", but when we consider some other Scriptures we are made to wonder whether that conclusion is correct.

"Ye see that by works a man is justified, and not only by faith". Jas. 2:22. "And having been made perfect, He became unto all them that obey Him, the Author of eternal salvation". Heb- 5:9. These Scriptures seem on the surface to be in conflict with those first quoted: but, are they really in conflict? Jesus said, "Thy Word is Truth", and we know that truth is never in conflict with Truth. So then, these Scriptures do not teach conflicting doctrines, and if, in our judgement, they seem to conflict, it is because we are placing the wrong interpretation on one or the other. I want to show that the Scriptures give us a very clear understandable solution to this apparent conflict.

Faith Must Be Qualified Or Defined

I am persuaded that those who teach "faith only" have failed to see that faith must be defined or qualified. This fact is very evident if we consider two Scriptures. "Even of the rulers many believe on Him, but because of the Pharisees they would not confess it, lest they should be put out of the synagogue: for they loved the glory that is of men more than the glory that is of God." Jno. 12:42, 43.

"Thou believest that God is One? Thou doest well: the demons also believe and shudder". Jas. 2:19. It is very evident, therefore that unqalified faith does not save: for here we have two examples of unqualified faith that does not save. So when we are talking about 'the faith that saves' we are talking about a certain kind or 'quality' of faith.

Why We Worship On The Lord's Day

The Charge of the Sabbatarians

Ellen G. White, founder of the Seventh Day Adventists made this statement: "I saw that God has not changed the Sabbath for He never changes. But the pope had changed it from the seventh to the first day of the week for he was to change times and law . . . The pope has changed the day of rest from the seventh to the first day. He has thought to change the very command that was given to cause man to remember his creator. He has thought to change the greatest commandment in the Decalogue and thus to make himself equal with God or even to exalt himself above God . . .The pope has made a breach in the holy law of God but I saw that the time had fully come for this breach to be made up by the people of God and the waste places built up." (Early Writings, pp. 33, 66, quoted by Martin Walter R., The Truth About Seventh-day Adventism, p. 147.)

As Mrs White charges that the pope made a change that violated the holy law of God it seems in order to ask to which pope does she refer? Seventh-day Adventists agree that there was no such office as the

JEREMIAH, THE PLEADING PROPHET

Donald R. Givens
Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario

That great prophet of old, Jeremiah, was made a laughing-stock by the people of Judah. He was mocked, derided, and reproached but still with courageous lips he could say in the midst of all this persecution, "And if I say, I will not make mention of Him, nor speak anymore in His name, then there is in my heart as it were a burning fire shut up in my bones, and I am weary with forbearing, and I cannot contain." (Jer. 20:9). We see vividly how the Word and the Will of God was in Jeremiah's heart like a burning, flaming fire shut up in his bones. He had to speak the words of Jehovah. He felt it so keenly and lived it so fully that he could not keep it to himself. He must preach it to others. It was like a burning fire eating away continually in his bones if he tried to contain it.

Are we like Jeremiah today? Is the Word of God in our hearts as it was in the heart of this great, courageous prophet of old? It should be. All of us who are children of God should be so full of the Word of God that it overflows daily, both by actions and in teaching by lips.

Christians can gain much good from a thorough study of Old Testament characters. We can gain courage, hope, and many wonderful lessons by studying their hardships, persecutions, trials, troubles, and their rejoicings. Through a study of them we can clearly see how they overcame their temptations, thus an example for us to follow. The things in the Old Testament are written for our admonition and example. (I Cor. 10:11).

There are two outstanding traits of Jeremiah. First, he was a messenger of doom. He prophesied the fall and destruction of Jerusalem. Judah had proved faithless and had strayed away into idolatry. They forsook the true and living God for wood and stone. They had been guilty of religious and moral apostasy. In view of this condition, Jeremiah weeps from beginning to the end. He has truly been refered to by many individuals as the "weeping prophet." He tried in vain to change these wicked people. But they were far too stubborn and satisfied with themselves. They would not repent, thus they fell to Babylon.

Secondly, Jeremiah was a messenger of hope. He saw beyond the calamity and present distress a brighter day for the people of God. He saw that a remnant was to be preserved. The restoration from exile and the re-building of the new Jerusalem was prophesied by him. Also, of great importance, Jeremiah saw the Messiah coming and the new covenant. He had hope in the midst of doom.

Jeremiah was sorely grieved over the sins of his people. His heart was full of anguish because of their many transgressions. Christians today must have the same attitudes toward sins as this prophet did in Jer. 4:19-22. His sorrow was overwhelming him, and he wished that his head were waters and his eyes a fountain of tears so that he might weep day and night for his people, (Jer. 9:1). He realized fully the terribleness of their idolatry and just how far they had strayed from God.

Over and over again in the book of Jeremiah, one can see him wailing over the desolation of his people. Jehovah's flock was being taken captive and his eyes wept sore (13:17). He begged and pleaded with the people to repent and amend their ways and doings, and to trust not in lying words. (7:3-7). He called upon them to obey the voice of Jehovah and they would not suffer damnation. But the people were hard-hearted and realized no sins therefore they only laughed Jeremiah to scorn.

Fellow Christians, what would we do in the midst of this type of ridicule and scorn such as Jeremiah suffered? Would we press on with courageous words as this prophet of old? or would we give up and quit? I am afraid perhaps many of us would stumble and mumble and grumble and give up. But we must not fail God. God can give us the same strength which was found in Jeremiah.

Jeremiah trusted in and relied on Jehovah. He praised Him day and night. He called God a righteous judge who tries the heart and mind (11:20). He knew that if Judah was to be delivered from evil it would be by the hand of God. Christians in our age need to realize the power of God as Jeremiah did.

Finally, Jeremiah stood solid for what he knew to be right. He never deviated from the law of God. He stood solid and firm on the Truth. Although he was a laughing-stock and the people continually mocked him and said he was crazy, he stood firm for what was right. A wonderful example for children of God today. Jeremiah preached the whole Word of God no matter what the consequences. And we can be sure that when we speak the whole Word of God today - we will be hated and despised by some just as Jeremiah was. He was full of courage and conviction and perseverance. God gave him the solemn instruction that he was not to diminish a single word from the messages which he received (26:2). All of us must learn this great truth today. If all Gospel preachers and teachers will speak only what is written in the Bible, leaving no word out and putting no word in - we can be sure we shall be blessed for so doing. This is what all Christians must do.

Truly, Jeremiah was a great man of God. The characteristics that he possessed are not easy to acquire. We must strive for them. May we imitate him in courage, perseverance, deep firm conviction and solid loyalty to God.

MUST WE BE CONTENTIOUS TO STAND FOR THE TRUTH?

Bethel Bailey
Sudbury, Ontario

An increasing number of articles have appeared in church bulletins and Gospel papers, suggesting that brethren are weak, because they will not join with the writers in their barrage against the potential innovations that might invade the church. The antagonists condone their actions by suggesting that they alone dare to be original. This would be laughable if it weren't so serious. Wedges are driven deep, dividing brethren, and thus frustrating the work of the Lord. Think seriously, brethren, it could be that you are fighting against God.

Before we go any further we want to make this observation. Every profitable effort to save souls, will have potential dangers. The more effective, the more dangerous it can become. But must we sit back and do nothing, because of these potential dangers? We cannot be profitable servants and do nothing. If we would hear that "well done", then we must offer service well pleasing unto Him.

When these brethren oppose the present methods of caring for the "fatherless", they fail to present a feasible plan how this work should be carried on. While talking to a good brother this past summer, he made the statement that orphan homes were unnecessary because a number of Christian homes would like to adopt children, but they were not available. Personally I know this to be true. Recently, while caring temporarily for a little girl, we had no less than three offers to adopt the child by members of the church. Unfortunately the child was not available for adoption.

This is a common argument launched against the validity, or usefulness of the orphan homes. It conveys a considerable amount of ignorance regarding the purpose and need for these homes. If these brethren were original as they claim some of them would have stumbled into the fact that about ninety percent of the children in need of care, either temporarily or permantly, because of complication, cannot be adopted. Further, only about one out of every one hundred homes can adjust to a foster child.

Some of our readers will remember that a number of years ago, we had four children dumped in our lap all at once. Because of other responsibilities that made it impossible for us to care for them all personally, we attempted placing three of the four in foster homes. Failure resulted. For sometime it was difficult not to harbour some bitterness, because I considered it a personal insult to my ability to pick good homes. But much thought has removed all prejudice that once existed. I realize now that each was an impossible situation.

For example let us just pick one to illustrate our point. The little girl, quite normal in every way, (she had no physical handicaps) was placed in two different homes, and the total period lasted less than six months. Both homes wanted a little girl. They didn't have one of their own. What was the reason for failure? First, because of her past neglect, she was a problem child. Children are not to blame when they are problems, and in most cases, with the proper guidance they can change. But in her case some of her habits were deeply ingrained because she was already six years old. It would take time to make the changes, and no promise could be given of how much time they had. Legal papers could not be secured.

Over a period of time three children were returned. One hundred percent failure was the final result. We added one to our already large family and the other two placed back into a situation, where, in all probability they will be lost eternally. These children could have enjoyed proper spiritual and physical guidance until maturity, had proper facilities been available to care for them. The two we were able to keep are still with us. They were the oldest, and no doubt were the biggest problems, but we are quite confident that they will be a credit to the church.

In fifteen years of married life, more than twenty children have passed through our doors. Some have stayed for days, others for months, and in a few cases for years. That all will be helped permanently because of their association with us, would be wishful thinking indeed. But they were provided with a home and necessary provisions, as long as there was a need, and this we were scripturally bound to do. This practice has been questioned by some and considered an unnecessary sacrifice. To these people our only answer is, that they had better read Mk. 8:41, 42, again.

But, one good brother says, "these orphan homes are money-making institutions." For shame. I can scarcely conceive of anyone kind enough to begin caring for needy children, that would abuse his stewardship in this way. However, as long as we are human we will be capable of abuses. It is quite probable that some are using the orphan homes to pad their own pockets. But a number of preachers are faring quite sumptuously too. Should we put a ban on preaching because some are profiteering?

Jesus loved little children, and censored his disciples when they would have prevented them from coming to Him. He is the same yesterday, today, and forever. If Christ was interested in the children two thousand years ago, He is still interested today. He wants them to come unto Him, but they can not come, unless we as Christians afford them this opportunity. No mind is so open as the mind of a child, and we have this promise, that, if they are trained in the way they should go, it will have lasting effects. Where can you find more fruitful soil? Preachers, who claim to be interested in saving the lost, would close this door of opportunity, because of potential dangers, without offering a proven substitute or method to carry on this work. What are they fighting for? Truth? Or are they fighting against God?

Much more could be said on this matter, but in making it brief, it is the writers humble desire that

SPRING THAW

As long as one can enjoy Canadian winters, he is young despite a wealth of years. This writer finds enjoyment in the clear, crisp days and the enveloping snow storm alike. By the end of March, however, he waits anxiously for the telltale signs of spring. Soon the shoulder-high snow drifts will vanish. The breeze will lose its bite. Crocuses will shoulder their way out of the frosty ground around the National War Memorial in downtown Ottawa. The various driveways of the National Capital Commission will come alive in a blaze of flowering tulips. Canada's capital will bask once more in the glorious feeling of spring.

While it is true that Christians do not hibernate for the winter, it seems that the activity of the church slows down during the winter months. Our greatest efforts seem to be directed toward the spring, summer and fall. Now is the time to plan for a spring thaw in the program of the church.

Vacation Bible school likely seems a long time away. Past experience will tell us that it comes with demoralizing speed once spring arrives. How many times have churches been caught unprepared for an efficient school? A fully prepared program and staff is almost the exception instead of the rule.

At least three Ontario congregations are planning to build church buildings this year if circumstances will allow. Our hopes and prayers should be with these efforts. The congregation in Montreal, the only one in Quebec, is hoping to build this year if financing can be arranged. The need for a suitable building in this huge city is accentuated by the fact of the coming World's Fair. People will be in Montreal from all over the world. Can we not have at least one church building in Canada's largest city by that time (1967)?

Several campaigns are planned in both east and west for the summer. These can be productive of much good. We are not so naive as to think that all that is needed is a certain number of workers and a certain amount of available money for advertising and teaching. Planning is necessary now.

We can learn lessons from past efforts that will help this year. New methods need to be tried if they appear to be more efficient than previous ones. Why not plan to spend at least part of your vacation period near the scene of one of these campaigns. Your prayers and your presence can give force to the efforts put forth by others if you do nothing more than attend the gospel meetings. Of course you could make arrangements to help with the door-to-door visitation or the Vacation Bible School.

It is possible that the spring thaw will come a little earlier this year as a result of the hot air being produced in a very hot election campaign. We are not disposed to discuss the merits of the various parties nor their platforms. We cannot help but contrast how much more excited some people in the church can become over the election issues than they can over the destiny of human souls. Some people who are anxious to be identified in their community with one of the political parties are at the same time reluctant to show themselves eagerly partisan in church affairs.

We feel that an air of cynicism has built up toward our political system. Democracy can work efficiently only in a society where morality and high ethics prevail. In a country which has had to borrow a huge sum recently from the World Bank to stave off financial disaster, some of the election promises sound ridiculous and dishonest.

Those who formulate the policies of the various parties are surely aware of the falsity of some of their promises. They are also aware that in a selfish society more votes are attracted by an appeal to greed than by a promise of enlightened service.

Yes, a Christian should vote. He should use his vote where possible in support of an honest candidate,

TEACHING GOD'S WORD

H. Ralph Perry, London, Ontario

Vacation Bible School

Members of two churches in Southern Ontario have approached me about Vacation Bible schools this summer. Dates, directors, literature, and teachers have been or are being selected. We have heard of one beginning church in Northern Ontario with a goal of 500 students for its first V. B. S. Besides these rumblings of good things to come in teaching God's word this summer, there came to my desk the other day the Gospel Herald's annual envelope full of V. B. S. advertising leaflets, booklets and order forms.

This all points to the fact that Vacation Bible School time will soon be upon us. It means that planning time is already here. If you are thinking of a V. B. S., you had best get in the swing of things.

Select your dates when your folks can best be of service, and if possible have a ten day school. You barely get started in five days. To our knowledge all denominational publishing houses publish only ten day literature and expect it to be used. Few denominations have five day schools because they recognize the greater values of a ten day school. Don't allow Satan to trick you into a short school when you can teach God's word for a longer period and thwart his purposes.

Give your teachers a break by getting the literature into their hands for study and preparation two or three months before the school. Many teachers have been discouraged because they have had so much to do during the actual days of V. B. S. Most of the work should be done ahead of time. A much better job will be done.

The Gospel Herald offers you sample kits of V. B. S. literature and materials to be reviewed and compared and returned within ten days. We would encourage you to take the Herald up on their offer, and then send them your order for literature and supplies. Remember that the editors of this paper take no renumeration for their many hours of labour in serving you and the churches of Canada. Last year one of these editors gave a donaton to a group of college students conducting a campaign in Ontario. Elsewhere they had ordered V. B. S. literature for the largest V. B. S. ever held amongest churches of Christ in Canada.

Your order from the Gospel Herald will enable them to give better service in the future.

Plan now for a good Vacation Bible School in 1963. This should be to plant the word of God in the hearts of boys and girls and men and women that a harvest might be reaped for eternity. A proper follow-up and carry over of this effort into Bible school and personal work is needed to receive the full value for God.

Training For Service

An important announcement came in the mail last week. It was from Toronto and reported a "Training For Service" programme put on by Toronto churches of Christ. This is an all-day affair with lectures, workshop, exhibits and periods of fellowship. The date is April 12th and I am sure that you do not have to be a Torontonian to take this in. By all means go if you are able.

The theme for the day is, "Christ Has the Key for '63". Keynote addresses are to be given by Coleman Allmond of Michigan, who is a leader in Bible school work, and Wesley Jones, now in a new work in Barrie and area. Their lessons should be instructing and powerful in moving hearers to greater and more efficient labour for the Lord.

The workshops and panel discussion planned during the day are all conducted by local workers from various parts of Ontario. It is indeed good to see this. We believe that we have some excellent talent in the churches and are happy to see it being used in training programmes.

Being required to instruct others will help these fine folks to sharpen up their tools. This can result only in growth for all.

We trust that this step taken by Toronto churches will set the pace for other areas. We need to encourage one another in the Lord's work. The author of Hebrews writes of it as "considering one another to provoke unto love and good works" (Hebrews 10; 24). The exchange of ideas and rubbing shoulders with those of like faith from beyond the local congregation will do much to provide instruction, information and much needed inspiration to many weary but happy workers. May God bless this effort for good.

Future Articles

Without being specific as to dates and exact article titles, we are formulating plans for series of articles on teaching and studying God's word. Some of these are: Methods of Teaching, Laws of Teaching and Learning, Developing a Lesson, perhaps - Methods of Bible Study, and Teaching Adults. Some thought is being given to articles on teaching various age levels.

Any suggestions or disagreements are certainly solicited. Really we would like to encourage others to write articles on teaching. If you have an idea you think would be good, prepare an article - short or long - on it and send it along.

this article will be read thoroughly. Men of courage are needed to fight the good fight of faith. Error abounds in every locality. May we not waste our spiritual strength fighting against potential dangers, when we have a real fight to fight, a battle to win.

(Written especially for young people)

As leaves driven by an autumn wind settle down without any inherent force or guidance, so all too many young people are blown into their places by the force of mere circumstance. Chance-directed imitation determines the professions; Or possibly the sheer force of gravity makes one drop down in an unreflective way into a certain neck of the woods. Thousands of educated young men and young women, (I speak of Christians here) are slow to realize that they have any responsibility for conditions in the world, and settle down haphazardly with no alertness or expectation of a call from their creator. Efficiency experts tell us that seven out of every ten young people are wrongly placed, and also that most young people are utilizing only about one-third of their mental and spiritual force. This condition of maladjustment and of indifferent drift must be due, at least in part, to the fact that young people are not interpreting their life-work in terms of God's will.

The word, "called" has become too narrowed in its application. It seems all right to speak of a man being "called" to preach but we rarely think of a person being called to be a banker, lawyer, or a teacher. On the other hand, the word "vocation" has lost much of the sacredness of its original meaning, so that one often hears the phrase "choosing ones vocation", as though you, a Christian, could choose that to which you have been already called. I believe we are right in applying the word vocation to all work of whatever kind, which Christians do in response to God's will, but we are wrong in leaving out of our consciousness the original implication of the word — that God has a purpose for every single one of us who have named the name of Christ. That we do not recognize the vocation or call from God, does not mean that he has no plan for us. For even of Cyrus God could say, "I girded thee, though thou has not known me" (Isa. 45:5). Consciously or unconsciously God is girding you for some specific work, in the doing of which work you will find your highest self-realization and the world will receive a great service from your effort.

You young people may choose your life work yourself and then decide to serve God as well as you can through this activity, or you may decide to serve God unhesitatingly and absolutely, no matter what it may involve.

There is certainly a vast diffenence between these two procedures. To choose our work first and then to decide to serve God as best we can in this work is reversing the order in which it has been given to us. The Bible teaches "Seek ye first the Kingdom of God."

It is not enough that we decide to serve God faithfully in the place where we are. For that place itself should be determined if that is where we can do the most good. The most of our energy will be absorbed by what we put first in our lives so it is supremely important that we put our spiritual living ahead of our physical living.

Let us not assume that in every case, if we heed God's calling and put spiritual matters first that we will land in a foreign field. It may mean that vocation is waiting for you right near home or in an immigrant settlement not too distant in some needy section of our own country. It certainly may mean the sharing of our privileges with others of different racial origins. This country of Canada is full of opportunities to stand against class opposition and to show, through practical deeds as well as our attitude of mind, that we are here for a definite purpose. In developing individual harmony with God's purpose, young people feel that they are alone in this project but may I assure you there is one who will bring comfort to you and who is more interested than anyone else, in you arriving at a true perception of your vocation. We have his promise that "those who ask shall have and those who seek shall find". He has given us this avenue of prayer and why don't we use it more?

Phil. 4:13 states, "I can do all things in him that strengtheneth me." I believe that the consciousness of power to meet our need forms one of the most appealing elements in a young person making his decision. He need not feel he is alone. The greater prospect of usefulness and the fact that, even were the present rate of self-dedication of qualified persons to this cause increased, many millions may perish without even the opportunity of hearing the glad news of salvation. Too many young Christians lack perception of need, willingness to go, and consciousness of something to give. These elements should never enter into the picture when one has fully dedicated his life to Christ.

"If any man will come after me let him deny himself, and take up his cross daily and follow me". We are right in placing a very high standard for one who is to be an ambassador for Christ in a distant land, but I feel we are wrong in tacitly admitting that any less exacting standard should content the one who does the same work as a humble servant at home. Every Christian should have the type of character which would demonstrate the power of Christ in his or her individual life, in whatever way he has been tempted and tried. We must not allow the joys and comforts of home, the championship of papacy until approximately the year 600. How could the "pope" make such a change before there was a "pope"?

WHY WE WORSHIP

The Catholic Encyclopedia says "Sunday was the first day of the week according to the Jewish method of reckoning, but for Christians it began to take the place of the Jewish Sabbath in Apostolic Times as the day set apart for the public and solemn worship of God." Here, the Catholics themselves admit that the first day of the week was a special day of worship in Apostolic times.

D. M. Canright, who left the SDA after many years, said that his experience was that the belief that the pope made this change induced more people to give up Sunday for Saturday than all other arguments made by the seventh-day people. (Seventh - Day Adventism Renounced, p. 211).

The Adventists have also claimed that Sunday worship is pagan beoause that is the day on which pagans worshipped the sun. But Saturn was worshipped on Saturday! So, what does that prove? The names of the days of the week are simply hold-overs from the ancient past. In like manner, the family names Brown, White, Black, have no connection with the colors for which they originally stood.

They also charge that Constantine made the change from Saturday to Sunday. The early historian Mosheim reveals the truth on this point: "The first day of the week, which was the ordinary and stated time for the public assemblies of Christians, was, in consequence of a peculiar law enacted by Constantine, observed with more solemnity than it had formerly been." (Ecclesiastical History, Vol. I, p. 106). Christians had been meeting for worship on the first day of the week 250 years before Constantine was born!

The Significance of the First Day of the Week

1. Jesus Christ arose from the dead on the first day of the week. "Now when he rose early on the first day of the week, he appeared first to Mary Magdalene, from whom he had cast out seven demons." (Mark 16:9, R.S.V.). The prophecy, "Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee" was fulfilled on that day. (Psalm 2:7; Acts 13:33).

2. The risen Lord appeared to His disciples on the first day of the week. (Mark 16:9; Lk. 24:1, 13-15; John 20:19, 26; Matt. 28:9).

3. The church of Christ was established on the first day of the week. Pentecost always came on the day following the Passover Sabbath. On that great day the Spirit came upon the apostles (Jn. 14:16; Acts 2:1ff); the Gospel was preached in its fullness and the church began. (Acts 2:22-41).

4. The early church partook of the Lord's Supper on the first day of the week. Christ Himself instituted this supper (Matt. 26:26-28; Lk. 22:19). The early disciples assembled themselves together (Heb. 10:-25). But they ate the Lord's Supper when they assembled (I Cor. 11:20-33). Acts 20:7 shows that all this was done on the first day of the week.Scholars and historians testify that this was practiced on each first day of the week. (Canright, p. 205).

5. The contribution was made on the first day of the week. (1 Cor. 16:1, 2). What more reasonable and convenient time for giving would there be than when they regularly met? It is countered that this was a "home duty." If so, why did the apostle "order" (command, cf. 1 Cor. 14:37) a specific day?

What is the Lord's Day?

"I was in the Spirit on the Lord's day" wrote the beloved apostle while in exile on the isle of Patmos (Rev. 1:10).

Adventists insist that this was the sabbath. But if it was the sabbath why did John not call it that?

The term "Lord's" is used in a similar way in only one other place in the New Testament. That is in connection with the Lord's Supper. (I Cor. 11:20). As we have seen the supper was observed on the first day of the week. Would it not be in order to observe the Lord's Supper on the Lord's day?

Ignatius, a bishop at Antioch, in the year 110, wrote: "If, then, those who walk in the ancient practices attain to newness of hope, no longer observing the Sabbath, but fashioning their lives after the Lord's Day on which our life also arose through Him, that we may be found disciples of Jesus Christ, our only teacher." If Revelation was written in 96, then this statement of Ignatius was written only 14 years after. Justin Martyr, Barnabas, Irenaeus, Cyprian and Peter of Alexandria are among the second century Christian writers who also refer to the first day of the week as the Lord's Day.

The Psalmist looked forward to "the day which the Lord hath made" and said "we will rejoice and be glad in it." (Psalms 118:23). What day can be called a day of rejoicing for the Christian? Nothing significant in divine history occurred on a Monday, Tuesday or a Wednesday. Thursday was the day of Christ's betrayal. Friday was the day of His death. Saturday His body was in the tomb. Surely it was far from a day of rejoicing. But the disciples found "great joy" on the day of the resurrection, the first day of the week. (Matt. 28:1-8).

This concludes this brief series of articles in which we have summarized our discussions with some Seventh-day Adventists.

CAMP DIRECTORY PLANNED

Robert W. Lawrence, director of Ganderbrook Christian Camp, is seeking information for a directory of camps operated by members of the churches of Christ. It is felt that such a directory will meet a real need among those interested in Christian camping.

All who will are asked to send the following information on all camps in their areas: Name and mailing address of camp; location, winter contact; type of camp (boy's, girl's, co-ed, etc.); director's name and home address; and any special information on the camp's purpose and service.

Information is desired by April 1, 1963 or soon thereafter. Mr. Lawrence may be addressed at 22 Sachem Avenue, Worcester 6, Mass. Correspondents will receive a free copy of the directory.

THE FAITH THAT SAVES

Dead Faith Cannot Save

One kind of faith that is unprofitable and 'dead' is spoken of by James in Chapter 2. 'If a brother or sister be naked and hungry, and you say to them, 'I hope you will be fed and clothed' yet you do not give to them, 'What does it profit?' Even so, faith if it have not works is dead in itself'. And again, But wilt thou know O vain man, that faith apart from works is barren?' Then of Abraham James said, 'Was not he justified by works in that he offered up Isaac. You see that faith wrought with his works, and by works was faith made perfect'. Here James uses three expressions to designate a faith that is unprofitable. 'Dead', 'baren' and he implies, 'imperfect', and in each case it is speaking of a kind of faith that is not demonstrated in works.

If the faith of Abraham was not made perfect until he had offered up his son upon the altar, then we must conclude that the faith of which Jesus spoke in Jno. 3:36 is not the mere acceptance of Jesus as the Son of God, but the kind of faith that moved men to acknowledge Him by doing what He commands. This quality of faith is expressly implied in the verse as rendered by the American Revised Version. "He that believeth on the Son hath everlasting life: but he that OBEYETH not the Son shall not see the life, but the wrath of God abideth on him". Jesus is talking about a qualified 'faith': a faith that obeys. If Jesus were talking about a mere acceptance of Him in our hearts then there is indeed a conflict, for in Jno. 12 we have the rulers who did receive Him in their hearts, but were rejected because their faith was not made perfect by obedience.

No Merit In Believing

Another thing that is often overlooked is that there is no merit in the mere act of believing: the merit is in the thing believed. Just as there is no merit in the act of eating: we must eat wholesome food. Of course eating is essential to the sustaining of life but the merit is in the thing we eat. If we should eat poison, then eating would bring death. So, we live by eating, but only when we eat the right thing. And we can just as truly say that we are saved by believing, but only when we believe the Truth.

"And for this cause God sendeth them a working of error, that they should believe a lie, that they all might be condemned who believed not The truth, but had pleasure in unrighteousness." (2 Thess. 2:11, 12). We see again that unqualified, 'undefined' faith does not save; it must be a certain quality or kind of faith. "For that God chose you from the beginning unto salvation, in sanctification of the Spirit and belief of the Truth". (2 Thes. 2:13). The writer to the Hebrews teaches the same thing, "We are not of them that shrink back unto perdition, but of them that have faith to the saving of the soul". (Heb. 10:39).

Faith And Baptism

We are now prepared to consider the necessity of baptism in its true light. Many people have been scared away from a comprehensive view of the proper place of baptism in the scheme of redemption because they cannot see it as anything other than a work of merit, and thus detracting from the finished work of Christ on the cross. And so, they misconstrue many statements regarding baptism in the New Testament, and cannot accept them at face value. When we understand that baptism is a 'work of faith', and that without it faith is imperfect or without value, then it becomes plain why Jesus said, "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved". Mk. 16:16. And why Peter on Pentecost said, "Repent, and be baptized for the remission of your sins". Acts 2:38. The Lord and Peter were not saying that baptism is meritorious, but they were saying, in effect, that without baptism faith is dead, and that until we show our faith in being baptized that faith is powerless to save.

Now I believe we have drawn a very logical conclusion: 'THE FAITH THAT SAVES IS THE FAITH THAT OBEYS'. Until, we obey Christ, we cannot truly say we believe in Him, for our faith, until we obey, is dead.

Collins-Craig Auditorium Meeting, A Series of Sermons Delivered in the Municipal Auditorium in Nashville, Tennessee, October 7-14, 1962 by Willard Collins. Gospel Advocate Company, Nashville, Tenn.

90,467 persons heard the sermons delivered in the eight services of this great meeting. This makes it, as far as can be known, the largest effort ever made anywhere by churches of Christ.

This meeting was different from other gospel meetings in no way other than the size of the auditorium and the numbers attending the services. The Charlotte Avenue congregation in Nashville directed this meeting and enjoyed the co-operation of other churches in the area.

Twenty-two pages are devoted to verbal and pictorial descriptions of the meeting.

Willard Collins has been one of the most successful evangelists in the church in recent years. He held a meeting at Old Hickory church, near Nashville, in which there were one hundred and eleven baptisms and fifty-four restorations. In 1960 there were two hundred and eighty-one baptisms, one hundred and fifty restorations, and thirty-three placing membership in meetings he held. He preaches in about thirteen meetings per year.

There are eight sermons in this book. Christians everywhere will be interested in reading them. In so doing we can share in the great experience of our Nashville brethren in this meeting. Also, we can read them to observe the type of preaching that brings the results that Willard Collins is able to obtain. Those who have heard him preach will be able to visualize his powerful presentation as they read the printed page. His sermons are characterized by a simplicity of style that can be appreciated even by the unlearned. They also come right to the point so that even in a large audience one must feel their direct appeal. Reading this book is the next thing to actually being present at the meeting.

Whatever the Government after April 8, spring thaws will come and go. Each one will find us closer to eternity. Plan this spring to make the year's activity for Christ as refreshing as an April shower, as wholesome as a June day, and as powerful as a summer's sun.

GLEANINGS FROM FOREIGN FIELDS

We have been greatly inspired in recent months by news of the number of "campaigns" for Christ which have taken place in different countries of the world, some where the church is strong, some where it is weak, and some in entirely new fields, where the end result has been the establishment of a church of Christ in a new place.

Sometimes they are called by another name — we believe the English brethren refer to the efforts as "missions" — but the plan is generally the same: a group of Christians, experienced gospel preachers, personal workers, a good gospel song leader, and ordinary Christian men and women with the will to work for the Lord go into a place to spend a period of time — sometimes a month, sometimes more, sometimes less — in intense, concentrated effort to win souls for Christ.

Since plans and works are different according to the needs of the time and place, we cannot outline exactly what is done — but we would like to report on some of the past and future "campaigns" of which we have heard, with the hope that other congregations and individual Christians will plan a similar effort in some place where it is needed.

WEMBLEY, ENGLAND

Two years ago a group of American and English brethren went into the Wembley area of greater London and spent a month working for the Lord. We believe we could say with little dispute that an active congregation of 65 now exists in Wembley as a direct result of that summer's work.

This summer another such campaign is planned in the same area. In 1961, around 50 workers took part in the effort. This year plans are being made for approximately 100 to go. Bro. Batsell Barrett Baxter of Nashville, Tenn., and Bro. Andy T. Richie, Jr., of Searcy, Ark., will preach and lead the singing, assisted by Bro. Philip Slate and Bro. E. P. Lake, regular workers at Wembley, and several dozen other gospel preachers and workers.

The Wembley campaign is planned for June 23 - July 9.

AYLESBURY, ENGLAND

The same group of workers will also help in a similar campaign in Aylesbury, England, where the congregation has grown from two in the early 1950's to around 70 today. They have just moved into a new meeting house of their own, and it is felt that the time is very ripe for such a concentrated effort in the Master's behalf. The Aylesbury campaign is planned for June 9 to 21.

WELLINGTON, NEW ZEALAND

Across the equator, where the summer is just ending, a campaign in Wellington, New Zealand concluded January 25. Before the campaign there was one Christian in Wellington, 84-year-old Bro. Henry Coombs. Now there are 34. Three American preachers remained in Wellington to work with the young Christians.

A detailed breakdown of statistics concerning this particular campaign shows that a total of 455 different visitors attended gospel services, many returning again and again. 203 home studies were conducted, 196 persons enrolled for a Bible correspondence course, and average attendance at the services was 130.

How could a single aged Christian living in a large city have attracted and taught so many people the gospel? We know from experience that he couldn't have! But because a group of American brethren, living halfway around the world from him, cared enough about the gospel of Christ to go to Wellington and work in such an effort, Brother Coombs now has 33 new brethren and sisters in Christ. And an effort has begun which we pray will spread all over New Zealand.

NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

Probably the greatest effort ever put forth in a concentrated way by churches of Christ in America was the campaign held last October 7-14 in the new Municipal Auditorium in Nashville, Tenn.

A total of 90,467 persons attended the eight-day gospel meeting, an average of 11,308 each night. This did not include an estimated 5,000 to 8,000 turned away each night by police who feared the building would be crowded beyond the point of safety.

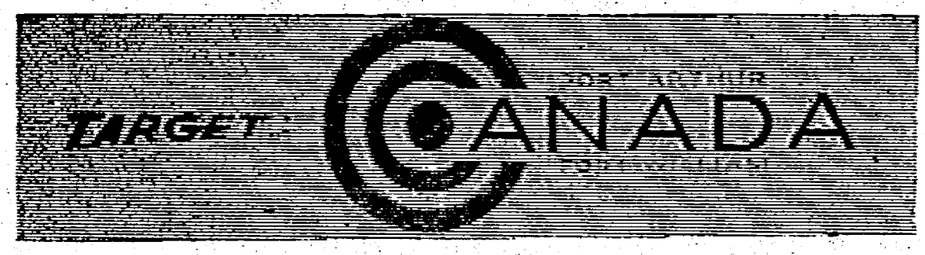
Bro. Willard Collins preached and Bro. Mack Wayne Craig led the singing. The meeting was no different from any other gospel meeting which has ever been held, except in effort put forth by Christians and in the total attendance. Sixteen persons were baptized into Christ during the meeting, the first event ever held in Nashville's beautiful new auditorium. The Charlotte Ave. church in Nashville sponsored the meeting and some 90 other congregations in the city helped them in every way possible.

CORPUS CHRISTI, TEXAS

Brother Willard Collins also preached in a similar meeting which concluded March 10 in the City Coliseum in Corpus Christi, Texas. Though the results are not known at this writing, some of the work which went into the effort is.

The pre-campaign effort began two years ago. Advertising was conducted on the radio, television, billboards, bumper-stickers, window and yard posters, newspaper ads, pencils, pens, and brochures for house-to-house distribution.

Every number in the Corpus Christi phone book was called at least twice prior to the meeting. Every door in the city of 170,000 was approached and a personal invitation left with the occupants.



Each visitor to the meeting was contacted either personally or by phone the next day.

Though Corpus Christi is in Texas where the church of Christ is noted for its strength, the city itself is a difficult field. A sea port with a large Latin - American population, Corpus Christi is heavily Catholic.

WICHITA FALLS, TEXAS

Though we do not have exact statistics on their previous efforts, churches in Wichita Falls, Texas, a city of approximately 105,000, are completing plans for their third gospel campaign. Their results in other campaigns have been the same as others have experienced: increased interest in the church from non-Christians, increased faith and

Canada's First

by Blenus Wright

We are soon to witness a changing approach to mission work in Canada — an approach that is also being planned for Australia, Long Island, Trinidad, and Chili — an approach that is already working effectively in Brazil. The method of sending one man and his family to evangelize a nation is gradually being replaced by group evangelization, (e.g., the J. C. Bailey family, the Don Perry family, and others to India), where the work is more efficient, the joys more manifold, and the discouragements shared.

Canada's first effort to evangelize by this method will be carried out, Lord willing, in the Lakehead cities of Port Arthur and Fort William, Ontario in August, 1964. In 1961 several dedicated Canadian families began a serious study of large centres across Canada where no congregation of the Lord's church now exists. After much prayer and thorough research, the Lakehead was selected for its abundant potential in several areas: 1) a combined population of 90,000; area population, 250,000; 2) the area is modern and progressive — population will double by 1980; 3) the two cities can become a strategic springboard for carrying the gospel to numerous towns from 3,000 to 12,000 population surrounding the Target cities.

The task of carrying the gospel to the Lakehead became identified as the TARGET: CANADA project, and receives direction from the elders of the Hillcrest Church of Christ, Abilene, Texas. At their suggestion, a goal of at least twenty families is needed by 1964 to effectively carry out the plans for the Lakehead congregation. The twenty or more families will earn their living from various secular occupations available in the vicinity. Three hundred industries provide employment in many areas of commerce; teachers are in great demand, and highly paid.

Young people are also needed in the TARGET: CANADA project. Lakehead Teachers' College provides opportunity for prospective public school teachers. Lakehead College of Science and Technology offers courses for those interested in higher learning, and will be a degree-granting, liberal arts college by 1965.

Two families have committed themselves to move to the Lakehead by the Target date of August, 1964: the Gordon Ellis family of Beamsville, Ontario, and the Bernard Straker family of Weyburn, Saskatchewan. Both men plan to teach in the school system. Others planning to move there when their formal education is complete, include the John Whitfield family of Cleveland, O., Blenus and Audrey Wright of Abilene, Texas, and Jimmie Roden, Hubbard, Texas. The Wrights and the Whitfields are native Canadians, and both men will work at secular employment. Jimmie Roden worked with Canadian churches during the Western Canada Campaign, summer, 1961, and will work as one of the full-time evangelists with the Lakehead congregation. A mature, experienced preacher is needed to work as the full-time evangelist, and to spearhead the activities of two or three younger preachers working with him.

Other families are needed to join those going in '64. This dynamic idea in evangelism needs the support of Christians, young and old, from every walk of life. It needs men who can qualify to become elders and deacons. With everyone in the group dedicated to the one purpose of spreading the gospel in the Target Cities, the spread of the kingdom will rest with each member. The preacher must not feel that the job is his alone.

With the twenty or more families engaged in establishing the Lord's church, the congregation, even at its very beginning, will be of substantial size — larger than some congregations which are five years' old. The Master Plan of Action which was designed under the elders' approval, outlines the initial planning of the work from its inception to 1966. The plans call for the erection of the first phase of a building by 1965, and the congregation to be self-supporting by 1966. These very weighty plans demand purposeful dedication by the workers, a deep and abiding faith in God, and generous financial aid from many sources to launch the TARGET: CANADA program.

Those now committed to TARGET: CANADA want you to find your place in this project. You can pray for it. You can join it. You can support it financially. No one must feel left out of this undertaking for the Lord at the Lakehead. Where there are souls to be saved, mission work is everybody's business, whether you go or whether you send. Decide now what you can do to save the lost. Simply check the item of interest to you on the accompanying coupon, and mail to Hillcrest Church of Christ, Church Street and Bacon Drive, Abilene, Texas.

"Lift up your eyes, and look on the fields, that they are white already unto harvest." Yes, these fields are on our doorstep, where neither culture nor language provides a barrier to Christianity, where a vast untapped potential needs to be utilized for Christ, and where a plan of group evangelism needs more missionaries. If we're to win the world for Christ, let's begin at home.

COX

Another grand old warrior of the Cross has laid his armour down. The sword of the Spirit which he wielded for more than fifty years has fallen into other hands. He has fought his last battle and finished the race of life and now rests from his labours. The secret of his life lies in the fact that he knew where he was going and he pressed on toward the goal, till the very end. He believed that the world would make room for the man who knew where he was going. Bro. William F. Cox was no politician in religion. He had his mind made up concerning what he believed to be right and he never varied from the course of life he had set before him. As a preacher he put his soul into the task, and his sermons were based on Scripture and not the modern philosophy and trends of the present generation.

Brother Cox was born near Cape Rich, Ontario, on the 7th Line, North of Meaford, Ontario, January 27th, 1877. The meetinghouse was located on the corner of the Cox farm and remained in use until it was taken by the Government, during the last world war. The area now forms part of the Tank Range. His family were all members of the Church, and at the age of fourteen he was baptised by Bro. J. C. Lister, a pioneer preacher in Ontario.

Brother Cox was a student at the Old Bible School in Nashville, Tennessee in the year 1899; afterwards he attended the Beamsville Bible School. He started to preach in Beamsville in 1905. For more than half a century he laboured with Churches in Hubbardsville, Pekin, and Rochester, N.Y.; Carman, Manitoba; Selkirk, Collingwood, Beamsville, Tintern, Fenwick, Port Colborne, St. Catharines, and Hamilton; all in Ontario. While working with Sanford Avenue, Hamilton, he assisted with the work in the East end of the City and on May 4, 1947, he started his last regular work with the Ivon Avenue congregation. In the same year he laid the corner stone for their new building. Upon its completion in 1959 he preached the first sermon. This was just a few days before he reached the 83rd mile stone of his long and useful career.

From childhood, Bro. Cox loved the great outdoors. Frequently he would lose himself in the woods or beside some stream, where he learned to relax in nature's glory. Doubtless it was here that he frequently meditated upon his sermons and tracts. Besides the memory of his pulpit work, he leaves behind "The New Testament Church" and "The Dividing Line". These are pointed, positive works, well worth our reading.

On February 14th, 1900, Bro. Cox married Ethel Chantler, and for a short period of time he operated a farm outside of Meaford, Ontario. Upon the death of his young son, William, in 1904, he sold his farm and decided to preach the gospel for the rest of his life.

In 1922 he located on a fruit farm in Beamsville, where he built a home and raised his family. During this time he preached in surrounding Churches and engaged in evangelistic work. For a period of ten years, while preaching in St. Catharines, he conducted a weekly radio programme over CKTB.

For forty-nine years Bro. Cox and his wife shared the joys, hardships, and sorrows of life, together. It was a sad day for him and his family when his beloved companion passed away on their wedding anniversary.

Brother Cox is survived by one daughter and four sons. Mrs. Alex Fisher, Hamilton, Ontario; Austin, Toronto; James, Lake Worth, Florida; David, Beamsville; and Claude, Stoney Creek. Also two sisters and two brothers. Mrs. L. J. Keffer, Grimsby; Mrs. Edna Watterworth, Meaford; Charles, Owen Sound; and Ernest, Meaford.

As a farewell tribute of respect, many friends and relatives gathered at the Robinson Funeral Home on the afternoon of March 12th, 1963. There amid banks of flowers, mingled with tears, we bid farewell for the present to one who had lived so long and served so faithfully. How many of us can say when the end comes, "I have fought a good fight, I have finished the course, I have kept the faith, henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness." Bro. Cox knew that he was going and was awaiting the call. He did not have to wait long or suffer much. While he dismissed the Prayer Meeting on Wednesday night, he received the Angelic call on Saturday night, and went to his Eternal Home. "Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord."

The writer was assisted by Bro. Tabor and Bro. Grant at the funeral home and the cemetery.

Charles G. McPhee.

BRO. W. F. COX PASSES

We have just learned that one of Canada's veteran preachers has been called home. We share with a host of brethren a feeling of loss.

Last month's Gospel Herald carried an article by this grand old soldier of the cross. Very appropr ately it dealt with life beyond the grave. No doubt after 86 years of waiting, his mind was occupied with thoughts of his future home. This is as it should be.

This writer has many fond memories of meetings in his boyhood when Brother Cox preached in a forceful and dignified way. Sermons then uttered helped to keep alive in the Niagara Peninsula and elsewhere the plea for New Testament Christianity. The influence of th's godly man through voice and pen cannot be weighed nor measured.

In days when evangelists eked out a precarious living, he augmented his income by farming. Throughout the lean years and the trials of controversy he sought to remain faithful to the Master he served. His example and encouragement have been helpful to many younger men.

Now he is no longer with us. "His reward follows after."

NORTH BAY FOR CHRIST

In January of this year thirty-five American Christians from the United States joined approximately thirty American and New Zealand Christians for a giant Campaign for Christ in the city of Wellington, New Zealand.

Within three weeks, this group of dedicated workers were able to reach, teach and convert twenty-eight persons (twenty-five baptisms and three restorations). All of this was accomplished in spite of terribly rainy weather, the fact that the workers from the States knew nothing about New Zealanders, and the New Zealanders knew nothing about the church of Christ.

There is no reason in the world why (with the help of God) this same type of campaign cannot be as successful in Canada. We believe that approximately one hundred members of the church will be in the city of North Bay, Ontario between July 1 and July 20 to launch a campaign of this nature. This campaign will have two phases: (1) A Vacation Bible School July 8-12 directed by Brother Ray Lock of Abilene, Texas. Ray was originally from Western Canada but has been attending Abilene Christian College the past few years. He plans to stay in North Bay to help with the work there; (2) The second phase will be in the form of a personal work campaign. Plans are made to divide the city into four or five sections. Each section will have a team captain with as many workers under him as we can arrange. These workers will be passing out tracts, knocking on doors, talking to people about the church, looking for Vacation Bible School students, finding students who will attend Sunday School, set up Bible Correspondence courses, arrange for home Bible Studies, and etc.

We are asking brethren to come and help us during this time by taking their vacations and giving them to Christ this year. We realize that relaxation and recreation is necessary so we aren't planning our campaign for every day in the week. The campaign will be held four days during the week and three days out of the week can be spent in sight seeing, fishing, boating, relaxing, and etc.

We need YOUR help. Brethren, this can be one of the biggest things that has ever happened to the church in Ontario if we get behind it. But it can't be done without workers and lots of them. This is where YOU come in. Can you come for part of the time (or all the time if possible)? We are encouraging churches to seriously consider sending their preacher for a week or so. This way congregations will be able to help that otherwise wouldn't be in a position to help. But we are not just trying to get preachers. We want everyone to consider this plea for help and if possible be in North Bay in July to be a part of this Campaign for Christ.

Accommodation is a problem but for those who cannot arrange for their own accommodation, we are providing it as long as our limited ability lasts.

OMAGH FOR 1963

Plans: Regular monthly meetings have been attended by the Board of Directors throughout the winter months. Many hours are being spent in thorough preparation of the 1963 session.

Dates: July 8 - August 2. "Omagh is but 3 months away!"

Director: Bro. Bob Adams cannot be with us this year. However, the directors are happy to announce that they have obtained an experienced and exceptionally well qualified man in the person of Bro. Warren Whitelaw.

Applications: Each young person must have his application in by June 1. An early application will assure a reservation at the time desired.

Cook and Cousellors: Omagh is made possible by the unselfish service of volunteer help. If you can serve in either capacity of cook or cousellor, contact a board member or write: Miss Margaret Carnegie, 188 Kensington Ave. S., Hamilton.

Christian Fellowship Week: Dates: August 5-9. Theme: The Challenge of World Evangelism. Speakers: Brethren Palmer and Hall of Michigan Christian College.

WHITELAW CAMP DIRECTOR OF OMAGH

I am pleased to announce that Brother Warren Whitelaw of Toronto has been secured to serve as Camp Director of Omagh Bible School for 1963. We of the Board of Directors feel fortunate that Bro. Whitelaw has been able to secure release from his duties as a minister of the gospel for the Fern Ave. Church of Christ in Toronto to work with us for the month of July.

Brother Whitelaw is a native of Toronto. He has been acquainted with Omagh since its beginning. His father, Brother Lynn Whitelaw, served Omagh in various capacities for a number of years. Brother Warren has helped in the founding and direction of Christian Camps in Michigan and Indiana. He served for a number of years as director of a children's home in Indiana. He comes to us then, with considerable experience in the field of work with children and young people. He is genuinely interested in the work at Omagh, has a definite spiritual interest, and helpful ideas for a better Omagh Bible School. We feel it would be a mistake not to use Brother Whitelaw in this work, and hence are very happy that he has consented to serve with us.

Prince Albert: This church borrowed $1,000 to help purchase the trailer from the Outlook church to help further the gospel in new areas. $200 per month has been budgeted during this year. Further help is needed.

INTO EVERY HOME IN 1963

The publishers of the GOSPEL HERALD join with many other publishers in the campaign which has the goal of putting at least one periodical published by our brethren in every home in the brotherhood regularly.

To accomplish this we are offering the below cost rates of $1.35 per year's subscription, new or renewal, where we have the bona fide assurance that the GOSPEL HERALD is entering each home represented in the congregation.

1. In many cases, those already subscribing at the $2.00 rate could pool their subscriptions at the $1.35 rate and have enough over to send a subscription to the homes not now subscribing.

2. Church officers or business meetings might look into the matter of subscribing for every home. Papers can be sent in a bundle to the church or separately to each home. Payments may be by the year or monthly if preferred.

3. An interested individual may act as a representative for the GOSPEL HERALD in his or her congregation and take up and submit subscriptions according to the above plan.

One in every home, every month, for two-thirds of the regular price interest on the part of members, and, greatest of all, numbers baptized into Christ.

In 1960 the first of these meetings was held in the Municipal Auditorium with Bro. Collins preaching. The second was held in 1962 with Bro. M. Norvel Young. This summer, Bro. George Bailey of Abilene, Texas, will preach. But the principal workers in every effort have been the local church members who got out and CAMPAIGNED FOR CHRIST.

EDINBURGH, SCOTLAND

June 9 to June 30 has been set as the date for a campaign in Edinburgh, Scotland. Bro. George Bailey, who will preach in the effort in Wichita Falls discussed above, will also preach in this one.

In addition, Bro. Ivan Stewart of Albuquerque, N. Mex., who worked in the campaigns in Glasgow in 1962 and Wellington, New Zealand, this year, will direct personal workers.

Bro. Clyde P. Findlay who was instrumental in starting the present congregation in Edinburgh; Bro. Dale Buckley, who preached in Glasgow for three years; Bro. B. E. Baucom, who has spent some time in Nigeria as a missionary; Bro. Ray Fullerton and Bro. Richard Daughtry, both experienced men in mission work, are also among those who will be going.

There have been other campaigns, and others are planned which we have not room to discuss. But we hope our "Gleanings" column this month will perhaps inspire congregations in Canada to look to the future and begin planning for a "Campaign for Christ."

HERE AND THERE

North Weyburn: Reuel Lemmons spoke here on Feb. 10. Three baptism of young people this winter brings to seven the number since September. The radio program with Coy Roper as speaker continues at 7.35 each morning. The budget calls for $80 per week. A March meeting was announced with Wesley Reagan of Winnipeg speaking.

NEEDED — A MAN!

Jeremiah's words come to mind often these days as opportunities in the Gospel seem to outdistance our ability to find men to meet them: "Run ye to and fro through the streets of Jerusalem, and see now, and know, and seek in the broad places thereof, if ye can find a man, if there be any that executeth judgment, that seeketh truth." (Jer. 5:1)

The word went back and forth across the land, from sea to sea saying, Needed — A Man! India is Calling! Canadian Christians face a major challenge!

That others heeded not the call weighed heavily upon one man. Finally, he said, "Here am I Lord, Send me." One of the most spiritually useful men in Canada, Donald Perry, determined to leave lands, and families, and friends, and go to India with the unsearchable treasures of the Gospel which is for all men.

Now, as a result, men are needed to fill the responsibilities left behind. Who will provide direction in the Bible class program of the local church? Who will continue the spiritual influence in the community? Who will guide the vital affairs of Omagh Bible School? Who will step before the Science and Bible classes at Great Lakes Christian College to continue this important instruction.

Needed — A Man! Where is there in this land a man with similar academic qualifications (ie. B.A., B.Ed., M.A.) who will be willing to dedicate these talents to God through the Avenue of Christian Education? Where is there in this land a man with dedication to permit him cheerfully to work harder for half the salary than normally expected in similar duties elsewhere?

Needed — At Great Lakes Christian College—A—Man—to teach in Science and Bible so that another man might go with freer heart to the mission fields of India.

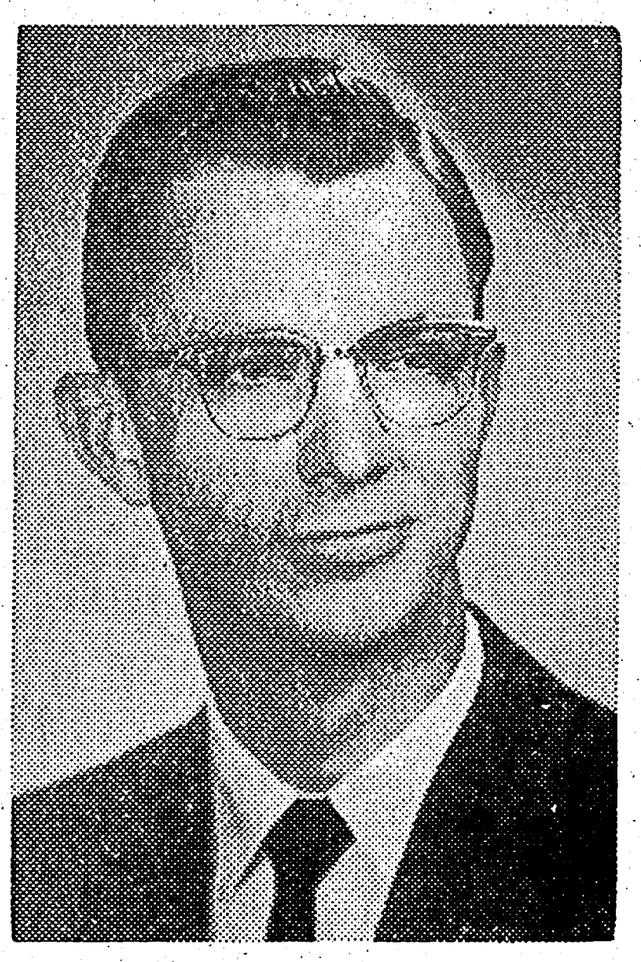
JUNE MEETING

June Meeting will be held this year in Beamsville, on June 2nd. Services morning, afternoon and evening. Bro. Oliver of Clawson, Michigan and Bro. Jones of Barrie, Ontario will be the speakers of the day. This meeting will be followed by special meetings in St. Catharines.

ST. CATHARINES



Our new church building on Ontario Street is rapidly taking shape. The outside is practically finished, except the landscaping and the entrances back and front. The inside paneling and windows are almost completed, while the work on the balcony is progressing rapidly. The front and back stairs are under construction and the baptistry is awaiting its final coating. The heating and electric work is largely done, also the basement is about ready for use.

The outside appearance of the building is pleasing, being of buff brick, brown roof and cathederal windows. It will seat about 350 people, with ample room for classes and parking space around the building. While conservative in design it is very serviceable and will be a great asset to the church. The estimated cost is about ($90,000.00) ninety thousand dollars.

CAMP KENOSEE

Most readers know that the church at Estevan was instrumental in obtaining a lease on a plot of ground at Kenosee Lake on which to conduct religious activities. Last year one building was erected and a one week camp was conducted. This year we are hoping and planning to have at least a two week camp: one week for young people and one week, a family week. The dates are as follows; August 4-11, camp for ages twelve through university; August 11-18, camp for families.

Some plans are being considered for having a study of the Eldership in the Lord's church during the family week.

Those of us who are connected with the planning for this year would appreciate it beyond measure if someone in each congregation would take the time to write us and let us have some idea of how many we can expect from their congregation or area. The fee will be about the same as it was last year, $10 for the week.

During the camp there will be classes, devotionals and lectures on Bible topics of interest to each age group. There will also be plenty of recreation for all to engage in.

If you would like to assist with the camp cooking, teaching, chaperoning, we would love to hear from you.

If you have any questions or comments in connection with the camp for this year, you may direct them either to myself or Ivor Kristianson in Estevan.

loved ones, ease and pleasant surroundings, to deter us from doing our work for the Lord. Let us at all times and in all circumstances show a constant willingness to sacrifice, to endure hardships and to hold personal comfort lightly. Thus for the growth of God's kingdom there should not be any non-combatants. Every Christian, if loyal, is in the fight and all of their utmost is required.

Young people you are being called every day to be a soldier for Christ; to enter the very nucleus of the fray; to grapple with problems with the faith that only a Christian can bring to bear; and to witness throughout your life.

My earnest prayer to all young people is to be prepared in readiness to face the high demands of your vocation as a sacred vocation given you by God for a purpose.

May I make you deeply concentrate by asking you to ask yourself three questions.

1. Where did I come from?
2. Why am I here?
3. Where am I going?

PORT COLBORNE AND FENWICK

The Port Colborne congregation had a baptism on March 10, 1963. Mrs Pearl Smith was baptised into her Lord.

The Fenwick congregation is also progressing and at present time a series of cottage meetings are in progress.

All services are well attended and the interest seems to be improving.

The correspondence Course which was offered by mail has proved satisfactory. There were many responses to this course.

DON'T WISH ME LUCK

Donald E. Perry

Someone said to me a week or so ago, "I don't know whether I'll see you again before you go to India or not. I want to wish you the best of luck." I wasn't sure how to take this coming from a preacher of faith in God. I knew that he was in the vernacular, offering me his best wishes. But to me, somehow, "luck" is too fickle a goddess to depend upon in such a venture as this.

Luck seems to have to do with chance circumstances; the way the dice rolls, or the hand of cards one might get. Some people who have little faith in God believe that the evolution of the world and of life in the world depended to a great degree on chance circumstances. People with strong faith in God believe that he has and does overrule the affairs of men according to his will. They believe in the providence of God as a loving Father and Shepherd of his people. Joseph said to his brethren who had so cruelly sold him into Egypt as a slave, "You intended it for evil, but God intended it for good to save many people".

God has promised that for those who seek first his Kingdom and his righteousness, all "these (temporal) things will be added" to him. To the man who gives of his means abundantly the promise is given that he shall have, to give abundantly. Indeed, "All things work together for good to them that love the Lord." (Romans 8: 28). These promises involve providence, not just luck.

We will need more than luck on this venture for our Lord into India. We would be unwilling to go if luck was what we had to depend upon. Many possible dangers contront us. We are depending on God to work out the many things we cannot work out. We are in his hands. Wish and pray for us that God's blessings will attend us and that he will guard and keep us and prosper us in his service. This wish is so much richer than to merely wish us "luck".

GOD IN A BOTTLE?

Lynn Anderson, Salmon Arm, B. C.

It has been a year this month since the communist astronaut, Titov made his memorable journey through space. "In my journey through space", he scoffed, "I saw no God or Angels". He expressed then a nagging doubt that haunts many Christians today. Like this Soviet materialist, we are sometimes reluctant to accept deeply anything that is not subject to scientific analysis. This gross misconception is one of the tragic by-products of our age of 'scientific enlightenment'.

Materialism is only a theory. Why should we believe that nothihg is real unless regulated by known scientific law? Because the materialist arbitrarily asserts this thesis does not make it so!

Of course one cannot find God in a test-tube. Does that make Him non-existent? If so, shall we declare such a powerful thing as love to be a myth also? Love cannnot be analyzed in a laboratory, neither can hatred, sadness, happiness, etc. Yet who will doubt these things are real.

This material universe is embraced in the hollow of an omnipotent hand. Thus when chemistry, biology and physics have reached their limitations and fail us, we can turn to God. Go to the soul, rasping in the broken sobs of bereavement, and try to console him with a treatise on the chemical analysis of a tear — Hydrogen,

THE PROBLEM OF EVIL

(PART I)

Dale Foster, Nanaimo, B. C.

Nearly every writer on this subject begins by saying that evil is a problem only for the believer. The problem does not even exist for those who do not believe. The quantity and the distribution of evils make difficult the belief in a good God who can be trusted to conserve values eternally, and for many, such a belief is impossible. As far as human experience goes, evil is essentially relative to good because it would be hard to think of evil and, at the same time, not think of good. In reality, then, the problem is one of good and evil. "This close connection of good and evil is fully experienced by the religious consciousness; and the good which religion yields man is sharply contrasted with the evils that hurt him."

One writer points out that the problem of evil is that which rises in any rational mind when the widespread tendency to believe in the goodness of God is challenged by the fact that the world is imperfect. A man who reasons along these lines is in danger of reasoning as follows: "Either God could have prevented evil, but would not; or he would have prevented it, but could not. If the first alternative is taken, God is an imperfect being in goodness; if the second is accepted, God's power is imperfect. In either case God is less than most believers believe, and it is inconceivable that a perfectly good being could have allowed so much evil to enter, and to devastate the world."

For those who continue to believe in God, neither of the above alternatives is valid. Therefore, a third alternative must be proposed. Leibnitz has offered a third alternative in his Theodicee which states, "This is the best of all possible worlds." Therefore, the effort to vindicate the justice of God in permitting natural and moral evil is properly called a theodicy. (A vindication of the justice of God in allowing evil to exist. R. D. M.)

The book of Job is a theodicy, and it tries to answer the question, "can human suffering and loss be shown to be bound up in a larger good?" Of course, Job's friends said he was suffering because of sin, but in the end no satisfying answer to the problem has been offered. The problem of evil is quite prominent in the religion of the Jews. Prayer was a plea for forgiveness of sin, for deliverance from evil, and the primary purpose of the sacrifice was to avert evil. All the evils that befell the individual or the nation were interpreted by the Jews as a punishment for sin. In Christianity the problem is treated in relation to salvation which makes the picture a little brighter, but it cannot be said that the doctrinal treatment of the problem of evil is free of difficulties.

The problem of good and evil is expressed in religion in the difficulty of believing good to be ultimate and in the difficulty of achieving good. So real are the evils of life that man's "first" gods were puny, local gods, sources of highly precarious good in a world of hostile powers. The case in point here, mainly, is the old, dualistic religion of Persia. There was a good god and an evil god. This was the manifestation of their ideas on this problem, but the final dualism of this kind means a conception of the universe unsatisfying and incoherent.

The difficulty of achieving good in a world of good and evil gives religion its chief task. This is well proven by the eleventh chapter of Hebrews. Throughout the New Testament the exhortation is to "overcome evil with good". As far as this writer can determine, this says that the brunt of the problem of evil is laid upon the shoulders of religious people, and it is up to this group to do all in its power to overcome the problem.

Evil may be said to be of two kinds: natural and moral. Natural evil is that which arises when self-consciousness is not a factor and moral evil is that which arises in or as a result of sin, sin being possible wherever there is a creature sensitive to moral values. Natural evil includes things such as earthquakes, tornadoes, automobile accidents, disease, and pain. Hardly anyone doubts that the operation of so-called natural laws entails many evils.

Perhaps the biggest problem concerning natural evil is its distribution since it may be endured or suffered by an innocent or by a guilty person, and in both cases the evil may be equally natural and necessary. Nearly everyone knows of cases in which one family might be very religious and always trying to do what's right. Another family, the neighbors perhaps, is quite irreligious and doesn't mind cheating some to make an extra dollar. The paradox is that the good family is poor, sickly, and barely getting by while the other family lives well, is healthy, and, seemingly, has no problems. This isn't always the case, but it seems to be noticed more than when the situation is reversed. "To show that death as a universal principle operates for the well-being of humanity does not make it plain why the honest man should be laid low in the fullness of his service, and the profligate spared to continue in his sin."

It is said that natural evils may be divided into three classes: (1) those that arise from man's relation to nature, and nature's to man; (2) those that are native to his own being; and (3) those inflicted upon him by men, whether ancestors or contemporaries. The first of these has been mentioned above briefly. Hardly anyone would disagree that the suffering nature has inflicted on man has educated him. The second class is mostly self-explanatory and includes such things as pain in child birth. The third class is the most disdainful sin which is caused by greed, pride, and, in general, selfish motives.

To the particular problem of natural evil, at least three answers have been suggested. First, personal life cannot develop except in a stable environment. The so - called laws of nature are necessary to the existence of human life, and this is apparent when we reflect how impossibble it would be for man to maintain himself in the world, were there not a constancy, and, therefore, reliability, in the processes of nature. This answer also deals with the freedom of man which will be discussed below.

Secondly, much of the resultant suffering from natural evil is, or can be, redemptive. Those who have never suffered tragedy, or have had a loved one who died, cannot always appreciate life itself. It's fairly easy to talk about how someone else should take suffering until the one talking has done some suffering himself. This writer is not sure he can go along with this answer in full agreement. Surely it is partially valid, but not fully so.

The third answer is that of the life everlasting. Of course, this will solve the problem for a few, perhaps, but there will be many more for whom this will not be the answer. Since there are certain conditions to be able to spend eternity in heaven, there will be few that will find the way, so says Jesus. Those who do not spend eternity in heaven will spend it in hell, and those in the latter place may feel that the problem of evil has just begun!

Natural evils are very closely related to moral evils, and they furnish the occasion for the moral evils to develop. Hunger, pain, and disasters will lead a man to do things that are morally wrong to help relieve himself. Man will steal, and even kill, if it is necessary for self-preservation in many cases. While the two kinds of evil are very closely related, moral evil is much more serious. It deals more with the spiritual life of man which will continue even after death has overcome him.

The origin of moral evil is, indeed, a perplexing problem. Kant says it is a "contradiction to seek the temporal origin of man's moral character, so far as it is considered as contingent, since this character signifies the ground of the exercise of freedom; this ground (like the determining ground of free will generally) must be sought in purely rational representatives". He goes on to say that however the origin of moral evil is explained, the most inept explanation is that we inherited it from our parents. This would deal many modern protestants a blow. The real problem is: "how has the Creator allowed all the fair promise and all of the divine potentiality of man to be falsified by the rise of sin and the cumulative wickedness of all the generations of men?"

MANITOULIN CAMPAIGN IN JULY

Many preachers and other brethren plan to take their vacations and be in this vacationer's paradise in July to help with the extensive campaign being planned. A month of meetings is planned as follows: July 7-11 Kenneth Reed, University of Alabama, "First Principles of the Oracles of God".

July 14-18 Gordon French, Michigan Christian Youth Camp, Attica Michigan, "The Church and Its Functions".

July 22-25 Clyde Lansdell, North Bay, Ontario, "How to Become a Christian".

July 28 - August 1 David Myers, Columbus, Ohio, "Now That I Am a Christian". All meetings 8.30 p.m.

"From July 1 to 14, Brother Willard Pyles of Ravenna, Ohio plans to be here to help us with advertising, personal work, and teach us about home study groups, filmstrips, follow-up to the meetings, etc . . . . We have rented the community hall in Gore Bay (our nearest town) for the meetings. It seats 350. We believe we can run it over by giving proper attention to personal work and advertising. We plan to teach the gospel to all of Manitoulin Island by concentrating on one town or area each year."

ROME'S SOFT SELL

The term "soft sell' is a relatively new one. It signifies a method of obtaining one's goals, whether it be the sale of goods or the implementation of a policy, by subtle means rather than by forceful activity. One of the most significant trends in the last year has been the soft line adopted by the Church of Rome in its relations with other church groups. Observers have been amazed to see such a change. They have been told that Pope John is responsible for most of it. Almost anyone will rejoice to see this conciliatory attitude. One ought not to jump to the conclusion that this is anything more than a shrewd but temporary device to win friends. Rome has never repudiated its claim of power which were forged in medieval times and repeated by modern popes.

As late as 1864, Pius IX, the first Pope to be declared officially infallible, denounced in no uncertain terms the right of the individual to think, speak and write according to his conscience. In his Encyclical "Quanta Cura", he declared: "Contrary to the teachings of the Holy Scriptures, of the Church, and of the Holy Fathers, these persons do not hesitate to assert, that "the best condition of human society is that wherein no duty is recognized by the Government of correcting, by enacted penalties, the violators of the Catholic Religion, except when the maintenance of the public peace requires it. He branded as "insanity" that "the liberty of conscience and of worship is the peculiar (or inalienable) right of every man, which should be proclaimed by law, and that citizens have the right to all kinds of liberty, to be restrained by no law, whether ecclesiastical or civil, by which they may be enabled to manifest openly and publicly their ideas, by word of mouth, through the press, or by any other means." (Freemantle, The Papal Enclyclicals)

The story is told of a famous sculptor who decided to be more efficient in the use of his model, a well-proportioned man. He decided to pour a plaster cast from which he could mould figures of the man repeatedly. The plaster was mixed; the model was placed in an upright container and plaster was poured around him. All went well until the plaster began to thicken. Every time the poor man breathed, the plaster crept in closer around his chest. Finally the artist had to race against time to release the gasping man from a gradually tightening straight-jacket of death.

This apocryphal story can illustrate the danger that currently threatens from Rome's soft sell. Vast amounts of money have been expended and the services of highly-trained public relations men have been utilized to present Pope John as a fatherly old fellow who holds out his arms of welcome to wayward children of all lands and confessions. We do not know what the personal motives of John may be, perhaps he is as charitable as he is pictured. Nevertheless, if his arms were to close around any substantial proportion of Protestantism, the embrace would be a deadly thing for religious liberty.

We do not question the good faith of many of the Protestant leaders who are beating a path to Rome and sounding pleas for reconciliation. Many of these are pious men who are obsessed with the need for unity and order on the religious scene. It is true that there is a great need for a united witness to the fundamenal truths of Christianity. The past century has been such an erosion of authority and such a fragmentation of that which claims to be the body of Christ, that many sincere men would give anything to remedy this disorder.

There is, however, reason to agree with the philosopher, Will Durant, when he wrote: "When liberty destroys order, the hunger for order will destroy liberty." The old adage "Out of the frying pan, into the fire" can refer to more than food. There is little to be gained by substituting the compulsive order of a religious-political power for an ailing Protestantism. Either of these is a far cry from Paul's

LAWS OF BIBLE SCHOOL GROWTH

H. Ralph Perry, London, Ontario

Church leaders and workers realize that a Bible School should grow. Unless there is steady advance there will usually be a recession. Somehow, as in other endeavours, Bible schools do not remain constant for very long.

The main problem is how to make the Bible school grow. If such depends upon the preacher or the supervisor, its outreach will only be as large as this person. This could definitely limit growth. If the church depends upon every member for Bible school growth, its outreach and potential is unlimited.

There are certain laws of Bible school growth that have come from the law of averages in Bible school work over the years. These have been proved by experience and will work in any church regardless of personnel and size. We discuss some of these now, before beginning our announced series.

I. Enrollment-Attendance Increases In Proportion To Workers At The Ratio Of 10 To 1.

Almost any Bible school has ten times as many students as teachers. In London, Ontario, we have six teachers. In March, attendance averaged 66 and 61 in April. If we had ten qualified teachers, I am confident that attendance would soon reach 100. In 1959 the Strathmore congregation in Toronto had 18 classes. The average attendance for the year was 191. Today, I understand, they have 21 classes. Their attendance should be averaging at least 210.

This law necessitates at least one teacher for every ten students. Generally speaking more than one teacher for ten students means that the teachers are not adequately fulfilling their responsibilities. With hard work and exceptional effort a church may lift this ratio for a time but usually there is a levelling off at the ratio of 10 to 1.

A few large classes in Bible school are doing a good job. These are the exception rather than the rule. They are usually built around a strong personality or an exceptional teacher. Brother Bill Patterson, editor of Christian Bible Teacher, told of a class of over 100 in a church in Dallas, Texas. This adult class was taught by an outstanding elder in the church. Bro. Patterson felt that this was not the best arrangemen for good teaching. Elmer Towns, a teacher of Christian Education, stated, "Large Sunday School classes provide little growth, little motivation, and few potential Sunday School workers."

Some sub-principles to this law are:

A. Divide and Grow: By reducing this ratio of ten to one a Bible school will usually grow. Thus as possibilities justify it, divide classes, engage new teachers and grow.

B. Teacher Training: Classes should not be divided without having trained teachers to take over the new classes. Training classes should be arranged to train more workers. Some leaders seem to think that the way to grow is to get the students first and then provide the teachers. The better way is to provide trained teachers. This arrangement will get the students.

C. Class Average: The entire Bible school average should be ten students to one class. This will vary with individual classes. Classes of pre - school children probably shouldn't number over ten. Some say five. It is said by exerts that adult classes should not number over twenty-five. Other age groups should be much smaller in enrollment.

II. The Building Sets The Pattern For Growth

It is difficult to have a growing Bible school without teaching space. "A Sunday School takes the shape of the building it occupies." A church with five teaching centers will have difficulty growing beyond fifty in attendance in Bible school; one with ten centers for teaching will not grow much beyond one hundred.

Growth in attendance demands new classrooms or teaching centers. Permanently divided classroms are much better than partially divided areas. Adequate space provided for teaching will greatly help growth. This takes time and money, but is required if we desire to teach more the word of God in Sunday morning classes.

III. Proper Grading Promotes Growth

Grading in Bible school means arranging classes for students of the same age mentally and chronologically, or as near the same age as possible. Grading helps the teacher meet the pupils' real needs. It makes division of classes, a planned curriculum, and promotion much easier. Students will come more readily and learn with keener interest as these items are planned. Putting students, age eight, in the same class with a fourteen year old will not encourage attendance. Grade your pupils according to educational principles and see the results in growth.

IV. Enrolment And Attendance Increase As Visitation Increases

The four laws of growth already mentioned will not operate properly without a good programme of visitation. Visitation by teachers and other workers reveals a spiritual concern for pupils and their parents.

The evangelical denominations have come to realize the value of a good visitation programme in Bible school work as well as in other phases of the church's labour. Many of them are enjoying rapid growth as a result. May we realize the need of calling on people if we would reach them for Christ. Without visitation many will be lost for eternity.

V. Vision A Neccessity For Growth

All of the laws of growth are based on vision and planning ahead. If one believes that attendance increases in proportion to the number of workers at the ratio of 10 to 1 he will use vision in providing training for more workers and in dividing classes to conquer. If one believes that providing teaching space will set the pattern for growth he will use vision in planning more classrooms for growth. If one believes in proper grading and the value of visitation he will make plans with vision to see that these are operating well. "Where there is no vision the people perish" (Prov. 29:18a).

IS FELLOWSHIP BEING PROMOTED?

By J. C. Bailey, Sr.
Mawlai Phudmawri
Shillong, Assam, India

A brother from Lubbock, Texas, writes in part, "Just a few lines to let you know how much I appreciate the articles you write for the Gospel Herald. I especially appreciate the one, "So Am I", in the March, 1963, issue.

"I feel there is more laxity here in the South than you have in Canada (That might be open to question. JCB). We certainly have our problems with the college students about just such things as you mentioned. I am recommending that each of our students read your article.

"Sometimes when you have time, I would like for you to write something about the latest teachings of Carl Ketcherside. I would especially like to have you write about his view of fellowship and his view of acceptable baptism."

Brother Carl Ketcherside and I are good friends. Some years ago we had a very fruitful discussion in Regina, Sask. We met again for several days in Outlook, Sask., this past summer and last winter I attended briefly a meeting at Hartford, Illinois, of which he was chairman. So I know Brother Carl and like him as well as love him. I do not agree with him on a number of points and I am sure he knows it.

From my reading of his writings, I am persuaded that he presents I Corinthians 1:9 in a way that does an injustice to other passages. He makes fellowship equal to brotherhood. He repeatedly tells the story of himself and his brother fighting as boys, but they were still brothers. This is all true up to a point. They were born into the same family. They had fellowship (companionship, comradeship) in a number of ways, including fighting. Brother Ketcherside has only acknowledged in recent years what thousands of us have known all the time — that every scripturally baptized person on earth is our brother in the Lord. We have been called into fellowship, but are we?

Let me illustrate. I was born on September 13, 1903, and I have a sister who was born on May 15, 1905. She is my sister. We should have fellowship, but we do not. Why? Many years ago she departed from the faith and has worshipped with a sectarian body. Her actions almost broke the heart of my father and mother. In all this, where is the companionship or comradeship? Is she my sister? She is. Are we in fellowship? We are not.

We are called into fellowship, true. Some reject the call. We are also called to be saints, sanctified (I Cor. 1:2). Are all Christians saints? God calls to that purpose, but all do not answer that call.

Paul wrote to the brethren in Ephesus: "And have no fellowship with the unfruitful works of darkness but rather even reprove them; for the things which are done by them in secret it is a shame even to speak of" (Eph. 5:11-12). God issued a general call that all brethren should be in fellowship, but with certain he says to have no fellowship. We are not to be their companion or comrade.

God's grace has appeared, to bring salvation to all men (Titus 2:11). Are all men going to be saved? The disbeliever is damned (Mark 16:16). Can you see the parallel? All brethren are called into fellowship, but some do things it is a shame even to speak of. What are we going to do? HAVE NO FELLOWSHIP. God's grace has brought salvation to all men. Will all men be saved? They will not, for the disbeliever is damned.

The Holy Spirit says, "And ye yourselves also know, ye Philippians, that in the beginning of the gospel, when I departed from Macedonia, no church had fellowship with me in the matter of giving and receiving but ye only" (Phil. 4:15). So we learn that in fellowship there is a matter of giving and receiving. Is this always possible between brethren? To ask the question is to answer it.

Again the Holy Spirit says: "Be not unequally yoked with unbelievers: for what fellowship have righteousness and iniquity? or what communion hath light with darkness?" Does iniquity ever exist in the church? How I wish we could say it NEVER does. So when iniquity does exist we can have NO fellowship.

Fellowship is a relative thing: "but if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Jesus his Son cleanseth us from all sin" (I John 1:7). When I quoted this to Brother Ketcherside this past summer, he said that light here meant love. I do know a place in the Bible where light and love are used interchangeably, but I do know that light and God's power and God's word are used interchangeably many times. Let us suppose that we accept the arbitrary definition as given by Brother Ketcherside: it does not help for: "For this is the love of God that we keep his commandments." So if we do not keep the commandments of God, we are not in fellowship.

Time is a good teacher, though not the only one. As I look back over 40 years I have known brethren who took the position Brother Ketcherside now takes. Has the result been satisfactory? It has not, for such people have either gone into the Christian Church, or have died spiritually.

Jesus said to judge a tree by its fruits and the fruit of this tree has been bad, very bad. Those brethren who have stayed away from hobbies on one side and digression on the other are the ones who are making progress today. Why leave this fellowship for one that leads to the shipwreck of many and the stagnation of the church of God?

I realize that this treatise leaves many things to be said on the subject of fellowship but I hope it answers my brother's question. In a later article we shall deal with the subject of "acceptable baptism."

THERE IS NO DIFFERENCE

Submitted by R. A. Clark, Stephenville, Texas

Men may differ in some things, but the things in which they are alike are of far more importance in the divine plan than those things in which they differ. These identities are as deep as life itself.

Physical processes and wants are the same for every person. All men, rich and poor, learned or unlearned, black or white, wise or foolish, breathe, eat, drink, sleep, hunger and thirst. All men are moved to sorrow or gladness by the same emotions. Hope, fear, and love, all play the same kind of music upon the heart string of all mankind. All at last are smitten by the same hand — the hand of death.

The gospel of Christ has to do with the deep seated identities of life, not with the minor or superficial differences. Unlike most other religions known in the world, be it said to the glory of Christianity, it knows no color lines, no age limits, no social barriers. According to the great Founder of the Christian religion, "there is no difference." (Acts 1:8; 15:9; Gal. 3:28.)

I. There is no difference in the begining of physical life: All are begotten by the father and mother according to natural law.

II. There is no difference in the manner by which we reach physical maturity: We eat, drink, sleep, exercise and grow.

III. There is no difference in the fact of sin in our lives: "For all have sinned, and fall short of the glory of God." (Rom. 3:23; 5:12; 1 John 1:8.) Because this is true, all alike stand in need of salvation. Since all have sinned, all are lost.

IV. There is no difference in the fact and measure of God's great love for us: "For God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten son," etc. (John 3:16.) Darken the windows of your house and the sun will send its golden rays against the shutters you have closed. Close your heart against divine love and it will still penetrate to the barrier you have built against it. (Tit. 2:11.)

V. There is no difference in the plan of salvation from our sins and lost condition: for the same conditions of pardon are required of all. The gospel, God's power to save consists of: (1) Facts to be believed. (1 Cor. 15:1-8.); (2) Commands to be obeyed. (Acts 2.38; 17:30.); (3) Promises to be enjoyed. (Acts 2:38b; 5:32; Rom. 6:23.)

VI. There is no difference in the life we must live in order to be acceptable to God: For all must supply the Christian graces. (2 Peter 1:5-7.)

VII. There is no difference in the fact that all must die: For "it is appointed unto men once to die." (Heb. 9:27; Rom. 5:12.)

VIII. There is no difference in the fact that all must stand before the Judge to render account for our stewardship: "So then each one of us give account of himself to God" (Rom. 14:10-12.)

IX. There is no difference in the fact that all shall be raised from the tombs: "Marvel not at this: for the hour cometh, in which all that are in the tombs shall hear his voice, and shall come forth." (John 5:28, 29a.)

But here the identities of men cease and the diversities take the helm; for "they that have done good unto the resurrection of life; and they that have done evil unto the resurrection of judgement"; for to some the Judge shall say, "Come, ye blessed of my father," but to others he shall say, "Depart, ye cursed." (Matt. 25.)

admonition "to keep the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace." (Eph. 4:3).

Ecumenism and compromise seem to be the order of the day. The leaders of Rome are opportunists enough to see that this fluid state of doctrine can be turned to their advantage. Rome has been involved in the business of diplomacy for many years. Her leaders have been trained in the big league of European power politics. She is almost certain to best the bungling attempts of mere amateurs.

This church will make deals with anyone and everyone. Recently American officials were disturbed at a surprising new willingness on the part of the Vatican to negotiate with Communism. Cardinal Bea, chief of the Vatican's Secretariat, is quoted as saying, "The U S is angry now. I'm afraid they will be angrier soon." (Time, April 5, 1963) Lest anyone should say that the Vatican could not enter into any agreement with godless Communists, we remind our leaders that Rome had Concordats with both Hitler and Mussolini. It would be difficult to say whether Kruschev is any more wicked than those two tyrants.

In any dialogue with Rome, it is necessary to understand that her ethics and morality are not based on biblical standards. She has accommodated herself to the principle that "the end justifies the means." Equivocation, probabilism, reservations to truth and outright lying are tolerated if the situation seems to call for such. Her own official writings indict her, e.g. "So that a false statement knowingly made to one who has not a right to the truth will not be a lie." (Cah. Encyclopaedia, Vol. IX, 471) "However we are also under obligation to keep secrets faithfully, and sometimes the easiest way of fulfilling that duty is to say what is false, or to tell a lie." (ibid. Vol. XI, 696).

Charity toward all need not be gullibility toward everything. True Christians will always seek for unity of faith. Such a unity is a means to an end — the glorification of Christ and the salvation of souls. It is not the end that justifies the means.

COMMON COURTESY

At the very beginning of this article, we want to make it clear and plain that the writer does not consider himself to be one that has climbed to the crest in regard to the subject under discussion—courtesy. We all have failings, and certainly there are bound to be times in our lives when, for one reason or another, we neglect to extend acts of courtesy to one another. Also, we need to make it plain just here that by courtesy (at least for the purposes of this article) we do not mean every little detail as outlined by one authority or another, but we have reference to matters of a more "every day", and perhaps more important nature.

The first matter that we would like to call to your attention is so obvious that one would think it would never need mentioning; however, many people have never mastered that simple, yet vital habit of saying "please" and "thank you". A second "crime" that many find themselves guilty of in this vast realm of courtesy is that of failing to keep appointments. We have never been left at the altar, but we have been left at a good many other places, and, without a doubt, such has fallen your lot too! Now and then such violations of the rules of decency are unavoidable, but more times than enough they are the unmistakable fruits of downright discourtesy!

We feel confident that, up to this point the "amens" have been flying thick and fast, but now we reach the next point in our discussion, which is a rule of courtesy that is "trodden under foot of men" perhaps more than any other. As you might have guessed, we are thinking now of the army which no man can number that inconvenience their fellow - men by being late. Here again we must admit that such things are quite often beyond our control, but honesty compels us to confess that carelessness is more frequently the culprit!

But what has prompted us to place an article on a subject such as common courtesy in a religious journal? Quite simply, it is this: We believe that courtesy to our fellowmen is a God-given, God-inspired and God-bound decree! In regard to courtesy in our conversation, hear the word of God; Paul said in Colossians 4:6, "Let your speech always be gracious" (Webster, "esp. kindly and courteous"). This forever binds upon us the proper use of our tongue; and especially here is considered a careful choice of words, for words are merely the garments that clothe our thoughts.

In regard to our conduct, Paul said; "love one another with brotherly affection; outdo one another in showing honor" (Rom. 12:10 RSV). As we seriously consider the matter, we see that it all boils down to one of the most famous statements ever uttered, "So whatever you wish that men would do to you, do so to them; for this is the law and the prophets" (Matt. 7:12 RSV). That great, grand and glorious "golden rule", a pillar and rock to all activity and action, preaches many a sermon, not the least of which is this: "Be fervent and faithful in following the rules of common courtesy."

YOU ARE IMPORTANT

Bethel Bailey, Sudbury, Ont.

Ever since the days of the Greek Philosophers young people have been going to the dogs. They haven't arrived yet, but they are still going. In spite of this assured decline, marvelous advancements have been made, especially during the past few decades. With our eyes set on the moon, we wonder if this generation will leave anything for future generations to discover.

Where, and what will be our limits? Certainly this writer would not be foolish enough to make any rash predictions. In all probability you younger people, who are still going to the dogs by the way, will unveil many wonderful secrets from God's creation. But in all this there are limits. Sometimes we jokingly say that the sky's the limit; well, we are headed that way. This is not our abiding place. It is not eternal. Some day it must all pass away.

What are we trying to say? Just this, we have a good deal of confidence in our Young People. Surely you are facing tremedous problems. Some of them you must pioneer. They didn't exist yesterday. They can corrupt and destroy our nation, but among you will arise great men, great women, who will deal with these problems and disperse them. With your help this world can become just a little more commodious, more glorious; but again we say this is not our abiding place.

Just as the world depends upon her Young People for survival, so the Church must look to her Young People. No, our objective is not the moon, it is heaven at last. While the world battles with the problems of weightlessness, you can trust to a loving Father who has the answer to this problem. If you set your mind on the things that are above, when Christ comes, you will be caught up to meet your Lord in the air. No space suits, no rockets, just the power of God. The Church needs Y O U and it needs you now. Don't wait until you are old and decrepit. The world wouldn't want you then, why should the Lord? We need your vision, your vitality to spur us on in the Master's service.

Book Reviews

Books to be reviewed in this column should be sent to Keith T. Thompson, Box 403, Beamsville, Ont., Canada.

The Zondervan Pictorial Bible Dictionary, Merrill C. Tenney, General Editor (Zondervan Publishing House, Grand Rapids, Mich., 1963, 968 pages, with over 700 photos, charts and drawings and 40 pages of full-color maps, $9.95 (plus 5% in Canada).

The first edition of 35,000 copies of this new Bible Dictionary was sold out two weeks before publication. A second edition of 25,000 copies was recently made available.

The outstanding feature of this volume is in the profuseness of its illustrations. Photographs are found on practically every page. According to Wilbur M. Smith, a recognized authority on religious books it is "without doubt the most elaborately illustrated one-volumn work of this character that has appeared in English."

Sixty - five conservative scholars have contributed the more than 5,000 entries. Long articles are found on such topics as archaeology, the Dead Sea Scrolls, Texts and Versions, Temple, and Israel.

The average reader will gain much help in understanding the Bible from this excellent dictionary. The many beautiful photographs assist greatly in appreciation of the reality of persons, places and objects mentioned in the Bible.

Psalms of David, by David A. Redding (Fleming H. Revell Company, Westwood, N.J. G. R. Welch, Canadian representative, 1963, 174 pages, $3.25, Canadian price).

In the Introduction the author writes, "The Book of Psalms is the word of man to God, the mirror of man's soul in the grip of hell, groping in his helplessness for that helping hand, groping for words in which to put his tears of appreciation when that hand is given . . . Here are the prayers of every man, everywhere, every time; earthbound but heaven-bent, blind, stumbling, feeling his lonely way in the darkness up to God."

We have previously reviewed "The Parables He Told" by this preacher. In this new book he discusses twenty-three psalms in his unique style.

Here are some samples of his scintillating language: "The first word of the first psalm is a beautiful announcement of the idea and the dream of the Book. It was chosen with infinite care. It was, we believe, chosen by God. The word is 'blessed,' a word cursed so long by disbelief and indifference that modern times no longer recognizes it. A 'blessing' has become a cute little thing that a child might recite before supper. It is trite, safe, dead, and laid to rest in our Sunday best; the fresh idea of blessedness has been obliterated in a ministerial slang of 'bless you's.' Everyone says, 'Bless you' nowadays to

GLEANINGS FROM FOREIGN FIELDS

INDIA

As will be noted in another article in this issue, Brother J. C. Bailey has arrived in India and is now working for the Master in that field. His address is "J. C. Bailey, Mawlai Phudmawri, Shillong, Assam, India." This is a change from the temporary address he had in the beginning. Will his correspondents please take note as he informs us postage is very high, and each mis-addressed letter sent costs him 17c.

Sister Bailey and the girls will leave for Shillong in June, the Lord willing, to be followed by Bro. and Sis. Donald Perry and their family, now of Beamsville, Ont., and Bro. David Hallett of Halifax. May all brethren everywhere remember these wonderful Christians in their prayers, that the Lord may be with them and help them in their work. They have volunteered to work in a hard field, but no field is too hard to conquer for the Lord when His help is given. Assam is the far northeastern province of India, just south of the Himalayas, where there was fighting in the recent Indo-Chinese border war.

OKINAWA

Brother Joseph Cannon's mother is settling her affairs in Toronto, Ont., where she has lived for many years, and is going to live with him and his family on the island of Okinawa. Brother Cannon, a worker in Japan and Okinawa more than 15 years, was planning to come home to visit his mother this summer (his father died this past winter) but found transportation costs prohibitive. Instead, his mother made the decision to go to be with her son and his family, and help them as much as possible in their missionary efforts in the Far East.

U.S.A.

The elders of the Highland Church of Christ in Abilene, Texas, have announced the signing of a 52-week contract with short wave radio station WINB in Red Lion, Penn., for weekly gospel broadcasts which will be heard in over 50 nations. Regularly scheduled time for the Sunday broadcast will be 3.30 p.m., Eastern Standard Time, or 2030, Greenwich Meridian Time. The frequency is 17.720.

The program will reach 15 African republics, six Canadian provinces, nine European countries, at least 12 Latin American nations, and many others including the Arctic, Australia, British Isles, Japan, New Zealand, Iceland, the Azores, Bermuda, Malta and the Netherlands Antilles.

Short wave sets are relatively uncommon in North American homes where a variety of radio reception is available on even inexpensive sets but in foreign nations, especially those in which communcations systems are nationalized, short wave set owners depend on them to get unbiased news, free of nationalist propaganda. It is in these countries that the Highland brethren hope to do the most good in getting Bible teaching before people who otherwise may be denied it.

HAWAII

The Wahiawa congregation on the Island of Oahu opened its first house of worship on the first Sunday of April. The seven-year-old church began meeting in a rented store, moved later to a club building, and now for the first time has permanent quarters. The building includes an auditorium seating 176, six classrooms, nursery and restroom facilities, and a baptistry. It is so arranged that the classrooms can be converted to auditorium space when needed, and new classrooms added.

The building is located on the main east-west street in Wahiawa. The congregation is composed of about 80 active members with an average attendance at worship services of about 130. Bro. T. R. Atkinson Jr., is the local preacher.

TAIWAN

Brother Enoch B. Thweatt and his family will leave Taiwan (Formosa) on May 28 to return to the United States after four years' work on the Nationalist Chinese Island.

There are two Chinese congregations and one English-speaking church on Taiwan, and more than 2,000 persons are enrolled in the Bible correspondence course. Major James H. Fry and several other military personnel stationed there in an advisory capacity to the Chinese armed forces will continue the work until another full - time worker arrives.

ISRAEL

Brother and Sister Lee Rotenberry and their four children plan to leave the United States June 14 enroute to Jerusalem where they plan to spend at least six years in missionary work. Brother Ernest O. Stewart is already there, and plans to remain at least three more years, while Bro. Everett Huffard and family of New Mexico will also join the workers in Jerusalem this summer.

In the two years since New Testament Christianity was established in the city of its birth, 46 Arabs and Jews have been baptized into Christ. Small congregations meet in Jerusalem, Joppa, and Galilee.

The Donelson Church of Christ in Nashville, Tenn. will support the Rotenberry family in their work.

BRAZIL

Thirteen persons were baptized into Christ in the city of Sao Paulo during February and March, brethren from the Southwest Church of Christ in that city report.

PAKISTAN

Four persons were baptized into Christ on Sunday morning, March 31, in Karachi, Pakistan, two of them former Moslems. These are the first converts from that religion in Karachi, and Bro. J. C. Choate, who preaches there, feels that an opening has been made which will make it easier to reach other Moslems with the truth of God's Word.

TANGANYIKA

Twelve young men will leave Fort Worth, Texas, next month to spend the next six months engaged in preaching and evangelizing in Tanganyika, East Africa. They will receive no pay for the time they spend there but will have their transportation costs paid by their home congregations or by congregations supporting fulltime workers in Tanganyika: the Oak Lawn, Birdville and Richland Hills churches in Fort Worth, the Park Row church in Arlington, Texas, the Garland Road church in Dallas, and the Mary Ellen and Harvester church in Pampa, Texas.

SIX STEPS FOR THE SAVIOUR IN SALMON ARM, B.C.

by Lynn Anderson

We ask you to pray for us. This spr.ng and summer we have plans for this mission point of 27 members, that can only achieve success with your prayers and God's providential guidance.

FIRST:

A group of students from Harding College is coming to the Okanagan Valley this spr.ng to 'spy out the land' with a view to another effort (similar to EXODUS/Bayshore and TARGET/Canada) for this area. Also they will work with us in a personal work campaign canvassing the entire area to arrange Cottage Meetings and to prepare for our coming Gospel Meetings and V.B.S.

SECOND:

We are now in the midst of an all-out personal evangelism training series with the members here which with God's help will begin to bear fruit by our summer meeting and V.B.S. Though our congregation contains many new in the Faith, all desire to be 'soul winners'.

THIRD:

Bruce Tetreau and family, who spent last summer working with us, shall be back again from June 15 through September 15 to reinforce our soul-winning program, teach in V.B.S. and assist in the summer's preaching. Last year while they were here ten souls were baptized.

FOURTH:

From neighbouring congregations (nearest 320 miles away) fourteen teachers are coming to spend their Vacation here, and teach in a V.B.S. slated for July 8-13. We expect a good school as last year our V.B.S. averaged 128 daily with only eight teachers.

FIFTH:

Brother J. L. May of Lepanto, Ark. will be sent by his congregation to preach in a series of Gospel Meetings July 7-14. This will climax three months of direct preparation. We expect a fruitful meeting as last year eight were baptized during an eight-night series. This year we again have an effective evangelist and will have made more thorough preparations.

SIXTH:

Follow-up after this concentrated effort will be directed toward strengthening new converts and arranging cottage meetings with the fresh contacts that will have been made.

THUS: Pray for us. We are a small congregation, but we have a BIG God And if 'God be for us, who can be against us'.

NEW WORKERS TO CANADA

CLINTON BRAZLE FAMILY

The Clinton Brazle family, Tulsa, Oklahoma, plan to move to North Weyburn, Saskatchewan in Augu.t to assist in evangelizing the area for Christ. The Brookside church where the Brazles have been laboring for the past year will support them. The Airport church at North Weyburn will be responsible for housing. The Brazles are Kansans by birth, but were adopted to Montana where they have labored in the gospel for more than a decade. For several years Brazle was editor of the Montana Vineyard, a quarterly news report of Christian progress in Montana. He now serves as editor of LIVING STONES, a monthly magazine devoted to individual spiritual growth.

Brazle will work with the church meeting on the campus of Western Christian College at North Weyburn. He has previously conducted meetings at Saskatoon, Moose Jaw, Harptree, Radville, Wawota, Brandon and Winnipeg. Goals include the establishment of new congregations, strengthening of existing congregations, stimulating workers for an intensive evangelistic effort through the coming years.

The Brazles have 6 children: Melinda, 15; Marilyn, 13; Mike, 12; Mark, 11; Paul, 8; and Peter, 6.

PLANS FOR THE PAS

Leo Richardson of Moline, Illinois and Roy H. Lanier Jr. of Lakeland, Florida visited The Pas, Manitoba in April to make arrangements for a campaign in July. The purpose was to make definite plans concerning rental of a place to meet, times, advertising, expenses, etc.

The planned meeting is the result of the conversion of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Metzner in Dauphin, Man. during the 1961 summer campaign. Since then they have been transferred to this northern trappers town where they have conducted worship in the home regularly and have invited friends and neighbours to visit.

Eddie Baggett will help in this effort which is being co-ordinated with the "Campaign for Canada" conducted each summer by the Central church in Norman, Oklahoma.

GREAT OPPORTUNITY IN ETHIOPIA

by Carl Thompson

A Church Building For Four Dollars

Lennie, Girma, and I visited two of the congregations established by Ato Shongeh Sadaybo in the Sidamo Province of Ethiopia. The two congregations were about two miles apart. One was called Heeda and the other Kaege. There are five more congregations in Sidamo Province and twenty-two others in the Wolommo Province.

The present building in Heeda, Sidamo Province, which the new building will replace

The Heeda church has a small, round, thatched roofed building for worship. Approximately one hundred souls worship there each Sunday. With their meager means and unlimited energy this congregation has started a new building. The old building has been repaired four times, but the available material is not very durable. The new building will have a corrugated iron roof and will be much larger.

Lennie gave the congregation ten Ethiopian dollars (four U.S. dollars) to help them. Then he learned that this amount would complete the new building with what they already had. The people were rejoicing and we rejoiced with them. It was an experience not soon forgotten.

Number of Possible Ethiopian Christians Rises To 50,000

Some weeks ago I began studying with a young man named Legesse. He is studying at the Lutheran Seminary because he wanted to know more about the Bible but is not satisfied there, for he accepts only the Bible for doctrine and belief. I learned last week that Legesse was a member of an independent church in Kambata Province. At the age of thirteen he was baptized for the remission of sins. His congregation was one of several congregations. They grew to a great number but because of a lack of educated teachers and preachers began to rely on the Sudan Interior Mission. False doctrine began to creep in, and even Legesse was affected. However, he began to study on his own and left the Sudan Mission groups but retained some of the erroneous doctrinal concepts. I have had the great joy of leading him back to the perfect way. Soon he will return to his home to teach and preach to his people. He is enthusiastic about the task before him. He of necessity must be, for there are about two hundred and fifty congregations with over twenty thousand members to lead back to the truth.

Most of these congregations, if not all, remain independent from any mission. They do, however, rely on the Sudan Interior Mission for Bible teaching because they themselves have no tribal teachers. Legesse told me he felt that most of these people would be receptive to the truth. In many ways they resemble the New Testament church. He has a giant task before him.

We need more men to come and teach the Bible. We now have direct contact with seven hundred and thirty congregations and over fifty thousand people. Think of the opportunity for a Bible training school for training teachers and preachers. It is going to take workers, money, and more money to do this. But what an opportunity!

Construction on the mission compound has stopped. This is a serious situation. The buildings are needed to provide proper facilities for our mission project. We are judged by the Ethiopian Government through the progress we are making.

It is not important that a few give much but that many give some. If 2,500 individuals would contribute only $10.00 our needs would be virtually met this month. Won't you do it now? If you wait until "tomorrow" it might not be done. Send your contributions to:

sneezes. Politicians like to sling it around with their handshakes. This is not a disgrace; it is a disaster, for the word 'blessed' is an Atlas that holds a universe of meaning."

"God and gossiping will not go together. God is not at home to any man who 'takes up a reproach against his neighbor.' The cave man had his club and his children shape rapiers from tongues for slower and more delicious torture. Men can form sentences that bring sobs . . . But now hear this: the man or woman who goes about clawing, cutting up good names and brave deeds to ribbons, foaming at the mouth for another's blood and reputation, will never be allowed to come in sight of God this side of penitence."

the tribes, accompanied by native student preachers who will act as guides and interpreters. African brethren will remain in areas where congregations are established to help the young Christians.

The work in Tanganyika began seven years ago with the establishment of a Bible Training School, dedicated to teaching Africans to preach the gospel to their own people. Graduates are now preaching in four countries.

Another work is in Chimala where Brother Andrew Connally and Brother Jerry Mays operate a medical dispensary and orphanage as well as teach and preach the gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ. Brother Mays is a medical doctor.

DAUPHIN REPORT

Since our last report some months ago we had a one week meeting with J C. Bailey. Although we didn't have large crowds, we had visitors each night, several of whom had never attended gospel meetings before. Temperatures were very low at that time. Young Christians were encouraged and all of us were inspired by the Baileys' determination to take the gospel to India.

Brother and Sister Jim Johnson of Osborne St. Winnipeg have come to help us fortnightly since last September. This is a 425 mile trip. Manson brethren come once a month, brethren from there taking turns in coming to encourage us here. Our greatest need is for a permanent worker and his support. We meet in the Elk's Hall, 4th Ave. S.W. at 11 o'clock each Lord's Day. Bible studies are in the members' homes on Wednesday nights.

We are looking forward to Brother and Sister Eldon Mimm from Oklahoma City, Oklahoma to work with us for the summer months. He will return to O.C.C. for more study in the Fall. We also look for brother Gary Burke who has spent two summers with us. These boys have great ability and the Lord blessed their labors last year and we look forward to their return. Brethren from Oklahoma are planning to be with us for a tent meeting and Vacation Bible school again.

We have endeavoured to do almost everything in our power to encourage someone to come and work with us. So few are willing to accept the challenge of a small place. It is not a problem to get a preacher where there is everything to work with but I often wonder if God is pleased when mission points such as ours, just can't progress because brethren lack faith to pioneer and work where conditions are not secure. We all need to sacrifice more to see results each year. This sometimes means making financial, vacation and other plans fit the work of the church as our first obligation.

If we could get support guaranteed, we would get a worker. There is a brother who is interested in the work here, who has a wife and children. We will do all we can, but you can help Dauphin become a strong congregation by your financial suppo.t and by your prayers.

We would welcome visitors who are interested in seeing our possibilities, meeting the congregation here, and visiting our beautiful town. The population is approximately 8,000 and we have two new denominational church buildings being built this summer, - Presbyterian and Lutheran. As well, Roman Catholic, United Church, and Baptist have built recently.

There are lakes and mountains all around. Riding Mountain National Park and beautiful Clear Lake are in this vicinity. Our phone is in the directory.

We feel that we have potential for a strong congregation here but we do solicit your help to get established. A permanent worker is our need. Let us hear from you. Dauphin Church of Christ, Ethel Johnson, Sec., Dauphin, Man.

MITCHELL

The congregation in Calgary has suffered another great loss in the passing of our beloved brother J. A. Mitchell, Lord's Day, April 14 at the age of 82. He came to Calgary from Newfoundland in 1906, and was one of the few associated with the early days of the church in this city.

After his immersion into Christ, he found many opportunities for service in the growing activities of the church around which he seemed to build his life. The crowded funeral parlor paid tribute to the high regard in which he was held in the community.

Brother Mitchell has left behind a host of brethren and friends who will remember him with deep affection. "We say good night here, but good morning, up there."

Services were conducted by brother Charles Littrel, assisted by the writer. A. Weston.

HODGKINS

The angel of death came suddenly to call away the gentle spirit of Ida Norma Hodgkins, of Jordan, Ontario. While confined to the General Hospital, in St. Catharines for a short time, where she underwent surgery, her sudden passing was a great shock to her many friends and loved ones.

Sister Hodgkins had been a member of the Jordan church for years. It was in this little village of Jordan that she was born, married and raised her family. She had the responsibility of the home, since her husband has been in failing health, and is now confined to Sunnybrook Hospital in Toronto.

Sister Hodgkins is survived by her husband, two daughters, Barbara and Annie; one son Clyde, all of Jordan; one brother, Gladson Skinner, Port Robinson.

On the afternoon of May 7th, her many friends in the church and outside the church, gathered at the Tallman Funeral Home, to show their final tribute of love and repect, to the memory of one who had served her family and died in the faith and hope of the Lord.

The interment took place in the Oaklawn Cemetery at Jordan Station. Charles G. McPhee.

FRENCH AD FIRST FOR FRENCH CANADA

What may well be the first non-Catholic teaching ad ever to be placed by any religious group in a newspaper of French-speaking Canada, has been placed by the brethren in Montreal, Quebec. The ad, "Your Bible is Neither Catholic Nor Protestant . . .", was recently run in "La Patrie", a widely circulated French weekly. Members of the newspaper staff expressed belief that this is a milestone for Quebec, for they said they knew of no other French language paper which has carried such an ad. "Certain policies" have been involved. "La Presse", a daily paper, with the same owners as "La Patrie", emphatically turned down a simple Bible correspondence course ad.

The very fact the ad was carried sets a precedent that may have far reaching effects in bringing the gospel to French-speaking Canada. The province of Quebec has a population of 5.2 million, of which 85% are of French Catholic ancestry. Large numbers of French Canadians also live in New Brunswick, Ontario, and Manitoba. As yet, no attempt has been made to establish a French-speaking work in Canada. The English-speaking congregation, meeting in the suburb of Lachine, is the only one in the province.

The ad, which was supplied by brethren in Europe, offered a booklet, "What is the Church of Christ"; a New Testament; and a Bible course of 8 lessons. The response to the ad has far exceeded the expectations of the Montreal brethren, and they are left with greater hopes that a French-speaking work can be started in the near future. Such an effort would require a French-speaking evangelist (or one who would determine to learn the language), who would be willing to accept the challenge of entering a virgin field. The brethren who have observed the latest political and religious trends in Quebec, strongly believe the time could be no better for launching a French-speaking work. Congregations or individuals interested in knowing more about the work in Quebec may write to: Jerry L. Davidson, 760 - 44th. Ave., Lachine, Quebec, Canada.

HOLLAND WORKER SEEKS SUPPORT

Roy Davison is still seeking support for his proposed work in Utrecht, Holland.

Good progress has been made but he still lacks the necessary regular support.

Of $1,400. being raised for travel fund and printing equipment; $1,100. has been raised. Of the $400. needed per month ($300. personal support and $100. working fund); there is promise of $120. per month.

He is presently concentrating his efforts to find a church willing to supply the lacking $300. per month personal support and to be responsible for his work in Holland.

Since leaving Sarnia, Ontario January the first he has contacted over 200 churches and spoken before 35 in Canada, Michigan, Kansas, Texas, Arizona, and California.

Holland is the most densely populated country in the world with 855 people per square mile. Total population is 12 million. Yet, there are only four chruches.

There is urgent need for more preachers throughout the world. "and how shall they preach, except they be sent?" Romans 10:15.

INTO EVERY HOME IN 1963

Allan Bryan

In 1963 it is hoped that every home in the entire brotherhood will begin receiving at least one periodical published by our brethren. At the present time, the total circulation of all such periodicals is less than 250,000 and it is generally estimated that less than 10% of the homes of our brethren receive any periodical written and published by members of the church.

In a recent study in one congregation of less than 100 members, it was found that the total of all secular publications, including professional and business publications taken by men as well as home periodicals going directly into the home, was 240 while only 32 publications by our brethren were taken by all of the members. Is it any wonder today that the secular too often crowds out the spiritual?

If the circulation of all periodicals by our brethren could be doubled or quadrupled in 1963 by placing at least one religious periodical into every home of the brotherhood, the following things would happen:

1. Interest in mission work, local and world-wide, would be multiplied.
2. Thousands of homes would be strengthened spiritually by having family devotions.
3. In all likelihood the entire giving of our brethren would be more than doubled.
4. Children and young people would be encouraged and guided toward a more useful life in Christ Jesus.
5. Interest in all Christian schools would be multiplied and more adequate support for these institutions would be furnished.
6. A greater desire to save souls would be engendered in the hearts of multiplied thousands upon thousands and souls by the thousands would be saved.
7. All orphan homes or homes for the aged supported by the brethren would receive far greater support.
8. Interest in Bible Study, both in organized classes and in Cottage Bible classes would be greatly increased.
9. All elders, deacons, teachers and personal workers would be helped in the great work they are doing.
10. Thousands outside the church will learn for the first time concerning the New Testament church and will be led to become Christians.

To be successful in this campaign, we need the help and support of every elder, every minister, every teacher, every personal worker and every person who loves the Lord and wants to help make the church grow. Let's put a Christian periodical into every home in the brotherhood in 1963.

The Church in BRANDON, MAN. wishes to secure the services of a FULL-TIME PREACHER

TORONTO HOMECOMING

On May 5th., 1963 the Fern Ave. congregation celebrated its 53rd. anniversary with a "Homecoming Day". Some 225 were present at the morning worship hour. In the afternoon 245 came to the "Song Service" conducted by Fred R. Smart, and the Great Lakes Christian College Quartet did a splendid job of song presentation. At night 175 attended with John Justin and Warren Whitelaw speaking. A total of 400 different people attended throughout the day.

Highlighting our activity during the last month, the West-End congregations of Toronto met at Fern Ave. on May 9th. to discuss with Louisville Ky. brethren plans for a 1964 campaign in Metro Toronto. A similar meeting was held May 8th. in the East-End.

Fern Ave. is happy to report the baptisms of three teenagers during the last month and the restoration of one from the Christian church. The Lord has blessed this work with a total of 22 additions during the last 10 months.

Summer plans call for a V.B.S. July 1-5. Also Warren Whitelaw will be at Omagh July 7 to August 3.

WHY IS IT NEWS?

by Ed Bryant

Almost every issue of every Christian periodical we read these days carries news of a new missionary to some foreign land. It is heartening to see such efforts increasing. They need to be doubled and re-doubled, if we are to fulfill our mission to all the world.

The fact that such activity is news, however, should be a matter of some concern to all of us. We are outdistanced, outnumbered, out-financed and out-figured by denominational harbingers of error to such an extent that our missionary activity seems, if not too late, certainly too little. Only those events of an unusual or outstanding nature qualify as news with most media. There should be nothing unusual about going or sending "into all the world". It is, after all, only carrying out the marching orders issued long ago by the Master.

It would be good to see missionary departures become of such routine character as to be simply listed in a department or column of a publication, much in the manner of ship arrivals and departures. This would be the case, if we merely matched the activities of our religious neighbors, at least as far as numbers of missionaries on foreign soil are concerned.

Some are ready to protest, "But they are more numerous than we!" Granted . . . but how did they get that way? Certainly not by simply erecting a fine meeting-house, and then sitting down. Some are content merely to keep house for the Lord in such a place, and regard the building of a meeting-house as the ultimate goal. It is refreshing to note at least one congregation has already made the arrangements necessary to putting a man in the field, but does not yet have a meeting-house of its own. We can argue all day about the methods and practices of our religious neighbors in their missionary activities, but in all honesty, we should face the fact that they have taken the Great Commission seriously and have proceeded into all the world, including their own back yard.

It would be something in our favour if we could say, "Well, at least we have evangelized our own continent in our time!" But we can't even do that. There are still states and provinces in North America that have not heard the gospel of Christ. There are still

THE GREATEST COMMANDMENT

N. H. Bailey, Sault Ste Marie, Ont.

"Which is the greatest commandment?" This question was asked of Jesus by a lawyer representing the Pharisees who sought to try him, when he stood in opposition to their religious activities. There is a lesson for us today in Christ's answer to this question.

The Master gave these men to understand that, although what they did may have been right (Matt. 23:23), unless the proper motive was there, the actions were not acceptable unto God. The proper attitude must motivate our actions in order to make them acceptable unto Him.

Moses chose rather to share ill treatment with the people of God, than to enjoy the pleasures of sin for a season. Abraham believed God and it was reckoned unto him for righteousness. He also showed love unto strangers, in that he entertained angels unawares.

The need for proper motivation exists today, if we are to be acceptable unto God. Is this not the great theme of the New Testament? Does not James refer to this as the Royal Law? (James 2:8-13). In the thirteenth chapter of I Corinthians, the Apostle Paul is very emphatic in his teaching on the need for love behind the action.

If we serve God only because we feel that we must, this is not enough. We must do it because we want. The same applies in our dealings with our fellow man. The how, why, and what we do in human

THE PROBLEM OF EVIL

(PART II)

Dale Foster, Nanaimo, B. C.

It is sometime said by unbelievers that the whole problem of evil is an artificial one, created by the false premise that there is a God. It is true that evil is more harmonious with atheism, but those who make this assertion are in error anyway. The proof for a Divine Being is too overwhelming for them to have their way with this proposition.

The fact that there is some limitation with God concerning moral evil is admitted by all who study the problem seriously, but the only question is where the limitation begins. To be Almighty is not to be able to do things which, by the very nature of the case, are incapable of performance. The moral inability may be seen by these words: "It is impossible for God to lie". Most philosophers hold that God is limited by the conditions of goodness; this may be the best possible world, but it is the only kind of world that is consistent with the Purpose behind the world. God doesn't want anyone to sin, but man sins of his own free will.

This brings up the next problem: human freedom and evil. A theistic theory of the universe which affirms the divine creative activity, in so doing asserts a responsibility on the part of God for the world he has created. Thus, God created men who sin, and this makes God responsible for the sin. As already stated above, man does not have to sin. This is the Christian paradox of sin: he is to blame for it, but he cannot heal it; God did not cause it, but he can forgive and ove come it.

There are, at least, two meanings for freedom: (1) the harmonious realization of the good in human character; and (2) the freedom of choice and the meaning which attaches to it. Two theories spring from these definitions. One of them is determinism. This theory holds that man is really nothing more than a machine, though, those who hold to this theory would not admit it. If this theory is true, man is no more responsible for his deeds, good or bad, than he is his appearance. "Hard determinism", as this theory is called, "makes the personal consciousness of freedom utterly inexplicable, and it is condemned by its failure to comprehend the indispensable part played by the self in all volition."

The second theory is a milder form of determinism. According to this theory man is completely free to do and choose as he pleases. The key to the theory seems to be that man reveals his character every time he makes a choice. It's hard to see why this theory is dubbed determinism, though in a lighter vein, since, in reality, it seems to be nothing but "plain, old" freedom.

Freedom cannot mean the liberty of indifference, for a will that is indifferent to values, and can as readily will the good as the bad, would not be a moral will. One writer points out that there is very little evil in the animal world, but it is with man that the difficult problem arises since he is personal and the animals are not. "Evil is the price we pay for moral freedom."

Optimism is, in a sense, implicit in theism. The more perfect we can conceive God to be, the less evil can be attributed to him, and the more optimistic man will, or can, become. "Man is by nature good, and only by some perversion has become evil. The evil may be attributed to some foreign agency: to the drag of matter or the temptation of an evil spirit, itself mysteriously fallen, or to some chance cosmical disequilibrium; but man's proper nature is good, or, at least, innocent."

In the eighteenth century "the philosophical optimist frankly recognized the reality of evil, as well as its wide distribution, but the point was that the world contained the proper amount of evil." This, along with the idea that this is the best of all possible worlds, seems to be one of the strongest answers to the problem of evil today. If this optimism is ever once lost, the world will be in a pitiable shape, indeed! Human life is far from what it ought to be, but it seems to be growing better, and though evil does not disappear, it stands out in sharper contrast to the good.

Pessimism is the philosophy which says that existence is determined by disvalue; evil is supreme and every apparent good is either unreal or is instrumental to evil. If pessimism is to justify itself as a theory of life, it must rest, not on a temperamental and impressionist picture of experience, but on a philosophic basis. It was Schopenhauer's undertaking to do this by working out an elaborate system, but he failed as have others. In opposition to optimism, pessimism is so far from conceiving this as the best of all possble worlds that it describes the world as so bad that no world would have been better. Pessimism knows no creator whom it can hold responsible for evil, nor any sovereign through whose benevolence or wisdom it can be removed.

The trouble with pessimism is that it is too subjective. Pessimism depends on the mood of the person, and if the mood is one of sorrow or grief even the optimist becomes for a time being a pessismist and finds life unprofitable. "On the whole the case for pessimism must be judged to break down: the evils of life are balanced by goods, and there are possibilities of greater good as the reward of loyal endeavor."

Many solutions to the problem of evil have been offered, and now a few of them will be considered and evaluated. The first "solution" to be considered is that suffering is punishment for moral evil, or sin. This view is not logically impossible and is widely held. One author rejects this theory on three accounts: "(1) it does not account for the sin; (2) it is not in accordance with observed phenomena; and (3) it is not consistent with the goodness of God." The book of Job and Jesus (Jno. 9:3) reject this "solution" to which so many hold.

Another widely held "solution" is that evil may be regarded as disciplinary. The purpose of evil, then, would be to reform or to test, or to elicit "rugged individualism" or social responsibility, rather than to

ACCEPTABLE BAPTISM

J. C. Bailey, Sr.
Mawlia, Phudmawri
Shillong, Assam, India

The brother who asked me to comment on Brother Ketcherside's views on fellowship also asked me to comment on his views on baptism. Since the question of Acceptable Baptism is one that has no isolated bearing on Brother Ketcherside's present position, I shall write about the question in a general way and not as it deals with Brother Ketcherside's position in particular.

The question of Acceptable Baptism occupied the thinking of the brotherhood when I was a young preacher forty years ago. Thinking on the question has largely crystallized, but not entirely so. We have no human law-making body to say, "This you shall accept as the truth." As long as our knowledge of the Divine Will is not as complete as our brother's, we shall not "see alike" entirely. As saints are perfected through "Divine knowledge", we come individually to the "unity of the faith." God's will is perfect. The faith has been delivered once for all. It is simply that we have failed often to grasp the truth on a given subject.

If we can add something in this article that will help someone to come to a fuller knowledge of the Word of God, we shall have succeeded, for "we have this treasure in earthen vessels."

The word "baptize" means to immerse. There is no man that could be rated as a scholar who would deny this. There is not a Greek-English lexicon extant, that does not give the meaning of "immerse" or its equivalent for this New Testament word. In religious circles, we hear people talk of "modes" of baptism. You never read in your Bible about a "mode" of baptism. I have heard my brethren say, sometimes carelessly, "Immersion is the Scriptural mode of baptism." That is not true. Immersion is baptism and not merely a mode of it. If there is no such thing as immersion being a mode of baptism, how much less authority there is for so designating sprinkling and pouring.

The act of baptism is immersion. Remember we have been speaking of the actual meaning of the word. We have not been dealing specifically with the Scriptural use of the word. Webster says: "Faith is the belief of testimony." The word in the New Testament usage bears out the root meaning. The question is what testimony are we to believe? We suggest that the following Scriptures show that baptism is immersion: John 3:23; Acts 8:38, 39; Romans 6:3, 4; Colossians 2:12; and Ephesians 5:26. I do not mean that this list is exhaustive, but it is sufficient.

Who Should Be Baptized?

Jesus said that the believer should be baptized (Mark 16:16). It will not make any difference whether you immerse the unbeliever or pour a little water on his head. He has not obeyed the Lord unless he is a believer. The sprinkling or pouring of water on a baby's head, with the thought that such a person has been scripturally baptized is a travesty indeed.

It is taught by some that the children of believers are subject to baptism in infancy. There is nothing in all the Scriptures that distantly resembles such an idea. Jesus made the matter personal, not collective, when he said: "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved."

Many good people have been deceived into thinking that they were baptized when they were babies and that action is sufficient. More than once I have had people tell me that they would be baptized, if they had not been baptized once already. They pointed to the Bible statement "there is one baptism." I could not persuade them that they had no part or parcel in the one baptism. They had accepted a substitute for the genuine article.

It is true that the Bible says, "there is . . . one baptism" (Eph. 4:5). This does not mean that one does not need to obey the Lord if one has not done so (even though he may have been immersed). We have proof of this in Acts 19:1-7. Twelve men had been baptized previously. They had been baptized with John's baptism. This baptism of John was in its proper time ordained of God. However, Christ now has all authority (Matt. 28:18) and the baptism now in force is "in the name of (that is by the authority of) the Lord Jesus Christ. (Acts 2:38).

There is one baptism. It is not John's baptism, but Christ's. If the immersion as practised by John will not do under the New Testament, how much less would sprinkling or pouring be acceptable. They bear only the imprint of man.

I would like to return to the fact that Jesus authorized "believer's baptism. What are we to believe? Jesus said that we are to believe the Gospel. Should any be immersed who have not believed the Gospel? I do not believe such baptism is valid before God.

In 1914, when I obeyed the Gospel, I believed that Jesus Christ was God's resurrected Son. That faith has grown much since that time, but it is the same faith.

Baptism not preceded by faith in the resurrected Christ is not the one baptism. Any one that has submitted to such a baptism has not obeyed the Lord. Let me give you an example: The so-called Jehovah's Witnesses teach, "the man Jesus must remain dead forever." Paul wrote " . . . by man came also the resurrection of the dead" (1 Cor. 1:21). Thus they are not believers in the Gospel. They, with that faith, could not obey the command to be baptized.

(We shall continue our study next month).

WHEN WILL THE APPEALS CEASE?

Any active member of the Lord's church knows that the number of appeals from mission fields, financially weak congregations, and Christian schools has increased ten-fold in a decade. Some find this constant clamour for money embarrassing. Others find it distasteful. When will such appeals cease?

Before answering the question, we should ask another one. Is the increased tempo of fund-raising a sign of strength or weakness in the church? If it is a sign of weakness, the sooner such appeals should cease the better. On the other hand, if an increased need for finances is a sign of life and vigour, may the pace increase a thousand-fold in our generation.

We believe that the appeals for money are an index to a new missionary zeal among the Lord's people. They also reflect a desire to accomplish various objectives methodically rather than by chance and immediately rather than "some day". The Lord said that "the sons of this world are for their own generation wiser than the sons of light". His words could have been a comparison between the activity of denominationalism and that of faithful Christians in most of this century. Now we are awakening to the need for planning. We see the need for doing things in force. This takes money.

When will the appeals cease? They will cease when and if the church goes into lethargy and apathy. If zeal dies, missions will seem unnecessary. Without a missionary vision and program, congregations could settle back and enjoy a quiet existence without strenuous demands. The Great Commission, found in Matthew, Mark and Luke, could be pruned of its command to go. Perhaps the commands to teach and baptize could also be made to seem optional. The whole commission of the Master would then become a dead letter.

As long as men and women are called in increasing numbers to new fields, the appeals will increase in proportion or beyond proportion. When several Canadians made decisions to enter India recently, they gave to the Canadian churches new responsibilities. When several new congregations were begun in various cities in the last few years, new appeals were born for buildings and support. Churches that have participated in these efforts have not suffered, but have prospered.

Sometimes help is refused when it could be given. At other times the one making the appeal is treated in a condescending manner by churches or individuals as they render meagre assistance. The visitor is treated as one who asks a favour for his own advantage. The truth of the matter is that the person making the appeal for any worthy cause is rendering his hearers a favour and offering a privilege. He offers the privilege of fellowship in a brave endeavour of faith. He allows thousands to share his hopes and fears as he establishes new beachheads for Christ in the world. He does not ask for sympathy. His desire is for understanding and fellowship in accomplishing his work.

When will the appeals cease? There are some who believe that the answer to this question can be given by a centralization of authority and organization. They reason that appeals should not be made to congregations directly by missionaries. They would seek to reduce the number of appeals by establishing missionary boards and societies through which all requests could be channelled. Likewise, through these channels all funds could be dispensed to meet the needs. Such urgings may sound plausible and desirable at first, but are based on specious reasoning and are inherently dangerous.

In the first place there is no provision in Scripture for such a removal of responsibility from churches in this matter of sending and supporting preachers. One ought to be careful not to be as exacting as some have sought to be in limiting their freedom in regard to methods. On the other hand, it will not do to argue that the end justi-

TEACHING GOD'S WORD

TEACHING ADULTS I

H. Ralph Perry, London, Ontario

We know that effective teaching of adults the word of God is important. The church could easily be destroyed if its membership does not know and apply the Bible message. (Hosea 4: 6; Eph. 4: 13-14). Yet those who study the church's teaching programme state that generally adult teaching in the church is ineffective and neglected. In a series of articles, beginning with this one, I will discuss this problem and try to offer some suggestions for improvements. Comments and constructive criticism are invited as I am not an expert on teaching adults.

Typical Adult Class

A few years ago Bro. Roy Osborne, a graduate psychologist and marriage counsellor, who now preaches in San Francisco, California, gave a lecture in Toronto on teaching the Bible to adults. Adult teaching is his special field and the programme of adult study where he preached was unique. Testing, grading and placing adults in classes according to knowledge and ability was a big part of the effective plan. (There is dynamite here unless handled wisely). Amongst other things he gave the following description of an average adult Bible class on an average Sunday morning:

The adult teacher arrives a few minutes late. He picks up a Bible from the front pew and quickly turns to the portion of Scripture being studied. He asks the class:

"At what verse did we leave off last Sunday?"

Some hazy discussion follows which reveals lack of participation and preparation on the part of the class and teacher. Finally it is decided that they left off at verse twenty-six.

"Bro. Green would you please read verse twenty-seven," asks the teacher. Bro. Green mumbles through the verse after having difficulty locating it. He never learned to read in the first place.

"Does anyone wish to comment on this verse?" Silence follows.

"Bro. Jones, what does the verse mean?"

"It means what it says," replies Bro. Jones.

The lesson then moves on to the next verse.

Bro. Osborne stated that learning is less than nil here. People are actually turned away from attending Bible classes because of such teaching. Many conclude that Bible school is for children and thus stay away. Really this is an escape mechanism to get away from boredom.

If learning is nil, or worse, then it follows that teaching is nil as well. The teacher has not taught unless the pupil has learned.

I trust that the above description and comments are not typical of our adult classes. However, we must realize that much of our adult teaching is not producing knowledge of God's word nor changed lives in adult church members. We need to do something about this as adults are very important.

Adults Are Important

1. Because there are so many of them.

Much of the adult population is not reached by the gospel. Many church members are not reached with a live teaching programme to help them grow spiritually. Average Bible school attendance figures for large churches reveals this. One church boasted that its Bible school attendance averaged the same as the number of church members. A quick examination reveals that many in Bible school are young children. This means that many church members are not present. Another large church with about 700 members usually has between four and six hundred in Bible school. Again we see that many adults are not present for Bible study. I wonder if the smaller Canadian churches average any better than these?

2. Because from adult classes come the teachers, workers, and church leaders.

Teaching adults is helping in the development of devoted teachers, effective personal workers, and consecrated leaders. What a challenge for the adult teachers!

3. Because the economy of the church depends on them.

A church will grow and sound out the good news of salvation to the extent that adults see the importance of the church's programme of evangelism and back it financially. Young people who are still students cannot back this programme with money. Adults with jobs and steady income must. A great challenge faces the adult teacher in helping his students see their stewardship responsibilities.

4. Because they make up the greatest force of evangelism.

The pulpit with a dedicated membership is not going to be very effective. Adults go directly where people are in offices, classrooms, factories, and other places. They must make the cause of Christ known. Through life, the use of tracts, and personal work they should be evangelizing for Christ.

5. Because they are the direct line of influence for Christian living.

In the home, in the neighbourhood, at recreation, as well as at work, adults are leaving a definite influence. Christian adults should be so taught that this influence would be for righteous living.

6. Because they have souls to be saved.

Every adult is important because he has a never-dying soul to save. This should not be neglected for Christ died for each one.

May we realize that teaching adults is important. Teaching adults is a privilege as the teacher assists in leading groping souls to a fuller knowlege of Christ and to maturity in Him. Teaching adults is a challenge as about ninety-five percent of them are defeated. Their vision, aspirations and dreams have been shattered. They are used to listening and not doing. It is a challenge to lead them into full commitment for Christ. Teaching adults is rewarding as the teacher sees the student become interested in the word, become thrilled in discovering truth, and become a changed person in Christ, dedicated to his cause and leading others to salvation.

WHY IS IT NEWS?

people living in darkness and sin right under our noses who will verily be lost for our failure to reach them with the life-giving message. That they can be reached with a religious message has already been demonstrated by the purveyors of error. They haven't learned the truth because we haven't taught them.

There can be no substitute for personal contact. If we are to reach people with the truth, we have to carry it to them. As powerful as is the printed page, as far-reaching as is the radio, as challenging as is the television, they cannot compare with the impact of one soul, teaching another, in love. It has been said that we are not ready to go into all the world if we are not prepared to go across the street.

We would not argue for purely local evangelism to the exclusion of foreign effort, for this would be going to a dangerous extreme. Both areas are already woefully neglected, and this fact is reflected in the current cries of alarm over the preacher shortage.

Each local congregation of the Lord's church should be in a position to supply men who have been thoroughly rooted and grounded in the faith, and motivated to devote their lifetime to the preaching and teaching of God's word. We are, by example, teaching our prospective preachers that full-time preaching is not so important, after all. The fact is that you cannot train too many young men to preach and teach. They are already sorely needed, and if you had supplied them yesterday, you would have been late. It is small comfort to note that the preacher shortage extends over into the other religious bodies. The Lord's cause demands and deserves the very best men we can put into the field, whether at home or abroad.

Our Christian schools are helping to train and motivate our young men to full-time work. But they are not "preacher factories". The number of young men emerging from Christian colleges to go into full-time ministerial work is pitifully small compared to the number who are actually leaving such work for material gain. The schools can only educate, train, suggest and point. Their primary purpose is to offer academic education in a Christian atmosphere.

Preacher training, moreover, begins at home, at very early age. The parental power of suggestion is often under-rated. We say we want our boys to grow up to become gospel preachers, and our daughters to grow up to marry gospel preachers, but we wait to see what they will do about it rather than trying to influence them in that direction. The church needs all the dedicated Christians it can get. The preacher is not the only one in short supply.

We hope we can see the day when the sending of a missionary overseas will NOT be news. We would much prefer a situation in which one day's failure to send someone would be front-page news. Can't you see the headline? NOT A SINGLE MISSIONARY TO A FOREIGN LAND LEFT OUR SHORES TODAY. And in the story itself . . . "For the first time in over 500 days, not a single missionary for the church of Christ departed for foreign soil today. For the past 500 days the steady stream of Christian workers bound for overseas destinations has continued unbroken, and may have done so indefinitely, had it not been for recent shipping tie-ups, due to be cleared soon . ." The story, of course, is imaginary, but it could be true.

THE GREATEST

relations must be governed by love.

We hear talk in the church today of apostasy and one congregation accuses another of forsaking the principles found in the New Testament. I do not believe that this is the big danger in the church today. Why? Because the church has grown beyond that stage in knowledge and understanding of God's Word. On the other hand, hobby-riders come and go, but the church weathers their efforts without leaving too many battle scars.

I believe that there is a greater danger that we should forget God's greatest commandment. Let us read carefully a passage from the third chapter of Colossians: "If ye be raised together with Christ . . . put them all away (that is evil habits) . . . put on therefore as God's elect . . . above all things put on love which is the bond of perfectness."

Yes, I believe that the most dangerous thing that could happen to the church or to the individuals in it, is for them to fail to develop as loving individuals or a loving church.

HERE AND THERE

"Actually, there is not a line of reference in the New Testament relative to church buildings. They are built on inferences and rightly so. The heart of the individual is God's sanctuary. He dwells in His people, not in 'temples made with hands'."

ELDERS AT OAKRIDGE

On May 19th, the Oakridge congregation in Vancouver appointed four men, Alex Clelland, Wilf Clelland, Art Farnden and Deed Saunders, to the eldership. This would not be uncommon in many places but in Vancouver it was noteworthy as the church had met for fifty years without having elders.

The appointment of these men culminates a five - year program of training. During the past few months the congregation looked within and put forth the names of these men. After careful and prayerful consideration, and sermons on the subject, they were approved by the congregation.

In the Sunday morning service, Bro. Marshall gave to them a scriptural charge. Each man accepted and stepped to the pulpit to give a short message of acceptance. Their ordination was followed by a sermon by Bro Marshall in four parts; to the eldlers, their wives, their children, and the congregation.

WHEN WILL THE APPEALS

fies the means. This would make any means to accomplish the end acceptable. Congregations may vary in their ways of supporting a good work, but they should never drift into a method that would leave them with an impersonal detachment in the matter or responsibility.

As the church grows, it is going to become increasingly difficult to know which appeals are legitimate. At times it may become difficult even for those who are engaged in soliciting funds for some work to know the full story of the need involved. The more direct the relations of the dispenser of funds to the recipient, the less danger of abuses in matters of finance.

We believe that these difficulties and the occasional misdirection of money need not make us cynical nor reluctant toward other appeals. Elders, preachers and interested brethren should keep abreast of that which is being done in other areas. An informed brotherhood will be the most efficient safeguard against abuses.

Brethren, if the Lord tarries, we are going to see a profusion of appeals for missions such as we have never seen before. If they should cease, you can be assured that the church has gone either into apathy or apostasy. These amount to the same thing in the long run. As new works are begun at home and abroad, money will be found if the Cross of Christ can be made to replace the dollar sign in the hearts of God's people.

If you are a Christian in a well-established congregation, remember that some one is doing the "going" in place of you. As some one has aptly phrased the matter, "If you cannot go across, come across!"

THE PROBLEM OF EVIL

allot sufferings in accordance with deserts. On account of the origin and essential quality of moral evil as the revolt of the personal will against the sovereignty under which it was constituted to live, it cannot be described as disciplinary, but only as absolute and unrelieved evil. A rational and good disciplinary end is very far from accounting for the empirical character of the evils and their frequent maladjustment to the ends they are supposed to serve.

A third "solution" is that moral evils may be explained as a result of freedom. The problem was how to make God responsible for the sin in the world, and the solution was a metaphysical act by which man changed the nature with which he had been gifted at first. Freedom explains much of moral evil, but it does not explain either the force of temptation or the debasing consequences of moral evil. These three "solutions" are ones that are most often advanced by theologians, but there are many more which have been offered by philosophers.

One other solution that deserves mention is the answer of child like faith. For those who sincerely believe in God there may be no other answer. This is the only suitable "solution" we learn from Job. Isn't the Christian religion based on faith and is it posible to please God without faith? This is not the easy way out, but it is the Christian way out! Read and accept Romans 8:28.

IS IT RIGHT?

Ed Bryant, Toronto, Ontario

Many of the questions brought to gospel preachers by young people begin with the three words, "Is it all right . . .?" The questions cover many areas of interest to young people, but are most concerned with various amusements available today. Youth wants to know what is acceptable and what is not in the way of amusement and entertainment.

Sometimes the motive behind the question becomes apparent in the attitude of the one doing the asking. There is no lack of teaching, generally speaking, as to what is right and what is wrong, and youth is usually sharp enough to grasp what the old folks mean. Questions often are brought from a desire to rationalize what has been taught so that it becomes broad enough to cover the things young people would LIKE to do. It is thus perhaps legitimate to ask in reply, "Why do you want to know? Is it simply to confirm what your parents have taught you? Or is it in order to hear something different from the answers you have already received? Are you seeking an ally in some mischief you are planning?"

If you are in the majority of those who really want to know how to plan your amusements and entertainments so that they will be acceptable not only to your parents, but also to our Lord, your quest is at an end. There is a simple test which you can apply to any area of activity in deciding whether or not it is all right for you to engage in. Here it is:

How To Test Amusements

1. Do they rest and strengthen, or weary and weaken, my body and brain?
2. Do they make resistance to temptation easier or harder for me?
3. Do they increase or lessen my love for virtue, purity, temperance or justice?
4. Do they give me inspiration and quicken my enthusiasm, or stupefy my intellect and harden my moral nature?

—20th Century Christian, March, 1950

There is an even simpler rule of thumb that will stand you in good stead many times. It is best illustrated by the story of the young man who was to speak in a distant city. In packing his suitcase, he discovered hanging in the closet a shirt he had only worn once. Undecided as to whether he could get away with wearing it again, he called to his mother: "Hey, Mom! Do you think this shirt is too dirty to wear again?" "Yes!" was her instant reply. Puzzled, he called again, "Now, how did you know? You didn't even look!" "Well, if you have to ask, then it's too dirty!" So it should be with any amusement or entertainment. If there is any question about it in your mind, then it is best to leave it alone. There is a real possibility you will be thought of by some as a "square" or a "kook", but whose opinion do you desire the most, theirs, or God's? And whose will count most in the judgment?

FAILURE

Max Craddock, Port Colborne, Ont.

As we go through this life here below, we are made sad when we see one who has made a failure in life. Many people fail to provide a living for their family. There are many reasons why people fail in this life. Sometimes, however, they fail just because they are too lazy to succeed. In earthly things the person who fails from the lack of interest and desire is indeed a miserable lump of humanity. So for this reason I feel that we would not be amiss at this time to encourage you young people to start today to prepare yourselves for your stay here below. Set for yourselves certain goals in earthly things so as not to fail yourself and those who will depend upon you.

Now let me turn your minds to the spiritual rather than the physical. It is far worse to fail spiritually than it is physically. In the 16th chapter of Luke we read of two men, one who was a physical failure, one who was a spiritual failure. In verses 19 and 20 we read: "There was a certain rich man, which was clothed in purple and fine linen, and fared sumptously every day: And there was a certain beggar named Lazarus, which was laid at his gate, full of sores."

In the preceeding verses we note the contrasting standings of each of our main characters. One, the rich man, seems to have had every thing his heart could desire in the life before death. The beggar, on the other hand, sickly and full of sores. I'm sure that in our way of thinking this beggar was an extreme failure.

However, after death it is a different story. Reading verses 22, 23: "And it came to pass, that the beggar died, and was carried by the angels into Abraham's bosom: the rich man also died, and was buried; And in hell he lifted up his eyes, being in torments, and seeth Abraham afar off, and Lazarus in his bosom." Here then we see the state of each after death. Lazarus, who was a failure in his physical life, is now enjoying the pleasures found in Abraham's bosom. This man who had to ask for help on earth is now the one who is in a position to be asked for favors.

Notice verse 24: "And he cried and said, Father Abraham, have mercy on me, and send Lazarus, that he may dip the tip of his finger in water, and cool my tongue; for I am tormented in this flame." The man who fared so sumptuously in his physical life was now receiving the evil (bad) things in eternity.

Young people, it is important to try to not be a failure in this life.

Catholicism Against Itself (Abridged Edition) by O. C. Lambert, Fair Haven Publishers, Winfield, Alabama, 1963, 133 pages, paperback, 60c.

This is without a doubt the best value in a book of this type available today. The cloth bound edition sold for $4.00. This abridged edition is being offered considerably below the cost of production, thanks to the contributions of interested brethren.

The book is largely made up of quotations from official Catholic books, with the names and page numbers cited. Thus Catholics cannot say that the things stated in this book were invented by bigoted anti-Catholics.

The author has spent nearly half a century in extensive research on Catholicism and has accumulated a library of official Catholic books, valued at $15,000. He has lectured on Catholicism all over the United States and a part of Canada. He has frequently challenged leading Catholic Bishops to discuss the charges made in his book in public debate; but not one has ever accepted.

This book is so reasonably priced that churches or individuals could order a number for free distribution.

Open Your Bible to the New Testament Letters by Sherwood E. Wirt, Fleming H. Revell, Publishers (In Canada: G. R. Welch Co., Ltd., Toronto), 128 pages, $2.75.

This is a paraphrase of the New Testament Epistles — Romans through Jude. The author condenses each unit of thought in easily understood modern language.

Each letter is preceded by a brief introduction such as the following:

The Letter to the ROMANS.
The author The apostle Paul
Where written In Corinth, a city of Greece
To whom written The Christian church of Rome
When written About A.D. 58
Why written To strengthen the church's faith by clarifying a basic issue: How can a sinful man become righteous in the sight of a holy God?

Here is a sample of the actual paraphrase of James 1:19-27: BE DOERS AND NOT HEARERS ONLY Read 1:19-27.

Welcome that implanted word meekly, brethren, for it is able to save your souls. Become doers of God's word and not hearers only, for this is the true law of freedom. Don't try to impress people with your religiosity. Do you know what religion is? It is cleaning up your own personal lives, and helping the victims of society out of their difficulties.

The author is an associate of Billy Graham and some of his comments reflect his denominational position.

GLEANINGS FROM FOREIGN FIELDS

SINGAPORE

Twelve persons were baptized into Christ during a gospel meeting recently completed in Singapore, Malaya, with Bro. Bob Davidson of Bangkok, Thailand doing the preaching. Bro. Davidson arrived in Singapore Saturday night, baptized three correspondence course students Sunday morning, and three more correspondence course students the following night. Then the following week, the 79-year-old grandmother of one of the members was baptized. This aged woman had been a Buddhist all her life and had reared all her family in Buddhism. She was a great leader in her community and a number of Buddhists came to the church building to see her put on Christ in baptism.

BRAZIL

During February and March, 13 persons were baptized into Christ in Sao Paulo, Brazil.

SCOTLAND

Bro. and Sister Robert Johnston have returned to Scotland after living in Canada for some years, and are now living and working with the church in Glasgow where Bro. Jerry Porter preaches.

The Glasgow congregation is presently meeting in a school building but is making preparations for erecting their own meeting house on a lot purchased last year. There have been 37 baptisms there in the past year.

GERMANY

The Brainerd Church of Christ in Chattanooga, Tenn., will support Bro. and Sis. Robert Morris in their proposed mission work in Karlsruhe, Germany. They and their three sons planned to leave the United States for Germany in June. Brother Morris has been working as educational director for the Highland Church of Christ in Montgomery, Alabama.

KENYA

Though there are at present no known congregations of the church in Kenya, newly-independent republic in what was formerly British East Africa, three young men from Kenya have been baptized by Bro. Lennie Darden in Addis Ababa, Ethiopia.

All three had come to study at the University College in Addis Ababa, but when they arrived they found that the promised scholarships had not been arranged for them in Addis Ababa, but it was expected instead that they should go to Moscow to study at "Friendship University." All three refused.

They finally accepted scholarships in Belgrade, Yukoslavia, and are studying there now. All plan to return to Kenya to work, and all have been writing to their relatives about Christianity, resulting in Brother Darden receiving a number of inquiring letters from Kenyans. Recently, a fourth has been baptized in Addis Ababa.

Surely the Lord has opened a door to this East African country, using a situation brought about by godless Communism to bring these young men into contact with Christian preachers.

PUERTO RICO

After five years of work in San Juan, Puerto Rico, Bro. and Sis. Harlan Overton and their three young sons plan to return to the United States this summer. He will continue to work among Spanish-speaking people in the United States and plans to prepare some Bible class material in the Spanish language while working with the Sunset church in Dallas, Texas. This congregation has supported his work in Puerto Rico.

Bro. and Sis. L. H. Mathis were to arrive in Puerto Rico to take up his work before the Overtons left.

GREECE

Brother George C. Dumas was to arrive in Athens, Greece, to begin working with small congregation there by the end of June. Before the Summer is over other families plan to join him: the Robert Careys of Buena Park, Calif., and the Orlan Millers of Laurel, Miss.

Bro. Duman will be supported by the church in Andrews, Texas; and the Careys by the Sun Valley, Calif., church. The Millers have not yet made full arrangements for their support but the Sixth and Maple church in Little Rock, Ark., is receiving funds for them.

Bro. Robert Frederick of Houston, Tex., stationed in Athens with the United States military services, reports that about 30 persons are meeting weekly for worship together in Athens. Bro. Rene Chemeaux-Repond, who was converted in Germany and later attended university in the United States, is currently preaching for the Athens church.

SOUTH AFRICA

Four have been baptized and two restored by Bro. Brian van der Spuy in a new work in Stilfontein, South Africa. Recent discovery of gold in the area has brought about a population boom and is expanding opportunities for the church, Bro. van der Spuy reports.

CUBA

New reports coming from Cuban brethren are that the church has continued to make good progress despite the Communist regime. It has been difficult for supporting churches to send money into Cuba but Bro. Ernesto Estevez has continued to be in correspondence with American brethren.

WEDDINGS

MACDONALD — WETTSTEIN

Marvin MacDonald now of Freed-Hardeman College, Henderson, Tennessee and Ursula Wettstein of New Toronto were united in marriage at the Fern Avenue meeting house on June 15. Brother Warren Whitelaw conducted the ceremony.

The couple will reside in Tennessee until brother MacDonald completes his schooling after which he is expected to return to Canada to preach.

SMITH — COX

Harold Smith of the Tintern congregation and Joan Cox of Beamsville were united in marriage at the Beamsville church building on June 23rd. Bert Thompson of Kingston was on hand to perform the ceremony.

The couple will live in Fenwick.

HERE AND THERE

Cleveland, Ohio, West Side: Recent bulletins indicate three baptized, one restored and one by member ship under the labours of Leslie Grant here. V.B.S. is planned for August 5-9 evenings.

AN ELDER SPEAKS ON: CHRISTIAN LITERATURE

Miles Ezell, Sr.
Una Church of Christ
Nashville, Tennessee

Inventions have come and inventions have gone, but we have never experienced one that has meant as much to society as the printed page.

The printed page has advantages that no other type of communications has. It can be used to glorify God, and we should see that it is put to that use.

As a man thinketh

"Blessed are the pure in heart for they shall see God." "As a man thinketh in his heart so is he." What we think is determined to a great degree upon what we see, hear and read. Good literature in the home will exercise a tremendous influence upon the lives and behavior of those who read it.

The home has a fearful responsibility in regard to literature. The problem of second rate and even indecent literature getting into the home, and before our children is a great one. Our young people, many times, are not properly supervised in respect to reading material.

This is a responsibility that parents and the Church must not overlook. People, young and old, are going to read. They are gong to read what is available. Why don't we as Christian parents supply our home with as many Christian magazines as possible?

The home and the Church can be spiritually strengthened by keeping abreast of what is going on in the brotherhood all over the world. We are interested in the things we know the most about. Let's keep properly informed. We read the daily papers; we get news from around the world on radio and T.V.

Give diligence to reading

Let us remember the apostle Paul gave this admonition, "Give attendance to reading." (I Tim. 4:13) Let us do all we can to encourage our children and our friends to read good Christian literature. The ability to read is a precious thing; let's cultivate it. I pray that the day will come when every home in the church is filled with the right kind of reading material, and that it in time will tune every heart with a burning desire to be a more zealous worker in the Lord's Kingdom.

Some suggestions

Gospel Advocate, Christian Chronicle, Firm Foundation, Action, Contact, Voice of Freedom, 20th Century Christian, Power for Today, Gospel Herald and many other 20th Century publications.

Remember, no other literature in the world should take the place of God's Word, The Bible. Read it plus the others.

2,225,000!!!!

by Jerry L. Davidson, Montreal

This number is what a recent article in TIME magazine said the membership of the Churches of Christ now is. It is no doubt close to correct. Have we any concept of the residual power of this many people? This many people could change the world — any time they got good and ready — fewer people have done it. This number represents a power to do, to become — a power that must be directed to accomplishing God's will in our generation.

Think of what good things could be said — if each of such a number said a good word for Jesus — every day. The globe would soon ring with the word of Christ.

Think of what good things could be done — if each one did "something for Jesus" every day. Soon our lights would truly "shine before men" and they would turn to glorify God.

Think of the financial resources available to this number — most of whom live in this, the richest nation of all time. Should it be unthinkable that they would devote a million dollars A DAY to the glory of God when this would be less than 50c apiece? No task, whose end was the salvation of souls, should be accounted "too big" for this noble number.

Only our own short sightedness, our own awkwardness, our own lack of dedication could keep this number from each one being a tool of the gospel of Christ. We, can take this old world for Christ — anytime we are all ready!

RIGHT IN OUR OWN BACK YARD

by Gary Blake and Lennie Darden

Not long ago, I saw two children rummaging through our garbage pit. I felt ashamed, for we had not yet become neighbors to the natives who are living in huts all around our compound. I suddenly realized that we have been so busy trying to meet people in town, working to convert the educated, excited over the two thousand indigenous Christians found two hundred miles to the south of us, that we had neglected to make an effort to bring salvation through Christ to those in our own back yard.

We decided that we must do something for them both materially and spiritually. But first we had to make them our friends. I talked with two girls as best as I could in my beginning Amharic. Then along came a man with a sore foot. I told him to soak it in hot water. Pointing to the top of the hill, I told them that we would have a school for deaf children in the building.

Later I talked with Lennie and together we went to introduce ourselves for the first time to the people in this village of tukels and chica houses. Girma went with us to interpret for us.

On the following Sunday, March 24, men, women, and children filled our building. A total of 62 Ethiopians and 6 Americans attended this first meeting, 60 of whom had never heard a gospel sermon! Girma preached, Demere led singing, and Lennie and I made a few comments. Demere interpreted. The singing was unique. We had Amharic song sheets, but most of them could not read. So Demere would sing one phrase; then they would repeat the words and melody until the song was completed.

We feel that this new work is gaining ground. The attendance has held steady between forty and fifty each Sunday. One of our major problems is the need of furniture in this large meeting room. We also need a speaker's stand and other equipment, but these things have not stopped the people from coming together. May this new effort continue to grow and gain strength so that the Word of God, being planted in the hearts of these people, will bring forth fruit to the glory and honor of God.

LET'S USE OUR CHURCH BUILDINGS

by M. Norvel Young

It has been estimated that approximately $1,000,000,000 has been spent by churches of Christ on church buildings and equipment during this generation. One builder of church buildings, Glen Paden, has erected 700 buildings. Add to this the amount spent by previous generations and you have a staggering sum. Consider the value of this in terms of the interest alone. Six per cent interest on one billion is 60 million dollars a year.

How are we using this property which represents such a tremendous investment? In most instances we use these buildings less than six hours a week! We spend millions to maintain our buildings and are content to use them less than any school buildings or business plant.

Why is it that so many functional and beautiful plants stand idle 162 hours each week, 8424 hours each year? Does it mean that we are doing such an efficient job in six hours that there is no more work to be done for the members, for the sinners in the community? A thousand times "No!"

Is it because we lack leadership to use these buildings more effectively? Is it because we lack imagination and initiative to help us plan for more Bible classes, more periods of work and fellowship and prayer? Or is it because we lack faith in God, hope in Christ, and love for our fellow man?

Let us stop and take stock and see how we can let God use the buildings we have dedicated to His service more hours each week. Never before in history has God given a generation of Christians such wonderful tools. He expects better use of these tools in the cause of Christ!

CATHOLICISM AGAINST ITSELF

An abridged, pocket edition of O. C. Lambert's book which originally sold for $4.00 is now being offered at 60c. After nearly fifty years of tireless research, Brother Lambert has included in this booklet quotations from Catholic sources which constitute admission of the truth of the embarrassing charges laid against this church. This book can prove valuable in discussions with your Catholic neighbours and friends.

"There is a condition prevalent in the church today which is becoming alarming. Very simply stated, it is that there just aren't enough preachers to go around. ST. CATHARINES CHURCH OPENS NEW HOME

New 350 Seat Meeting House In St. Catharines —Courtesy St. Catharines Standard

Sixty-five year history

On August 1, 1897 the church of Christ held its first meeting in St. Catharines in the Banner Hall on St. Paul Street. Shortly after that a lot was purchased at the corner of Raymond and Beecher Streets which site was used until May 29, 1963.

Open house was held on Sunday afternoon, June 23 in the new building pictured on this page. It is on Ontario Street north of Linhaven Home for the Aged.

Ontario June Meeting

It was the pleasure of the church in St Catharines, to provide the oversight of the June Meeting, held this year in the Beamsville High School Auditorium, on June second. This was one of the greatest meetings of its kind ever held in Ontario. It was a full day of delightful fellowship, inspiration and gospel preaching. The three services were well attended, with over 1000 people at the morning service. The afternoon and evening services were only little short of that number. Every available space was occupied.

The preaching of the day was of the highest order. Bro. R. C. Oliver of Clawson, Michigan, delivered two masterful addresses at the morning and evening services. In the afternoon, Bro. Wesley Jones of Barrie, gave a scholarly message from the Word of God. At the morning service Bro. Bruce Merritt, was in charge of the Lord's Supper, which was handled wonderfully well for such a large audience. This is the first time in the history of such meetings that individual Communion cups were used. The three leaders of the day did a splendid job. Bros. Fred Smart, Harold Tabor and Gordon James, led the singing during the three meetings. In the afternoon a song service was conducted under the direction of Bro. Loney Wallace, with other singers taking part.

On Monday evening Bro. Oliver began a five day meeting in our new meetinghouse in St. Catharines. This was a very happy time for the brethren here. The meeting was well attended and outsiders were attracted, some of whom we hope to reach in the future.

Our new building is of semi-modern design, with a very attractive auditorium. It will seat 350. Located on a two acre lot, there is ample room for expansion. It has a full basement, providing space for the Bible School and was built at a cost of $90,000.

With the facilities provided and the growing city of St. Catharines before us, it creates an opportunity and a responsibility for the church to press on in the great task of converting sinners and edifying saints. When in St. Catharines, you will find a welcome at the church of Christ, meeting at 439 Ontario Street, just North of the Queen Elizabeth Highway.

—Charles G. McPhee

P.S. The 1964 June meeting is being planned by the Beamsville church.

NEW CONVERTS IN INDIA

"I have been labouring in Madras since June 11. God is giving a wonderful victory through our Lord Jesus Christ. The congregation where I am working has already discarded their mechanical music before I got here. (I had met with two of their leaders at Calcutta on my way to Assam). They have expressed an eager desire to follow the Lord all the way.

"To-day our hearts were made to rejoice when nine precious souls rendered obedience to the gospel. (Seven were men and two were women).

"Our work here will continue until at least after June 23.

MANITOULIN CAMPAIGN

WATCH PRAY LABOUR

JULY 7 - AUGUST 1 SUNDAY - THURSDAY 8:30 P.M.

GORE BAY COMMUNITY HALL

JULY 7-11 The "First Principles of the Oracles of God" will be sounded by Bro. Kenneth Reed from the University Church of Christ, Tuscaloosa, Alabama. He is a graduate of Freed-Hardeman College and of Abilene Christian College where he received the M.S. degree in Christian Education. He has taught Bible since 1951 at the University of Alabama under a Bible Chair arrangement. In addition to preaching at home and in meetings each year he has spoken on several college campuses during Religious Emphasis Week, and in 1956 made a study tour of Egypt, Jordan, Israel, Greece, and Europe. His wife, Betty, and their three children will accompany him to the Island.

JULY 14-18. Bro. Gordon French has been preaching some 25 years in the U.S. and Canada, and is well qualified to tell us of "The Church and ITS Functions". He was one of the originators of the Michigan Christian Youth Camp, Attica, Michigan, and has lived there several years as a Director. He is not new to Manitoulin, having held several meetings at Ice Lake in years past. He is the proud papa of 14 children. Most of them and his wife plan to accompany him in July.

JULY 21-25 "How to Become a Christian" seems simple to most Christians, but it is baffling to many who are not. We know of none better qualified to untangle the simplicity of the Lord's gospel from the un-holy web of confusion that false prophets have wound around it than Bro. Clyde Lansdell. He attended Alabama Christian College and Freed-Hardeman College, and has since devoted his life to spreading the gospel through Canada. He preached for three-and-a-half years at Ajax, and about three years at Meaford, Ont. He and his family, Wilma and three children, have recently moved to North Bay in an all out missionary effort to establish a strong church for the Lord there.

JULY 28 - AUG. 1. Bro. David Myers of Westerville, Ohio, will use the last week to make it clear to Christians, and prospective Christians what is expected "Now That I'M a Christian". He has preached for the last four and a half years at the Cleveland Avenue church in Columbus, Ohio, and previous to that he preached in West Virginia. He is no stranger to the Island, either, having held several summer meetings here in the past. He will be accompanied by his wife Lynda, and their three children.

Bro. Ken Baker of Ice Lake will conduct the singing.

Come and bring someone with you. Many are taking their vacations and spending them here. We will do all possible to house you among the brethren. First come, first served.

For further information write C. Brodie Harrell, Ice Lake, Ontario, or call Gore Bay 314-112. Looking for Manitoulin Island? Try Lake Huron a little west of Sudbury.

TARGET: CANADA Adds One More Family To Group And Announces Money-Raising Program

Another young couple have made their decision to settle at the Lakehead and work with the TARGET: CANADA project. They are Elwood and Shirley Whitfield of Abilene, Texas. Elwood is a native of Thessalon, Ontario, a graduate of Great Lakes Christian College, and a student at Abilene Christian College. He plans to earn his M. A. degree in mathematics and then teach in one of the Lakehead high schools. Shirley was born in Dallas, Texas and is now working in Abilene.

The Whitfield's bring the total to five families now anticipating this organized program of mission work at the Lakehead, and they are to be commended for their decision. But FIVE families cannot undertake a program designed for twenty families, and of these five, only two are able to move to the Lakehead by the TARGET date of August, 1964. Are there eighteen families among us with the foresight of Joshua and Caleb to say, "Let us go up at once and possess it"?

Port Arthur and Fort William provide living conditions and opportunities comparable to any growing urban centre in Canada. We appeal to young and old alike to make your home at the Lakehead. Combine your chosen vocation with a spiritual vision of greater things in the Lord's work. Plan and pray now, and be ready to go in August, 1964; or, decide to join the group at a later date.

Interest in the TARGET:CANADA project has been expressed by several individuals and congregations throughout Canada. This indeed, is very gratifying, and the money-raising program is designed so that individuals as well as churches may have a part in helping to reach $90,000. The sum of $90,000 may appear as a rather luxurious amount, but it was deemed wise by the elders of the Hillcrest Church in Abilene that this amount, raised within the next three years, would find the Lakehead congregation well-established, unhampered by financial burdens, and able to be a self-supporting, mission-minded congregation by the end of 1966.

Would you give us just one dollar a month for three years? ELDERS: would you plan your 1964 budget so that the TARGET:CANADA project could receive fifty dollars a month for three years? Individually or congregationally, there's a way for everyone to have a part in the TARGET:CANADA work; if everyone does what he can, the Lakehead congregation could be self-supporting in three years, at which time it will be ready to launch its own mission program.

Surely one dollar per month is not expecting too much from anyone. And to churches who could help us with even somewhat less that $50 per month, the Hillcrest Church in Abilene would be happy to hear from you. Remember, the sooner our financial goals are attained, the sooner we can attend to the weightier matters of soul-winning!

FREDERICTON WORK

The church here was richly blessed as the result of Wesley Jones coming here for a meeting June 9 to 13. His lessons were unusually clear and to the point, and we are grateful for his willingness to sacrifice to preach the gospel once in Halifax on June 7 and then during our meetings here. We appreciated the attendance of brethren from Danforth and Caribou, Maine. The last night's attendance was thirty.

Clarence Rittenhouse accompanied brother Jones and assisted cial invitations to the homes in the surrounding area of the YMCA where the meetings were held. Clarence used a part of his holidays to help this way. When brethren much with the distribution of spebecome willing to give their holidays into the Lord's service it deserves the highest praise.

The Lord will bless such efforts, and we are grateful for the noble efforts of these two men working so faithfully.

The Pauls will be working with the church at Meaford, Ontario after August 11. This is subject to the Lord's will, and we invite you to note the change of address.

— L. Pauls

WARNING

To whom it may concern:

It is our unhappy duty to inform the brotherhood that the Cornwall Church of Christ has withdrawn from Fred and Jean Patterson. Mr. Patterson was withdrawn from last August. He has tried to defraud several churches and has acted in a factious manner in the church at Cornwall. He has been talked to and refuses to repent and turn away from such actions, so we have no other course than to withdraw from him.

His wife Jean Patterson wishes to follow after Mr. Patterson instead of Christ.

The brotherhood is therefore warned if either Mr. or Mrs. Patterson should come to any of the churches for help that they are not members of the church.

Sincerely
Thomas Hotchkiss

THE HUSBANDMAN, VINE AND BRANCHES

Norman Midgette, Jordan, Ontario

Our move this Summer into the fruit belt of Ontario has placed us in completely new surroundings. Being able to drive a few miles in any direction and see acres of thriving vineyards and orchards in almost numberless rows is a rare experience indeed. Never have we eaten so much fruit in so short a time.

Along with its enjoyment, this new environment has also brought to mind in a special way the teaching of Jesus in John 15 as He spoke to His apostles of the husbandmen, vine and branches. These parting words of Jesus on the eve of His crucifixion express with a simple illustration His concern for fruit bearing in the lives of the disciples. One husbandman, one vine and the attached branches are used to teach us several principles of fruit bearing which we must observe and respect.

Obedience is the Foundation

In the first place Jesus teaches that obedience is the foundation of all fruit bearing. "If ye keep my commandments, ye shall abide in my love; even as I have kept my Father's commandments, and abide in his love" (verse 10). John later expressed the same thought in these words: "Whosoever transgresseth, and abideth not in the doctrine of Christ, hath not God. He that abideth in the doctrine of Christ, he hath both the Father and the Son." (II John 9). Throughout these verses in John 15 Jesus repetitiously admonishes, "abide in me." This is made possible through abiding in the doctrine of Christ. As a fruitless branch is removed by the vine dresser from his vine so is the fruitless or disobedient branch removed from Christ.

To the human eye many things can be accomplished which may take on the appearance of fruit for the Lord. Jesus knew this and concluded the sermon we commonly call the Sermon on the

TENTH ANNIVERSARY

With this issue the Gospel Herald has been under the present management for ten complete years. We timidly waded into editorial waters with the November 1953 issue. At the time some predicted early extinction by drowning but we are still swimming.

Although we have made mistakes and have received criticisms from time to time, commendation and encouragement has far outweighed the discouragements. We have endeavoured to present the truth with kindness and to manifest a Christian spirit even when it has seemed necessary to print those things which corrected or rebuked our readers. We are thankful that we have been able to keep the bickering which so often mars such a publication, from the pages of the Gospel Herald. Writers and readers alike have co-operated in this and appreciated it. Seldom have we had to turn away articles because of such a spirit.

We know of only a very few who have been offended. Since our effort has been to print the truth we say

WHAT ARE YOU DOING HERE?

Keith T. Thompson

"What are you doing here?" This was a question put by God to His prophet, Elijah. (1 Kings 19:9). To get the background for this question it is necessary for us to turn back a couple of chapters.

It was during the reign of Ahab, the king of Israel who "did evil in the sight of the Lord more than all that were before him." (1 Kings 18:30) He was encouraged in his evil by his wicked wife Jezebel. She was a zealous devotee of Baal, the fertility god. After converting her husband into a Baal worshipper, she proceeded to convert all Israel and to stamp out the worship of the Lord. A great temple to Baal was erected at Samaria and the Lord's prophets were either killed or driven underground.

But Elijah did not run. Bravely, he announced his opposition to the wicked system of Baal worship. He challenged four hundred and fifty prophets of Baal to a test on Mount Carmel. Both Elijah and the prophets of Baal were to prepare a sacrifice. It was agreed "the God who answers by fire, he is God." The followers of Baal tried everything they knew to get their god to answer. They danced around their sacrificial pyre, cried aloud finally lacerated their own bodies. But nothing happened.

Then it was Elijah's turn. Confidently he prayed to His God: "O Lord, God of Abraham, Isaac, and Israel, let it be known this day that thou art God in Israel, and that I am thy servant, and that I have done all these things at thy word . . ." "Then the fire of the Lord fell . . ."

Modernists say that lightning just happened to strike at that precise moment and place. If it takes too much faith to believe the Biblical account, what does it take to believe such nonsense?

After the defeat of the prophets of Baal, Elijah told Ahab it was going to rain. The drought he had announced previously was about to end. Ahab was warned to hurry home before his chariot got stuck in the mud. Elijah is the picture of victory as he races before the chariot of Ahab as the rains came.

Elijah Depressed

But Jezebel was not pleased. She gave Elijah just twenty four hours to live. Then the man who stood before thousands on Mount Carmel runs before the wrath of a woman. He fled into the wilderness and sat down under a broom tree. He said, "It is enough; now, O Lord, take away my life; for I am no better than my fathers." The man who was so exalted in victory is now fallen to the depths of depression. He is like the psalmist who asked, "Why are you cast down O my soul, and why are you disquieted within me?" (Psalms 42:5). He reminds us of Jeremiah when he said "O that my head were waters, and my eyes a fountain of tears, that I might weep day and night . . ." (Jer. 9:1). His words resemble those of another discouraged prophet who prayed "Therefore now, O Lord, take my life from me, I beseech thee, for it is better for me to die than to live." (Jonah 4:3).

Elijah fell before the onslaught of one of the devil's most potent weapons — discouragement. This weapon has defeated many of God's servants down through the years and continues to make them ineffective today. Discouragement depresses the spirit of men. It subtracts from their energy and clouds their judgment. It often comes after a great victory. Even though he had triumphed over the prophets of Baal, Elijah had not converted Jezebel. Someone has said, "You can shut out the light of the sun with a three-penny bit, if you hold it close enough to your eye."

Causes of his Depression

1 Kings 19:3 begins "Then he was afraid . . ." He was fearful of a tyrannical queen. And well he might be! Such a woman might bring fear to any man. But how often are we fearful of much less? Have you ever been depressed by criticism? By ridicule? By failure? By rejection?

Elijah felt he had failed. He had not completely destroyed false religion or restored the true worship of God. But he had done what he could! We, like him, often forget this. We may be frustrated because we have not fully revived the church or converted the world. But the important thing is for us to do our best. Then we must leave the results to God.

Elijah was lonely. He said ". . . and I, even I only, am left; and they seek my life, to take it away." He had fallen into the error of counting heads. He thought God was defeated because some of His men were. Loneliness is the cause of discouragement in new works on the mission field. It can be helped when those at home write letters, send support and pray.

Elijah was feeling sorry for himself. He fell into brooding and pouting. Didn't he deserve better treatment than he was getting? What a deadly attitude! A person who wallows in self-pity cancels his own effectiveness.

God's Answer to his Depression

After Elijah had relieved his fatigue by sleep, God provided food for him to eat. We need to be aware that our physical condition can often have a significant effect on our mental and spiritual condition.

"The word of the Lord came to him . . ." Here was spiritual food. This was at Horeb, where God had revealed Himself to Moses. What an appropriate place this was for God to reveal Himself to Elijah. God sent some great demonstration of His power — wind, fire and earthquake. But God was not in these things. Then God came to Elijah in "a still small voice." Apparently Elijah needed to learn that God can work through little, ordinary things as well as on a grand scale. God came in the "still small voice" as surely as He did in the fire on Carmel.

God showed Elijah that he was not the only one that was on the right side; for the people of Israel have forsaken thy convenant, thrown down thy altars, and slain

ARE WE NEGLECTING THE DOCTRINE OF THE SECOND COMING?

by M. Norvel Young

About twenty-five years ago, a colleague in California told me about a student who came west during the time of heated discussions regarding the premillennial theories. When my colleague asked this young student how he felt regarding the second coming of Jesus, he hastened to say, "Oh, I am against it."

Of course, he meant that he was opposed to the theories about an earthly reign of a thousand years, but this unthinking answer did reveal the fact that he was confused about the great doctrine of Jesus' second coming.

Are we preaching the second coming with as much emphasis as the inspired preachers of New Testament times? Or are we so pre-occupied with trying to solve all our problems in this present world that we do not long for the day of the "Son of Man?" Have we backed away from the study of the doctrine of the second coming because of the difficulties involved in understanding the scriptures which teach it?

Each time we partake of the Lord's supper, we do so "until He comes." We anticipate the massive correction which the day of His coming will bring. A failure to emphasize this teaching will result in a dwarfed or malformed faith. The false teaching which has confused the issues surrounding the teaching of the second coming must not push us to the position of neglecting the motivation involved in the coming again of our Lord. The early Christians were full of joy—not because they expected the world to be righteous overnight or in a thousand years—but because they looked for the coming of the Lord who would set everything right. No wonder they prayed: "Come, Lord Jesus."

ONE HUNDRED DAY CAMPAIGN

Alan M. Bryan

During 1963, the total circulation of brotherhood publications has increased greatly. A campaign beginning October 1 is announced to try to place one or more periodicals into every home in the brotherhood.

Every elder, deacon, and minister is asked to participate in the one hundred day campaign which should help to more than double the circulation of all brotherhood periodicals.

Many workers can help by collecting large clubs of subscriptions and sending in to publishers. Congregations are asked to have one or more periodicals sent to every home at the expense of the congregations.

Readers are urged to help in making this campaign successful. Our brotherhood periodicals have helped a great deal in the spreading of the kingdom and even more good can be done. We urge you to help in the campaign beginning now.

MEAFORD VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL

The congregation conducted another VBS here in August with an average attendance of 151. Walter Dale had planned this school in advance of our coming to Meaford, and also directed the session in a very fine way. A local staff of about 22 were on the grounds every day to help in various ways. The local teachers were commendable with their classes.

The closing exercises were held the last Friday night with 181 present, this included a good number of friends and relatives of the children. This week the church is sponsoring a display at the Meaford fall fair. The electrically operated Bible Question and Answer Board is being used in this display. It was very effective at the Fredericton Exhibition last year and was often crowded. Our address is in the directory now under Meaford, come to see us when travelling this way. —L. Louis Pauls

THE OLD ORDER CHANGETH

This writer, who despite a silvery quality to his hair is not very old, can recall when college graduates in the Lord's church were about as "scarce as hen's teeth." Many who ventured into higher education were lost to the faith. Those who completed their work for a degree were watched rather closely for a time lest they should corrupt the faith of their less studious brethren. The situation has changed.

Today we worshipped in a congregation of about 750 Christians. The preaching was sound and the fellowship was warm. Many in the audience had one or two academic degrees. At least 16 in the congregation had a doctorate in one subject or another. Moreover, there were dozens of other Ph.D.'s scattered through a score of congregations today in this city of Abilene. We would not attempt to guess how many more could be found throughout the nation.

This scribe does not have a doctorate nor any intention of procuring one. Nor is he prone to worship academic titles. Certainly, the future of the church will not be decided by the number of Ph.D's in its membership. Nevertheless, we are thrilled to see the exemplification of godliness and learning going hand-in-hand. Scholarships and Christian humility can be mingled in a child of God.

The scoffer's charge of "ingrown scholarship" never did apply to the Restoration Movement. The movement began with men from a variety of backgrounds and attracted its strength from year to year by the conversion of individuals who had been reared in denominationalism. Still less does it apply today. Christians are studying in literally scores of institutions of higher learning. They are reading books written by scholars of many disciplines and diversities. Some are lost to the faith because they cannot cope with the problem which such studies present. Others emerge considerably stronger and better informed through having been tempered by adversity.

The higher academic standing of our brethren is a source of strength and a source of weakness. We live in a changing world where a nation must educate or stalemate. In such a world the church finds the problem of being apostolic in its doctrine and up-to-date as the daily paper in its outlook. This is not always simple, but it is necessary if we are to be good stewards of the Gospel of Christ.

There are young men and women taking their place in the work of the local congregations today who will not be satisfied with slip-shod methods of study and disorderly worship. They have been disciplined to think and plan. Some "angry young men" will be found in their number who will show bitterness toward the complacency of a former generation. This can be good if it is accompanied by a respect for the authority of God's Word.

If the learning of these young people has made them really wise, they will also respect the judgment of elders who have less formal education but a wealth of experience. Change in rebellion against true authority is disastrous. "Give us a king" was the cry of the crowd in the days of Samuel. They got their king. With him and his successors came centuries of heartache. Fashion and human expedience are still dangers to Biblical authority.

True science and wisdom have never given us reasons for unbelief. We live in a world that has seen many old ideas laid aside. It is an age of specialists who are probing deeper into the secrets of man's body, the earth, and even the universe around us. The work of today's specialist needs to be respected as long as he maintains the humility to admit his own limitations.

In this age the Lord's church does not need to apologize for its narrow-minded approach to man's spiritual need. It does not need to refuse to do battle with spiritual evil in high academic circles. The need of the hour is for well-informed men and women. They must, however, be conscious of man's limitations and of the jealous nature of an unlimited God.

ARE WE LIKE ADAM AND EVE?

Max E. Craddock, Port Colborne

One thing that is always around us is sin. Regardless of where we may go on this earth there is always the possibility of the presence of sin. We are informed by the Word of God that it was by one man that sin came into this world. Let us notice. "Wherefore, as by one man sin entered into the world, and death by sin; and so death passed upon all men, for all have sinned:" Romans 5:12.

Another thing which we must remember about sin is the fact that it may come in many different forms. Turning to the Bible let us notice some of the forms in which sin may come.

Paul writing to the brethren at Rome said: "And he that doubteth is damned if he eat, because he eateth not of faith: for whatsoever is not of faith is sin." Romans 14:23. The convictions that a man may have on a matter must be respected. If a man continues to disregard his convictions in all matters he will some time come to the point that he is not real sure of what his convictions really are. This is not to imply, however, that a man may worship God in any way he likes and live any way he likes as long as he is following his convictions. We must study God's Word to be sure that we are correct in our manner of life and worship. Perhaps one of the biggest problems in the religious world today is a misapplication of this verse.

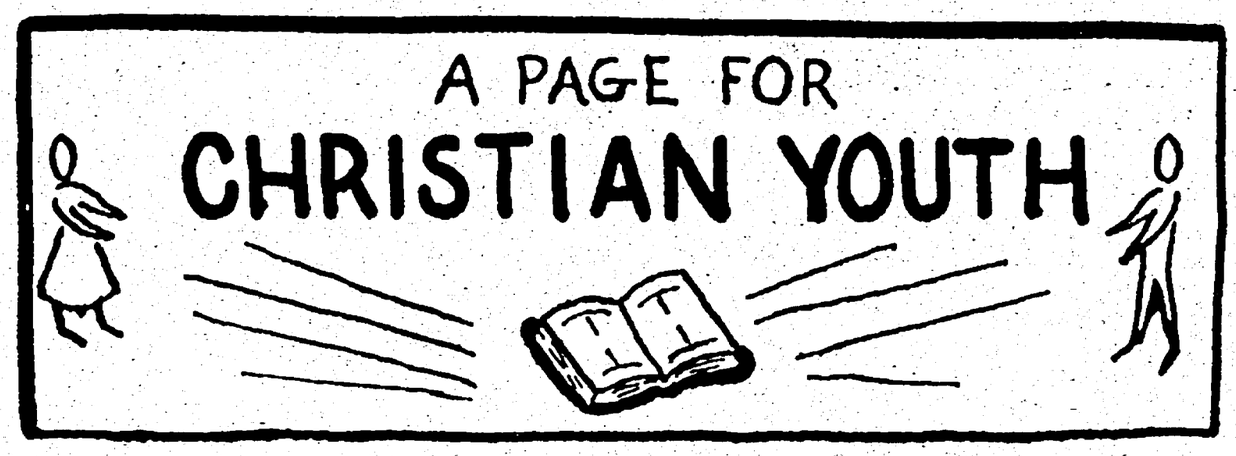
Turning on in our Bibles we come to James 4:17. "Therefore to him that knoweth to do good, and doeth it not, to him it is sin." J. W. Roberts says in his commentary on James; "It is worth observing that here James is not speaking merely of the sin of failing to do some good deed. He is speaking of failure to live a morally and spiritually excellent life when one has the knowledge to do so." How sad it is when we see those who have known for years what God expects of them turn away from the truth. How many have we known over our life time who have year after year rejected the saving power of the Gospel.

We further read in the book of I John chapter 3 and verse 4 that sin is a transgression of the law. Whenever we disobey the law of God, the law which He has given us to live by, we sin in the sight of God. Still, in our world we see many who willfully transgress the laws of God.

Thus far we have noticed types of sin. If you will remember the title of this article is "Are We Like Adam and Eve?". Let us now turn back through the pages of time to the beginning and notice with interest the sin of Adam and Eve. There is perhaps no story in all the Bible which more clearly illustrates the fact that man is a creature of choice. When God placed Adam and Eve in the garden they were given a choice as to their obedience to God's command. Notice. "And the Lord God commanded the man, saying, of every tree of the garden thou mayest freely eat: But of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, thou shalt not eat of it: for in the day thou eatest thereof thou shalt surely die." Genesis 2:16, 17. We read on however, and note that after being tempted of the serpent, Eve ate and gave to her husband also. "And when the woman saw that the tree was good for food, and that is was pleasant to the eyes, and a tree to be desired to make one wise, she took of the fruit thereof, and did eat, and gave also unto her husband with her; and he did eat. Genesis 3:6. Adam and Eve chose, of their own free will, to sin and disobey the voice of God.

Perhaps there is not so much difference between them and us. They did not enjoy the modern blessings that are ours to enjoy; still they had a wonderful garden in which to live. This garden contained all they needed Their problem was that they wanted something that wasn't theirs to have. They tried to slip by the command of God.

I read a folk tale about a couple who were servants for a rich man. One day the master of the house heard them complaining about what Adam and Eve did. Because of them, they moaned, we have to work hard all the day long. The Master of the house then asked them if they would like to go into his house, and receive abundance at every meal. They would have everything they desired in the food line. They would be waited on hand and foot. They said that this would be fine and with that moved into the master's fine house. There was a condition to this however. At every meal there would be a dish in the center of the table with a lid on it. If they ever looked into this dish they would be cast out of the house and put back to work in the fields. As we read on through this story we find that they only lasted one day. They just had to find out the contents of the forbidden dish. When the opened the lid enough to peer inside, a little bird flew out. So the master of the house knew they had opened the dish and they were put back out into the field to work. Don't let me ever hear you complaining about Adam and Eve again, was the command given unto them.



Are we not many times like Adam and Eve who were cast out of the garden, and the servants who were cast out of the house? Are we not many times subject to temptation? Do we not sometimes peer into the forbidden dish, thinking that we will never be found out?

We are told that Christ will pluck out of his kingdom all things that offend. How is it possible to offend? Simply by disobeying the laws that have been set down for us to live by. By acting not of faith. By failing to do that which we know we must do. It will be a terrible day if when we stand before the great judge of all the earth, we are condemned for willful sin. Yes, brethren, we must all be on guard at all times lest we slip into the snare of the wicked one. We must be always searching the scriptures to see if these things we believe and practice are so.

May the God of Heaven give us wisdom to use His Word to the salvation of our own souls and the souls of others.

TOUCH EVERY BASE!

The other day it was my privilege (through the medium of television) to watch a major league baseball game. I was impressed with the fact that it was at that time an undeniable fact that I was watching the very best baseball players in the world. I set about to see what I could learn from them. At one point in the game, the batter stepped to the plate and with perfect timing drove the ball into the seats for a home run. I noticed that as he ran around the bases he was extremely careful to touch every base. Had he failed to do so, even to miss just one base, all his previous efforts would be in vain. I thought to myself, "this is exactly the way it is in the lives of each of us!"

All life is a home run. It is a run for home—our eternal home. In this run for home we are obligated to abide by the rules. Paul said, "An athelete is not crowned unless he competes according to the rules." (II Tim. 2:5 RSV). As baseball could never be played without r u l e s, neither can we live our daily lives without rules. To be able to successfully compete in our spiritual home run, it is necessary that we spend a great deal of time and effort in preparation. To become a major league baseball player requires long hours of rigid training and discipline. Let us not be fooled into believing that in the Christian's run for home, little or no effort is required!

As there are certain bases in the game of baseball, each of which must be touched in a run for home; so there are certain bases in our lives which also must be touched if we are to receive the blessing of eternal life. To miss even one of these bases is to fall far short of the goal.

First Base — Duties to Self

That which we owe ourselves may be broken down into two major divisions: the Physical and the Spiritual. Physically, we have the responsibility to remember that our body belongs to God, and that he has given us the task of looking out for it. "Do you not know that your body is a temple of the Holy Spirit within you, which you have from God? You are not your own; you were bought with a price. So glorify God in your body." (1 Cor. 6:19-20 RSV). It is our obligation, then, to take care of our bodies, and keep them pure. This emphasizes the need of keeping ones self free from recreation, habits and activities that are evil or even questionable!

Spiritually, we have the solemn duty of keeping ourselves on an acceptable plane with God. Salvation is your responsibility! Paul advised, "Work out your own salvation with fear and trembling" (Phil. 2:12). We shall face the Almighty at judgement as individuals—prepare yourself today!

Second Base—Duties to Others

No person lives entirely to himself or for himself. "A person wrapped up in himself makes a mighty small package", someone has well remarked. If you take the time to consider it, we are dependant upon others for most of the things that we have or need. Much of our food, clothing, services etc. comes to us, or is made possible for us by the labours of others. In return, we have the God-given responsibility to do good to our neighbour, and to love him as much as we love ourselves. "But who is my neighbor?" the lawyer wanted to know. Jesus replied with the story of the Good Samaritan, in which he taught that anyone with whom we come in contact is our neighbor. "Do unto others", Jesus said, "as you would have them do unto you". Miss this base, and you run in vain.

Third Base—Duties to God

Though third base is the final one in this study, it is without a doubt the most important—and the one most often missed. Our duties to God are many, and they are extremely vital. First is the duty of faith. "Without faith it is impossible to please him". We must believe that he is, that is to say, that he exists. We must also believe what he is. By this we mean that we must be fully aware that he is our creator, provider, defender, and that it is from him that all blessings flow.

Next comes the duty of love. The love that we have for God is a response to the love that God has for us. John said, "We love him because he first loved us" (I Jno. 4:19). Do you really love God? Remember, true love is not determined by what it says, but rather, by what it does! Faith which works through love is what really counts, according to Paul.

Third base also includes the duty of obedience to God. "For this is the love of God, that we keep his commandments", said John. Just before this he had remarked, "By this we know that we love the children of God, when we love God, and keep his commandments" (I Jno. 5:12). Obedience to God is the way that we demonstrate to God that we do love him, and desire to please him. Included in this matter of obedience is the need for work. It is our task to lead others to Christ. If we fail in this, we show ourselves to be lacking in all of the above requirements.

Young friend, remember that your life is a run for an eternal home. Before you, and directly in your path are three bases, and each of them MUST be touched if you are going to reach home. May God give strength to each of us to "lay aside every weight" and run that we may obtain the prize! —R. L. M.

HERE AND THERE

Victoria, B.C.: D. C. Marshal of Vancouver held a meeting in Victoria September 22-27.

THE HUSBANDMAN

Mount with a solemn warning against such deception. "Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven. Many will say to me in that day, Lord, Lord, have we not prophesied in thy name? and in thy name have cast out devils? and in thy name done many wonderful works? And then will I profess unto them, I never knew you: depart from me ye that work iniquity." (Mt. 7:21-23). "Iniquity," in this statement is defined as, "lawlessness." These men were busy preaching, overcoming evil and doing many good works while using the name of Jesus as their authority. But, they were bearing no fruit for the Lord because all the good they were doing was made void in the eyes of Christ by their lawlessness. After pronouncing this condemnation He explains why this happened with the familiar story of the two builders. Both men worked and the fruit of their work was seen in the form of two houses. The only difference, indicated by Jesus, was in the foundation. They just started out differently. The wise man, ". . . heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them. . ." The foolish man, ". . . heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them not . . ." It does make a difference how we bear fruit for the Lord. We must begin right, and obedience, a "thus saith the Lord", must be our foundation.

A CO-OPERATIVE WORK

Secondly, fruit bearing is a co-operative effort. "I am the vine, my father is the husbandman." ". . . ye are the branches." There is but one result, fruit bearing; yet each must do a work, God provides the care; Christ furnishes the life; and we furnish the work among men on earth. In the absence of any one the work would fail; no fruit would result to the glory of God.

Here we can easily find two extremes among men. By their actions some believe God can produce this fruit alone without any help from them. Then others show evidence of believing they can do it by themselves. One fails because of inactivity; the other by a misdirected zeal in trying to please God his own way. Each is equally fruitless and is removed by the husbandman. Jesus said, ". . . for without me ye can do nothing." Beyond question this statement excludes every alien sinner, and all who claim brotherhood with Him yet are trying to serve Him in a fruitful way by themselves.

This is a co-operative effort with God, Christ and man engaging in a mutual work. The Father and the Son are directing this work and as we follow we will continue to live in Christ and be productive in God's vineyard.

A VISIBLE INDICATION OF DISCIPLESHIP

In the third place fruit bearing is a visible indication of discipleship which glorifies God. "Herein is my Father glorified, that ye bear much fruit; so shall ye be my disciples." God has never tolerated inactivity. Survey His own labors from the creation. Consider His planning and execution of the provisions for our salvation through the nation of Israel and finally in Christ. Even today He is not asleep on the job. You have heard the expression, "Like Father like Son." This is true especially of our sonship with God. What a sorry, ungrateful lot we must sometimes appear to be in our laziness and seeming unconcern. Paul wrote Titus that Christ, ". . . gave himself for us, that he might redeem us from all iniquity (lawlessness), and purify unto himself a peculiar people, zealous of good works." (Titus 2:14). If we claim our Father as the God of Heaven it should become us to be more like Him in activity. Jesus warned, "Every branch in me that beareth not fruit he taketh away . . ." It seems from all this evidence that our hope through Christ must be based upon letting baptism serve as the beginning of a long working day for the Master. It will glorify our Father and help us appreciate the rest which is promised at the end of the way.

A PERSONAL RELATIONSHIP

"If a man abide not in me he is cast forth as a branch . . ." This is sufficient to indicate that the relationship existing between the vine, the husbandman and the branch is personal. God has multitudes of branches (men) in His vine, yet he has not lost sight of each one as an individual. When He removes a fruitless branch He does it one at a time. When He prunes a productive branch He does that also, one at a time. God is concerned with everyone on earth but do not think He has lost sight of you in the crowd. He loves you as a person; He saves you as a person; as a Christian He helps you as though you were the only soul on earth. The day of judgment will be a reality, and there you will stand alone; just you and God. If you have been lawless and disobedient this scene between you and God will be for the last time. If you have been fruitful it will be a personal reunion that will last forever.

There are those today who would negate this comforting promise of the personal care of God in this lesson by making the branches refer to denominations. Not only do they teach error by such a mishandling of this verse but they miss the Truth Christ is teaching. The branches could not refer to denominations nor even the Lord's Church as a group whether universally or as a local Church. The reason is found within the text.

CONTEXT

The same way we know God is the husbandman and Christ is the vine we know whom the branches represent. Jesus said, "If a man abide not in me he is cast forth as a branch . . ." (John 15:6). By specifying the "man" as a "branch" Christ excluded denominations or bodies of people. This is clear by a simple reading of the text. He makes it very clear and when we accept just what the Bible does say we can agree. Often the beginning of disagreement is the result of searching for a scripture to defend a condition already in existence as denominationalists use this scripture. They have taken it out of context, misused it and made it lend support to that which Christ condemned throughout the New Testament: Division. In fact, the evening He was teaching of fruit bearing in John 15 He pray-thy prophets with the sword, and I, even I only, am left; and they seek my life, to take it away." (1 Kings 19:14). But things were not as bad as Elijah thought. This "Elijah complex" has been called the sin of good and respectable people, and of religious people in particular. It crops up in the church when some of us get the idea that we are the only ones who have any desire at all to know and practice the will of God. Congregations are guilty of this attitude when they think they alone are "loyal" or "sound" and all others are "liberal" or "digressive." God told Elijah "Yet I will leave seven thousand in Israel, all the knees that have not bowed to Baal, and every mouth that has not kissed him."

WHAT ARE YOU DOING

God gave Elijah more work to do. He commissioned him to anoint Hazael to be king over Syria and Jehu to be king over Israel. Elisha was also to be anointed as the one to succeed Elijah as prophet.

This work Elijah was given to do was for the benefit of others. Here is a great cure for discouragement. When we have concentrated on ourselves, our own problems and heartaches, etc, we can be easily discouraged. We need to turn our eyes away from ourselves and look to others. As we seek to help others, we will help ourselves. Elijah went back to work for God and he was rewarded with a majestic translation into heaven.

So don't despair. Remember that even the sun has a sinking spell every night, but it rises again in the morning.

THE HUSBANDMAN

ed to His Father in John 17, "That they all may be one; as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be one in us: that the world may believe that thou hast sent me" (John 17:21). What inconsistency in Christ if denominational division was taught by the branches. He would be contradicting Himself in only a few hours.

The context is clear in teaching a personal relationship with God. May we accept what Jesus said and enjoy the unity and closeness with God that comes by our personal fruit-bearing for Him. There is security with God when you abide in Christ and He in you. Always abound in the work of the Lord, knowing that our labors are not in vain in Him (I Cor. 15:58). Bear fruit now for the Lord. Perfect rest will come later!

with Paul, "So then am I become your enemy, by telling you the truth?" (Gal. 4:16). We pledge to continue a studied effort to avoid unnecessary offence to anyone.

The editors have aged. The paper has, we trust, improved. The readers have been steadfast but have not multiplied as we would like to see. We appeal to each reader to help us to reach more readers. This is not necessary to financial survival. Although warned in 1953 that we would "go broke", we thank God that our books have not been "in the red" a single time since that time. The support of brethren and churches in buying books and supplies has helped as has the fact that we have donated all of our efforts.

Thus, our appeal for increased circulation is not for financial reasons. Initially we set a goal of 2,000 subscribers. Efforts to reach this number have been most disappointing. The church has grown in numbers and in congregations. Surely there is now a potential for 2,000 subscribers.

We know that many will wish to send in their congratulations and encouragements as we enter another decade of publication. Our purpose being to expand our influence for good we are not presumptuous in suggesting the following method of Calgary, Alta.: August 19 was the beginning of a V.B.S. Bro. and Sis. James C. Allen of St. Joseph, Tenn. were on hand to assist. The average attendance was 108 with children present from Medicine Hat, Lethbridge and Edmonton as well as many new ones from Calgary itself.

Book Reviews

Books to be reviewed in this column should be sent to Keith T. Thompson, Box 403, Beamsville, Ont., Canada.

At Work For The Master, Edited by Stafford North and Ira North. Gospel Advocate Company, Nashville, Tenn., 1963, 149 pages, $3.00 (plus 10% in Canada).

This new book is a sequel to You Can March for the Master by Ira North. It is designed as a handbook on practical aspects of the work of the local church. The editors selected twenty men in the brotherhood whom they felt were especially equipped by training and experience to write on the various phases included. The suggestions have already been tried, tested, and proven in church programs.

This is an excellent work and should have a wide sale. The best way we can review it is by simply listing the chapter titles and the authors.

Activities to Build Respect in the Community, M. Norvel Young; Increasing Spirituality, Raymond C. Kelcy; Planning and Conducting the Worship; Effective Gospel Meetings, Willard Collins; Planning the Church Budget, George S. Benson; Making Effective Use of Radio and Television, Lowell Perry; Serving Effectively as the Local Evangelist, Cleon Lyles; Arranging Cottage Meetings, Jule Miller; Conducting the Program Where There Are No Elders, Thomas L. Campbell; Developing and Appointing Elders and Deacons, Gus Nichols; Shepherding the Flock, L. R. Wilson; Locating and Assisting the Needy, Byron Fullerton; Making Class Programs Effective, Joe Sanders; Promoting the Vacation Bible School, James F. Fowler; When We Go—They Come!, Ira North; Putting Every Member to Work through a Zoning Program, Ira North; Using the Church Building to Advance the Cause of Christ, J. M. Powell; Saving Our Young People, James O. Baird; Machines for Church Use, Ralph Burcham; Conducting Men's Training Classes, Batsell Barrett Baxter; Publishing the Church Bulletin, C. J. Garner; The Church Library, B. C. Goodpasture; Utilizing Bible Correspondence Courses, Alan M. Bryon.

The Tyndale New Testament Commentaries. The volumes on Ephesians and Romans have just been added to this outstanding series. There are now fifteen volumes available and they deal with the following books: Matthew, Mark, John, Acts, Romans, 1 Corinthians, 2 Corinthians, Ephesians, Philippians, Colossians and Philemon (in one volume), 1 and 2 Thessalonians (in one volume, 1 and 2 Timothy and Titus (in one volume), Hebrews, James, 1 Peter. Most of these are $2.00 each but some are $3.00.

I believe all of the authors are from the British Empire and are teachers of Biblical subjects. They are all careful scholars and are conservative in their beliefs.

The commentaries are designed to avoid the extremes of being unduly technical or unhelpfully brief.

GLEANINGS FROM FOREIGN FIELDS

SOUTH PACIFIC ISLANDS

For the first time in the modern history of churches of Christ, a missionary is being sent to work among the Polynesian peoples of the South Pacific Islands. Brother and Sister Bob Harp and their three children, Los Angeles, Calif., plan to leave for that area, the Lord willing, early in January, 1964.

Brother Harp, who is in his fourth year of work with the Culver-Palms church in Los Angeles, was one of the workers in the gospel campaign in Wellington, New Zealand, in January of this year. On the way home he visited American Samoa and Fiji where workers from New Zealand recently baptized two men into Christ. Three young men from Samoa were converted while attending York College in Nebraska. When they return home there will be no established church in either group of islands, and no older Christian to encourage them in their new found faith in Christ. Thus the urgency in Brother Harp's plans.

SOUTH AFRICA

Brother Philip Stein, native Dutch evangelist in South Africa, has reported the baptism of two more once - denominational families as a result of cottage classes held by the church in Bloemfontein, where he is working.

DENMARK

A two-week school for Scandinavian Christians interested in a period of intensive Bible study was held in Copenhagen, Denmark, in August, and is reported to have been well-attended and very inspirational.

The school was financed by the Sunset Church of Christ in Lubbock, Texas, which has been active in mission work in Scandinavia since its beginning. Brother Paul Southern and Brother H. E. Speck, Jr., both Bible teachers at Abilene Christian College, taught courses in Christian education, sermon preparation, I and II Timothy, Titus, and Bible interpretation. Brother Mitchell Greer of Gothenburg, Sweden, taught the book of Romans in the Swedish language, and Brother Clinton Davis of Copenhagen taught courses in church music.

Classes began at 8 a.m. and continued until 5.30 p.m. each day, with daily periods of devotion and worship.

CHILE

Christians from throughout Latin America attended a Bible lectureship program held in Santiago and El Tabo, Chile, the last week of August.

Three services of teaching and worship were held daily. Speakers included these brethren who are engaged in mission work in various South and Central American countries: Jaime Solar, Carlos Reyes, Jerry Hill, Carl James, Juan Ramon Lara, Leonel Cortez, Pablo Lazaga, Roberto Perez, John Wolfe, Efrian Perez, Arlie Smith and Atilio Pinto.

THE NETHERLANDS

Brother Andy T. Ritchie, Jr., of Searcy, Ark., en route home from the gospel campaigns in Aylesbury and Wembley, England, held a four-day gospel meeting with the small new congregation in The Hague. Services were conducted in English without translation, but some 20 non-Christians attended and some heard the gospel of Christ preached for the first time.

PERU

Five have been baptized into Christ in recent weeks by Brother Glenn Kramar, working with the church in Lima, Peru.

JAMAICA

Three former congregations of the Christian Church, Lluidas Vale, Bullards Content, and Tydixon, all on the island of Jamaica, have unanimously taken their stand on the side of New Testament Christianity and have severed all former denominational connections.

The three small congregations constitute a total of about 100 persons. Their conversion is a result of the work of Brother Sydney L. Palmer who left the denomination to take his stand with the pure gospel during the six-weeks gospel campaign in the Caribbean area this summer. He had been preaching for them 14 years.

ISRAEL

After several weeks of negotiations, a lot has been purchased for the erection of a permanent meeting place for the church in the Arab village of Elabun, not far from the Sea of Galilee. Some 45 persons have been baptized into Christ in the village.

Missionaries were asked recently by 46 heads of families in the village if they would open and operate a high school, but because of the press of church work, they felt they could not commit themselves to such a task at this time. The opportunity is a great one.

The church in Israel is still negotiating for a good building lot in Nazareth, and is looking for some existing building in Jerusalem which will serve its needs as a place for meeting and to hold daily Bible classes.

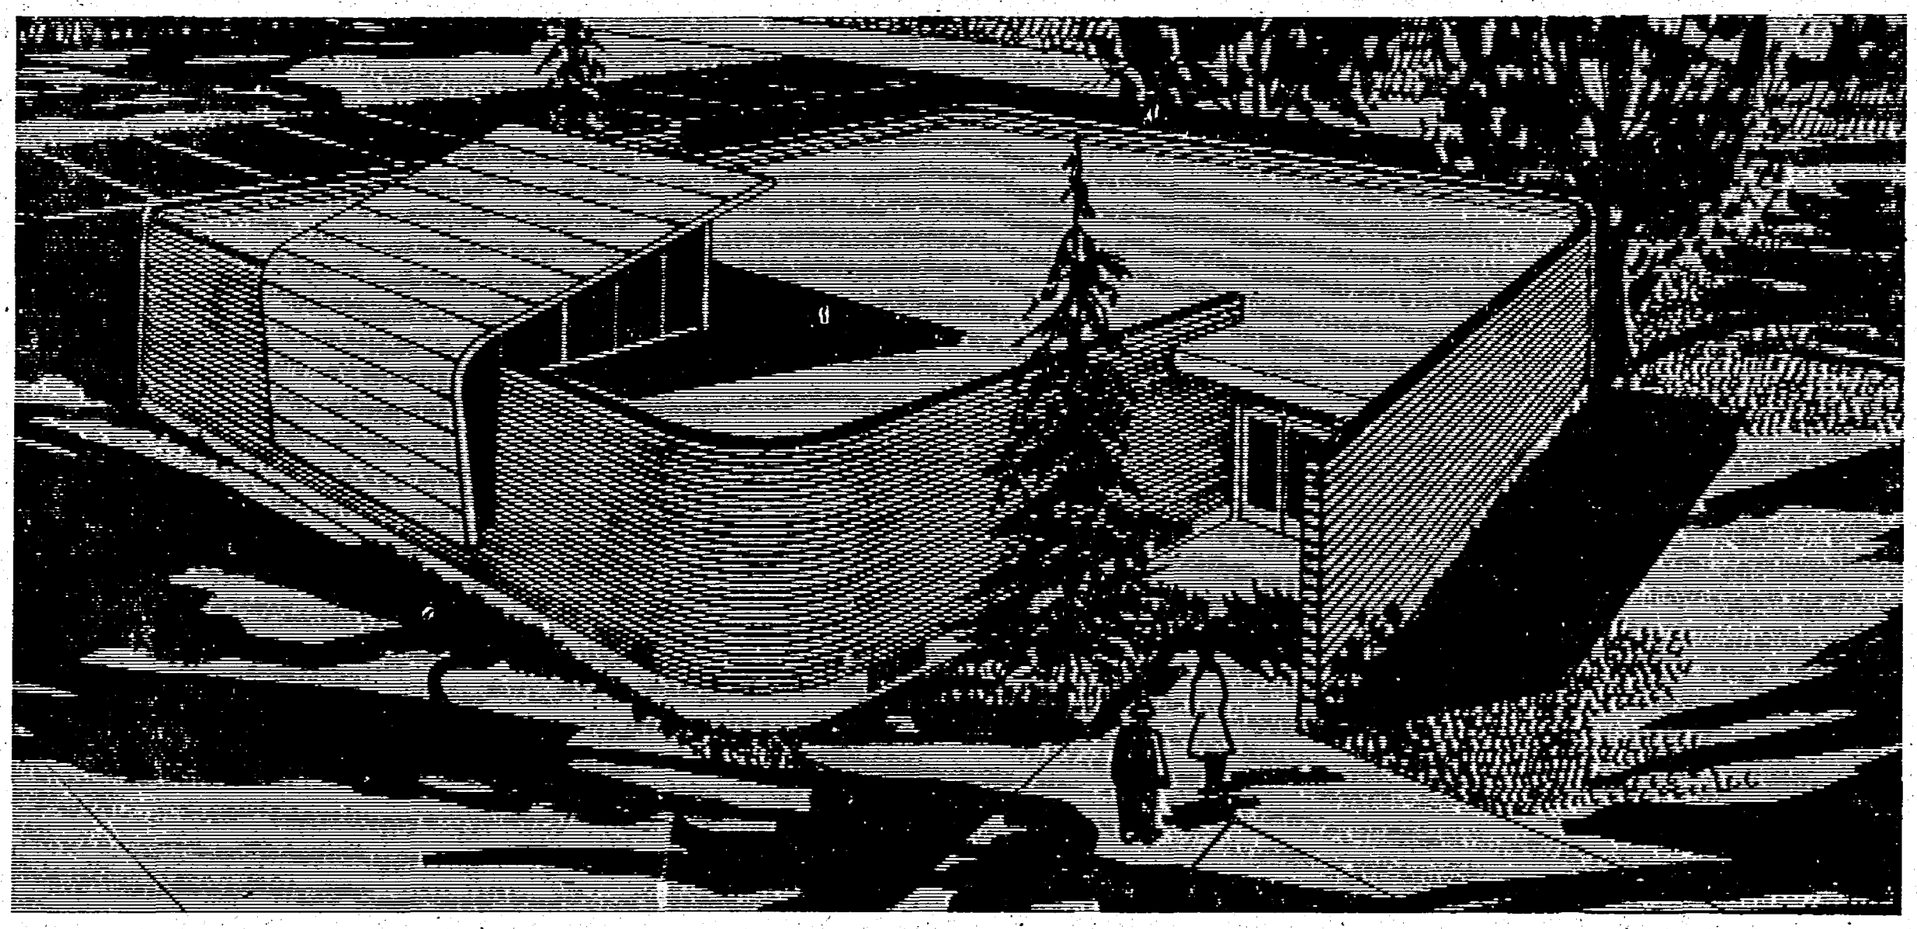
JORDAN

Six were baptized in the River Jordan by Brother George Bailey of Abilene, Texas, during his visit with Brother Everett Huffard in Jerusalem. Brother Huffard writes: "We now have 13 members of the Lord's church meeting for worship with our total attendance running around 25 at our midweek Bible study and Sunday worship. My co-worker, Brother Victor Joseph, has done a wonderful work."

BRAZIL

Brother Howard Norton, a missionary in Sao Paulo, is home on furlough. He will be returning to Brazil following a visit with relatives and speaking engagements on behalf of the South American work.

SWITZERLAND



Brother Jack McKinney, a pioneer worker among the Swiss Christians, has joined the faculty of Abilene Christian College, where he will teach German and French, for a period of three years while doing further study himself. At the end of that time he will return to the Swiss mission field.

JAPAN

The church in Torrance, Calif., has sent the Elmer Prout family back to Japan for an additional four-to-five-year period of mission work. Brother Prout has labored locally with the Torrance church for a year after spending four years in Japan, supported by the Torrance brethren. Brother Don H. Mc-

YOUNG CHURCH OPENS NEW BUILDING

The Windsor Park Church of Christ in Winnipeg announces the opening of its new building at the corne of Westmound Drive and Cottonwood Crescent. The building, which will accomodate two hundred and fifty people, is of red brick with an unusual pale blue roof construction which shades overhead windows that extend over the pulpit area. This provides a soft natural light through the body of the auditorium and a brighter light in the area where worship is led. The front of the auditorim is panelled in cherrywood and birch. A glass enclosed nursery is provided for the convenience of mothers with small children. Seven classrooms surround a large assembly hall in the downstairs area of the building.

One attractive feature of the building is the spacious foyer. One entire wall is of glass giving an open and light appearance. Another foyer wall is exposed brick.

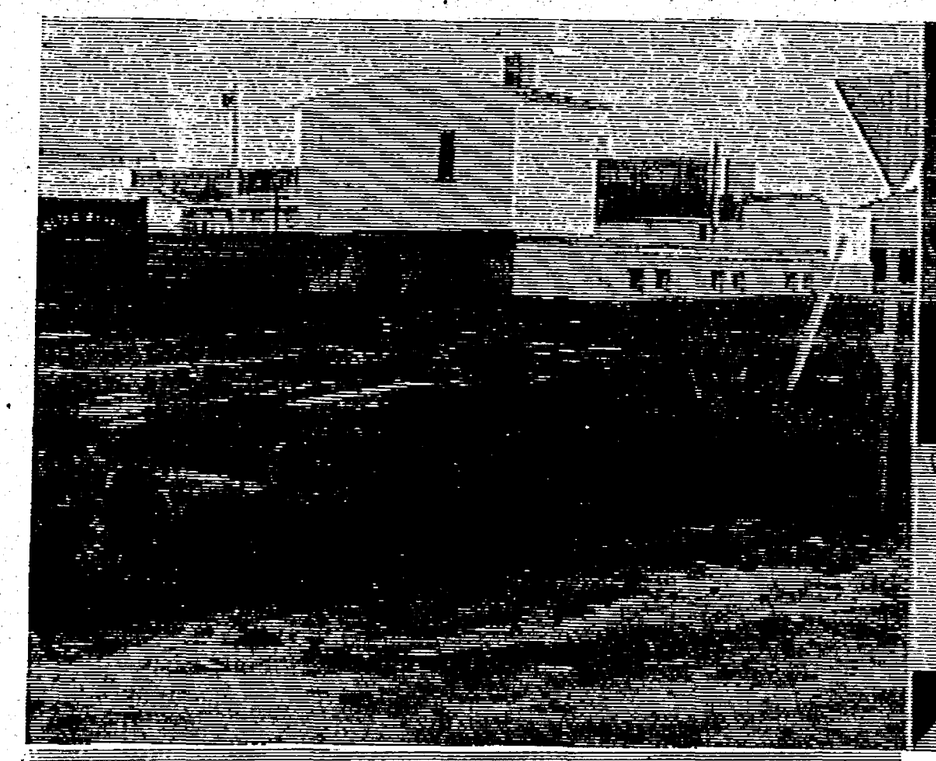
The concept of curved lines can be seen throughout the building. On the outside the corners and special roof structure are both curved. In addition to these, the inside features a curved rostrum, pulpit, and communion table.

The beauty and usability of the building is due largely to creative design and careful planning. In spite of the very high expense of building, this building was contracted at a cost of less than nine dollars per square foot. Architects for the building are MacLeod, Reimer, and Webster of Winnipeg. The General Contractor is Delta Construction Company.

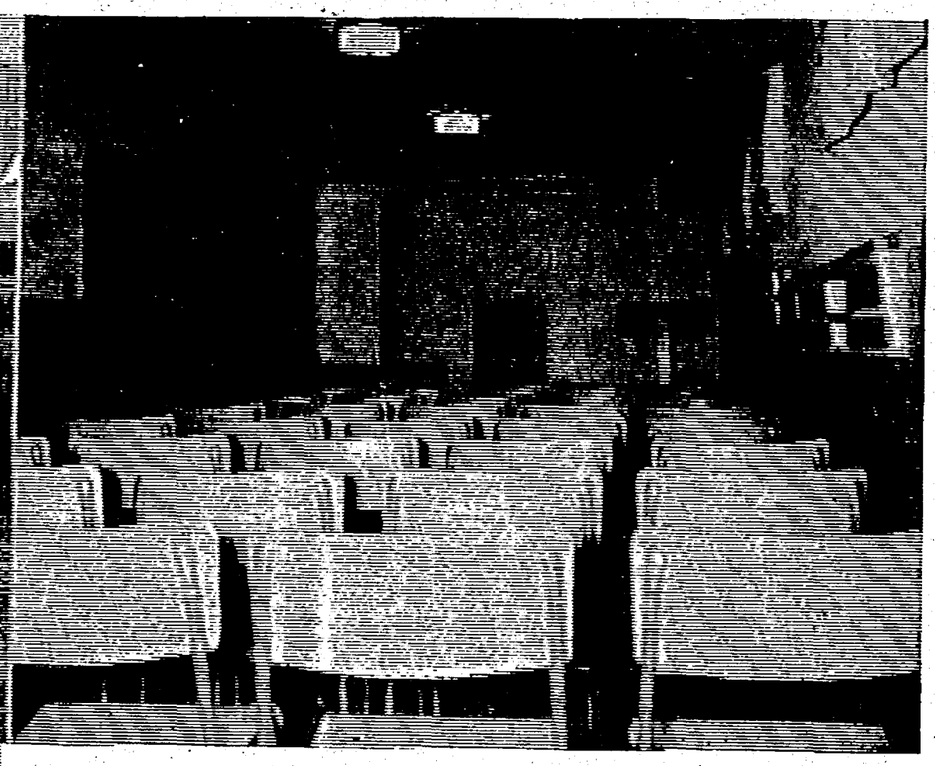
James LeFan of the Western Hills church in Temple, Texas, will be in Winnipeg to speak at the Formal Opening of the building on September 8. He will also speak each night from September 4 through September 12 in a special series of opening services. Several couples are traveling to Winnipeg from Dallas, Texas, for the opening of the building.

The Northside Church of Christ in Dallas and the Church of Christ in Lake Jackson, Texas, have worked together in an unusual way to help the Windsor Park church become self-supporting. Three years ago the project started when the Northside church began to support Wesley Reagan in Winnipeg. With a nucleus of twelve members from the Osborne Street congregation in Winnipeg, a new work was started in the fast-growing Windsor Park area. The Northside church is continuing full support for a preacher until the new congregation is able to assume responsibility.

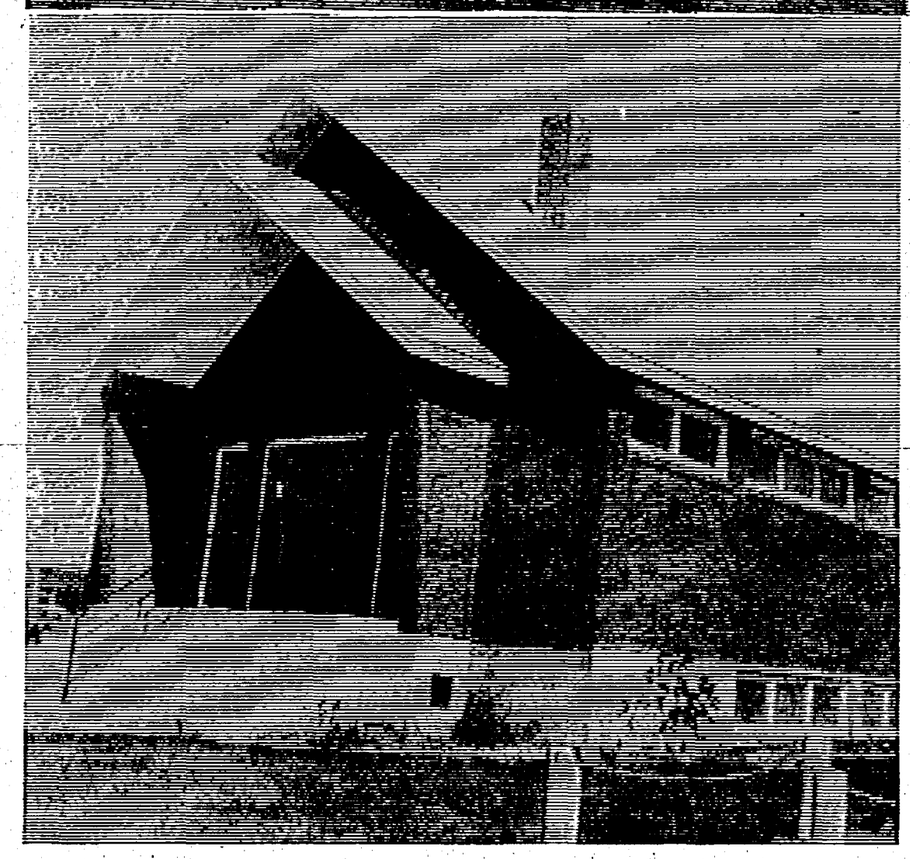
The Lake Jackson church has accepted a great deal of responsibility for securing a building in Windsor Park. They, along with brethren from Dallas and Winnipeg, have raised money for the building. Dozens of congregations and individuals have helped by promising support over a three year period. It is expected that this building will be fully paid for by the end of 1965.



ONE OUT OF TEN



Have you wondered why only one member of the church out of ten receives the benefit of a Christian periodical? Yes, less than ten percent of our brethren subscribe to a brotherhood periodical. Yet, the good to be received by constantly reading a periodical written by dedicated Christians can hardly be exaggerated. Is it any wonder why we are not more mission-minded, why sacrificial giving is the exception rather than the rule, why little emphasis is placed upon Bible study, why few Christians actually engage in soul winning activities, why homes are not more spiritual?



In 1963 we are hoping to get at least one Christian publication into every home in the brotherhood. We challenge every elder, deacon, and minister to make a real effort during the year to place at least one brotherhood periodical into every home in every congregation. The results of such a campaign will bring many rich spiritual benefits.

Let's all do our part in this great effort.

NEWS FROM SWIFT CURRENT, SASKATCHEWAN

Church in Swift Current has been worshipping in this basement (upper left) since November, 1962. The building has been done by members and friends of the church with the exception of the technical work, which was contracted. Walks have been run since picture was taken, landscaping will be left until outer construction is completed.

Above is an inside basement picture taken in the room used for an auditorium. Walls are painted, floors tiled, water heater installed. Seating capacity of this room is sixty. Total cost including the building site $8,190.14.

Future Building — When this building (bottom left) is complete we will have seating room for approximately 150 persons. We hope to complete the construction, including cost of the site for $17,000.00. This is not a contractor's estimate, but one that I have made with the help of men in the lumber business.

375 Central South,
Swift Current, Sask., Canada

Dear Brethren:

We are owing on our present structure $5,300.00 plus interest. This money is from four sources:

$1 000.00 Mr. John Bailey.

$1,000.00 Church of Weyburn, in care of Mr. Art Foulks.

$800.00 Church at Saskatoon, Sask.

$2,500.00 loan on the house of Allen and Betty Jacobs.

The brethren have worked hard and have given generously that we might have a suitable place for worship. We would appreciate being able to pay these accounts that continued work might begin.

During the month of June our attendance averaged 26, with the offering averaging $27.14. This is very good considering the group. Work is being done in teaching: Herald of Truth is being carried by the Highland church. I conduct a question period which follows the Herald of Truth. It is a five minute program. We pay no extra for it. The TV station has given us a very good offer and our preaching program is fully supported.

Can you help us get on the way with the building? Could some of the larger churches assume one of these loans?

We are grateful for the help received in the past. Had it not been for your continued help, we would not have been able to succeed.

Thank you again.

Sincerely,

Allen Jacobs

FORMOSA

Brother and Sister Roy Mullinax and family left August 27 for another period of mission work on the island of Formosa (Nationalist China), supported by the Preston Road church in Dallas, Texas. They previously spent several years working in Taipei, the capital, where brethren have enrolled thousands of truth-seekers in a Bible correspondence course.

SUCCESSFUL BIBLE SCHOOL

August 19-23 was the date of the first Vacation Bible School ever held in Nanaimo, B.C. by the church of Christ. When the pre-enrollment was first begun the results were anything but gratifying. However, the Lord rewarded our labour and answered our prayers. Our daily average was 94 with a high of 98. We were severely under-staffed as we had only 11 teachers. Because of this we were unable to divide the junior class which had 23 students. We want to especially thank Sisters Eilene Price and Eleanor Mann who came up from Victoria and helped us. As a result of the V.B.S. we have several good contacts, and one family of nine has visited our services. Thank God for his bountiful blessings!

Nov. 3-10 brings Bro. Leo C. Owens to Nanaimo from Lloydminster, Sask. for a gospel meeting. We are looking forward with great anticipation to a successful meeting.

JOHNSON

Sister Elsie Johnson, the widow of the late Frank Johnson, passed away in her 77th year, at the General Hospital, where she had been confined for three years. Being in failing health for some time, she suffered a stroke and was unable to care for herself.

Sister Johnson was born in or near St. Catharines, lived in Pelham and Jordan, but the last 33 years of her life were spent in St. Catharines.

She was baptized into Christ while young and was a member of the church at Raymond and Beecher in this city.

She is survived by two sons, Donald and Harold of St. Catharines; a sister, Mrs. Herbert Beamer, Ridgeville and three grandchildren.

The funeral service was conducted from the Hulse & English Funeral Home, with burial in the North Pelham Cemetery.

Bro. Keffer assisted the writer at the Home and the grave.

ADAMS

The passing of Sister Hattie Adams, on August 21st, removed a long time member of the church of Christ, in St. Catharines. She was born in Caniston, Ontario, but lived in the St. Catharines community most of her life.

In 1914 she was baptized into Christ by Bro. D. H. Jackson and remained a faithful member all her life. For years she was a Sunday School teacher at Niagara Street.

During the last few years of her life, she was in failing health, spending various times in the hospital. During the last few months of her stay on earth, she was in the Tufford Nursing Home, where she passed away suddenly.

She leaves to mourn her departure, one daughter, Mrs. Viola Pierce, Sanborn, New York and three grandchildren.

The funeral service was conducted at the Tallman Funeral Home, Vineland, with burial in Victoria Cemetery, St. Catharines.

McLEOD

On August 26, 1963 the spirit of Sister Luella H. McLeod, of Grassie, Ontario, left its abode of clay for regions beyond. Born on February 19, 1884, the daughter of William and Theste Stewart of Tintern, she has been a member of the church for many years.

Her faithful husband, Brother John McLeod, predeceased her in 1944. Since that time she has made a home for the family. The five girls have left the home roof but the three boys have remained. She was a member of the Smithville congregation and attended with some of the family when able.

Remaining to mourn her departure are sons Cedric, Leon and John at home, daughters Jean (Mrs Claire Hysert) of Grassies, Ruth of Portland, Oregon, Theste (Mrs. George Dixon) Kingston, Fay (Mrs. Willis Moffat), Grassies and Carol (Mrs. Allen Haliday) Kingcombe Inlet, B.C., sisters Mrs. Leona Chittick, London, Mrs. Cromwell Foad, St. Catharines and Mrs. Ernest Perry, Tintern, a brother Stanley Stewart of Duncan, B.C. as well as grandchildren and great grandchildren.

The funeral service, conducted by L. J. Keffer, was at the Tallman Funeral Home in Campden and internment was in the Queen's Lawn Cemetery, Grimsby.

A CHALLENGE TO PREACHERS

A few years ago I attended a preachers' meeting where about 50 preachers were gathered. The purpose of the meeting was to make plans to raise money for one of our Christian Colleges. One man suggested that we all contribute whatever money we received from weddings or meetings that we were paid for while our salary at home continued. The suggestion fell flat.

At the same meeting we decided that we would give the waitress a tip of at least $5.00. The hat had to be passed twice before we could raise the needed amount.

Is this typical of preachers in Canada? Let me issue a challenge. Last month (August) Brother Ray McMillan who is working in India, received $45.10. No, that is not a misprint. Imagine trying to live on $45.10 for a month. Now, if every preacher who reads this would give Bro. McMillan just $5.00 per month he would have sufficient support. Think of how it would encourage him to know the preachers of Canada were really behind him. He can't hear your prayers, but he can understand your concern if you send him a few dollars.

Don't try to raise this from your brethren, you give it.

I can already hear the cries of some. You may be underpaid. But, you were never as underpaid as Ray was in the month of August!

If you can honestly say before God, that you cannot afford to give $5.00 per month to this work, then write me and I'll do my best to see that you are sent an extra five dollars per month.

It always interests me to read a report of contributors to a mission work and to see how few preachers are included. I think it would be interesting to publish in the next Gospel Herald a report of how many preachers responded to this need.

Send your check for this month and every month that Bro. McMillan is in India to:

George Husband,

PORTAGE LA PRAIRIE, MANITOBA

The month of August was a busy month at Northside. Our Vacation Bible School was held in the basement of the church building, with an average attendance of 74 the week of the 18th. Also, Gospel meetings were held each evening with Bro. Lester Fisher, of Myrtle Creek, Oregon doing the speaking. These began the evening of the 18th through to the 27th. Leading the singing for the meeting, we were privileged to have Bro. Doyle Chapin, of Gallup, N. Mexico. The Fishers and Chapins helped very capably with the V.B.S.

Four persons were baptized during the meeting. A young man and his wife, Don and Pat Chimney, a mother of a growing family, Mrs. Grace McIvor, and Sharon Peffers, daughter of Bro. and Sis. Cliff Peffers of this congregation. We are happy to welcome them to our circle. All have been attending for some time. May our God richly bless them.

I would like to commend heartily the very fine, strong, sermons delivered by Bro. Fisher. At the close of the meeting, everyone knew just where he stood on the question of smoking, dancing and other questionable practices, that are invading the church. I would to God that all other preachers were equally plain. Bro. Fisher's premise, that 'Soft preaching, makes weak members' is well worthy of our consideration.

We are making plans for the meeting to be held this fall with Bro. Gerald Fruzia of Edmonton doing the speaking. A feature of this meeting will be an hour long singing lesson each night of the meeting. We look forward to an interesting and profitable time.

ORT — HOOVER

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the meeting house of the church of Christ, in Selkirk, Ontario, on August 31, when Joan Hoover, of Selkirk, and George C. Ort, of Hamilton, were united in marriage. Joan is the daughter of Bro. and Sis. Dawson Hoover of Selkirk, a former student of Great Lakes Christian College, also a graduate nurse. George is a writer and student nurse at the General Hospital, Hamilton.

The young couple will reside in Hamilton. —George G. McPhee

TUCKER — MOONEY

Last Saturday, August 24, it was my pleasure to officiate at the wedding of Brother Daryl Tucker of Estevan and Sister Janice Mooney of Radville who has been teaching at Colgate. Janice was attended by her two sisters Gayle and Sheila, while Douglas Parker and James Johnson attended the groom. James Parker assisted James Johnson as ushers. The reception was held in the IOOF hall and was catered to by the Rebecca Lodge. Janice was given in marriage by her uncle, Mr Elvin Hurlburt of Radville. The music was provided by a quartet composed of Irene Beach (Janice's fellow teacher at Colgate), Margaret Muirhead, Walter Seibel of Weyburn and David Toews also of Weyburn.

Daryl and Janice are leaving shortly for Abilene, Texas, where Daryl will continue his studies at Abilene Christian College. I am sure that Daryl and Janice's many friends and loved ones join me in wishing them happiness and a measure of worthwhile achievement in the venture in life together.

ENCOURAGING REPORTS FROM GREAT LAKES

Great Lakes Christian College began its 12th year with a record enrollment of 109 students on hand. This number was an increase of 5 over the September enrollment of a year ago. The 1963-64 registration is composed of 28 Resident boys, 34 Resident girls, 25 Day boys, and 22 Day girls. The Canadian students the greatest distance from home come from Sault Ste. Marie, Thessalon, and Kirkland Lake in Ontario, and from Quebec. Eleven American students are present from Michigan, New York, Vermont, Maine, and Arizona.

The Administration reports that the College's budget was balanced for the 1962-63 School Year. This is believed to be the first year that this has been accomplished. An excellent response to an August appeal sent out by the College to both Canadian and U.S. supporters helped to accomplish this concluding a year in which the financial support for the College's work continued strong throughout.

The campaign for funds for the College's planned Multipurpose building known as the "Two for Ten" campaign for a "Second Founding Fund" reached approximately $65,000 in the early summer. The campaign in Ontario, temporarily suspended during the summer months, is scheduled for conclusion during the months of September and October. The second phase of the campaign will take the needs of the project to U. S. supporters during November and December. The response thus far has been sufficiently encouraging to suggest a good possibility for the completion of the project by a year this September according to the schedule desired.

Brother and Sister Birnie Hotchkiss of Sault Ste. Marie are the most recent additions to the Great Lakes staff. Brother Hotchkiss, previously an elder with the McNab Street congregation, replaces Brother George Johnson as Supervisor of Buildings and Grounds. Brother Johnson had served the College in this capacity for three years on a full-time capacity and part-time for a number of years before. Brother Hotchkiss comes with a wide range of skills, and is ideally suited for the variety of demands that the maintenance of the campus requires. Sister Hotchkiss, a sister of J. C. Bailey, missionary in India, serves as an assistant supervisor of the Girls Dormitory.—Geoffrey Ellis

OUTSTANDING V.B.S. AT SUNDRIDGE

Our Bible school was held at our place the same as last year. In anticipation of a larger enrollment the church purchased a 16 feet x 32 feet used army tent. We had about 100 students pre-enrolled. School opened with 135 students present. That afternoon we were forced to slap to-gether four more 4 feet x 8 feet tables. Tuesday morning was a real downpour of rain — a real drencher. One hundred and eight students came for that day. Wednesday saw 140 students present. Thursday 150 came. Friday was biggest and best with 169 students. There were 190 souls in all counting students and staff that last day. We had a total enrollment of 184 different students. Eighty eight different homes were represented and only 14 of these were associated with the church. The average attendance was 140.2. On Friday evening approximately 150 students were back on the grounds and a large number of parents. An estimated 250 persons crowded onto our premises and enjoyed a wonderful evening. We humbly thank God for such a wonderful opportunity for it was most certainly not our poor feeble effort and ability that made this great school. I would also like to express a word of appreciation for all who contributed of their time and effort in transporting students, erectng the tent etc. Also to the teachers and helpers who worked so patiently with oversize classes in crowded quarters with inadequate facilities.

Teachers were: Teenage—Brodie Harrell, Ice Lake, Ontario; Ages 11 and 12—Ray Lock, North Bay, Ontario and Charles Stephenson, Abilene, Texas—two classes; Age 10—Gordon Dennis, Huntsville, Ontario; Ages 8 and 9 — Pauline O'Neal, Sundridge; Ages 7 and 8—Dorothy Dennis, Huntsville; Ages 6 and 7—Betty Frost, Sundridge; Pre-School — June Kent and Barbara Preston, Sundridge, Ontario — two classes. Assistants to the teachers were: Menola Butson, Sundridge; Mary Kent, Burks Falls; Mrs. John Wallace Sr., Sundridge; Peggy Harrell, Ice Lake; Paula Wilson, Ice Lake; Edith Preston, Sundridge; Caroline Stephenson, Abilene, Texas; Shirley Preston, Sundridge; Rita Smith, Sundridge and John Wallace Jr., Kingston, Ontario J. O'Neal served as director.

Halifax, N.S.: Time has been obtained on a new radio station in Dartmouth which caters to adult listeners and tries to stay away from much of the music popular with young people.

C. G. McPhee of St. Catharines is scheduled to hold meetings at Mill Village and Halifax in September.

HERE AND THERE

Buffalo, N.Y.: One was baptized at North Buffalo on August 14. A recent business meeting approved support for the East Buffalo work, India Mission Fund (for the Donald Perry family), through the Beamsville, Ontario, church, and the World Fair Project through the Queens, N.Y. church.

East Buffalo: This church started with less than six members in 1943 and now has 65 members and 175 in attendance. Seven have been baptized and many restored since the coming of Acey Colston, the first full time evangelist. Churches in North Buffalo and Lewiston were early pledgers of assistance on the purchase of new and excellent property. The bond sale of $50,000 is off to a good start. These bonds earn 6% and we would be glad to furnish further details to any who wish to assist.

Hamburg, N.Y.: "The work is progressing nicely. Attendance at the Sunday services has been 40 to 50 . . . the midweek services 30 to 35. The building on South Park is underway. The foundation is ready to be poured this week. (Sept. 7).

TARGET: CANADA Group Enjoys Reunion

Six families camped for three days late in August near Port Arthur - Fort William to encourage greater participation in the TARGET: CANADA project. Fellowship and discussion of future plans was enjoyed by Bernard and Carole Straker and family, Weyburn, Sask.; Robbie and Sharon Robinson and daughter, Regina, Sask.; Mervyn and Jean Whitfield, Thessalon, Ont.; Gordon and Nora Ellis, Beamsville, Ont.; Blenus and Audrey Wright, Toronto, Ont.; and John and Diane Whitfield and daughter, Cleveland, Ohio. Roy and Nelle Merritt and family, en route to Abilene, Tex. from Ottawa, arrived in time for profitable discussion with some of the group on the third day.

The purpose of the reunion was to stimulate further interest among those already committed to carry the gospel to the Lakehead, and to encourage others to also commit themselves. Secondly, the three-day trip allowed time for a tour of both cities with an eye to future expansion, potential sites for a church building, and a possible location in which to begin worship services in August, 1964.

A third purpose of the trip was to determine future employment opportunities for the group and for prospective members. Bro. Ellis and Straker met with officials at the local Board of Education; Bro. John Whitfield was interviewed by administrators at Lakehead College.

Both Chambers of Commerce were warmly receptive to members of the TARGET: CANADA group, as was the Director of the Lakehead Planning Board, who was very helpful in outlining projected housing and road-building. Encouragement by secular groups or individuals such as these seems to indicate no opposition to the idea of a "new church" at the Lakehead.

The key note of a half-day discussion by members of the group was the fund-raising program. Churches and individuals across Canada will be called upon to help this new congregation become self-supporting. Everyone is urged to donate one dollar per month for thirty-six months. Can you refuse so small a demand? Send your contribution to The Elders, Church of Christ, 346 Strathmore Blvd., Toronto 6, Ont. Donations may be $1.00 monthly, $12.00 annually for three years, or in a lump sum.

Three days at the Lakehead revealed a tremendous task still undone, a great host of people not yet part of the Master's kingdom . . . people that think and live and speak as do we. For our own salvation we cannot afford NOT to carry the gospel to this needy area. Will you join us?

SIXTH YEAR AT W.C.C.

Western Christian College, North Weyburn, Saskatchewan, began its sixth year of operation on September 3rd, with an enrollment of 99 students. Students for the most part are enrolled in grades nine through twelve, and a few students are enrolled in a special one-year commercial course. With some 28 students presently enrolled in the final year, it appears as though Western Christian College will have the largest graduating class in its history. Students have come from many parts of Canada and the U.S. attending from as widely scattered points as Manchester, New Hampshire, and Myrtle Creek, Oregon. Students are also in attendance from North Dakota, Montana, and the four Western Provinces. Prospects for an excellent year are in store in every way. The year 1963-64 has been set aside by the Board of Directors of WCC as a year of special spiritual emphasis. Many plans for programs to encourage spiritual activity have been laid throughout the year. The weekend of October 11 through 14 will feature the annual lectureship with this year, Bro. Marshall Keeble, of Nashville, Tennessee, a great Negro evangelist, as feature speaker. Administration of the college anticipates that nearly 1,000 visitors will visit the campus of the school during the three day weekend. A special series of meetings also is planned in March with Brother Jim Hawkins of Victoria, B.C. Also planned for next June for the campus of WCC is the annual meeting of the Presidents of Christian Colleges and Schools. A great year is in prospect for Western!

HERE AND THERE

India

The work here is encouraging. Since our return from Madras we baptized a young business man from a town about 40 miles from here. Brother Kharluki was responsible for teaching him. This young man says he wants to give full time to preaching. He speaks four or five languages. He can be a tremendous help to the work. He is proving himself a good student. Then on Saturday evening last an elderly man was restored. He was at one time one of the most successful preachers in this work. But when trouble arose in this work he was led away We were impressed by the sincerity of his repentance and confession. He has already gone out to a village to try to win souls for Christ.

Attendance at Mawlai has increased much in recent weeks and the interest is much better.

RESPONSIBLE CHRISTIAN JOURNALISM

by Geoffrey Ellis, Beamsville

The archaic but quaint expression found in letters of by-gone years — "I now take my pen in hand to write you . . ." served nicely to emphasize the importance of the epistle both to the sender and to the receiver. Something of that regard for the solemn significance of the moment exists when an editor "takes pen in hand" to communicate, via a publication, a point of truth to a host of people. He automatically takes to himself both the representation of the cause he espouses as well as the perogatives of widespread influence. Viewed in this context, Christian Journalism poses severe responsibilities.

Quickly, it can be appreciated that the responsibilities are three-fold, having to do with: (1) Journalism, (2) Publication, and (3) that which is Christian.

Because the channel of communication involved is written, it is required that the writing be of a calibre that will compliment the noble purpose which calls it forth. Ungrammatical construction, placid prose, stereo-typed phrases, trite and hackneyed expressions, disjointed composition, thread-bare homilies, irrelevant topics, and party-line repetitions should form the mill-stone that would quickly sink the tiresome paper from the disinterested public's view.

The Christian periodical should be characterized by a construction as fresh as the Christian life can be for modern man, by a viewpoint as provocative as Christ's contentions have always been, and by a content as interesting and wide-ranging as is demanded by a faith that claims to be "THE Way."

The word PUBLICation clearly indicated the scope of communication intended. Any writing prepared for public consumption is immediately placed under certain restraints and requirements. Not being a personal, inter-family dispatch, a Christian paper should shun airing for public attention the "dirty linen" of petty, internecine squabbles. Shame on any journal that causes "the name of God (to be) blasphemed among the Gentiles." (Rom. 2:24)

Some publications are specifically designed to serve as

Congratulations To The Editors

by Geoffrey H. Ellis, Beamsville

The last issue of the Gospel Herald completed 10 years of effective Christian journalism under the joint editorship of Eugene Perry and Roy Merritt. Commendations are due them for a consistently well-produced, spiritually worthwhile publication. They have provided an invaluable benefit to the Cause identified on the Herald masthead: "The Promotion of New Testament Christianity."

The calibre of the Gospel Herald is high. The editorial approach of the paper is positive. Its contents provide interesting reading for Christian and the seeker alike. Widespread awareness of, and enthusiasm for, the progress of the Church have been stimulated by the "Here and There" and the "Gleanings from the Foreign Fields" columns. The special departments—Teaching God's Word, The Christian Youth Page, Book Reviews, and the Bible Quiz — combine to satisfy a variety of interests.

Although the Herald's circulation is primarily Canadian, many copies go monthly to the U.S. This has, no doubt, been responsible in part for the growing interest in the Canadian Mission field in that area. On several occasions subscribers south of the boarder have commented to me: "I enjoy the Gospel Herald more than any other Gospel paper I read."

On behalf of readers everywhere, may I extend congratulations and sincere thanks to brethren Merritt

THE BIBLE

Keith T. Thompson

Did you know that Mary Magdalene was the mother of Jesus? That the New Testament book which records Paul's conversion is Psalms? That the last book of the Bible is Evolution? That Mary Margaret was Naomi's daughter-in-law? That the first murderer listed in the Old Testament is Pilot? That the title of the first four New Testament books is Beatitudes? That King Saul consulted Sybil on the day before his death? That Isaiah was a son of Solomon?

These are but some of the answers taken from a Bible-knowledge test administered to 357 incoming freshmen at Westminister College. Of a total of 25 questions the average number answered correctly was eight! These young people not only ranked high in general intelligence but the great majority of them were members of various churches. (The Fourth 'R' by Joseph M. Hopkins, in Christianity Today, August 30, 1963).

This is just one example of many that could be cited of the amazing ignorance of the Bible in our time.

The Value of the Bible

Did you know that people have gone to the Bible to find out where to drill for oil or dig for copper? A geologlist read these words in Deuteronomy 32:13, "oil out of the flinty rock." He began drilling and found oil in an area called Heletz near the Gaza strip. Dr Nelson Glueck, a famous Jewish scholar read in Deuteronomy "a land whose stones are iron and out of whose hills thou mayest dig brass." Mining experts learned of this and today at Timna, Israel stands a busy copper mine. But a far greater treasure than oil or copper is revealed on every page of the Bible, and you don't have to be a geologist to discover these riches for yourself. We mean the spiritual riches found in God's Word.

The Bible is the most remarkable book in the world. It is respected and loved above all other books. It is near to the three billion mark in circulation. No other book has been translated into so many languages—now about 1,125.

The Bible is the most influential book in the world. Think of the many figures of speech that we use that are from the Bible. A helpful person is a "Good Samaritan." A troublesome person is "a thorn in the flesh." A nuisance is a "millstone about the neck." A welcome friend is "the salt of the earth." One of Lincoln's great speeches was on the theme of "a house divided." Recent Broadway plays have been called "The Voice of the Turtle" and "Little Foxes." Many people probably use figures of speech from the Bible without realizing the origin of their words.

Suppose we removed the influence of the Bible from the writings of great authors of the past like Blake, Emerson or Tennyson or of the present like T S Eliot and Winston Churchill. What a change would be observed in their works!

The historical value of the Bible cannot be overemphasized. It contains trustworthy information about many nations, cities and persons, about which little or nothing is known from other sources. The Jewish archaeologist, Dr. Nelson Glueck has stated that no discovery has been made by archaeology that contradicts the Bible.

But the greatest worth of this volume is not in its literary or historical merits. Its true value is found in the fact that it is God's Book — it reveals God's will to man. Paul wrote that "All Scripture is given by the inspiration of God . . ." (2 Tim. 3:16). I like the story of the little girl who wanted to give her father a Bible as a gift. She wanted to write something nice on the fly leaf. "From your darling daughter" sounded too ordinary. So she looked in different books to see what other people had written. Finally, she found something she liked. When her father opened his new Bible he was amazed to read the words "From the Author." Truly, the Bible is "From the Author" It is from God to us.

What the Bible Will Do For Us

The Encyclopedia salesman tells us of all the wonderful things his books will do for us. One of them claimed that they would "build a wonderful new life" and "give us a whole new world of knowledge at our finger tips." But he adds that a year book is necessary to keep the set up to date. The Bible gives us knowledge that even the encyclopedia cannot provide. And the Bible has not been brought up to date for almost two thousand years.

An unbeliever once met a believer and reminded him that there were some parts of the Bible where authorship was uncertain. "Wait a minute," the believer said. "Who wrote the multiplication table?" The unbeliever confessed he did not know, and the believer said, "How logical you are! You believe it and use it, and yet you don't know who its author was." "But the multiplication table works," the unbeliever said, trying to find a way out of his dilemma. "No doubt," the believer replied. "And so does the Bible!"

Space permits us only to list some of the things that the Bible will do for us. 1. The Bible reveals the true and the living God. We learn many things by observation, experience, experimentation or deduction. But in the spiritual realm there are those things we can never discover for ourselves. Nature implies the existence of God; but only the Bible fully reveals His nature. 2. The Bible reveals man as he really is. It is like a mirror and shows us our true state (James 1:22-25.) It shows that man is afflicted with a disease of the soul called sin (Romans 3:23; 6:23). 3. But best of all it reveals the Saviour who can save us from our sins (Matt. 1:21). 4. It is a guide, showing us the way from earth to heaven. A stranger was lost in the hills of Vermont. He finally met a lumberjack and asked "How do you get to Burlington from here?" After much thought the lumberjack replied, "Stranger, if I were going to Burlington I wouldn't start from here." The Bible shows us where we came from, why we are here, and where we are going. It is "a lamp to my feet and a light to my path" (Psalms 119:105). 5. God's word

OUR WONDERFUL CREATOR

Donald R. Givens,
Coalinga, California

One reason why I believe in a personal supreme being is because of the very origin of this orderly earth in which we live. This material world and universe had to have a starting point. This is the issue. Who started it? or what started it?

No one can deny that matter is here. A material, tangible universe does certainly exist. How did it come about? Was it by mere chance or creative miracle? This is what we shall attempt to find out in this short article.

No person can truthfully say that matter does not exist. It surrounds us on every hand. Matter is an effect of some other cause than itself in the beginning because something would have to have created it. Something cannot come from nothing. Material things or matter has to be an effect of the first cause.

Someone may ask, "How do we not know that matter was the first cause?" "Could not matter have produced life?" We shall let Mr John Gerstner answer this:

If matter were the author of all things, it would be, in the first place, the author of life. But how can it be? Matter itself has no life. (emphasis mine, DRG). It is, by definition, 'inanimate.' That is Webster speaking. The man on the street has the same idea: 'lifeless matter' he calls it . . . So anyway you look at it, matter does not seem able to account for life, even the life within itself, much less outside itself.

So we know matter did not and could not create itself. Something or someone had to create it. Matter is lifeless and did not of itself begin life. Matter could not have come out of nothing, for out of nothing—nothing comes. One cannot have something created or started from nothing. Pure so-called "nothing" can produce absolutely nothing except more "nothing." This is simple but very true.

Something is. Something does certainly exist, we know this for a fact as surely as we know that we ourselves exist. Mankind and animals and plants and minerals DO exist. Therefore, since we have matter (something), we know that something, whatever it may be, has always existed. One has finally to get back to something without a cause and without a beginning. This is Jehovah God, the Creator of the universe. For something is—therefore something always was.

Either this material universe came by CHANCE or it was created by an INTELLIGENCE. It has to be one or the other. Which is more reasonable to believe? Did the earth we now live on, just happen to evolve into a wonderful unity, or did a personal and intelligent being give it this unity?

The elements in this earth had to come from somewhere. They are so wonderfully and intelligently arranged as to agrue for one cause back of them. The cosmos, or the world as we call it, proves the glory and the handiwork of Jehovah. Let us notice again what Mr. Gerstner has to say concerning this aspect:

Our world and our universe argue that the cause back of them is one cause. The universe is composed of many parts but one plan. A cosmos, or ordered whole, implies a single ordering mind back of it.

Yes, how true, the whole universe does work as a team together in harmony and unity. Its laws are purposeful, and they argue for one Creator.

Could mere chance produce such an effect as one sees in the whole world today? Could mere chance produce even a small thing as a wrist watch? No, the working design of the watch proves that it was made by an intelligent designer. This designer we call the watchmaker. It is the same in the universe but on a much bigger and grander scale. It would be just as easy to believe that the wrist watch "happened to come together by chance" as to believe the universe came about by "mere chance, or evolution." Perhaps the former would even be easier to believe than the latter.

On the physical universe and everything in it is seen the stamp of an intelligent design. The imprint of a wonderful and united design. WHO was the designer? Was it mere chance? Was it an impersonal being? Or was it a personal, intelligent being? Which is more logical and reasonable? The very design of the cosmos argues for an intelligence back of it just as the very design of the wrist watch argues for an intelligent watch-maker back of it.

Is this intelligence back of the cosmos impersonal, or personal? Which makes better sense: to say something impersonal can possess this superior intellect; or to say that something personal possesses this superior intellect? There cannot be an intelligent design without first an intelligent designer. The wrist watch did not "just happen to evolve" into a working mechanism. Neither did the universe, my friend!

As Adam Clarke has expressed it, "God is infinitely wise." Yes, the Creator of this wonderful universe is an intelligent, wise and personal being. Everything in the universe, from the glowing sun to the smallest raindrop, shows forth His supreme intelligence and glory and beautiful design. His handiwork is deeply imprinted in every element of this wide earth. Mere chance or an impersonal entity could not have produced such a splendid and perfect effect.

Jehovah, the One True and Living God, created this earth that we live on today. This design that permeates the universe proves there was an intelligent designer back of it all. And for there to have been an intelligent designer, there must have been personality behind this design. This personality is GOD.

"In the beginning GOD created the heavens and the earth." This I believe. Jehovah is the wonderful creator.

WHITHER CATHOLICISM?

There is an open warm pursuit of closer relations with Rome by Protestant leaders. It seems that the leaders of the major Protestant groups are prepared to move closer to Rome at any cost. On the program of the Fourth World Faith and Order Conference, held in Montreal in July, was a Roman Catholic biblical scholar and a Roman Catholic cardinal. The scholar gave his views of biblical authority and Cardinal Leger participated in the worship program.

Observers at this Protestant World Council report that there was a strong move to exalt Tradition at the expense of Scripture. This must have pleased the Catholic observers but would not be in accord with the spirit of the Reformation from which the member churches came. It is a desertion of the original plea of the Protestant reformers and a betrayal of the principles for which thousands died. Moreover, and more especially, it makes unnecessary a refusal to unite with Rome, which has maintained the authority of Tradition over Scripture for centuries.

While Protestants are trying to find some means to make their doctrines acceptable to Rome, the Roman church is reciprocating. There has been a greater interest in the Gospels and in the Bible in the vernacular. At the present time, a committee of Protestants and Catholic scholars are working on a new version of the Bible which will be acceptable to both groups. Who can believe that such a version can be achieved without major compromieses? It is likely that Rome will be less willing to give ground than will liberal theologians of other faiths.

Rome has argued for centuries that the common man or even the individual priest could not understand the Scriptures apart from the teaching voice of the church. At the first Vatican Council, the claim was advanced for an infallible interpretation found only in the Roman church. "No one is allowed to interpret Sacred Scripture contrary to this sense nor contrary to the unanimous agreement of the Fathers." This makes scriptural truth identical with Roman Catholic interpretation.

Any person who is overly optimistic concerning an early reunion with Rome needs to open his eyes to the true situation. Cardinal Bea, who was appointed to head the enquiry concerning possible reunion with Protestants under John XXIII, has stated plainly what Rome's terms are. They are in essence "submission in matters of Doctrine and Discipline under the supreme pastor, the successor of St Peter, the Bishop of Rome."

On September 29, second session of the Vatican Council reconvened. Newspaper and radio have kept us informed of some of the questions under discussion. They are not able to present us with the aims and designs in the minds of Pope Paul and the Curia. The full impact of the Council will be felt only as its decisions seep down through diocesan offices and into the parish organizations.

It is generally accepted that the new pope is inclined toward a more conservative view than his predecessor. Despite his conservatism, he is thoroughly dedicated to the task of winning the world for his church using all the latest media.

The winds of change are blowing in both Protestantism and Catholicism. In a world of change and dialogue, there is need for true Christians to learn well and to hold carefully to scriptural convictions. Who knows but what God has raised us up for such a time as this?

TEACHING GOD'S WORD

HOW ADULT TEACHING CAN BE IMPROVED No. 2

H. Ralph Perry, London, Ontario

"Did you take aim last Sunday?"

"What do you mean, did I take aim? Are you suggesting that I missed Bible school and worship for a hunting trip. I would never do that."

We are not talking about hunting four legged animals but teaching adults and any other age group of humans. If you taught a class last Sunday you should have taken more careful aim than the hunter. We all know that it is foolish and dangerous for a hunter to shoot a powerful weapon without taking specific and careful aim.

One reason why teaching of the Bible is so fruitless is that the teacher doesn't have an aim for the lesson. If you disagree, please be patient and consider the following. We stated last month that adult teaching can be improved through: 1. Informed teachers (in the Word); 2. Trained teachers; 3. and Prepared teachers.

4. Adult Teaching Can Be Improved Through Teachers Having A Proper Aim.

A specific aim is needed for each lesson taught. There should be a general aim for a series of lessons, but a real definite and well defined aim for each class period. It should answer the question: "What am I trying to accomplish in the lives of my students through this lesson?"

A. A Lack of Aim Will Be Demonstrated By:

1. Drifting or rambling by the teacher and the class. With no definite place to go this is almost bound to happen. Very little is accomplished.

2. Absence of application. Often we teachers cover portions of Scripture but fail in making meaningful applications in terms of the needs and problems relative to the every day lives of adults in the class. Our teaching is too general and thus not nearly as helpful as it should be.

3. Trying to cover too much material. There are times when an attempt is made to cover a large section of Bible, a whole chapter, or a whole book in one lesson. Sometimes we try to touch every detail. The only aim seems to be to cover a certain specified section of Scripture. It would be much better to have the class read the whole text but to pick out the points in it most needed by the students in your class and formulate a specific aim relative to these. We would cover less material but teach more vital truth.

4. No results. We should expect results from our teaching. There is a book about teaching the Bible entitled, Teaching for Results by Edge. It would probably do all of us good to read this. If nothing happens in the lives of our pupils in Christian development and service we really haven't taught.

Without an aim for each lesson — without something definite in mind which we expect to accomplish in our students we won't succeed in teaching God's message.

5. Discouragement and lack of interest. Without a sense of direction and accomplishment teacher and students alike will become discouraged. The class will be drab and lifeless. Students will lose interest and quit attending. With clear aim resulting in joyful accomplishment, there will be vital interest on the part of the class. There will be desire to attend and participate in the class session, and in Christian growth and service.

B. Factors Involved In Selection of An Aim.

There are two main factors involved in the right selection of an aim or goal for the lesson.

1. The pupil. The age, needs, problems, circumstances, and activities of each pupil needs to be considered. As far as possible the aim should be stated in terms of the total life and needs of the pupils.

2 The lesson. Of course the material to be taught has to be considered in forming a goal to be accomplished. Lessons from the text most suited and needed by the class should be emphasized.

C. Qualities Of A Good Aim.

1. It ought to be brief enough to be remembered. A long involved aim will not be easily kept in mind. If you have a long, detailed aim work it over. Think of your pupils. Think of their needs. Condense it.

2. It ought to be clear enough to be written down. Perhaps we have an aim but it is so fuzzy that it would take much effort to put it into words on paper. A good aim should be clear, concise, and understandable. So that we will really know what we are striving to accomplish let us write down the aim for each lesson.

3. It ought to be specific enough to be achieved. Because we are too general in our aims and applications, adults have no conception of what they are to do with the truth taught. What is expected of them as a result of the lesson should be so clear that they will not only know what conduct and action is expected of them but will go from the class with a desire to act and a knowledge of how to accomplish the desired goal.

D. Different Types of Aims.

1. Knowledge Aim. Here the dominant purpose is to lead the class in a logical, systematic, intensive study of a portion of Scripture and to a mastery of that Scripture. The basic goal is to make the class master of facts. This is to know what the Scriptures have said.

2. Inspiration aim. The dominant purpose here is to lead the class to a deeper appreciation of some Christian truth. An attempt is made to change attitudes for good or to make more vital weak attitudes and convictions. The aim here is such that some emotional response is required. An aim might be to lead the class to a deeper appreciation of Jesus as God's Son. Another aim could be to lead the class to deeper

WHO SAID IT?

If we were investigating a crime, our aim, of course, would be to catch the person guilty of committing the crime. One of the methods that we might employ is that of asking a number of questions. By putting together the answers that we received, we would hope to be able to discover the identity of the guilty party.

In this article, we are attempting to discover an individual's identity by finding out who has made certain statements. Here are the person's statements.

"The existence of God cannot be proved. I have never seen God, nor have I touched God. Therefore, I conclude that God does not exist." Our "mystery man" further states, "Belief in the existence of God is not reasonable. To suppose that some almighty being has existed eternally, and that he made the universe, and everything that is in the universe, is not logical."

The two statements given above are often offered as proof to support the theory that God does not exist. It is interesting to notice that these so called arguments may even more forcefully be used against the views of the "non-Believer".

Let us examine the first one, that is, that the existence of God cannot be proved. Before one could honestly say this, he would need to have scanned the heavens and the earth in search of God; he would have to minutely examine time and eternity! One would have to be in all places at all times in order to state as fact that God does not exist. It would be necessary for him to know all things. In short, one would have to become as God, to prove for a certainly that God does not exist. The possibility of the existence of God always hangs over the head of the non-believer. If he is right, then no one will ever know it, because at death we would all merely cease to exist. If, however, he is wrong, we all shall know it, and he who has rejected God will be condemned by the very Being whose existence he has denied!

But let us turn to the second statement, which declares that belief in the existence of God is not reasonable. The writer believes that quite to the contrary, to say that life and all it's wonders came about by chance rather than by creation, is not reasonable! This universe, our bodies, even life itself is without doubt, a product of design. The way our solar system works, the functions of our bodies, all had to be designed, and as one person has well stated, "you can't have design without a designer. . ."

To see this great fact in even more forceful and logical form, we note these words, "For every house is builded by some man; but he that built all things is God" (Hebbrews 3:4). Certainly no one would look at a house, or a building of any kind, and sincerely state that no one had built that house, but that it just came about by chance! The best we could say for a person making a statement like that would be that his sanity had left him. Yet how much more foolish is it to look at a wonder thousands of times more complicated (like human life, or our universe) and say that it all came from nothing, and developed by chance! Indeed, it makes more sense to believe in a Supreme being, than to put one's hope in a supreme nothing!

Now then, have you been able from words to deduct the identity of our "Mystery man"? If you still need further clues, we suggest that you turn to Psalms 14:1, where you will read the following, "The fool hath said in his heart, there is no God". Yes, young people, however sincere a person may be, however well educated, according to the Bible, only a fool would make such a horrible mistake as to say that there is no God!" —R. L. M.

HONOURS AT OMAGH

It seems to this writer that it is truly an honour to win an award for good conduct and achievement while at a Bible camp. Here a young person might find opportunity to indulge in a little more freedom than at home. When we have freedom we are liable to make a few mistakes even though we are cautioned and try hard not to do so.

Several young people who were at Camp this year displayed their ability to enjoy themselves and at the same time to behave in a way that is worthy of recognition. The winners of the Mary Wyper trophy this year were: Patricia Perry (senior girl), Jack Denham (senior boy), Jewel Hals (junior girl) and Gary Smith (junior boy).

The following won their choice of a Bible or a Bible concordance: Patricia Perry, Jack Denham, David Hubbard, David Perry, Diana Merritt, Jewel Hals and Edmund Whittington. Congratulations to all.

THE BIBLE

aids our growth as Christians (1 Pet. 2:2). 6. It gives us comfort and hope. (1 Thess. 4:18).

We do not worship the Bible, but the God revealed therein. We need to consult it constantly and thus we will find our delight in the law of the Lord (Psalms 1:2).

One day we all will be judged by the Word of God (John 12:48). This should impress us with the importance of appreciating and following it now.

CHRISTIAN JOURNALISM

vehicles of dignified debate where opposing views can be perused by a concerned few, or as instruments for the encouragement and dissemination of scholarly research. However, the general Christian journal, prepared for the average reader, is required to refrain from technical, theological, and philosophical discussions, as well as from formidable forensics.

The Christian paper usually attempts to reach both the seekers and the saints. To the former should go compellingly stated, straight-forward articles intended to teach them the "way of God more perfectly." To the latter should go stirring articles of "teaching, reproof, correction, and instruction in righteousness," well calculated to disturb, encourage, and inspire them so that none will be "at ease in Zion."

Again, although some journals are avowedly dedicated to the historical disciplines, a general Christian publication needs to concern itself frankly with the contemporary scene. To the degree that Christian principles are applied successfully to the solving of current problems, to that degree Christianity has advanced in our own generation. The Christian journal can here provide outstanding leadership by treating courageously such pressing matters as racial intolerance, dissolving social behaviour, the evils of alcohol and tobacco, business unethics, problems of adolescents, the family break - down, the growing secularism, the advance of scientism, and a host of others.

Finally, striving to offer a CHRISTIAN journal presents a set of standards unusual to other types of publications. Even though the express purpose of the Christian publication is to carry a Christian message to the public, yet the enterprise, as far as the editor(s) and publisher(s) are concerned remains "private" as relates the Church. The Christian paper is an individual attempt by a "human institution" to accomplish a worthy Christian aim, ie. edification; and stands on the same footing as such varied private expressions of Christian aspiration as Christian schools, ie. education, and Christian homes and hospitals, ie. benevolence. As such, the Christian paper should not take to itself the rights and privileges of the Church, the divinely appointed instrument of God for carrying out His purposes in a corporate way. A paper which attempts a political interference in the affairs of the Church, or seeks to maintain a policy making control ever the Church is clearly out of order. A paper which establishes itself as the brotherhood tribunal publicly castigating supposed offenders, both men and congregations, acts in bad taste, usually with a poor grasp of the facts, and thus its perpetrators ultimately will be judged harshly with the same harsh judgment by which they have judged. Finally, of course, the matter of doctrinal clarification resides with the constituted leadership of the Church, not in the editorial page any more than in the seminary hall. The Christian paper best serves when it respects the sanctity of the Church and the authority of the Eldership.

Paradoxically the Christian paper best serves when it sensitively calls attention to failures attendant to the human side of the Church. Constant polite but penetrating analysis of the Church's present effectiveness given and received in the proper spirit can well be the most important service rendered by a Christian publication.

The Christian journal will be dedicated to a truly scriptural expression, devoted to the service of Almighty God, and motivated by a deep love for humankind. The fearfull failures which constantly threaten the worthiness of a Christian publication merely serve to more vividly clarify its potential for invaluable contribution. May God bless the GOSPEL HERALD to this end.

TEACHING GOD'S WORD

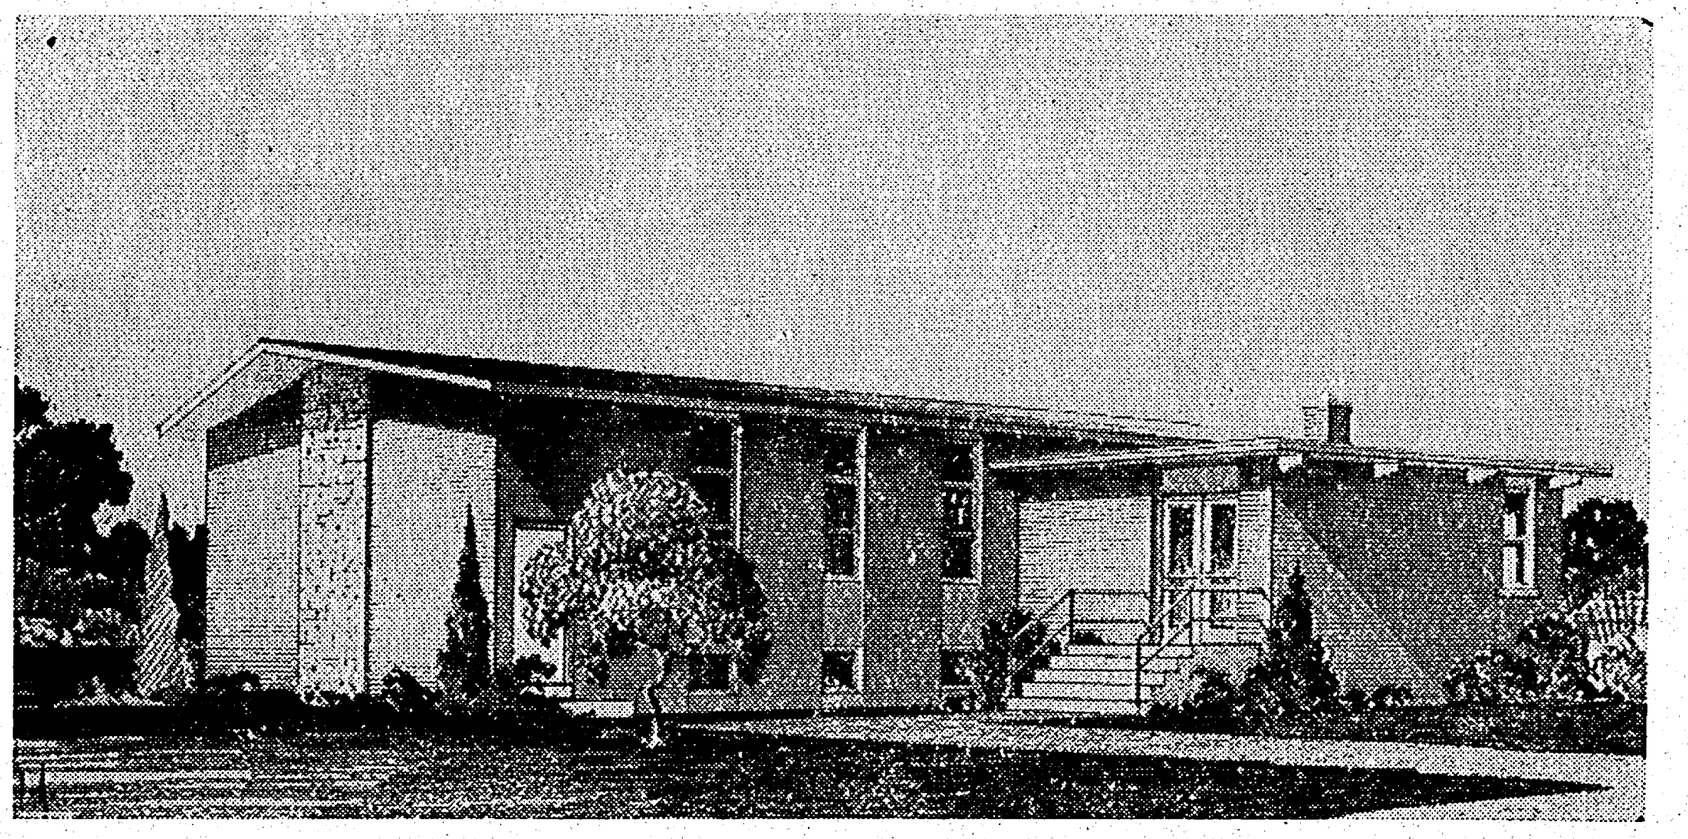
awareness of the needs of the less fortunate of earth. The response here will quite often be momentary or of short duration and will need repetition.

3. Conduct aim. The dominant purpose here is to lead individuals to begin to express in a specific way some Christian action in daily life. The results ought to be observable. We ought to be able to see what is done.

The big problem with our teaching and preaching is that nothing happens. May we illustrate this. Once a class of students was taken to hear a preacher. He was asked to get out his best sermon. The students were given the opportunity to ask questions of the general assembly. First they asked the people what they thought of the sermon. Almost everyone stated that it was an excellent sermon. It was one of the best they had ever heard. It was terrific. Then they were asked what they were going to do about it. They were flustered and could not answer clearly. They thought the sermon was wonderful but really didn't know what was expected of them.

We might aim to lead our pupils to live courageously for Jesus or to live a more consecrated life. These are so general that nothing will happen. We must aim to lead the class to commit themselves to something specific such as Bible study, witnessing for Christ, prayer life, etc.



Since we must educate the whole man for Christ, there must needs be a combination of these aims. We must teach a knowledge (facts) of the word of God — the education of the HEAD. We must teach proper Christian attitudes — the education of the HEART. We must teach proper Christian conduct — the education of the HAND.

The conduct response is most important, for this is the Christian life. This should always be kept in mind when we put together our aim for a lesson. Really the knowledge aim and attitude aim are means to this end and cannot be separated from it.

Having an aim in teaching each Bible lesson is most important. May we be specific in stating our aim in terms of "what we want our pupils to know, what we want our pupils to feel, and what we want our pupils to do as a result of the lesson."

(Much of this material came from a night class taught by David Bell at London College of Bible and Missions.)

LONDON CHURCH NOW BUILDING

Architect's Sketch Of New London Building

At last we are building! It hardly seems possible but construction has actually started on our new church building in London, Ontario. Completion is to be on or about February 15th, 1964.

Really, we had hoped to be in our new building by September or October. Delays due to land development, approval of building plans, mortgage approval, city permission to use the land, water hook-up and other items have set the work behind several months. Thus after months of mental and physical effort and spiritual concern, it is a great relief to know that construction has begun.

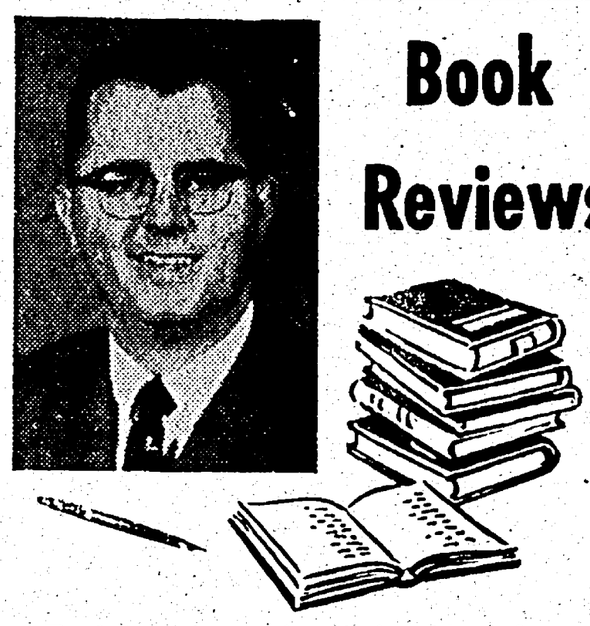
There are some reasons for the unforeseen delays. First, Huron Heights subdivision, Phase 4, where the church lot is located changed hands during negotiations. This changed development plans including the servicing of our lot. Second, because of this, we are actually going ahead of development. This has created a number of problems such as sewers, water, gas, and access. Last, mortgage approval was delayed because of the smallness of the group.

The building will be situated on a 2.10 acre on Huron Street, a main artery in northeast London. It is of cement block and brick construction. The low pitch roof will be held up by open laminated beams. The main part of the building is 28' x 56', and the side entrance 16' x 24' with a full basement. This structure is planned as a first unit which can be divided into classrooms when a larger auditorium is needed.

The main floor will have an auditorium seating 126 people, an 8' x 18' nursery-cry room, two washrooms, foyer, 9' x 9½ combination class-room, and an equipment room. In the basement there is a furnace room, a 15' 2" x 42' assembly room which could be divided into two classrooms later, three classrooms approximately 11' x 15', one large classroom 9' x 26' (can be divided later), and one irregular shaped room containing 123 square feet. When the building is utilized to capacity, there could be 11 or 12 teaching areas.

Church Enterprise of Canada Ltd., of Simcoe, Ontario are supplying plans, sketches, and most of the wood materials, windows, lighting fixtures and hardware. The rest is locally contracted. Cost not counting pews ($1300.00), sidewalks, parking area, baptistry ($275.00), septic tank ($250.00), tiling for floors and a few other items, is $23,500.00. Total cost will run over $26,000.00. We had hoped for $20,000.00 but didn't originally plan the side addition and other unforeseen items. The land cost was $7,000.00. The project is being financed through donations and a $15,000.00 mortgage.

We want to thank churches and individuals from British Columbia and California to Labrador and from Florida to Winnipeg for financial assistance without which we could not be building now. Ontario churches responded best to our appeals for help. To adequately complete the building and provide furnishings, more help is needed. We do not have the exact financial figures, but hope to send out a detailed report to all contributors before this report is read.



We now have a membership of 21 and prospects of 25 in the near future. Our goal was set at 30 last December when we had 11 members. Already we have reached 100 in Bible school with a much greater potential if we only had the teachers.

We want to thank one and all for your interest, prayers, and help. Come to see us when you can.

Book Reviews

Books to be reviewed in this column should be sent to Keith T. Thompson, Box 403, Beamsville, Ont., Canada.

A Commentary on the General Epistle of James by J. W. Roberts. R. B. Sweet Co. Austin, Texas. 233 pages. $3.50 (plus 10% in Canada).

In the Preface the author points out that the book of James has been a much neglected book among the churches of Christ. As far as is known to the author of this work, this is the first full length commentary to be written on this book in the ranks of the Restoration Movement. He is certainly right in saying that the time is ripe for some commentary to be produced on the letter.

J. W. Roberts is admirably suited to write such a commentary. He has his doctorate in Greek. Brother Roberts has been on the faculty of Abilene Christian College for several years. Also, he serves as editor of the scholarly journal, Restoration Quarterly.

The author's knowledge of Greek allows him to bring out the meaning of the text in a most accurate manner. He gives the variant readings from various translations as well. But the author's scholarship does not make his commentary dry or obscure. On the contrary, he expresses himself in very clear and interesting language.

One of the great values of this volume is observed in the way that the scriptural text is applied to modern situations. Brother Roberts is not content to apply James to the doctrinal problems of one hundred years ago. But he makes the application to those of the mid twentieth century.

A number of helpful "Notes" also enhance the value of the commentary. These follow particularly difficult passages and deal with such topics as Moral Perfection, "Faith Only", Gehenna, the Indwelling of the Spirit, Elders, Extreme, Unction, etc.

Finally, there is an appendix dealing with "The Sources for the Later Life and Death of James."

It is regrettable that no commentary on James was written by our brethren in years gone by. We can be most grateful to Brother Roberts for producing this masterpiece. We can only hope that he will write commentaries on other New Testament books.

The commentary on James is uniform with the Gospel Advocate commentaries.

Special Feature Next Month

Northern Ontario has, in recent months, shown encouraging progress and promise of growth for the church. There has been a commendable amount of zeal and effort demonstrated in this area. Brother Clyde Lansdell has kindly offered to gather matter and compile enough information on this area to fill almost one half of the December issue. Many readers will want extra copies of this feature. Please let us know in advance if you do.

It is our hope to be able to find willing men in each of the provinces who will endeavour to do the same for their area. We are happy to give the space and will plan to summarize the reports in one issue at the conclusion. Let us hear from willing brethren who will undertake to follow Brother Lansdell in this work.

Special Need

The East End Church at Sault Ste Marie has been engaged in a building program and has progressed nicely. Everything up to this point has been financed by this small group without outside help. They now find that they are short of money to prepare the building for winter use. There is an urgent need for $1,200.00 to buy a furnace for this purpose. Any help sent to Church of Christ, 331 Eastern Ave., Sault Ste Marie, Ont. will be very much appreciated by these brethren.

Special Program

The Osborne Street church in Winnipeg has announced a special series of lectures involving the week-end of November 9-11. Beginning at 8.15 p.m. on Saturday, November 9 with a song service the program entitled "The Christian Profile" includes six lectures with associated discussion periods lasting through Monday, November 11 at 2.30 p.m. Accommodation and meals are offered to out-of-town visitors. Contact Murray F. Hammond, 1336 Dudley Crescent, Winnipeg 9, or phone 475-6905.

GLEANINGS FROM FOREIGN FIELDS

VIET NAM

Despite the continuing political crisis in the Southeast Asian country of Viet Nam, Brother and Sister Maurice Hall of Rochester, Mich., are going ahead with their plans to enter the land as missionaries in November. A group of American Christians have held worship services in Saigon, the capital, for some months. Brother Hall's first work will be with this group, and then later, as opportunities are revealed, he will begin preaching and working with natives. Because of their previous mission work in France, the Halls already speak French, the official language of Viet Nam, fluently.

RUSSIA

Brother Otis Gatewood and his son, David, also a gospel preacher, have returned from another trip behind the Iron Curtain, seeking a way for gospel missionaries to enter Russia. Again they were greatly encouraged by people they talked to, though not in any official way. David is seeking admission to the University of Moscow as a student as soon as he has completed his work at Abilene Christian College, hoping in this way to find opportunities to preach the gospel of Christ in a communist country.

IRELAND

The Oklahoma Avenue church in Fort Myers, Florida, has sent Bro. and Sister Charlie St. John to Coleraine, Northern Ireland, to work with the church established there four years ago by Brother Nat Cole. The Coleraine church has purchased a building lot and will erect a meeting place as soon as it is financially possible. Their present facilities are extremely poor.

JAPAN

Five young people were baptized into Christ during a two-week encampment at Hitachi. About 80 high school and college students attended for at least three days during the camping period. Preaching and Bible study was conducted at least four hours each day, along with singing, sports and other camp activities. Many students from state schools heard the gospel for the first time.

Another such encampment at Motosu Lake resulted in 18 baptisms, according to Bro. Bob Joliffe, director.

Bro. Harry Robert Fox, Jr., who was forced to return to America because of illness in 1958 after some 12 or 13 years missionary work in Japan, has accepted an invitation to return for a series of gospel meetings and lectures early next year. The Japanese brethren will pay all expenses themselves.

Work in Japan recently received a boost with the return to the mission field of Bro. Elmer Prout and Bro. Billy Smith, and the arrival for the first time of Bro. Terry Gibboney.

SOUTHERN RHODESIA

A total of 28 persons were baptized into Christ in the Salisbury area recently. Eleven were baptized 35 miles west of Salisbury near Norton.

Brother and Sis. Rhinard Troup and their infant son have arrived to join the working staff at Nhowe Mission. Brother Troup will teach in the native preacher - training activities at Nhowe and preach in the surrounding district, and his wife, who has been school nurse at Abilene Christian College, will assist in the clinic work and instruct the native women.

The Troups are supported by the College Church of Christ in Abilene. They will be working with others in the field: the Roy Palmers, Lloyd Giffords, Mark Leggs, Clayton Waller and Monika Steiniger.

NORTHERN RHODESIA

After 24 years of mission work in Africa, the J. C. Shewmaker family is spending its second furlough in America, their first in 17 years. For the past 17 years they have been at Namwianga Mission where some 350 native and 56 white children receive daily Bible instruction in the mission schools. Another 3,000 students are enrolled in 19 schools under the supervision of other missionaries in the area. Other mission stations operated by churches of Christ are at Sinde and Kabanga.

The Shewmakers have been visiting their children who are working for their education in the United States, and speaking on behalf of their African work. Other teachers are needed, as well as operating funds and funds for building a dam to increase the mission water supply. When the Shewmakers return to Africa this fall they will be supported by the church in Kingman, Kansas.

A number of baptisms in the Livingstone area of Northern Rhodesia have been reported lately by Bro. J. A. Brittell.

BRAZIL

Six have been baptized into Christ in Sao Paulo recently as the small churches in that city continue to grow and work for the Lord. Among the missionaries, Bro. and Sis. Ted Stewart, supported by the Central Church of Christ in Amarillo, Texas, are in the United States on a three-month furlough. Bro. and Sis. Leon Tester, supported by the 16th and Vine Streets church in Abilene, have recently completed adoption proceedings for a 9-months-old Brazilian boy. Brother Walter Kreidel of Big Spring, Texas, has rejoined the working force in Sao Paulo after having been called back to the States because of the fatal illness of his brother.

ITALY

Brother Gerald Paden, who spent many years in Italy but more recently has been preaching in Wilson, Texas, has returned to the mission work in Italy. He was met by a group of Italian Christians on his arrival back in Genoa. It is his goal this time to establish the Lord's church in Pisa.

FINLAND

Miss Berrta Hillo, who has studied for many months with evangelists Richard Kruse and Wallice Mays, was baptized recently in Tampere.

FOUR MONTHS IN INDIA

J. C. Bailey

A good many times since I arrived here on the 26th of April, I have thought of the statement made by Kipling: "East is east and west is west but ne'er the twain shall meet." On the other hand, I have often been reminded that basically human nature is the same all over the world.

The Indian people, as I have found them, are kind, neighborly, and hospitable. They are a religious people. Two of our girls, and four of the Perry girls, went out on the street on Saturday and were able to give out 350 tracts. Brother Ray McMillan and I went to Jowai yesterday. We took 100 tracts with us but we should have taken 200. People would come up to us and ask for the tracts. I got a printing of a tract I had translated into Khasi, on Friday evening, September 6, and by this morning, September 9, I was back to the printer's for a new printing.

Twenty three have rendered obedience to the gospel. To whom the credit goes only God knows, but we believe this number will be increased at a quicker tempo in the coming months. One of the early workers in this restoration movement, here in Assam, drifted away into denominationalism, but was recently restored. He hopes to spend the rest of his days preaching the gospel. He is now working in a village near Jowai.

Brother Kharlukhi taught a young business man at Jowai and I baptized him. He wants to preach the gospel. He speaks at least four languages. He has interpreted twice for me. He has read several good books and has almost finished the basic Bible course, as put out by Brother Ira Y. Rice, Jr.

My wife and girls, Brother David Hallett, and Brother W. R. McMillan arrived at Bombay on July 26. There was an error in my wife's passport, and also Brother McMillan's. Brother David Hallett arrived in Shillong on July 28 but my family and Brother McMillan did not arrive until July 31. It was good to be together after an absence from each other of nearly four months.

Brother Don Perry, with his wife and family, arrived on August 11. There has been considerable inconvenience. Brother David Hallett brought several trunks for the Perrys. My wife brought four large boxes of dishes, bedding, clothing, etc. They were advised at Bombay to ship by passenger express, not freight. It would be more expensive, but quicker. They were promised delivery in 7-10 days. It is now 45 days since they left Bombay, but still no boxes. Can you imagaine 16 people living out of suitcases and flight bags for all this time! We are supposed to have ten rooms to live in, but three of the rooms are not yet finished. We have no electricity, and cannot get it, until these other rooms are finished.

Before I came over I found that the duty on a jeep or car would be 150%. I decided to buy one here. When I arrived in Calcutta I was informed that no jeeps would be available for at least 18 months as the government was taking the entire production for the defense effort.

There was only one thing to do it seemed, and that was apply for an import license, and pay this tremendous duty. You can imagaine our consternation about a week before the ship was due in Calcutta, when we had a letter from the chief importer rejecting our application for an import license. In all our correspondence we had had no intimation that an application was anything more than routine. Brother Perry is now in Calcutta in a last ditch effort to get the jeep in, but the case looks hopeless. (Word has since been received that the Importation Permit has finally been granted and the present problem is the high evaluation of the vehicle which results in excessively high customs charges. An appeal for financial help may result. E.C.P.) I think you should know that Indian people, both in the church and out of the church, are distressed and chagrined over the way the government has used us. God knows the injustice done to us and it will redound to his glory.

When the final records are made I am sure Brother Prenshon Kharlukhi will stand out as one of the outstanding men of this generation. More than once I have been caused to marvel at his insight into New Testament Christianity. True, there are weaknesses in the work here. There are weaknesses in Canada and the United States.

Good reports continue to come from Madras. We hate to leave here as the work begins to gain momentum. However, with three workers, to say nothing of Brother Kharlukhi, and other native workers, we feel we are needed much worse in Madras.

Dare I venture a prophecy? The name, Hector Ellery, will mean to Madras what Prenshon Kharlukhi has meant to Assam.

Setting up this new work in Madras is going to cost considerable money. We are determined to take away, as much as possible the disgrace that rests on the church for her years of neglect of India. We have no electricity; we have no washing machine; we walk miles and more miles. Is it too much if we ask you to share the abundance God has bestowed upon you.

Your fellowship can be directed to the Church of Christ, Box 25, Granite City, Illinois.

I shall be 60 on September 13th. My health is fine. I was never happier in any work in my life than I am in the work now. It is not hard to endure "hardness" here.

One of the most heartwarming experiences of my career was when the men of the congregation here had a special meeting and tried to persuade me not to go to Madras. Anyone who has any idea that there is anything but the best relationship between me and the brethren here has been misinformed.

Anyone who cares to write shall receive an answer.

S. F. TIMMERMAN TO ENTER FRENCH CANADIAN FIELD

S. F. TIMMERMAN, JR., of Brussels, who for the past fifteen years has been preaching the gospel in Belgium, will move with his family to Montreal in the summer of 1964 to launch a work among the French-speaking people of Canada. He will thus add his efforts to those of Jerry L. Davidson, who is now working with the only English-speaking church in the province of Quebec, at Lachine, a suburb of Montreal.

Bro. Timmerman went to Belgium in 1948, supported by the Sherman Street (now University Blvd.) church of Denver, Colorado. He was later supported by Preston Rd. in Dallas, and more recently by the New York Avenue congregation in Oak Ridge, Tennessee. The latter assembly, for whom Bro. Timmerman also preached four years before going to Belgium, has consented to continue his support in Canada.

Being the first missionary of the churches of Christ to enter the French-speaking countries of Europe in this century, Bro. Timmerman has been instrumental in helping to start a number of congregations in Belgium and France. There are at present eight churches in Belgium where fifteen years ago there were none. He has worked regularly with the churches in Liege, Verviers and Brussels.

He has done extensive writing in French, both for the two periodicals, "Vie et Verite" and "L'Evangile et les Hommes", and in the preparation of Bible correspondence courses, books and tracts. He has also held around 90 meetings during this time, both in French and English, throughout Belgium, France, Switzerland, Germany, England and Scotland, as well as in the U.S.

Bro. and Sis. Timmerman have four children: Fannie Sue, 16; Carol Jean, 13; Ricky 12; and Lorna 1½. The latter three were born in Belgium. The three older children have had all their schooling in French, but they speak and write English too. They have also benefitted from the advantages offered in Belgium for music study and have each had several years of sight-singing and instruments.

Timmerman's decisions to move to Canada was dictated by his desire to continue work in the French language while residing on the North American Continent to see his children through college. His natural choice was French-speaking Canada. The province of Quebec, with a population of 5,850,000, is 80% French, while the city of Montreal, with a population of 2 million is 85% French-speaking. Indeed, Montreal is the largest French-speaking city in the World except Paris!

Until now, no sustained evangelistic effort has been made to plant the gospel in French Canada. However, on more than one occasion open-air meetings were held in public squares with stimulating results. More recently, a large ad was placed in one of the prominent French-newspapers of Quebec, resulting in many responses and a number of enrollments in a French Bible correspondence course. Bro. Davidson who has lived for some time in Montreal, feels that the time is ripe to begin in earnest the establishment of a French work in that city.

The congregation in Lachine is making an all-out effort to erect a building next year, which should help to put the work on a more permanent basis. The brethren are attempting to raise $30,000 before the construction date next spring. Twelve thousand has been raised so far. Brethren everywhere are being asked to consider this urgent need.

OMAGH BIBLE SCHOOL REPORT

This year the regular camp session was operated from July 7th to August 4th. Brother Warren Whitelaw, evangelist for the Fern Avenue congregation in Toronto was the Camp Director. Under his leadership a profitable session was enjoyed by a total of 211 students campers, along with a fine group of counsellors, a team of good cooks and an excellent staff of teachers.

The camp session was divided into two periods in an endeavour to provide better conditions for the children with respect to their ages. The first period was for ages 12 years and older, from July 7th to July 20th. The second period for ages 8 years to 11 years was from July 21st to August 3rd. By making this division the way was opened to lower the age limit to 8 years. We are confident that these steps all point to a more successful camp in future years.

During the last two weeks of camp it was necessary to expand the dormitory facilities to accomodate the overflow of students. One half of the McKerlie House was fitted with bunk beds and used to house a number of girls. The attendance by weeks was July 7th, 35; July 14th, 39; July 21, 71; and July 28th, 64 making a total of 211. The attendance for 1962 was 77, 72, 71, 54 and totalled 274.

The number of awards was increased this year as a result of the change in camping periods. There were two trophies awarded for the senior session and two for the junior session. As well as these awards, either a Bible or a Concordance was given to each of eight persons for outstanding achievement.

The teaching staff was comprised of men and women in the endeavour to improve our program. They were Muriel Thompson, Sharon Ellis, Caroline Peddle, Sonia Culley, Bert Thompson, Keith Thompson, Magnar Knutson, Ed Bryant, Max Craddock and Stanley Jackson. The ladies taught during the junior session with the exception of Sonia Culley who taught handcraft for the entire four week period, Fred Hampshire assisted in the swimming instruction and life guard phase of the camp.

The counsellors who contributed so well to the success of the program were Cledeth Craddock, Mary Jones, Carol Dale, Mary Arnold, Carol Cameron, Barbara Whitelaw, Russel Walker, Roy Bean, Fred Byne and Stanley Jackson.

Christian Fellowship Week, August 4-9 was a season of spiritual refreshment for approximately 75 people. Brother Maurice Hall and his wife Marie joined hands with brother Lucien Palmer and his wife Ida to deliver a number of inspiring lessons about mission work. They also told of many personal experiences in the mission field.

Many of us will long remember Monday, August 5th when we saw the Donald Perry family leave from the camp to make their way to India where they will carry the gospel to lost souls. God bless them.

The theme for the 1964 Christian Fellowship Week will be The Christian Home.

The final program was held on Labour Day week-end. Brother Keith Wallace (the young person's friend) directed this event. The activities were planned by the young Christians at the Fennel Avenue congregation in Hamilton. The Lord's Day began with a sunrise service at about 7 a.m. This was followed by three other periods of worship during the day.

We encourage you to plan now to attend the camp in 1964 during whichever period is suited to your age and liking.

Charles A. Cook,
1st Vice-president

THANK YOU

Many congratulatory messages on our ten years of editorial work have been received. These have included the commendations printed on the front page of this issue, the donation of the fine art work which enables this issue to appear in new and more attractive dress, and words of congratulations accompanied by lists of subscriptions and money to pay for them.

Mrs. Ernest Perry of Tintern, Ontario, Mervin Whitfield of North Livingstone, Ontario and William Neilson of Brantford, Ontario have each given $10.00 for subscription purposes. A few additional names of worthy persons who might be benefited by the GOSPEL HERALD are needed to use up all of this generosity. We would be glad to receive such.

Sister Martha Olson of Saskatoon and others have indicated intention of making up similar congratulatory clubs. We are encouraged.

Who will try to out-do brother Wesley Jones of Barrie, Ontario who sent in 37 subscriptions with $55.50 and the following statement: "On a recent visit to the South we were able to stimulate some added interest in the Gospel Herald. Taking advantage of your Tenth Anniversary offer, we say "Congratulations to the Editors and Staff" with the enclosed thirty seven subs. We enclose the cheque with the list of names and addresses." —E. C. P.

L. Wesley Jones of Barrie will be the guest speaker for the occasion

WE ARE SORRY

It is somewhat ironical that in ten years of publishing the GOSPEL HERALD we have managed to keep it comparatively free of matters offensive to our brethren until the second to last issue of the decade. We are sorry that a very few brethren have found brother Jenning's article, which encourages a continuance of the past co-operation in the furtherance of the gospel in Canada, so very offensive. These few brethren seem to have taken some negative statements in the last part of this article as being directed at them personally.

There are, unfortunately, certain "loaded" topics which, it seems, cannot be discussed among brethren without elliciting emotional responses and resulting in unbrotherly attitudes among brethren. We are accused of causing such by printing this article. Some would exercise the power of the "almighty" dollar in this situation, by threatening to cut off support to certain worthy efforts with which we are associated, if there is anything further printed on this subject. Others say that we must print a reply to this article or we are being unfair.

It is obvious that we are in a dilemma. A reply has been submitted. We will, according to some of our critics, do the wrong thing whether we print it or refuse to do so. We are reminded of the reported reply of Confucius to the young man who asked whether he should marry or not, — "Young man! Do which ever thou wilt, thou wilt regret it."

Our decision in this matter is neither dictated by the threat of withdrawal of support nor the name calling. We decline at this time publishing further matter on this subject for several reasons:

1. The undesireable results from the article already printed forbid anything further unless these matters are vital to one's faith. We do not believe such to be the case. To print anything further would but multiply the undesireable attitudes among brethren. Having been accused of causing ill-will unnecessarily, we apologize and discontinue. These questions undoubtedly "gender strife" (II Timothy 2:33) and whether the rest of the passage also applies will, I suppose, remain a matter of judgement.

2. Our past policy has been to publish a "clean" paper and many readers have expressed their appreciation of this. In just the last issue we pledged to try to do the same in the future. As one brother has fitly said, "Preaching the issues is not preaching the gospel." Our stated purpose is the promotion of New Testament Christianity not its destruction.

3. One mistake is not corrected by another. If it was a mistake to print the first article, as has been sharply pointed out by a few readers, it would be a deliberate mistake to print the reply. We might here point out that the offending article went to the printer without our knowledge while we were in Texas. Only after hearing some complaints did we examine it carefully enough to notice the "undesireable" phrases in the latter part. The first part impressed us favourably.

4. The respondent's conclusion of his "partial review" contains the sentence, — "Progress with peace is the desire of everyone who loves the Lord". This being our desire we feel compelled to decline publishing this lengthy reply.

In an effort to accomplish "progress with peace" and at the same time be fair, which is always our purpose, we will endeavour to furnish a copy of said reply at our expense to each person who writes in requesting one. —E.C.P.

WEDDINGS

MUIRHEAD — BAILEY

On Saturday morning at 10:30 a.m. on August 17 a wedding of interest to many friends and relatives of Weyburn, Saskatchewan and surrounding area took place when Mary Bailey exchanged the marriage vows with William Muirhead. The bride is the eldest daughter of Brother and Sister Cecil Bailey, Oxbow, Saskatchewan. The groom is the second eldest son of Brother and Sister Peter Muirhead, Estevan, Saskatchewan.

Alice Bailey, sister of the bride and a cousin, Lavina-Ann McLeod were bridesmaids. Einor Bjorndalen and Wayne Holmgren acted as best men. Jelsing Bailey, brother of the bride and Wayne Muirhead, brother of the groom, were ushers. Before and during the singing of the register the beautiful voice of Betty Bailey (now a missionary in Africa) was heard on tape. Lloyd Bailey of Thessalon, Ontario, uncle of both the bride and groom officiated.

After the vows were heard a sumptuous dinner was enjoyed by over two hundred guests in the Elk's Hall. A toast to the newly weds was proposed by the bride's uncle, Brother Hector McLeod.

The young couple for the present are residing in Guelph, Ontario where "Bill" is attending the Guelph Agriculture College.

INDIA LETTER

c/o Hector Ellery,
1A Venkathadri Naicken St.
Kosapet, Madras 12, India.

To the readers of The Gospel Herald:

We have delayed a report to the Gospel Herald in the hope of having a permanent address. We now have obtained permission to use a P.O. Box at one of the local sub P.O. but we are not sure that we want to live where we are living. We have looked at a different house. We decided we would take it but when we went to tell them last night the owner informed us that he was not sure wether he would let us have it or not. He would tell us by the 22nd. This means that he would rather have a Hindu in the house than a Christian.

After the frustrating wait for our belongings that came by ship (It was 52 days from the time they were turned over to a shipping agency until they arrived in Shilling) we made immediate preparations to move to Madras.

We arrived in Madras on September 28. We received a good welcome from the brethren here. We have found we can turn out tracts here as cheap as in Shillong. Quite a few of the members here are willing to distribute them. We have one tract translated into Tamil and printed. We expect to have the second one in print this week, or early next week. There will be more detail about this in our News Letter. More news about the jeep in our News Letter too.

Paul Nathan, a young man who was born a Brahmin, this is the highest caste in Hinduism, and the caste from which all their priest come, was disinherited when he accepted Christianity a few years ago. He became a member of the Baptist Church but was not satisfied there. He became identified with the conservative Christian Church but now will work with me in the Tamil work we hope to do. He has translated the one tract.Has almost completed the work on the second. I hope to use this young man in full time work with me here in South India.

Our hearts were cheered when last Lord's Day we had the privilege of baptizing four into Christ in the waters of the Bay of Bengal. We believe that several more will render obedience this coming Lord's Day.

People in India will accept the gospel. —J. C. Bailey

SOME IMPRESSIONS IN CALCUTTA

by Donald Perry

I am now (Oct. 14, 1963) in Calcutta for my second effort here to clear a Jeep through Customs authorities. The first difficulty was to obtain an Import Licence. After I went personally to New Delhi to the Chief Controller of Imports and Exports we received the licence by mail. Now the difficulty arises over "bonding" the vehicle through an Insurance Co. or a bank. After Ray McMillan and I spent four days last week and walked miles we were about to give up and re-ship the Jeep to Canada. Finally we have received a promise from Phoenix Insurance Co. to sign as suretor on the bond.

Next we must raise (send for) the necessary duty which is around 200% (19,600 Rupees or $4,000 U.S.). This alone is staggering but we seem to be "in" so far that it is difficult to back out. Ray and I hope to drive the Jeep to our home in Assam, 850 miles or so by road, toward the end of the week. However we still have obstacles to overcome.

I have prayed many times that things would work out for the best on this Jeep business. The Jeep will help us in our work, especially in visiting villages. But the cost is very high. In working on the problems associated with getting the Jeep through I have been faced with many "unknowns." I have learned to trust more in the wisdom and providence of God. When I have done my best and all I could seemingly do, I have left the rest to God. When it seemed as if we had come up against a stone wall last Saturday, a phone call gave us a ray of hope.

Over the week-end we attended a number of religious meetings here in Calcutta, Youth for Christ, Baptist, Assembly of God, and United Missionary. The largest group gathered was a little over one hundred and the smallest around 35. Some have been here for years and yet seem weak in Calcutta. Others are younger works with more vigor. There are great needs here in a city of three million or more.

It stays in the 90s here with high humidity. Last night was a little cooler. The city is crowded, dirty and smelly. Noises and odours are almost-undescribable.

NOVA SCOTIA

Starting September 25th it was our good pleasure to hold two short meetings in Nova Scotia. The first one was at Mill Village, where we preached as a boy. Things have changed in the church since then. The old members have passed away and many of their children have forgotten the faith of their fathers. Bro. Hart has been doing an excellent job contacting many new families in the surrounding country. This will bear fruit in years to come.

Our second meeting was at Halifax. They have a new building in a new part of this rapidly growing seaport. They are to be commended for their faith and sacrifice. The future looks bright, as they have a number of young couples, and a number of young men able to take care of the services. Bro. Murray who started this work, is still a leader in the congregation. Bro. Hart is a faithful worker in this great field. He has contacted many people and has arranged a radio program, which is heard on Sunday evening at 7 o'clock. Many people in Halifax and the surrounding villages will soon learn about the church of Christ and what it stands for. While the attendance was not large in either place, we trust that much good was done, and that the seed sown will produce in years to come. It was a real joy to be back in my native province and preach the gospel, which is so much needed. —Charles G. McPhee

A WORD OF APPRECIATION FOR ORLAN HICKS

M. Norvel Young

Christians have lost a man of vision and faith. Few of us appreciate the contribution which Olan Hicks has made to the general tone of missionary outreach in the brotherhood.

The Christian Chronicle marks a milestone in the history of the Restoration Movement in the United States. It has informed so many Christians about the achievements of fellow Christians all over the world. In this way it has inspired more congregations and more Christians to do more for the Lord. This emphasis upon positive, aggressive Christianity has created a climate in which faith can grow and love can multiply. In this way much gossip and much erroneous information has been stifled.

We salute Olan Hicks as a sound Bible teacher, as a Christian publicist, and as a friend. Power for Today has lost another real contributor on its staff.

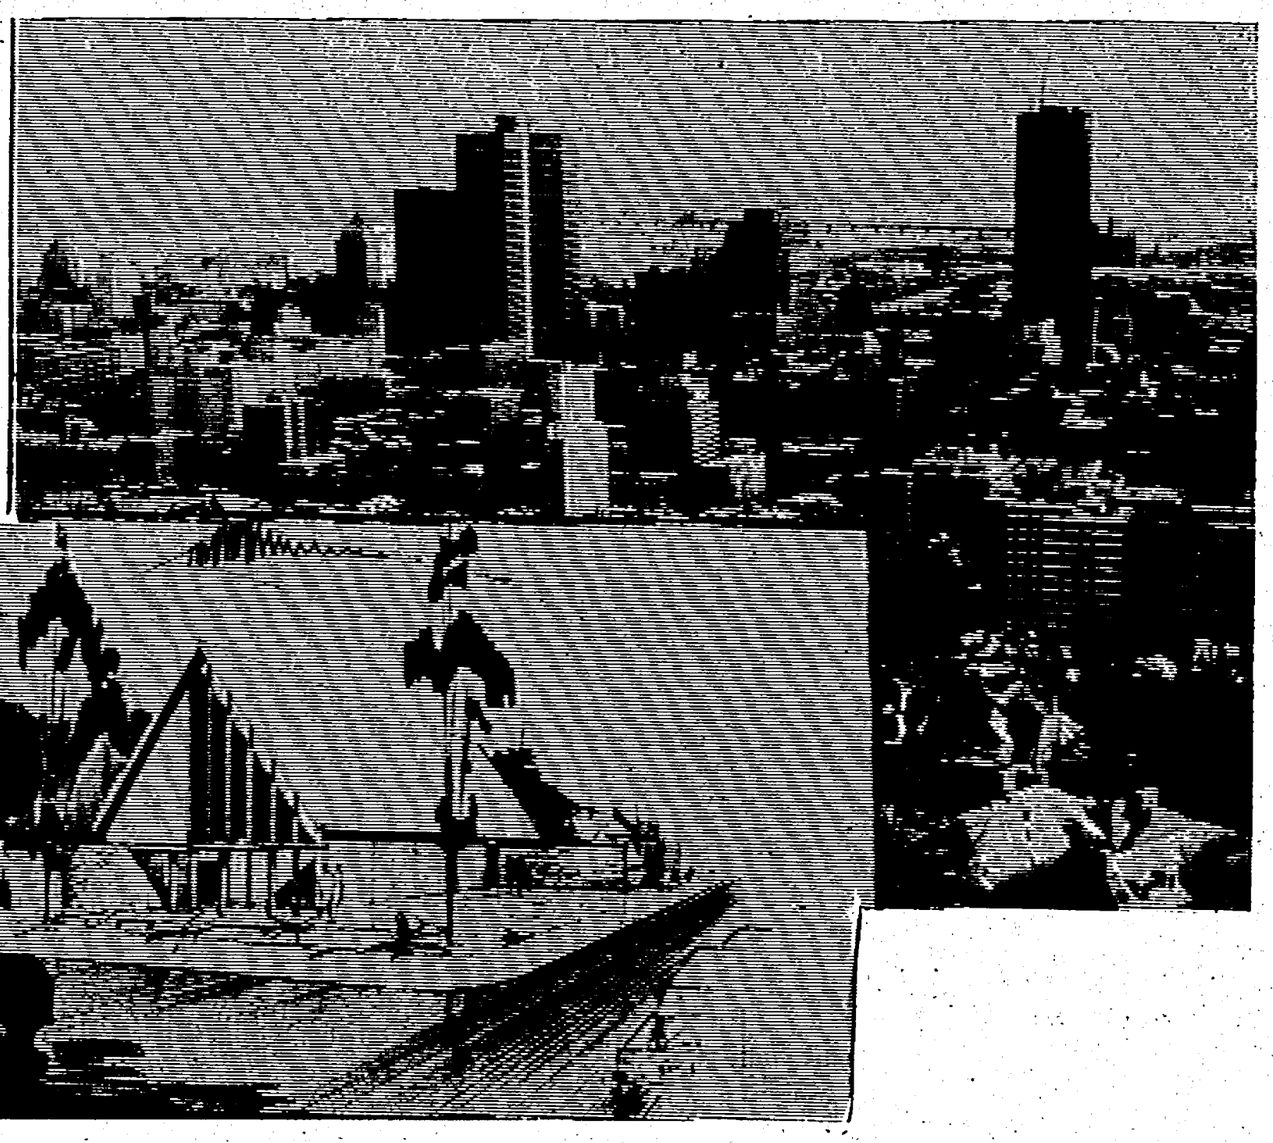
HELP PUT A CHURCH BUILDING IN CANADA'S LARGEST CITY



ONE TENTH of Canada's population lives in Montreal. The only congregation in a province of five million people meets in this city in this converted and condemned residential structure which also serves as a preacher's home.

An appeal is being made to Christians to help now to stabilize the church in this key centre by making the useful and attractive building pictured in the inset a reality. Your help will enable the church to better meet the challenges presented by:

—2 million population

—Beginning of a French speaking work at the coming of S. F. Timmerman Jr. in 1964.

—The World Fair in 1967

Your contribution now will help meet the target for beginning in the Spring. Send to:

VARIETY IN PREACHING

By Bill Love

"Originality does not consist of saying new things," said Goethe, "but in treating old things in a new way." If you are a full-time preacher, or the teacher of a weekly Bible class you may feel the need for variety. Fifty-two lessons or one-hundred and four sermons a year is a large order for the most original man among us. Without variety in approach even Bible teaching can weary the listener and the preacher. The speaker cannot hope to keep the interest of his hearers week after week without some change of pace. This article is not an endorsement of novelty hunting. Variety does not mean wresting the Scriptures, or teaching "strange and wonderful" doctrines. It may be that too much of our teaching is "on the fringes," and the great Bible doctrines of faith, love, and obedience are neglected. But the approach to these and other basic themes need not be threadbare. There is unlimited possibility for variety to the discerning preacher. Here are six areas in which the speaker may find a fresh approach:

1. There are two main sources of sermon ideas. The first is the Bible itself. The richness of this source is continually impressed upon the serious Bible student. But an examination of our attitudes toward the Book is in order. How many preachers shoulder their muskets and go to the Bible hunting ground to shoot down a text for next Sunday's sermon! A better way is the systematic, personal study of the Bible with a view first to one's own spiritual needs before it is applied to the lives of others. The other source of sermon ideas is the minister's life. This is taking man's problems to the Bible instead of taking the Bible to man's problems. "If we could see how precious the human soul is as Christ saw it, our ministry would approach the effectiveness of Christ's."[1] This statement may be overdrawn, but Brooks touches a vital point. The preacher should love the man in the pew. He should know men, their strengths and their weaknesses, their problems and their potential. How else can he hope to convert, inspire, and challenge them with Christian-

"Pope to Lead One Church"

The leader of Anglican observers at the Ecumenical Council said recently that if Christians united, the Pope "will clearly have to be" head of the church. Anglican Bishop John Moorman of Ripon, England said he believed the Anglican communion as a whole "would be prepared to accept the fact of the papacy, though they would find great difficulty in recognizing the basis on which the primacy rests."

Ever since the Roman Catholic Church began wooing her "separated brethren" it has been evident that she desired all to "come home" to her. Catholicism desires unity all right. But it is a unity within her fold and on her conditions.

Some who no longer deserve even the term "Protestant" have become so "unity mad" that they are even willing to bow before the pope of Rome. This Anglican bishop is among the first to admit that such would be necessary for any kind of unity joining Rome and other groups. But this admission should cause others to stop and think about the kind of unity they desire. Sure-

J. C. Bailey, Kosapet, Madras, India

The prophet Isaiah said that God's house would be set up in Jerusalem. (Isaiah 2:2-3). Paul tells us that the house of God is the church of the living God. (I Timothy 3:15). Jesus said in Matthew 16:18 that He would build His church and that the gates of hell (hades) would not prevail against it.

For the first time in the history of the world we read about the church as an establshed fact in Acts 2:47: " . . . .And the Lord added to the church daily such as were being saved".

You never read in all the Bible about joining the church. It is true that you join lodges, denominations, clubs etc. The Lord adds you to His church. This is one of the differences between the church of the New Testament and denominations. You join denominations but the Lord ADDS you to His church. You cannot be a member of two churches at the same time can you? Did you join a denomination or did you obey the Lord so He added you to His church?

In the second chapter of Acts we see how the church began under the inspiration of the Holy Spirit. Jesus had told His chosen apostles that they would be guided into all the truth (John 16:13). The Spirit was to guide them into all the truth. They were to receive power when the spirit came (Luke 24:49). This power was to come in Jerusalem. (Acts 1:8).

On the day of Pentecost the Spirit came (Acts 2:1-4). Hence the power came (Romans 1:4). The power came because Jesus was raised from the dead.

On the day of Pentecost Peter preached, after the Spirit came, and after he had explained its purpose, of the death of Jesus Christ, he told of His burial and then how He had been raised from the dead in fulfilment of the prophecies of the Old Testament (Acts 2:22-36). Peter verily taught that the POWER had come for in verse 36 he says: "Let all the house of Israel therefore know assuredly, that GOD hath made him both LORD and CHRIST, this Jesus whom ye crucified". Jesus had already said that "All power hath been given unto me" (Matthew 28:18). There is no power that is not included in the terms LORD and CHRIST. Let us see what effect this preaching of the gospel had. Let us see if there was power in that message: "Now when they heard this, they were pricked in their heart, and said unto Peter, Brethren what shall we do?" (Acts 2:37). Did Peter give them the right answer? I certainly believe that he did. Now here is Peter's inspired answer: "And Peter said unto them, Repent ye, and be baptized everyone of you in the name of Jesus Christ unto the remission of your sins; and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Spirit" (Acts 2:38). Not only this but we read: "And with many other words he testified, and exhorted them, saying, Save yourselves from this crooked generation" (Acts 2:41). What was the result: "They then that received his word were baptized: and the Lord added unto them in that day about three thousand souls" (Act 2:41). Now you know who the Lord adds to the church. It is those who receive the word as preached by Peter on the day of Pentecost. Those who refuse to recognize the rulership of Jesus, those who refuse to repent and be baptized for the remission of sins the Lord does not add.

The next question is, what comes next? AND THEY CONTINUED STEDFASTLY. Who continued stedfastly? They that received the words of the apostles whom Jesus sent. In what did they continue stedfastly?

1. "In the apostles teaching"—They did not follow the traditions of the Jewish sects, nor Jewish councils. So if we accept the authority of Jesus we shall continue in the APOSTLES' TEACHING TODAY. We shall not accept human creeds and dogmas. Jesus said that worship was vain IF" Ye leave the commandment of God, and hold fast the tradition of men" (Mark 7:8). Do you leave God's command for believer's baptism (Mark 16.16) and hold onto infant baptism? Do you leave God's command for a burial in baptism. (Colossians 2:12) and accept a human substitute, sprinkling? No, those who receive the Word and are baptized must continue stedfastly in the apostles' teaching.

2. Fellowship—Not only must we have fellowship with other Christians but we must have fellowship with God and Christ. (I John 1:1-4). The only way we can have fellowship with God is to humbly do His will through Jesus Christ.

3. "The breaking of bread". How often is stedfastly? In Acts 20:7 we learn that the disciples met together to break bread on the first day of the week. If we do not do this then we a e not being STEDFAST in the apostles teaching. We are not having fellowship with Christ. He said He would be in the midst where two or three were gathered in His name (Matthew 18:20). He has authorized by apostolic teaching the weekly observance of the Lord's Supper. What a blessed privilege to thus have fellowship with Him.

4. "Prayer". No one can live the Christian life without going often to the Father in prayer. We pray in private. We pray when we agree as touching something we shall ask on earth. We pray in the assembly. Without prayer soon the fellowship between God and the redeemed soul would be broken.

My friend, do not think you can serve God acceptably and fail to KEEP ANY ONE OF THESE COMMANDS AT THEIR APPOINTED TIME.

VARIETY IN PREACHING

ity? To observe the barber behind the chair, the grocer stocking shelves, the accountant at his ledgers may add something vital to the minister's preaching. Jesus saw fishermen fishing and called them to a life of service in His Kingdom. To keep his finger upon the pulse of humanity by reading newspapers and periodicals is the privilege of modern man, the imperative of the gospel preacher. The dangers here lie in the direction of the "social gospel." But the skilled sailor can pass over many a sunken vessel and deliver his cargo. The preacher lives in the same world as his listener, although he is sometimes careful not to reveal the secret. The Bible is appropriately the major source, but occasionally the procedure should be reversed. The preacher should not only bring the Bible to the people, but sometimes bring the people to the Bible. It is only a difference in starting point.

2. Another key to variety is in the consideration of audience. There are two broad classes of hearers: members and non-members. There are sermons of edification, encouragement, and inspiration for Christians. But the alert minister knows when the largest number of visitors attend services, and prepares his lessons accordingly. How often preachers preach baptism to Christians and air the family wash before a house of visitors! The preacher will sometimes preach lessons intended as much for one group as the other, and profitable to both.

3. Sermons may be classified according to subject matter. The doctrinal and apologetical sermons should constitute the meat and bread of the Church's diet. But it may be that the preacher can raise more questions than he can answer by much preaching on Christian evidences. One may easily raise an army of objections to miracles in a thirty minute lesson without having counted the cost of battle. Consequently, the hearer may remember the problems and forget the solutions. The fear of "following the sects" has kept some preachers from using inspirational and devotional themes. The poetry of the Old Testament is pregnant with meaning for the modern man. The social and ethical themes should not be forgotten. Benjamin Franklin was impatient with a preacher to whom he listened for years without hearing a single "moral" sermon. "At length he took for his text that verse of the fourth chapter of Philippians, (meaning verse 8). And I imagin'd, in a sermon on such a text, we could not miss having some morality. But he confin'd himself to five points only, as meant by the apostle, viz.: 1. Keeping holy the Sabbath day. 2. Being diligent in reading the holy Scriptures. 3. Attending duly the publick worship. 4. Partaking of the Sacrement. 5. Paying a due respect to God's ministers. These might be all good things; but as they were not the kind of good things that I expected from that text, I despaired of ever meeting with them from any other, was disgusted, and attended his preaching no more."[2] Still another type of subject matter, often embracing the rest, is the historical or biographical. The biography of Onesimus may offer a fresh touch to the subject of repentance in conversion.

4.The preacher may ask, "What is my central purpose in this lesson?" This presupposes that the speaker has some goal in mind since "to shoot at nothing is to hit it squarely." The minister speaks for various purposes. His cause may be educative. "Teaching them to observe all things" is the work of the preachers, the responsibility of the elders. Or a sermon may be designed to encourage the heavy hearted, the woman who has lost her husband, the faithful few who are never "weary in well doing," the husband whose wife is unmoved by the fervency of his religion. The main purpose may be to convince. Sermons potent in logical argument concerning the necessity of baptism are always in order. Finally, sermons are often intended to motivate the hearer to immediate action. A prodigal needs love's gentle proding in order to come home, the church is falling behind its budget and should set the matter straight immediately.

5. The sermon's relation to the Bible need not always be the same. At times the sermon will look at the Bible as one book, as in a sermon on God's eternal requirements of man. The sermon may relate to the Bible as two books as in the contrast of Moses and Christ. A single book of the Bible suggests an interesting change of pace to the imaginative preacher. The book of Amos offers such a challenge. The Bible may be approached by chapters. In John 9 one may discover three attitudes toward truth: the Pharisees', the parents', and that of the man healed. The paragraph is often the parcel of an effective sermon. In John 21:1-23 there is the story of Peter's re-instatement as Christ's apostle. A single verse may be the basis of a sermon. "The Pillar of Fire" might be the title of a sermon based on Exodus 40:38.

6. Often ignored as a means of variety is the treatment of the text. This is a consideration quite apart from that discussed above. Here the major concern is the method of using the text after it is chosen. There are three acknowledged methods of treatment. The most commonly used is the "subject" method. If this sermon has a Biblical text, only the subject of the lesson is found there. This is the favorite method of great pulpit orators, but often the couch of the indolent. Sermons on subjects such as attendance, contribution, etc. have their place, but the minister should recognize that such subjects are limited in number. This needs little explanation. The subject treatment if often frayed, like the cuffs of a preacher who has only one shirt. But some topics are best handled by this method. Juvenille delinquency and drunkeness are examples. The second method of treating the text is called "textual." Here the text supplies not only the subject, but also the main ideas of the sermon. In John 9:4 the preacher may see the necessity of work, the highest work for man, and the urgency of this work. In Matthew 16:24 one may notice the universality of the gospel, the price of discipleship, and the Object of Chris-

SPECIAL EDITION – NORTHERN ONTARIO

By Clyde Lansdell

Gathering the material for the special edition of the Gospel Herald has been a wonderful experience. The co-operation of the brethren in every place has been above my expectation. There are articles in this issue from brethren in all the areas in this vast Northland where the church is established. My sincere thanks goes out to all these brethren for making this report possible. We are sorry that we were unable to have cuts made from all pictures submitted so that some articles are not accompanied by pictures. We are sorry for this but we know that you will enjoy reading of the growth of the church in these places.

It is hard for me to realize that only seven years ago I was a sun-loving boy from Alabama who had very few plans concerning my part in spreading the Gospel of Christ. But here I am seven years later in this vast mission area of Northern Ontario where thirty-five to forty below zero weather in the winter is very common. It is impossible for me to express how much I have enjoyed being in this wonderful country so far and how much expectation I have for enjoying it the rest of my life.

Brethren, I visualize that within our life-time there can be strong congregations of the Lord's people through-out every city and town in this part of the Lord's world. Of course this cannot be done without work and a great deal of prayer. But if we will do our part by seeking first the Kingdom of God, we can put Canada on the map for Christ.

I believe that one of the biggest problems of doing mission work is that of isolation. This problem is two-pronged. First it is very hard on the people in the areas to continue their work without the fellowship of other Christians. This is the reason we encourage you to write letters to those you know in these areas and if possible visit them. There are no words to express what this means to those in these mission areas. The second part of the problem is that many times the missionary forgets to let his brethren in other areas know what he is doing. Since the Gospel Herald has invited reports from the different areas across Canada, I believe that here is a very good way to solve the second part of this isolation problem. Why don't you start now gathering material for a special edition of this fine paper concerning the area where you worship? I will be looking forward to seeing these special reports.

PIONEERING IN THE NORTH

By Ray Locke

For many years Northern Canada has been a forgotten land but within the last generation, people have come to realize the potential value of this vast northland. There are 360,000 square miles in Northern Ontario that for decades have been thought of as a wasteland of rock, trees and lakes. But what has been considered wasteland in the past, is considered so no more. The mines of Northern Ontario now normally produce 40 to 50% of Canada's mineral production. In one area alone —around Cochrane and Lake Temiskaming — there are 20 million acres of land suitable for cultivation. Of the forested lands in Northern Ontario, about 140,000 square miles is potentially productive and near enough to transportation facilities and markets to be commercially useful. With the opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway, areas such as the Lakehead are planning for a growth from 90,000 to 300,000 within the next 10 years. The Trans-Canada Highway has also been responsible for bringing more people to the smaller, previously isolated places of Northern Ontario.

With this great interest in the North, small towns are mushrooming and new towns are springing up every year. Now is the time when we as soldiers of the Lord need to reach out to these people and give them what they most need in their lives — the gospel of Christ. In Northern Ontario alone there are 10 cities with a population of 10,000 or over — most of them with no church of our Lord. In addition to this practically every smaller town is in the same condition.

For years, most Canadians have lived within 100 miles of the U.S. border and the church has remained in the same locality. But now, as people are beginning to move to the North, the church needs to arise and take its place in these communities too. We read back to the days of the pioneers of the church and think what great men they were, but we fail to realize that every generation must have its pioneers or the church will decay. If you feel that there is no room for pioneer work in the congregation where you are a member, there are many places where you can go and are really needed today. If you have the courage to go, places like Kenora, Fort Frances, Espanola, Sturgeon Falls, Pembroke, Renfrew, Hawkesbury, Parry Sound, Timmins, Kirkland and Cochrane, beckon to you. These are only a few of the places where the church is so desperately needed today.

This is a need that is not far across the ocean but is right on our doorstep. It is the area where we like to go fishing or hunting or vacationing. When will we open our eyes to the opportunities for taking the gospel to these same people. The people of this area are receptive to the gospel. Children will come to Vacation Bible School, Sunday School, Young People's meetings, etc. if we will only have the faith in them and provide these activities for them. We need preachers who will move to these places, families who will dedicate their lives to the Lord and move here, and congregations to take an interest in some new city and take the responsibility for getting a congregation started there.

Ontario is a province that is predominantly English speaking — 90% of the population speak English only, less than 2% speak French only, while 8% speak both. If you want to move to a French community, move first of all to an English speaking one where you can learn French. This can be done in one winter by taking a night class once a week for 3 hours a night. Learning to speak French is not the biggest problem, but rather dedicating our lives unselfishly to the Lord.

If you are unable at this time to move to one of these places, why not give your vacation time this summer to teaching in a Vacation Bible School in Northern Ontario so that you can learn for yourself the opportunities that are available for teaching the gospel of Christ.

VARIETY IN PREACHING

tian devotion. In Acts 5:42 a glimpse of the teaching program of the early Church is found: frequency of the teaching, place of teaching, attitudes of teachers, and the theme of the teaching. There is a limited number of such verses in the Bible, not every verse has three or four important and corresponding ideas. But the preacher should train himself to recognize such a verse when he reads it.

The most difficult and least popular treatment of text is the "expository." In this type of sermon the subject, main heads, and supporting details are all suggested by the text. The text may be a book, chapter, paragraph, biography, or even a period of Biblical history. Generally acclaimed as great expositors are: Alexander McClaren, Joseph Parker, and Charles H. Spurgeon.[3] The expository treatment is something more than a "verse by verse," "Sunday school" analysis of a portion of scripture. Joseph's life may be a sermon on forgiveness under the natural divisions: the dreamed, the slave, and the Prime Minister. In the passage in John 21, mentioned above, one may see: the forgiveness of Jesus, the essentiality of love, and the testing of love. The greatest advantage of expository preaching is that it is thoroughly Biblical. It demands more of the preacher, but it gives more to the hearer. The expository method is a key to infinite variety. Spurgeon said, "I am sure that no preaching will last so long, or build up a church so well, as the expository."[4]

In the matter of variety the preacher could learn from his cook at home. She uses eggs, butter, and sugar in a chocolate cake. But a diet consisting of nothing but chocolate cake would prove rather irksome.

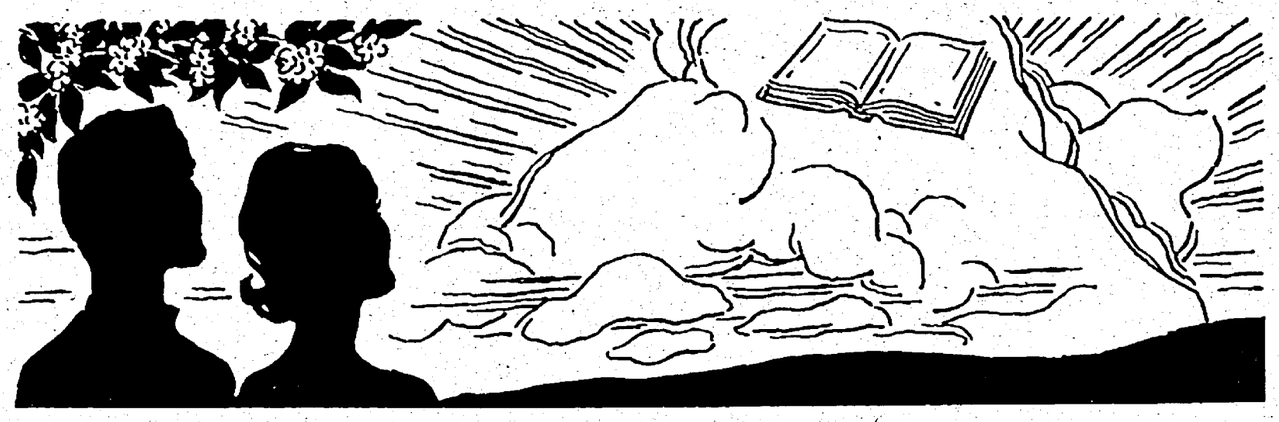
MORE CONGRATULATIONS

We have received many more congratulatory messages on our ten years of editorial work as well as several strong commendations of the stand we have taken regarding the printing of certain controversial matters. We thank these brethren for their fine encouragement and hope to print some of these messages but the crowded condition of this special issue will not permit it.



Last issue we mentioned the fine encouragement provided by brother Jones of Barrie in sending in 37 subscriptions. Since then he has been instrumental in our receiving 28 more as a result of his association in his meeting in Toronto and we are assured of more through encouragement provided during his series in Meaford. Thank you brother Jones. Who will match him?

A TRIBUTE TO GRAMP

Ray L. Miller, Editor

His was a long life—a life long spent in the service of the Master. The influence for good that he exerted was felt throughout the community in which he spent his life; Glencoe, Ontario. Christ was his hero, the centre of his affection, the ideal of his life. These words we write in tribute to the writer's grandfather, Gordon Watterworth, who recently passed away.

Even as it was said of Abel of old, so may it also be said of Gramp, that, "he being dead yet speaketh". A number of years ago, when the writer obeyed the gospel, Gramp sent along a letter of encouragement. It contains some simple, yet wonderful advice to a young Christian from one who knew well the meaning of living deeply the Christian life. As a tribute to him, and in his memory, we share with you now some of that counsel.

"Just a few lines to let you know how glad I was to learn that you had obeyed the Gospel. You have taken a noble step and I hope you will be a fine influence to all your playmates. Get interested in the work of the church and you will get more pleasure and profit out of it than anything else. You know, the Christian life is the only life worthwhile. You may have discouragements, no doubt, but look to Him from whom all blessings flow, and all will be well".

"Blessed are the dead which lie in the Lord from henceforth: Yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labours; and their works do follow them" (Rev. 14:13).

WHAT YOUNG PEOPLE CAN DO

By Jimmy Thomas
Gospel Digest

(Editors note: Our thanks to Wesley Jones, of Barrie, Ontario, for sending along this fine article.)

"Remember your creator in the days of your youth. Come to Christ before your zeal and enthusiasm are wasted in service to Satan.

Set an example of righteousness before others. You do not have to sow wild oats. That is Satan's lie. Let no man despise your youth.

Obey your parents in all things that are right. Disobedience to parents breeds violation of the authority of the school, state and God.

Entertain your friends and dates in the home. Give your parents an opportunity to know them. There are many inexpensive games and activities that can be enjoyed there.

Help with the household chores and expect no pay for it. Mow the lawn, wash the dishes, windows and car. Make your bed, clean your room, hang up your clothes and work in the garden. Working can be much more fun than idleness.

Get a part-time job and learn to work. The world does not owe you ease and pleasure. Learn a trade. It will help prepare you for the responsibilities of life.

Learn thrift and economy. Deposit a part of your allowance in savings. Invest in your own business as soon as you can.

Decide on your life's vocation and prepare for it. Choose that which will better enable you to serve God, your family and mankind.

Study hard at school. Your failure to do so will only bring regret tomorrow. Be honest. Do your own work.

Prepare yourself for marriage. Mature mentally and emotionally as you grow physically. Seek advice from your parents, bishops, evangelist, or professor.

Engage moderately in unquestionable recreation and sports. There are other things much more important than having a good time yet bodily exercise does profit a little (I Tim. 4:8).

Read some good books. They will put you in contact with some of history's greatest minds. Good books help to mold great men. Above all, read the Book of books—the Bible.

Visit older people and shut-ins. Send them a card to cheer them. To know that you care may be worth more to them than medicine.

Plant a tree. It will speak of your interest in mankind for generations to come. Contribute something useful today and tomorrow.

Smile, be courteous, kind, sympathetic and helpful to others. Make the world brighter and more pleasant each day because you live in it."

WORK STARTS IN RED DEER

Buford E. Pitman

Continuing work started by brethren from Edmonton and Calgary, who conducted meetings in Red Deer during the spring and summer months, we have now firmly established the church in Red Deer. Two families who moved here from Lloydminster, one family that was located here, and two families and a young man who live within driving distance make up the roster of faithful members. There is a total of eighteen members; if anyone knows of members in this area, please write and give us their names and addresses.

We begin a radio program the first Lord's Day of November, from 7:30 to 7:45 p.m., over CKRD Red Deer, 850 kcs. See the listings in back for data concerning time and place of meetings.

TARGET: PORT ARTHUR CANADA FORT WILLIAM

Much progress has been made in recent weeks on the project aimed at establishing a congregation in the Port Arthur-Fort William, Ont. area next summer

Definite plans call for the first families committed to "Target: Canada", as the work is called, to move into the Lakehead by July 15.

Approximately one month later, around August 15, an intensive campaign for Christ and a two-week gospel meeting will begin, directed by Bro. Harold Hazelip and a group of Christians from the Taylor Blvd. Church of Christ in Louisville, Kentucky.

Bro. Hazelip, who has held a number of gospel meetings in Ontario in the past, led the very successful campaign in Wellington, New Zealand, last January, which resulted in the baptism of 33 and the establishment of an active congregation.

The Taylor Blvd. church in Louisville also will fully support Bro. Roy D. Merritt, full-time evangelist with the new congregation slated to begin in July.

Others planning to move to the Lakehead with the Merritt family next summer include Bro. and Sis. Gordon Ellis of Beamsville, Ont.; Bro. and Sis. Bernard Straker of Weyburn, Sask.; Bro. Denis Weston of Hamilton, Ont.; Bro. Jimmy Roden of Hubbard, Texas, and Sis. Sandra Gray of Abilene, Texas.

Bro. and Sis. Blenus Wright will work in the Lakehead next summer before returning to Toronto where Blenus is enrolled in law studies at Osgoode Hall while Audrey (daughter of Bro. and Sis. Ed Haufschild of the Strathmore congregation, Toronto) teaches at Great Lakes Christian College. Following the completion of his studies, the Wrights plan to move to the Lakehead to live and work with the new congregation. Both are honor graduates of Abilene Christian College.

Bro. Gordon Ellis, son of Bro. and Sis. Ora Ellis of Smithville, Ont., is teaching now at Great Lakes Christian College. He holds both the Bachelor's and Master's Degree from Abilene Christian College and plans to teach high school in the Port Arthur-Fort William area. Sis. Ellis is the former Nora Neely, whose parents attend the Hillcrest Church of Christ in Abilene, Texas. She attended ACC and is a licensed pilot. They have one little son.

Bro. Bernard Straker also plans to teach school in the Lakehead. He, his wife, Carole, and their three children live now in Weyburn, Sask., where he is teaching at Western Christian College. Brother Straker is also a graduate of ACC.

Bro. Denis Weston will graduate from ACC next spring with a major in physics. He plans to attend the Ontario College of Education next summer and has made application to teach in the Lakehead. Denis is the son of Bro and Sis. Norman Weston of Hamilton, Ont. His father is a deacon in the Fennel Avenue church, Hamilton, and his grandfather, Bro. Arthur Weston, is an elder in the Calgary, Alberta, church.

Bro. Jimmy Roden took part in the campaigns in Edmonton, Alberta and Salmon Arm, B.C. in 1961, and thus is acquainted with the Canadian work. He is a graduate of ACC and is now preaching for the church in Hubbard, Texas, while working on his Master's Degree.

Sis. Sandra Gray is a member of the Hillcrest church in Abilene. Originally from Artesia, New Mexico, she moved to Abilene in order that she might prepare herself to move into some area where she could be of more use to the church. She is employed by the First National Bank in Abilene and plans to seek work in the banking field in the Lakehead.

Rounding out the first group moving into the area will be the Roy Merritt family. Bro. Merritt is a native of Beamsville where his father, Bro. Curtis Merritt, still lives. He is a graduate of ACC and of Butler University, Indianapolis, Indiana. He also did graduate work at McMaster University, Hamilton. He returned to Canada upon the completion of his schooling, helped establish and worked for seven years with the Fennel Avenue church in Hamilton.

He moved to Ottawa to begin a new congregation in the nation's capital in 1958. He has taught at Great Lakes Christian College and served as president of the Board of Directors of Omagh Bible School. For the past ten years, he and Bro. Eugene Perry have edited the Gospel Herald.

In September Bro. and Sis. Merritt and their children, Diana, 12, and Stephen, 8, moved from Ottawa to Abilene, Texas, where he is serving as associate minister while helping the Hillcrest Church of Christ plan the "Target: Canada" project. This congregation has appointed one elder, Bro. L. D. Hilton, and two deacons, Bro. J. D. Holland and Bro. Ray McGlothlin, Jr., to work with Bro. Merritt.

Two more Canadian families, the John Whitfields and the Elwood Whitfields, plan to move to Fort William-Port Arthur upon completion of their schooling in the United States. Both these young Christian men are sons of Bro. and Sis. Mervin Whitfield of Thessalon, Ont.

Bro. John Whitfield and his wife, Diane (daughter of Bro. Clarence Huntsman of Guelph, Ont.), now live in Cleveland, Ohio, where he is working on his doctorate in mathematics at Case Institute. John and Diane are both graduates of ACC. They have one baby daughter, Karen. He will seek employment either in industry or in teaching in the Lakehead.

Bro. Elwood Whitfield also graduated from ACC and is doing graduate work at North Texas State University. He plans to teach high school after completing his training.

Several other families and individuals are considering a move to the Lakehead with the group. Their plans will be announced as soon as they are definite.

"Target: Canada's" goal is for at least 20 families to join in the project. An active congregation could then be established from the very

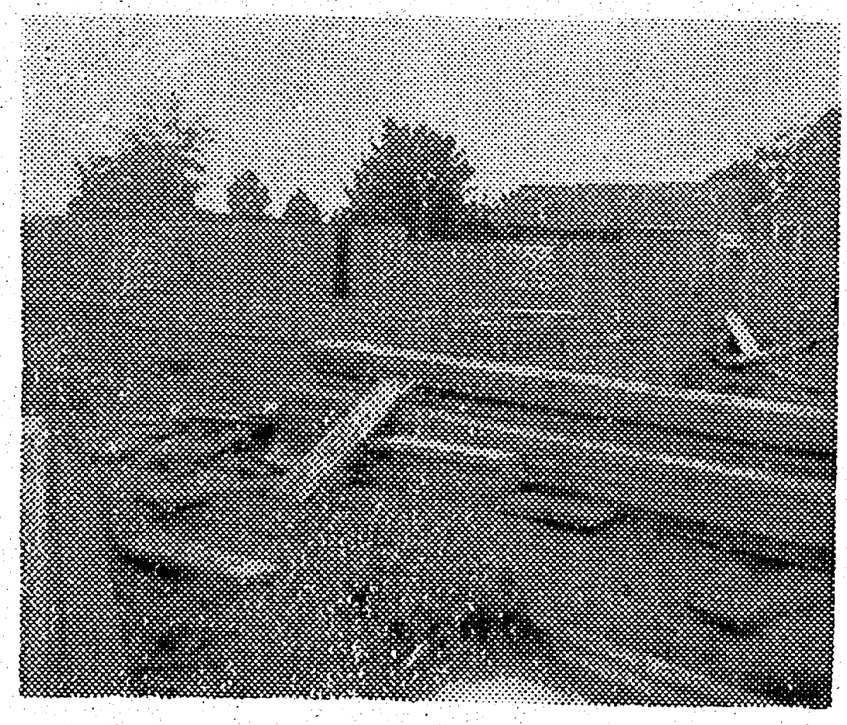
SAULT STE. MARIE, ONTARIO

In the year of 1940, there were five members of the church living in Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario but no effort had been made to set the church in order. On May 16 of this year, J. C. Bailey on a trip through urged that something be done to establish the church here. So on June 9, 1940 the first service of the church was conducted and in July the hall of the Y.M.C.A. was rented for services. However, meetings continued only spasmodically until the fall of 1943 when Brother and Sister Tom Bailey took up permanent residence in the Sault.

Property was purchased in Feb., 1945 and with the work done primarily by free labour from the members, the congregation was able to meet in their own building in November, 1946. In July, 1948, the first Vacation Bible School was held and in April, 1950 a special meeting was held. A number of baptisms are noted in this period. In 1951 an addition was put on the building and in 1953 radio broadcasts were begun over WSOO, Sault, Michigan.



McNab Street Building

The congregation continued holding Vacation Bible Schools and protracted meetings and in September, 1957 a new congregation was begun in the Sault known as the Eastside congregation.

McNab Street Congregation

After the Eastside church started Brother Tom Bunting served as preacher at McNab for about two years, Brother Lloyd Hotchkiss preached for the congregation for about six months, Brother Donald Givens for about a year and a half and in October of this year Brother Gallagher began work with this congregation. Recent repairs have been made to both building and preacher's home, attendance has been good, and contacts have been made and Brother George Hotchkiss states that in his opinion the outlook for the work there has never been brighter.

Construction of Eastside Congregations New Building

Eastside Congregation

This past summer, with money they have saved, the Eastside congregation have made a start on their building and they anticipate having the basement ready for use this winter. They plan on doing all of the work on the building themselves. Brother Nelson Bailey writes the following, "Up until now we have not asked for help in starting the church in this area. I know that if we had a full time worker more people could be reached and, yes; more souls saved. But the project is too big for us alone. We need help to the sum of $10,000. If anyone is interested we would appreciate hearing from them."

I have compiled this article from material sent by Sister Tom Bailey, Brother Nelson Bailey, and Bro. George Hotchkiss.

It seems impossible to close this article without paying tribute to a grand old man who was closely connected with the Sault work. Brother Tom Bailey's greatest asset on this earth was probably his great love for his fellowmen.

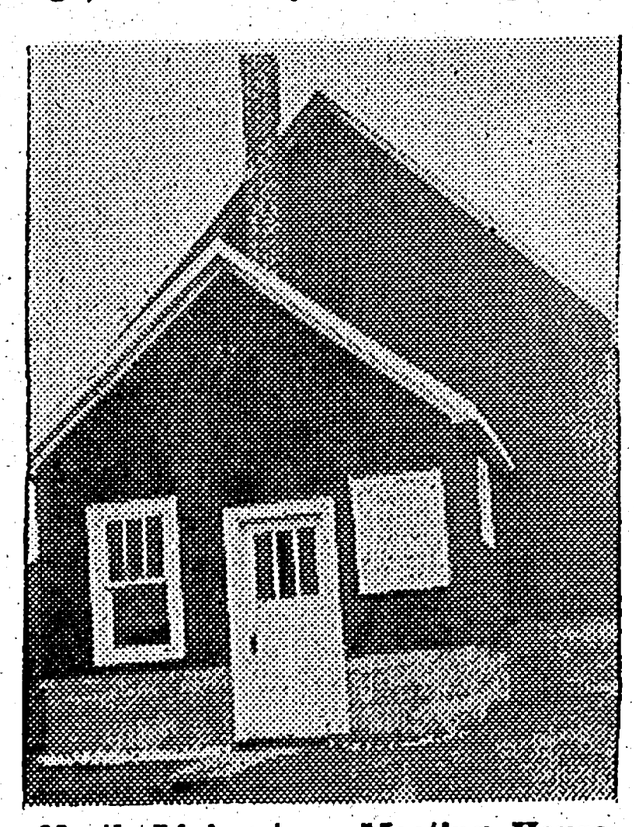
HISTORY OF NORTH LIVINGSTONE CHURCH OF CHRIST

by Mervin Whitfield



In March of 1907, Bro. and Sis. Robert Bailey and Bro. and Sis. Howard Whitfield with their families left their home in Meaford, Ont. to pioneer in Algoma district. On the second Sunday in March the first service, according to the New Testament scriptures, was held in their home in the town of Thessalon with four members present. Since that time the Lord's table has been spread every Sunday in Algoma.

Brother and Sister Archie Seabrook and family moved into town making six members. In 1908 Bro. Howard Richardson, a young man from Cape Rich, worked in this area and added a great deal to the services. In 1913 Brother and Sister Thomas Bailey and family came to Thessalon from Selkirk. Uncle Tom as he was affectionately known did the preaching. As the children of these pioneer families reached the age of accountability they became members of the church, thus enlarging the congregation. By 1914 the families had moved from town on to farms. A building in Kirkwood, formerly used by the Methodists, was rented as a meeting place. Many people who were non-members began to attend the meetings, eventually increasing the membership. After a few years a more central location was chosen and a new meeting house was built at North Livingstone in 1922.

By 1946 the meeting house was inadequate for the extra Sunday classes. It was decided a basement was a necessity. Over a period of time a concrete basement was constructed with a furnace room and three classrooms. However, as time went by space still proved a problem. In July 1962 an extension was begun on the end of the main auditorium increasing its size and permitting two more classrooms. By fall of '63 there is still the exterior to be finished. However, completion of this will be accomplished before winter, the Lord willing.

During part of the winter of 1936 Cecil Bailey held a Bible School. This period of Bible study helped the young men of the congregation to take part in the services. Again in 1941 Morris Bailey held a Bible School in the winter. Since 1955 there have been short summer Bible Schools held. These were conducted by Bethel Bailey, Jas. Krumrei, George Pennock, Lloyd Bailey and Clifford Whitfield assisted by Brothers and Sisters of the congregation.

In 1940 some of the young men left to seek employment in Sault Ste. Marie. Their move established the McNabb St. congregation. In December, 1947, the members that had been coming to meeting from Iron Bridge started a congregation there.

IRON BRIDGE, ONTARIO

by Lloyd Bailey

Iron Bridge Meeting House

The church of Christ at North Livingstone sponsored the late Bro. W. F. Cox in a meeting in the village of Iron Bridge in June, 1946. This was the first effort of preaching the gospel there. A good deal of interest was aroused in the neighbourhood at that time but this was not followed up. Then in the summer of 1947 Bro. Donald Perry laboured with the church at North Lingstone and meetings were again begun in Iron Bridge. From that time forward services have been conducted at Iron Bridge. Bro. W. F. Cox held another meeting in late autumn of that year but interest was not nearly as good. Our first meeting place was a rented I.O.O.F. hall. By winter we made use of the public school which was used for some time. Then as the building was sold to an individual we were forced to meet in Bro. Foster Seabrook's home for awhile. However, in the summer of 1956 we were able to build our present building which was first occupied in March of 1957. Three classrooms were added in the summer of 1961. At the present time we have a comfortable building with space to carry on our work. Brethren who have held protracted meetings were J. C. Bailey, Keith Thompson, Clyde Lansdell, Don Bunnell of Oklahoma and John Bailey.

Our membership is twenty at the present with thee students at Great Lakes Christian College. We have lost several members as employment took them elsewhere. Also, the grim reaper has taken its toll. In the holiday months we are favoured with many visiting members from the South. North Livingstone is co-operating with Iron Bridge at present to air the "Herald of Truth" over C.J.N.R. in Blind River. Last Lord's Day evening (November 10), almost all the members plus three visiting members and seven non-members attended. Peace and harmony prevails within the congregation. "Members are expected" and visitors are very welcome to come and worship with us.

NORTH LIVINGSTONE

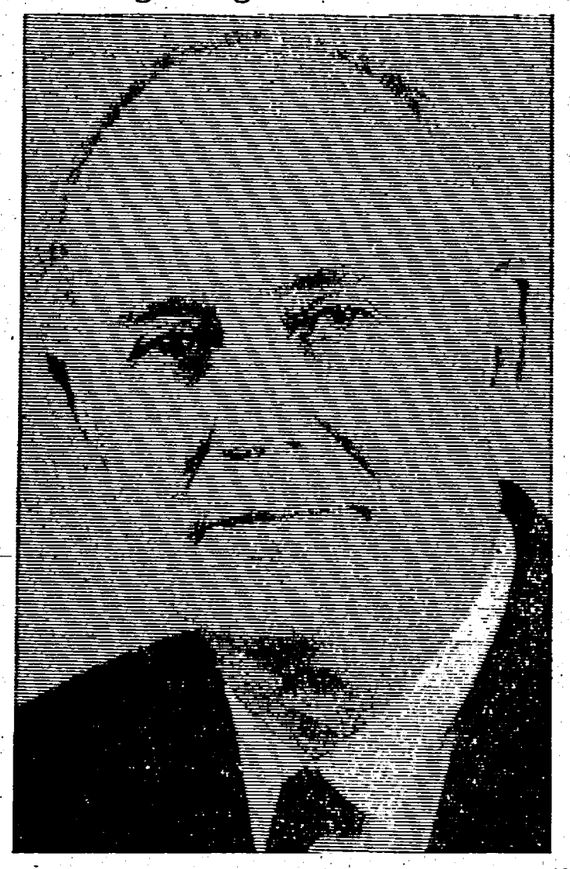
In 1941, after 28 years labouring with the brethren here, Brother Tom Bailey sold his farm in order to preach full time elsewhere. Since his departure from this congregation the brethren here have divided the preaching among themselves with an occasional speaker from other places. In 1947 Bro. Don Perry worked with the brethren from June to September and in 1948 and 1949 Bro. Roger Peterson was here during the same period of time. Then in 1950 and 1951 Bro. Robert Adams assisted the work here.



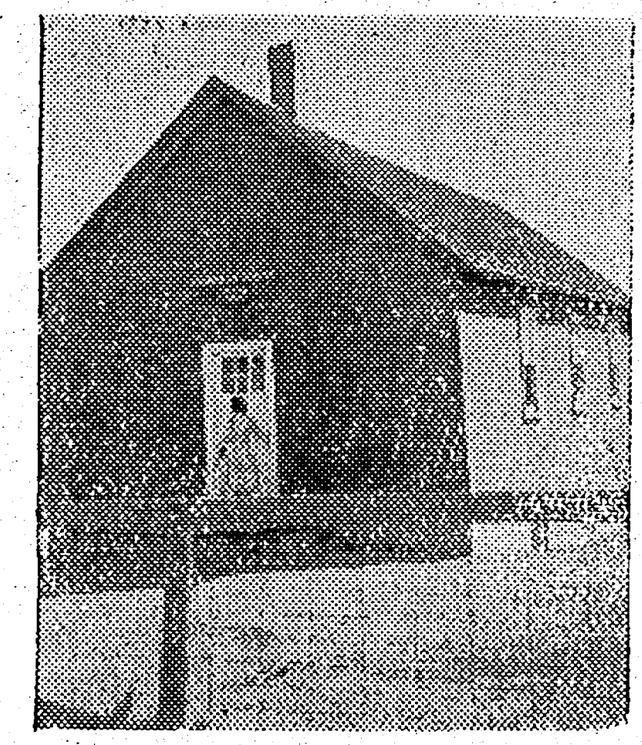
There have been protracted meetings held over the years with such brethren as: W. F. Neal, C. W. Petch, Collins, Charles McPhee, W. F. Cox, George Johnson, John Whitfield, James Krumrei, Clyde Lansdell and Jim O'Neal with return visits from some young members of the congregation as Carlos, Cecil and Morris Bailey.

After 56 years of church work here our congregation isn't very large but many preachers and faithful members from the Prairie Provinces on the West to India in the east and to Texas in the south call North Livingstone home.

"HAVING BEGUN A GOOD WORK"

All lessons on the Mid - Winter series at Barrie will be directed toward the development of young congregations, and will be based on expressions from the book of Philippians, like the title.

Beginning on December 31, at 8:00, the four night series is planned during a holiday season so that many will be able to attend from out of town. On the first night, activities will continue from 8:00 to 12:10 a.m. so that we may be together in singing and prayer at the exact beginning of the New Year.



Brother Reuel Lemmons will speak at the 8:00 service, and a total of seven other gospel preachers will participate during the evening. We are hoping for group singing, possibly the chorus of Great Lakes during the evening.

There will be no programme Wednesday morning, but Wednesday afternoon, January 1, the schedule will be resumed, and will continue throughout that evening, as well as Thursday and Friday, morning, afterncon and night. Brother Lemmons will speak again on Wednesday night, and we will be announcing other speakers later. All night meetings except Tuesday will be of "ordinary" length.

We are hoping to have special, money saving arrangements at local motels for those who wish to remain all night, December 31st. Write us for further information—Box 460, Barrie. —L. Wesley Jones

ICE LAKE CHURCH OF CHRIST, MANITOULIN ISLAND, ONT.

by Brodie Harrell

Ice Lake Meeting House

The first Christian arrived on the Island by horseback. No one seems to remember his name now, but a "messenger from God" rode about from town to village establishing the Lord's church in many places on the Manitoulin. Tears sting the eyes when some speak of the outlines of log cabins where the congregations of the Lord used to meet. In most of those areas only the very eldest can even remember the name of the church! The young don't know the sound of the gospel of Jesus Christ.

The church at Ice Lake can be traced back to 1880 without doubt, and is thought to be much older than that. We think it is the oldest church in the whole North Country that still worships. (If you have different information please let us know).

It was the early 1900's that the great digression hit the church. The issue was instrumental music, and the battle ground was the authority of the scriptures. The church at Ice Lake was the only one in the North Country to survive this onslaught. Why? Spiritually speaking the church was very strong. The elders really worked at attending the flock. If, for example, a member were absent from worship one of the elders would always go immediately, before lunch, and find out why. There is the case where one elder "straightway" walked six miles to see why a brother was absent. Then why did it become so weak and spiritually starved in the past years?

Apparently the elders discharged their duties faithfully in every respect — save one. The best I can determine they failed to observe 2 Tim. 2:2 ". . . the same commit thou to faithful men, who shall be able to teach others also." When these elders died off there was no one prepared to take their place. Truth and righteousness have suffered.

In September, 1962 my family and I came from Alabama with the hope that we could do something to relight the spiritual spark that was left here. Many have praised us for this undertaking, and we thank them, but we feel that the true praise should go to the church here. Many churches that are weaker in numbers and finances shudder at the thought of taking on the responsibility of caring for a preacher and his family. Ice Lake asked that we come.

Son Bradley with his dog Kagawong

I believe that we can teach the members here much about Christianity, but when it comes to that part of Christianity that teaches us to serve others — we have been the pupils. It would be impossible for me to enumerate all of the kind things that have been done for us to make our stay possible, but listen to a few. There was a Wednesday night when we came from Bible study and found a new set of tubes and snow grip tires leaning against our car. There was another night when the three of us were floundering waist deep in the snow trying to get to meeting when a brother 'rescued' us with his tractor and a bail of hay. It is seldom that we go to the mail box (which was built and installed by a brother) but what we find fruit, home baked bread,

Preparing to take the week's wash into town twelve miles away or canned goods hanging on the post. The house we were renting was about to be sold. One family loaned us the money, interest free, and at a small monthly rate, to buy the house. We heat (and last winter cooked) with wood. I'd be hard put to count the hours that have gone into cutting and hauling wood for us. Last winter we were virtually snowbound, and there was much shovelling and car pulling necessary. Tractors and help were always available.

The above is a very short list of the good that has been done for us by our brothers and sisters here. It reminds me of the time God asked Moses, "What is that in thine hand?" When Moses became willing to use what he had in his hand God added His blessings, and great things were accomplished. The church here has done that and we ask God's blessings on them for their courtesy to us and their serv-

Vancouver, B.C., Nov. 18: "Forty mission minded students from Columbia Christian College, Portland, Oregon, visited the Oakridge church in Vancouver the weekend of Nov. 9th and 10th. These students are preparing to enter a foreign mission field upon completion of their college work. They worked with the young people of Oakridge and neighboring congregations to pass out several thousand brochures advertising the gospel meeting at Oakridge.

On Saturday evening Jim Hawkins of Victoria, spoke to the youth gathering and the Chorus from C.C.C. college sang. They remained overnight and helped make a record attendance of 198 on Sunday morning to open the meeting preached by Jim Hawkins. There were no responses in the six-day meeting but one was baptized immediately following the meeting. A number of visitors attended and good contacts were made. It was a very good meeting and will continue to beart fruit. — D. C. Marshall

Nanaimo, B.C.: Brother Leo Owens of Lloydminster, Saskatchewan preached in a meeting here November 3-10.

Salmon Arm, B.C.: "My wife and I have just recently moved up to Salmon Arm to work with the Andersons. We plan to make Canada our home for the rest of our lives. To me Canada offers one of the greatest opportunities I've ever seen for winning souls to Christ. We plan to be part of the group that will move down in the Okanagan Valley in 1965. (An article by Brother Tumlinson is held over for lack of space). We enjoy reading the Gospel Herald very much. — Sam Tumlinson.

HERE AND THERE

Estevan, Sask.: James Burnes of Regina preached moving sermons in a recent meeting. Victor Hugo of Lampman obeyed the gospel.

Outlook, Sask.: The meeting here by Magnar Knutson was reported last issue but we add the information that visitors attended every night and the high of the meeting was 60 persons out according to Paul Tromberg. The many Scandinavians living in the area were enthusiastic about the service held in their own tongue and drove for miles to attend. Several gave their names for the Norwegian gospel paper "Pa Bibelsk Grunn" which will be sent out from the Lord's church in Oslo, Norway.

"To our knowledge this was the first such service to be held by the Lord's church in Canada. May it not be the last." — M. J. Knutson.

Western Christian College: Members of the church of Christ gathered from all points in Western Canada to enjoy the sixth annual W.C.C. lectureship October 11-14.

Exceptionally fine autumn weather made travel favorable and carloads drove in from far away points such as Vancouver, B.C. and Wichita Falls, Texas. A high attendance of 700 persons heard the Sunday afternoon lecture by Henry Speck, Jr. of Abilene, Texas. From the opening night crowd of about 350 persons, attendance grew at each meeting until it climaxed at the 700 for Sunday afternoon.

Toronto, Strathmore Blvd.: Two young men were baptized on Oct. 21 during the meeting held by L. W. Jones of Barrie.

Blenus Wright of 131 Blantyre Ave., Scarborough would like to get bulletins from all churches willing to send them. Brother Wright is very much interested in the progress of the gospel in Canada and makes this request because of this interest.

Bayview Ave.: David Jackson was baptized on October 27. He is from Oshawa.

Bayview: One additional elder and five additional deacons have been appointed. They are A. J. Trusler (former deacon, now the fourth elder), Dan Yake, Ray McClure, W. Schweitzer, J. E. Jones and R. Slater to the one remaining deacon John Franklin. Thus giving this church the wonderful working group of four elders and six deacons.

Huntsville, Ont.: Sermons by Magnar Knutson were used on the radio prior to his meeting there Oct. 20-26. Sixty-seven came to hear him on the first Sunday. The average attendance was 55, and many good contacts were made and followed up.

Meaford, Ont.: In the meeting at Meaford by L. Wesley Jones of Barrie, interest and attendance were good, and one was baptized. "The church is certainly fortunate to have the Pauls family." —L. W. Jones.

Owen Sound, Ont.: The meeting by Jere Frost of Birmingham, Alabama is reported as well preached. Marvyn Mothersell was baptized bringing the total responses for the last few months to five.

Windsor, Ont.: "Our gospel meeting closed recently, and in most respects was considered a success. There was one baptism as Robert Brown began a life in service to Christ. It is a real pleasure to work under the capable oversight of the three elders here in Windsor. Congratulations to the editors on ten fine years with the Gospel Herald, and may the Lord richly bless you with many more." — Ray L. Miller.

London, Ont.: We belatedly report the V.B.S. with an average attendance of 307 which is three higher than last year. Groups of helpers came from Plymouth, Michigan and Sarnia, Ontario.

An attendance goal of 125 has been set for Bible classes since the original goal of 80 was broken with a record attendance of 100 on October 6. The new building is in progress.

Tintern, Ont.: The meeting just completed by B. Lemmons of Westfield, N.J. resulted in three baptisms, two young men (one this editor's son) and a lady from Smithville who will worship there.

Jordan, Ont.: 125 in Bible study and $299.25 contributed during the month of October broke the previous goals. The high contribution was $322.55. This church has an-

GLEANINGS FROM FOREIGN FIELDS

EAST PAKISTAN

The church in Pittsburg, Calif., will send Brother Bill Reeves to Dacca, East Pakistan, to become the first full-time missionary there. He will join the Sam Lanford family, former members of the church in College Station, Texas. Brother Lanford is teaching in the Ahsanullah Engineering College in Dacca.

The church in Karachi which recently appealed for funds to implement its Bible distribution program has announced that the brotherhood responded in a wonderful way, and sufficient contributions to continue the program have been received.

Bro. J. C. Choate reports five more baptisms recently in Karachi, bringing the membership of the church there to 36.

ENGLAND

A congregation has been established recently in Southampton by Bro. Dennis R. Hodges, who was transferred there by his company from Aruba, Netherlands Antilles. Bro. Len Channing of Aylesbury has been helping him. Anyone knowing of Christians living in or near Southampton are asked to contact D. R. Hodges, 15 Roseberry Ave., Hythe, Southampton, England.

A strong effort is being made to re-establish the church of Christ in Liverpool where in the 1800's there were six congregations. Sunday services are being held in the home of Bro Raymond Hill, Vice Principal of the Liverpool College of Art. Several gospel meetings have been held in the area in the past year, and six have been baptized.

Information concerning the work can be optained from Raymond A. Hill, 31 Mossley Hill Road, Liverpool, England, or C. Philip Slate, 279 Woodcock Hill, Kenton, Harrow, Middx., England. Bro. Slate expects to be in the United States for three months beginning the first of December.

Bro. Reiner Kallus of Germany recently preached in gospel meetings at the Albert Street church, Wigan, and at the Ince-in-Makerfield church, near Wigan.

VENEZULA

An indigenous church of Christ has been found worshipping deep in the interior of Eastern Venezuela where the members have studied themselves into true New Testament Christianity with no help or instruction from missionaries. Bro. Frank Trayler of Caracas found the group after baptizing a young woman who told him that five families met in her father's home each Sunday, worshiping only as they found instruction in the Bible. Careful investigation showed that they were in perfect agreement with everything taught by the Christians in Caracas, and the native church "extended to the missionaries the right hand of fellowship."

This is just one more case, like so many others that have come to light, proving that if only the pure seed is sown, with no man-made additions, true Christians will be the harvest.

SWEDEN

An intensive two-week evangelistic campaign has just been completed by the church in Gothenberg, Sweden. At this time, the results have not been learned. Workers from the United States included Dan Billingsley of the Kaufman Road church in Dallas, Texas; J. D. Walker, Robbins Road church, Athens, Texas; Glover Nickerson, Anton, Texas; John Shero, Russell Avenue church, Abilene, Texas; John Morgan, and Payne Hattox, De Leon, Texas. Brethren Billingsley, Walker and Hattox have done previous mission work in Scandinavia, and Bro. Nickerson plans to go there in the future.

Many personal workers were to come from all the Scandinavian countries to help in the campaign.

SWITZERLAND

The first German-language worship service was conducted in the city of Basel Sept. 1 by Bro. Bob Wilkerson. Twenty persons, including 10 Swiss who had never heard a gospel sermon before, attended the meeting.

The church in Zurich has decided to carry its own financial load for the first time in its history. The understanding is that if they find themselves unable to do so, they will again receive help from American brethren in Wichita Falls and Abilene, Texas, who have been helping them for a number of years.

Bro. Jerry Earnhart, who is supported by the Hillcrest church in Abilene, reports that four were baptized during their gospel meeting in September, in which Bro. Richard Walker of Berlin, Germany, preached. Bro. Dieter Alten of Hamburg, Germany, will preach in another meeting this month.

In Biel, Switzerland, Bro. Hans Grimm has now taken over preaching duties from Bro. Heinrich Blum. Bro. Grimm, who speaks 10 languages, is a native Swiss though he has spent much time in Germany.

DOMINICAN REPUBLIC

Seven persons have been baptized recently in Santo Domingo, bringing to 16 the number baptized by Brother Stanley Morgan since he began preaching there earlier this year. A radio broadcast is held each Sunday morning, thus making more contacts for personal work. The church in Bono, Arkansas, supports Brother Morgan.

MEXICO

The Central congregation, established in Mexico City early in April, realized the first tangible fruits of its work in August when three adults were baptized into Christ.

LIBERIA

Bro. Vincent Tate of Pampano Beach, Florida, a 1958 graduate of Abilene Christian College, has stated his desire to enter Liberia to preach the gospel. He needs a supporting congregation.

FRANCE

Final papers have been signed on the purchase by the church in Paris of a part of the ground floor of a new apartment building to be used as a meeting place for a second congregation in Paris. Brethren Donald Daugherty and Ray Hawk are the workers behind the establishment of the church in a new section of the city.

THE NICKEL CAPITAL OF THE WORLD

Three years ago this summer, the work in Sudbury had a humble beginning. Our progress has not been spectacular. The people of this city, like all other cities, must be taught before we can expect growth. From the very beginning our teaching program has been hampered by inadequate help to carry out a progressive campaign for Christ. The lack of funds has not changed our mind regarding the need to establish a beach-head in this vital city of the North. The days ahead may be even more difficult, moneywise, but with the help of God we intend to continue our efforts.

Sudbury is the largest city in Northern Ontario, with a population in excess of 81,000 souls. It is a centre for approximately 200,000 including towns and villages in a near radius of the city. Presently there are only nine members of the Lord's church in this area. It is the Nickel Capital of the World. It produces sixty-seven percent of the world's supply of nickel; plus a number of alloys.

A building of our own is imperative. It is impossible to launch a definite programme under our present conditions The church meets in an inadequate hall on the Lord's day, because nothing better can be secured Week night meetings are held in our home. The few brethren meeting in Sudbury, with a little outside help, have managed to accumulate $1,500.00 in a building fund. Without help this will not purchase suitable property on which to erect a building.

A building, that would serve our needs for sometime, is presently for sale. Sufficient property accompanies the building to provide future space for additional building and parking. We feel, however, that the present price being asked for this property is more than it is worth. If this be true, in all probability they will reduce the price. In case this does not develop in our favor, we are investigating the purchase of suitable lots on which to erect a building.

Earlier we mentioned the vital need to establish a congregation in this city. Sudbury, is strategically situated in the centre of the vast unworked areas of Northern Ont. If we fail to secure this stepping-stone, from which other efforts can be launched, we will have retarded the future of the church in the North a number of years. Brethren, I tremble at the very thought of this.

The needs we have expressed are moderate, and this is as it should be. Christ, who had the powers of the world at His command, lived moderately. I fear sometimes that our material ambitions are greater than our desire to take the world for Christ. We sing loud and long "A tent or a cottage why should I care?" but we don't mean a word of it. This is not our abiding place, brethren, why live, work and plan, just as we would if we were to be here forever? The work in Sudbury does not need to suffer from insufficient support. When the church ranks seventh among the religions of the world in their giving, is it any wonder that we cannot contend with our mission problems? We pompously flaunt our ability to contend for the truth, while many of our opponents, walking in error, do more to demonstrate a passion for lost souls than we do. Until brethren convince themselves of the need to give cheerfully, and bountifully, they cannot claim a full return to New Testamemnt christianity. "He that stumbleth in one point has become guilty of all."

Sudbury, long noted for nickel and other valuable minerals, will soon become an educational centre for the North. They are presently constructing a multimillion dollar university. Unlike many educational ventures, raising money has not been a problem. Recently one enterprising individual donated $50,000. Sudbury is indeed a prosperous, and growing city. Will the church grow with the continued development of this city. Your assistance now, will largely determine the future of opening the North for Christ Hamilton, Ivon Ave.: Collection goal of $100 was broken when $101 was contributed on October 27. The loan taken in 1958 to enable completion of the building was paid off this month.

OUR DEPARTED

WATTERWORTH

Gordon Watterworth, a member of the old Woodgreen congregation for over half a century, has passed away. He was born on May the third, 1883, the son of the late David and Lavina Watterworth. A lifelong resident of the Glencoe area, he leaves to mourn many friends. Brother Watterworth passed away at his home on October 18.

He is survived by his wife, the former Maude Ripley; one son, Marvin, of Wyandotte, Michigan; one daughter, Pauline Miller, of Detroit, Michigan; four grandchildren; and three great - grandchildren; one brother, Maitland, of Kalamazoo, Michigan; and one sister, Mrs Verna Dowell, of St. Thomas, Ontario. Two sons, Harold and Carl, have preceeded him in death.

Brother Watterworth served the Woodgreen (now Glencoe) congregation as Treasurer for fifty years. He was well loved and respected by all that knew him.

The funeral was conducted in the Glencoe meetinghouse that he had helped to build. Bro. George Johnson conducted the service in a very impressive way, and a large number attended from far and near. Burial was in Oakland Cemetery. Bro. Ralph Perry and the writer assisted Bro. Johnson with the funeral service.

BEAMSVILLE ONTARIO

NORTH BAY FOR CHRIST

by Clyde Lansdell

In the fall of 1962 my family and I started making plans to move to the city of North Bay, Ontario for the purpose of establishing the first congregation of the Lord's people (that we know of) in this city of 45,000 people. Upon our first visit here we found that Brother Don Hamilton and his family along with Sister Patt Maddocks were already meeting each Lord's Day. A great deal of thanks is due to the Sundridge brethren who drove over eighty miles almost every Sunday to help conduct these services.

Shortly after announcing our plans to move here we were happy to learn that Brother Lock and his family were also planning to move here about the same time that we were.

Before 1962 had come to a close another family had moved into the city and began worship with those already mentioned. Namely, Bro. and Sister Jim Hardage and their family. Then early in 1963 Brother and Sister Wayne Fields had moved here and made the fourth family that met each Lord's Day at the Tweedsmuir Public School building.

Brother Don Hamilton's job was finished here in the early part of the summer (1963) and we had the sad experience of losing a very fine family. When the Lock family and my family moved here we had a total of eleven members. This number has increased just recently to thirteen with the arrival of two more families to the city.

Plans For The Future

The brethren here have just purchased a little over two acres of land in a new sub-division of the city. We hope to be able to start construction of a meeting house by the spring of 1965.

We hope to have sufficient funds by the first of the year to start a radio programme. It is planned to use Brother Wesley Jones' programme, "Christ for the World".

In the near future it is hoped that we can rent an office down town that will be used for passing out tracts to the public, mid-week meetings, preachers office, and a place where baptismal facilities can be made available.

A fine congregation in Valdosta, Georgia is planning to send a group of adult workers here in June of next year. Their time will be spent in doing personal work, inviting people to public meetings, passing out literature, etc. We hope that around twenty-five workers will be coming from Georgia. In addition to this, we hope to have another twenty-five to come from other areas.

Another Vacation Bible School is planned for August of next year.

In the near future, signs advertising the church are to be erected at all the entrances to the city.

Besides these plans, we continue our weekly meetings, visitation programme, etc.

Needs

As one can see from the above mentioned plans for the future we need (1) People to move here to help with this great work, (2) We will be needing financial assistsance for our radio programme plans, our plans to rent an office, and to help complete our building plans, (3) People will be needed to come here during the summer to help with both the campaign in June and the Vacation Bible School in August, and (4) Most of all we need your continued fervent prayers.

Conclusion

It is impossible to thank everyone that has helped in this work personally But I am especially grateful for the Birmingham, Michigan church of Christ for looking after my personal support. Helping them in this have been the following congregations: (1) North Bay, (2) Allan Park, Michigan, (3) Lima, Ohio, (4) Birmingham, Alabama, (5) Town Creek, Alabama, (6) Muscle Shoals, Alabama, (7) Toledo, Ohio, and also (8) The Bell Trust Fund of Dallas, Texas.

But this is only the beginning of the list of those who have helped and not the end. Help has been received from congregations throughout Ontario and individuals from both the United States and Canada. A $500.00 bond was loaned to us from the Weyburn, Saskatchewan (city) congregation which has been used in borrowing the down payment needed for our property. Maybe I shouldn't have started this list but even though you or your congregation may have helped us in this work and are not mentioned here, your assistance was greatly appreciated and we solicit your continued support and prayers.

If you are interested in knowing more about the work in North Bay you are invited to address your correspondence to: Clyde Lansdell, 103 Gertrude Street East, North Bay, Ontario.

TARGET: CANADA

beginning, making it possible to reach out immediately, rather than taking months or even years to get established. It is a proven fact that the more people are working, the faster the work will grow.

The Canadian Lakehead is the center of an 860-mile stretch of the Trans-Canada Highway along which not a single Church of Christ can be found. 100,000 people live in the twin cities, and another 250,000 in the surrounding area. Because of its importance as the western terminus of the St. Lawrence Seaway and shipping port for all of northern and western Canada, the cities are expected to triple in size within the next 15 years.

A plea is being made for congregations to pledge a gift of $50 a month, or individuals $1 a month for three years, beginning now or when the work is established. This will provide a working fund and a meeting place. At the end of that period those going hope that with God's help the work will be self-supporting.

Are YOU interested in helping to carry the gospel of our Lord Jesus into this strategic, rapidly-growing area of our country, either physically or financially? If so, contact Roy D. Merritt, 609 E. N. 20th St., Abilene, Texas, or Blenus Wright, 131 Blantyre Ave., Scarborough, Ont. The Lord's church in Canada needs YOU.

HERE AND THERE

North Livingstone, Ont.: Brother Morris Bailey of Moose Jaw, Sask. held a meeting here during October. One young woman was baptized.

SUNDRIDGE, ONTARIO

The work of the Lord in Muskoka and Parry Sound districts dates back to well before the turn of the century. One of the most prominent figures in establishing the work in those days was Brother Wm. Crewson of the Huntsville - Baysville area. Brother Crewson travelled extensively throughout this entire area and even held several meetings on Manitoulin Island. One of the faithful members of the church at Ice Lake, Manitoulin Island is Sister John Kerr. She was baptized into Christ at the age of fifteen by Brother Crewson, and even now, in her ninety-eighth year is able to attend some worship services. Here in the Sundridge area one of the foremost men in the Lord's work was a Brother Adam Henderson. Brother Henderson moved here from Stayner, Ontario and engaged in farming for a living. At one time as many as approximately one hundred people gathered at his home for worship services. As recently as 1949 one resident of this community told me, "The thing I remember most about Mr. Henderson is the way he would preach on the verse—He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved."

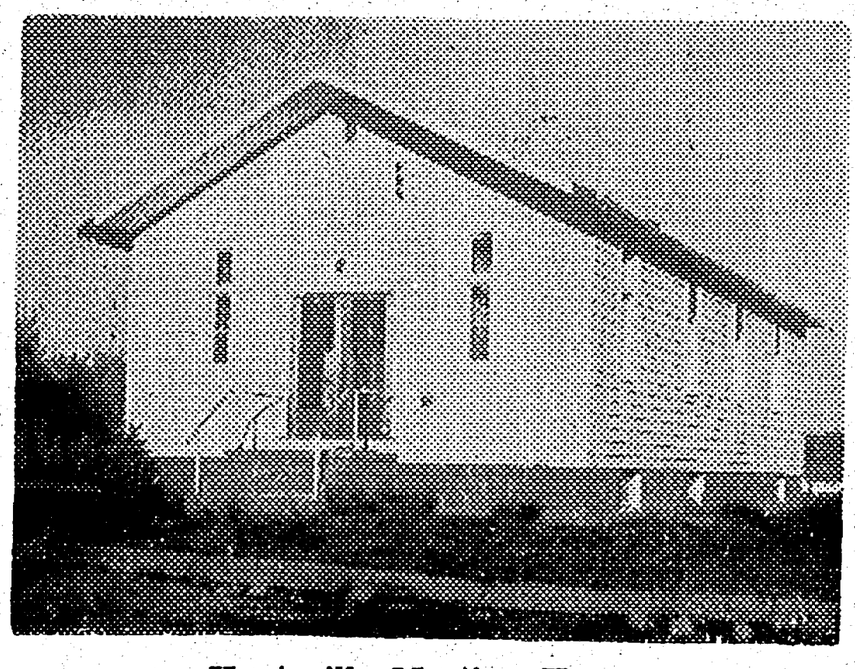
In spite of this good work the digression that swept the church took its toll here as in other places. The light that shone so brilliantly for awhile flickered and went out. Today there are scores of grandchildren and great-grandchildren of those faithful saints of yesterday who know not the way of the Lord. We pray that many of these will be fruitful soil into which the seed of the Gospel will fall.

In recent times the church again began to meet when Alex Preston moved his family to this community in 1943. Brother J. C. Bailey held the first meeting in the spring of 1944. Other meetings were held by brethren Fletcher, C. G. McPhee, and G. M. Johnson. In July of 1949 Brother Johnson, assisted by J. O'Neal, held a tent meeting twelve miles south-east of the village. This meeting resulted in the first convert outside of the Preston family being added to the Lord's body. Brother Bill Harmer has remained faithful to the Lord and worships with us just as often as he is physically able. During the years 1949-50 Jim O'Neal, who was preaching on Mantoulin Island, endeavored to be with the few brethren in this area once monthly, or as often as possible, to encourage them to continue in the grace of God. It was also during this period that he assisted with the purchase of property and wrote the first letter appealing for help to build a meeting place. Brethren across Canada responded in a fine way and the building was completed about 1955. We shall ever be grateful to our many genereous brethren.

Pupils and teachers of Sundridge Vacation Bible School, 1963. About 190 in picture

Brother D. A. Sinclair moved here in 1954 to take up full time church work. Being an active person and an able personal worker the church was soon placed before the community in a more positive way. Through his efforts and those of evangelists in meetings several were baptized into Christ. The membership grew from seven to near forty. Of this original number some have returned to former denominational affiliations; some to the world; some claim not to have forsaken the Lord, but they have no fellowship in His work.

Three years ago Jim and Pauline O'Neal returned to Ontario from Saskatchewan to take up full time work with this congregation. During the first few months the work of getting acquainted and realizing the need weighed heavily. Tragedy brought death into two homes of the brethren. Two families withdrew from the church and two more hovered on the brink of departure. So many needed so much teaching and encouragement that the load was staggering. God strengthened us all and now the congregation as a whole is more optimistic and more conscious of responsibility.



During the summer of 1961 Brother Clyde Lansdell held a Gospel meeting and Bill Butson became our brother in Christ. 1962 became the year of our first effort at Vacation Bible school. God blessed this work and an average of 91 students were brought daily by bus and car to the O'Neal home to study about God's Word. Brother and Sister Charles Davison and their daughter, Sandra, helped with the school. Four of our young people, and the mother of two young children, were baptized for the remission of their sins. Brother Gordon French held our meeting in the fall. There were no additions during this effort but the church was strengthened. Everyone came to love Brother and Sister French and their fine family.

Just as Christians should continue to grow in spirituality so the work program of a healthy church should grow with each passing year. This past summer has been a milestone in the history of this church. A large army tent was purchased to accommodate the expected increased enrollment in Vacation Bible school. We did not expect such an increase as was actually realized however, and we were again cramped for space. Statistics for the school this year are as follows: Monday 135 students, Tuesday 108 (this drop due to drenching rain most of the forenoon); Wednesday

HUNTSVILLE, ONTARIO

The congregation at Huntsville is about 10 years old. We have been meeting in our own building for six years, and finished paying for it this year. The auditorium seats 100 and there are four classrooms and a large hall in the basement. The town population is about 3200, with a local radio station and a weekly newspaper. The population of the surrounding area swells during the summer since this is the heart of the vacation land.

Huntsville Meeting House

Brother D. A. Sinclair worked with Sundridge and Huntsville for a time and then moved here in the spring of 1957, where he lived and laboured still with both congregations till returning to the west. Brother Gordon Dennis has now been here over 5 years.

There are now 35 members meeting at Huntsville. This includes 12 which worship at Huntsville, but live at Baysville, 15 miles south. Following are the average attendances: Sunday morning Bible study (5 classes) 60; Sunday morning Worship 65; Sunday evening Worship 30; Wednesday evening study (4 classes) 30; Tuesday Bible study at Baysville (3 classes) 12; Teenage young people at Baysville 12; Ladies meeting held monthly except summer 8; Average collection (9 wage earners) $60.01.

We have a ten minute radio broadcast at 9:30 each morning, Monday through Friday on the local radio station. The church at Jordan payed for this for a year and a half, but Huntsville and Sundridge are now carrying it by each paying half. Brother Dennis is the regular speaker.

We use the filmstrips in cottage meetings which have proven very successful, and a constant schedule is maintained.

Brother Dennis teaches 3 classes of 'religious instruction' each week in the public schools.

Last February the church at Huntsville was host to a lectureship which we believe was the first of its kind to be held in the northern part of Ontario. Every preacher from Barrie north participated. Four lectures were given each day for 3 days. The average attendance was 56 with a high of 67. Our thanks again to all those who drove so many miles to take advantage of the wonderful lessons presented, and to the speakers who gave so freely to make this a successful and beneficial spiritual feast. We hope this will become an annual event among the congregations in the north.

Brother Magnar Knutson preached in our last Gospel meeting in June of this year with a high attendance of 96, and an average of about 60. Brother Knutson also showed pictures he had taken while a missionary in Norway to several classes in the public schools which resulted in much respect for the church from the teachers and parents as well as from the pupils. He is to be with us again for our fall meeting October 20-26.

We had our third Vacation Bible School this year, July 22 to 26. There has been an improvement each year. This year we had an average attendance of 109 with a total enrolment of 120. Highest attendance for one day was 119. A good many parents were present for the closing programme Friday evening which had to be held outdoors to accommodate everyone. Teachers and assistants from Huntsville were Hilda Skinner, Evelyn Preston, Sis. Reid, Edna Preston, Brian and Marion Smith, Dorothy Dennis, Connie Brush. From Sundridge came Jim and Pauline O'Neal, June Kent, Barbara Preston. From North Bay came Ray and Elizabeth Lock, Lynn Dooley, James Simms. Brother Dennis served as director.

Several improvements have been made to our building and grounds recently, with more to be done as time and money permit.

The church at Jordan sends $34.25 a week and Sarnia sends $25 a month to help maintain brother Dennis's salary at $70 a week. We are grateful for this continued assistance. The churches at Windsor and Selkirk have sent assistance in the recent past as well, and of course many brethren and congregations assisted to get the building started.

Our thanks to all those who have helped us in the past, and we ask for your continued interest and prayers that we may be successful in bringing the gospel to every soul in the Huntsville area, with the prayer that many will accept it and turn to glorify God and be saved.

ice to Him. We also pray that other churches who are "too small and too weak to do anything" will take Ice Lake for a living example and use what they have in their hand to His honor and glory.

We left Birmingham, Alabama last year with very little more than Jesus' promise in Matt. 6:33 "But seek ye first the kingdom of God and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you." We didn't even know for certain that any support would be paid us by the church. Let me testify that Jesus Christ is both willing and able to keep His promises. After a year here Peggy and I sat down and tried to count our blessings. They were so many that we couldn't even scratch the surface! Our material wealth has multiplied far beyond anything we had even thought of, but even so, the spiritual blessings of brotherhood and "peace that passeth understanding" is much greater, and is the thing that humbles us and makes us so grateful to God and His children.

The brethren here have a wonderful attitude! When I suggested last winter that we hold several gospel meetings in Gore Bay through the summer there was not one dissenting voice. Not one said that is too big for us, we can't afford it or the like. The only attitude manifested was, 'What is the best way to go about doing it?'

We rented the community hall in Gore Bay, and for four straight weeks heard some wonderful sermons by Bros. Reed (Alabama), French (Michigan), Lansdell (North Bay), and Myers (Ohio). There was one response and we feel that the church is better known on the Island now than it has been in many years.

The future? As a result of the meetings Bro. Kenneth Reed hopes to bring a group of Christian students from the University of Alabama next fall to do personal work for about two weeks over the whole island. All of these will be well trained in presenting the plan of salvation, and coping with denominational teachings. It is our prayer that their Mission Study Group will choose to bear their cross on the Manitoulin.

Although it is thought that the church of Christ was the first religious group on the Island, there is only one small congregation here now. The meeting house sets on the corner of a farm at the cross of two country roads. Our membership books reads forty-one, but in all honesty I fear that the Lord's book doesn't list near that many. We feel that there should be at least twenty congregations scattered about the many small towns, villages and Indian reservations on this island of 10,000 residents. My hope now is to interest enough preachers to raise their support and come live in one of these areas and establish the church.

There must be many brothers who want to preach full time, but for one reason or another can't seem to get started. I feel that we should build or purchase a place to house them so we could study together and go about the island in teams preaching the word and establishing new congregations. This could also be used in the summer by the boys in our Christian schools who want practical experience during the summer. Somewhat of a missionary outpost for the North Country.

Another dream is to have a place in the middle of our nearest town, Gore Bay, where we could hold meetings, teach classes, distribute literature, and in general a place to establish contact with the public. I had my first experience with VBS in Sundridge and Griersville last August. When I heard the term 'pre-enrollment' I had a real thrill. If we and you should have a centeralized place in town why couldn't we pre-enroll, housewives, teenagers, men, and so on in special classes and keep them running continuously?

We are now trying to establish study groups in homes that have no connection with the church. We are using the Young Peoples' Class as our 'shock troops' in this attack. They plan to devote one Saturday a month to passing out tracts and inviting people to meet with us. The first day of this has already been accomplished. In a month or six weeks I expect to have them trained to make appointments for me to come and study in the homes with the Tisdal charts. We pray that this will grow so much that we will have to order more charts and enlist more brethren to teach these classes.

The Young People have elected an editor and the first issue of a mimeograph paper is on the 'stands'. They did an excellent job for the first issue. It will get better with experience. We don't have a complete mailing list yet, but the intention is to send the paper to the many youth groups on the Island — both religious and secular.

Although I was refused the requested permission to teach a class in the high school, I am teaching a thirty minute class each week in our public school.

The Manitoulin Ministerial Association invited me to one of their meetings last week. One United Church minister, and one Anglican priest and I have decided to start meeting with one another to establish what each believes and see if we can unite. Don't become alarmed — this doesn't mean compromise — it means united on the truth. Pray for us.

One of our families has moved to Manitowaning, a little town on the island and about 60 miles distance. We plan to start a mid-week Bible study in their home within the next few weeks. Pray that this may grow into another congregation.

July seems to be the month when your big cities have to slow down because so many have left town on vacation. Well, we hope to take up the slack over here as that is our big tourist month. We are thinking of placing a tent on the grounds where so many camp and preach to the changing numbers most every night that month.

Of course we plan the usual of putting a new roof on the meeting house, building better class rooms, placing literature in transit places, newspaper articles, sending tracts to newly engaged, married, etc., writing letters to visitors, and the like. Some of this has already been done — more will. Bro. Jim O'Neal gave us a boost on this when he brought his tent from Sundridge last month and set up at the big cattle sale in Little Current. Bro. Bethel Bailey and I helped him in the display of tracts, filmstrips, etc. The young people seemed to be especially attracted.

Manitoulin Island is about the size of Palestine at the time of Christ. We pray that we may be able to take this Island in the name of Christ. We envision the Lord's army marching out of the North to carry the word of God to the whole world. We say something like this: The Manitoulin NOW!; the North Country for breakfast; Canada for lunch; and the world by supper time! Too big? Any lesser plans would not be Christian plans. Alone? By the grace of God we shall prevail! Encouraged? Discouraged? What does all that garbage mean? After a year and only five responses here — after four weeks of meetings and only one response shouldn't I be drowned in self pity and cry loudly, "I tried, but they . . .". Bologna! I'm more convinced

140; Thursday 150; Friday 169. Total enrollment 184. Daily average 140. Teaching staff and helpers 17; total staff including director and bus drivers 20. Facilities consisted of the O'Neal home and the tent. Classes were distributed in the following manner: four classes in the basement; one class in the living room; three classes in the tent; one class in the school bus. We anticipate the need for increased space next year.

During this year we have rejoiced to witness the obedience of four more souls. A young father, his wife and their ten year old son were baptized into Christ thus adding to our number another new family. Brother and Sister Smith have taken their place actively and they are doing us a lot of good. We are looking for greater things from them in service to our Lord. The other person baptized was Violet Ann Kent, eldest daughter of June and Lewis Kent. Violet is a good girl from a fine Christian home. She will contribute a great deal to the cause of Christ. We are trying to give our young substantial training so that they will not only know the Bible but will be able to use what they know. Our boys (ages 10 to 12) are already helping considerably with the services and brethren Arnold Smith and Jim O'Neal are conducting a special class for them.

Brother Jere Frost conducted our fall meeting from October 6th to the 13th. Many of the brethren were active in inviting their neighbors and this resulted in the most interest, locally, of any meeting in recent times. There were no visible results during the meeting but we do have home studies started as a result of the meeting. The ladies of the congregation are studying how to do personal work and they plan a regular visitation program. This congregation of forty-two members has six active song leaders, nine men who preside at the Lord's table, and fourteen who read the scripture. Every one of our boys have, at some time, led singing and they are being helped and encouraged in this. Some of our men have filled preaching appointments at North Bay, Huntsville, Thornton, Pine Orchard, Meaford, Griersville and Vandeleur. We were fortunate when Brother and Sister John Wallace moved here from Dryden, Ontario. Brother Wallace retired from his work and they chose Sundridge as their new home. We learned to love and appreciate them. We are currently faced with losing another family who think of moving to another field needing Christian families. Rather than be discouraged we press on knowing that this will aid the Lord's work in some other place.

Our most recent major decision has been to purchase a new building site in a much better location as our present class room and auditorium facilities are taxed almost to the limit. Negotiations have been made and steps toward finalizing the transaction are being taken. This will burden us further financially but the price of the property has already been raised within the congregation. Brother Wallace very graciously made a substantial loan for this purpose. We are all grateful to him. We hope to be able to announce building plans within a reasonable period of time.

It is proper at this point to express gratitude to the church at Jordan, Ontario for contributing regularly to Jim O'Neal's support during the past two years. The Sundridge church is trying to carry its own load to the greatest possible degree, but there are times when additional funds would be an asset. If your congregation is burdened with a substantial bank balance we can help you spend it to the glory of God. —Jim O'Neal

NOTED IN THE NEWS

ly, unity is desirable. But the only unity worth anything is that to be found "in Christ". This involves a recognition of Christ as the only head of his body, the church.

Mass in Modern Languages Approved

The Ecumenical Council has approved introduction of modern languages in large portions of the mass. This is no doubt a step in the right direction. But we see where a number of the bishops at the Council voted against this change. Evidently they still believed all the arguments their Church has made against such a change for so many years.

Billy Graham in Los Angeles

An Episcopal rector of Hollywood was quoted by Time (September 6, 1963) concerning Billy Graham's Los Angeles crusade, "I believe he's putting the Church back fifty years." At a breakfast gathering during the crusade, Graham referred to the remark and said: "I'm afraid I have failed. I had hoped to put the Church back 2,000 years."

An observer noted about the crusade: "There was something of Acts 2 about it: prophetic preaching of the Lordship of Christ, the coming of the day of judgment, conviction of sin, repentance and faith, and an invitation to 'save yourselves from this crooked age." (Christianity Today, October 25, 1963, page 11).

We agree with Billy Graham that the Church needs to go back 2,000 years. We believe that a return to New Testament Christianity is our only hope. We appreciate Graham's repeated use of the phrase, "The Bible Says." Certainly in many basic principles Billy Graham has much in common with churches of Christ.

The observer mentioned Acts 2 in his report. He told of some of the things that Graham preached that were like those that Peter preached. But may we point out one significant ommission? At the climax of Peter's sermon the people asked, "Brethren, what shall we do?" Peter's response was, "Repent and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the forgiveness of your sins; and you shall receive the gift of the Holy Spirit." (Acts 2:37, 38). Billy Graham urges faith in Christ, even as Peter did. He even urges people to repent as Peter did. But he falls short of preaching all that Peter preached. He does not repeat Peter's command that men should be baptized. We are glad that Billy Graham goes back 2,000 years in some respects. We hope that even though he says "Baptism is controversial" that he will start preaching what "the Bible says" about it.

BARRIE BUILDING

We are confident that the Lord has looked over our shoulder throughout this construction. First, we are about one year ahead of our original expectations. This is due to the generosity of brethren who are helping us in so many places. Then, we were able to complete construction in almost exactly the period of time we had allowed. Our goal was November 1, and we had our first meeting November 3.

Open house was conducted on November 24th, and we certainly do appreciate the calls and good wishes of our friends and brethren.

One of the most fortunate decisions we made was to hire brother Michael Bachuk, of Fennell Avenue, to direct this construction. He was very loyal to his task, and seemed to know where it was wise to save and where not. Though we spent more money than we originally planned, this was in no way due to bro. Bachuk's supervision. We prayerfully d e c i d e d that some changes should be made in t h e plans and made these choices as we went along, knowing that they would add to the cost.

We have 3700 square feet of floor space. Only one small room, 10 x 10 is below grade level. The auditorium with balcony will seat about 190, and there are eight classrooms besides auditorium, two dressing rooms, and fibre glass baptistry. Two of the rooms double as nursery and office.

Our total cost will probably be about $32,500, including the seats, and considerable money spent outside in preparation of parking lots and walks. Our heat is with natural gas. Walls in the auditorium a n d halls are plastered, and in the classrooms are block a n d paneling. Floors are vinyl asbestos on concrete.

Brethren Rittenhouse and McKenzie have been very helpful. The former is our Secretary-Treasurer and has also contributed many hours of manual labour. The latter has painted our beautiful scene behind the baptistry. Both families have worked hard on the clean up operation with us.

May God help us to walk in His way;
To "go" — Not in our building to stay.
Let's Christ adore!
And sinners implore!
And He'll add to our number each day.

— L. W. J.

SHILLONG, INDIA

I have been in India for three months now. I have been away from home almost half of t h i s time. I have travelled in India about four thousand miles by airplane, train, bus, and jeep. Almost five weeks were spent in Calcutta and several days in New Delhi. To say the least I am getting acquainted with India. My travels have been related to getting the Jeep, that we shipped from Canada, c l e a r e d through Customs authorities.

We finally have the Jeep here to use in the work. The duty itself amounted to about 200% of landed costs. This amounts to over $4000 dollars duty. Expense considered, we have a "Cadillac" to drive. It has been used the last two Sundays to go out to visit brethren in villages forty and twenty miles from here. We hope to use it for this type of work. Yesterday when brother Ray McMillan and nine Khasi brethren and sister got caught in a rice paddy in a heavy rain they found this vehicle more valuable than a Cadillac.

Clearing the Jeep has added extra expenses to work here. Bro. Bailey provided the duty money plus some extra on expenses. We have no working fund here now since Bro. Bailey has moved to Madras. Any one wishing to help in the expenses of the work here could send money to me, Box 94, Beamsville, or directly here to Donald Perry, Mawlai, Phudmowri, Shillong Assam, India by postal or bank money order.

than ever that we can carry out the Lord's commission (not permission) to preach the gospel to every creature — even in Canada! It is just a matter of finding the right key to open the door of their hearts.

Who gives a hoot if no one says words of encouragement? What difference if all our plans don't go as we think they should? So what, if all the brethren don't react as they should? My brothers, let's stop stumping our toes on the stumbling blocks. Let's stop worrying about our own feelings. Our King has given us a mission to accomplish. Let's get on with it, and let the lukewarm, stumbling blocks, traitors, and dead weight fall where they may. Our King has said He would rather we be hot or cold. In other words its a voluntary outfit — get in or get out! If all you can do is sit around and lick y o u r wounds then you are in the wrong army — transfer and make room for a soldier! Don't talk to me about why the people in Canada c a n ' t be converted — just show me your plans for attack! Pick up the sword of the Spirit and MARCH!

WHO FAILED?

By Roy D. Merritt

As we cross the threshold of 1964 there is much for which to be thankful. Great things have been accomplished by God's people in the year ended. Many have been baptized into Christ; missionaries have been sent out; much sound preaching has been done; buildings have been built and better educational facilities have been provided. For these things we give thanks and take courage. In general a feeling of optimism prevails among our brethren. It can be and should be a great year for the church in Canada.

To some extent, perhaps, this optimism is unwarranted. There are clouds on the horizon. Signs of weakness exist which pose grave threats for the church of tomorrow. None of these could be more ominous than evidence that the youth of the church does not know fundamental Biblical facts. Our sources are from the States in this matter, but there is a strong possibility that the same situation prevails among youthful Canadian Christians.

Bro. George Benson has released the results of an admission test in Bible knowledge given at Harding. He relates how 400 Harding College freshmen from 36 States were given a standard test devised for testing freshmen in church-related colleges. In brief form we quote from his summary: "This meant that our freshmen were being tested in comparison with the freshmen in a large number of denominational colleges throughout various parts of the United States on their knowledge of Bible content.

The mean score for all church related colleges using this test is 66.1. The average for Harding College freshmen for these two years is 57.3."

After we have made allowance for the possibility that the weakness here revealed may be somewhat regional, let us not be completely satisfied with this easy explanation. The fact is that the students in the freshmen class at Harding come from 36 states.

ECCLESIASTES – A STUDY IN MATERIALISM

Jim Hawkins, Victoria, B.C.

Probably no book has been much more misunderstood than has the book of Ecclesiastes. This book does not present the picture of the man who is spiritually minded and perfect (in the Bible use of the term). But the book of Ecclesiastes, with Solomon in all probability the writer and the object of the descriptions given therein, is a portrayal of the man who spends his life in the pursuit of materialistic ends and accomplishments. And Solomon shows that for all practical purposes, the materialistic man is very little different from the beast or animal (Eccl. 3:19-20). The fallacy of some who could come to your door today and preach their own materialistic Gospel and not the Gospel of Christ (Gal. 1:6-9), is in saying that this is definitely what will happen to man, not admitting that man is more than body, but is also spirit or the "inner man". In doing this, they both abuse such passages, and ignore others even in Ecclesiastes (12:7).

But just because some would mis-

THE CHURCH

by J.C. Bailey, Mawlai, Phudmawri, Shillong, India

The term "Church does not appear in the Bible until we reach the first book in the New Testament. In Matthew 16:-18 Jesus says, "I will build my Church". This is the only Church mentioned in all the Bible.

Some people teach that the Church started back in the days of Abraham. That could not be for the Church was still future when Christ uttered the words recorded in Matthew 16:18.

Some people teach that the Church started in the days of John, the Baptist. That cannot be true, for John was dead before Jesus said, "I will build my Church".

Some people teach that the Church was builded on Peter but that cannot be for the Bible says: "For other foundation can no man lay than that which is laid, which is Jesus Christ" (I Corinthians 3:11).

Some people teach that Peter was the Rock upon which the Church was builded. That is not true, for we learn in I Corinthians 10:4: "The Rock was Christ".

Some people teach that the Church is made up of all the various denominations that we have in the religious world. That is not true for the Church existed hundreds of years before any modern denomination existed.

Christ is the head of the Church. "And he put all things in subjection under his feet, and gave him to be head over all things to the church which is his body, the fulness of him that filleth all in all" (Ephesians 1:22,23). Every denomination has a head of its own. Every denomination has a body of its own. Denominations are not part of the body of Christ but are rival institutions, offering service to God which He never authorized.

Some people teach that the Church is not important any way, that you can serve out of the Church as well as in the Church. This is what the word of God says: "Unto him be the glory in the Church and in Christ Jesus unto all generations for ever and ever AMEN' (Ephesians 3:21). As far as God is concerned He made serving Him in the Church as 'binding as serving Him in Christ Jesus. Do you accept God's plan or man's in this respect?

If the Church is not necessary why did Jesus die for it? He shed His blood for the remission of the sins of many (Matthew 26:28). Who are the many? "Take heed unto yourselves, and to all the flock, in which the Holy Spirit hath made you bishops to feed the church of the Lord which he purchased with his own blood". (Acts 20:28).

Another often repeated remark is "The Church does not save you". That is true. Salvation is in Christ and in none other (Acts 4:12). How ever the Bible does teach that the saved are in the Church. (Acts 2:47) You never read in the Bible about joining the Church. The Lord adds you to the Church. You join Denominations, Lodges, Societies but, (and I repeat it) the Lord adds you to the Church.

The Lord adds the saved to the Church who are saved? We shall let the Lord answer that. Jesus said that the gospel was to be preached to every creature. "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved"—(Mark 16:16). The gospel is the facts of the death, burial, and resurrection of Jesus. (I Corinthians 15:1-4) These facts were first presented to the world in Acts chapter two. So we read: "They then that received his word were baptized: And there were added unto them in that day about three thousand souls" (Acts 2:41).

Let us note the characteristics of the New Testament Church:

I. God's house (Church 1 Timothy 3:15) was to be builded in Jerusalem (Isaiah 2:2,3).

II. Christ is the Head of the Church. (He never gave that rulership to any other) Ephesians 1:22, 23.

III. The Church consisted of baptized believer (Acts 2:41).

IV. He sanctified and cleansed His Church by the washing of water with the word. (As history bears out, there were no people in that New Testament that had been sprinkled or poured). We learn that we have a great priest (Jesus, Hebrews 6:20) over the house of God (the Church, I Timothy 3:15). We draw near with a true heart in fulness of faith. We have our heart sprinkled (by the blood of Christ, 1 Peter 1:2) from an evil conscience, and we have our bodies washed with pure water: this is the way the Lord dedicated by his blood (Hebrews 10:19-22).

V. The Church was built upon the foundation of the apostles and prophets. Jesus Christ was the chief corner stone (Ephesians 2:20).

VI. Other foundation can no man lay than that which is laid, which is Jesus Christ (I Corinthians 3:11). The Church of the New Testament was a simple organization. It had no earthly head. It had no denominational organization. Each congregation was free under Christ. Christ was the head. The apostles were witnesses of the resurrection (Acts 1:20-22; Acts 10:39-41). Witnesses can not have successors.

Within the local Church there were elders and deacons. The New Testament Church knew no other government but this.

I believe that the Lord's way is the right way. Don't you?

WHO IS A LIAR?

1 John 2:22

By Keith T. Thompson

The importance of truth is recognized in court where witnesses are required to "tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth." Unfortunately many people are like the mother who was shocked to learn Junior had told a lie. She took him aside to explain the consequences of falsehood: "A tall black man with red fiery eyes and two sharp horns grabs little boys who tell lies and carries them off at night. He takes them to Mars where they have to work in a dark canyon for fifty years. Now," she concluded, "you won't tell a lie again, will you, dear?"

"No, Mom," replied Junior gravely. "You tell better ones."

It has been well said that "Those who are given to white lies soon become color blind." Lies have great destructive power. They are like Samson's foxes with fire - brands tied to their tails.

The word "liar" is a very strong term; most of us see red if it is applied to us. But the Bible has some very strong terms about those who tell lies. Cf. Prov. 30:6; Rev. 2:2; Col. 3:9.

The question "Who is a Liar," is answered five times in the book of 1 John.

I The One Who Claims Fellowship With God, But Walks in Darkness. 1 John 1:6: "If we say that we have fellowship with him, and walk in darkness, we lie, and do not the truth."

1. One of the purposes of this epistle was to combat the heresy of Gnosticism. The Gnostics claimed to have special knowledge of God. They thought that they were so advanced that they were above any law. In this they were like Napleon who once said that laws were made for ordinary people, but were never meant for the like of him. But it is impossible to walk with God, who is pure light, and at the same time walk in darkness. This would be like walking in broad daylight, and yet being in darkness—an impossibility! If we live with God and then walk in darkness "our words and our lives are a lie." (New English Bible.)

2. "But," verse 7 continues, "if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Jesus Christ his Son cleanseth us from all sin." To have fellowship with God we must walk in the light. Our imperfections are cleansed by the blood of Christ. Cf. Zech. 13.1; Rev. 1.5; 7.14.

II The One Who Says He Has No Sin. (1 John 1.8-10.)

1. It is characteristic of human nature to try to escape the responsibility for sin. Men say that sin is just a disease or due to heredity, environment or necessity.

2. Some resent being called sinners because they think of sin in terms of a crime that might make the newspapers. But sin means "to miss the mark." We may sin by failing to be the best father, mother, wife, husband, son, daughter, worker, etc. that we can possibly be.

3. There is no use denying that we have sin, for if we do, we deceive no one but ourselves. Certainly, we do not deceive God by such denial. If we make such a denial "the truth is not in us." In other words we are nothing but liars.

III The One Who Claims To Know God But Does Not Keep His Commandments. (1 John 2:4.)

1. The Gnostics claimed to have a superior knowledge of God despite the fact that they did not observe His commandments. But their lives proved them to be children of the devil, rather than children of God. (John 8:44.)

2. If we claim to know God, but fail to obey His instructions, we are lying. If we really know God then it is inevitable that we shall do as He says. At least, we shall do our best to do so.

IV The One Who Denies That Jesus Is the Christ. (1 John 2:22.)

1. The American Standard Version reads, "Who is the liar but he that denieth that Jesus is the Christ? This is the anti-Christ, even he that denieth the Father and the Son." This does not simply say "a liar" as the King James has it, but "the liar." This is the lie of lies. It is the fundamental lie that is subversive of all truth. The evidence for the divinity of Jesus is so strong that the man who will not accept it is not to be trusted at any point.

2. The Gnostics claimed that Jesus and the Christ were two separate persons; that Christ merely appeared to have flesh, but in reality did not; and that Jesus was without divine origin. Thus they denied the humanity of Christ and the deity of Jesus.

3. Verse 23 continues "Whosoever denieth the Son, the same hath not the Father: but he that acknowledgeth the Son hath the Father also." We cannot know God apart from His Son. Cf. Matt. 11:27; John 14:6-9.

V The One Who Claims to Love God But Hates His Brother. (1 John 4:20.)

1. Here the Son of Thunder hurls another thunderbolt against those who live a lie. To claim to love God and then hate our brother involves us in a contradiction. If we really love God, then we will love our brother.

2. It is natural for us to love what is near and what is seen. Therefore, if we do not love our brother whom we can see, it is impossible for us to love God whom we cannot see. We prove our love for God by loving our brother.

Conclusion: Who is a liar? Here are five answers given by the apostle John. Do any of them indict you? John also wrote that "all liars shall have their part in the lake which burneth with fire and brimstone: which is the second death." (Rev. 21:8.)

Those Progressive Nonprogressives

The term "nonprogressive" was coined by certain members of the Christian church to describe those who would not move along to accept instrumental music and missionary societies. The so-called "progressives" were actually "digressives." Their progress was away from the plea of the Restoration "to speak where the Bible speaks and to be silent where the Bible is silent." In fact, their progress was at the expense of scriptural authority.

The Christian Standard, a journal of the Christian church, recently carried an article titled "Can the Nonprogressives Teach Us Anything?" by Alvin E. Houser of the First Christian Church in Garden City, Kansas. Mr. Houser answered in the affirmative and went on to give statistics showing that the noninstrumental churches of Christ were growing much more rapidly than the "progressives."

We shall quote briefly some of the statistics given in the article:

"Back in 1906, according to the statistics available at this time, the two branches of the Restoration movement: The Church of Christ and the Disciples of Christ, were listed as two separate religious bodies in the religious census of the United States. We came out of the division far ahead of the 'nonprogressive' (noninstrumental) church of Christ. Out of the million members belonging to both bodies according to the 1900 census, the Disciples came out with 80 per cent or 800,000 and the 'nonprogressive' church of Christ came out with 20 per cent or 200,000.

"Since 1950 the membership of the Disciples of Christ has continued downward until the 1962 Year Book of Christian Churches (Disciples of Christ) list 1,749,539 members related to our brotherhood and 2,250,000 related to the 'nonprogressive' church of Christ.

These figures are a strong refutation of the expediency of making compromises with the world for the sake of pleasing men. Watered-down preaching, lax discipline and a strong program of social activity may build numbers for a time, but the end result is an indifferent membership and an inactive church.

It is ironical, but true, that the very ones who make the requirements for membership the easiest receive the fewest members. Back in the last half of the nineteenth century and the beginning of the twentieth, fierce controversy arose over the doctrine of open membership. Many of the "progressive" or "digressive" churches began receiving members from denominational churches without baptism. They were recognized as Christians prior to their request for membership with the Disciples. It would seem that such a broad-minded approach would attract many members who might otherwise be loath to leave the religion of their fathers. This proved partly true.

What was not seen, apparently, was that the destruction of the dividing line between the Christian church and the denominational world could allow members to go the other way. Many people, upon learning that the denominations were also composed of saved people, simply placed membership with the church of their choice. In Canada, many of this class went into the United Church of Canada.

The article under discussion deplores the failure of the digressive preachers to preach "Biblical, soul-winning, soul - saving sermons." This, the author claims, is accompanied by a de-emphasis of the ordinance of baptism to a point where it is put off to some convenient time, when it can be accomplished with the least amount of inconvenience. This is in contrast to the practice of the "nonprogressives" who proceed to baptize immediately those responding to the invitation.

The more liberal wing of the so-called "progressives" has been very active in the National Council of Churches and the World Council of Churches. In these bodies it has worked diligently for the ecumenical movement. Strange bed fellows are

HOW ADULT TEACHING CAN BE IMPROVED No. 3

H. Ralph Perry, London, Ontario

5. Adult Teaching can Be improved Through Variety In Teaching.

One Sunday morning, Mr Brown's adult Bible class was quite surprised when they entered the classroom. An attractive chart had been prepared on the chalk board, some colourful display material graced the bulletin board and a clear map was in plain view. Rarely had Mr. Brown used any thing in teaching except a Bible and the teacher's manual.

But the class was totally unprepared for what followed. After prayer, Mr Brown introduced the lesson with a thrilling story. He then used the chart and map to get into the lesson. Having completely captured the attention of the class he divided it into three sections, each with a specific topic or question to discuss. In fifteen minutes the class was called together to report on the findings of each group. Finally, Mr. Brown concluded the session with a strong life application. He used the display materials here and sent the class home with a challenging assignment.

The class was somewhat stunnned but each member had completely enjoyed the change from verse-by-verse lecture with the occassional discussion. Mr. Brown had jumped out of the rut of sameness and monotony in Bible teaching. The results were tremendous. There was new life and interest in the Bible study. Enthusiasm ran high. Lives were challenged and changed.

Even though the above story does not come from true life, it portrays the potential of variety in Bible teaching. It is said that, "Variety is the spice of life." Steak becomes tiresome when consumed fifty-two meals in succession. Variety is also the spice of teaching. It enriches greatly the teaching of the Word. Interest lags when a Bible class goes through its weekly sessions without variation. Members learn little and do little as a result.

Interest, enthusiasm, and good results will greatly increase with variety in methods of presenting a lesson, in audio-visual aids, and in assignments.

I. Variety in Methods of Presentation.

A. There are quite a few methods to choose from in teaching adults. We present the main ones briefly. An article could be written about each.

1. Lecture

This is a formal discourse delivered orally and intended for instruction. It is essentially when one person talks and others listen. This method is probably used more than any other by adult teachers.

The lecture method has definite advantages in dealing with problems of time, class control, large classes, emotional appeal and others. However, most authorities on methods state that lecturing is not the best way to teach. "It is monotonous, it tends to focus attention on the teacher rather than the truth, and, above all, it does not provide for participation on the part of the group. Without participation, students are not likely to learn." (How To Teach Adults — Henry Jacobson, page 37.)

It is possible for a teacher to use the lecture method with success In doing so, he must secure pupil participation which is not vocal. The class must think with the teacher, and form the same concepts and conclusions. Questions forming in students' minds must be answered. The good lecturer will usually have to put much effort into preparation and much life into presentation.

2. Question and Answer

This method of teaching is a method of inquiry which presents a problem to the mind for the purpose of provoking thought. This eliminates a great percentage of questions asked. Questions with obvious answers should have little place in an adult Bible class.

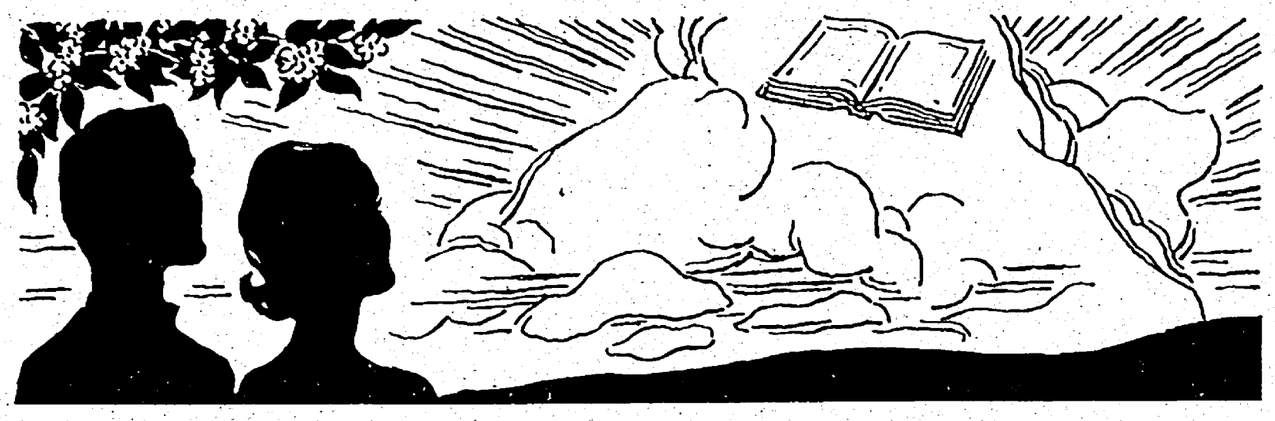
Thought questions designed to lead a class to discover new facts and truths, to begin a discussion or to help students make their own applications of truth are excellent. These take much time in preparation but are very worthwhile in stimulating your class to thought and participation.

This method will usually have to be used in connection with other methods. It is most valuable as a supplement to almost every other method. Be careful not to embarrass with direct questions for which no background preparation has been laid.

3. Discussion

Sharing of information, experience, and opinion relative to some topic or problem on the part of teacher and class forms a discussion. In Christian teaching the topic for discussion should be of deep interest to the group and a satisfactory conclusion should be arrived at from the Word of God.

A true discussion is more than mere talk. All that is said should contribute to the subject under consideration. A good leader is needed to start the discussion off with a good thought question, to draw all class members into taking part, to keep the talk on the subject, and to arrive at the objective aimed at.



What we have described here takes much planning on the part of the teacher and skillful handling during the session. A good discussion is not as common as many suppose. Just because much heat has been generated and everyone has talked, (more than one at a time) and all have enjoyed the session doesn't mean that a good discussion has taken place. A worthwhile conclusion for all related to doctrine and life must be reached.

WHITE FIELDS AND WILLING WORKERS

"There were giants in the earth in those days . . ." (Glen. 6:4). Most children stand in awe when hearing or reading about giants. Their size, strength, and fearful abilities all cause us to fear and respect them. Today, in the church, there are giants. Men and women whose might is not measured by inches, or in muscle power, but rather by their spiritual strength, and stature.

Lately, we have been greatly impressed and mightily moved by the reports returning from the strange and mystic land of India. Though this editor is an American citizen by birth, he cannot help but feel a twinge of "pride" when he thinks of those men, women and children who have left the calm Canadian countryside for a way of life as foreign to them as night is from day.

These, as well as many others in different countries, have willingly sacrificed more in a few months for the cause of Christ, than many of us will in a lifetime. Thank God for their courage! There are undoubtedly many who will read these lines, wondering what to do with their lives. The whole world cries for the gospel! Indeed, "the fields are white unto harvest"! Why not follow the example of these your noble countrymen? Why not plan, prepare and pray to the end that you may serve with them? Yes, the fields are white, thank God for the willing workers.

Stand in awe, young people, there are giants in the earth these days!

Editors note: Our sincere thanks to Elaine Brittell of the Mission Orphanage in Livingstone, Northern Rhodesia, Central Africa, for sending us the following poem. We are happy to send it along to all our readers, and we send our sincere greeting from frozen Canada to all our fine friends in sunny Africa! May we hear more from you?

THE LORD GIVETH

To each his own: A cross to bear;
A hill that's there to climb;
A stream to ford; a work to do
By blood and sweat and grime—
We differ not from Christ our Lord
Who came to earth for man,
Our Lord was tempted, like as we
(For that's the Father's plan).

There's aches and tears and toil
And tribulation great
That we must each endure, until
The day we meet our fate—
We then, must use our adversities
(Despite our inward groans)
And rather than a stumbling block
Make them our stepping stones.

For God has placed in front of us
These things to help us grow,
And He cannot exalt a life
Until it's been brought low.
In weakness, we can see His might.
In Him, we see our wrong,
And we can only place our hope
In God, to make us strong.

Take heart — and know that troubled days,
That seeming fruitless years,
And pain and anguished tears
Are not in vain, for God knows how To make a life proclaim:
'My Lord! Ye give and take away
Oh blessed be Thy name'.

WANTED! 500 YOUNG CHRISTIANS

By Clinton Brazle,
North Weyburn, Sask.

Yes, you read correctly I WANT 500 young Christians in Canada to correspond with me. You need not write unless you are dedicated to giving the rest of your life to serving Jesus Christ in a fulltime, fully dedicated way. You young people have the talent and the energy to completely evangelize Canada within this generation. I know that you can do it with God's help. Let me hear from you. We have a plan that I think you will be interested in. In your first letter, tell us how old you are, what grade you are in, how long you have been a Christian, your goals in life, and anything you think would be of interest. We want to hear from those in grade school too. Let us help you plan your life to serve Jesus. All of you write . . . I am expecting to hear from 500 (sooner or later).

A FINAL NOTE

Well, young people, there you have another page for Christian youth. This one represents some challenges! We are sure that many of you will be equal to those challenges, and will serve the Lord well. May God bless you and Christian young people everywhere to that end. See you next month!

ECCLESIASTES

use the Bible, don't let that scare us away from studying and appreciating its message to us. And certainly the book of Ecclesiastes has a great message for us. Sad to say, we are all today too materialistic. I really doubt that any of us can honestly say that the materialistic craze of our mid-twentieth century hasn't had its effect upon us. Solomon's position as one of the richest men who lived on this earth, and the lessons he can teach us as a result of his wealth and search for material satisfaction, should be diligently sought after by spiritual-minded children of God. We have tried to convince ourselves that "experience is the ONLY teacher". And so in learning about materialism, we are trying to experience as much of it as possible. But I am not sure we are being taught anything by it. Experience will teach, but so can we learn by simply opening our eyes and ears and observing the experience of others, whether past or present. Look to Solomon briefly.

He first begins the book by giving this basic premise: "I have seen all the works that are done under the sun; and behold, all is vanity and a striving after wind" (Eccl. 1:14). Indeed, Solomon had both the capital and the facilities at hand to have many materialistic experiences which neither you nor I will ever have. And so let us learn from him that all this grasping after material pleasures is simply "vanity and a striving after wind". In other words, it is empty, and even after your materialistic craze makes you think you have something, all you have is just a bag full of nothing (wind) which brings no joy, satisfaction, or pleasure, as we survey the fruits of our labors.

But observe the things for which Solomon strove:

(1) Wisdom and Knowledge (1:16-18). This was evidently one of Solomon's greatest desires, the attaining of wisdom and knowledge. But Solomon's great failing was in desiring wisdom and knowledge for its own sake. Man is making the same mistake today. We are said to be the best educated but the most ignorant group of people ever. Why? Because people want education for education's sake, or to advance their own materialistic quests. But Solomon in the Proverbs admitted that there is a right use for these things. He admonished his sons to "get wisdom, get understanding" (Prov. 4:5). But the object of this was that when they sought it, they would then "understand the fear of Jehovah, and find the knowledge of God" (Prov. 2:5). This is the true purpose and object of wisdom and knowledge — to make us better servants of God. Anything else is "vain and a striving after wind".

(2) Mirth and pleasure (2:1-3). Solomon searched for any and every type of pleasure and laughter that would "cheer his flesh", but there was none. And this also is a serious indictment against our nation today — the craze for pleasure and entertainment. People are not very concerned about what they are doing, what they are accomplishing, what they are thinking, or their benefit to society, but are concerned about their entertainment and who will make them laugh next. Anytime a society degenerates to the point where it awaits only the time it can "rise up and play", there is little to stop it from destroying itself.

(3) The accumulation of things (2:4-11). Solomon spent great amounts of money building his huge palace in the temple grounds complex. He furnished it ornately, and built beautiful gardens and pools and parks. He had both men and women servants to tend his possessions. He gathered great flocks and herds and vast amounts of wealth together; so much so that he was able to say: "Whatsoever mine eyes desired I kept not from them; I withheld not my heart from any joy". But even though he was able to have every "thing his heart desired, yet in the final analysis he said: "I looked on all the works . . . and behold, all was vanity and a striving after wind" (Eccl. 2:10-11). Oh, how much time and energy and heartache we could save ourselves if we could only learn that the accumulation of things does not make one happy. Solomon tried it and learned better. Let's quit deceiving ourselves in thinking that it will be different with us.

(4) The accumulation of wealth (Eccl. 5:10 - 6:12). 1 Kings 10:14 says that in one year Solomon received in gold, let alone taxes, tribute from other kings, profit from business enterprises, silver, etc., 666 talents, or in our figures about 20 million dollars. He would be considered fabulously rich in our society today, to say nothing of their poor society then. But this was His estimate of its value: "He that loveth silver shall not be satisfied with silver; nor he that loveth abundance with increase; this also is vanity (Eccl. 5:10). Solomon's life stands as a perfect demonstration of the truth of Paul's statement in 1 Tim. 6:10.

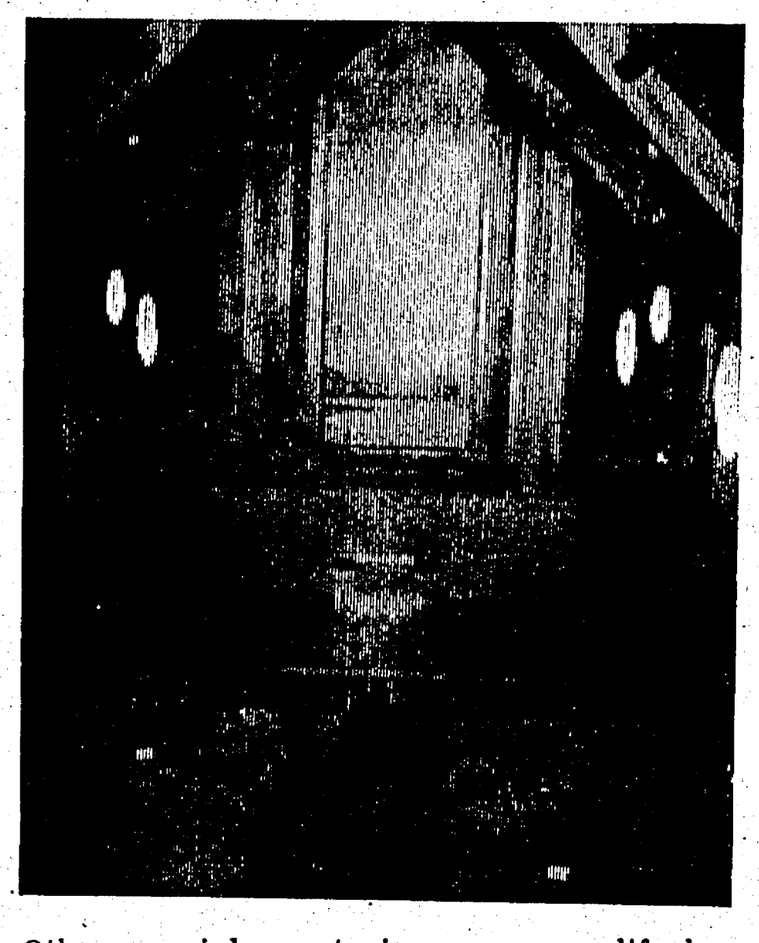
Materialism in the preoccupation with and insatiable appetite for the things of the world. There is nothing inherently wrong with each of the four things we observed — knowledge, pleasure, things, or wealth. But they become wrong when we (1), live for these things alone, (2) let them become our master and dictate to us what we do, and (3) do not use them for the purposes which God has dictated in His Word. Even though we live in a material world, we should not be of it. Instead, we must "set our minds on the things that are above, not on the things that are upon the earth". May God help us to realize that the world's pleasures are temporal at best, unsatisfactory in the end, and will all be destroyed at last, "but he that doeth the will of God abideth forever".

THE "INDIA NEWS LETTER"

The church at Meaford, Ontario is publishing the "India News Letter" and they have recently purchased some equipment for mailing out some 500 of these letters each month. We are happy to be able to do this to assist the India work, but will you help us by sending in any corrections in your mailing address to enable us to revise a permanent mailing list for the equipment just purchased. Your promptness will save considerable expense of changing addresses too frequently. If there are those who want to have Fellowship in this work, and would like to receive the letter we invite you to send in your correct address as soon as possible also. —L. Pauls

BARRIE HISTORY AND HOPES

The background work for establishing a church in Barrie included meetings in Thornton during 1961 at which Bro. Jim Hunt and others preached. There was also a radio programme covering the area for eighteen months previous to the first meeting.



Our first assembly in Barrie was on August 5, 1962, in the Codrington Street Public School. Bro. Neal Bryan of Nashville, Tennesee, joined this writer in addressing a nice group of about thirty-five before the Breaking of Bread.

From these early A.M. meetings we have increased our programme to include Sunday school, night meetings at 6:00, and Mid-Week Work for Christ at 7:30 on Thursdays.

Our family of five was sent to Barrie by the Park St. Church in Bowling Green, Kentucky, whose Elders and Minister appear here. Brethren R. H. Peace and W. A. Brumit are the Elders; Bro. Ray Frizzell, Jr., is the minister. Through much planning and prayer they have supplied our full personal support and have been joined by many others in providing property and a new building which was opened November 24th, last. An interior view of the same is shown here.

Other special events in our young life have included a thrilling Vacation Bible School, August, 1963, in which 151 were enrolled; and a mid-winter lecture which is scheduled for December 31 through January 3rd. We anticipate a fruitful campaign for Christ, led by the Forest Park Church at Valdosta, Georgia, in the summer of 1964.

In all of our work we have been richly blessed in the way God has sent us visiting brethren, the fellowship of so many, and the answers to so many prayers.

Our story is very brief —
God has turned but one leaf.
And it is our solemn belief
That until He comes "as a thief"
We must serve "with joy and not grief".

HERE AND THERE

Montreal, Quebec: Jerry Davidson has returned from a 6,500 mile trip on which $2,000 was received along with $5,000 in pledges. This leaves $10,000 to be raised in order for construction to begin in the spring. Other churches are yet to be heard from. The fund stands at $15,000.

A group at Harding College manifested an interest in organizing an exodus of Christians to Montreal to take up secular employment. Several are school teachers.

CHURCH OF CHRIST, MEAFORD, ONTARIO

This peaceable congregation has passed the first century mark, and continues now in the second century to wield an important influence. Many former members can be found both in Canada and the United States who are serving faithfully. Probably the oldest living member is brother Joe Walker, a member since 1893, and he tells of a grandfather who was also a member of the church.

This has proved that it pays to invest in youth, and the teaching program has been greatly stepped up in recent years. Considerable time and money is spent in this program. The accompanying picture was taken last summer at the Bible school, which had an average attendance of 141. 181 attended the closing exercises the last night. The teaching staff of 22 was largely composed of local members.

The present membership reaches well over the 100 mark, with an active eldership of three brethren shown in the accompanying picture. The elders are brethren William Whitfield, James Ford and Philip Petch. Standing with them is L. Louis Pauls, the evangelist at the present time. Five deacons serve in a very capable way, they are brethren Jack Franklin, Clarence Whitfield, Charlie Ellis, Mervin Eaton and Milford Boyle who is secretary, and Kenneth Gilmore as treasurer.

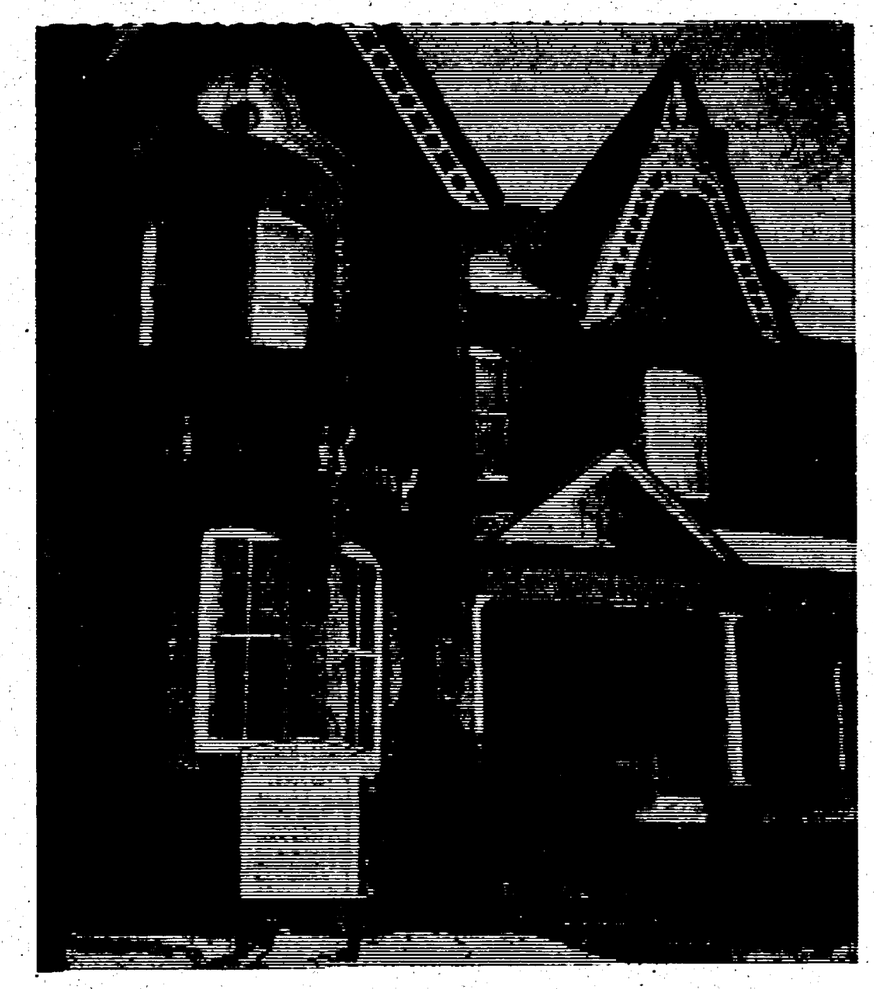
We appreciate so much these peace loving brethren and find them very willing to consider some tremendous undertakings. The accompanying top picture shows the large Tent Meetings conducted by Jack Fogarty and Ermon Bains in 1962.

We have regular services on the Lord's day with Bible classes reaching the 100 mark at times. There are mid-week Bible studies each Wednesday night, and on Thursday nights the Pauls assist the brethren at Vandeleur with their Bible studies. The ladies have classes each Tuesday, one in the afternoon and the other at night. Each Friday night, a group of about 25 young people is divided into two Bible classes, and frequently plan some special recreational activities. A great potential lies within this good group of young people.

The Meaford congregation have undertaken to help the India work in a regular way by publishing the "India News Letter" each month. Special equipment has been purchased recently to handle the addressing of about 500 letters monthly.

Louis and Nellie Pauls along with their son Dale moved to Meaford to work with the congregation last summer. Their observations of the work can best be summed up by describing it as challenging, with a great potential lying within the congregation. With but little encouragement this good talent can be brought to the surface, and may the Lord help each one of us to dedicate ourselves in such a way that His name shall continue to be praised and glorified before men for many years, even unto the Lord's calling!

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT



We are pleased to announce the printing of the Crowe-Kieran Debate, which took place on September 9th and September 16th, 1963, at Spearman, Texas.

This is a complete account of an excellent debate between Edward Kieran, a Catholic priest, and Glen Crowe, minister of the Spearman Church of Christ. Each speaker affirmed that the church of which he is a member is the true one, which was founded by Christ.

A crowd of 1,200, with at least six states represented, attended these intensely interesting discussion which were conducted on a very high plain, before an attentive and appreciative audience. Everyone seemed to wonder why such reverent discussions can't be held frequently, and covering all doctrinal differences among the religious world.

OWEN SOUND CHURCH

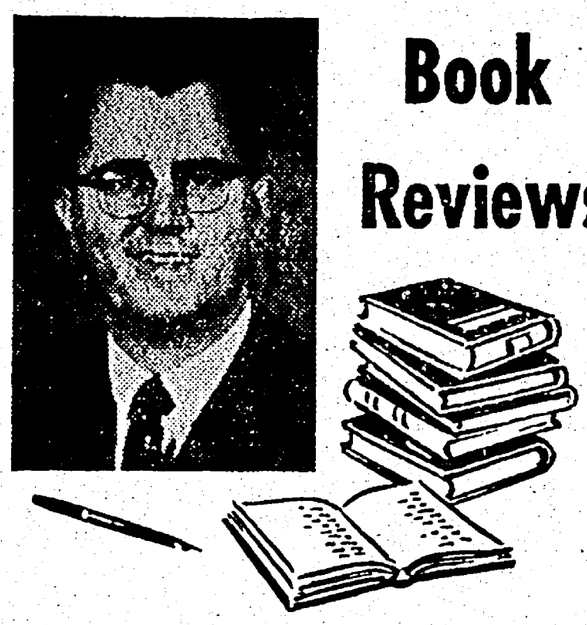
With the encouragement of a number in this area and the support of the Jordan congregation, Bro. Roy E. Cogdill conducted a three weeks' meeting here in Owen Sound in the Fall of 1953 that resulted in three baptisms. These along with other members residing here and the able assistance of brother and sister Sam McKay, and brother and sister Reg. Franklin of Meaford formed the nucleus for the beginning of the congregation in this city.

To capitalize on opportunities afforded here the Jordan church sent their preacher, brother Keith Thompson, to devote his full time to this work. He conducted a five-day a week radio program supported by the Meaford and Griersville congregations which was the means of reaching a goodly number who were baptized or restored to the church. During this time services were first conducted in the Windsor Hotel, the Orange Hall, then the present building was secured. It seats sixty persons and provides rooms for Bible classes, and ample space for the preacher's residence.

In 1957 the writer of this article, with his wife and family moved from Meaford to take up the work here. There were some discouraging aspects confronting the work at that time but with persistent teaching and visitation, some interior decorating to our building to make it more attractive and inviting and much faith, there has been a slow but steady advancement in the growth of the congregation.

In the Summer of 1960, with the assistance of brother Clyde Lansdell, a Vacation Bible School was organized and has been held each summer since then. Brother David Johnson ably assisted in this effort in August of this year. The average attendance at the school has been around seventy, which number taxes our accommodations almost to the limit. The Vacation Bible school has proved to be a splendid means of getting more members to expend themselves in the Lord's work. It provides an excellent potential for increasing our Bible school, as well as a way of making contacts interested in the church and in learning the Truth.

The practice of holding cottage meetings was inaugurated this past year and has provided numerous opportunities for individual studies with encouraging results. Out of these experiences it was a real thrill to have folks call or contact us to come and study with them. These were the ones who were really in earnest and made the right responses when the gospel with its drawing power and saving power was presented to them. Five have been added to the church in this past year. We have between thirty and thirty five members now. The number would be much greater but so many have had to move elsewhere because of the employment situation.



Our Sunday afternoon radio broadcast, made financially possible by the church at Jordan, has also been a splendid means of keeping our efforts and our plea for New Testament Christianity constantly before the public as well as spreading the truth over a considerable area.

Through the goodness of congregations both in the United States and Canada it has been possible for us to have two gospel meetings each year by their donating the services of their preacher for this purpose. This wonderful spirit of co-operation has provided additional gospel teaching and preaching to enlighten the unsaved, admonish the weak and faint-hearted and build us all up in that faith "once and for all delivered unto the saints." Space forbids our mentioning all the congregations who have thus extended their blessings to us, the preachers who have "broken to us the bread of life," and the churches that are sharing the responsibility of contributing to our regular support in the work here.

For the fine spirit of fellowship and co-operation that prevails among the brethren here, for all the generous assistance from good brethren everywhere, and for God's rich blessings on our efforts we are indeed grateful. We take fresh courage and press on "in the furtherance of the gospel."

—J. S. Whitfield

Book Reviews

Books to be reviewed in this column should be sent to Keith T. Thompson, Box 403, Beamsville, Ont., Canada.

The Letter of Paul to the Romans, A Self-Study Guide by J. D. Thomas, Ph.D. Biblical Research Press, Abilene, Texas, 40 pages, 60c.

This is a book of questions designed to aid classes or individuals in the study of the book of Romans. A number of questions are given to bring out the meaning of each chapter.

At first it might seem that a series of questions would be of little help in understanding any book of the Bible, especially a difficult one like Romans. But if one is willing to think and search for himself he will find this booklet very helpful.

The author is professor of Bible at Abilene Christian College.

The Postman of Patmos by G. A. Hadjiantoniou, Zondervan publishing House, Grand Rapids, Michigan, 149 pages, $2.50.

This is a series of messages on the seven letters to the seven churches of Asia. Two lessons are devoted to each letter.

Recently this reviewer has had occasion to read a number of works on these letters of Revelation 2 and 3. This particular volume was found to contain many fresh and original insights not found in other studies.

Commandos for Christ by Bruce E. Porterfield, The Musson Book Company Ltd. 238 pages, illustrated, $4.35.

Commandos for Christ is the latest book in the Harper Jungle Missionary Classics. Previous volumes in this series include Through Gates of Splendor by Elisabeth Elliot and Jungle Pilot by Russell T. Hitt.

The present volume tells of pioneer evangelism in the tribal areas of Bolivia. The author faced many dangers, including possible martyrdom. He took every risk to make the first contact with unknown aboriginal tribes. Along with his wife and two small children he lived a completely primitive life, constantly endangered by poisonous snakes, scorpions, tarantulas and hostile natives.

Those of us who live comparatively comfortable Christian lives should be humbled by reading of the sacrifices of others.
