BEST TIME TO VISIT

The best time to visit Prague is whenever you can get here! Prague is a very popular destination so you'll see that the tourist centers are often crowded at any time of year.

Rather than planning a certain time of year, if you want to avoid crowds, try to visit attractions at off peak times of day, like early morning and evenings for places like Charles Bridge and Prague Castle.

Weather is unpredictable, but you'll find four seasons in Prague. Winter months are December-February and Summer is June-August. Layers are a good choice and keep in mind for summer travels, air conditioning isn't a guarantee!

GETTING AROUND PRAGUE

Click here to be taken to our post on how to use public transportation in Prague

Prague has an excellent public transportation system of Metro, trams and buses.

Tickets are good on any combination for 30 or 90 minutes, fares based on how long you'll be using the system. Ticket machines only accept coins.

Don't forget to validate your ticket when you enter. You may not see locals do this, because they have passes, but you may get fined if you don't validate your ticket before boarding.

If you don't want to use public transport, the local version of Uber is Liftago. Try to avoid hailing a cab from the street as they will often over charge you.

But remember ... most of the main tourist attractions are within walking distance of each other in the historic center.

WHAT YOU NEED TO KNOW ABOUT BEER

A handy guide to Beer in Prague.

Traditional pubs are associated with a brewery, so you'll be offered light or dark and that might be it. An open coaster means you want a beer and they'll keep refilling you until you say stop. They tally your drinks on a piece of paper.

You can also find unique style beers, like banana beer, in some brewpubs but the most famous Czech beer is Pilsner Urquell.

Expect your beer to have foam on top. It is standard and considered the best way to serve beer.

Cheers in Czech is Na zdрави. It is proper to look the person in the eyes and set the glass down briefly after saying it before drinking. And only cheers the person directly across from you!

WHICH CZECH FOODS TO TRY

Trying local foods is a must-do experience in a new place, but Czech food may be new to you. Here are some things to keep an eye out for.

PALAČINKY

Similar to a crepe, but prepared with a different batter. You can get sweet or savory fillings.

GULÁŠ

Similar to the goulash you may be familiar with but fewer vegetables and more meat.

TRDELNÍK

This is a rolled pastry, and as a common street food you should stop to watch them make it. It's actually Slovakian but has become very popular here.

SMAŽENÝ SÝR

Another street food, this is deep fried cheese.

PRAGUE CASTLE

Prague Castle is actually a complex and made up of many different buildings, which require admission or entrance as part of a sightseeing tour. You can find out more about Prague Castle Tours here.

PARTS OF PRAGUE CASTLE

Old Royal Palace

St. George Basilica

St. Vitus Cathedral

Rosenburg Palace

Golden Lane with Daliborka Tower

You can visit Golden Lane (but not interior of the buildings) and the foyer of St. Vitus Cathedral after hours for free without a ticket.

You can tour the courtyards at anytime without a ticket.
